eport Of Hancock County Committee To State Board

COMMENDATIONS FOR RE-UCTION OF GOVERNMENTAL EXPENDITURES

tlemen:

Owing to the fact that this Com-ittee has not had the time or fac-ties for investigation of State Government expenditures which we lieve has been very thoroughly vered by the State Committee. our vestigation, report and recom-mendations are necessarily confined re to the County. Municipal and hool governments, and are in five divisions, as hereinafter appears.

STATE.

1. We recommend the abolition of office of Budget Director.

2. We recommend the short ball-for the election of state officers and recommend that the Governor be eleted for a term of our years and that appropriate legislation be acted authorizing the Governor point the offices of Treasurer of te, Secretary of State, Secretary Agriculture, Attorney General and Auditor of State.

3. We recommend repeal of the present law for the nomination and election of the Judges of the District and Supreme Courts, and recom-mend that Judges of the District Courts beselected on a non-partisan basis and their names appear on a non-partisian ballot, and recom-mend that Judges of the Supreme be appointed by the Governor for a term of years, by and with the con-sent and approval of the Senate.

4. We recommend that the num-ber of Representatives in our State Government be reduced to not more than thirty-five and the number of Senators to not more than fifteen. and that appropriate legislation and constitutional amendment be adopt-ed to that end.

5. Our system of taxation is ar-chaic and obsolete and imposes a greater burden upon agriculture which is our basic industry. and up-on homes, than can be borne. and we therefore recommend appropri-ate legislation that will tax intangi-ble property and that will relieve the burden upon real estate and not be additional thereto, and to that end we earnestly commend careful and painstaking study of a gross in-come tax or sales tax or some form of taxation that will require a tax to be levied upon income and in-tangible property, providing that the Revenue raised therefrom must specifically and directly relieve real estate.

6. We recommend that our legis-lature memorialize the National Congress to legislate against the is-suance of tax exempt securities, and recommend that if the National Congress should prohibit the Nation al Government from issuing tax sale securities, that the State of Iowa, likewise prohibit the issuance of such tax exempt securities.

7. We very strongly urge repeal of the present law affectng assess-ment of buildings by measurement, and condemn it as being manifestly inequitable and unfair, especially as to the tax payer in rural com-munities and small towns.

II. COUNTY

1. We recommend that optional legislation be enacted providing for any county, upon vote of the people, to adopt the County Manager form of government.

That supervisors be elected at large of not less than five and not more than nine. who shall employ a county manager whose duties shall be similar to a city manager. the supervisors to receive as compensa-tion $5.00 for each meeting and mileage actually travelled at five cents per mile, in attending the meeting.

That these supervisors shall be required to meet once each month and have general supervisory pow-ers over the county's business.

That the supervisors be allowed the same compensation for any special meetings but that no super-visor shall receive more than $100 in any one year, not including mile-age.

The City manager form of govern-ment in cities in Iowa that have adopted it and the County Manager plan of government in the states that have adopted it, well demon-strates the saving that can be affect-ed.

2. We recommend that the Coun-ty Manager appoint all clerical help and appoint such administrative of-fices as the Clerk, Treasurer, Audi-tor and Recorder.

3. The offices of the Sheriff and County Attorney being law enforc-ing offices, we believe that those offices should be filled by vote of the people, but recommend that the same be elected for four years in-stead of two years, thus saving the expense incurred by election every two years.

4. If the county manager plan is not adopted, we recommend that the term of office for all county officers shall be not less than four years, thus saving the expense of a primary and general election every two years.

5. We recommend that in coun-ties of less than 20.000 population. that the offices of Clerk and Recor-der be combined, and that in all county offices wherever practicable the clerical work be so arranged that a clerk serving in one office can be used in the other offices during rush time, thus saving ad-ditional help We believe the saving to be affected by foregoing would be greater than an amount saved taxpayers by the proposed consoli-dation of counties and would be more convenient and satisfactory to the people as a whole

6. We recommend that the Coun-ty Auditor (or in the event the County Manager plan is adopted) then the County Manager submit annually, to the Board of Supervis-ors, a complete detailed statement of all moneys advanced by the county for the care of the insane or the indigent and that legislation be enacted making such compulsory, and that legislation be enacted mak-ing it the duty of the supervisors to investigate the financial condi-tion of the person receiving such aid or those who would be personal-ly liable for his or her support, and appropriate legislation enacted to make it the duty of the County At-torney to assist in such investiga-tion and whose doty shall be to en-force payment against the person or hose who may be personally liable.

7. It is the belief of this Commit-tee that the publication of delin-quent tax sale notces is wholly un-necessary and entails an expense far in excess of ay possible benefit to be derived and we, therefore, re-commend that the law requiring such publication be repealed and that appropriate legislation be en-acted, directing the Treasurer to ad-vertise in the official newspapers of the county that he will, on a certain date, advertise for sale all real es-tate on which the taxes are delin-quent, and that the Treasurer be re-quired to post at the front door of the Court House, at least ten days prior to the day of sale, a complete list of all real estate to be sold for delinquent taxes and to have sufficient typewritten copies thereof available in his office, for the use of any person desiring the same at the time of sale.

8. We recommend the repeal of the law making mandatory levies for road purposes and leaving it option-al with the Board.

9. We recommend that the print-ing of the bar docket be eliminated and that the Clerk of the District Court be required to furnish type-written copies of the docket. in lieu of printing the same.

10. We recommend legislation that will prohibit any elective coun-ty officer from writing bonds or be-ing in any manner interested. di-rectly or indirectly, with the writ-ing of any bonds for any person. firm or corporation who may con-tract with the county, wherever such contract arises in or out of the office or work pertaining to the office writing such and.

11. We recommend legislation prohibiting any elective county of-ficer from being interested, directly or indirectly, or in any manner par-ticipating in writing of any policy or insurance or workman's compen-sation in favor of the county.

III. SCHOOLS.

1. The State has a direct interest in the education of the youth and we recommend, therefore, that the cost or a part of the cost of the oper-ation of our public schools be borne by the State, not however, so as to include cost of building or equip-ment.

2. We favor uniformity of text books used throughout the grade and high schools of the state.

3. We recommend the examina-tion and auditing of school districts in the state, and uniform system of school auditing.

IV. TOWN.

1. We recommend an amendment to the existing law making examin-ation and audit of the town compul-sory.

2. We recommend the broadening of the existing law as to City Mana-ger, to make it applicable and prac-tical for any town.

V. GENERAL.

1. We recommend the repeal of the present law with reference to sale of real estate under executoin, either general or special.

2. And we recommend that a law be enacted which shall provide that the period of redemption shall com-mence to run from the date of is-suance of an execution and levy thereon. but that the sale shall not be held until the expiration of one year and four weeks thereafter. and that at the expiration of said year, the sheriff shall give four weeks notice of the sale thereof, as is done at the present time, and which shall provide that from and after the day of sale, the title shall vest in the purchaser, with out any further right of redemption.

3. It is the belief of this commit-tee that the foregoing if, enacted, into law, would be an incentive to

County Engineer Gives Report On Eighty Miles Of Grading

DONE AT AVERAGE COST OF $346.02 PER MILE

Cost Includes Casting and End Haul And Disposal of Rock

The year of 1932 has probably seen more miles of grading complet-ed in Hancock County than during any previous year in our history. Eighty miles of road were built to what we term a permanent grade, involving the excavation of nearly 760,000 cubic yards of dirt. By a permanent grade we mean a grade that is recommended for gravel sur-facing

Of the above work, Buns Bros. of Woden, completed 19 miles; A. G. Anderson of Okoboji, Iowa, com-pleted 24 miles; H. Brummund of Kanawha, completed 20 miles and the county grading crew completed 17 miles.

The cost of grading 80 miles of road was $27,681.66 or an average of $346.02 per mile. This cost in-cludes all casting and end-haul work and the disposal of all rock. but does not include the cost of clearing or grubbing or the placing of cul-vert pipe. The clearing and grubb-ing was done by day labor before the grading started and the record was kept by townships rather than by miles. Some of the roads that were cleared this year were not graded, but probably will be graded next year The cost of clearing ap-proximately 90 miles of road was $7436.74 or an average of $82.63 per mile.

The following table gives the cost of grading each road graded during the season. Tabulated costs do not include clearing and grubbing or placing of culvert pipe.

competitive bidding on execution sales of real estate, and would inure to the benefit of the mortgagor as well as the mortgagee. His time of redemption would not be limited and any prospective bidder would be more favorably inclined toward bidding if he knew the sale would be absolute.

4. Our system of road construction and the damage claims arising therefrom, has caused injuries in many cases, to the citizens of our State. for which injuries, little or no compensation has been paid. Submitting such claims as well as any other claims to the State legislature, is cumbersome and expensive to the persons injured and left wholly to the will of the legislative body, whose functions are to legislate and not sit in a judicial capacity, and not infrequently, causes politics to enter into the settlement rather than the merits or demerits of the case and to correct this evil, we recommend that a Court of Claims be established in the State, before which any person, having a claim of any kind against the State of Iowa, may present the same for judicial settlement. uninfluenced by the political exingencies of the case We believe it would result in a vast saving of money ti the State and would, above all else, permit the claim to be determined in a judicial manner with out the influence of politics.

Lesson for January 8

JESUS BEGINS HIS WORK

Mark 1:12-20

GOLDEN TEXT—The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand: repent ye, and believe the gospel. Mark 1:15.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus' First Helpers.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus Winning a Victory.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Making a Good Beginning.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Jesus Facing His Task.

I. The Divine Servant Meeting and Overcoming the Devil (vv 12, 13).

The temptation in the wilderness was Messianic. It was not a preparation of Jesus for his work but the first conflict. Since he had come to destroy the devil (Heb. 2:14), he at once engaged in that struggle which was to issue in Satan's defeat.

1. The Spirit driveth him (v. 12). This shows how really Christ was under the control of the Spirit. "Driveth" is the same Greek word which is used in connection with Christ casting out devils (See Mark 1:34, 39).

2. He was in the wilderness forty days, tempted of Satan (v. 13). Not that he fasted forty days and was then tempted, but that the struggle with the devil lasted forty days.

3. He was with the wild beasts (v. 13). The clear implication is that he not only overcame the devil but had dominion over the wild beasts also.

4. The angels ministered unto him (v. 13). These superhuman messengers doubtless ministered to him all through the forty days.

II. The Divine Servant Preaching (vv. 14, 15).

Jesus does not first present himself as a miracle worker, but as a preacher, a bearer of a message. Miracles were but the credentials of the messenger.

1. Where he preached—In Galilee (v. 14). Galilee was particularly his own country. His ministry there was some distance removed from Jerusalem, and there less opposition would likely be manifest.

2. What he preached—the gospel of the Kingdom of God (v. 14). Since "gospel" means "good news," the essential content of his message was that God had sent him to announce the good news of the near approach of the Kingdom of God, or the rule of God upon the earth.

3. What he demanded—repentance and belief of the gospel (v. 15). He showed that the way to get ready for the coming of the Kingdom is to repent and believe the gospel of Christ's death for sin, and his coming to administer the affairs of righteousness upon the earth.

III. The Divine Servant Calling Associates (vv. 16-20).

Knowing that his ministry would be short, he called to definite fellowship men to continue the work after he was gone.

1. Who they were (vv. 16, 19). Simon and Andrew, James and John—two pairs of brothers. It is usually wise to engage in the Lord's service in fellowship—in pairs. This is not only necessary for effective testimony, but for protection of the witnesses. These men had become Christ's disciples, for at the word of John the Baptist they had beheld the "Lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world" (John 1:36-42). This is always the Lord's way. He calls men and women to be his disciples and then calls them to have fellowship with him in service.

2. From what they were called (vv. 16-20). They were called from business and family connections. In looking for men worth while, we should expect to find them busily engaged. James and John left their father and his servants. The call of God involves sacrifice and separation.

3. To what they were called (v. 17). To become fishers of men. These men, no doubt, had been successful as fishers. The qualities which made them good fishermen; namely: patience, bravery which led them to face the storm at night, and perseverence which led him to toil all night though no fish were caught, would make them good fishers of men. Winning souls for Christ requires patience, bravery and perseverence.

4. Obedience of the disciples (vv. 18-20). Obedience to Christ's call meant sacrifice, painful separation. It means to give up business interests. They yielded prompt obedience. They put their trust in him who called them, believing that he was able to supply all their needs.

5. Their reward (v. 17). These four men have wielded wondrous influence in the world. Their names have become immortalized. Had they remained at their business they would only have been humble fishermen.

God Does Nothing Amiss

However bitter the cup we have to drink, we are sure it contains nothing unnecessary or unkind; and we should take it from his hand with as much meekness as we accept of eternal life with thankfulness.—William Goodell

Dumb Christians

If you had a child that was deaf and dumb you would think it a great misfortune. Do you ever think how many dumb children God has?—D. L. Moody.

Famous English Scholar

Peter Mark Roget was an English physician and scholar born in London, 1779; died in 1869. He studied medicine at the University of Edinburgh and removed to Manchester, where he became physician to the lunatic asylum, the fever hospital and the infirmary. He settled in London in 1808, and was long secretary of the Royal society. Among his works are "Animal and Vegetable Physiology" (1834) and "A Thesaurus of English Words and Phrases" (1852), which passed through 28 editions in the author's lifetime, was edited by his son in 1879 and became a standard work of reference.

Harp's Long History

The harp is the oldest of stringed instruments. The Bible mentions Jubal as the inventor The harp has been used by all nations in one form or another. The improvements which have rendered the modern harp an efficient musical instrument are due to Sebastian Erard, who in 1794 took out a patent for a harp with seven pedals, and again in 1808 for a double-action harp with the same number of pedals, each of which effects two changes in the pitch of the strings. Various improvements over Erard's harp were made during the Nineteenth century.

Monkeys Are Mimics

The monkey always has been a notorious mimic. Since first becoming acquainted with man, his favorite diversion has been the imitating of human actions and mannerisms. The very expression "aping a person" has come to mean mimicking him. The dog has been called man's truest friend, but the monkey is his best imitator. The movie producers have capitalized upon this propensity of the ape and have filmed pictures with all-simian casts. Every character has been a chimpanzee, or a monkey actor has been a chimpanzee, or an orang-outang.

Word "Daughter" Traced Back to Sanscrit Root

Perhaps the most curious of the family words is daughter. In old English the "gh" was sounded rather like the "ch" in the Scottish loch. The root of the word is doch or duch; the "ter" signifies, just as it does in pater and mater, a doer of things.

The word's history runs back through old English, German, Greek and Sanscrit to duhitar. The "h" in this last word is a peculiar one, for it was pronounced almost like the "ch" just mentioned. But duhitar does not mean just a female child. It means a milkmaid. Our early ancestors were a farming people, and when a girl baby arrived they said, "Here's another little milkmaid."

There are many other words of ancient lineage used every day. Mill is a word that, after countless centuries of use, is still going as strongly as ever. Beef, market, dome, car, day, night, queen, sit and stand--all these have pedigrees so long that they go back thousands of years beyond the oldest of the pyramids.—London Tit-Bits.

Genius as Understood by Old English Writer

By genius I would understand that power, or rather those powers of the mind, which are capable of penetrating into all things within our reach and knowledge, and of distinguishing their essential differences. These are no other than invention and judgment; and they are both called by the collective name of genius, as they are of those gifts of nature which we bring with us into the world; concerning each of which, many seem to have fallen into very great errors; for by invention, I believe, is generally understood a creative faculty, which would indeed prove most romance writers to have the highest pretentions to it; whereas by invention is really meant no more, and so the word signifies, than discovery, or finding out; or, to explain it at large, a quick and sagacious penetration into the true essence of all the objects of our contemplation.—Henry Fielding.

Washington's Inventions

George Washington granted the first of the 1,800,000 American patents that have marked the inventive progress of the United States, according to H. H. Dyke, of New York.

On April 10, 1790, President Washington signed the original patent statute. In July Thomas Jefferson, Gen. Henry Knox and Edmond Randolph, sitting in solemn conclave, acknowledged the merit of the first application. On July 31, Washington signed United States patent No. 1, granting exclusive rights to one Samuel Hopkins on a new method for making pot and pearl ashes.

Washington was the inventor of several improvements in the design of plows and also of the dinner caster, forerunner of the present day table device which holds small botttles or cruets.—Detroit News.

Strange Relationship

It seems like a long way from the morning glory to the sweet potato, yet these two plants are related. They both belong to the family of plants known as the convolvulus, to which also belong the bane of all farmers, the bindweed. The wild morning glory is far hardier than the cultivated types and stays in bloom longer. It even blooms at night when the moon is bright and is much favored by moths when open at night.

The wild type is sometimes called hedge-bindweed and also ladies' night cap. It is found as far south as North Carolina and as far west as Nebraska. Its blooming period lasts from June to August.

Soap Manufacture

The manufacture of all types of soaps in this country amounts yearly to $325,000,000 worth of goods and there are 2,100 manufacturing organizations in this field. The total production is divided as follows: Hard soap (not including granulated and powdered soaps), 2,188,613,984 pounds; granulated and powdered soaps, 288,400,786 pounds; soap powders (including commodities reported as cleansing powders, washing powders, etc.), 452,723,389 pounds; liquid soap, 20,851,475 pounds; soft soap, 63,741,783 pounds; paste soap, 41,170,425 pounds; besides special soap articles and soap stock or soap base.

English Church Laws

There is an ecclesiastical court in England to which are submitted all matters pertaining to church law, also matters in which the church might be either a plaintiff or defendant. This court also regulates the issuance of marriage licenses and other matters of church discipline. Actually the ecclesiastical law of England is dependent upon the authority of the state and ecclesiastical courts for the most part are officered by laymen, whose subordination to archbishops and bishops is purely formal. The final court of appeal on ecclesiastical matters is the judicial committee of the privy council of the nation.

SHAMROCKS TAKE EASY WIN FROM SWALEDALE FIVE

Klemme Grade Win 13-7 Victory In Evenly Matched Game

The Klemme High School Shamrocks won an easy game from the Swaledale High School at Swaledale on Tuesday evening, 40 to 14. The Shamrocks started with an early lead and the half ended with Swaledale trailing 10-7. In the third quarter the Shamrocks went on a scoring spree, at one time piling up six points in six seconds. Kluckhohn, star local guard, had the Swaledale defense running in circles with his fast breaking dribble and ability to get his passes to the Shamrock forwards, Smid and Keeper. Bridges his running mate, displayed a neat brand of defensive guarding, while Raymond Drake held down the center position in fine shape.

Dr. Anderson advises that a number of outstanding speakers, both from out of the state and within, are to appear on the program.

MAY HAVE ICE SKATING RINK IN KLEMME

If plans are carried out it is very possible that an ice skating rink may be built in Klemme in the near future. Parties interested submitted the proposition to he Town Council who, we understand, were willing to help by furnishing the water. All that seems to stand in the way at present is to find a suitable place. fairly level which can easily be flooded.

A good skating place in town would provide a lot of amusement for both young and old and The Times heartily endorses the plan.

But this is what I wish to state: The dogs have had an awful wait.

MR. AND MRS. SMOCK HAD GOLDEN WEDDING SUNDAY

Were Honored At Church Services By Special Songs

At the morning church services at the Methodist Church last Sunday, Rev. Ralston paid a special tribute to Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Smock, who were that day observing their 50th wedding aniversary. Irwin Ax favored Mr. and Mrs. Smock wih a solo and during the Sunday school hour Mrs. Otto Lemke and Henry Ludeke sang a duet in their honor.

Were Married In Clayton County

Charles Smock and Miss Ida Rulon were married in Clayton County, Sunday, January 7th, 1883, at the close of church services. They made Clayton county their home for ten years when they moved out on the prairie near Buffalo Center but stayed there only a year, moving back to Clayton county near Deleware where they lived for a time and then moved to Missouri for two years. At the end of that time they were again back in Clayton county for a time when they again came to this part of the state nd lived at Britt and nearf Hutchins. On December 3rd. 1925 they moved to Klemme where they have since resided.

Fourteen children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Smock, 8 boys and 6 girls. All but five, however passed on and died when small, except one son who reached the age of 18 years. The children living are: Mrs. John Steeman and Mrs. Clifford Mertz, both of Waterloo; Leslie Smock of Minnesota, and Roy and Faye who live in Klemme with their parents. Mr. and Mrs. Smock have 5 grandchildren and two great grand children.

TEST YOUR BARLEY, WHEAT AND OATS BEFORE PLANTING

In 1932 an epidemic of scab iccurred on barley and wheat. This disease may kill or weaken the germ of infected seeds. Tests made by the Iowa State College Seed Laboratory show that the germination of barley and wheat may be reduced as much as 40 percent by scab, according to R. H. Porter, who was in the county this week. Further tests with chemical dusts show that the germination of diseased seed may be increased from 15 to 30 per cent. It is important that the farmers have their barley seed tested this year.

Another disease of barley which reduces yields each year is stripe. This disease may be detected by a laboratory test before it is planted. Seed treatment will control this disease but because of the expense of treatment it need not be used unless either stripe or scab is present.

Scab and smut of oats may be determined by a laboratory examination of the seed and treatment advised if necessary.

Farmers who wish to have tests of their small grain seed stocks made should get in touch with their county agent or send direct to te Iowa State College Seed Laboratory, at Ames. Iowa. At least one quart of seed should be sent in for test. This service is free to Hancock County farmers through a payment of a fee by the Farm Bureau to the seed laboratory.

If war is what General Sherman said it was. what is a major depression.

A rabbit becomes a ferocious and man eating animal when his fur is made into a coat.

TWO CAR LOADS MORE BUTTER MADE THAN IN FORMER YEAR

Klemme Creamery Produces Butter In Both Quality and Quantity

The Klemme Co-Operative Creamery manufactured more butter in 1932 than in any year of its history The gain made in the umber of pounds during the past year can be quoted in car load lots. Roughly, the local creamery manufactured approximately two and one-third more car loads of butter in 1932 than was made in 1931. Putting this another way: over 20 tons more butter was made in 1932 than in the previous year.

This is a fine record for Manager Paul Mueller and his able assistants. George Carolus and Wayne Pavey. Mr. Mueller says he knew that they were busy, but he hardly realized that they had made so much more butter during the past year.

Besides a large quantity production, the local plant has maintained a high qualty of buttter. A large amount of the Klemme butter is marketed as Iowa State Brand, which commands a higher price than ordinary butter.

The Klemme Creamery, reaches into a large territory which is adequately covered by efficient truck men who haul the cream in to the creamery. Each year more and more farmers sell their cream to the Klemme Creamery. The large volume of business has been built up on a policy of fair dealing and fair prces and of working for the best interests of the dairy business in this community.

MAKE HOME PLACE TO "LIVE"

House Should Not Be So Painfully Clean It Cannot Be Enjoyed

Changing conditions have affected nearly every part of our lives—not excepting the home; and as a result we are learning to use that home as a place to live in and not as a show off place for visitors along with everything in it— even the children. Mrs. Ethyl Cessna Morgan of the Home Economics Division at Iowa State College, made this statement in a recent radio talk given over WOI, the Iowa State College broadcasting station.

"Do you feel at home in the spotlessly clean residence of the proverbially good housekeeper?" asked Mrs. Morgan. "You know what it looks like Father reads his paper and smokes his pipe in the basement. The children tiptoe cautiously through the living room on their way to the attic to play. The dog wags his tail wistfully on the back doorstep."

That was the ideal home of 30 years ago, according to Mrs. Morgan Nowadays women achieve cleanliness and order in the household without so many silly restrictions on the family. The house is clean—but not painfully so.

When children appear before company they are not required to perch on the edge of chairs, scrubbed and starched uncomfortably; Dd smokes his pipe in the living room and even neglects to pick up the ashes that drop off his vest; the family pup plays delightedly with the 5 year old on the kitchen linoleum.

"A house that is to good to be enjoyed by the family is not a home" said Mrs. Morgan. "I am glad modern mothers and homemakers are realizing it."

It was a very cold day. Isaac and Cohen had been walking four miles. Neither had made a single remark.

"Vy don't you say something?" asked Cohen.

"Freeze your own hands!" replied Isaac.

The truth about TAX-FREE TOWNS

A NEW bait is now being used to sell the public on municipal ownership. The Public Ownership League of America has recently listed 55 Oklahoma towns which are "tax free" because of profits earned by municipally-owned utility projects. An investigation shows that twenty of these towns had no municipal utility service other than water. The average monthly bill for 50 KWH in the other 35 municipally served towns was $5.24 against $4.20 for privately served towns. Paying a town's expenses through excessive electric rates is possible but the public foots the bill either way. The way to reduce taxes is to reduce expenses instead of devising new methods of collection.

FOOLISH LAWS ON OUR STATUTES

Moses Wrote Entire Code on Two Stone Tablets; What a Contrast With Today's Laws

Moses carved the ten fundmental laws of the world on two stone tablets, and there was not an unnecesary word. much less a useless law, in the entire code.

Today there isn't enough stone in the Rocky Mountain ranges to hold the laws that have been passed in this country in the past two hundred years. In fact, it would take at least two good-size mountains to produce enough stone to hold just the silly laws which have been written by congress, by city councils and by state legislatures.

The grand old colony of Massachusetts began it in 1685. In that year the law-givers from the land of the bean and the cod decree that a fine of five shillings was to be assessed against any youth who so far firgot himself as to show signs of alcoholic stimulation in any public house or in the public roads or fields between the hours of sunset Saturday and the hour of sunrise the following Monday. Nothing was said about a youth's conduct during the remainder of the week and he was free to celebrate as much as he pleased.

Michigan was one of the states which partiiipated in the great wave of bed-sheet legislation. Bed sheets in the hotels of this state must be at least 90 inches in length. Should you have any doubt about the length of the sheets in your hotel room, go out and buy a tapemeasure. If the sheets have shrunk you can call in a policeman.

The state of Kansas stands forth pre-eminently in the lists of silly legislation. It was in Kansas that they passed this gem:

"When two trains approach each other at a crossing they shall come to a full stop and neither shall start until the other is gone."

It was in Kansas also that they gave serious consideration to a law establishing the legal length of shirt tails and it was in the same state that a law was passed prohibiting the eating of snakes in public

In Georgia there is a law requiring life guards to wear swimming suits of "bright red" and to pursue their duties wearing a leather collar to which is attached a lifeline not less that 200 feet long and a quarter of an inch in diameter.

Up in Maine any sloppy dresseh who goes about with his shoe laces untied can be fined, and all New England states have shut right down on the practice of leading bears around on a rope.

Pennsylvania loves music. Witness the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra. But Pennsylvania thinks that there is a time and a place for singing and the bathtub is neither one. Therefore the state protects its citizens against such an outrage with a statute specifically providing that no singing is to be done in the tub. You can whistle and beat time with your hands but you can't sing.

If you happen to visit Nebraska you put life, iberty and the pursuit of happiness in jeopardy if you are caught smoking "while sitting at a table where food s being served". If you must have a cigaret with your coffee stand up and smoke or leave the table.

Utah and Wyoming are death on high-hatters and the legislatures of those states made this clear when they ruled that no one is to wear a silk tile to the theater.

Tennesee rules that the owners of livestock cannot run at large. Don't laugh here's the law:

"It shall be unlawful for the owner or keeper of horses, mules, cattle sheep, goats and hogs to run at large.

There remains on the law books of Michigan a law passed in 1887 which provides that every vehicle propeed by steam and moving on the highways of said state must be preceded by a man of mature age, walking not less than ten rods or more than twenty rods in advance in order to warn the populace of the dangerous contraption. Furthermore while passing through municipalities the advance guard of such machine must redouble his vigilance and must walk not more than four rods ahead of said steam-propelled vehicle. And in addition. it is set forth that on the occasion when the steaming monster approaches a cow, horse or other domestc animal, either from the front or rear, the driver shall alight and gently lead the animal to some safe place.

Maine, Delaware, Louisiana, Wisconsin and North Dakota lay a heavy charge upon taxicab drivers. In these states a taxi driver is very important. He is a kind of guardian of public morals. For if he thinks you are bound for an improper rendevous it is his duty to stop the cab and request you to alight.

Down in the state of old Virginia there is a statute whch "prohibits corrupt practices or bribery by any person other than political candidates." Another Virginia law reads: "All men are by nature equally free and independent and have certain inherent rights of which, when they enter into a state of society, they cannot by any compact deprive or digest their posterity."

The legislators unquestionably meant to say "divest" but they did not and the laws looks a bit cannibalistic.

North Carolina provided that there must be at least two feet of space between all twin beds.

Oklahoma has a law which provides station agents must give courteous information over the phone. Maryland frowns on the practice, apparently common in that state, of throwing bottles out of the windows of moving trains.

Many states frown on polygamy. Not so with the old Quaker state of Pennsylvania! Down there the legislators passed a law—probably in a hurry—which reads: "But such citation need not be directed to the spouse or spouses of any of the parties mentioned."

A GOOD LAWN IS GROUNDWORK OF THE HOME YARD; MAKE PLANS NOW

The lawn in the groundwork of the home picture and is necessary to beautiful home grounds. We must consider building new lawns as well as renovating old lawns. Before starting to excavate for the buildings the top four four to 12 inches of soil. extending from 15 to 25 feet beyond the lines of the building, should be removed and saved for use on the lawn. Drainage must be provided where necessary. The lawn surface should have a minimum slope for a half inch to the foot

Grading on a small lot should consist of modifying all lines to suit the house at not too great an expense. On large properties it is only necessary to soften steep depressions or humps by lengthening the slopes. Terraces require careful consideration. Usually where the slopes are gently rolling, the results are more pleasing to allow the lawn to slope to the foundation of the house On more rugged ground where there are wide variations in slope, a level grade around the house is desirable. The width of a terrace will depend on the size of the layout, but should not be less than 14 feet. The surface should slope at least one-half inch to the foot and the terrace should not be steeper than one foot in two or three feet. The top line of the terrace should be parallel with the house foundation but the lower line may vary with the lawn. A terrace from the lawn level down to the sidewalk is much harder to keep in condition than one made midway between the house and the street The lawn should be in proportion to the house with room for recreation and shrubbery. but not so big as to require too much labor in its care Some method of enclosure may be necessary for protection against stock.

An appearance of extent is obtained by keeping the centers open. Ornametal plantings should be used around the foundations, banks and borders and should be in groups. although large trees may stand singly Seeding should be done on a calm day, just before rain. if possible Criss cross when sowing to get an even distribution of seed. Sow from 80 to 100 pounds per acre or one quart to 300 square feet. Rake the seed in and thoroughly roll the ground. Under most conditions early spring sowing is best.

Lesson for January 15

JESUS AT WORK

Mark 1:21-45.

GOLDEN TEXT—But Jesus answered them, My Father worketh hitherto, and I work. John 5:17.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Making a Sick Mother Well

JUNIOR TOPIC—How Jesus Spent His Time.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Busy at Great Tasks.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Jesus Meeting Human Needs.

Mark's purpose in writing his treatise should steadily be borne in mind; namely: the presentation of Jesus Christ as the divine Servant energetically performing the will of God. The purpose in this section is to show the divine Servant bearing God's message to, and clothed with power to save, lost souls. Coupled with his superhuman strength is the unwearied sympathy, giving itself out in helpful and saving service.

I. Jesus Teaching With Authority (vv. 21, 22).

1. The place (v. 21). It was in the synagogue in Capernaum to which he with four disciples repaired "straightway" upon his entrance into the village. He availed himself of the regular channel of instruction. Though many abuses had crept into the synagogue service, he chose to associate the new with the old order.

2. The time (v. 21). It was on the Sabbath day. His faithfulness in observing the Sabbath brought him to the place where the people assembled to worship and to hear the Scriptures expounded. He came not to destroy but to fulfill the law, even the law of the Sabbath day.

3. The impression made (v. 22). The people were astonished. Two things about his teaching impressed his hearers.

a. The substance of his message.

b. The authority of its deliverance. The scribes, the professional teachers of the law, merely quoted the authorities, but Jesus with first hand knowledge set forth the truth with the enthusiasm of freshness and personal conviction.

II. Jesus Conquering Demons (vv 23-28).

1 The outcry of the demon-possessed man (v. 23). When the power of God is manifested in the presence of evil spirits, there is bound to be an outcry from them.

2. The demon's confession (v. 24) 'Thou art the Holy One of God." The one whose chief business it was to waste and destroy human life was in such miserable state as to desire to have nothing to do with Christ, and yet was forced to confess him as the Holy One.

3. Christ's attitude toward the demon (v. 25). Christ neither asked for nor accepted testimony from the demon, but sternly rebuked and cast out the foul spirit. Christ is not only himself pure, but is also able to deliver others from impurity.

4. The obedience of the demon (v. 26). The evil spirit was reluctant to leave the man and displayed his maliciousness to the very end, for he tore the man whom he was forced to leave.

5. The impression made upon the people (vv. 27, 28). The news of Christ's power spread rapidly over Galilee. The people were startled by two things:

a. The new doctrine which he brought.

b. The authority over demons.

III. Jesus Heals Peter's Mother-in-Law of Fever (vv. 29-31).

Jesus went home with Simon and Andrew. While in that home he learned of the condition of Peter's mother-in-law. He came at once and lifted her up and the fever departed. Divine healing is characterized by completeness and immediacy. Divine healing is, in this respect, to be contrasted with so-called faith healing, which is merely the exercise of the power of mind over the body.

IV. Jesus Ministering to Many (vv. 32-34).

Though the day was strenuous in its labors, he came unwearied even when the sun had set, to meet the needs of the multitudes who had gathered from all parts of the city. He healed many of diseases, and cast out many demons. The demons knew him, but the poor blind people knew him not.

V. Jesus Cleansing a Leper (vv. 35-45).

As Jesus preached in the synagogues of Galilee and cast out demons, his power became widely known. A leper therefore came to him saying, "If thou wilt, thou canst make me clean." Jesus put forth his hand and touched him saying, "I will, be thou clean," and immediately the leprosy departed and he was cleansed.

Look for His Leading

As a general rule, those truths which we highly relish, and which shed a degree of practical light upon the things which we are required to give up for God, are leadings of Divine grace, which we should follow without hesitation.—Fenelon.

Thy Kingdom Come

If you do not wish his kingdom, don't pray for it. But if you do, you must do more than pray for it, you must work for it.—John Ruskin.

BE SURE TO HEAT CANNED MEAT

Will Avoid Any Small Chance Of Food Poisoning

Although people rarely become poisoned from eating home canned meat, it may be avoided with certainty by heating the meat for 10 minutes before using at a temperature of 212 degrees.

Canned meat may be boiled or roasted in the oven, depending on the use for which it is intended according to Miss Ruth Cessna, of the foods section of the Extension Service at Iowa State College.

Meats to be used for salads or sandwiches should be heated for 10 minutes at a temperature of 212 degrees. Cooking also will bring out the odor of spoilage if it is present in the meat. Meat showing any evidence of spoilage should not be used.

The gelatin in a jar of meat should be firmly set. A watery gelatin usually indicates spoilage. Can lids which bulge during storage usually mean spoiled meat.

Heating to 212 degrees destroys any poison which may have formed in the meat, tests conducted by the United States Department of Agriculture and various research departments in colleges have proved.

These same rules apply to all non-acid home canned products, both meat and vegetables.

No Doubt About Dairying

We have "preached" more dairying because we firmly believed in it. We have advocated more dairy cattle on the farms in this community—pointing out that dairying was a profitable business under any condition. The present economic conditions are more easily solved by the farmer who has heeded our advice and has stayed by dairying. Dairying has stood the test of time. The present outlook is most encouraging. Resolve now to make dairying an imprtant part of your farm plans.

amrocks Defeat Kanawha; Meet Corwith Five Here Friday

E DECLAM CONTEST FIRST WEEK IN FEBRUARY

All Students Required To Write At Least One Examination

The Klemme High School defeated the Kanawha High School five at Kanawha Friday night, 29 to 25. The Klemme boys led at the half and at the end of the third period were ahead 26-16. The Klemme reserves and the grade team lost to Kanawha.

R. Drake, Shamrock center, played an outstanding game, gathering in 4 field goals and one point via the free route for a total of nine points and at the same time holding Abbas, fast Kanawha center for 2 field goals and a gift shot. Kluckhohn and Bridges played exceptionally well in the Shamrock guard positions. Kluckhohn's fast dribble puzzled the Kanawha boys and Bridges broke up play after play for the Kanawhas. Besides their fast floor work the Klemme guards piled up handsome scores. Kluckhohn sank four pretty field goals, two unassisted; while Bridges tallied up two field goals. Kanawha guards held Keeper, Shamrock forward to two field goals, while Smid, Shamrock forward failed to find the mesh but gained three points via the free route and Keeper one point the same way.

Wm. Cooper, flashy Kanawha forward was high point man for the evening, gathering four field goals and two free throws for a total of ten points, one more than Drake. Klemme center tallied. Quire, forward found the loop twice for four points. Brummond and Tande, Kanawha guards, played a good game and each was good for a field goal. Tande rang up two more points on free throws.

In the reserve game neither team displayed any outstanding players Klemme reserves did not seem to be up to their usual standard. Tande, Kanawha forward was the hot-shot and gathered eight of the fourteen points. Brinkman, forward sank two field goals and a free one to lead for Klemme.

The Klemme grades did well to hold their own against the big Kanawha grade boys who had them bested for weight and size. The Klemme Midgets had a bit of hard luck in locating the loop or the score would have been different. However the Midgets played a good game.

The Shamrocks will meet the fast Corwith five on the local floor this Friday evening in what promises to be one of the biggest battles of the season.

P. T. A. PROGRAM ATTENDED BY LARGE NUMBER

Twenty-Three Rural Teachers Accepted Invitation As Guests

A crowd, estimated at over one hundred fifty persons attended the P. T. A. meeting at the Klemme school Tuesday evening. Twenty-three rural school teachers were present and were guests of the Klemme school.

A good program made up of music by the orchestra, special glee club numbers and a one act play was enjoyed.

Supt. J. R. Baggs of Garner, gave a very interesting and instructive talk. He told of necessity in keeping the children in school during these times of distress as the parent could not afford to take his opportunity away from his child. It is during the school days that the individual receives the impressions that stay with him through-out life. Mr. Baggs emphasized character building and spoke highly of Boy Scout work as a character building organization. Mr. Baggs paid a tribute to men and women who devote so much of their time to young folks, as teachers, school board members. leaders in boys and girls organizations, Sunday school and church.

Mr. Baggs told of the advatages of going to a school like the local school where the student has a better opportunity of gaining character through the personality of the teacher, which is not the case in a large city school.

Duard Lewis Had Future School Mates at Birthday Party

Duard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lewis. celebrated his fifth birthday, Monday afternoon, by having as his guests eight little friends who will start school with him next fall. From 2:00 to 5:00 o'clock the little folks enjoyed playing games, after which Mrs. Lewis assisted by Mrs. Clarence Kluckhohn served a delicious lunch. The decorations carried out were in pink and white. Duard received many nice gifts. After his friends had gone home and he had looked over the situation he remarked to his mother, "I guess I'll have another party next week."

REFORMED LADIES AID MEETS NEXT WEEK THURSDAY

The ladies of the Reformed Church Aid Society will hold their January meeting at the church parlors next Wednesday afternoon, January 25th with Mrs. Calvin Grosshuesch and Mrs. Paul Mueller as hostesses. Lunch will be served following the business meeting.

M. E. LADIES AID WILL MEET THIS WEEK THURSDAY

Mrs. W. L. Thada and Mrs. A. G. Koerner are the hostesses for the January meeting of the Methodist Ladies Aid Society which will be held at the church parlors this Thursday afternoon

The ladies are asked to come early and help sew and quilt. Lunch will be served by the hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Day and Dorance and Mrs. Smith were at Clear Lake on business Monday evening.

Play Mason City "Brownies"

The Vagabonds go to Sheffield Thursday eve for a return game with the Independents there. On Monday night, January 23, on the local floor they meet the Mason City Brownies, a professional all-colored team that displays a fast brand of basketball. The local aggregation should furnish plenty of competition and it promises to be one of the best games of the season.

A week from Monday night they play the Diamond Bread five of Mason City on the local floor.

Mrs. Tanner shipped a car load of cattle Saturday.

LADIES FROM TEN TOWNSHIPS AT BRITT MEETING

Plans For Annual Achievement Day Were Outlined

Mrs. L. F. Weaver, of Garner, who is county chairman of the Women's Home Project work called an all day meeting of the township chairmen and the publicity chairmen of Hancock County on January 11th.

Mrs. Mary K. Gregg, assistant State H. D. A. leader from Ames met with the women to discuss and definitely outline the plans for achievement day, which will be held the fore part of August in connection with the boys and girls 4-H club Achievement Show.

The importance of making reports was considered in detail by Mrs. Gregg, who also gave an inspirational talk on the purpose of Home Project work.

The meeting was held in the directors room of the First National Bank at Britt. There was a very good attendance with the following townships in the county represented Bingham, Magor. Twin-Lake, Britt, Orthel, Concord, Madison. Lierty, Ell and Avery.

Mrs. V. A. Cook, Mrs. W. L. Sherwood and Mrs. W. L. Thada represented this community at the meeting.

ROYAL NEIGHBOR OFFICERS WERE INSTALLED FRIDAY

Mrs. Martin Barz At The Head Of Local Lodge For Coming Year

Royal Neighbor lodge officers for the coming year were installed Friday afternoon. Mrs. A. R. White acted as installing officer and Mrs. A. G. Koerner served as ceremonial marshall.

The new officers are: Oracle, Mrs. Martin Barx; Vice-Oracle, Mrs. Levi Klotzbach; Recorder, Mrs. Lee Ridder; Receiver, Mrs. C. G. Waterman; Chancellor, Mrs. A. R. White; Marshall, Nova Koerner; Inner Sentinel. Mrs. Fred Kluckhohn; Outer Sentinel, Mrs. C. F. Keraus; Manager, Mrs. A. G. Koerner.

Mrs. Paul Grange and Miss Marie Blank were hostesses for this meeting and served lunch at the close of the installation.

PROGRESSIVE HOME MAKERS HELD FIRST 1933 MEETING

The Progressive Home Makers of Ell township held their first meeting of the new year, Saturday, Jan. 14 at the home of Ruby and Norma Wille.

After the business meeting in which eight girls answered roll call by giving some phase of club work for the coming year, Winnifred Hampel read "The Country Girls Creed." Then followed a talk on "The Proper Shoes and Hose for School and Dress Wear" by Nellie Stromer. Bernice Weaver then demonstrated foot exercises which were tried by the members. Marjorie Stewart demonstrated "How to Walk and Sit Correctly."

Mrs. Clarence Greiman, the new leader, introduced the new 1933 4-H music. It was learned that the Indian gave America its first music and this was very crude consisting of the flute call. There will be nine types of music studied.

After the music discussion a very appetizing lunch was served by the hostesses and their mother. The next meeting will be held February 11th at the home of Bernice Weaver.

Two Hundred Tax Payers Met With Board Of Supervisors

IOWA LAW MAKERS START DRIVE TO AID FARMERS

Durant, of Hancock County, Introduced Resolution

Iowa legislators are hopeful of drafting some plan of meeting the farm mortgage foreclosure situation. The problem of Iowa farmers who are facing the forfeiture of their farms and homes in increasing numbers receive attention from both the incoming and outgoing governors.

Must Aid Farmer

Governor Herring in his inaugural message told the legislature that everything possible should be done to aid the farmer in retaining his farm pending relief through national legislation. Junior mortgagees and "lease hounds" were scored for precipitating foreclosures.

In his biennial message before stepping out of office Gov. Dan Turner told the assembly that it is "vital" that the mortgage foreclosure laws be revised to protect the landowner in the present emergency, asserting that foreclosures are going forward at an "alarming rate."

Legislators generally are in accord with the tho't that something must be done to protect the landowner. In both the senate and the house groups of lawmakers contemplate uniting in action to be taken after differences of opinion have been ironed out.

Move Already Made

One move already has been made in the house in this connection. A joint resolution introduced by repepsentative S. B. Durant of Hancock county would provide for memorializing the president, congress and the federal reserve board for a one year moratorium on farm mortgages.

The resolution further would ask that the federal government do all in its power to furnish financial relief for farmers through other means.

GATHERING PASSED NUMBER OF RESOLUTIONS

Committee Will Meet With Board In Special Session

About two hundred and fifty farmers, representing nearly every township and community in Hancock county met at the court house in Garner Thursday afternoon to discuss various problems relating to taxes and tax reduction and then passed eight major resolutions asking the board of supervisors to act regarding the measures.

The resolutions that were passed by the body are:

1. That the board of supervisors of Hancock county does not hire a county engineer only when needed and then at the lowest possible cost.

2. That F. W. Senneff be required to return to the drainage districts any funds illegally allowed by the board of supervisors and collected by Seneff.

3. That the mileage of the supervisors of Hancock county be reduced to five cents per mile, and that they eliminate unnecessary trips. The resolution was amended to cut out mileage entirely. The amendment carried.

4. That this body join with the assessors of Hancock county in their resolution to the Iowa State legislature requesting the reduction of the poll tax and uniformity in said tax.

5. That the board of supervisors release the county mechanic and hire the repairs for county machinery done at a more reasonable rate or bid.

6. That the names of all persons receiving county aid be published.

7. That the mileage of county supervisors be fixed at five cents per mile and per diem at $3.00 per day.

8. That Resolutions Committee be ordered to request all county officers to reduce their salaries 20 percent.

Prior to the passing of these resolutions and the general discussion which accompanied each motion as made from the floor, a resolution committee was named to present these resolutions to the board of supervisors. The resolution committee was composed of: Milo Brown, chairman, J. M. Townsend, secretary and Chas. Ax, Chris Kyle and Geo. Hanson. C. H. Nelson was elected chairman of the meeting and J. C. Ford was chosen as secretary.

Talks and a general discussion accompanied each suggestion. The main talks made from the floor of the meeting and the subjects discussed were: Paul Stille on salary reductions. I. C. Hastings on general economic conditions,Jack Diebler on general economic conditions. Wilbur Carr on drainage attorney's charges, Wes Haefner on county engineer, Chas. Ax on general expense of the county. Miner Shrader, Martin Madsen and George Hanson also spoke from the floor.

Other discussions that took place at the meeting but which were not placed in the form of motions or resolutions included a discussion of the farm bureau and the county agent. In order to get the sentiment of the meeting a vote was taken on the question, "How many at this meeting are in favor of paying the county agent out of tax funds?" The chair announced that there were ten ayes and estimated 180 nays.

Following the discussion of placing the maintenance of county and township roads in the hands of the township trustees, the chairman of the meeting announced that the meeting was in favor of doing this.

The Resolutions Committe was requested to pass a resolution to the effect that the present gasoline tax be collected as now collected and used for retiring road bonds already issued. The meeting asked that this resolution be sent to S. B. Durant, representative from Hancock county requesting that no changes be made in the present gasoline tax.

In closing the meeting, the assembled body passed a resolution of thanks to the persons sponsoring the gathering.

WHAT'S HAPPENED TO THE ICE SKATING RINK

Evidently the proposed skating rink idea must have run into a snag, as the matter seems to have dropped and promoters of the project have lost their pep.

The council at their meeting pledged their support to the plan. It means a little work but if somebody will take the responsibility of managing it we are sure they will receive plenty of support. Those who were promoting the plan might try passing around a paper to sign the names agreeing to support the rink either with manual labor or money. We think it will then go over.

The weather has been a bit against the project, but as this is January we can expect plenty of freezing weather.

BUY AMERICAN

One plan now being effectively used to overcome the depression is that of buying American

The plan is very simple. Buy only American goods manufactured in America in preference to foreign manufactured goods.

The plan can be made to help Iowa people much more by giving preference to goods manufactured in Iowa These goods include almost every item necessary to carry on commerce in this state. Flour, feed, cosmetics, machinery, printing, paper, fountain pens, washing machines, etc

One of the principal products of the farm, lard, is included in the Iowa products Lard is the best and most wholesome fat and shortening available It is selling at one third the cost of lard substitutes. Use lard in preference to all other substitutes because it is not only the best for all cooking purposes but the cheapest.

Also use Iowa butter and in this community use only butter made in Klemme butter. It is necessary food and it is a health producing food. It is low in cost and is produced here at home

WOE IS MAN!

Exchange Man is of few days and full of trouble He laboreth all the days of his youth to pay for a gasoline chariot, and when at last the task is finished lo! the thing is junk and he needeth another. He planteth cotton in the earth and tilleth it diligently, he and his servants and his asses and when the harvest is gathered ito barns he oweth the land lord $8 40 more than the crop is worth He borroweth money from the lenders to buy pork and syrup and gasoline and the interest eateth up all that he hath He begets sons and educateth them to smoke cigarette and wear a white collar and lo they have soft hands and neither labor in the fields nor anywhere under the sun. The children of his loins are ornery and one of them becomes a lawyer and another sticketh up a filling station and maketh whoopee with the substance thereof. The wife of his bosom necketh with a stranger and when he rebukes her, lo she shooteth him He goeth forth in the morning on the road that leadeth to the city and a jitney smiteth him so that his ribs project through his epidermis He drinketh a drink of whoopee juice to forget his sorrow and it burneth the lining from his liver All the days of his life he hath no parking place and is tormented by traffic cops from going forth until he cometh back. An enemy stealeth his car; physicians relieve his bank roll; his arteries hardeneth in the evening of life and his heart busteth trying to keep the pace Sorrow and bill collectors followeth him all the days of his life, and when he is gathered to his fathers the neighbors sayeth: How, much did he leave? Lo he hath left it all And his widow rejoiceth in a new coupe and maketh eyes at a young shiek that slicketh his hair and playeth a nifty game of bridge. Woe is man! From the day of his birth to the time when earth knoweth him no more, he laboreth for bread and catcheth the devil. Dust he was in the beginning and his name is mud.

WORLDS LARGEST ROLLER DAM AT DAVENPORT

Work Is Now About Half Completed On Immense Mississipi Project

Construction of the largest roller dam in the world has reached the half-way mark in the Mississippi river at Davenport—a major project of the government's canalization program of the upper Mississippi.

Treacherous rocks and chains of Rock Island rapids will be blotted out with completion of this huge project and the coming of a nine foot water stage.

With its adjacent dual navigation locks and two mile sea wall, the job will have cost about $5,500,000 when finished in 1933.

Strictly speaking, the dam is not a dam at all, because it is not a complete barrier across the river. Its construction embodies eleven roller gates which can be raised or lowered by chains suspended above.

The chains will be operated by electric hoists, one on each of ten piers to which the roller gates are attached. The Iowa bank and the dual locks also serve as piers, each forming an attachment for a roller gate.

The dam starts at the Iowa bank 600 feet below the Davenport-Rock Island drawbridge. When complete it will extend diagonally up stream 1,200 feet and will adjoin the lower end of dual locks near the Illinois shore.

Each pier entends 108 feet up and down stream, is twelve feet across, then rises fifty-five feet above the river bed. The first pier is set thirty-three feet up stream from the Iowa end of the dam. and each pier thereafter will be set thirty feet above and parallel to the one before it. The piers are joined at the bottom by a sill running the full length of the dam.

Set between these piers will be 220-ton drumlike gates each with an apron resting on the pier sill. Four of these gates now are being placed between the piers thus far constructed.

Cogs fringing the rollers will enmesh with others set in the piers, making it possible to hoist and lower gates quickly.

The dual locks, adjacent to the dam now are complete except for operating machinery. The principal lock now is in use as a channel only for boats passing under the drawbridge.

The sea wall and parallel sewer on the Iowa bank is slated to be finished by January 1.

Other roller dams in the United States are located at Bellows Falls, Vermont; Wallenpaupack creek in Pennsylvania; and Sanke river near Lewiston, Idaho. They were first introduced in Germany and are used widely in Norway.

Chief advantages, engineers say, are that they allow the discharge of ice easily and that the few piers required allow utilization of more dam space for spillway discharge.

MAY CURE SOME BEEF AT HOME

Plate, Brisket, Part of Round Can Be Dried Or Corned

A good way to utilize the cheaper cuts of beef, such as the plate, brisket and the lower part of the round according to C. W. McDonald, extension meat specialist at Iowa State College is to turn them into corned beef.

Materials required for each 100 pounds of meat are: 8 pounds of salt, 3 ounces saltpeter, 4 pounds of sugar and 5 gallons of water. Each piece is rubbed with salt and packed in a tight barrel. The saltpeter, sugar and water are mixed and poured in over the meat, which is then weighted down with a clean board and stone. The meat should be ready for use in about three weeks, but should be left in the solution until ready for use. It may be parboiled or soaked in water before it is used.

Dried beef may be made from the rounds of beef by splitting the three large leg muscles lengthwise along the natural seam. The larger muscle may be further split in order to have more uniformly sized pieces. Meat is prepared the same as for corned beef and allowed to cure 2 days for each pound in the pieces. At the end of the curing period the meat is smoked and dried.

Home butchering is urged to be completed during January 16 to 21, ordinarily about the latest time at which meat, especially pork, can be killed and cured before warm weather brings danger of spoilage.

Mind's Relaxation Well Understood by Apostle

That the partridge, one of the most timid and least confiding of birds, may be tamed is shown by a story told of the Apostle St. John the Divine, who in his old age was the bishop of Ephesus in succession to Timothy. Although generally active in the prosecution of his Divine Master's business he was amusing himself by playing with a tamed and petted partridge, when a huntsman passed by. How could so holy and privileged a man so waste the precious time? he queried. "What is that in your hand?" inquired the apostle. "By profession I am a hunter, and that is the bow I use with my arrows in the chase," he made reply. "But if that is a bow, it is all unstrung, and unfit for use," said St. John. "Yes it is unstrung," returned the sportsman, "for if it was always strung it would lose power and become useless. To be in good order, it must ever be unstrung, when not actually being used." "Just so," quietly remarked the wise old man, "and in like manner must the mind of man be released and unstrung sometimes if it is to be always fit for my Master's use." And as the huntsman thoughtfully pursued his way, St. John turned again to amuse himself, and rest his mind, by playing with his partridge.—Montreal Family Herald.

Hotels Long Centers of Public Life in America

After the Revolution that made us a nation, the life of American cities was for more than a century and a quarter publicly centered and vividly reflected in the essentially democratic institution called the hotel. The club, an Eighteenth-century aristocratic outgrowth of exclusive use by superior persons of the private parlor of the tavern, smacking, therefore, of privilege, had to wait till the 1830s or so for a serious revival. The hotel—which succeeded the tavern—became every citizen's club.

In a little city there was one hotel, says a writer in the New York Times. Every visitor must come to it and every really live inhabitant must drop around to look the stranger over. In a bigger city there might be several hotels. But usually one hotel was the hub of community activity in any city

From decade to decade it was apt to be a different hotel as progress, fashion and favor determined. Nevertheless, at any given period, when you said Boston or Baltimore or New Orleans, or, later, Chicago, St. Louis or San Francisco, the name of a particular hotel popped into the mind of every traveler or informed person.

Eskimo History

The Eskimos seldom are thought of today as a people who once dwelt in the interior, far from the sea. Yet that was their earlier history. They were, as archeological investigation seems to have established, part of the offshoot of the earlier migration from Asia; and they established themselves in the forests north of Lake Superior where they dwelt, apparently for a considerable period.

For some reason—whether because of pressure from more vigorous tribes to southward or because of an incurable nomadic instinct—the Eskimos began at last to push northward till they reached the verge of the Arctic. They spread over the coasts and the adjacent islands. Some of them filtered back over the straits into sub-Arctic Siberia. Others passed toward Greenland, where, nine centuries ago, they met the Norsemen.—Boston Post.

Stained With Royal Blood

A unique carpet, stained with the blood of the murdered Russian czar, Paul I, has been added to the Museum of Applied Arts in Leipzig. In 1782, the carpet was presented by the French king, Louis XVI, to Paul of Russia, who was then crown prince. Paul succeeded his mother, Catherine the Great, to the throne in 1796. His short rule was marked by various oppressive measures taken against the Russian peasants. Thousands of free peasants were made serfs and given away to his favorite courtiers. A palace conspiracy put an end to his reign and life. When he was assassinated the carpet now acquired by the Leipzig museum was drenched with his blood.

About Wheelbarrows

A barrow has only one wheel for various reasons, mainly because it is easier to push one wheel than two, there being less friction—or less resistance. A barrow requires no back wheel because the place of back wheels is taken when at rest by wooden legs, and when in motion by human legs. Likewise, it does not require two wheels in front for balancing purposes, as the legs keep it straight Therefore, two wheels in front would simply make it more difficult to push and much more difficult to tip over. The single wheel is really a very clever contrivance.

Modern Gabriel's Horn

British scientists have developed a device which will multiply the sound of the human voice 3,000,000 times. One of the uses to which it will be put will be to warn, exhort or frighten British subjects who threaten to become unruly Used from an airplane, it is easy to understand what this "thundering voice from the sky" would mean to the superstitious. Speaking in Arabic, it might pretend to come from Mohammed himself, in Chinese from Confucius, or in Hindu from Brahma.

"PROSPERITY" AT DEPRESSION PRICES IS AVERY FEATURE

Manager Marks Has Booked Great Picture For This Week

To announce that Marie Dressler and Polly Moran will appear in a picture is itself an event of real interest, but when manager Charles Marks of the Avery Theater at Garner told a Times reporter that he was showing these famous female comedians in "Prosperity" this week Thursday, Friday and Saturday, at the low price of 25 cents for adults —that IS something!

Every minute of "Prosperity" is packed with joy. You'll howl with glee at the antics of these two funny women. Forget the depression and see "Prosperity". It's "not around the corner," it is at the Avery NOW! Charlie says, "Don't miss it for anything and I especially want my Klemme patrons to see this."

Why not MUNICIPAL GROCERY STORES?

The political demagogs who advocate government ownership of utilities claim that such enterprises can serve the people cheaper Being tax exempt, they would have an alvantage which would save the customers possibly 10 per cent. But the average domestic light bill is less than $3. This would be a saving of only 30c. The average family grocery bill is nearly $30. A similar saving here would amount to $3 per month. Politicians claim that electricity has become a necessity from which profits should be removed. So are grceries necesities. The idea of municipal grocery stores seems absurd and yet it is as logical as some of the other proposals now being advocated by those who disguise socialism with new and high sounding names Have you considered the possibility that if the utilities are disposed of, your business may be next?

No Knowledge of First English Poet Laureate

There is no authentic record of the origin of the office of poet laureate of England; it is said to have been created during the reign of Edward IV (1461-1483), though earlier than this date, during the reign of Henry III (1216-1272), there was a king's poet who was paid 100 shillings a year. Geoffrey Chaucer, who lived from 1328 to 1400, assumed the title of poet laureate, and in 1389 received a royal grant of a yearly allowance of wine. But the first poet laureate in the modern sense was Edmund Spenser, who was granted a pension of £50 by Queen Elizabeth in 1591. Ben Jonson was the first to receive the office by formal letters-patent.

The appellation is derived from a custom of the English universities, which continued until 1512, of presenting a laurel leaf to graduates in rhetoric and versification—the "King's Laureate" being a graduate rhetorician in the service of the king. It was formerly the duty of the poet laureate to write an ode on the birthday of the king, but this custom was discontinued in the reign of George III.

Maoris Firm in Belief That "Tiki" Brings Luck

Although the Maoris are becoming civilized to an extent where they can send intelligent representatives to the New Zealand parliament, they nevertheless cling religiously to the greenstone charm called "tiki," which they superstitiously believe will ward off all evil. The stone is of small value, so it is an easy matter for even the poorest to provide themselves with it.

They usually cut it into grotesque figures, or heads, with eyes boldly open and the tongue sticking out in defiance, or derision, the idea being to frighten away anything that might be harmful. The women wear these charms on chains around their necks, and no native woman is considered fully dressed without this superstitious challenge to fear

Like other South sea islanders, the Maoris believe in the tapu, or tabu They are taught not to touch the things that are forbidden, and if the tapu is broken the transgressor suffers great agony of mind. Some have died in agony after learning that they had eaten some food that was forbidden.

Where Rhine Is "Lost"

The mighty Rhine river, flowing through half of Europe, is camouflaged when it reaches Holland. The traveler need not ask, when in Holland, where is the Rhine? Not even the natives know.

The river branches into many outlets when it reaches Dutch soil, and each outlet has been given an individual name, the Dutch being careful to avoid the use of "Rhine."

The Waal is part of the Rhine, uniting the Maas, which is known in its southern course as the Meuse, and then on its way to the North sea is neither the Rhine nor the Waal but the Maas.

"Romantic" Writers

Against the rather cold rationalism of the Eighteenth century there set in a reaction which emphasized the emotional side of life. It went in for poetry, and the beauties of nature, and rather idealized the past, particularly the Middle ages. In Germany, some of Goethe's earlier work was romantic in tone. In England, Coleridge, Wordsworth, Byron, Shelley, Keats and Sir Walter Scott, and in France, Victor Hugo, belong in general to the same tradition. So do most of the American writers of the earlier Nineteenth century, like Cooper, Hawthorne, Poe and Melville.

House of the Dead

In the Chinese cemetery at Panama, a strange building has been erected Although modern in construction, it is designed after ancient Chinese architecture, preserving the oriental lines of decoration. The building contains 150 separate compartments for coffins. The Chinese who die in Panama are "buried" temporarily in this building. When all of the vaults are occupied a ship is chartered and the 150 coffins are shipped back to China. According to the religious belief of the Chinese, the soul will not gain immortality unless the body is buried in Chinese soil.

Nurses

We have always been afraid of nurses with their professional austerity, for they do so many things we do not understand. Here is the most pressing question we failed to ask: "Why is it that one has to be awakened at 6:15 in the morning to have his hands and face washed when he is going to be given a bath anyway at 7:15?" It is a most annoying ordeal, but when a nurse says "Wash your face and hands," we wash. Nurses are so much like superior officers.—Concord Monitor.

White House's Gold Piano

The gold piano in the East room of the White House cost $15,000. A plate attached to the instrument bears the following inscription: "This piano was made for and presented to the United States government, Theodore Roosevelt being President, January, 1903, by Steinway and Sons. R. M. and J. H. Hunt, designers of the case. Decorations painted by Thomas W Deming Advisory committee, Edwin H. Blatchfield, Thomas W Deming. Frederick Howes. Richard M. Hunt and J. Burr Tiffany."

Lesson for January 22

JESUS FORGIVING SIN

Mark 2:1-12.

GOLDEN TEXT—The Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins. Mark 2:10.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Forgiving a Man.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus Forgiving a Man.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How We May Be Forgiven

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Jesus' Power Over Sin.

I. Jesus Preaching the Word (vv. 1, 2).

1. To whom (v. 2). It was to the surging crowd which was gathered about the house where Jesus was stopping. So great was the crowd that there was no room to receive them, even about the door. This house may have been the home of Peter where he had healed his wife's mother of a fever. As soon as it was noised about that Jesus was in the house, the multitudes gathered. It is always so, that the multitudes gather where Jesus is.

2. What Jesus preached (v 2) He preached the Word before he wrought miracles, for his supreme mission was to make known God's will. Miracles were not an end in themselves, but to authenticate his work. The people came, some to be healed, and some out of curiosity. The Word of God should be preached to all so that the will of God may be known even though the hearers gather with an unworthy motive.

II. Jesus Forgiving Sins (vv. 3-5)

The man brought to him was suffering from the dread disease of palsy, but his deadly affliction was that of sin. Palsy was a type of sin. The miracle was wrought by Jesus in confirmation of his message. It was vitally connected with faith. Observe:

1. Faith coming to Jesus (v. 3). The actuating impulse of the palsied man and his four friends who carried him was faith. They believed that Jesus had power to save.

2. Faith overcoming difficulties (v. 4). Though prevented by the crowd from coming to Jesus, they ascended the outer stairway and let the afflicted man down through the roof into his presence. They disregarded conventionalities, knowing that the all-important thing was to go to the Lord with their need.

3. Faith rewarded (v. 5). No word was uttered by either the paralytic or his hearers. No words were needed Their action was enough. The paralytic got more than he expected. He desired healing of the body and he received forgiveness of sins—the healing of the body plus forgiveness of sins.

III. Jesus Answering the Scribes (vv. 6-10).

1. Their objections (vv. 6, 7).

a. Why does he thus speak?

b. Who can forgive sin? They were entirely right in their reasonings that only God can forgive sins. Their blunder was in not perceiving him as God The very one who was speaking and acting was the living God.

2. Jesus' answer (vv. 8-10). Knowing their inner thoughts and reasonings, he manifested unto them his essential deity in that he had power to know their thoughts. He inquired. "Which is easier, to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Arise and take up thy bed, and walk? But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins, (he saith to the sick of the palsy), I say unto thee, Arise and take up thy bed, and go thy way into thine house." He was willing that his power in the invisible realm should be tested by his power in the visible.

IV. Jesus Healing the Paralytic (vv. 11, 12).

1. His method (v 11). He spoke the word and it was done. Christ's words were enough. This man was helpless and unable of himself to move, but with the command was given the strength to obey. It is always so, that when Christ commands he gives the strength to perform.

2. The obedience of the man (v. 12). He immediately arose, took up his bed and went forth among them all. The poor helpless man walked away with his bed upon his shoulder. At the words of Christ, disease and death flee away. This was a fine example again of divine healing.

3. The people were amazed, and glorified God (v. 12) They said, "We never saw it on this fashion."

World Movements

God dwells in the great movements of the world, in the great ideas which act in the human race. Find him there in the interests of man. Find him by sharing in those interests, by helping all who are striving for truth, for education, for progress, for liberty all over the world.

Confide in Him

Confide to God that which thou last from him, O thou soul weary of wandering! Confide to the truth that which is from the truth within thee, and thou shalt lose nothing.—St. Augustine.

The Disciples Sent Forth

Go your ways; behold, I send you forth as lambs among wolves. Carry neither purse, nor script, nor shoes; and salute no man by the way.—Luke 10:3 and 4.

SCHOOL NOTES

The cast for the operetta has been announced and practicing has begun The operetta will be presented some time next month.

The elimination contests in the humorous and dramatic sections of declamatory work are beingheld this week. It is not necessary to have an elimination contest for the oratorical group as there are only four taking part. The home contest will take place the first week in February.

We are very sorry that Alice Kahler cannot attend school for the remainder of the year.

Several are absent on account of the flu.

All High School students are required to take one semester examination regardless of grades. Formerly all were excused with grades over ninety. The colleges are encouraging this so that the student may become accustomed to writing exams.

Clair West gave a talk to the physics class telling them what was expected of a college student in chemistry

The geometry class has covered the first two books. There are three books left which will be finished in time to review for the Every Pupil contest

Students are requested to leave the building at four p m. unless they have work to finish. This will eliminate accidents whch occur after school.

Grades 1 and 2

The following people received blue stars for spelling on Friday: Billy, Luella, Betty Jean, Eugene H. Harlan. Phyllis, Betty S. Leonard, Eugene J. and Elwyn.

Both grades will finish their book this week and begin work in their new supplementary readers.

We have been studying about Eskimo life in the far North. We all like the story of "The EskimoTwins and made pictures of the polar bear we heard about in the story.

In health work we have been reviewing good health habits. Monday we made posters to illustrate what we have been learning about the first semester.

Both grades are studying poems by Robert Louis Stevenson in language class.

Grades 3 and 4

The following got 100 in spelling last week: Merlin Buss, Garland Brinkman, Caroline Schwartz, Arlene Buseman, Melvin Coobs, Dorothy Griffen and Evelyn Lewis.

Fourth grade have finished three readers and are now beginning the Edson readers.

Margaret Ralston and Marjorie Lemke are absent in account of illness.

The third and fourth grade are proud of their new bookcase made by Milvern Barz in Manual Training class. We have decided to fix a library corner consisting of the bookcase, table and two stools. We are going to paint them blue.

Grades 5 and 6

Elnor Schuldt is back in school after being absent for several weeks because of illness.

Peggy Zeiger, Margaret Katter and Marian Zeiger were callers in grades five and six on Friday afternoon.

Marvin and Donald Lemke were absent Monday.

Lowell Ralston was absent from grade five Friday afteroon due to illness

We are working hard on reviewing for final exams which are to be given Thursday and Friday of this week.

Velma Kaduce is in school again after several weeks of illness.

Grades 7 and 8

Elaine Buntenbach attended the funeral of her grandfather last Monday.

Emily Paul was absent last week due to illness.

We are spending the first three days of this week reviewing for our semester tests. Our tests will begin on Thursday. Those having an average of 90 or above for the semester will be excused.

The seventh and eighth grade basketball team defeated Swaledale on their own floor last Tuesday.

The orchestra has begun work on the state contest music.

Alvin Bachman was absent Monday morning of this week.

A High School Essay
SCRIP MONEY
By Marie Stille

Being that we are now passing through what is known as an industrial crisis. economists are searching for methods by which the country may be returned to its normal condition.

One item of major importance in our recovery from this economic depression is the return of hoarded money to circulation.

It as been estimated that when the practice was at its height about 1,600,000.000 dollars were in hoarding —and this is no small sum to be overlooked.

Anti-Hoarding Associations, etc. have been formed but all were unable to produce satisfactory results.

Recently a new plan was introduced by the noted economist, Charles J. Zylstra.

By this method scrip money is issued by the town as payment for work done for the town. The scrip bills are divided into thirty-six (36) sections. A three (3) cent stamp must be placed in a section when the bill is received—when it changes hands—and for every two weeks it is kept in ones possession. The person to place the last stamp on the bill may take it to the town treasurer and have it cashed. (Scrip is issued for not less than $1.00 and not more than $5.00.) Script is good only in trade, except for the person to place the last stamp on it. The business men of the town pledge themselves to accept scrip as payment for merchandise and services.

Some of the advantages of scrip are:

1. Work furnished by the city and payed for in scrip money would be welcomed by the unemployed.
2. Brings money in circulation.
3. Business men would sell more goods.
4. Money would more than pay for itself in stamps.

Disadvantages are:

1. People would be forced to buy more than they intended since script is issued only in even dollars.
2. It would cost three (3) cents every time the bill changed hands or was kept more than two weeks, and every 3c means a great deal to the man who has no work or prospects of work in the future.
3. There is so much complaint about taxes on checks and higher postage rates. etc., that is is doubtfull if 3c more would receive much welcome.

Since Hawarden issued scrip money, cities in six (6) different states have now adopted this plan. Several towns in Canada as well are considering scrip.

GROW AND REFINE YOUR OWN SUGAR

United States Falls 80% Short Of Producing Own Sugar Supply

The United States falls short 80 per cent of producing sufficient sugar to meet the requirements of the people. We should use every available resource to produce more sugar.

One of the most effective ways to make the sugar shortage is to grow sugar beets in the home garden from which to make sugar and syrup. Sugar beets can be grown pretty generally in all parts of the United States and especially in the central and northern states. There are few more profitable or important crops at the present time. Not only can sugar beets be cultivated sucessfully on the farm, but in the truck or home gardens as well. A small plot of ground in the back lot will grow enough beets to provide an average family with sugar and syrup for a whole year. The percentage of sugar in the beets is surprisingly large and any housewife, boy or girl can extract the sugar with little trouble and with such utensils as are found in every home. The process is very simple.

Soak the beets in cold water to make them crisp and brittle. Scub or clean them thoroughly to remove all dirt. For best results the beets should be peeled, but if there are large quantities to be handled, this adds to the labor and may be dispensed with. The crown, that part of the beet from which the leaves grow, and which is usually of a green color, should be cut off and, with the leaves, thrown away, as it contains a large amount of potash, which if used will give the syrup a sharp taste. Slice the beets thin or grate them. Put in real hot. not boiling water and let stand about 30 minutes, then strain off the water though cheesecloth and boil the liquid to a proper consistency for syrup. While this boiling is taking place constantly remove the scum that rises to the top. This syrup should be canned or bottled while hot, tightly sealed and corked to prevent moulding. If made for sugar, let it stand in an open vessel. This syrup can be used for all purposes in the home. Fifty pounds of beets will make about a gallon of syrup.

Corwith Five Defeats Local Shamrocks Here Friday Eve

STUDENTS ENROLL IN HIGH SCHOOL

Play Goodell Five Here Friday Night

The Shamrocks will meet the Goodell High School team on the local floor Friday eve. The Goodell five defeated the Klemme boys earlier in the season on the local floor in two overtime periods and it promises to be a real game.

The local Klemme Shamrocks went down in defeat to the fast Corwith five here Friday evening 30-28. It was one of the fastest games played on the local court this season, although at times the game proved rather rough. The locals were handicapped by the fact that their regular forwards, Keeper and Smid, had not recently recovered from a siege of flu, but the Shamrocks put up a good fight and gave the Corwith team some of the best competition they have had this season.

Buckhohn and Bridges, fast Shamrock guards, played a wonderful defensive game, as well as piling up most of their teams points. Buckhohn was high man for Klemme with four field goals and four free shots, while Bridges his running mate was good for 3 field goals Drake, center, was good for a field goal and a gift shot before he was forced to leave the game by Keeper, Shamrock forward. Keeper had 3 field goals and a free one, while L. Drake, who relieved Smid at the other forward berth, showed well in his first game of regular competition, making a field goal and playing a good defensive game. Corwith, Corwith center was high man of the evening with six field goals and a free throw, while their forward who was substituted at the half was good for five field goals and a free throw during the last half of the game, Chambers forward accounted for the rest of the team's points with 3 field goals. The Klemme reserves defeated the Corwith reserves 30 to 16 in a low battle. Brown was the star of the game with five field goals to his credit as well as playing a wonderful defensive game.

ELL FARM BUREAU MEETING MONDAY EVENING

The Ell Township Farm Bureau meeting held in the Klemme Schools was attended by a large crowd Monday evening. The gym was packed. A three act play was given, entitled, 'Engaged by Wednesday." The play was under the direction of Miss Mabel Schuldt. Those who took part were: Jennie Albers, Edwin Thieman, Alvin Thieman, Vergie Meinders, Marie Meinders. Mildred Thieman, Viola Thieman, Stella Thieman, Mabel Thieman, Lyle Hammitt, Lynford Back Alvina Buss, Johanna Albers, Marie Albers, and Kenneth Kluckhohn, who substituted for Bill Neuberger and Marie Meinders substituted for Faye Neuberger. In the second act there was a musical program and Paul Schuldt gave a selection on his clarinet while three ittlie girls namely, Elsie Thieman, Luella Thieman and Marian Back sang several songs. Readings between acts were given by Gladys Meinders and Florece Yeager. The play was very interesting and all performed their parts much to their credit. Miss Schuldt is to be congratulated on the way she directed the play.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Elder after which Mrs. C. J. Wille turned the meeting over to the refreshment committee. A nice lunch of sandwiches, coffee and cake were served.

Grades 1 and 2

The 1st grade began two new studies Monday—phonics and spelling.

Both grades have had writing and copying but are beginning a more formal study of penmanship the second semester.

In second grade, Harlan Buss. Eugene Haberkamp, Eugene Johnson and Betty Etchen had 100 per cent in spelling the entire six weeks period.

We have a new schedule for class recitations this semester because of the new studies.

In language we are continuing the study of Robert Louis Stevenson and his poems. This week we are learning "Bed in Summer" in the first grade and "A Good Play" in the second grade.

Grades 3 and 4

The fourth grade have just finished a booklet of the seasons. Each picture is original and each riddle about the seasons was prepared in language.

Allen Barz, Elsie Drake, Evelyn Lewis and Dorothy Griffen have mastered 100 multiplication facts.

Each child was weighed again last week. Out of 25 pupils sixteen are normal or above weight and 9 are underweight.

Grades 5 and 6

Edith Bachman entertained both grades with refreshments Wednesday afternoon in honor of her birthday which was Friday.

Donald Lemke was absent from grade five on Monday and Wednesday.

Lowell Ralston was not at school Tuesday because of illness.

Marvin Lemke was absent Monday.

Elsie Ward was unable to attend school Wednesday afternoon.

The sixth grade are beginning a study of Health and Cleanliness for this semester.

The fifth grade have completed their work in Health Habits and the second semester will have a little extra time to work on their other subjects.

Grades 7 and 8

Raymond Keeper was absent from the eighth grade Mosday morning.

The seventh grade has dropped Hygiene and is taking History the second semester.

Buster Jorgenson, Juanita Pavey, Ruth Blickederfer, Carmen Kluckhohn, Doris Ludeke, Nora Wellemeyer, Norman Sampson and Raymond Keeper were neither absent nor tardy the last six weeks.

Buster Jorgenson did not miss a word in spelling the last six weeks which gave him an average of 100 per cent.

FUNERAL SERVICES THURSDAY FOR BECKER BABY

Funeral services for the baby son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Becker will be held at the Becker home Thursday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock with the Rev. Calvin Grosshueseh in charge.

Edward Eelko Becker was born December 21, 1932. He was a strong, healthy looking littlo baby boy and seemed to be a happy little fellow. He was the only boy baby in the Becker relationship. About two weeks ago he contracted a cold or influenza which weakened him and his condition became serious and had been critical the last ten days. He passed from his world at 4:15 o'clock on the morning of January 24th, being one month and three days old.

During illness his loving parents did all in their power to bring him back to health. Medical skill was ministered and he had been under the care of a trained nurse, Miss Ferleman of Garner, who was with him night and day.

Mr. and Mrs. Becker have the sincere sympathy of the entire community in their hour of sadness.

RUTH KATTER WINNER IN IOWA BEAUTY CONTEST

Will Compete At Northwestern U. For Big Ten Honors

Miss Ruth Katter, nurse third year at Iowa University. Saturday evening was awarded the title of "Iowa's Most Beautiful Woman," which carried with it the honor of representing the university in a Big Ten beauty contest at Northwestern University, Feb. 17.

Miss Katter, who is a daughter of Mrs. Fern Peck Katter, of Garner, Recorder of Hancock County, is a member of Sigma Theta Tau, honorary nursing society. Miss Katter is president of the nurses' student council. Should Miss Katter prove victorious over these ten candidates in the judging to be held at Northwestern, she will be given the opportunity of posing for Rolf Armstrong, artist, with possibility of a trip to New York.

Miss Katter was chosen from more than 35 candidates entered in a contest sponsored by Frivol, university humor publication, after an elimination contest had narrowed the field down to ten candidates.

HON. S. B. DURANT ENTERTAINS FARM BUREAU DELEGATES

All the officers and directors and Mrs. L. F. Weaver and Mrs. Herman Gelner, Farm Bureau Delegates at the meeting recently held in Des Moines, were given a dinner by the Hon. S. B. Durant, representative from Hancock county, at which time interesting happenings concerning recent legislative actions were discussed. Mr. Durant has taken an active part in several bills that have been introduced into the legislature during this session.

Hancock County had four recognized townships at the Federation meeting. They were Liberty, Ell, Madison and Concord In order to be classed as recognized townships it was necessary to score 750 points Only a few counties in the state had a higher number of recognized townships.

Infant Died At Birth

A private funeral, with Rec. C. Grosshuesch in charge, was held for Hemmo Herman Beek, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Beek, who reside on the Henzie farm, Thursday, January 19th. Burial was made in the Klemme Cemetery. The little baby, their first born, died at birth.

COUNTY ASSESSORS HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

Musical Instruments and Ordinary Farm Machinery to Escape Taxation

The assessors of Hancock County met in annual meeting at the court house, every assessor being present The meeting was called to order by County Auditor Fred C. Missal. In organizing. J. A. Love, of Garner, was elected chairman and Ole G. Peterson of Britt, secretary.

Mr. E. S. Boudinot of Webster City was present to explain and interpret the manual. The schedule as offered by the State Board was adopted.

Schedule Of Livestock

Colts, 1 year old, $16.00; colts 2 years old, $24.00; colts, 3 years old or over, $36.00; stallions, as reported; mules 1 year old $20.00; mules 2 years old, $28.00; mules 3 years old or over, $40.00; Jacks, as reported; cattle in feeding, a basis for feeders of 1000 pounds in weight, $24.00 with an increase per hundred additional in weight of $2.40; heifers, 1 year old, $8.00; heifers, 2 years old, $12.00; cows, $16.00; steers, 1 year old, $12.00; steers 2 years old, $20.00; bulls as reported swine, over 9 months, $3.00; sheep over 9 months, $2.00; goats, over 1 year, as reported; gasoline, 5½c per gallon; kerosene, 4½c per gallon; furnace oil and distillate, 3½c per gallon; all grades lubricating oil, (average) 20c per gallon; greases, 3c per gallon. The schedule on gasoline and other petroleum products represents present market value.

A resolution to cut the poll tax to $2.00 was adopted. Township assessors will collect the poll tax and each assessor is allowed one day for every 16 poll taxes collected. In the corporations the town clerk or street commissioner looks after poll tax collections.

Pianos that have fallen to almost no value are stricken from the list of taxable property and the ordinary farm machinery is assessed at only 60% after which a $300 exemption is allowed. This will relieve many farmers of taxes on farm machinery. Tractors, threshing machines and other power machinery that cannot be properly classified as ordinary farm machinery equipment is subject to taxation.

TWENTY TWO CARLOADS STOCK SHIPPED PAST WEEK

Season's Record Smashed With 19 Cars Loaded Saturday Night

If there is another town in the state, anywhere near the size of Klemme that handles anywhere near the same amount of livestock in a season, we would like to hear from them.

Klemme is fortuate in having a very good livestock territory with lots of farmers who are expert feeders. Our stock buyers are live wires and buy over a large territory. All through the winter Klemme has been a geat livestock shipping point with around a dozen car loads each week.

The past week, however, was the record breaker for this season when a total of twenty-two car loads of live stock were shipped out. Of this number nineteen were shipped out Saturday night. C. A. Larsen shipped 8 decks of hogs and 2 cars of cattle; Joe Johnson shipped 8 decks of hogs and a car of cattle. The later partof last week Larsen shipped 2 decks of hogs and Ed Buntenbach shipped a car of cattle, making a total of twenty-two car loads for the week end.

INSPECTOR THOMAS ON LAST TRIP MONDAY

Inspector Guy Thomas was in Klemme Monday on his last trip as a state inspector. Mr. Thomas has worked for the state for a number of years and his many friends in this district are sorry to see him lose his position He is a victim of the Democratic "house-cleaning" so his place will be filled in the future by a man of Democratic faith. Monday evening Mr. Thomas was entertained to a six o'clock dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mueller. Mr. Mueller, manager of the creamery, speaks highly of Mr. Thomas and says he was always fair and square in his work of inspection and making recommendations at the local plant.

Have Faith In Dairying

In times of distress one is apt to jump at conclusions. The grass on the other side of the fence may look richer and greener. But— when sampled, it may taste bitter, on close observation it is not so green.

In that little story the dairymen of our own community may draw a lesson. At times the dairy business does not look so good— butterfat prices tumble down and the job of milking becomes tedious and we think its too hard to take care of the dairy herd.

However, successful dairymen have a lot of faith in the future of dairying and they can see where it will pay to keep right on milking. The Klemme Creamery is every ready and willing to do their part in making dairying profitable for the farmer.

TAXES in the light bill ARE STILL TAXES

The ordinary meaning of "a tax-free town" is that no direct levy is made for the general fund, although the citizens must still pay state and school taxes. No municipality can be maintained with out cost. Police and fire departments, street maintenance and lighting all cost money. The suggestion that any municipal plant could pay its own way and make enough extra to cover the costs of operating a city is only suggesting another way to collect taxes. In such a town, rates must necessarily be high. And in that case the excess in rates is nothing but a tax in disguise. Changing the label doesn't make poison safe—taxes in the light bill are still taxes.

PASSING THE BUCK

A merchant, unable to sleep, tossed on his couch and muttered unintelligible words. His wife sought the cause of his restlessness. In answer to her he said:

"How can I sleep when my note at Cohan comes due tomorrow for $2000 and there's only $2000 in the bank to meet it."

"I know," said the faithful wife. "Then I tell you what I should do. You get up and go to Cohan's house and tell him and then go to sleep. Let Cohan stay awake."

CONFEDERATE PRISON IOWANS SUFFERED IN

Crowded Quarters, Sickness, Disease and Poor Food Caused Distress

Crowded quarters, poor food, brutal guards. sickness and disease caused Iowa soldiers much suffering in Confederate prisons during the Civil War. On November 25, 1863, some eighty members of the Fifth Iowa were taken prisoners at the assault of Missionary ridge, among them, the Adjutant of the regiment Samuel H. M. Byers. That night Byers was among the northern prisoners who were loaded on cattle cars and transport to Libby prison at Richmond. The story of his experiences in southern prison camps is told by Ruth A. Gallaher in the November number of "The Palimpsest."

The buiding was an old brick tobacco warehouse three stories high. The windows were without glass and the cold, damp air from the nearby James River swept over the shivering men. The "fresh fish" as the newcomers were jocularly termed, found some six hundred Union officers in this prison.

The prisoners slept on the floor, each man having only a single army blanket for mattress nd cover and so crowded was the building that at night the makeshift chairs had to be piled on top of the boxes used for tables to make room for the men. The food was largely corn bread made of meal, ground cobs and all. In this prison Byers spent seven moths. In the summer of 1864 the prisoners were rushed from Libby Prison to Macon, Georgia. Here the men were herded into a walled enclosure where the sun beat down mercilessly on the sand and the men were for a time without shelter except for their blankets.

Removed to a camp near Columbia, South Carolina. the prisoners were fed on a ration of half-cooked corn and cob meal with a little sorghum. Byers and a comrade finally escaped from the Columbia prison, where befriended by a negro who gave them food, and on February 17 1865, from a high doorstep, the two ragged and emaciated men watched General Sherman and his staff enter the city.

WHERE DOES THE TAX DOLLAR FROM HANCOCK COUNTY GO?

Study conducted here to determine the disposition of the money. Just what becomes of the dollar the tax payer contributes in Hancock County ought to be of interest to all. To determine this one farm in each township was selected as a basis on which to reckon. The survey was made on the 1931 levy but the division has not changed materially this year.

Out of the dollar the school gets 48c; roads 24c; state general 10c; county general 8c; poor 3c; court 1c; county school administration 2c; insane county and state 2c; soldiers relief 1c; soldiers bonus 1c. Farm Bureau of Hancock county gets 97c of $188.21 paid in taxes from the average farm.

Putting this on the basis of a 160 acre farm in these township the figures show an average levy of 80.4 mills and the average amount paid as $206.88. The average size of the 16 farms in survey was 145.5 acres and the total taxes levied on these farms was $188.21. Of these taxes 97c goes to the County Farm Bureau Of the average 160 acre farm on which $206.88 taxes are paid, the state Board of Education gets $8.81 state board of control $6.83; general administration of state departments $4.94; Iowa State College not including the Extension service and Home Economics departments $2.89 Extension service and Home Economics departments 28c; five penal institutions $2.82; four other institutions including orphanages, soldiers home, T. B. Sanitarium and special emergencies $1.15. Cost of the Farm Bureau from the 160 acre farm is $1.06 or seven tenths of one cent per acre or 45c on every $100 paid in taxes.

JESUS AND THE SABBATH

Mark 2:23-3:6.
GOLDEN TEXT—The sabbath was made for man, and not man for the sabbath; therefore the Son of man is Lord also of the sabbath. Mark 2:27, 28.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Keeping God's Day.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Keeping God's Day.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How to Use Sunday.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Lord's Day.

I. Jesus Eating With Publicans and Sinners (2:13-17).

1. The call of Levi (v. 14). Levi was a tax gatherer under the Roman government. As Jesus passed by he commanded him to leave his business and follow him.

2. Jesus dining in Levi's house (v. 15). It seems that when Levi found the Saviour, he invited many of his business associates to eat with him. This gave a fine opportunity for Jesus to come into touch with some of these sinners.

3. The perplexed scribes and Pharisees (v. 16). They asked, "How is it that he eateth and drinketh with publicans and sinners?" The question carried with it the charge that Christ was having fellowship with sinning men.

4. Jesus' reply (v. 17). "They that are whole have no need of the physician: I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance." The veiled charge of moral carelessness on the part of the Lord could not be denied if Jesus was a mere man. Jesus recognized the moral condition of his associates and declared that he had come as the divine Physician to heal their spiritual maladies. Surely no physician could cure sick folk without coming into contact with them.

II. Jesus and Fasting (2:18-22).

1. The question asked (v. 18). They asked why Christ's disciples did not fast. This objection suggests a lack of seriousness of purpose on the part of the disciples. The fast indicated solemnity and seriousness of purpose. John the Baptist was now in prison, therefore his disciples would naturally mourn and fast for him.

2. Christ's answer (vv. 19-20). "Can the children of the bride chamber fast while the bridegroom is with them?" The joy of Christ's disciples in present congenial companionship prevented their fasting. He declared, however, that the time would come when they would fast.

3. New wine in old bottles (vv. 21, 22). He proceeded to illustrate this by figures of cloth and wine skin. The Lord's purpose was to show the folly of imposing old customs on the new age.

III. Jesus and the Sabbath (2:23-3:6).

1. The disciples plucking ears of corn on the Sabbath (vv. 23-28).

a. Charge made against the disciples (vv. 23, 24). That they had violated the Sabbath law. For this act the Pharisees accused them of lawlessness. The Pharisees had glossed over the Sabbath law with so many regulations that it became a burden.

b. Jesus defends them (vv. 25-28).

(1) He cites a precedent (vv. 25, 26). David, the great king of Israel, had gone into the house of God and eaten the bread which should be eaten only by the priests. The higher law of human need warranted David's breaking the law in this case.

(2) He shows the nature of the Sabbath law (v. 27) The Sabbath was made for man, therefore its right use is to be determined by the good of man.

(3) Jesus is the Lord of the Sabbath (v. 28). It was Jesus who instituted it when creation was finished. Therefore, he had a right to use it as it pleased him for man's good.

2. Jesus healing a man's withered hand on the Sabbath (3:1-6).

a. The place (v. 1). It was in the synagogue, the place of worship.

b. The Pharisees watching (v. 2). The motive which actuated their watching was an evil one.

c. The man an example (v. 3). Jesus wanted the case to be open to all, so he commanded the man to stand forth where all could see him.

d. The question asked (v. 4). "Is it lawful to do good on the Sabbath days, or to do evil, to save life or to kill?" He plainly showed them that to fail to do good, to show works of mercy, to save life, is to be guilty of wrongdoing, even of murder.

e. The man healed (v. 5). Christ healed him by speaking the word.

f. The result (vv. 4, 6). The Pharisees were silenced. They sought how they might pnt him to death.

The Spirit's Power

If ever we rise again to conscious life, it will be by no native power, but by the operation of the Spirit of God; and, unless the Spirit dwell in us, superstition may have an idol, conscience a law, philosophy a name, but the heart has no God.—F. H. Hedge.

In His Name

I will strengthen them in the Lord; and they shall walk up and down in his name, saith the Lord.—Zech 10:12.

CLAM SCOWS ONCE DOTTED MISSISSIPPI

Pearl Button Industry Was Supplied With Fresh Water Clams

The pearl button industry in Iowa was supplied with fresh water clams by a multitude of scows which fairly dotted the Mississippi river. There was nothing to restrict clamming it was inexpensive, for a "John boat with its fishing apparatus could easily be made for $20 or even less. Besides the river was long and free and the catch was certain and easy, with little experience required. The story of clam fishing is told by Marie Haefner in "The Palimpsest" for December.

The fisherman's clam scow was a flat-boat, usually about eighteen feet long and four feet wide. On each side of it was a pair of upright forked sticks which supported an iron pipe resting horizontally in the forks and parallel to the side of the boat. From these pipes at intervals of several inches, dangled chains two or three feet long. Attached to these chains were several wire grappling hooks with four flukes, each the size of a large fish hook.

Like a huge centipede, one of the bars was lowered from te side of the boat into the water by a thick rope, and dragged slowly along the bottom. When this rake came in contact with the clams they clamped on the hook and clung there tenaciously After drifting along for fifty to one hundred feet, the clammer pulled in his haul, a tangle of clams and hooks. When one drag had been restored to its place on the forked sticks, the other was lowered to draw up its booty.

The clam fisherman never toys with capatalistic ideas. He was and is still the lone fisherman, working the waters for what they will yield His reward is the joy of a good day catch and whatever he may get from the shell buyer. He is a gambler, too, daring to hope, with some justification, to find a pearl If he does not, he swallows his dissappointment, finding consolation in some slugs and his pile of shells

Texas is such a big state that it's a real trip from one part of it to another. A man from Brownsville on the southern edge, was gone quite a time away from home and when he got back a neighbor inquired where he had been.
He replied: "I been on a trip North"
"Where'd you go?" the friend asked.
"I went to Dallas".
"Have a good time?"
"Naw, I never did like them Yankees."

AND THEY STILL WANT MORE

Dick Smith, a 26 year old man of Knoxville, filled up with liquor, quarreled with his father, grabbed up a knife and started to clean up the street. He went into a taxi office and threw the stove into the stree. A cafe and a drug store were next in his path and he chased out all the customers and help. At this point of his entertainment he was ganged up on by two professional pugilists and a wrestler who took away his knife, but he got away from them and kicked in a plate glass door of another drug store. The police then arrived and locked him in jail and left him to sober off As soon as the officers left, he tore the radiator out and when they locked him in a cell, he set fire to the mattress and before he could be released he was so badly burned that he died the next day. This alcohol is great stuff to exhilirate a fellow and we are soon to have more of it so that every fellow can do just as he pleases about using it.—Lake Mills Graphic.

DUMONT INTERESTED IN OIL

The hopes of an Iowa community namely, Dumont, are now centered in locating oil in that vicinity.

Fred Heldt, vice president and general manager of the U. S. oil company now stationed at Keister, Minn., where oil indications have led the company to prepare to sink a well, spoke at a meeting in Dumont last week.

Dumont is located in Butler county, southeast of Keister. There have been many indications of oil in that locality and the formations are said to be the same as those at Keister.

It is planned to secure oil leases in the vicinity of Dumont and a test well may be put down.

THOMAS INVENTS PROTECTED TELLERS BOOTH; PATENTED

A Clear Lake man, Ira L. Thomas has invented what he calls a "Protected Teller's Booth," and a patent has been granted from the patent office a Washington, D. C.. The object, as the name indicates, is to protect the banks from daylight holdups. It is said to be an invention of real merit. Mr. Thomas expects to have a working model of the invention set up here sometime this spring.— Cler Lake Reporter.

ROYAL NEIGHBOR CARD PARTY HELD TUESDAY EVE

The Royal Neighbors held their monthly card party in the hall Tuesday evening. Eleven tables played and all enjoyed the evening. Mrs. C. G. Waterman was high for the ladies winning ten games out of twelve and Mrs. Lee Ridder was low, while six men each won nine games and so had to cut for prize with. Mr. Joe Simon received the lucky cut while Henry Freie won low prize. Straight whist was played. A fine lunch was served by the committee.

Goodell Takes Second Game From Shamrock Cagers Here

GOODELL HIGH WINS GAME ON BOLLER'S GIFT THROWS

Western High School Will Play Locals Here Friday Night

Goodell and Klemme high schools split honors on the local court Friday night, when the Shamrock reserve string defeated the reserves of Goodell 24 to 8 and the Goodell High School first team defeated our first team 21-15, for the second defeat of the season by Goodell. The cagers from the south took our boys into camp several weeks ago in a game that went into two over-time stanza.

W. Boller Leads Scoring

W. Boller, Goodell forward started the fireworks by looping a field goal in one of the first plays. Starting with that lead the Goodell boys maintained a lead throughout the entire game. Klemme guards sensed the scoring threat and thereafter held Boller to but one more field goal. Zellie, his mate, garnered two field goals. Boller was "hot" on free throws and had plenty of opportunity to gather them in, ringing up seven counters over this route, which gave his team the win. Ahrenkeil and R. Boller did a nice job of guarding for Goodell the latter slipping in one field goal and a free counter. Carpenter at center showed up well and gathered one field goal for his team. Goodell found the loop six times from the field. Klemme hit the mesh six times also, but lost out by only gaining three points by gift shots while Goodell scored nine free throws.

Smid And Keeper High for Locals

The usual Shamrock scoring machine seemed to lack oil as they failed to come through and several good set-ups were bungled to lose them the game. Keeper, forward, found the loop once from the field and scored two free ones. Smid, forward, looped two field goals for the Shamrocks. L. Drake saw a short period of service in the forward position and his floor work looked good. R. Drake at center, Kluckhohn and Bridges at guard, who have been the big show in the past two games could not seem to penetrate the Goodell defense and so the Shamrocks did not score heavily from this angle. Drake looped a field goal and a free throw while Kluckhohn and Bridges contented themselves with a field goal each.

Reserves Outplay Goodell

The Shamrock reserves had an easy time romping away with the long end of a 24 to 8 score over the Goodell reserves. Brinkman came through with his sensational side angle shots for five field goals. E. Barz gathered two field goals and two free throws, while Jost, center, slid three through the mesh from the field. Arnold, guard took a long pop at the basket and made it good. Keraus, at running guard played a splendid defensive game. The Goodell reserves have the look of a good team and they played well against their more experienced opponents. Ahrenkeil and Wiles at the forward posts played good and three points were accounted for there. Quigley and Kilgore at guards showed up well. Kilgore was outstanding at his running guard work and is a flashy little player. Besides taking care of his guarding he found the mesh for one field goal and one free throw. Dennis, center and Quigley, guard, each gained one free throw.

Ventura Here Friday Eve

The Ventura cagers will meet the Shamrocks here Friday night for a return game. Klemme opened the season early in the fall at Ventura defeating the fishermen 28 to 21. The game in this game that Keeper, Shamrock forward played such a sensational game by looping eleven field goals and one free throw or a total of 23 points. Gard, Ventura forward came through with five field goals and a free throw for a total of eleven points.

ATTEND HARDWARE DEALERS CONVENTION

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Jacobs, accompanied by Mr and Mrs. O. J. Papousek of Belmond, returned Friday evening from the Twin Cities where the men attended the Minnesota Hardware Dealers Convention. The convention was well attended, but Mr. Jacobs states that the Iowa Convention is a bigger affair and with much better hardware displays

On their trip home sleet and ice made driving difficult and it took them five hours to drive sixty-five miles. At a Minnesota town a large truck skidded into the Jacobs car and badly damaged the lef side of it. The truck driver had applied his brakes to slow up for another car and this caused it to skid directly into Jacobs' car, pushing it against a curb. Although the body was badly caved in no glass was broken and nobody was injured.

M. & S. CLOVER LEAF QUARTET AT P. T. A. NEXT TUES. NIGHT

POPULAR ENTERTAINERS WILL GIVE PROGRAM FEB. 7

Free Program Both Entertaining And Educational

Mr. Erdix Swift of the firm of Marshall & Swift, cleaners and furriers of Mason City and their famous Clover Leaf male quartet will be the attraction on the P. T. A. program for Tuesday night, February 7th.

Those who heard this quartet last year will want to hear it again. Mr. Swift will give a short, instructive talk on all kinds of furs. He will bring with him three or four trunks full of pelts with which he illustrates his talk.

At the close of the program refreshments will be served by the committee, Mrs. Brebenner, chm., assisted by Mesdames E. J. Arnold, Art Wellemeyer, Frank Ward and Miss Sanders.

Everyone is invited to attend this program which will undoubtedly be the outstanding entertainment of the year. Marshall & Swift only ask for a big crowd. There is no charge whatever for this program. Bring your neighbors and friends and pack the audiorium.

It's A Good World

With all of our trials and tribulations this is a good old world. It is full of good people, who are constantly doing good work that aids other good people—and some who are not so good. Don't get the idea that because we are having our ups and downs right now the downs will predominate for the rest of time. They won't. The ups will have their day again, and that day is not far off. And when it does come, and we are all on our financial feet again, the past year or two will gradually assume the aspect of a bad dream that is best forgotten. Yes, it's a good world, and we're going to hang onto every possible minute of life.

Klemme Vagabonds Will Play Mason City Brownies Monday

FAST ALL-COLORED TEAM WILL PLAY ON LOCAL FLOOR

Vagabonds Defeated Diamond Bread Five Monday 50 to 33

Monday night, February 6th, the Klemme A. C. Vagabonds have scheduled a game with what should be the fastest team playing on the local court this season, namely, the Mason City Brownies, an all-colored team of professionals, made up of members of the Corwith Nighthawks Mason City Bats and the Texas Spiders. This aggregation recently trimmed the highly rated Rudd Aces on the Rudd floor by one point. They are reported to have been strengthened by the addition of Jackson, formerly of the Harlem Globe Trotters.

This game was scheduled for a few weeks ago but due to a meeting in the local auditorium the Vagabonds were forced to postpone the match. It promises to be a real game and will be of interest to every Klemme fan. The boys would appreciate a good turn-out as they have had some expense in putting up the guarantee necessary to schedule a game with a team of the Brownies' caliber.

Defeat Diamond Bread Five

Monday eve, the Vagabonds defeated the fast Diamond Bread Five of Mason City on the local floor 50 to 33. C. Lemke was high with 24 points to his credit.

EARL FINN AT IOWA CITY HOSPITAL

Earl Finn, of Belmond, former marshall and street commissioner in Klemme, is a patient at the hospital at Iowa City, where he went about a week or more ago to undergo a goiter operation. Klemme friends can write Mr. Finn in care of the University hospital, Ward C-51. The Tmes received a card Monday but he had not yet had his operation. His many Klemme friends hope that he will get along fine and that his health will be restored.

NEW EPIDEMIC APPEARS HERE

A new epidemic has made its appearance in this community. Whatever it is seems to affect that part of the facial area just underneath a young man's nose, leaving a soft, silky growth above the npper lip. Most of the victims are between the ages of 21 and thirty. Back in the days of '49 this same facial growth was quite general, but covered most of the face, making the victim resemble somewhat a baboon. The epidemic has not reached that stage as yet, but where there's life there's hope. It may develop into more than a cookie duster, who can tell?

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our neighbors and friends for their kindness and sympathy shown us in our recent sorrow when our baby, Edward Eelko, was called away. The help extended and acts of kindness shown in various ways is deeply appreciated.

DIPTHERIA PREVENTION

During the first eleven months of 1932, 56 Iowa children died of Ditheria. This number is considerably in excess of the 44 deaths that occurred in 1930 and the 41 deaths in 1931. That these young lives should be thus removed from our midst, seems the more regrettable when we consider that for the past number of years trustworthy and safe means have been available for entirely preventing this scourge of childhood. It is only the message of disease prevention and its wider application in home and school that will rob Diptheria of its power to exact a toll of human lives.

"Made in America" is taking on a new significance, since "Buying British" was started. Buying something that the clerk impressively says is "imported" may listen good but when you buy it you are supporting a workman in another country and not your own. Same thing applies to goods purchased outside your state, county or your town. Of course the prices must be somewhere near the outside prices. to tempt the buyers to be loyal enough to buy at home, and incidently, you will have to let them know of it. They are not going to drive here six or eight miles to read what is on your window, or pick those discarded circular letters out of the post offce wastebasket; not when it is but a few miles farther to a much larger town. This paper reaches them—they don't have to drive to town to get it, and it is plainly printed; also all the money spent with it goes back into your till, together with what we can gather from outside sources.

The disadvantage of added numerical strength is that us Democrats now outnumber the postoffices.—Weston (Ore.) Leader.

A bill is to be introduced into the Iowa legislature requiring a gasoline of 10 per cent alcohol, under penalty of payment of a heavy tax on gasoline not containing this per cent alcohol. The object is to provide an outlet for the product of Iowa corn.

George Bernard Shaw says a man can't settle down at seventy six, and George, old boy, a lot of them could not settle up if they lived to be twice that old.

It has been determined that the greatest horizontal distance fleas can jump is thirteen inches, and they cannot jump more than one-half this distance vertically. It is possible, therefore to prevent them from gaining access to a bed by placing sticky fly paper about 13 inches wide on the floor around the bed.—(From a bulletin of the Department of Agriculture.)

"We're pretty dumb not to have thought of that before."

There's no telling how long Methuslah might have lived if his appendix and tonsils had been removed, and he had used the right brand of toothpaste and smoked coughless cigarettes.

The Unkindest Cut

They were very much in love, but at last came the day when they had a bitter quarrel and they parted, each firmly resolved never to see the other again as long as they lived.

Years passed and they had almost forgotten that little love affair, when one night they came face to face with each other at a dance.

"Why, Muriel!"

She looked at him indifferently.

"Let me see," she said calmly, "was it you or your brother who used to be an old admirer of mine?"

He was snubbed. but he rose to the occasion.

"I really don't remember," he replied affably. "Probably it was my father."

LOW RATES Are Sometimes COSTL...

It has been repeatedly proven that municipal utility rates average higher than those of private companies. Recently, however, and for political purposes, a small number of municipal plants have made reductions in their rates. Aside from the fact that municipal rates are usually made by guesswork and do not necessarily represent any return on the public's investment, low rates today have in general been made possible by high rates in the past. Having paid for a plant through excessive rates and high taxes, it is now possible to lower rates until such time as maintenance is necessary or the plant is worn out. Then comes a day of reckoning. Low rates today are mortgaging the future.

Automobiles should be periodically inspected in the matter of brakes, steering, lights, etc. Examinations of applicants for drivers' licenses should be conducted with extreme care.

The automobile death rate can and must be lowered. There is no place for the reckless, the incompetent and the mentally or physically defective on our streets and highways. Sixty-five thousand deaths in two years is mute testimony to the need for quick and decisive action.

STATE PAVED 326 MILES DURING 1032

The state highway commission completed 326 miles of paving on the primary road system during the year, bringing the miles of paved primary highway in the state to 4,100.

Chief engineer Fred R. White of the highway commission, who announced the figures, also said that a sharp reduction in funds available for construction will cut the primary road paving program for 1933 to 180 miles.

Records show that during the 1932 season the commision completed 400 miles of graveling, 131 miles of treated graveling and 267 miles of grading and bridging.

Construction funds for the year amounted to about $13,500.000.

White said that on the assumption congress will pass the regular federal aid bill and that receipts of the primary road fund from motor vehice license fees and gasoline tax will not decrease more than 5 or 10 per cent from the 1932 totals, the 1933 construction program will be substantially as follows:

Paving, 180; graveling, 450 miles; bituminous graveling, 230 miles; and grading and bridging, 290 miles.

He explained that the 180 miles of paving estimated for 1933 completion will include some paving for which contracts were let in 1932. Some other construction work also is being carried over to next year.

The construction funds for 1933 on the basis of White's assumptions would amount to $10,707,000. but payment for work completed this season for which final estimates have not been filed will reduce the total to $7,507,000.

The $7,507,000 compares with $13,500,000 available for construction this year, or a decline of about $6,000,000.

TEST YOUR FLAX SEED

If you have a supply of flax seed for sale would it not be valuable to have it tested before selling it to your neighbors? A laboratory test will tell you the percentage of weed seeds present as well as the germination of the seed. Rate of seeding is dependent on both the purity and germination.

If you are buying flaxseed you should also be interested in having it tested. The first requirement is to buy seed of a wilt resistant strain such as Bison, Redwing, Buda Linota or N. D. R 114. Flax wilt has caused more flax failures in Iowa than any other one factor but this trouble can be overcome by using wilt resistant strains. The second requirement is to sow seed free from weeds. Flax is a poor weed fighter and we need not only to sow flax reasonably clean land but also to sow seed that is free from weed seeds. Seeds of smartweed, false flax and black bindweed are commonly carried by flax seed and a test of your seed will tell you if these weed seeds are present. A third requirement for good flax production is to sow seed of high germination or at least if the germination is low to increase the rate of seeding. A thin stand of flax may be caused by using seed of low vitality with the result that weeds have a greater chance to crowd out the flax plants. If the germination is known it is possible to regulate the rate of seeding so that a satisfactory stand may be secured. Finally, it may be advisable to treat seed before it is planted.

The Iowa State College Seed Laboratory can determine the value of your flaxseed. Send at least one quart of seed for test. See your county agent regarding regulations for seed testing.

KEEP HOME CURED HAMS DRY, COVERED AN DDARK

Best Size To Store Appears To Be From 14 to 18 Pounds

The best way to keep home-cured hams and shoulders in good condition is to partially protect them from air and ighlt and hang in a dark and dry place. according to C. W. McDonald, extension specialist in meats at Iowa State College.

According to experiments conducted by the United States Department of Agriculture, hams wrapped in parchment paper and then covered with a muslin bag and hung in a cool place kept better than those protected by other methods.

Hams which were stored in airtight packages were spoiled when taken from storage at the end of 7 months. Hams which were not protected and which hung in the light had considerable mold on them at the end of 7 months, but when this was washed off the meat was found to be sound. The odor and taste of these hams, however, were not as desirable as those which were partially wrapped and stored in the muslin bag.

Burying smoked hams or shoulders in oats or crushed rock salt did not give good results. Meat stored in oats had a musty smell after storage and during cooking. Those covered with crushed rock salt took up some of the salt and were dry, tough and excessively salty.

The most satisfactory size of hams to store, the tests showed, is from 14 to 18 pounds. Proper trimming of the hams is more important than shape. Both long cut and short square topped hams kept the best condition. Poorly trimmed hams usually did not come through storage in the best conditions. Poorly trimmed hams are not attractive and the rough edges and tags are too salty to be palatable. Mr. McDonald suggested leaving a fat covering over the lean meat.

BARLEY SEED CARRIES SCAB

Disease Past Year Is Hurting Germinating Power

The barley scab epidemic in 1932 while it came too late to seriously reduce the yield in many fields, has seriously injured the germinating power of a large amount of barley seed on Iowa farms. tests in the Iowa State College seed laboratory indicate.

Many samples of seed tested have shown a reduction in germination of 35 per cet and 20 per cent reduction is not uncommon. according to R. H. Porter, extension plant pathologist in charge of the seed laboratory. Many seeds which do germinate produce weak plants because of scab infection.

Mr. Porter is urging farmers to have barley seed tested since this is the only method of telling what percentage of the seeds are infected with scab. The rate of seeding will probably need to be increased some because of diseased seed unless it is treated with mercury dust.

Another important practice in preventing scab infection in the barley field is to plant the crop on land reasonably free from the scab organism. Since scab occurs on cornstalks, wheat stubble, and barley stubble, it is better to grow barley on land which has grown either soy beans, sugar beets, potatoes or oats than on corn stalk land.

When it is necessary to use cornstalk land, it is best to cut off the stalks for silage or fodder or plow the stalks under as completely as possible before barley is sown Early sowing to insure early maturity also is of value in the prevention.

JESUS CHOOSES THE TWELVE

Mark 3:7-35.

GOLDEN TEXT—Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you, and ordained you, that ye should go and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit should remain: that whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father in my name, he may give it you. John 15:16.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Choosing Special Helpers.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Taken Into Partnership.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Our Call to Friendship and Service.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Discipleship and Its Meaning.

I. The Divine Servant Ministering by the Sea (vv. 7-12).

1. Why he withdrew (v. 6). It was because of the murderous plotting of the Pharisees against his life. Their opposition began when Jesus claimed to have power on earth to forgive sins (2:10); grew in intensity when he mingled with publicans and sinners (2:16); was fanned into a violent flame when he set at naught their false interpretations of the Sabbath law (2:23-28).

2. To whom he ministered (vv. 7, 8). It was to a great multitude representing a wide stretch of territory.

3. The results (vv. 9-12).

a. The disciples prepared a small ship (v. 9). So great was the pressure of the thronging multitudes that he commanded the disciples to provide the ship so that he might be saved from them.

b. Unclean spirits fell down before him (vv. 11, 12). They not only bowed before him, but confessed him as the very Son of God. This testimony he refused, doubtless for two reasons:

(1) The time was not ripe to proclaim him publicly as the Son of God.

(2) They were not the beings to make him known. Jesus consistently refused the testimony of those who were not in moral accord with him.

II. The Divine Servant Calling Associates (vv. 13-19).

In this way he made provision for the carrying forward of his work after he was gone. Before choosing the twelve he spent a whole night in prayer (v. 13) (cf. Luke 6:12). From among his disciples he choose twelve whom he ordained for a twofold purpose:

1. "That they might be with him" (v. 14). Fellowship with the Lord is not only the highest privilege of the disciples, but it is an indispensable qualification for witnessing. It is needful to be with him to catch his spirit.

2. "That he might send them forth to preach" (v. 14). To proclaim the good news of salvation was the supreme mission of the disciples. Concerning those who were to be the messengers of Jesus Christ, note:

a. Twelve were ordained (v. 14). This was the beginning of the process by which the Triune God was to make manifest his grace to the whole world. The number twelve is the product of the heavenly three and the earthly four, thus indicating the purpose of the Triune God to reveal himself unto the four quarters of the earth.

b. Their characteristics (vv. 17-19).

(1) They were from the middle ranks of society, the common walks of life.

(2) Men of average ability. Christ did not go to the schools for his apostles and yet he chose men of mental grasp and efficiency.

(3) Men of diverse temperamental gifts. The grouping of the apostles shows men of impulse and leadership, of the reflective and inquisitive type, and men of practical business abilities.

III. The Servant's Increasing Difficulties (vv. 20-35).

1. The suspicion of his friends (vv. 20, 21). The needy people pressed upon him so that he had no time to eat. When his friends saw his zeal eating him up, they suspected that he was losing his mind.

2. The violent opposition (v. 22-30). Added to the embarrassment of the suspicion of his

Mrs. Irving Haupt came Saturday and visited with her mother, Mrs. Fred Haupt until Monday when Irving came to Klemme and his wife returned to her home again.

The Methodist choir held their regular weekly practice at the home of Miss Glenna Gruetzmacer last Thursday evening. After the rehearsal they were treated to home made ice cream and cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Ewald Josten are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby boy at their home since January 25th. They have named the boy Elvin Franklin and he topped the scales at seven and one half pounds. Congratulations! Mrs. Louisa Rosendahl is at the Josten home getting acquainted with her new grandson.

Vagabonds Win Double-Header; Shamrocks Lose To Ventura

VENTURA HIGH EVENS SCORE WITH SHAMROCK TEAMS

Take Both First String and Reserve Team Games

Ventura High School cagers evened things up here Friday night with the Shamrocks for an earlier season defeat when they took both the High School firsts and reserves into camp for a double victory. The Ventura first string boys won 22 to 19 and the reserves won their tilt by the score of 23 to 17.

Anderson and Keeper High

N Anderson, Ventura center, led the scoring by flipping 5 field goals and 4 gift shots for a total of 14 points for his team. Keeper, Shamrock forward, hit a good stride by looping 4 field goals and gathering 5 free throws for a total of 13 points Smid at center and Kluckhohn at guard each counted up a field goal; while Ventura's forwards had 2 and 1 field goals. Anderson was the outstanding player of the game and was a clean, flashy man on receiving and passing. His guards played a good defense game and broke up Shamrock plays to hold the scoring down at that angle. Klemme forwards missed several "set-ups" that might have changed the score.

Reserve Game Ragged

The game between the reserves was anything but smooth. Brinkman at forward came thru with his usual sensational shots and found the loop five times from the field and gained 2 points on gift shots, for a total of 12 points which made him third high point man for the evening. Jost, regular reserve center was out of the game because of a bad cold. He has been playing a good game and usually is good for two or three field goals as well as being a good pass receiver. B. Anderson, Ventura forward showed up well with 3 field goals, while Lovick, center also found the loop for 3 field goals.

Sampson Grade Hot Shot

The Klemme grades again showed team work when they took the end of an 18-15 score from Britt grade team. The Britt boys were all big and rangy compared to Klemme's juniors; but what Klemme lacked in size they made up in keen team work, passes and speed on the floor. The Junior Shamrocks were strengthened by the addition of Sampson, rangy center, who hit the loop for 3 field goals. Sampson, Jorgenson, broke thru the Britt defense for 4 short field goals. Both teams played a smooth game. Britt led at the half 9 to 6, but Klemme whittled that lead down in a hurry in the second half and continued to hold their lead. The Juniors will play a return game at Britt, possibly this week end.

Clover Leaf Quartet Will Give Program

Wednesday, Feb. 15

At School Auditorium 8:00 P. M.

Because of the extremely cold weather the P. T. A. Program which was to have been held Tuesday night, has been postponed until next Wednesday evening.

Mr. Swift, who will be here, extends a special invitation to the farmers and their families. Mr. Swift gives an interesting talk on fur bearing animals. The Clover Leaf Quartet has entertainment for both old and young and you will enjoy their singing.

The whole entertainment is free to all. Bring your family—bring your friends!

SCHOOL NEWS OF THE PAST WEEK

The home declamatory contest was held last Thursday evening. The winners in oratorical were Mitchell Bock, first and LaVohn Larsen, second. Margaret Gates was awarded first in the dramatic group and Irene Harms, second; Nellie Stromer and Ruth Wellemeyer took first and second places in the humorous division. LaVohn, Irene and Ruth will go to Garner for the sub-county contest Wednesday of this week. Mitchell, Margaret and Nellie will compete in the first round of the state contest which is scheduled to take place at Klemme February 28.

Took Exams Here

A number of the pupils who were here taking the county examinations last week visited classes in the periods they did not have to write tests. About fourteen of them plan on entering Klemme High School next year. The following girls gave the tests under Mr. Hunter's supervision: Irma Schoenwetter, Norma Wille, LaVohn Larsen. Helen Albers Nellie Stromer, Fay Neuberger, Mildred Thieman and Ethel Swanson.

Grades 1 and 2

The first graders will complete thier primers this week.

Both grades enjoyed making valentine posters for our room. The second grade boys helped Miss Sanders with our Lincoln sand table project.

Luella Lewis, Betty Jean Etchen. Eugene Haberkamp. Betty Schuldt Phyllis Klotzbach and Eugene Johnson had 100 in spelling Friday.

Grades 3 and 4

The following had 100 in spelling last week: Garland Brinkman, Margaret Ralston, Merlin Buss, Charles Bock, Melvin Coobs, Magnus Schuldt. Homer Blickenderfer. Caroline Schwartz, Frederick Gobeli Shirley Johnson, Gertrude Grosshuesch, Allen Barz. Dorothy Griffen and Evelyn Lewis.

Last week the third and fourth grades received 11 new books from the State Travelling Library. They are delighted with the books.

The third grade has just finished the book "Eskimo Stories" as supplementary reading in Geography.

Grades 7 and 8

Avis Barz and Ruth Blickenderfer were absent Wednesday on account of illness.

Wayne Shoafstall was absent on Friday.

Our seventh and eighth grade team played the Britt grade team on the local floor last Friday defeating them 18-15.

The seventh and eighth grades are beginning a study of the lives of some famous musicians for our music eriod. We areu sing Victrola records to hel us recognize some of their compositions.

GERALD KOERNER IN HOSPITAL AT SIOUX CITY

Fell From Telephone Pole Near Laurens Last Thursday

Gerald Koerner, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Koerner of Klemme, is in a hospital at Sioux City where he has been since last Thursday.

Gerald, who is a telephone lineman, was working on a line near Laurens when the pole on which he was at work broke and he fell to the frozen ground, landing on both feet. The impact broke the bones in both his heels. He was taken to the hospital at Sioux City where he is under the care of a bone specialist.

Gerald has been working for the telephone company at Storm Lake for several years. His many Klemme friends hope that he will make a good recovery. His condition is such that he will be forced to remain at the hospital for several weeks.

Ground Hog Must Have Seen Shadow

Thursday. February 2nd, was ground hog day and it was a bright sunshiny day and if Mr. Ground Hog ventured forth he could not help but see his shadow. Whether or not that means six weeks of cold weather we will not argue but at any rate we have had several days of sub-zero weather. Twenty degrees below zero is not what we would call warm!

KEEP DUST OFF LAMP SHADES AND LIGHT BULBS

Dust May Absorb As Much As 50 Per Cent of Available Light

Dust on electric lamp shades and bulbs will absorb as much as 50 per cent of the available light and is one of the most common causes of eye strain.

Electric bulbs should not be put in water, but should be cleaned at least once a month by wiping with a damp cloth. Fixtures that are open at the bottom should be cleaned once a month and those that are inverted once every two weeks.

Fixtures should be cleaned with a damp cloth and wiped dry. Acid cleaners are likely to destroy the lacquer on the metal and cause rusting.

A very shy young man experienced considerable difficulty in summoning up enough courage to propose to the girl of his heart.

Oe day he took her for a walk in a cemetery and stood awkwardly before the family tomb.

At last he blurted, "Lizzie, d-darling, how would you like to sleep here some day?"

COUNTY SPELLING CONTEST ON SATURDAY, MARCH 25TH

Lions Club. of Garner, Offers $10 In Cash Prizes

The final County Spelling contest will be held in Garner Saturday March 25th, under the direction of County Superintendent. J. R. Baggs. Every pupil regularly enrolled in school who has not passed the 8th grade shall be eligible to enter this county wide contest.

Each of the 116 schools in Hancock County is entitled to enter one contestant. This includes Independent, Consolidated, Rural and Parochial Schools. The Lions Club of Garner is offering ten dollars in cash prizes to be awarded to the best spellers in the county contest. The winner will represent Hancock County in the Statewide Spelling Bee to be held at Des Moines, May 6th, 1933.

This state contest is sponsored by the Des Moines Register and Tribune which is offering some very worthwhile prizes to those who win high places in the state spelling contest. The prize for the state championship is a trip to Washington for the Iowa speller, accompanied by his or her teacher. with all expenses paid, and an opportunity there to compete for the national spelling championship.

The second prize will be $50; third $25; fourth $15; fifth $10; sixth to fifteenth inclusive, each $5. Prizes for school winners will be neatly printed certificates. The prize for each county champion will be distributed at the time of the state bee in Des Moines.

More definite information on rules and suggestions for spelling bees and also several lists of words selected for drill work may be had by making application to County Superintendent J. R. Baggs.

TRIO OF HOLDUP MEN ROBBED LOCAL BUSINESS MAN

Lee Ridder Relieved of $35 in Cash Last Wednesday Night

As L. H. Ridder, proprietor of the local pool room was getting ready to close his place of business last Wednesday night between 10:30 and 11:00 o'clock. a car drove up in front of the building and two men entered with guns in their hands demanding that he and Arley Blickenderfer, the only other man in the room, throw up their hands. A third member of the holl-up party remained outside. The two men, who appeared nervous, ransacked the cash register and took a small amount of change and then relieved Mr. Ridder and Mr. Blickendorfer of their pocket books. They then made their escape, driving around the block and then west out of town.

Ridder lost some over $35 in cash, some checks, a fishing and a drivers license and other personal papers. Blickenderfer had but some small change and a fishing license in his bill fold.

Ridder notified Sheriff Hanson at once of the theft and the sheriff and his deputies patrolled the high ways in an effort to apprehend the bandits, but were not successful.

Another angle to the case was learned. The same evening Walter Sharp, Belmond truck driver, was held up and robbed of $50 near the river six miles south of Belmond. His description of the bandits and car they drove, which was a gray machine. tallied with the description of the men who held up Ridder.

A Mr. Norris, of Belmond, found Mr. Ridder's bill-fold the next day a mile south of Garner. It had been stripped of cash, except a large, old one dollar bill which had been tucked down in a compartment not easily seen in a hurry. Ridder's fishing license and drivers license were also overlooked by the bandits.

Late reports are that some men are held in a Minnesota town and the description of them indicates they may be the same gang who held up the pool room here.

Other places of business in Klemme had closed but a short time before Ridder's place was robbed.

TWO RECOVER FROM FIBROUS EPIDERMAL MALADY THIS WEEK

At least two men have recovered from the epidemic here which had smitten a number of young men. The attack had taken a hold of a dozen or more young men. At first it was not noticeable. After several days. and in some cases weeks, a hairy growth would appear on the upper lip. After much treatment with hair tonic the fuzz on some cases would resemble a mustache in its infancy.

Frank Gibbs, postmaster, gave up the ghost after a vain attempt of a couple of weeks, when, what promised to become a mustache, took on a hideous red hue, very unbecoming to a postmaster.

And, just when Dave Schwichtenberg had all the boys in town green with envy, he visited the barber shop Saturday night and had his "forty-niner" chopped down. Dave had a real set of whiskers. Dave's crop would have done justice to the facial decoration of a Jewish rabbi.

And when we classify mustaches we got to hand it to Albert Carolus. He has a mustache that is a real beauty

Clair West has gone in for the "vagabond" variety and has a combination mustache and chin whisker decoration that has promises of equalling D. S.'s in the near future.

"Heiny" Suckow goes in for quantity and not quality by the appearance of his windbreaker.

"Jack" Wellemeyer's facial growth has reached the stage where icicles form on it on a frosty morning.

"Jim" Thomas, barber de luxe, has tried all the various tonics on the market to induce growth. He is going to try electric treatments!

Other lesser lights who are struggling along. or have given up all hopes of improving (?) their manly appearance include "Dutch" Turgasen, Roland Runge, Tudor Lemke, and possibly others whose mustaches have not yet come to the surface.

P. S. The sub-zero weather settled in Clair West's pedal extremities, resulting in cold feet. This must have thrown him out of balance as he also visited the barber de luxe and now his chin resembles a Mexican hairless pup!

THRUST And PARRY
By
Phil Osifer

....It may or may not be a good idea for me to change the title to a more or less sporadic and intermittent part-column, but the main reason is that the present title gives more room for comment. I don't have to call on the old imagination quite so heavily as formerly. Thus I am given more latitude and possibly a bit more longitude. Since my identity is now so firmly established, I need all the room I can get so as to be able to dodge when things get thick. I hope for the best but I am going to prepare for the worst.

—P. O.—

....Quite a number of my friends have asked me why I did not continue the old "I Imagine That". The reason is that an "uneducated specialist" has only a single track mind (Didn't you know that?) and finds it difficult to think of more than one thing at a time. Since it will be impossible for me to do any useful work now for quite a spell, I shall have plenty of time to gather up scandal, and what is worse. comment a bit thereon.

—P. O.—

. .I expect that by now it is thoroughly understood by quite a number of our county school teachers that it is not always safe to give checks to strangers unless said strangers can hand over the goods right now. I imagine that it does not feel so good to be holding paper on which payment has been stopped either. That is bad.

—P. O.—

...Every now and then our business places are bothered by spellbinders, promoters, mendicants, short change artists and other brands of small town parasites. They are rather cute, some of them. They proposition a business man and tell who and how many other business men are in on the scheme (they may not know a thing about it) and if the business man does not fall into line he is blackmailed to every other merchant by the promoter. (Sad but true it is, that a man will sometimes let an outsider berate his neighbor.) But do not forget; too often the promoter gets cash from the merchant to start his scheme. Then we have some second or third rate medicine show or something of a like nature for a few days. The proceeds from this also go into the pockets of the promoter. All in the name of "getting more business for our merchants" or "advertising Klemme".

I wonder if our town needs this brand of advertising. Will the good people of our community like us better because we sanction a two-for-a-nickle outfit coming in here, getting something for nothing and not even leaving a pleasant memory?

Please, O Lord, in Thy infinite goodness make it possible for us to have even a small, imperfect Commercial Club if it will keep things of this nature beyond the city limits.

If we really need this sort of thing. let's do it ourselves and save the cost of someone doing it for us —at a profit.

But we can't promote anything very well unless we have an organization of our home folks to make it go and watch over our pocket books, singly and collectively.

Shall we manage these things ourselves or shall we let someone else do it? Which, in your opinion is the best way?

So much for the promoters. I will deal with the rest of the infamous tribe some other time.

—P. O.—

....I wonder if all the maudlin sentimental plays we hear over the radio now days are due to the depression. Even Eddie Cantor is doing it.

—P. O.—

....Say, why does not the newspaper that Iowa depends upon tell us about some auction sales where good cows sell for forty dollars and more and horses for more than a hundred? Such things are really most common but it seems that they are not news.

—P. O.—

....If the Des M. Reg. wanted something unusual in the way of a news item, why didn't they print this one:

"A certain resident of the state of New York found a burgular burgling his home. He grabbed his gun and persuaded the burglar to pause a moment until the cops could leave their game of dominoes. The cops finally arrived and arrested the burgular for burgling. Then they arrested the householder. Our friend was hauled into court and fined twenty-five dollars for illegal possession of weapons."

Paste that one in your asbestos lined derby.

....Did you read in the Sunday Register what out fair Co-eds want in the line of husbands? Doesn't seem very startling on the face of it: but to what lengths a newspaper won't go in order to get something to print! How's that for a boomerang shot?

Anyhow I much prefer the adventures of good old Popeye.

—P. O.—

FURBEARERS— THE BEAVER

Natural History Series

With the discovery of several beaver colonies within the state recently by the State Fish and Game Department comes also the memory of these industrious animals as being one of the most sought for and considered plentiful furbearer. Beaver were to be found wherever water and food were together. Today they are few and the reporting of the discovery of a beaver colony within the state comes as an interesting bit of news. About one hundred years ago trapping of the beaver constituted one of the foremost occupations of the early settlers and one report on record shows that in 1825, James O. Pattie trapper on the San Francisco r in Arizona, caught 250 beaver two weeks. Prices paid for be pelts in those days were small steadily increased with the s

Regulation implies Protection

Nearly everyone will agree that there is a demand for additional regulation of public utilities. At a time when there is a strong opposition to any additional centralization of government and demands are being made for the elimination of government bureaus and commissions of all kinds, the inconsistency of the above proposal has apparently been overlooked. Regulation of essential industries is not an unmixed blessing. The right to regulate implies the duty to protect. Having regulated the railroads into their present predicament, it is now apparent that they must have help which of course means at public expense. Before extending too much additional regulation to the utility industry, it is well to remember that such a course may easily create a public liability. No business can lead the way to financial recovery if it is hampered by restrictive regulation. The utility industry is no exception.

with a fast growing pulp within these teeth so that should a tooth be broken off that it will grow back in a very short time. Next in importance to the four front teeth which are like self-sharpening chisels, come the two front paws. With these the beaver carries every stick stone and ball of mud which goes to make its home and dams. In the paws the beaver holds its food while eating, scratches its back and combs its hair and in every sense the paws are used as are the human hand. The wide flat tail is the most descriptive portion of the beaver's body but is only used for two purposes. that of swimming and signaling and nothing more as some would think. The ability with which the beaver can cut down a tree and fell that tree in such a way as to build a dam has earned him the honor of being one of the most energetic and wisest rodents of the family. The bark of the poplar or aspen tree is the beaver's favorite diet in Canada and in the summer many forms of vegetation, berries. pond lily roots and marsh grass are added.

The home of the beaver is called a lodge and is usually built in the bank. The lodge itself is reached thru a burrow. The lodge is covered with sticks and usually contains one chamber which is about two feet high and six feet across. From here the step to the island lodge is easy for the evergrowing dam downstream from the bank lodge will back the water around the beaver's home and it soon becomes an island in itself. Where necessary the mud and dirt from the land side of the lodge is removed to aid making the island.

Eskimo History

The Eskimos seldom are thought of today as a people who once dwelt in the interior, far from the sea. Yet that was their earlier history. They were, as archeological investigation seems to have established, part of the offshoot of the earlier migration from Asia; and they established themselves in the forests north of Lake Superior where they dwelt, apparently for a considerable period.

For some reason—whether because of pressure from more vigorous tribes to southward or because of an incurable nomadic instinct—the Eskimos began at last to push northward till they reached the verge of the Arctic. They spread over the coasts and the adjacent islands. Some of them filtered back over the straits into sub-Arctic Siberia. Others passed toward Greenland, where, nine centuries ago, they met the Norsemen.—Boston Post

In the Chinese cemetery at Panama, a strange building has been erected. Although modern in construction, it is designed after ancient Chinese architecture, preserving the oriental lines of decoration. The building contains 150 separate compartments for coffins. The Chinese who die in Panama are "buried" temporarily in this building. When all of the vaults are occupied a ship is chartered and the 150 coffins are shipped back to China. According to the religious belief of the Chinese, the soul will not gain immortality unless the body is buried in Chinese soil.

JESUS TEACHING BY PARABLES —FOUR KINDS OF HEARERS

LESSON TEXT—Mark 4:1-20.

GOLDEN TEXT—Herein is my Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit; so shall ye be my disciples. John 15:8.

PRIMARY TOPIC—A Story Jesus Told.

JUNIOR TOPIC—The Right Way to Hear.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How to Hear

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Fruitful Christian Living.

In order to understand why Christ at this time began teaching in parables, we must consider the nature of the hour in his ministry. Opposition to him was becoming more definite and hostile. The parabolic method was not employed by Jesus until the rulers had set their hearts against him. When in the light of his wonderful works they turned against him and attributed his works to the devil (Mark 3:22), he denounced them in scathing terms and began to teach in parables in fulfillment of Isaiah 6:10.

A great multitude gathered to hear him at the seaside (v. 1), so that in order to escape the pressure of the crowd he was obliged to enter a boat. From the boat as a pulpit, he taught many things in parables. In the parable now under consideration, the sower and the seed are the same in all instances, but the results are entirely different. The difference lies in the condition of the soil. The central purpose of the teaching of this parable is to show that the results of preaching the Word of God depend upon the condition of the human heart.

I. The Wayside (vv. 4:15).

The wayside means not the road but the tract between the fields beaten down by the hoofs of animals and the feet of men. Because the soil was unbroken and uncultivated the seed could not get underneath the surface. and therefore was devoured by the fowls that came along (v. 4). The great truth taught here is that the heart unbroken and hard is not fit soil for the gospel. Such a heart it penetrates not, but lies loosely upon its surface. The gospel is not given recognition by such hearts as God's means for restoring them unto himself. Because of this condition the evil one finds some way to snatch away the truth (v. 15).

II. The Stony Ground (vv. 5, 6, 16, 17).

This means not stones mixed with soil, but stones with a thin layer of soil on top of them. With such condition the seed springs up quickly and likewise scorches quickly because it has not depth of earth. The great lesson is that hearts superficially impressed receive the word with joy, but when affliction or persecution arises, for the word's sake immediately they are offended. They wither away and die.

III. The Thorny Ground (vv. 7, 18, 19).

In this case the ground is good but has thorns in it. It is mellow enough and has sufficient depth but has not been cleared of the thorns. Such really hear the Word, but "the cares of this world, and the deceitfulness of riches, and the lusts of other things entering in, choke the word, and it becometh unfruitful" (v. 19). The thorny ground hearers of this world are those,

1. Who are so immersed in worldliness, business and anxious cares that the good seed cannot come to fruitage.

2. Who are rich. Anxious care in business brings riches and the effect of riches is to blunt the spiritual perception of men and women, thereby rendering them unsusceptible to God's call to higher things in life.

3. Who are running after the pleasures of life. Many of the enjoyments of the world may be innocent in themselves but they attract so much attention and consume so much energy and time that Bible reading, meditation, and prayer are crowded out. All these things choke the Word.

IV. The Good Ground (vv. 8, 20).

This ground is different from all the rest. It is soft and mellow, and deep and moist. Therefore, it is capable of bringing forth fruit—some one hundred, some sixty, and some thirtyfold. This indicates that even the good ground, the honest hearers, gives forth different degrees of fruitfulness. In the measure that the heart is kept free from worldliness, riches, and pleasure, the good seed matures.

Continuing Love

One cannot think that any holy earthly love will cease, when we shall be like the angels of God in heaven. Love here must shadow our love there, deeper because spiritual.

Trust in God

God will not take away our immortality, because we have so little enjoyed the hope of it. Rest your head, childlike, on the one visible arm of the Paternal Deity, though you cannot see distinctly where the other and outstretched arm is pointing. That leads not wrong.—W. Smith.

The Sabbath

I feel as if God had, by giving the Sabbath, given fifty-two springs in every year.—S. T. Coleridge.

Gardens! NOW is the time to---

Note: This is the first of a series of weekly discussions of horticultural and gardening subjects by J. C. Schilletter of the Department of Horticulture, Iowa State College. These will deal with flowers and ornamental plants as well as vegetable gardening.

Trying to prune a lilac bush in mid-May is like trying to start a campfire with smoke in your eyes—you can't see what you're doing. The time to prune flowering shrubs is in the late winter and early spring—during the next two or three weeks.

There are three principal objects in pruning shrubs:

1. To train the plant to form its most attractive habit.
2. To promote and maintain the vigor of growth.
3. To remove dead, diseased and infested parts.

Some plants lack vigor when young or when first transplanted. A degree of cutting back will tend to make them more vigorous and compact. Some plants have a tendency to form too many shoots. Some thinning out of these shoots will tend to increase the vigor of those that are left.

Winter killing or other injuries may cause the death of some canes each year. Such branches should be removed. With the great majority of shrubs renewal pruning should be practiced to remove old stems that have outlived their usefulness. Many amateur gardeners shear the tops of the shrubs, cutting them back severely, but they never go to the base of the plant and remove the older wood. Result is a plant filled with old stems at the base and a shaggy ill-appearing top.

Adjoining shoots should not be cut at the same height. as the result is an unnatural and flat effect.

Young shrubs need little pruning of canes and shoots. and if the job is done moderately. there will be no necessity of severe pruning in later life.

Most shrubs produce flowers at laterally or terminally located buds of the wood of the previous season. Obviously the indiscriminate al of these buds will prevent ing. The natural habit of t is most graceful and att train the plant into fantas usually are not satisfactor

BRITT JUNIORS TROUNCE SHAMROCK MIDGETS 36-10

The Klemme grade team journeyed to Britt Friday night to play a curtain raiser for the Britt and Waldorf Junior College game.

The Britt Juniors, who were defeated on the Klemme floor a week ago came back strong and ran up a 14-2 score in the first quarter. The Klemme Midgets held a council of war and sized up the situation, putting up a stiffer defense for the remainder of the tilt. However, Townsend, rangy Britt forward, had too much height for the Klemme graders. Supt. Hunter shifted the line-up several times but none of the locals were tall enough to break up Britt plays through him.

All of the Klemme boys saw service, and although they lost the game, never-the-less, they displayed fine form on the floor against the rangy Britt team. Britt has a fine bunch of boys on their grade team this year with more than average size.

Waldorf Had Easy Time

Waldorf college easily took the main event by defeating Britt Junior college by a large score. Waldorf has a team that certainly can handle the ball with lightning speed on short passes. They effectively used a dribble play to the defense a quick pivot and a short pass to a man coming in, repeating the play until the ball was under the basket for a short tip-up shot. The game was clean and fast thruout.

BUSINESS MEN TRYING OUT NEW CHECK PLAN

Monday evening about thirty business men met at the office of the Northern Lumber company, being invited to discuss a scheme for circulating a number of checks in the community. Briefly, the plan outlined was: Eah man present would pay some small bill with a one dollar check. The check had ten lines ruled on the back for ten signatures. It would be passed around ten times before being presented at the bank for payment. The theory was that each one dollar check would do ten dollars worth of business in its rounds about the community.

Whether of not the plan has merits remains to be seen. At any rate it is being tried out. It may do a lot of good and it can do no harm.

If you should get one of these checks, sign it up, put it back into circulation again, until it has gone the rounds. The checks put out are as good as gold to anyone receiving them.

ANNUAL CREAMERY MEETING HELD SATURDAY

Old Officers Re-Elected; Vote Taken To Renew Charter Also

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the Klemme Creamery was held Saturday afternoon in the basement of the First National Bank All of the old officers and directors were re-elected for another year.

At this meeting the question of renewing the charter was taken up and met with favorable action. It being voted to renew the same. The report of the past year's business was read by the secretary which showed a nice increase in the amount of butter manufactured. A notable feature of the past year's manufacturing of butter showed that a larger amount had been made than in former years with the net cost per pound being much less. Last year 703,749 pounds of buter were made at an average cost of 2.9c per pound for manufacturing.

A study of the annual report that is published each year by the creamery will prove of interest. Turn to it now.

IRENE HARMS TO SPEAK IN COUNTY CONTEST

Junior Class Will Start Work On Class Play

Irene Harms, having placed second in the dramatic class of the subcounty contest last week, will speak in the county contest at Britt Wednesday evening. LaVohn Larson and Ruth Wellemeyer did very well with their selections at the contest at Garner last week. There were five speakers in each division, so there was a great deal of competition.

The Juniors will soon start work on their class play.

Grades 7 and 8

Glenn Lewis was absent from the seventh grade last week on account of thec old weather.

The people in the seventh and eighth grades exchanged valentines Tuesday afternoon.

The seventh and eighth grade basketball team was defeated at Britt Friday evening by the Britt grades.

Marian Waterman gave us some new mgazines for our reading table last week. We are always glad to obtain new reading material as ours is quite limited.

In fifth grade geography we have completed our text material on Europe. Now we are coloring pictures of boys and girls of the countries to learn how they dress. In addition we are learning their habits, customs and ways of living.

SOILS EXPERT TO SPEAK AT GARNER AND CORWITH

How a soil management campaign will maintain soil productivity so that the maximum profit may be made from the farm wil be discussed in a soil management meeting to be held at Garner high school, Thurday evening, February 23, according to S. J. Oberhauser, county agent.

This meeting will be held in connection with night school conducted by Prof Jay Vendelboe.

W. F. Watkins, soils man from the extension service at Iowa State College will describe the best crop rotaton and soils management program for this county. He will explain how farmers by devoting more of their land to legumes can build up the fertility of the soil so that it will, in time produce just as much grain as they now grow but on fewer acres and at a lower cost.

Land, according to Watkins, is a fixed investment of the farmer and it should be protected. Regardless of prices for farm products the farmer who makes most profit. or as many farmers now prefer to state, the one who loses the least is the one who produces most per acre at the lowest possible cost per bushel or ton. In order to secure low cost of production high productibility must be maintained. Whether fertilizer should be used may be figured out on the basis of the returns that can be expected from the expenditure for fertilizer. Crop rotation including a legume and a judicious use of manure and lime as needed will go a long way toward maintaining high soil fertility. These and other soils problems of Hancock co. farmers will be discussed at this soils meeting to which all farmers are invited.

Meetings will be held in different parts of the county during the week Mr. Watkins will speak at Corwith high school, Wednesday afternoon, February 22, at 1:30 o'clock.

VAGABONDS DEFEATED PAST ULEN FIVE MONDAY

Play Strong Hayfield Aggregation Next Week Monday

The fast Klemme Vagabonds defeated the Ulen Five of Mason City on the local floor Monday evening in a closely guarded game that went into the final period before either team was able to go on a scoring spree. The half ended 14 to 10 in the Vagabond's favor and immediately after the beginning of the third quarter the Ulen team tied the score and neither team was able to penetrate the defense of their opponents until the last few minutes of the period. The Vagabonds open the fourth quarter with five baskets in a row and from then on both sides scored freely. The Vagabonds winnng 42 to 30.

Emergency Debtors Relief Act Passed By General Assembly

ATTORNEY GENERAL ISSUES WARNING ON BANK RUMORS

To All County Attorneys and Sheriffs:

Information has come to this office that many false rumors are being circulated concerning the financial condition of solvent banking institutions in the state. In the majority of instances, these rumors are repeated by well-intentioned people thoughtlessly. Nevertheless, the affect of such rumors, whether malicious or otherwise, is to create more distrust and fear in the minds of the public toward the banks and all financial institutions. This condition of the public mind is a direct contributing factor to the continuance of the present depressed economic state. Every legitimate means should be employed to turn this psychological tide of sentiment in favor or economic recovery.

The public should be informed that the investigation and repetition of such rumors is not only bad economic psychology but also a violation of the law of this state. Section 9283-c4 of the 1931 Code of Iowa provides as follows, to wit:

"FALSE REPORTS AGAINST BANKS AND TRUST COMPANIES. Whoever maliciously or with intent to deceive makes, publishes, utters. repeats or circulates any false report concerning any bank or trust company which imputes, or tends to impute, insolvency or unsound financial conditions or financial embarrassment, or which may tend to cause or provoke or aid in causing or provoking a general withdrawal of deposits from such bank or trust company, or which may otherwise injure or tend to injure the business or good will of such bank or trust company shall be guilty of a felony a shall be fined not more than five thousand dollars, or imprisoned for more than five years in the penitentiary or be punished by both such fine and imprisonment."

All county attorneys and sheriffs throughout the state of Iowa are hereby requested to investigate any and all such rumors and to advise the people in their communities that this law must be observed. The public generally are hereby requested to furnish the county attorneys and sheriffs in their counties with information of any violation of this law.

Yours very truly,
EDWARD L. O'CONNOR
Attorney General

DEADLINE IS SET FOR 1932 LICENSE PLATES

State Department Will Pick Up All Users After. Feb. 20, Notice Reads

The deadline for the use of 1932 license plates in the state has been set for February 20, Saturday by Lew Wallace superintendent of the state motor vehicle bureau.

Iowa cars as well as cars bearing foreign licenses subject to reciprocal agreement between states will be picked up at that time under the direction of state forces.

Wallace said no effort had been made heretofore to outlaw old license plates because of the financial difficulties of people owning cars and the fact that many people hard pressed financially needed their cars for business purposes.

It now becomes necessary to place a limit on the use of old plates because the revenue is needed in the state.

It is also desired to clean up the licensing of automobiles as early as possible so tax collection work in the treasurer's offices will not become congested.

In many counties county officers have already attempted to speed up automobile licensing but the fixing of a definite date throughout the state means a general effort on the part of all authorities in the state.

BILL SIGNED BY GOV. HERRING ON FRIDAY

Debtor Has Ten Days To File His Application For Continuance passed by the 45th General Assembly.

The emergency debtors relief act bly, which was signed by Gov. Clyde L. Herring Friday, proposes to relieve the foreclosure situation in the state of Iowa. The provision. in this act, that farmers in Hancock County are most interested in, is the following·

". . . that in all causes now pending in which default has been entered but no decree signed, said owner or owners of said real estate or persons liable on said mortgages or deeds of trust or notes secured thereby shall have ten days from the taking effect of this act in which to file said application or continuance."

If there are any pepole in Hancock County who are faced with dispossession and can take advantage of the provisions of this act they should get in touch with the Agricultural Credit Council at the Farm Bureau office and the Clerk of Courts immediately.

HOME PROJECT LEADERS OF LIBERTY AND ELL MEET

The leaders, cooperators and news reporters of Liberty and Ell townships met at the home of Mrs. Oscar Greman February 10.

"The Step-Saving Kitchen" and "Finishes and Furnishings for the Kitchen" were the two lessons presented by Miss. Raake, H. D. A. Each lady present scored her own kitchen.

For Appreciation Study, two of Edward MacDowell's compositions were used "Of Br'er Rabbit" and "To A Humming Bird."

The song "Stars of the Summer Night" was used for the study of Serenades.

After playing the game "Soldiers Joy" each lady left for home eager to pass these lessons on to friends and neighbors.

Seventeen ladies were present.

REFORMED CHURCH INSTALLED NEW OFFICERS SUNDAY

The newly elected officers of the Reformed Church were ordained and installed Sunday at the morning service. Mr. Herman Priebe was installed as elder, and Mr. Edward Becker was installed as deacon.

LET'S SWAP

A few of our subscribers to the Klemme Times have suggested to the editor that they would like to swap something for their subscription.

In fact anything. Try us, we'll swap!

TAKING NO CHANCES

MacTavish had deposited his savings which amounted to $2.500 in a certain bank. A few weeks later he approached the cashier and demanded his money. He was asked if he didn't want to leave a small balance just to keep the account open.

"No," he persisted, "I want my money."

So the cashier counted out the $2.500 and handed the bundle of notes to him.

With great deliberation he counted the money and handed it back.

"That's O. K.," he said; "I only wanted to see if it was all there!"

COMPARES INFLATION SCHEMES

Sheperd Discusses Reduction of Gold in Dollar and Issuance of Paper Currency

The proposal to reduce the gold content of the dollar probably has more promise as a means of inflation than either currency or credit expansion, Geoffrey Shepherd, of the Agricultural Economics Department of Iowa State College said in a radio talk over station WOI Tuesday.

The talk was the seventh of a series being given by the Agricultural Economics Department on Iowa State College on the agricultural emergency in Iowa. A circular is printed in connection with each talk and will be sent free upon request by the Bulletin Office. Ames, Iowa. This one on inflation ws written by Mr. Sheperd and Wallace Wright.

The first effect of the announcement of reduction of the gold content of thed ollar would be a heavy withdrawal of gold for speculative purposes. The natural thing for people to do would be to draw out gold just before the gold content of the dollar was reduced and demand currency or credit for it after the reduction had been effected. If the gold content of the dollar were reduced one-third, this transaction would net people 50 per cent on their money. Accordingly, as soon as it looked as if the gold content of the dollar were going to be reduced the United States would have to go off the gold standard temporarily, to prevent heavy withdrawals of gold; it could return to the gold standard after the reduction had been accomplished.

The effect on prices of a reduction in the gold content of the dollar would be partly psychological or specuative. This psychology would be based chiefly on the feeling that in the long run the purchasing power of the dollar would decrease in line with the gold content and people would probably try to anticipate this long run effect by speculative buying. Some inflation of prices would probably result.

Reducing the gold content of the dollar can be considered as a temporary measure, however. The depression is world wide and was caused by conflicting national policies. Full recovery cannot be expected until these conflicting policies are brought into harmony.

The proposals for currency expansion call for the issue of one, two or three billion dollars of additional paper money or currency. These represent large amounts of currency—$3,000,000,000 being a 50 percent increase over the volume of currency in circulation today, $5,700,000.000.

This inrease of currency would, however, be but a small increase in the total amount of money in circulation. There is approximately $47,500,000,000 in circulation today. Of this. $41,800,000.000 is bank credit. Certain dangers are also connected with currency expansion; The additional paper money could not be adequately backed by gold. The United States would have to go off the gold standard and certain advantages of the gold standard such as the check to uncontrolled and extreme inflation, would be lost.

Credit extension has been tried by the Federal Reserve system and has not been successful. Discount rates have been lowered to the lowest point in history without effect in bringing about inflation.

JESUS TEACHING BY PARABLES—THE GROWTH OF THE KINGDOM

LESSON TEXT—Mark 4:21-34.
GOLDEN TEXT—They shall not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountain for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea. Isaiah 11:9
PRIMARY TOPIC — Sharing Our Stories for Jesus.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Into All the World.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Great Growth From Small Beginnings.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Spread of Christianity.

I. The Parable of the Candle (vv. 21-25).

The Word which is sown in the parable of the Sower (vv. 1-20) is not only to bear fruit, but to shine forth in testimony. This obligation is enforced by a solemn command and warning. "Take heed what ye hear" (v. 24) means that there should not only be attention to what is taught, but whole hearted reception of it.

II. The Parable of the Growing Grain (vv. 26-29).

This parable is peculiar to Mark. In the light of the purpose of Mark, it is clear why it should appear here. It is the parable for the servant. In the previous parables (vv. 24-25, cf. vv. 1-21), the responsibility of the hearer is set forth. The responsibility here is that which devolves upon the servant who proclaims the message.

1. The attitude of mind of the gospel preacher (vv. 26, 27). He should with the utmost fidelity "cast seed into the ground," preach the Word, and leave the results with God. The spiritual processes of God's Word in the soul of man are shrouded in the deepest mystery. The seed should "spring and grow up, he knoweth not how" (v. 27). When the sowing has been intelligently and faithfully done, the sower should not be burdened with anxiety. He can "sleep and rise night and day," confident that the Almighty will take care of the processes and results.

2. The processes of the spiritual life are gradual (v. 28). "First the blade, then the ear, after that the full corn in the ear." We should not expect maturity of Christian character at once any more than the farmer should expect the crops to mature at once. The farmer has a time of sowing, of growing, and of harvest.

3. The consummation of the spiritual processes (v. 29). Though the sowing of the seed be done under difficulties and the processes of development long drawn out, the harvest will surely come.

III. The Parable of the Mustard Seed (vv. 30-34).

In this parable the plant with its great branches, called a tree in Matthew 13:32, which springs out of the small seed, exhibits the Kingdom in its mystery form, Matthew 13:11. It shows the condition of things in the world in the interval between Christ's going away and his coming again. In this parable three things claim our attention.

1. The unimportant beginning (v. 31). It begins as the least of all seeds but grows to be the greatest among herbs. The parentage and humble circumstances of Jesus greatly perplexed the people. That twelve unlettered men, most of them fishermen, should be selected as his royal advisors was still more amazing. The prophet had said of him that he would be despised, rejected, forsaken, cut off, having nothing.

2. The vigorous growth (v. 82). From the very beginning of the movement inaugurated by Christ his influence has gone forth so that there is no power or influence today in the earth so great as that which calls itself Christian.

3. The lodging capacity. The birds which find lodgment in the branches do not represent, as is commonly interpreted, the children of men who find safety and salvation in the church, because church truth is not now under consideration. It is the mystery of the Kingdom which was proclaimed as at hand by John the Baptist. This Kingdom passed into abeyance when Jesus was crucified and it shall come into realization when Jesus comes back to earth again. The believer in Christ becomes a vital part of his body and even is necessary to its strength and fruitfulness. The bird in the branches is something foreign to and independent of the tree. The branches increase the growth of the tree but birds are injurious and burdensome to it. They are predatory—waiting to pluck off the tender buds or to prey upon the ripened fruit. The effect of such lodging is evil and blighting to the tree.

Love

Love is known by its gifts, not by its receipts. "God so loved the world, that he gave his only-begotten Son." God loved; he gave. If we love, we will give. Christ said, "If ye love me, keep my commandments." Then if we love him, we will demonstrate our love primarily by obeying him. And when we obey him, we will fully realize the meaning of giving because we will be anxious to tell others of Christ. Only by obedience and self-sacrifice can we walk in his steps.

Liberty Schedule

Sunday School at 10:15 A. M.
Morning Worship at 11:30 A. M

Let us plan to be present at the services of the church. God will meet you there and bless you with His presence. Let us each ask ourselves this question: "What kind of a church would my church be if every member was just like me.' Then try to make ourselves and our church just what we and our church ought to be. When we do this we will enjoy our religious life and count it a great privilege to serve God in our community.

Gardens! NOW is the time to---

The single stem, four cane, Kniffen system of training the young grapevine is the simplest and easiest to handle of any system.

Well grown, 1-year-old vines are planted about 10 feet apart in rows 8 feet apart. Immediately after planting all but one cane on every plant is cut off and 2 or 3 eyes are left on the single one.

The trellis will not be needed the first year, but should be constructed by the beginning of the second growing season as some of the vines may be ready for tieing down at that time The trellis should be made with strong end posts and set about three feet deep and securely braced The line posts may be smaller and should be about 20 feet apart. Two strands of number nine galvanized wire may be stretched 36 and 60 inches above the ground. The staples should not be driven completely "home" in the posts so that the wire can slip.

This trellis permits two vines between posts and every vine will be within five feet of a post.

Pruning should be done about this time of the year. If, at the end of the first year's growth, any vines are long enough to reach the top wire, they should be tied tightly to the wire, carried along the wire a short way, tied again and the remainder cut off. The straight stem should be tied loosely to the bottom wire. Other vines are cut off at the points of origin.

The second season lateral shoots will develop from the upright stem. Pruning the third season will consist of selecting four suitable laterals on this stem. Two are selected that arise just below the top wire and two that arise just below the bottom wire. These laterals are cut off so that each has five or six eyes, and they are tied to their respective wires. The finished job should look like two capitol "T's". The main stem is cut off at a height just above the two top laterals.

SHAMROCKS WHIP SWALEDALE TUESDAY EVE

The Shamrocks sank seven baskets from the field against two for the visitors. The entire Shamrock aggregation saw service.

The Shamrocks are showing good improvement in their work outs and as tournament time approaches they give promise of giving plenty of competition to any team they might happen to play. They have been strengthened by the return of Dorance Day, veteran guard to the lineup, he having been forced out of action by a recent operation. and Harold Jost Klemme junior showed up well in his recent games. This lanky youngster has a splendid eye for the basket and his unorthodox style of play make him a hard man to guard. Kluckhohn and Bridges regular guards have shown up well in competition all season and give any forward plenty of trouble. Smith and L. Drake have alternated at forward each playing a good floor game. Keeper, is the hot shot forward of the outfit and Percy Brown and Raymond Drake are the boys who have run many a star player's average into the cellar due to their close guarding and ability to steal to their opponents.

150 YOUNG PEOPLE ATTENDED KLEMME SESSION

Hancock, Winnebago Older Boys, Girls Hold Conference

An all day session of the third annual Winnebago and Hancock county Older Boys and Girls conference was held at Klemme Thursday in the Methodist church, concluding with a 7 o'clock banquet attended by 150 with Miss Marie Stille presiding.

The theme for the day was "I'm Walking in the Upper Road". The first talk on the program was by State Worker O. G. Herbrecht. Des Moines. His subject was "A Christian Standard for Young People."

Miss Mildred Scobee of Britt was elected president for next year, Robert Lawhorn, Garner, vice-president and Mr. Ziele, Goodell. secretary

The forenoon and afternoon were given over to the various classes, meetings and discussions and the evening after the banquet was spent in a social way with talks by the various members and musical numbers.

FOLLOWUP MEETING HELD IN LIBERTY TOWNSHIP

The followup meeting for districts 6 and 7 of Liberty twp. was held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Paul Stromer. Ten ladies were in attendance. The lessons "Step-Saving Kitchens" and "Finishes Furnishings for Kitchens" were given in an interesting manner by Mrs. Victor Hueneman, cooperator for dist. 6. Kitchen score cards were passed out and each lady was asked to score her own kitchen before the next meeting. The serenade "Stars of the Summer Night" was studied and sung by the group.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting. The next training school will be held with Mrs Aaron Stromer on March 23rd and the follow-up meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Wesley Lenz on March 29th.

MANY VARIATIONS FOR BREAD

Serving In Different Forms Whets Family Appetite

The staff of life may become a monotonous support to existence unless the culinary artist varies its form occasionally and makes the eating of bread a pleasure instead of a necessity.

Cereal foods, particularly wheat bread, can be prepared in many different ways attractive to the family appetite and at the same time retaining the qualities that give it the name, staff of life,

Whole wheat flour is particularly valuable for use in many kinds of bread because it contains vitamin B, iron and phosphorous, which increase the protective constituents of the diet.

Cheese biscuits are a pleasant chnage in the diet and are easily prepared. Grated cheese is used in place of some of the fat in the dough of ordinary biscuits. Tasty biscuits may be made in the same way by substituting peanut butter for the cheese.

Standard recipes for biscuits and muffins may be varied in many different ways by use of dates, raisins. nuts and other fruits. A sweet biscuit is often useful for tea or lunch. Pinwheel biscuits are made by spreading ordinary biscuit dough on the board, sprinkling it with cinnamon and sugar and rolling it up. These biscuits are then baked in slices like cinnamon rolls.

Mrs. Lubbe Albers has been ill lately, suffering with an eye trouble which requires frequent treatment by a specialist. Her many friends hope for a speedy recovery.

KLEMME MEN PLACE SECOND AND THIRD IN STATE CONTEST

Will Be Awarded Medals For Their Shoying In State Competition

B Scholten of Hull received the high score of 95 at the scoring contest held at Ames at the thirty-ninth annual dairy short course and second place went to George H. Carolus of Klemme with a score of 94 3-4. Paul Mueller of Klemme received 94½ as the score for 3rd place. Sixty five tubs were entered.

Mr. and Mrs. Carolus drove to Ames Friday to take in the convention and to attend the annual banquet given in the evening at Memorial Hall, which was attended by over three hundred.

Special exhibits and dairying tests were special features of the meeting this year.

The Klemme men will receive special medals for the fine showing they made. Mr. Carolus and Mr. Mueller are to be congratulated for their winnings where competition was so keen. They have perhaps established another record by bringing two major medals home to one creamery.

P. H. M.' S MET WITH BERNICE WEAVER

The regular meeting of the Progressive Home Makers of Ell township was held last Saturday at the home of Miss Bernice Weaver.

Seven members answered roll call. The girls creed was repeated by the members and a number of club songs were sung.

After the business meeting Norma Wille gave a talk on "Indian Mosic followed by an interesting discussion on "Care of the Fingernails" by Marjorie Stewart. Ruby Wille gave some helpful suggestions on "Equipment for Better Sewing". Seams on 4-H uniforms were demonstrated by Winnifred Hampel.

We had the pleasure of having Miss Raake with us. She discussed the new 1933 music. Under the direction of our leader we started our sewing project. A number of folk dances were tried by the members.

After adjournment delicious refreshments were served by the hostess and her mother. The next meeting is to be held March 11th at the home of Miss Nellie Stromer.

Bill had a bill board. Bill also had a board bill. The board bill had bothered Bill so much that Bill sold his bill board to pay his board bill. So then, after Bill had sold his bill board to pay his board bill, Bill's board bill no longer bored Bill.—Livermore Gazette.

Garner Youth, Shot By Sheriff After Robbery, Dies Of Wound

FIVE SOUGHT IN RAID ON FARM OF 72 YEAR OLD MAN

Benson Says Hot Poker Was Held To Body By Bandits

HAYFIELD,— Hancock county authorities pressed the search for five men who tortured Sam E. Benson, 72, and robbed him of several hundred dollars Saturday. The aged man revealed how the bandits removed most of his clothes, burned him in many places with a hot poker and beat him severely.

The old man did not state exactly how much was taken from him but he lost more than $700.

Clews Are Meager

The money was taken from the person of Mr. Benson and from hiding places about his premises. Officers have but meager clews to work on. Mr. Benson stated five men drove into his yard and began talking about a land deal. He considered, then one of them suddenly pulled gun and the torture began to force him to disclose the hiding place of large snms of money they believed he had on the premises.

Sheriff E. P. Hanson of Garner and Codnty Attorney L. C. Beaumont of Britt were notified at once and are tracing out the meager clews they have.

HANSEN-SCHAEFER

Robert Hansen, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Hansen. prominent farmers of this community and Miss Doris Schaefer, daughter of C. C. Schaefer of Marble Rock, were united in marriage February 8, at the home of the bride's father. The Rev. Leslie Farris, pastor of the Marble Rock church, officiated.

The bridal couple was attended by Miss Hilda Schaefer, sister of the bride and Russell Hansen, brother of the groom. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Cecil Swant. Immediately following the ceremony a bounteous dinner was served the guests.

Mrs. Hansen is a graduate of the Marble Rock High School with the class of 1927. Since that times she has been a resident of Liberty township. Mr. Hansen has been farming with his father, northeast of Kanawha. They will make their home on the Harry Trumbell farm, a mile east and a mile south of Klemme —Kanawha Reporter.

RUBY MILLER BECOMES BRIDE OF WILLIAM H. KURTZ

Wedding Held At High Noon At M. E. Parsonage Tuesday

Tuesday at high noon occurred the wedding of Miss Ruby M. Miller and Mr. William H. Kurtz. Miss Miller is the granddaughter of Hans Hanson and Mr. Kurtz the son of Mrs. James Kurtz. The bridesmaid, was Miss Florence Hanson and the best man. Forrest Hanson, cousins of the bride. The bride was attired in a very pretty gown. a little lighter than Alice Blue while the groom wore the conventional black. The bridesmaid's dress was a light shade of burnt orange while the best man wore a dark suit. The ring ceremony was used. After the wedding ceremony the bridal party left immediately for the Hans Hanson home where a lovely wedding dinner was served.

The bride attended and was graduate from the Klemme schools. Mr. Kurtz has spent most of his life on the farm. They have already moved to the Hans Hanson farm east of Klemme where they will mke their future home. Both are fine young people. of good families and highly respected. They have a host of friends who wish them nothing but happiness all through life.

Loretta Kahler, who had been staying at Mrs. Stooldryers and attending school in Klemme is now staying at the George Caroles home.

BOY SHOT IN ESCAPE EFFORT AFTER ROBBING DRUG STORE

Succumbs At Mason City Hospital; Bullet Pierced Neck

GARNER.—A wound received by Gary Byrnes, 22, when he was shot by Sheriff E. P. Hanson in attempting to escape from a local drug store after robbing it, resulted in the youth's death at Mercy hospital, Mason City, at 7:30 o'clock Monday morning. The bullet entered the boy's neck near his jugular vein and his neck was badly swollen.

The youth, a member of a prominent local family, was taken to the hospital following the shooting, which occurred about 2:30 o'clock Sunday morning.

Officers Enter Store

Marshall Daniels, assistant night Marshall, while passing the F. W. Zeiger drug store at 2 o'clock Sunday morning heard the cash register near the soda fountain ring. The register is not far from the main entrance. Going to the back of the store he noticed the grating had been removed from the northeast basement window. He informed Marshall Clark. who called Sheriff Hanson and Mr. Zeiger.

Clark and Zeiger entered the front door, Daniels was at the side of the building and Sheriff Hanson at the rear. Byrnes remained in the basement and a half hour after the officials arrived attempted to escape through the same window which he entered.

$8 Reported Missing

Several packages of cigarettes and a box of cigars were found in his overcoat. On checking over the loss in the store it was found that about $8 had been taken from the cash register.

Sheriff Hanson said that when Byrnes raised his hand up through the window, he supposed the robber was armed and said the shooting was unavoidable.

Father Produce Manager

Byrnes is the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Byrnes, who reside in the Harvey Sweigard house in the west part of town. His father is manager of the Swift Produce station next door east of the Zeiger store. The family moved here from Charles City about two years ago. Officers said they learned Byrnes was a quiet and unassuming youth. He had been out of work for a year.

ONLY "ACTING" PRESIDENT

Check, double check and triple check! The new 20th amendment to the Constitution says that Congress may provide who is to "act as president" in cases where there is no qualified president.

But, note carefully that the official so chosen is merely to "ACT" as president until a new president is elected. A president still has to be "elected," according to the Constitution and laws and since a cabinet officer is not "elected" but is merely nominated by the president and confirmed by the senate he cannot be the real president, unless and until he is so "elected."

The new amendment still leaves the nation dangerously up in the air over the question of who is to determine when a president is no longer qualified to carry on the duties of the office .This issue arose when President Wilson was in a very doubtful state of health. Congress at that time showed some desire to look into the matter. It has also been suggested that the Supreme Court would be the final arbiter. But this is all guesswork. It should have been provided for in the 20th amendment, while they were at it.

THE RACCOON

Natural History Series

This animal is common in Iowa and in season provides some excellent sport for hunters and their dogs In general the raccoon or "coon" is of a dull, brownish gray, becoming yellower on tho back, strongly yellow on the nape and tail and pale gray on the belly and feet. On the cheek is a black patch that extends across the animals face giving the impression of a mask. Average weight of these animals is approximately 18 pounds although many have been captured weighing 30 or more pounds.

"Coons" are animals of the woodland edges and habitually frequent grounds where running water is available. They build their homes preferably in hollow trees, but occasionally may be found in rocky crannies and even in bank burrows. Tracks of the raccoon curiously resemble those that might be made by the hands of a very small child In food habits, the raccoon bars practically nothing on the menu. Frogs, fish, flesh, fowl, eggs, reptiles, insects, shell-fish, fruit, nuts grain vegetables and sweets are acceptable fare with him; not equally so, but welcome at all times If near water, the raccoon washes his food carefully before eating it.

Raccoons are considered among the more intelligent of the wild animals They have an insatiable curiosity in their surroundings and often display unusual interest in bright objects of any kind, such as pieces of tin or metal. They are among the more courageous in the animal kingdom and often give a good account of themselves when attacked by dogs.

One of the marked health-bestowing habits of the "coon" is his sun bath. When the weather is bright warm the coon and his entire family if they are large enough, climbs from his home in a hollow tree and the group distributes itself in the highest perches. Here they sprawl, basking in the warm sunlight and warm their fat bodies.

Fur is the animals chief contribution to human comfort. Raccoon pelts are the most popular furs in manufacture of coats and robes. Abundance of the animal keeps the price low, so it has become a type of fur familiar to the general public.

JESUS SHOWS HIS POWER

LESSON TEXT—Mark 4:35-5:20.

GOLDEN TEXT—For the which cause I also suffer these things nevertheless I am not ashamed: for I know whom I have believed, and am persuaded that he is able to keep that which I have committed unto him against that day. II Timothy 1:12.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Stilling a Storm.

JUNIOR TOPIC—With Jesus on a Stormy Night.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Power of Jesus to Help.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Power of Jesus in the World Today

I. Jesus Calms the Storm (4:35-41).

1. Crossing the sea (vv. 35, 36). Weary with the teaching of the day, Jesus proposed that they take a ship to the other side of the sea, doubtless to escape the crush of the multitude.

2. Overtaken by a storm (v. 37). Violent storms are of frequent occurrence on the Sea of Galilee. Even though Jesus was in the boat with the disciples they were overtaken by a storm. It is not God's will that we should escape the storms, but those who have Christ in their boat are safe in any storm.

3. Jesus asleep in the storm-tossed boat (v. 38).) In the midst of the turbulent elements he was resting in sleep. He who made the sea could well lie down and sleep, though the storm violently raged. The believer who has committed his life, his time and eternity to the will of God should be able to be at peace in the midst of all disturbances.

4. The terrified disciples (v. 38). In their minds disaster and death awaited them. They were not only terrified but chided Jesus for sleeping while all were in such great danger.

5. Christ's rebuke (vv. 39, 40).

a. To the wind (v. 39). The ceasing of the wind demonstrated his power over the elements of nature.

b. The disciples (v. 40). He rebuked them for their lack of faith.

6. The effect upon the disciples (v. 41). A little while ago they were afraid in the face of the storm; now they are afraid in the presence of the Lord.

II. Jesus Heals the Gadarene Demoniac (5:1-20).

Having calmed the storm-tossed sea, he now proceeds to calm the storm-tossed soul.

1. Met by a demon-possessed man (vv 2-5). This man was in a desperate condition. He was so fierce that travelers could not safely pass that way. He wore no clothes (Luke 8:27). No chains were strong enough to hold him and no one was able to tame him. In the night time his hideous cries could be heard while he vented his rage by cutting himself with stones. Demon possession is common today. As the coming of the Lord draweth nigh these things will increase (I Tim. 4:1).

2. What the demon knew about Christ (vv. 5-9). He knew that Christ was the Son of God and that he had come to destroy the devil and his works. Among the demons there is no doubt as to Christ's deity and the coming judgment, facts which many theologians and preachers say they do not believe.

3. Christ's power to deliver from the devil (vv. 10-13). He cast out the demon from the man (v. 8). The demons quailed before Christ, not daring to dispute his power, and begged to be permitted to enter the swine. As soon as the Lord gave them permission, they entered the swine and hurled them to destruction. In this destruction of the swine is a rebuke to the Jews for indulging in a forbidden traffic.

4. The effect upon the people of the city (vv. 14-17). The keepers of the swine fled to the city and reported what had occurred. This miracle brought the people out, but when they realized their hogs had been destroyed they besought Christ to leave their coasts. This is indeed a sad picture.

5. The man who was healed was sent home to testify (vv. 18-20). No doubt it would have been safe and pleasant to abide with Jesus, but the man's friends needed his testimony. The best witness for Christ is one who has been saved by him. The best place to begin that testimony is at home where one is best known.

GEMS OF THOUGHT

One man's bit is as necessary as another's.

If one part sickens or fails the whole body suffers.

We are all parts of the same body, like hands and feet.

Some persons of fluent speech have a serious impediment in their thoughts.

Gold adulterates one thing only—the human heart.—Marguerite de Valois.

The trouble with easy-going people is that they make it hard-going for others.

They are the weakest-minded and the hardest hearted men that most love change.—Ruskin.

Fault-finding should be regarded as a fine art. For it is the necessary aid of every other art.

The reason why fault-finding is in such bad repute is because it is usually destructive rather than constructive.

FREE ELECTRICITY

Private utilities could also give grandstan gifts of free current to their customers they were tax-free like municipal plants. remitting a month's bill is a gift, then pay ing taxes should also be considered a gener ous act.

Instead of patting themselves on the bac for their generosity to themselves, thes towns who have enjoyed free current shoul publish a testimonial of appreciation to th vast majority of overburdened taxpayers o Iowa, who by paying a double share hav made it possible for them to get their elec tricity for nothing.

There is approximately $52,000,000 worth of municipal utility property in Iowa which is escaping its share of the tax burden.

EVEN PREACHERS GET RUSHED

Some folks regard the life of a minister as being one of ease. As a good example of the opposite of this view we cite Rev. Grosshuesch's experience last Sunday. As Rev. Schmidt of the Elltown Reformed Church was ill our Klemme pastor volunteered his services. Rev. Grosshuesch accordingly preached a sermon at Garner, come back to preach another sermon at Elltown Reformed church; got back to Klemme for his regular Sunday service and was all ready to accept an invitation out to dinner at twelve thirty.

Miss Florence Wilson, Klemme teacher took charge of Rev. Grosshuesch's adult Bible Class during the Sunday school hour.

THRUST And PARRY By Phil Osifer

—After a long interval your old friend P. O. is back again under a new title that gives more room for comment and is not so hard on the imagination.

—P. O.—

—Well, we have had our first holdup in the accepted sense of the word Let's hope it is the last for a long time.

To me it does not seem reasonable to think that accessible artillery would be a deterent to future crimes. The bold, bad men would only take the guns too. We can only keep less cash in the till. Maybe three cents.

—P. O.—

—Queer, isn't it, that the winner of the S. U. I. beauty contest did not have her picture with the rest of the girls in the Sunday Register. I never did care much for that paper. Anyway, it would only take 200 minutes to go see about this.

—P. O.—

—Eternal triangles have a way of forming and disintegrating. Sad it is that the dscovered parties came back to town over a round-about way so that the self appointed sleuth missed a chance to point them out.

—P. O.—

—And then there is the high school senior who faithfully patrols the streets after school looking for stray chorines to take home in his dad's car. So that is the reason all the boys want closed cars! Hot Dog! If they ride with him free, they would surely pay to ride with me. I believe I will hang a "Taxi" sign on the old buss. I need the money.

—P. O.—

—Maybe, considering all the noise we hear now and then about further curtailment of our school funds ,etc. it would be a good thing to change our marriage license laws. Make it five years instead of five days .

—P. O.—

—Did you ever stop to think how nice it is now for the man who has horses to sell?

—P. O.—

—Now I am not subsidized by any seed company and I do not know a thing about farming, but from what I hear an open winter is not especially conducive to the preservation of certain forage crops. Maybe it would be well to remember a year or so back to the time when feed was scarce and order seed accordingly.

—P. O.—

—I am not going to any neighboring town to buy anything if I can get the same thing here even if it does cost a few cents more. Neither will I order it from a mail order company.

—P. O.—

—It has been aptly stated that "wooden legs are not inherited, but wooden heads are.

—P. O.—

—Here is what you can do to make this column a bit more interesting. If you hear, see, feel, taste or smell anything around the good old town that seems a bit unusual. tell me and I will listen. If I think I can use your idea with out getting too badly hurt I'll do it. If I can't, I'll tell you why. Write to Phil Osifer, c-o The Times and Sign Your Name. However no names will be published

—P. O.—

—If I can fill my wheelbarrow full of rubbish I'll be seeing you next week.

—P. O.—

—I have just scrapped a long discourse that would tax your patience to read, so I am boiling it down for your approval.

Our present economic misfortune is due largely to an economic upheaval that few of us readily understand, but we must also blame misgovernment for a goodly share of our trouble. By misgovernment, I mean the wanton and absolute wasting of our tax money. This wasting is being done by the same men that WE sent to the seat of government for quite another purpose. They are there beacse we were too ignorant to send better men.

The enemy of ignorance is education. The place where most education starts (and a lot of it stops) is in our public schools.

If you stop long enough to listen you will hear the same man who wants to cut teachers salaries etc. wail long and loudly at the way he is called upon on lay out money in taxes for other things, also you will hear him say that the good old U. S. A. is about to be carved up into chunks and heaved a piece at a time to the eternal canines. And this, he will declare is being done by those in office.

—P. O.—

—It is thought that a young man starting up in business should compete with the dairy industry rather than with the restaurant business.

—P. O.—

—From all the hooey I see in the papers it looks like the various editors and press agents are trying to make us Roosevelt-minded. That is allright. They tried to 'humanize' Hoover, too. Remember? I remember that it didn't do any good. It seems to me that there would be a lot of typewriter ribbon and printe ink saved if they would all wait and see just what our staunch friend F. Delano is going to do, how he is going to do it and how much good his efforts do us. Then MAYBE some of us will be interested in reading about his sail boat rides and his early college life and his fishing excursions etc. Ad infinitum, ad nauseam!

—By this time we should know if our "play money" has done any good or not. At least it has not done any harm. It seems to me that the fellow who don't intend to pay his bills will not take the checks (if he has anything coming) and the fellow who does pay will anyway.

—P. O.—

—It is a lucky thing that Roosevelt had a crazy alien rather than a member of our local gun club shooting at him the other day down at Miami. I have discovered club members with acute attacks of various kinds of insanity, but these attacks are of short duration and usually sieze the individual immediately upon his perusal of a badly shotup target. This is not supposed to be dangerous to innocent bystanders.

—P. O.—

Gardens! NOW is the time to---

Grape vines should be pruned be- the sap starts flowing in the spring, after danger from winter in- is over.

In pruning, the gardener must keep in mind that the fruit is produced near the base of the shoots which grow from the one year old canes. Therefore, in pruning these canes are saved for the next season's fruit

Making the first cut is often a problem --especially if the vine has not been pruned regularly in the past Look the plant over carefully observing the number and location of one year old canes. Canes selected for the season's fruiting should be as close to the main trunk as possible. If they are found farther out select thec losest ones and by a gradual yearly pruning the canes may eventually be brought closely to the trunk.

The best type of cane is about the size of an ordinary lead pencil. The average grapevine can support 35 to 40 buds. This necessitates leaving four or five canes. The number of buds left on each cane depends on the strength of the vine and of the individual cane.

After selecting four or five canes trace the growth back to the trunk cutting off all the old wood possible. If there are two or more trunks, notice whether the canes all come from one trunk or not. If they do cut out the other trunks. If not save those trunks that are necessary for the fruiting canes.

It is desirable to have only one trunk but it may take two or three years to gain this result if the vine has not been well cared for. In some cases it may be necessary to train a new trunk. Select one of the strongest shoots around the old trunk and cut it back to about 30 inches. The next year it may be carried higher. As it increases in vigor it may carry part of the crop and after two or three years the old vine may be cut out.

VAGABONDS DEFEATED FAST HAYFIELD INDIES MONDAY

Reserves Trimmed Shamrocks In Second Half Rally

The fast Klemme Vagabonds defeated the Hayfield Independents on the local floor Monday evening 42 to 34.. The Klemme team took an early lead which they held thru the game. Gibbs was high for the evening with eight field goals to his credit. W. Lemke chalked up 5 goals and 2 gift shots and C. Lemke was good for 4 baskets. Tanner came thru with 3 field goals to complete the Klemme scoring. Hickok was high for Hayfield with 4 field goals and 2 free throws. Paulson and Geddes were each good for 4 goals and Malek sank 2 from the field while Blank and Lackore each found the hoop once.

Reserves Trim Shamrocks

In a preliminary game the Vagabond Reserves defeated the High School Shamrocks 27 to 11. The score at the half was tied 7-7, but the Reserves piled up 15 counters in the last half while holding the high school to four points. Keraus was high for the reserves with 4 field goals and 1 gift shot while Sampson took second place with 3 goals and a gift shot. West was good for 2 field goals and Stokesbary annexed 2 gift shots.

Kluckhohn ws high for the Shamrocks with 2 field goals. L. Drake sank 1 goal and a gift shot during the tme he played. Bridges sank 1 field goal and Smid and Jost each had a gift shot to their credit.

Grades Defeat Kanawha

In the first game of the evening the Klemme grades defeated the Kanawha grades 8 to 7 in a fast hard fought game. The Klemme Juniors looked rather ragged at times but they came thru in the final minutes of play with the winning points.

The Vagabonds were entered in the North Iowa Independent tournament and played their first game at the Y. M. C. A. Firday night, and lost to the Fertile Indians 30 to 19.

AGRI. OUTLOOK CONFERENCE AT GARNER, FEB. 28

The annual outlook meeting will be held in Garner at the Opera house on Tuesday, February 28th at 10:00 o'clock.

SHOWER HELD MISS RUBY MILLER SATURDAY

Miss Florence Hanson, cousin of Miss Ruby Miller invited about forty relatives and friends to a miscellaneous shower which was held at the home of Hans Hanson Saturday afternoon. After the guests arrived and some time spent in visiting, a mock wedding was held. Mrs. Hugh Strain acted as preacher; Miss Irene Bridges, the groom; Ethel Pringnitz, the bride; Mrs. Howard Welker, the bridesmaid; Elsina Albers, best man and little Ardella Nelson was the ring bearer with Ethel Schoenwetter at the piano.

Following the mock wedding the bride was requested to go to each room and hunt for the hidden packages. Before opening them she was requested to tell what use she would make of the article found. In some instances it was quite funny. She received many beautiful and seful gifts

A delicious lunch consisting of sandwiches, pickles, coffee home made ice cream and cake was served. The guests departed wishing Miss Ruby much happiness and a long and happy wedded life.

BEAUTY THAT WON'T WASH AWAY

Walls painted with LOWE BROTHERS MELLO-GLOSS can be cleaned easily and repeatedly without harming the finish in any way. That's one of the reasons why this semi-gloss wall finish is so popular with home owners. MELLO-GLOSS can be used in one color or in producing many beautiful multi-color effects, such as Sponge Imprinting, Scumbling and Tiffany—any one of which adds charm to the home. Come in and let us show you the many beautiful colors obtainable. We will also give you LOWE BROTHERS book on Home Decoration.

SOME SURE SIGNS THAT SPRING IS REALLY HERE

Although North Iowa may see some cold snaps now and then, however spring cannot be far away according to the signs of nature the past few days.

Last Wednesday bees came out of their hives in several places around Klemme. Last Thursday afternoon flies were buzzing about on the south side of the store fronts.

Dutch Turgasen reports seeing a robin last week and watched the bird for at least ten minutes.

Sunday Fred J. Arnold found pussy willows which were partly blossomed out and also observed a flock of ducks winging their way north.

Saturday we saw a boy flying a kite—one of the surest signs of spring that we know of.

SCHOOL NEWS OF THE PAST WEEK

DATES ARE SET FOR ANNUAL DISTRICT MUSIC CONTEST

Six Week Tests Due Again This Week End

A letter has been received concerning the date and location of the sub-district music contest for this year. This contest will be held at Britt March 24 and 25. This is much earlier than the contest took place last year and it will mean much hard work for the contestants and directors in the next few weeks. We are confident, however, that our glee club and orchestra will make a splendid showing again as they did last year.

Another six weeks has gone by and tests are upon us again. The school year is passing rapidly and we have very full schedules both for classroom and extra-curricular activities for the remaining time. After the operetta and music contests will come Junior and Senior Class plays and, of course, the usual spring athletics.

We are hoping to see a crowd at the declamatory contest Wednesday evening. This is the preliminary contest of the state series and the speakers are those who took first place in their respective classes in their local contests.i

Kenneth Griffen is no longer attending our high school as the family has moved to Garner.

Grades 7 and 8

Juanita Pavey is back in school after a week's illness.

We re sorry to lose Glenn Lewis from the seventh grade as he is moving to the country.

The Seventh Grade Reading Club held their February meeting Friday Wayne Shoafstall was elected president and Elaine Buntenbach, secretary for March.

Grades 5 and 6

Maxine Shoafstall and Marian Waterman and Marvin Lemke were absent from grade five on Monday.

Marvin Lemke and Edith Bachman were absent on Tuesday.

Elnor Schuldt was absent Wednesday.

Grade five colored outline maps of Europe in Geography on Wednesday and made Jig-Saw puzzles. Now some of them are having quite a time putting them together.

Grades 3 and 4

We re sorry to have two of our school mates leave. Dorothy Griffen has moved to Garner and Evelyn Lewis will attend country school. Both of these girls have been good students and we all hope they will do as well as they have here.

The project this month has been "Famous Men". Booklets about their lives have been made. This week the children are memorizing Longfellow's poem "The Childrens Hour."

Grades 1and 2

Billy Grosshuesch, Betty Jean Etchen, Eugene Haberkamp. Phyllis Klotzback, Paul Ralston, Betty Schuldt, Eugene Johnson Colleen Gram and Harlan Buss had 90 or above in spelling for the week.

The first grade have been reading the story about the doll house in their readers so they are going to build one this week.

In language class. February 22nd we listened to stories about George Washington and then illustrated them in handwork time.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASSES HAD BIG DINNER SUNDAY

Sunday at the church about one hundred and twenty-five had dinner with the Loyal Workers and Good Fellowship Sunday School classes in the church parlors. There was a fine variety of foodstuffs on the tables and everyone enjoyed a good dinner. E. J. Arnold presided and presented the following program: songs by the audience; several solo selections by little Mildred Busse; Duet by Evelyn and Bruce Ornold; solo by Elmer Ax; Reading by LaVonne Larsen; short talk by Rev. Ralston who introduced the principal speaker of the afternoon, Rev. Hoon of Garner, who gave a splendid address, dealing with the subject of "Why we should be appreciative of the fact that we are alive in this age." It was very interesting thruout and intermingled with several stories. We thank Rev. Hoon for his fine thoughts and hope he can be with us again.

The program closed with a duet sung by Henry and Ralph Ludeke. The program and dinner being given in honor of Henry Ludeke and family and Henry Griffen and family who are moving away and leaving the Sunday school classes. but the best wishes of the classes go with them to their new homes.

WELLEMEYER'S FURNITURE AUCTION BIG SUCCESS

Large Crowd At Closing Sale To See Baby Given Away

Wellemeyer's auction sale came to a close Saturday night with a big crowd on hand to see the baby given away. A committee had been chosen to see that the baby was put into a good home, that the new owners were well qualified, etc. and as the time came and the baby was given way, it was wheeled out to the new owners, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Barz, in a baby cab. The baby turned out to be a little pig!

Wellemeyer's sale was asuccess in every way and bidding was lively for both afternoon and evening sales during the ten days it was held. A vast amount of furniture was sold, and Mr. Wellemeyer made many new customer-friends, who came to Klemme to buy furniture.

BRITT CAGERS ARE COUNTY CHAMPS

BRITT HIGH SCHOOL WON COUNTY CHAMPIONSHIP

Garner Took Consolation Game By Defeating Hayfield

The Britt high school basketball squad battled their way thru the county tournament at Garner last week to take the county championship through a series of victories.

Klemme, Kanawha, Goodell, Woden and Corwith fell out during the first rounds. Crystal Lake battled through to the finals to meet Britt when they went down in a hotly contested game. Garner defeated Hayfield in a hard fought game to win consolation honors.

Sectional Meet This Week

A number of high schools in this section start a round of games this week end at Belmond. In the first round Klemme will meet Rowan in the class B division at 2:00 Friday afternoon. Garner will meet Britt in the A section.

OPINION HOLDS UP FARM BUREAU APPROPRIATION

Since the changing administration there has been some question as the matter of the making of Farm Bureau appropriations by the counties of Iowa under the present law. Some have held that the appropriation is made on the showing of membership for the past year. In order to get an opinion on which to guide the Board of Supervisors, County Attorney L. C. Beaumont wrote the state attorney general setting out the facts as they apply to Hancock County. He received the following reply which indicates plainly that the Board must consider the 1933 membership in making an appropriation for the current year. Here is the letter:

Mr. L. C. Beaumon,
County Attorney.
Kanawha. Iowa.
Dear Sir:

We are in receipt of your letter of Feb. 6th, in which you ask for an opinion on the following:

"Is the Farm Bureau organization of Hancock County entitled to receive the 1933 appropriation provided for in Section 2930 of the Code of 1931 based on the membership of 1932?"

You are advised that the Board of Supervisors does not have authority to make this appropriation for 1933, based on the 1932 membership.

Yours very truly,
CLAIR E. HAMILTON
Assistant Attorney General

TERM OF ENTIRE COUNCIL EXPIRES THIS YEAR

Twe Directors, Treasurer, To Be Named At School Election

Two elections during the month of March will no doubt furnish some excitement for the citizens of our town and school district.

The first election will be that of electing two school directors and a treasurer at the annual school election to be held March 13th. Filing dates for these offices close March 3rd.

H. F. Jost and Albert Barz are the directors who go off the board this year. F. A. Arnold's term expires as treasurer. All three gentlemen have filed their petitions for re-election. The directors are for a term of three years and the treasurer for a term of two years.

Town Election March 27th

The second election for the month will be that of the general town election at which time five councilmen, one mayor, treasurer and assessor will be named. All of the terms of the present board expire and the new officers chosen will be for two years.

At present the board is J. E. Stille mayor; C. G. Waterman. treasurer; Joe Johnson, assessor and the following councilmen: C. A. Larsen, G. A. Goll, H. F. Jost, Conrad Quandt and Herb Bailey. Art Kudje acts as clerk for the board.

NOTICE OF CAUCUS!

The Peoples Party will hold a caucus at the Town Hall. Klemme, Iowa on Monday, March 6. 1933 at 8:00 o'clock p. m. at which time nominations will be made for a complete ticket for the Town Election to be held on Monday, March 27th, 1933.

BUYS PISTOL OF VERY OLD MAKE

Will Noonan is one man who harks back to the "good old days". He has a hobby for antiques and Monday purchsed from Mr. Murphy of Garner, a Colts powder and ball 31 caliber pistol that he says is at least 75 years old. The gun is in a perfect state of preservation. It carries a cylinder of six chambers, has attached ram rod, tubes for the adjusting of caps for firing, and the cylinder is beautifully engraved with a scene of a stagecoach holdup. If you are interested in antiques let Mr. Noonan show you this old gun. —Britt News-Tribune.

Earl Finn, of Belmond. was visiting with Klemme friends last Wednesday and Thursday. Mr. Finn recently underwent an operation at Iowa City for the removal of a goiter. He is making a good recovery.

A young lady walked into a bank the other day and asked to have a check cashed.

"Please endorse the check, madam," said the cashier.

"Why. my husband sent it to me she said.

"Yes, madam, but just endorse it. Sign it on the back, please, and your husband will know we paid you."

She went to the desk and in a few minutes returned with the check endorsed: "Your loving wife, Ethel."

MAN'S MUSING TO A MULE; MULE HAS BEST OF IT

Over the hill trailed a man behind a mule drawing a plow. Says the man to the mule.

"Bill, you are a mule, the son of a jackass, and I'm a man made in the image of God. Yet here we work hitched up together year in and year out. I often wonder if you work for me or I work for you. Verily I believe it a partnership between a mule and a fool, as surely I work as hard as you if not harder. Plowing or cultivating we cover the same distance, but you do it on four legs and I do it on two. I, therefore, do twice as much work per leg as you.

"Soon we'll be harvesting a corn crop. When the crop is harvested I give one third to the landlord for being so kind as to let me use this small speck of God's universe; one third goes to you and the balance is mine. You consume all of your portion with the exception of the cobs, while I divide mine among seven children. six hens, two ducks and a banker. If we both need shoes you get'm, Bill, son of a jackass, to swindle a man—lord of creation—out of his substance?

"Why you only help to plow and cultivate the ground and I alone must cut, shock and husk the corn, while you look over the pasture fence and hee-haw at me.

"If you get sick, I gladly call the veterinarian and pay your medicine bill, but if I have the tummyache you get that much more time to loaf around and eat. Just the same I am better off than you because I can eat pork and you can't—and last year I had the "vet" vaccinte our pigs against hog cholera so I will eat this winter and you will not.

"Again maybe I am better off on election day, because I can vote but you can't. But after election I most always think I was just as great a jackass as your papa. Verily, I am prone to wonder if politics were made for a man or a jackass or to make jackasses out of men.

"Tell me, Willyum, considering these things, how can you keep a straight face and look so damn dumb and solemn.—Fayette County Union.

Lesson for March 5

JESUS GIVING LIFE AND HEALTH

LESSON TEXT—Mark 5:21-43.
GOLDEN TEXT—The Lord hath done great things for us; whereof we are glad. Psalm 126:3.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Making a Little Girl Live Again.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus Raising Jairus' Daughter.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Life and Health Through Jesus.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Christianity and Human Suffering.

The accounts of the raising of the damsel and the healing of the woman are so interwoven as almost to constitute one narrative, but since the principles are diverse and the places separate, and the one an interruption of the other, they should be treated separately.

I. Jairus' Daughter Raised From the Dead (vv. 22-24, 35-43).

1. Jairus' urgent mission (vv. 22, 23). His only daughter (Luke 8:42). Perhaps his only child lay dying. In this time of utter helplessness he came to Jesus for he had faith in his ability to raise her up. In the providence of God sorrow, sickness and death are often used to bring needy men and women into contact with Jesus. He showed the proper attitude toward Jesus, "he fell at his feet" (v. 22).

2. Jesus goes with Jairus (v. 24). Jairus believed that if Jesus would lay his hand upon his daughter she would live. Such faith always gets a response from Jesus. No one destitute of faith can receive his blessing.

3. News of his daughter's death (v. 35). This was a most startling message. The messenger who brought the news of her death suggested that Jesus should be excused from going further as it was now too late.

4. Jairus' faith strengthened (v. 36). As soon as Jesus heard the word spoken concerning the death of this girl, he said to the father, "Be not afraid, only believe." This is the message still to every distressed soul.

5. The mourners rebuked (vv. 37-39). He dismissed the crowd and allowed only three of his disciples and the parents of the damsel to enter this chamber of death with him. The tumultuous walling showed the despair of the friends. In connection with this death-wail the Lord was ridiculed, but he declared that the girl could be awakened from her sleep of death.

6. Jairus' faith rewarded (vv. 41-43). He took the damsel by the hand and commanded her to arise. The expression "Talitha cumi" in the Aramaic may be freely translated, "Wake up, little girl." She straightway arose and walked and partook of food. Her walking was proof of the reality of the miracle. There was no sign of the weakness which usually follows a severe sickness.

II. The Woman With an Issue of Blood (vv. 25-34).

1. Her helpless condition (vv. 25, 26, cf. Luke 8:43). She had been a great sufferer for twelve long years. In addition to physical suffering her malady involved ceremonial uncleanness which was perhaps harder to bear than the physical suffering. This ceremonial uncleanness meant her exclusion from the places of worship and divorce from her husband, as well as social isolation.

2. Her faith (vv. 27, 28). She possessed a real and earnest faith. Having heard of the fame of Jesus as a healer, she likely journeyed a considerable distance. For a poor emaciated woman after twelve years of suffering to press her way through a thronging multitude, shows that she possessed a determined purpose. The test of the actuality and quality of one's faith is the determined activity which it engenders. Her faith was so strong that she believed that contact with the Master's garments would secure the needed help.

3. Her healing (vv. 29-32). As soon as she touched the hem of his garment, she experienced in her body his healing power. Jesus was conscious of the outgoing of virtue from himself.

4. Her confession (v. 33, cf. Luke 8:47). She thought secretly to get the blessing of healing, but Jesus perceived that virtue had gone out from him and had her make a public confession.

5. Jesus' words of encouragement (v. 34). With the communication of his healing virtue he spoke most gracious and comforting words to this poor woman. He told her that it was her faith, not her touch that had saved her. Faith does not need to face danger and to exhaust itself in active endeavor in order to gain Christ's blessing. All that is required is a trusting prayer. She obtained the blessing immediately.

"Heavenly Visions"

"I was not disobedient to the heavenly vision." Thrice unhappy are they who have never had a heavenly vision, i. e., a vision of something higher and better than the life they have been leading. It may have come in a sermon, a biography, a holy life, a face, a deathbed scene illuminated with the light of another world. How it shamed, rebuked, cast down with infinite regret, then raised to a new hope and determination. Act, act, in the living present.

THRUST And PARRY By Phil Osifer

One of our wellknown and honored citizens happened to be at the depot. The train pulled out and a "bo" appeared. Said the citizen. "There she goes. Now you'll have to wait until tomorrow for the next one." Said the "bo", "I wasn't goin' that way. Which way was you goin'?

—P. O.—

It seems that a dog and its owner went visiting. The dog. being an active canine, proceeded to tear around the visitees house at a lively rate. All at once it left the floor in a long leap and landed kersplash in a tank of water among the goldfish from whence it was gingerly extracted by the owner. Fish-dog after dog-fish?

—P. O.—

The reason that this week's column is short is that the Scribe has been saving up a lot of stuff against the time that I should run dry. Last week he gave you the works. I guess he got tired of having it lay around the shop. I know I would. Iwrite the dope as fast as I can and then get rid of it quick.

Sun and Moon Legends of Primitive Peoples

The natives of the Malay peninsula have an interesting myth which seeks to account for the differences between the day and night sky and also the motions of the sun and moon.

According to this legend, both the sun and the moon are regarded as women, while the stars are the children of the moon. The legend tells that the sun once had as many children as the moon. The children of the sun were bright like the sun itself.

Fearing that the earth could not stand so much light and heat, the sun and moon made an agreement to eat their children. The sun carried out her part of the agreement, but the moon only hid her children.

When the moon's children, the stars, came out at night, the sun was very angry and began to pursue the moon. This accounts for the motions of the sun and moon through the heavens, which the Malay natives regarded as a pursuit of the moon by the sun.

The stars go out as the sun rises. This, the natives say, is because the sun is still devouring her children. But the moon hides her children during the daytime and brings them out at night.

Among the American Indians we find the sun and moon generally regarded as brother and sister.

One legend of the Ottawa Indians tells of two Indians who "sprang through a chasm in the sky and found themselves in a pleasant moonlit land." There they met the moon, who was "an aged woman with white face and pleasing air." She introduced them to her brother, who was the sun.—David Dietz, in the New York World-Telegram.

Even Ordinary Mortal Is Rich in Ancestors

"A pedigree like this is, of course, such as few can claim," says the Canadian Mining Journal, commenting on an article on the subject of heredity. But, with reference to the pedigrees of very ordinary mortals like ourselves, it is interesting to recall that a distinguished legal commentator has estimated that at the fortieth genealogical remove—that is to say, in the course of sixteen or seventeen centuries—the total number of a man's progenitors is more than 1,000,000,000,000.

"'All of us have now subsisting,' wrote the great Blackstone, 'nearly 270,000,000 of cousins in the fifteenth degree; and if this calculation should appear incompatible with the number of inhabitants on the earth, it is because, by intermarriages among the descendants, a hundred or a thousand different relations may be consolidated in one person, or he may be related to us in a hundred or a thousand different ways!'

"What a field of speculation this train of thought opens up! Small wonder that each of us is supposed to have a 'double.'"

Pelican's Big Appetite

It is interesting to see a flock of pelicans on the wing. They usually fly in single file, and when the leader starts or stops flopping his wings the others follow with mechanical precision.

From three to five white chalk-incrusted eggs are laid by the pelican on its crude, bulky nest. Usually not more than two birds are raised. When the chick breaks shell it is black skinned and the long bill already is noticeable. Within a few weeks the bird is downy white and his faint squawking is brought about by a desire for more fish daily. When he is only three weeks old he must have several pounds of fish daily. And when the young pelican reaches his fifth week he displays a ravenous appetite.—Anthony V. Ragusin, in the New York Herald Tribune.

Treasure Lure Strong

Cocos island, in the South Pacific, is again luring gold hunters, notes the Atlanta Journal, referring to expeditions to "that olden haunt of pirates in the South Pacific," in search of "treasure fabled to be worth between $25,000,000 and $75,000,000—a treasure that has long proved a will-o'-the-wisp," according to the Journal. "But," comments this paper, analyzing the persistence of the search, "it isn't the gold merely that these smitten hearts desire; it's the sea wind, the lonely beach, the forest tangle, the very hardship and danger that lift life above humdrum in their foretaste if not in reality. Men will ever be hunters and sailors; and the wilder the chase, the more perilous the voyage, the better they will fancy it.

City of Venice Unique

Venice is at the head of the Adriatic sea, between the mountains and the sea. The whole of the plain has been formed by the debris swept down from the Alps by rivers. In the process of time some of these banks, as in the case of Venice, raised themselves abova the level of the water and became the true shore line, while beyond them lay large lagoons formed undoubtedly by fresh water brought down by the rivers and partly by the salt water tide which found its way in at the channels of the river mouths. On a group of these mud banks about the middle of the lagoon stands the city of Venice. The soil is an oozy mud which can only be made suitable for erecting buildings by the artificial means of pile-driving.

THE OPPOSSUM

Natural History Series

With the trappers' reports coming to the Fish and Game Department on the number and kinds of furs taken during the open season on various fur bearing animals comes also the knowledge of the number of oppossum pelts that have been included in the reports. During the 1930-31 season 26,230 oppossum were trapped and the pelts sold to fur dealers. During the 1931-32 season 37,558 oppossum were taken and the pelts sold. With this information one stops to think of the number of oppossum we have in the state of Iowa. Also one stops to think that it is an animal not often seen in trips afield. It is safe to say that many of our citizens of the state of Iowa have never seen an oppossum. The general impression first received is that of a coarse-haired, grayish-white animal, with a white face and dark socketed eyes. The ears are naked and black with white or flesh colored outer half. The feet are black; the toes naked and flesh-colored. The tail is naked scaly and flesh colored. Weights recorded of various specimens of the oppossum show that an ... large female weighed twelv...

One of the biggest expenses of public utilities is the interest charges on the millions of dollars invested in generating and distributing equipment. After capital has been buried in a municipal utility property, it is never admitted that this money is entitled to any return. If citizens in municipal ownership towns demanded that their electric plant pay them a reasonable return on the invested capital, the stories of public ownership profits would vanish overnight. It is interesting to note that more oppossum have been trapped in Iowa during the 1931-32 season than the season of 1930-31. This may or may not be an indication of an increase in their numbers. It is possible that there were more trappers. The swamp is an oppossum's paradise, if there is a hollow tree nearby for lodging. With this combination he will usually take a chance on food. The home of the oppossum is a hole in anything high or low just so it is near timber and water. Its food consists of almost anything eatable, its diet changing with the seasons. It would be easier to list the few things that it does not eat rather than the foods that it does. Chicken and eggs seem to be on the preferred list, however.

One interesting feature of the oppossum seems to be that it is the only animal in our native list of this state that can hang by its tail. The tail is shaped and has much the appearance of that of a rat. When the young are born they are carried in a pouch on the belly portion of the mother and the usual number of young is 6 or 7.

VAGABONDS DEFEAT GARNER INDIES 35-34 MONDAY EVE

Vagabond Reserves Again Trim High School Shamrocks

The Klemme Vagabonds added another victory to their list Monday night when they defeated the fast Garner Independents on the local floor 35-32. Neither team was able to get any advantage during the game and it was anyone's game until the last forty seconds of play, when, with Garner leading 34-32, Gibbs, Vagabond center made good on a gift shot and a short while later sank a goal from the field. Garner led at the half 19-18. Wayne Lemke of the Vagabonds and Clark of Garner were high with six field apeice. Gibbs, Klemme sank four goals and a gift shot. Tanner shoved three thru the mesh and C. Lemke and Koerner each made 2 from the field. For Garner. Lau made four goals and two gift shots, Neimeyer made four from the field and Jass and Carothers got one goal apeice.

The Vagabond Reserves defeated the High School Shamrocks 22-17 in the Preliminary game, the Vagabonds leading all the way. Keraus of the Reserves and Keeper of the Shamrocks were high with three goals and a pair of gift shots apiece. Stokesbary sank one for the Reserves and Turgasen and West were each good for three field goals with the latter getting one gift shot. L. Drake was 2nd high for the Shamrocks with 2 field goals and a free one. Kluckhohn, stellar guard, was good for a field goal and a gift, while Jost got one free throw to complete the Shamrock scoring.

Lost To Hayfield 41-38

The Vagabonds lost a game to the Hayfield Independents on the Hayfield floor Tuesday night 41-38. Hayfield ran their score to 11 before the Vagabonds were able to score. Klemme led at the half 22-20 and held a lead of five points at the start of the fourth period. However Hayfield staged one of those last minute rallies for which they are noted and piled up enough points to win the game. W. Lemke was high for Klemme with 6 field goals and 3 gift shots. C. Lemke had five goals and 2 free ones while Tanner slid two in from the field. Gibbs and Koerner each had a field goal and 2 and 1 free throws respectively.

Geddes was high for the evening with 7 field goals and 2 gift shots. Paulson sank three goals and a ree one and Malek got three and two free shots. Brooks got two goals and a gift shot, Brozik had one free throw and Hedberg sank two goals.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Ebeling left Friday morning for Marion, South Dakota. Mrs. Ebeling was formerly Mrs. Herman Coobs and held a sale on her farm last week near McGregor and then stopped in Klemme for a few days before going to South Dakota to make her home. Henry Coobs of McGregor and Ben Coobs of this city accompanied them to Dakota with a truck load of furniture and returned to Klemme Saturday evening. Henry left Tuesday for McGregor. Mr. and Mrs. Ebeling will keep in touch with all the happening of Klemme as them ordered the Times to some to them regularly every week.

Gardens! NOW is the time to---

Dormant pruning of raspbernies will engage the attention of the gardener during late winter and early spring.

Black raspberries require pruning both in the dormant season and during the summer. The dormant pruning usually requires the removal of the old canes which produced fruit last year and the cutting back of laterals on the canes which are to produce this season.

Black raspberries are usually grown in hills and require from 3 to five canes per hill, depending on the strength and vigor of the plant. All canes that produced last year are removed and the hill thinned to from three to five canes. Lateral growth on these canes is then cut back to 10 or 12 inches.

The first summer after planting the black and purple varieties of raspberries will produce one to 3 shoots. When 12 to 15 inches above the ground, the growing tip may be pinched or cut off in order to stimulate growth of the lateral branches. This results in stalky plants and keeps the fruit high enough off the ground to prevent spattering by soil in the time of heavy rains. The second year after plating the new shoots are pinched at about 24 inches. The third season they are headed at about 36 inches and are kept at this height in the future.

Red raspberries are pruned by cutting the shoots back to the desired height. This height will vary with different varieties, but a general rule is to head them at about 36 inches. Some of the tall growing varieties (Cuthbert for instance) should be cut somewhat higher than than this. Canes that produced last year are cut out.

The red varieties do not require any summer pruning with the exception of cutting out the excess shoots. It is sometimes well to wait until the leaf buds start to open to avoid cuting out some live canes and leaving other dead ones. The plants should be spaced in the hedge row about 4 or 5 inches apart. Forcing lateral branching in the red varieties does more harm than good.

Mrs. Walter Neuberger of Ventura was visiting at the Fred Bachman home for a few days during the last week. She was also visiting at the Sherwood, Cook and Griggs homes while inthis vicinity. She returned to her home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Dutheridge were last Friday evening visitors at the Ernest Helps home.

Miss Elvira Stille, who teaches at Floyd, spent the week end visiting in Klemme.

The County Methodist League rally was held at Garner Monday evening. There were twelve from here who attended.

Henry Hanson and wife of City spent Sunday afternoon ing at the Pavey home.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Jorgens Junior, ad Mrs. J. Jorgens Garner were at Mason City o ness Saturday afternoon.

A RELIABLE INCOME . . . .

How much better to have a steady income that the weather can't effect, or poor crops control, than to depend on grain farming entirely and be at the mercy of "old man weather."

With a herd of good dairy cattle you are always assured of a FAIR RETURN of PROFITS when other products of the farm fail. NOW is a good time to go into dairying and make it an important part of your 193 farm plans. There is a real future in dairying!

Ask the farmer who has been dairying for years— he will tell you that it pays. He will also tell you that this creamery is at all times working for the good of the farmer. We have that thought in mind when we urge you to get into the dairying end of farming more.

No Opposition In Election Here Monday, But Vote Anyway

ANNUAL SCHOOL ELECTION TO BE HELD NEXT MONDAY

The annual school election will be held next Monday from noon until 7:00 p. m. at which time the electors will name two directors and a treasurer.

The filing date for candidates closed last Friday, March 3rd. The only names filed were those of the present officers: H. F. Jost. Albert Marr for directors and F. A. Arnold for treasurer, all of who are up for re-election.

The ballots will have the above names and in addition will contain blanks in accordance with the law so that those who are so inclined can write in a name and vote in that manner.

Although the ticket contains no competition it is no reason for anyone to remain at home. Make a special effort to vote Monday. If you appreciate the services the men have given in the past, go out and vote for them. If you think otherwise you have the opportunity of writing in anyone you want to vote for, not on the ticket. At any rate vote!

REPRESENTATIVE DURANT IN KLEMME SATURDAY EVE

Representative S. B. Durant, who was home on a short vacation from duties at the State House, was in Klemme Saturday night visiting with the people and getting their opinions on various important bills before the legislature.

Mr. Durant has been a very busy man during the past session, and from the reports of the daily press, has made his presence felt more than once.

Tax revision will demand much of the attention during the present session and Mr. Durant was especially anxious to get opinions on the gross income tax from his constituents in Hancock county. The present system of taxation is obsolete and some other form must be devised in its place.

Sale Going Over Big

J. N. Day's 20th Anniversary Sale is going over in a big way and a big crowd was on hand for the opening at 9:00 o'clock Monday morning. Every day since then has been a good day. Every indication points to a big crowd for the few remaining days. Bargain hunters come from far and near and John is right there with a big force of clerks to help them every day. Another fine group of bargains will be found in Day's adv in this issue. Look it over.

City politics will soon begin to warm up, we presume.

It now looks as if all of Garner's people are not to be numbered among the chosen ones, and one or more of them may be called upon to answer to the charge of murder. About a week ago Andrew Griesmer was found in a barn in that town in an unconcious condition, badly bruised and beaten. He died from the effects of his injuries on Sunday and the hands of the law will be laid on the guilty parties, can they be found. Andrew was a quiet, unoffensive fellow and no motive for so rash an act has been learned by us.

BELMOND CAGERS WIN SECTIONAL

CRYSTAL LAKE FIVE TRIUMPH IN CLASS B TILTS

Local High School Cagers Defeated In Semi-Finals by Geneva

The Belmond basketball team raced through the sectional tournament at Belmond Saturday night, winning the meet inthe Class A section when they defeated the Garner five 33-30 in the final game.

Britt Eliminated

Garner eliminated the most dangerous competitor in the first round of Class A games Thursday night by winning from Britt, 23-21. In the first round Belmond won from Sheffield and in the second played over their heads to take Hampton 36-34. Hampton had eliminated Clarion in the first round, 24-21. Garner's ball tossers won their right to enter the finals by defeating Kanawha 39-23.

Crystal Lake Wins

In the class B games, Crysatl Lake winner of the tournament defeated Alexander 35-26, in the first round and romped to the final round by defeating Goodell 31-6 and Renwick 44-28. In the final round Geneva held the score in its favor until the last five minutes when Crystal Lake started sinking baskets with lightning like rapidity, winning the tournament 33-29.

The Klemme team drew a bye in the first round and in the second defeated the Rowan five 39 to 26. The boys had excellent team work and played a good game. Smid came thru in splendid form, sinkini baskets from all angles of the floor and showing fine teamwork on all offensive plays. Jost, played a good defensive game, breaking up many Rowan plays, while Keeper got hot on short shots. Klemme guards Kluckhohn, Day and Bridges, were up to their usual fine form and contributed to the local scoring column and playing a splendid defensive game.

In the semi-finals they were defeated by the fast Geneva team, title winner of the Franklin county tourney. The Shamrocks failed to get started the first half and the Geneva boys ran up a score of 25-4. The locals came back in the second half and started to click, outscoring the Geneva team. However their rally came to late and they lost 34 to 19.

COMMUNITY FATHER AND SON BANQUET NEXT THURSDAY EVE

FARMERS RECEIVE SEED CROP AID

CROP PRODUCTION LOANS ARE NOW READY

Federal Crop Production Loans will be made available to Hancock county farmers who reduce cash crop acreage in 1933 30% according to information given to 7 field agents of Iowa.

County Agent. S. J. Oberhauser, will serve as local representative for Hancock County and the loans will then be subject to approval or rejection by the field agent. The county committee which approves the loan to the Minneapolis office, is composed of J. N. Sprole, chm.; Virgil Cook and Ben V. Greiman.

This loan, of course, is subject to the rejection of the field agents. The loan will be made to any farmer needing additional funds for putting in a crop and who will agree to reduce his acreage planted to cash crop by 30% and who will give a lien on the crop as security for the loan. Loans are limited to $300 to any individual farmer and to $3 an acre. The 30% reduction does not affect the acreage of crops planted for feeding. A cash crop is defined as one raised for sale as contrasted with corn or other grains used to feed livestock.

Borrowers must agree to plant a garden for home use. Loans are to be made only to farmers who are unable to obtain financing otherwise for carrying on their normal farming operations. Where fertilizers are used the limit is $6 per acre. In the case of truck crops the limit is $12 where fertilizer is not used and $20 per acre where fertilizer is used. In addition to the foregoing sums $4 an acre can be secured for spraying and dusting truck crops. Of course, the government will not loan more money than is absolutely needed and the farmer will be held accountable for showing receipts that the money had been so expended.

Mr. Oberhauser wishes to announce that he will be in the office on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons to take care of any individual wishing to secure these loans. In all cases it is necessary for the landlord to sign a waiver in consideration of the loan made by the secretary of agriculture giving the first lien on crops.

It is not necessary that a farmer be a member of the Farm Bureau to secure this loan and this office is glad to extend this additional service to all farmers.

MARIE BLANK HAS FINE QUILT DISPLAY AT THADA'S STORE

Marie Blank has requested anyone in the community who has a quilt they would like to put on display to bring it to the store. She has a nice collection already. Stop and see them when you are in town. Maybe you will see one you would like to make next winter. There's always room for one more, so be sure and bring yours.

THRUST And PARRY By Phil Osifer

I don't know how much of a farm Hank Wallace owns, but I'll bet that he has to tako some of the money that he earns in his Secretary of Agriculture job to pay interest and taxes. If that condition is bad enough for him, it may be that we will see some REAL farm relief during this administration.

—P. O.—

When we get through having sales all over town. it might be a good idea to take what is left over and pile it in one big heap. Then pay people to take whatever they want out of the pile. Foolish idea? Not any more foolish than keeping unsold goods over a period of years. That also costs money.

—P. O.—

A good friend of mine down South writes me that Walt Winchell is gunning for me. Gunning for me! Can you imagine that? Atta boy, Walt! Only don't point that gun that way. Here I am over here.

—P. O.—

Two of our citizens have told me of the loss of their tomcats. I think I know where the cats are. They are covering up the stuff that somebody has been throwing on the garden all winter long from a peculiarly shaped pail. During these warmer days when the wind is in a certain quarter, I think that two cats are not nearly enough. Believe it or not!

—P. O.—

I wonder why they are keeping this guy Zangara so long. Dogs are disposed of as soon as it is known that they have hydrophobia.

—P. O.—

A linotype machine is a lot bigger and much more expensive than a type writer, therefore it should spell better—but it doesn't.

—P. O.—

Last week I gave an excuse for a short column and the printer made it even shorter. Never again!

—P. O.—

Does anybody want to bet a nickel with me that our local gun club is not going to simmer down to about three members and then peter out entirely.

BIG TICKET FILED FOR ANNUAL TOWN ELECTION

Filing Date For Further Candidates Closes March 11th. This Week

Mayor J. E. Stille called a public caucus which was held at the Town Hall Monday evening. At this meeting the house decided to dispense with former customs of selecting candidates whose names would appear on several tickets as in the past, by adopting the petition system of nominating candidates. In this manner the usual caucus was set aside and the meeting thrown open for nominations, with the result that three were nominated for Mayor, twelve for Councilmen, two for Assessor, and one for Treasurer.

The procedure Monday night, however, does not close the ballot to further names. Anyone wishing to be a candidate for any of the Town Offices to be voted on Monday March 27th, need merely file his petition containing ten signatures of electors with A. J. Kudje, town clerk on or before March 11th. Petitions may be procured from the Clerk.

The following nominations were made and properly petitioned by signers Monday night:

For Mayor

J. E. Stille; D. P. Anderson, John Etchen.

For Councilmen

C. A. Larsen; C. Quandt; G. O. Goll; J. C. Thomas; Paul Mueller, A. Wellemeyer; Pete Wilson; Slim Brinkman; Ed Jacobs; Julius Priebe, W F. Pavey and Emil Patet.

For Assessor

Joe Johnson, Henry Suckow.

For Treasurer

C. G. Waterman.

Several were nominated who were not present at the meeting. These gentlemen may withdraw if they so choose, providing this is done before the 15 days before election period is up.

Lesson for March 12

JESUS MINISTERING TO THE MULTITUDE

LESSON TEXT—Mark 6:30-44.

GOLDEN TEXT—Even as the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many. Matthew 20:28.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Helping Hungry People.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus Feeding a Hungry Crowd.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Meeting Everyday Needs With Jesus.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Jesus Ministering to Human Need.

I. The Apostles Making Report to Jesus (v. 30).

They had just returned from a most strenuous campaign of preaching and healing. Their ministry had occasioned a great stir. This was accentuated by the continued ministry of Jesus. They reported to Jesus what they had taught and what they had wrought.

II. Jesus Alone With the Apostles (vv. 31, 32).

The result of the combined ministries of Jesus and the apostles was such a commotion, with the people coming and going, that there was no opportunity for resting or eating. In this time of stress and strain Jesus invited the disciples to retire from the crowd and rest. Periods of withdrawal from the crowds in fellowship with the Lord are frequently desirable and necessary. The benefits of such retreats are:

1. Physical recuperation. We have this treasure in earthen vessels. It is absolutely imperative that there be periodical retirement for physical recuperation.

2. Spiritual refreshment. Even those who are engaged in witnessing for Christ need constant renewal of their spirits by personal contact with the Lord.

3. To get one's eyes off of self in case of either success or failure and fixed upon Jesus Christ.

III. Jesus Teaching the Ignorant Multitude (vv. 33, 34).

1. Thronged by the people (v. 33). The wonderful words and works of the Lord and the disciples, brought the multitudes to them. To escape the throng they took departure to a desert place (v. 32). Seeing the Lord and his disciples leaving, the people from the surrounding cities anticipated their landing place so that upon the arrival of the ship they were already there.

2. Jesus moved with compassion (v. 34). Instead of becoming irritated by the intrusion of the crowd, his personal interests were forgotten as the needs of the shepherdless sheep pressed upon his notice. Therefore, he began to teacb them many things.

IV. Jesus Feeding the Hungry Multitude (vv. 35-44).

1. Conference with the disciples (vv. 35-38).

a. The disciples requested that the multitude be sent to the surrounding villages to buy bread (v. 36). According to Matthew Jesus made the proposition that the multitude be fed (Matt. 14:16).

b. Jesus commanded them to feed the multitude (v. 37).

c. The disciples' perplexity (v. 37). Their perplexity was due to the fact that they were depending upon their own resources instead of Christ. To come face to face with the humanly impossible has a threefold benefit:

(1) It makes us realize our dependence upon Christ.

(2.) It drives us to him for help.

(3) It leads us to, give him the glory for the results. Though our ability to teach, preach, or to give be meager, when coupled with the Lord's ability, it is equal to any demand which may be made.

2. Jesus' method in feeding the multitude (vv. 39-44).

a. The Lord's part. This was to give instruction as to the method of procedure and to create the provision. He so increased five loaves and two fishes that the need of the hungry multitude was met.

b. The disciples' part. They were to have the people sit down in companies so as to facilitate distribution. They then took that which the Master had blessed and distributed it. The disciples' responsibility was not for the creation of the provision, but for its distribution to the people.

c. The peoples' part. Their part was not to create, nor to distribute, bnt to partake of the provision. Unless people receive Jesus Christ and the salvation which he has provided, they will eternally starve.

Stands Forever

The grass withereth, the flower fadeth; but the word of our God shall stand forever.—Isaiah 40:8.

Wait Upon God

That life is most holy in which there is least of petition and desire, and most of waiting upon God, that in which petition most often passes into thanksgiving. Pray till prayer makes you forget your wish, and leave it or merge it in God's will.—F. W. Robertson.

Furnace of Affliction

The furnace of affliction refines us from earthly drossness and softens us for the impression of God's own stamp.

Japanese Customs Odd to Visiting Westerners

At the door of a theater or a restaurant the Japanese hand the attendant their shoes instead of their hats. At a dinner the sweets, if they come at all, are served early in the meal instead of toward the end. Acting in the theater is modeled not on life, but on the movements of dolls in marionette shows, and in the classic "No" drama the possibility of showing emotion by facial expression is eliminated by the use of carved wooden masks.

And, where the people have not been "civilized" out of their natural courtesy, a chauffeur will refuse to pass another on the road—from motives of politeness. To us the Japanese method of beckoning would signify "go away." Boats are beached stern foremost; horses are backed into their stalls, sawing and planing are done with a pulling motion; keys are turned in their locks in a reverse direction from that which is customary with us.

Old English Church of Interest to Americans

Southwark cathedral, one of London's ancient churches, known to Londoners as the "Church in the Hole," is falling into decay, says an article in the Montreal Family Herald. Shakespeare used to attend divine services there. His brother, Edmund, is buried in the church. John Harvard, whose donations founded Harvard university, was baptized there in 1607. Some years ago the alumni of Harvard rebuilt one of the chapels. Southwark cathedral is the only English church in which a Fourth of July celebration ever was held. This took place some years ago. Shakespeare and his contemporaries used to come over to Southwark to see their plays produced. They often lodged in Southwark and attended the cathedral services. In recognition of these visits, there is now a memorial window to the famous Elisabethan dramatist in the cathedral.

Washington's Supremacy

Many estimates of George Washington's character have been written, but perhaps none is more interesting than that of the historian George Bancroft, who summarized the great first President as follows: "His faculties were so well balanced and combined that his constitution, free from excess, was tempered evenly with all the elements of activity and his mind resembled a well-organized commonwealth; his passions, which had the intensest vigor, owned allegiance to reason; and with all the fiery quickness of his spirit, his impetuous and massive will was held in check by consummate judgment. He had in his composition a calm which gave him in moments of highest excitement the power of self-control and enabled him to excel in patience, even when he had most cause for disgust."

Nothing New

There just isn't anything new. We go into ecstasies about a lovely new perfume. We go shopping and lay in a supply of bath towels of the most modern sort—rough, soft, perhaps designed in angles and straight lines. We think we are most modern. Then we read of excavations of a tomb 4000 years old in Egypt which have brought forth the most attractive perfume bottles once filled with the most alluring scents; and bath towels woven in plain and zigzag stripes, sometimes hemmed along the edges, with little knots throughout their weaving to make them rough like our modern Turkish towels.

Spelling Not Paramount

Gen. Zachary Taylor, who became President largely because his victory over General Santa Anna at the battle of Buena Vista turned the Mexican war to the triumph of the United States, was not a good speller. He wrote an account of the battle in which he left the a out of reach, and used very long sentences, one of which was eighty-seven type lines. He is accused of grammatical errors also, which are not surprising in a sentence more than 500 words long. But one may excuse that in a general who with 5,400 untrained men whipped 20,000 fresh troops.

Early American Furniture

The furniture made in America during the Hepplewhite and Sheraton periods compares very favorably with English pieces of these periods. While lacking on the one hand the greater sophistication of the pieces made for the nobility and wealthier classes in England, it seldom shows the crudity of English provincial furniture, and there is often a nice balance and a delicacy of line and proportion that made these pieces most attractive. The best furniture of this type seems to have been made in New England, New York and Maryland.

Hard Labor

A good time means going to the races, playing bridge, drinking cocktails, dancing till four in the morning, and talking about nothing. And meanwhile the beautiful, the incredible world in which we live awaits exploration, and life is short and time flows stanchlessly, like blood from a mortal wound. And there is all knowledge, all art. There are men and women, the innumerable living, and, in books, the souls of those dead who deserved to be immortal. Heaven preserve me, in such a world as this, from having just a good time.—Aldous Huxley.

FOUR AND HALF MILES TO BE GRAVELED IN ELL TWP.

The following road program was adopted by the Board of Supervisors on March 3, 1933. This includes all roads on the program adopted by the township representatives on February 28 and in addition 4 miles of grading. 4 miles of graveling and one bridge all of which we hope to complete if we have sufficient funds. No property tax for road construction will bee collected with this year's taxes so we must depend on gas tax allotments for building roads and bridges in 1933. If the gas tax collected this year is up to the average of the last three years we can complete the program. If it falls short we may be compelled to leave out some of the grading and graveling.

SOMETHING FOR NOTHING

During recent months a number of municipal electric plants have made drastic reductions in their rates. Others have donated one or two months "free" electricity. All this has been accompanied by generous publicity and a great deal of propaganda. It is easy to furnish electric service below cost if your losses are guaranteed by tax subsidies. Many municipal plants might just as well "give away" six months "free" current. Taxes may be levied to make up deficits incurred in the operation of municipal plants. You can't get something for nothing and electricity is no exception.

Mitsuis in First Rank as Masters of Finance

The story of the famous Japanese family of Mitsui goes back more than 250 years. Takatoshi Mitsui conceived the plan which resulted in the great house of Mitsui. He inherited a pawn shop from his father. His ambition was to have an exchange house, but it was very difficult for an outsider to break into a business of this kind. He began, therefore, by opening a drapery shop in Honcho in 1670 and established a money exchange department. In less than 10 years he had won a place among exchangers. In May, 1683, he opened an exchange house in Surugacho. In 1686 another one opened in Kyoto and in 1691 one in Osaka. He provided that each exchange house should have a member of the Mitsui family at its head and each of these in turn should be succeeded by a member of the Mitsui family. In February, 1872, five young members of the Mitsui family were sent to the United States to learn the banking business. The following year the first national bank in Japan was opened by Mitsui-Gumi and Ono-Gumi. In 1876 the Mitsuis established the first private bank in Japan.

Pacific Crab Shown as Example of Evolution

During the ages in which evolution has been advancing, denizens of the water have taken to the land, and some creatures which at one time lived entirely upon dry soil are now equally at home in the water or wandering in the fields. On some of the Pacific coral islands we find a great crab which spends most of its time on land, only occasionally visiting its element.

This crab, often over twelve inches in length, was at a remote period in its history a hermit living a solitary life in a shell on the ocean floor. Today it exists on the land of the coral islands, making a large burrow in the sand, where it has few enemies. The gill chamber which at one time functioned in the water, is now so modified that with the upper chamber it can breathe, while the lower portion still helps it to exist in the sea, where it lays eggs.

The favorite food of this crab is the coconut. Many are blown down by winds, but if the food on the ground becomes scarce the crabs climb trees and dislodge the nuts.

Brief Assyrian Greatness

The Assyrians were warlike, ruthless and cruel, and although great organizers, gave little time or thought to interior decoration that did not emphasize the greatness of their kings. Assyrian furniture was heavy and dull. Its decorations consisted largely of scenes which pictured the venegeance inflicted upon the enemies of their kings. A table supported upon the backs of slaves or vanquished foes was the Assyrian's idea of beauty. Scenes depicting frightful punishments and sufferings were not uncommon on articles of household, palace or temple use. But it was a short-lived period and gave nothing to the furniture arts, not even to the Greeks, whose glory heightened over the dying shadows of Assyrian greatness.

American Glass-Making

Though glass has been made in America from the days of the first settlements—there was a glass house in Jamestown as early as 1608—it was not until well on into the Eighteenth century that it was made in large quantities in such factories as that of the Wistars in South Jersey (established in 1738), Stiegel's factory at Mannheim (first operated in 1764), the Pitkin Glass works at Manchester, Conn., (1783-1830), etc. Most of the early enterprises in this field were short-lived, as glass-making did not seem to be a remunerative industry in the early days in America.

Seven Seas' Definition

Col. G. E. Gerini, in his "Researches on Ptolemy's Geography of Eastern Asia," traces the expression "Seven Seas" back to Indian and Chinese legend. From the Puranas Colonel Gerini made the following list of seven seas: Sea of Salt Water, surrounds India; Sea of Sugar Cane Juice, surrounds Burma; Sea of Wind, surrounds the Malay peninsula; Sea of Clarified Butter, surrounds the Sunda archipelago; Sea of Milk, surrounds Siam and Cambodia; Sea of Curds and Whey, surrounds southern China, and Sea of Fresh Water, surrounds northern China and Mongolia.

Rapid Recording

Typewriter speeds of as high as 235 words a minute have been recorded. In shorthand, 280 words a minute on court testimony have been transcribed, while speeds as high as 350 words a minute have been reported. The speed of wireless telegraphy is 186,000 miles a second. The average speed of transmission by the Morse manual telegraphy is given as 30 to 40 words a minute; automatic devices have increased this speed to 500 to 600 words or more.

Metallic Hearts

We often hear the expression "a heart of gold," but although there is no gold in the human heart there certainly are other metals.

Examination through the spectroscope has revealed traces of copper, aluminum, and silver. The thyroid gland has been found to contain tin, silver, copper, lead, and zinc.

Gardens!
NOW is the time to---

A carefully planned garden—laid out so it will supply the right amounts of the kinds of vegetabes the family likes—will be well worth the effort spent in laying it out. A diagram made before actual field conditions begin will be helpful in obtaining a garden like this.

The size of the garden will depend, of course, on the amount of available land. The farm garden may easily occupy one-half acre and supply enough vegetables for a medium-sized family the year around. The city garden will have to be smaller. but by intensive cropping may be made to produce an adequate supply of vegetables.

A pencil and ruler will help in getting the garden plan on paper, so that when gardening time comes you will be able to work with a planned object in view. The plan may show the spacing between crops and the amount of space to be devoted to each. This planning will utilize the land more efficiently and the space may be allotted so that the cultivation and planting of the separate crops may be done most conveniently.

Harry Buss, Frank Ward and John and Harmen Trampel assisted Herb Bailey with moving Wednesday to his farm southeast of town. This place was tenanted by the Harlow Helps family last year.

NELLIE STROMER AWARDED 2ND IN DECLAM CONTEST

Grade Spelling Contest Here On Wednesday, March 15th

Klemme did not succeed in capturing any first honors in the preliminary State declamatory contest held here last Wednesday evening. Nellie Stromer was awarded second place in the humorous division. The honors went to Belmond whose contestant won first in the oratorical division and to Kanawha whose speakers in dramatic and humorous captured first places.

The basketball team was encouraged at Belmond Friday afternoon by a large delegation from our high school. Klemme had quite a rooter's section.

If you want to forget all your troubles and cares for awhile, come to see the high school operetta on Friday evening. Its clever dialogue and catchy songs will give you an evening of worthwhile entertainment.

The sophomore English class is beginning the study of "Merchant of Venice" We would appreciate the loan of a couple of copies as this is an extra assignment for which we cannot buy books.

We are having our annual grade school spelling contest March 15 at which time we choose our local representative who goes to Garner on March 25 to compete in the County contest. This contest begins at 1:00 o'clock. The P. T. A. is offering prizes to the winners in each grade and to the winner over all. The public is invited.

Grades 1 and 2

Colleen Gram, Eugene Johnson, Paul Ralston, Phyllis Kotzbach, Betty Jean Etchen, Betty Schuldt, and Harlan Buss had 90 or above in spelling for the week.

Mrs. Johnson and Miss Becker visited our room last week.

FIVE SHAMROCK STARS PLAY LAST GAME WEDNESDAY EVE

Shamrock Midgets Lost To Britt In County Tourney

The Shamrocks will close their basketball calendar Wednesday of this week when the finals of the inter-class tournament are played.

Though the Shamrocks did not have an outstanding season they won 7 games and lost 7 games for an average of .500. The continued epidemic of flu and the loss of Dorance Day, because of an operation, were the big obstacles in the path of the Shamrocks.

Those players who will be seen in action for the last time in their high school careers are Clarence (Steve) Kluckhohn, Dorance (Johnnie) Day, Cecil (Ole) Bridges, veteran guards. Raymond (Ducky) Drake. center and Henry (Hank) Smid, star forward.

In the games Tuesday night the Seniors trimmed the Freshmen and the Juniors won an easy victory off the Sophomores. This Wednesday evening the Seniors meet the Juniors for championship honors and the Sophomores play the Freshmen for consolation honors. The first game begins at 7.30.

The Klemme grade team ended its basketball season Saturday when they played Britt in the county tournament. Our grade team should be congratulated on their record of this season. Although Britt defeeated them in the second round 22 to 15 the local boys showed up as the strongest competitors of the champions. The team as a whole played an outstanding game. They had a smooth short passing offense that penetrated Britt defense in a marked way and their defense was very good. The big advantage Britt had over the Shamrock Midgets was height of their players. Although most of these boys graduate from the 8th grade they will not be missed as they areexpected to maintain their splendid record during their high school careers and undoubtedly will give as good an account of themselves as they have in the past.

ORCHARD SPRAY SERVICE IS OFFERED

Fruit growers and farmers over the county may, during the coming season, secure notices of just when to apply the different orchard spray with directions of what to use and how to mix by notifying the county Agent. This spray is offered the fruit growers of Hancock county by the local county Farm Bureau, who is cooperating with the Agricultural Extension Service at Ames.

In offering this service to the people of Hancock county, County Agent Oberhauser states that each season the number of sprays at the time of their application varies to a certain extent, depending upon weather conditions. This service is planned so each grower will receive a notice just before time to apply a necessary spray. The notice will tell him when to spray, what to use, the proportions of the spray material to use, what to spray and what pests are controlled by the spray. With more interest being shown in the home production of fruit, especially by farmers, this service will help them receive more clean fruit next fall. This service is free to any resident of the county. Many busy farmers have found these notices of especia help to them in calling their attention that it is time to spray.

Anyone wanting these notices sent them during the coming season should notify County Agent Oberhauser at once as it will soon be time to spray. He will also be glad to assist anyone in figuring the amount of spray materials needed.

"POP" GALBRETH TO ADDRESS FATHER AND SON BANQUET

All Men and Boys of Community Invited To Attend Affair

A Community Father and Son Banquet will be held at the Klemme Methodist Church Thursday evening Although this is sponsored by the men of the Methodist church, it is a community affair and it is hoped that it can be made into an annual affair. All men and boys in the community are invited. Tickets are only 25 cents per plate, so that everyone can surely afford to attend. Tickets may be procured at the bank, postoffice. Times Office, Rev. Ralston, Otto Lemke and Frank Gruetzmacher. However, anyone can come without a ticket as they can also be purchased at the door.

"Pop" Galbreth In Program

Rev. "Pop" Galbreth, of Mason City, has been secured as the speaker for the evening. Rev. Galbreth is an outstanding worker among boys and men and he is in great demand as a speaker for father and son gatherings. Other numbers of the program will include a "dad's quartette", as well as a "son's quartette" as well as other musical numbers.

BARZ AND JOST RE-ELECTED SCHOOL DIRECTORS

F. A. Arnold Named Treasurer For Two Year Term

The annual school election held Monday was a quiet affair as the present incumbents up for re-election were unopposed on the ticket. There were a total of sixty-seven ballots cast of which Albert Barz received 65 and H. F. Jost 63 for the three year term. F. A. Arnold received 65 votes for Treasurer for a two year term. Of the scattered votes W. C. Keraus received two votes and J. C. Thomas one vote for directors.

Says 20% Alcohol Mixture Works In Automobile

Fred J. Arnold, being somewhat curious as to how gasoline mixed with alcohol might work, tried it out the other day. Instead of using a ten per cent mixture as advocated he tried a twenty per cent mixture of denatured alcohol in his car. Fred says the mixture worked fine and he could see no difference in power or speed compared to good gasoline.

Fourteen Students Placed On Six Weeks Period Honor Roll

GIRLS OPERETTA WAS HUGE SUCCESS

Freshmen: B—Milvern Barz, and Gladys Meinders.

Sophomore class: A—Bessie Larson, Ruth Wellemeyer. B— Homer Schoenwetter.

Juniors: A—Novella Bredbenner. B— Helen Albers, Roy Arnold and Marie Stille.

Seniors: B—Mitchell Bock, Raymond Drake, LaVohn Larsen, Irma Schoenwetter, Nellie Stromer.

The operetta "Miss Caruthers' Return" was presented by the girls glee club under the direction of Miss Dallenbach Friday evening. The scene of the action was in a boarding school. Miss Caruthers (Irene Harms), the benefactor of the school, comes disguised as a maid to investigate conditions and confirm the report that the matron (Margaret Gates) has been using the school's money to buy beautiful clothes for her neice. Desdemona, (Vella Paul). Naturally many complications arise and humor is supplied through the remarks of the "maid" who aspires to be a second Mary Pickford. All the girls did their parts well. Nellie Stromer as Bridget, the Irish cook, Norma Baack and Jeanne Thad, girls in the school, and Irene Harms had solo parts, and were well supported by the chorus. Marie Stille, as a student studying piano, played the accompaniments in a splendid manner.

Between the first and second acts four children from Miss Wilson room. Marjorie Lemke, Shirley Johnson, Allen Barz and Merlin Buss, dressed in clever costumes entertained the audience by singing "The Owl and Pussy-cat" song.

We owe Mr. Wellemeyer a vote of thanks for the furniture used in the operetta and appreciate any other favors extended.

The proceeds will be used to buy the glee club awards or to help pay expenses to the music contest.

Grades 7 and 8

Norman Sampson, Nora Wellemeyer, Carmen Kluckhohn and Doris Ludeke had averages of 90 or above for the past six weeks.

In the seventh grade Buster Jorgenson and Paul Schuldt have averages above 90.

There were no absences in the seventh and eight grades last week and only one tardiness.

The eighth grade have just completed a study of "Snowbound". We are making a poster to illustrate the poem, with pictures cut from magazines.

The spelling contest is taking place in the local school this afternoon.

Grades 5 and 6

The following in grade five have an average of 90 or above Wayne Buseman, Dorance Grange and Elsie Ward.

Those in grade six with an average of 90 or above are Ruth Heginger, Doris Johnson, Velma Kaduce, and Lowell Ralston.

Arlene Blickenderfer was the one who was neither absent nor tardy in grade five this six weeks.

Ruben Grosshuesch, Chester Ward, Ruth Heginger. Doris Johnson, Velma Kaduce, Irene Suckow and Lowell Ralston were neither absent nor tardy in grade six this last six weeks.

Doris Johnson, Ruth Heginger, and Irene Suckow have perfect records in spelling for the past six weeks. They received 100 each week and also in their examination.

Edith Bachman was absent from grade six Tuesday.

Velma Kaduce was absent from the sixth grade Monday.

Grades 1 and 2

The first grade began reading in the Fast and Story First Readers Monday.

We have been reading stories about Holland so we illustrated them by making Dutch posters last week.

Leroy and Billy found a cocoon Friday and brought it in for our nature study.

Elwyn Jacobs, Eugene Johnson and Betty Jean Etchen had 100 in spelling for the week.

Those with averages of B or above in the second grade for the six week period were Elwyn Jacobs, Eugene Johnson, Betty Jean Etchen, Billy Grosshuesch and Harlan Buss.

Eugene Johnson had 100 in spelling for the six weeks.

Those with perfect attendance for the six weeks were Billy Grosshuesch, Elwyn Jacobs, Paul Ralston Betty Jean Etchen, Laurence Bock, Wesley Suckow, Robert Tiggeman, Marvin Wade, Betty B. Corrine Merkel and Esther Tiggeman.

HIGH SCHOOL OPERETTA TO BE GIVEN AGAIN TUESDAY EVE

Those who did not have the opportunity to see the high school girls operetta "Miss Caruthers' Return" will be given that chance as the girls will repeat the performance Tuesday evening, March 21st, beginning at 7:45 o'clock. The admission charge is very reasonable, being 25 cents for adults, 15 cents for high school students and 10 cents for grade children.

Those who saw the previous performance were high in their praise of the operetta. Those who have not seen the operetta should mark their calendars now and remember the date. The girls need more money in order that they can pay the necessary expenses of entering the coming music contest. We want Klemme High School represented, so here is your chance to help by attending the operetta.

THRUST And PARRY By Phil Osifer

It has been found that the easiest and quickest way to get your name on the ticket for mayor is to walk in on a town caucus and tell those present that you want the job. .....

—P. O.—

It seems that loose remarks about a gun club can do two things; first they seem to stir up a bit of feeling among club members and second, they serve to divulge identity. But who cares about that. I guess you all know me by this time.

—P. O.—

It seems that a small boy with galloping dominoes tho't once that he was good enough to take on an old regular. He don't think that way any more.

—P. O.—

We can all be sure that alcohol will work better in the gas tank than it will in the driver.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Curse of Intemperance.

I. The Effect of Alcohol Upon the Individual (Prov. 23:29-32).

1. Woes of those who indulge in wine (vv. 29, 30). No more graphic description of the evils of the winebibber has ever been given. It portrays in the most impressive manner the miseries that mark the drunkard's life. There are six of them.

a. Awful pain, causing them to cry out.

b. Bitter remorse. Many are the expressions of bitter regret upon the lips of the drunkard.

c. Strife and quarreling. The drunken man is always ready for a fight. He takes offense as well as gives it.

d. Complaining. The winebibber complains of everything, ill luck, broken fortune, ruined health, loss of friends, and even of God.

e. Wounds without cause. He has many wounds which might have been avoided—from fights in which a sober man would not have been engaged and from accidents which result from intoxication.

f. Redness of eyes, the bloodshot eyes of the tippler.

2. The drunkard's bitter end (vv. 32-35).

a. Acute miseries (v. 32.) "It biteth like a serpent, and stingeth like an adder." Strong drink, like the poison of the serpent, permeates the whole being, causing suffering and death.

b. Perversion of the moral senses (v. 33.) This excitement causes the eyes to behold strange things, fantastic images which are produced on the brain of the drunkard. The heart also utters perverse things.

c. He is insensible to danger. The drunkard is foolhardy in his acts.

d. He is insensible to pain (v. 35). He has many bruises and wounds for which he cannot account.

e. He is in abject bondage (v. 35). He is a bond slave to the ways of sin.

f. Hell at last, for no drunkard shall enter the kingdom of heaven (I Cor. 6:10).

3. The attitude enjoined (v. 31). It is "look not at it." Total abstinence is the only safe attitude toward strong drink.

II. Effect of Alcohol Upon the Nation (Isa. 28:1-4).

Just as indulgence in intoxicating drinks brings ruin to the individual, so it destroys the nation. God pronounced judgment upon Israel because of the sin of drunkenness (v. 1). Samaria was the capital city, therefore stands for the nation. Drunkenness seems to have been a national sin at this time (Isa. 5:11, 12; 7:5; Amos 2:6, 8, 12; 4:1; 6:6). Samaria's position was an enviable one; the whole nation was proud of her. The crown of pride whose beauty had been so marked was now fading through the blighting effects of drunkenness. Even as ruin came upon Israel, so will God visit judgment upon America for its drunkenness. The instrument by which the punishment of Israel was effected was the Assyrian (v. 2). The imagery of this verse shows that destruction was sudden, swift, and irresistible.

III. The Effect of Alcohol Upon National Rulers (Daniel 5:1-4).

Belshazzar's impious feast is an outstanding example of the effect of alcohol upon rulers. Note—

1. The attendants at the feast (vv. 1, 2). There were present Belshazzar the king, his wife and concubines, and a thousand of his lords.

2. Their behavior (vv. 3, 4).

a. They drank wine.

b. They committed sacrilege. They drank wine out of sacred vessels which had been taken out of the Temple, the house of God at Jerusalem.

c. They worshiped idols. They prayed to gods of gold and silver, of brass, or iron, wood, and stone, and challenged the rule of the living God. With the repeal of the Eighteenth amendment will come not only national disgrace but the loss of that high standard which has as a rule characterized American rulership from the President to the humblest civil officer. One shrinks from the contemplation of what awaits our nation in its determination to legalize the intoxicating cup.

WORDS OF WISDOM

The greatest firmness is the greatest mercy.—Longfellow.

We cannot be just unless we are kind-hearted.—Vauvenargues.

O heaven! were man but constant, he were perfect.—Shakespeare.

How few, like Daniel, have God and gold together.—George Villiers.

Trust reposed in noble natures obliges them the more.—Dryden.

Fame! it is the flower of a day, that dies when the next sun rises.—Ouida.

Few Idle Moments in Life of Colonial Wife

Friend Christopher Marshall, burgess of the City of Brotherly Love, while confiding that he himself was easily fatigued by exertion, was as eloquent in his admiration for his faithful, elderly spouse.

He writes, "As I have in this memorandum taken scarcely any notice of my wife's employments, it might appear as if her engagements were very trifling; the which is not the case but the reverse. . . . She is constantly employed in the affairs of the family, which calls for her constant attendance, not only to provide, but also to attend at getting prepared in the kitchen our bread, meat, pies, etc. . . . Added to which her attendance is demanded in the orchard, cutting and drying apples . . . in the making of cider without tools for the constant drink of the family, her seeing all our washing done and her fine clothes and my shirts, the which are all smoothed by her; added to this her making of 20 large cheeses, and that from one cow, besides her sewing, knitting, etc.

"Thus she looketh well to the ways of her household and eateth not the bread of idleness, yea, she also stretcheth out her hand to her needy friends and neighbors . . . My dear wife meets little respite all the day, the proverb being verified, that 'Woman's work is never done.'" With becoming piety the memorandum concludes, "For the constant assiduity and press of her daily and painful labor in the kitchen, the Great Lord of the Household will reward her in due time."

Device That Records Defects in Machinery

Patterned after the earthquake-detecting seismograph, a miniature instrument has been developed to measure the vibrations of heavy machinery running at full speed. Thus flaws in construction are detected and remedied before the piece leaves the factory.

The instrument records vibrations so slight that they can be measured only in thousandths of an inch, Popular Science Monthly reports. In use, the case of the instrument, containing a hanging lead weight, is bolted to the machine being tested, and vibrates with it. The lead weight, because of its inertia, tends to remain stationary. Bar magnets on the vibrating case generate a minute electric current as they move past coils on the stationary weight.

This current, recorded on a sensitive meter, affords an accurate measure of the degree of vibration.

Explaining "Yankees"

A Yankee is properly a New Englander or one of New England stock. By extension it meant, first, an inhabitant of the northern as distinguished from the southern United States. It now comprises all United States citizens.

The story is that in 1713 one Jonathan Hastings, a farmer of Cambridge, Mass., used the word as a puffing epithet, meaning genuine, or something that cannot be surpassed, as a "yankee" good horse, or "yankee" good cider, etc. The students at Harvard, catching up the term, called Hastings "Yankee Jonathan." It soon spread, and became the nickname of the New Englander.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Bobby Was Second

A writer of note tells the case of his five-year-old niece, who on her return from a party, was asked by her mother how she enjoyed the festivities.

"Oh, the party was all right, I guess," the little girl said, "but Bobby was no gentleman. He knocked me down."

"Well," from her mother, who believes in children fighting their own battles in life. "Why didn't you knock him down?"

"I already had," from the little girl, meekly.

Saw Crocodile as "Dragon"

A band of school children visiting the department where a great whale hangs overhead in the London Natural History museum, caught sight of several stuffed crocodiles on the floor and at once cried out: "Oh, see the dragon lying there!" Nor could one who knew the traditional pictures of St. George and the Dragon wonder at the innocent utterance of their alert little minds. For there is something very draconian in the appearance of these huge reptiles.

Odd Australian Creatures

Australia is so very, very old geologically that it is full of queer creatures. The duck-billed platypus and the kangaroo are known to all. But few know of the tiny kangaroo mouse, which is a small counterpart of the larger animal, and makes huge leaps when chased, just like the kangaroo. There is also a lizard which raises its forelegs from the ground when in flight and works its hind legs at a terrific pace like a cyclist pedalling in a race.

Fitted the Case

It has long been the custom for menus in railroad dining cars to be decorated with handsome views of scenery along the line. This, however, is the only time the practice has yielded us a paragraph. On the menu of a Burlington train appeared the word "Dinner," and above it a handsome view with the title: "Royal Gorge."—S. K. in the Spokane Spokesman-Review.

Billiards Once Played With Mallets as Cues

The origin of billiards is obscured in antiquity and is variously located in conflicting accounts. Spain, France, Italy and Germany all have been given credit for developing the game.

In some cases a writer contradicts himself on the subject. For instance, in Cotton's "Compleat Gamester" it is said that this "most gentile, cleanly and ingenious game" was first played in Italy, but on another page Spain is fixed as its birthplace.

But for the origin of the game it probably is necessary to look far back into history, for it is said that a king of Ireland in the Second century left behind him 55 billiard balls made of brass, together with cues of the same material.

Evidence indicates that the game once was played on the lawn, like modern croquet, and some authorities contend that in this form it was introduced into Europe by the Crusaders on their return from the East. The ball was struck with a mallet or a large cue and rolled through hoops. The hoops were replaced by pockets when the game was placed on a table and brought indoors.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Glass Given to World by Phoenician Sailors?

The discovery of glass, according to the Roman, Pliny, was accidental. Some Phoenician sailors, he relates, with a cargo of carbonate of soda, landed on the shore of Palestine. They could find no stones on which to place their cooking pots, so they substituted some lumps of their cargo for the stones.

When the fires were glowing, the carbonate of soda melted and with the sand of the shore produced a transparent stream which quickly hardened. This chain of circumstances, so Pliny says, led to subsequent experiments and the production of glass.

According to Egyptologists, the ancient Egyptians made sham jewels of glass at least 5,000 years before Christ. Scarabs of glass, imitation rubies, emeralds, sapphires have been found in old tombs. Glass beads were a medium of barter among many races.

In the days of ancient Rome, it is said, glass was more precious than gold or silver. The Emperor Hadrian received as a kingly gift several glass cups sent by an Egyptian priest as a peace offering. Nero paid, for two glass cups with double handles, a sum equal to $25,000.

Ancient Myth Exploded

Shoes which went with feminine costumes dating back to 1780, exhibited at Bristol university, England, proved too small for local women who served as manikins. Which is just further evidence that women's feet have become larger. The London Times suggests that this is due to the feminine desire to appear youthful, large feet being considered characteristic of the athletic younger generation. Thus disappears the tradition that small feet are a sign of aristocratic birth. This idea grew up with the conquest of England by the Normans nearly a thousand years ago. The conquerors were slender, small-boned people, while the Saxons were mostly large.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Modern English Witchcraft

During the Seventeenth century hundreds of women, usually innocent of any connection with the black art, were burnt in this country as witches. Many people imagine that witchcraft died out long ago, but that is by no means the case. In remote country districts it is still possible to purchase from a "wise woman" a love potion that will make you irresistible to the girl upon whom you have set your affections, or a charm that will ward off the attacks of disease. You may even obtain, at a price, help in casting the evil eye on your neighbor's crops or pigs or cattle.—London Tit-Bits.

Of French Royalty

Marie Antoinette's daughter, Marie Therese Charlotte, was born in December, 1778. After the French revolution she was released from prison December 19, 1795, and taken to Vienna. Thereafter she sought refuge in various countries, returning to France at intervals on the re-establishment of the kingdom. She married the Duc d'Angouleme in 1799. Her husband died on May 31, 1844, and the princess herself died at Frohsdorf October 28, 1851, and was buried at the Franciscan convent. She had no children.

Origin of Name Lost

There are no exact data as to the origin of the name of Liverpool, great English port. In 1191, John, afterward king and acting as regent, confirmed Henry Fitzwarine in the title to the town of Liverpool. Tradition gives the name as originating from the Norse Hlitharpollr (the pool of the slopes), or, in provincial English, lever (the yellow flag or rush) pool (an open pool at the mouth of the Mersey river, a factor in making Liverpool the famous port it afterward became).

Child's Work Table

One mother has taken a discarded card table and covered it with plain black oil cloth. She keeps this in the play room and what fun the children have when they want to play games, paint, cut out paper dolls, etc. The oil cloth will wipe off easily and if scratched, it is not serious, as it may be replaced very cheaply.

Nothing New

There just isn't anything new. We go into ecstasies about a lovely new perfume. We go shopping and lay in a supply of bath towels of the most modern sort—rough, soft, perhaps designed in angles and straight lines. We think we are most modern. Then we read of excavations of a tomb 4000 years old in Egypt which have brought forth the most attractive perfume bottles once filled with the most alluring scents; and bath towels woven in plain and zigzag stripes, sometimes hemmed along the edges, with little knots throughout their weaving to make them rough like our modern Turkish towels.

Spelling Not Paramount

Gen. Zachary Taylor, who became President largely because his victory over General Santa Anna at the battle of Buena Vista turned the Mexican war to the triumph of the United States, was not a good speller. He wrote an account of the battle in which he left the a out of reach, and used very long sentences, one of which was eighty-seven type lines. He is accused of grammatical errors also, which are not surprising in a sentence more than 500 words long. But one may excuse that in a general who with 5,400 untrained men whipped 20,000 fresh troops.

Early American Furniture

The furniture made in America during the Hepplewhite and Sheraton periods compares very favorably with English pieces of these periods. While lacking on the one hand the greater sophistication of the pieces made for the nobility and wealthier classes in England, it seldom shows the crudity of English provincial furniture, and there is often a nice balance and a delicacy of line and proportion that made these pieces most attractive. The best furniture of this type seems to have been made in New England, New York and Maryland.

Hard Labor

A good time means going to the races, playing bridge, drinking cocktails, dancing till four in the morning, and talking about nothing. And meanwhile the beautiful, the incredible world in which we live awaits exploration, and life is short and time flows stanchlessly, like blood from a mortal wound. And there is all knowledge, all art. There are men and women, the innumerable living, and, in books, the souls of those dead who deserved to be immortal. Heaven preserve me, in such a world as this, from having just a good time.—Aldous Huxley.

Old English Church of Interest to Americans

Southwark cathedral, one of London's ancient churches, known to Londoners as the "Church in the Hole," is falling into decay, says an article in the Montreal Family Herald. Shakespeare used to attend divine services there. His brother, Edmund, is buried in the church. John Harvard, whose donations founded Harvard university, was baptized there in 1607. Some years ago the alumni of Harvard rebuilt one of the chapels. Southwark cathedral is the only English church in which a Fourth of July celebration ever was held. This took place some years ago. Shakespeare and his contemporaries used to come over to Southwark to see their plays produced. They often lodged in Southwark and attended the cathedral services. In recognition of these visits, there is now a memorial window to the famous Elizabethan dramatist in the cathedral.

Washington's Supremacy

Many estimates of George Washington's character have been written, but perhaps none is more interesting than that of the historian George Bancroft, who summarized the great first President as follows: "His faculties were so well balanced and combined that his constitution, free from excess, was tempered evenly with all the elements of activity and his mind resembled a well-organized commonwealth; his passions, which had the intensest vigor, owned allegiance to reason; and with all the fiery quickness of his spirit, his impetuous and massive will was held in check by consummate judgment. He had in his composition a calm which gave him in moments of highest excitement the power of self-control and enabled him to excel in patience, even when he had most cause for disgust."

Japanese Customs Odd to Visiting Westerners

At the door of a theater or a restaurant the Japanese hand the attendant their shoes instead of their hats. At a dinner the sweets, if they come at all, are served early in the meal instead of toward the end. Acting in the theater is modeled not on life, but on the movements of dolls in marionette shows, and in the classic "No" drama the possibility of showing emotion by facial expression is eliminated by the use of carved wooden masks.

And, where the people have not been "civilized" out of their natural courtesy, a chauffeur will refuse to pass another on the road—from motives of politeness. To us the Japanese method of beckoning would signify "go away." Boats are beached stern foremost; horses are backed into their stalls, sawing and planing are

Ancients Named Fishes Well Known to Anglers

Few fishermen have ever given thought to the derivation of the names of the fishes which they know so well. There are a host of fishes named after the animals they resemble, such as the dogfish and catfish. The derivation of the names sunfish and bluegill is obvious, but where did the word trout come from?

Trout was originally tructa, which in turn is lost in a very old Greek word, meaning eat or gnaw, says William Beebe in his book "The Log of the Sun." Perch harks back to the Latin perca, and the Romans had it from the Greeks, among whom it meant spotted. The Romans said minutus when they meant small, and nowadays when we speak of any very small fish, we say minnows.

The pike is so named from the sharp-pointed snout and long slim body, bringing to mind the old-time weapon of that name, while pickerel means doubly a little pike, the "er" and "el" being diminutives. Smelt was formerly applied to any small fish and comes perhaps from the Anglo-Saxon smeolt, which meant smooth. Salmon comes directly from the Latin salmo, which means to leap. Sturgeon comes from the Saxon stirga, literally, a stirrer, from the habit of the fish to stir up the mud at the bottom of the water.

Intricate Problem Is History of Mankind

Five hundred years may not seem to be many if put against the years of which man has left written or pictured record of himself. The first we know of him in that way is of a certain King Menes of Egypt and of the first dynasty, who met an unfortunate death in an encounter with a hippopotamus. The date of this tragic accident, singular as the first record in man's history, was no further back than 4,400 years before the Christian era—say, 6,000 years ago. But what is that in comparison with all the years that man has been a reasoning, problem-solving creature on the earth? Worked flints have been found in strata of the end of the Pilocene period, at a date reckoned by geologists to be about 600,000 B. C. A creature that could shape those flints, adapting them, as we have to suppose, to a preconceived end, is surely to be complimented with the name of "man." The few years for which man has left us any records other than his handiworks, the tools and artistic things that he has wrought, and, especially, those great edifices and tombs made for his dead, are, therefore, almost as nothing in the entire story's length.—Horace G. Hutchinson in London Quarterly Review.

End of "Charter Oak"

The Charter Oak in Hartford, Conn., was blown down in a heavy windstorm at a quarter to one on the morning of August 21, 1856. A rough shell of stump was left standing about 10 feet from the ground. On the following day people crowded to see it and a guard was placed to preserve it from "relic hunters." Colt's Armory band played dirges and patriotic music over the fallen monarch for two hours at noontime. At sundown all the bells in the city were tolled. A few years later Charter Oak avenue was laid over the site. The remaining roots were dug up and a simple slab was placed in the retaining wall by the avenue.

"Missouri Compromise"

It is quite true that Henry Clay was not the author of a first Missouri compromise, passed in 1820, although he is given credit for a suggestion which was utilised by the senate in a bill to admit Maine as a free state and Missouri as a slave state. As a result of this controversy a joint committee was appointed which agreed to admit Maine and Missouri separately, leaving tthe Thomas amendment to the Missouri bill, which prohibited slavery in all the remainder of the Louisiana territory north of 36 degrees and 30 minutes north latitude (the southern boundary of Missouri).—Washington Star.

The Devil's Marks

In many parts of the Emerald isle there are to be found traces of the devil. In beautiful Wicklow is the Devil's glen cut out by the angry slashings of Old Nick's tail when he failed to lure a fair maiden from her convent. In Tipperary is the Devil's bite—a huge bite taken out of the mountain range and spat down to the plain below, where it still stands as the Rock of Cashel. Then, of course, in Killarney is the Devil's punch bowl—but all it contains in these days is pure water.

Joy in Work

Is there not rather a tendency as we grow older to lose our enthusiasm, to get a little dull, a little blunted, and to say that we have sobered down? Yet how a joy in work carries a man on! It drives him forward in the absorbing pursuit of an ideal, through the rough and smooth places of the world, forgetting all else but the object of his search, in invention, in labor, in art, and—yes—in holiness—Canon Newbolt.

Pure Oxygen

Pure oxygen, except under pressure, is not harmful to the human body. Those experimenters who are engaged in energy metabolism studies, in which oxygen with little air is consumed for a period of from 10 to 15 minutes, will welcome this opinion of a doctor writing for Hygeia Magazine.

Silk Worms "Smuggled" Into Europe by Monks

The discovery of the thread of the cocoon is credited to a wife of a Chinese emperor as far back as 2600 B. C., but it was not until the Sixth century since the birth of Christ that the manufacture of silk worked westward into Europe. The first of the wôrms to be brought west were carried by two Persian monks in hollow canes, who brought them to Constantinople.

After eventually reaching France, the silk industry received a considerable acceleration which later drew England into the field, for many silk weavers were forced from France by the edict of Nantes. Seeking a supply of cocoons, the English sought to foster the production of the silk worm in the Colonies. The first were introduced into Virginia, with bounties offered for the production of silk. Virginians found, however, that tobacco was a more profitable crop and the silk worm languished.

Efforts were also made to establish the worm in South Carolina and in Connecticut, while 75 or so years ago an attempt was made in California, but they all came to nothing.

Made Religious Rite of the Brushing of Teeth

The ancient Indo-Europeans of 1700 B. C. made a religious rite of the brushing of teeth, according to Dr. George V. Bobrinskoy, assistant professor of Sanskrit at the University of Chicago.

These early Indians had no tooth pastes, but they brushed the teeth thoroughly, he said.

For a tooth brush, they used a twig taken from a living tree, a species of fig tree being recommended for the purpose, he continued. It was imperative that the bark remain on the twig. The "tooth brush" could be used but once.

There was a long list of days when the rite must either be omitted or performed in a different manner, he said, and on such days the cleansing of the mouth by rinsing with twelve mouthfuls of water was substituted.

A prayer to be delivered before and after the brushing of the teeth was translated as "O Lord of the Forest, grant us long life, strength, glory, progeny, cattle, riches and knowledge."

When Bread Is "Stale"

Definition and explanation of staling: "It is rather difficult to define stalement fully in a few words. From the standpoint of the consumer, bread is considered stale when, measured by the sense of feeling and taste by contact with the skin and palate, it appears dry and harsh, and not acceptable as fresh. There are, of course, various degrees of staleness, and there exists no absolutely definite dividing line between the so-called freshness and staleness of the loaf. In general, however, bread which is termed fresh possesses a crumb which is somewhat translucent, elastic and springy, while the crumb of stale bread is more opaque and at first tough, then later crumbly or hard, with a noticeable lack of flavor."

Famous Fishing Ground

"Bank" in connection with the Grand Bank of Newfoundland, means an undersea elevation which produces a shallow. The Grand bank off the coast of Newfoundland, which is 300 miles long and less than 600 feet under sea level, is believed to be the top of an old submerged mountain range. It is famous as a fishing ground because codfish resort there every year in May and June in enormous hordes to feed on the crustaceans and mollusks developed in the shoals as the result of sea plants brought in by the meeting of two currents.

Australian Ocean Gems

Practically all the opals in the world now come from Australia. And its pearl fisheries have produced some fine gems, including the unique Southern Cross, a series of pearls joined together to form a perfect cross, which the finder regarded as a direct sign from heaven. Today "pearl" buttons on shirts are more valuable in Australia than pearls, for the pearls fished in one year recently were worth only £20,000, whereas the oyster and trochus shells, which used to be wasted, were worth £416,000.

Immense Stalactite Cavern

One of the largest stalactite caverns in the world is in Slovakia. It has been given the name Domenica after the mountain within which it lies. The cave is nearly 5,000 yards in length and consists of a labyrinth of corridors and hall-like caverns. The stalactites take the form of waterfalls, veils, clusters of water lilies and mounds which look like coral islands. A professor of Prague university has established that the caves were once inhabited by primitive man.

Removing the Beard

There is no record as to when men first shaved. Drawings and pictures in ancient history, such as that of Egypt, Chaldea and Ur, all depict men being clean shaven. The American Indian used a sharp flint to shave himself and it is presumed that in the earliest stages of history prehistoric man used the same thing. As steel was known in Egypt and Chaldea, it is believed that these people made some instrument with which they could shave themselves.

Gardens! NOW is the time to---

The average gardener may be confused by seed catalogs because of the vast numbers of varieties. In improving a variety, the seedsman may give the improved strain a new name, with the result that the same variety may go under many different names.

The Vegetable Crops Subsection of the Iowa Agricultural Experiment Station has tested many varieties which have been introduced within recent years. A list of dependable varieties will be sent to anyone interested. This list includes new worthwhile varieties as well as valuable standard sorts.

Several garden crops are usually planted in hot beds or indoors and later transplanted. The most common of these are cabbage and tomato.

The United States Department of Agriculture has introduced some new outstanding varieties of tomatoes during the last five years. Break-O-Day, Pritchadr, Marglobe and Marvelosa are ll good varieties. Break-O-Day is fairly early but not a very good yielder at Ames. Marglobe is a late variety but produces fine red, meaty fruits. Marvelosa is a pink (purple) variety; the others mentioned are red. Earliana and Bonny Best are good early varieties and Stone is a good late variety, especially for canning.

Since cabbage yellows is a troublesome disease in Iowa and since it lives over in the soil from year to year, it is usually advisable to plant resistant varieties of this vegetble. Iacope and Marion Market are early this vegetable aab a rOor etaoin round-headed resistant cabbages. Globe and Wisconsin All Head are good resistant second early varieties and Wisconsin No. 8 is a large headed, resistant late type.

Grand Rapids is the best leaf lettuce. although some prefer the Black Seeded Simpson. Simpson has a thicker slightly darker green leaf and makes a better head or bunch Head lettuce does not usually make a good solid head under Iowa conditions, although if the plants are started in a hotbed or greenhouse and transplanted to the field about April 15 they may head up fairly well.

King of Denmark is probably better than other varieties of spinach because it will not go to seed as quickly as the others. It has a very thick dark green leaf. Virginia Savoy is the earliest variety, but quickly goes to seed, especially in a warm spring. New Zealand spinach may be grown in the garden in order to have greens all summer. It is sown in the spring and can be cut all summer long if the plants are not cut too severely.

JUSTICE SUCKOW GIVES DEFT. VERDICT IN LAND LEASE CASE

Justice Henry Suckow held court Saturday to hear evidence and render a verdict in a land lease case of S. B. DeArmon, agent for the Federal Land Bank, Omaha, plaintiff against Albert Hammond, et al, defendants.

The case grew out of a land deal and involved the validity of a lease claimed by the defendant Hammond who was represented by Atty. Frank Senneff. The plaintiff did not appear in court but was represented by his lawyer, Attorney Dunn, of Mason City.

Albert Hammond had leased the land from his father, Ben Hammond on an oral agreement. This was said to have been given in July. In October S. B. DeArmon, in a transaction with Ben Hammond, supposed he obtained a lease. DeArmon then is said to have leased the land to a Mr. Dirks. who intended to move onto the farm, which we believe is in Avery township. Hammond. however claimed he had a lease and so would not move. The evidence of both sides was presented and Justice Suckow rendered a verdict for the defendant. This leaves Mr. Dirks in a predictament as he claims he had paid down a sum for the lease.

There was a large crowd of farmers in town Saturday to hear how the case would come out.

BIG SNOW STORM AND SLEET TIED UP NORTH IOWA

A rain Saturday which in the afternoon turned to sleet and later to snow, left the greater part of the state uder a blanket of snow that was from twelve to eighteen inches in depth on the level.

All traffic was tied up Sunday as highways were blocked with snow drifts that were ten feet high in many places. Snow plows were pressed into service Sunday, but drifts filled in as fast as they could be opened. Highways were open to traffic Monday.

Tuesday, March 21st was the first day of spring but appeared more like a mid-winter day.

Saturday night's snow was the greatest of the season and in fact more than we have had here for a few years.

W. R. HAMILTON GAVE ADDRESS TO STUDENT BODY THURSDAY

Local Teachers Attended District Meeting At Mason City

Doris Johnson, 11, sixth grade student of Miss Norma Barz, won first in the spelling contest here on Wednesday. Norman Sampson, eighth grade student, won second place. Doris Johnson will represent Klemme in the county contest at Garner Saturday.

Mr. W. R. Hamilton, president of the Hamilton College of Commerce Mason City, Iowa, addressed the student body Thursday afternoon. Mr. Hamilton is so well informed that his talks are always both entertaining and instructive. He emphasized the thought that we need a more optomistic outlook during these troubled times. He also said there was every indication that when conditions did get back to normal there would be a demand for people who were well educated. Mr. Hamilton is alays a welcome visitor in our high school and we shall look forward to his coming again.

The school enjoyed a vacation on Friday while the teachers attended the district teachers meeting at Mason City. There were a number of interesting speakers at the convention and the senior class of the Mason City high school presented the play "Mignonette" to the visitors Friday evening.

Music Contest This Week at Britt

Our glee club and orchestra will go to Britt for the music contest which is to be held there Friday and Saturday. They will meet hard competition and if there are those who can attend the contest, we know their presence will be appreciated.

Grades 7 and 8

The eighth grade English class held two debates last week. Tuesday the question was Resolved: that it is better to live in the country and work on a farm than to live in a city and work in a mill or a factory. The judges decided in favor of the negative side. On Thursday the affirmative side of the question, Resolved: That Abraham Lincoln is a better model to follow than any other great American, was declared the winner.

The seventh and eighth grades occupied themselves with jig-saw puzzles whle awaiting their turn at the spelling contest Wednesday. Doris Ludeke brought "Snowbound' for the eighth grade which was especially interesting as we have just completed a study of that poem.

Ruth Blickenderfer as absent on Thursday because of illness.

Five people were absent from the seventh and eighth grades Monday because of the snow.

Grades 5 and 6

Grades five and six had perfect attendance records this past week.

Doris Johnson won the grade spelling contest Wednesday afternoon. She will represent us in the county contest at Garner Saturday.

In the fifth grade spelling contest Elnor Schuldt was first, Dorance Grange second and Elsie Ward, third.

In the sixth grade Doris Johnson was first, LaRayne Stille, 2nd and Velma Kaduce third.

Grades 3 and 4

Mrs. Drake was a visitor in our room last weekk.

The third grade have made Dutch windmills of all colors. We are studying Holland.

George Washington's Mt. Vernon home is finished and we have it on display along with his friends and servants.

We are studying "Dogs" in Nature Study now.

Those who had an average of 90 or above last six weeks were Margaret Ralston, Merlin Buss. Charles Bock, Garland Brinkman, Jacqueline Kudje, Marjorie Lemke and Shirley Johnson.

Grades 1 and 2

The second grade has been studying about letter writing. Monday, each child wrote a letter without help.

We have been learning the names of coins, how to add and subtract dollars and cents and also how to make change in small amounts. To create interest in the work we are building a play store.

Mrs. Etchen, Mrs. Johnson and Miss Becker came to the spelling contest in our room Wednesday afternoon.

FORMER KLEMME GIRL TAKES MARRIAGE VOWS

Miss Eva Stokesbary of Des Moines, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Stokesbary of this city and Mr. William Sullivan of Des Moines were married Tuesday, March 21. 1933.

Miss Eva spent most of her life in Klemme, attending the local schools and graduating with the Class of '32. She is a very attractive young woman and has a pleasing personality and should make a helpful mate for the mate she hs chosen.

We wish them much success and happiness in their life's venture.

FORMER KLEMME MAN TELLS OF RECENT EARTHQUAKE

"Bob" Writes Brother Of Disaster

Long Beach, California
Monday, March 13, 1933

Dear Brother Fred:

Friday afternoon Nellie and I had been down to see the old ship "Old Ironsides", and had just returned home. We were in the kitchen, had supper on the stove, with four gas jets lighted, when suddenly the whole house began to dance sideways madly, and all the canned goods on the shelves showered down on our heads. All dishes, pots and pans, food, etc., were shattered in small bits upon the floor. This was at six minutes to six on Friday evening. While this wild quaking was going on I tried to turn off the gas jets and when that was done I made for the back door, all the while being showered with dishes, etc. Nellie was out just a ltile before me. She turned white as a sheet and said, "Earthquake." As soon as we were outside the second shock came. Our copper wire clothesline which was strung between our garage and the neighbors garage was usually slack about 2 feet and the buildings must have swayed apart enough to snap that copper wire as it is parted in two now. The garages, however are still on their same foundations and in good condition. The house is not damaged. It remains on its foundation and has no cracks except one porch pillar which is cracked at the base. This is really miracle as every other house in this neighborhood is shaken off the foundation and the porch pillars are down on lots of the houses. Half of the houses are off their foundations into the basements—so we really came out very nicely ourselves. Neither one of us has a scratch.

All the brick buildings are pretty well collapsed here in Long Beach. That is, those that are not reinforced—well even some reinforced brick buildings are down. Only the reinforced concrete buildings stood intact. Practically all schools are wrecked and churches as well. The large store and office buildings downtown have windows broken, walls collapsed, etc. It as very fortunate for this city that the navy was anchored here at the time because there now are about 8 sailors to every block. They are patrolling the whole town, even the residential sections and there is absolutely no chance of any looting. The roads are patrolled and no outsiders are permitted to enter. Only people whose homes are in Long Beach are allowed to come in. So you see the place is not jammed with sightseers and thieves. Then too, they must keep strangers away because we have a free "soup line" and everyone can get free meals down at Bixby Park.

When this started on Friday night all people deserted their houses and sat or stood around little fires on vacant lots. They put up tents or tried to sleep in their cars. As the tremors are still going on, the people are still outside and after 2 or 3 sleepless nights everyone looks pretty tough. The first night was foggy. cold, damp and miserable and the full moon became hidden in the mist. That moon had a huge circle around it for two nights and it sure meant "storm". However, the last two nights have not been foggy although it has been very cold. (right here came a stronge quake 11:30 Monday morning). Now the sirens are going by. All the ambulances go out whenever there is a strong quake. The ground is still shaking. We had a good strong one this moring at 5:45 and this one just now was good and powerful. At present we are seated in the tent in our back yard hoping that these things will soon let up. It surely is an extraordinary type of earthquake. However it is covering such a small area, centered in Long Beach. that it surely is intense.

The chief trouble now is that the water supply is unsafe as it is mixed with sewage. We cannot use the water for cooking at all. All gas is completely shut off and for that matter our range and water heater are somewhat pulled apart anyway. However, we have electricity.

Friday night, the first night, we slept in the car or rather just sat up in the car, on the alert. There was some panic about a tidal wave and lots of people left town. Thousands headed for high ground. The government has airplanes out watching for a tidal wave but so far they report all quiet.

Saturday night we had the tent out here and laid on the cot. very alert, ready for anything.

Sunday night we rested a little on the cot in the tent, but Nellie is not rested at all. We have not taken our clothes off since we put them on Friday morning.

However, the sun is shining, the birds are singing and we are going to prepare a little lunch now on the gasolne stove out in the open. Rene is here and is writing this letter for me. Now for the lunch in the garden.

Will you please tell the other brothers that I have written and all is well. There is no chance between quakes to do much writing. This is really a community or family letter so you may show it to the others as direct news from me as these shocks keep me on my toes and I can't write to all the boys at this time. Let me hear from you at once.

Yours,
John Henschen

ONE HUNDRED FIFTY ATTEND FATHER AND SON BANQUET

Rev. Galbreth Gave Fine Address To Men And Boys

The first annual father and son banquet which was held at the Methodist Church last Thursday evening was a success beyond all anticipation as there were very near one hundred and fifty men and boys present.

The Ladies Aid served a banquet at seven o'clock which was followed by a good program of varied entertainment. Special numbers included a "dad's" quartet composed of Messrs. Keraus, Waterman, Smith, and Patet. Mitchell Bock and Roy Arnold both gave readings. Max Barz and Milvern Barz gave a cornet and clarinet duet. They were accompanied by Miss Ford at the piano. The young men's quartet, which is composed of Otho Keraus, James Carlson, Clarence Kluckhohn and Clarence Lemke, gave an excellent number.

The address of the evening was given by "Pop" Galbreth, of Mason City. He brought out many fine points in his talk, which was well divided as to sound, wholesome advice for both the men and boys.

Rev. Ralston acted as master of ceremonies for the evening.

Young Men Were Real Dads

Frank Gibbs, Clair West, Jack Wellemeyer and Sumner Trumbell should each be presented some kind of medal for the interest they took in the affair. Each of the men brought with them half dozen or more boys and from all appearances they were having as much fun as the boys—maybe more.

The success of this first banquet will no doubt make it an annual affair for the community and the next banquet should have an attendance of at least twice the number of Thursday night's meeting.

REVIEW: JESUS OUR EXAMPLE IN SERVICE.

GOLDEN TEXT—How God anointed Jesus of Nazareth with the Holy Ghost and with power: who went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the devil; for God was with him. Acts 10.38

PRIMARY TOPIC—Stories of Jesus.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus Shows Us How.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Living Like Jesus.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Jesus Our Example in Service.

The method of review must always be determined by the genius of the teacher, the grade of the class, and the aptitude of the pupils. Three methods for the Senior, Young People and Adult classes are suggested, the second and third of which are adaptations of the method suggested by the Lutheran Lesson committee.

I. The Summary Method.

In the use of this method the principal facts of each lesson will be brought out with the leading teachings. Assignments should be made a week in advance.

II. The Key Note of the First Six Chapters of Mark From Which the Lessons of the Quarter Have Been Taken.

Chapter 1: Jesus as the Gospel Preacher. His preparation was in the wilderness alone with God. It was in Galilee that he called his first disciples and began to preach. While the synagogue was the best place, naturally when the leaders became hostile, the desert, the mountain, and even a fishing boat was his pulpit.

Chapter 2: Jesus as the Teacher. He gave them a new conception of the forgiveness of sins, fasting, and the Sabbath.

Chapter 3: Jesus as the Messiah. He chose twelve of his ambassadors, being somewhat analogous to the twelve tribes in the old dispensation.

Chapter 4: Jesus as the Interpreter of the Kingdom of God. Three outstanding parables reveal its characteristics.

Chapter 5: Jesus as the Great Physician. The healing of the demoniac, the woman with the issue of blood, restoring to life of the daughter of Jairus are outstanding examples.

Chapter 6: Jesus as the Greater Provider An outstanding example of his ability to provide for the disciples is seen in the feeding of the five thousand.

III. A Method Which Embraces the Grouping of the Quarter's Lessons Under Significant Headings.

1. Some helpers of Jesus (Lessons 1 and 6). The helpers indicated are John the Baptist who is the first recorded helper, and the twelve apostles. It is strikingly significant that though Jesus possessed all power he chose to place in the hands of ordinary men the continuance of his work. He is able to use men of varied gifts and temperaments, as shown in the twelve.

2. Some works of Jesus (Lessons 2, 3 and 4). He met and overcame the Devil in the wilderness. He cast out demons. He healed the sick and he forgave sins.

3. Some teachings of Jesus (Lessons 5, 7 and 8). Because the traditions of the Jews had obscured the law, he taught the higher meaning of the law, especially as it pertained to the Sabbath. By means of parables, he took the common things of life and clothed them with vital and profound significance.

4. The power of Jesus (Lessons 9, 10 and 11). This power was exhibited over the forces of nature, demons, physical ailments, and even death itself.

5. An enemy of Jesus (Lesson 12). The Devil is the supreme enemy of Jesus. Anything that hinders the progress of the gospel may be considered as an enemy. In this light he has many enemies, among which may be mentioned alcohol and narcotics. The drinking of intoxicating liquors and smoking of cigarettes, etc., dull man's moral and spiritual natures and incapacitate him for the highest and most efficient service.

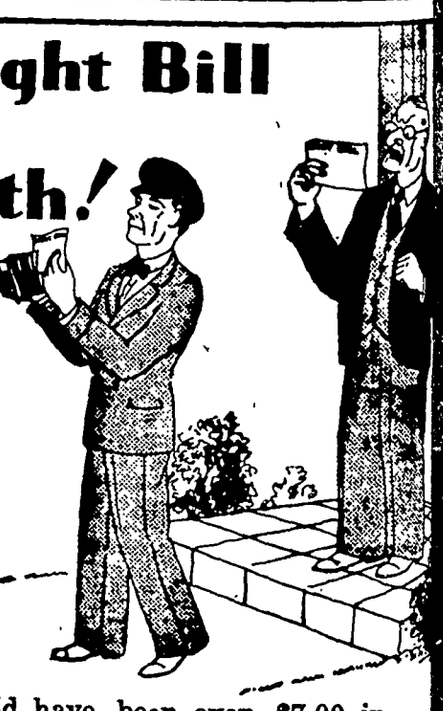
Your Light Bill $7.00 a Month!



IF you are an average consumer your light bill instead of being $2.80* would have been over $7.00 in 1929 had electric rates all gone up like the cost of living. In such a case you would also be due a sharp reduction in rates today. But electric rates did not go up in good times! They have been steadily reduced for the last 25 years. How then, can anyone seriously argue that the price of electricity should come down just because other prices have dropped? If your electric bill isn't lower today than ever before, it is because you are using more electricity and getting more for

*Remember that you may not be an average user. If it happened that in 1929 your monthly electric bill was $7.00 it would have been $17.50 if electricity had gone up like other commodities.

Gardens! NOW is the time to---

The gardener can prevent a lot of disappointment later in the year if he selects his vegetable seeds carefully.

The Deparment of Horticulture of Iowa State College has tested many vegetable varieties and has found these best for verage Iowa conditions. A circular on the home garden with all common varieties of vegetables suitable for Iowa and information on planting will be sent upon request by the Bulletin Office Iow State College, Ames, Iowa.

There are a great many varieties of onions, but not many are adapted to Iowa conditions. The Red Globe, White Globe and Yellow Globe are dependable. If a milder onion is preferred, the Riverside Sweet Spanish (Valencia) is good, but cannot be stored as long as the Globe types. Onion transplants can be purchased which have been shipped in from the southern states, especially Texas. These plants are usually of the Bermuda type and re very mild, but will not keep in storage.

The Alaska pea is the earliest variety, but it is not as sweet as many others. The seed can be sown as soon as the ground can be worked Little Marvel pea is sweet, of high quality and is early maturing. The Perfection is a desirable variety for canning.

Pencil Pod Black Wax, Round Pod Kidney Wax and Sioux Stringless Wax are good yellow varieties of beans. The Sioux is the most prolific. Giant Stringless Green Pod, Tendergreen and Full Measure are good green varieties. There are many good green varieties, but these are entirely stringless and yield well under Iowa conditions. Kentucky wonder is a good pole green bean and Kentucky Wonder Wax is a good pole wax bean.

A new variety of beet was introduced last year by the Ohio Experimental Station and is called the Ohio Canner variety. This beet is smaller than the old standard varieties, but is uniform in size and the internal color is darker. It is a good beet for Iowa conditions.

Chantenay, Ox Heart, Danvers Half Long and Amsterdm Coreless re good carrot varieties.

Crimson Giant is a new variety of radish that has become popular. It is a round, red radish and doesn't get pithy as the radish attains large size.

Purple Top White Globe is a dependable variety of turnip. Round-rooted types do better than the flat roots in Iowa. This crop does best when sown in August.

Golden Gem, Sunshine and Golden Bantam are good early sweet corn varieties. Country Gentleman and Evergreen are good late varieties. If any Iowa gardeners are unable to grow sweet corn because of bacterial wilt in th soil, the Vegetable Crips Section of the Iowa Agricultural Experiment Station will furnish a sample hybrid, resistant to the disease, for trial.

Mrs. Henry Buseman and daughter, Esther, and Mrs. Frank Roths were Garner visitors last Wednesday.

Henry Buseman and sons, Francis and Franklyn, and Clarence Swalve were Goodell callers Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Walt Thada and daughter, Jeanne, and Miss Marie Stille, were Mason City visitors on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Paulson and Mr. McGrieve and family of Britt were Thursday evening visitors at the Chris Anderson home.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Keraus drove to Geneva Thursday afternoon to visit with his relatives there for a few weeks.

The 4-H Club girls of Avery Township met at the home of Miss Jane Dutheridge Saturday afternoon and their leader, Mrs. C. A. Arnold, presented some very helpful ideas.

Mrs. Lee Klotzbach surprised her husbnd Sunday evening b yasking in some friends to play whist and incidently help Lee celebrate his birthday. A delicious lunch was served at a late hour.

One of the county snow plow outfits was operating in this vicinity Tuesday afternoon and plowed the snow off the streets of Klemme, and opened the roads to the highway. The roads all over the county are now pretty well opened again.

Last Monday Rev and Mrs. Ralston served a delightful dinner to all the pastors and their wives in the county. After dinner the men held their monthly business meeting while the women spent the afternoon visiting.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mueller and son moved into the Wm. Bachman house, which they recently purchased, last Thursday and are now comfortably located. Mr. Bachman has moved out on the farm with his son Clarence. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hughes moved into the house vacated by the Muellers, last Friday.

Rev. and Mrs. Grosshuesch and smaller children and Herman Kuhlman left early Wednesday morning for Menno, South Dakota, being called there by the death of an Aunt of Mrs. Grosshuesch's. We hope they have a safe journey and will not find roads blocked with this heavy amount of snowfall.

Last Friday evening a few friends gathered at the home of Harvey Barz and assisted him in celebrating his birthday. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jacobs; Mr. and Mrs. Will Kirkwood Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Neuberger and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rosendahl. A fine lunch was served.

Not many were out Sunday to attend the church services, at the Klemme churches. But we will all have to take our hats off to Mrs. E. J. Arnold and Evelyn and Bruce, as they walked in from the country and attended Sunday School. We believe Mrs. E. J. Arnold and the children and Mrs. Martha Bredbenner and Novella and Frank Gruetzmacher have about a seven year perfect attendance record for Sunday School. They were all present Sunday morning.

THRUST And PARRY
By
Phil Osifer

It takes a real cook to make tea with cold water. I don't know any real cooks.

—P. O.—

Both cats were found dead under an overturned wash boiler. If they were alive when the thing upset on them, I'll bet there was some fast action for a while. Ah me, such is the end of all wandering tomcats.

—P. O.—

Then there is the boy who buys a whole pie, eats one piece at a meal (as good boys should) leaving the rest of the pie in in the show case for other mouths to water at but not chew. Kibitzer No. 145.678,901.

—P. O.—

I guess business has not been so good for the Old Regular lately. He has his own galloping dominoes now and his answer to an inquiry was, "Yep, they sevens strong." I believed him!

—P. O.—

And then there was the guy that thought he would be real nice to his girl and send her copies of the Times so she could keep up with her column reading, but he soon quit because she was eternally asking him to explain the hidden meaning in some paragraphs.

—P. O.—

Some folks might say that the recent storm was Old Man Winter's last gasp, but it seemed to me like a 10-guage double barrelled sneeze. No-o? Did you try to get your car on the road Monday morning.

"P. O." Should Stand For "Pussy 'Xterminator"

Phil Osifer in his recent cat articles seems very keen about trying to explain why two cats were so suddenly conspicuous by their absence. Must we hint that "Phil" has a mania for gathering broken sickle points which he fashions into arrow tips and with that instrument of warfare no pussy is safe. "Phil" is known to be quite an expert with the long bow. Can there be any connection between missing pussy cats and "Phil's" steel pointed arrows?

Liberty Schedule

Sunday School at 10:15 A. M.
Morning Worship at 11:30 A. M.

Morning worship will be conducted by Rev. George Wessel of Dows, Ia. a former pastor in Klemme. He will speak in the morning at 10:00 o'clock in Klemme and at 11:20 o'clock in Liberty and at 7:45 in Klemme again. We hope that every member of the church and their friends will be present to partcipate in these services.

The storm hindered last Sunday. However it will no doubt be better this Sabbath. Your pastor will preach for Brother Wessell at Dows in the morning but will be back for the evening service here.

Next Sunday is the beginning of our special meetings. Let us have a great day. Every night next week our District Supt. will be with hs in the services. Let us put aside all social affairs and devote our time and thought to these meetngs.

WORTHIE USHER TO OPEN NEW GROCERY STORE AT ROWAN

Worthie Usher has rented a building and has purchased a new stock of groceries and will open a store at Rowan with a sale of one week, beginning Saturday. The Usher family are moving to Rowan this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Usher are both experienced in store work and we predict their adventure into business of their own will prove very successful. We wish them success but all Klemme regrets losing this good family.

A RATHER UNUSUAL SIGHT

Tuesday forenoon large flocks of hawks soared over Klemme, winging their way northward. It was estimated by one man who saw the unusual sight that a flock of at least one hundred and fifty hawks came in one large group. All day one could see from one to a dozen hawks going over.

Rotate Yards and Use Fields That Adjoin Farmstead

Iowa poultry farmers have used two methods of providing clean ground on which to raise chicks.

These methods as outlined by W. M. Vernon, extension poultry specialist at Iowa State College, consist of a yard rotation plan and the use of fields adjacent to the farmstead. Either method will provide chicks with a range free from worm eggs, coccidosis infection and other parasites and diseases.

A large garden or fenced area of 1 to 3 acres that may be divided will provide a place for the yard rotation plan. This area may be divided into three yards of equal size, or if the area is small, into two yards. Each yard should be separated from the others with fences about 5 feet high so that the young poultry will not range from one yard to the other.

The chicks are allowed to range on one yard this year. It is seeded to oats and rape in order to provide green feed thruout the spring and summer. The second yard should be planted to annual garden crops. Where three yards are used. the second yard may be planted to corn or small grain and the third yard to garden crops. The garden should follow behind the chicks in this rotation plan. With such a plan, the ground is cultivated one o r two years before the chicks use it again.

When a field adjacent to the farmstead is used, a chicken tight fence should be placed between the field and the farmstead so that the chicks cannot get back on the contaminated ground. The brooder house should be located on the edge of the field. Next year the chicks may be moved to another field.

Many poultry raisers have found it advisable to seed a narrow strip of oats along the edge of the field where the brooder house is located this provides the chicks with tender green feed early in the spring and keeps them from bothering the corn, providing plenty of mash and grain also are supplied.

If the field to be used is at some distance from the house, the brooder house may be located in an open space in the barn lot during the first 4 to 6 weeks, the chicks kept in a screen-enclosed porch and the brooder house moved to the field later.

Operetta To Be Given Friday Eve; And Other School Items

OPERETTA WILL BE REPEATED FRIDAY EVENING

The Klemme High School will again present their operetta, "Miss Caruthers' Return." on Friday evening of this week.

This performance was given a couple of weeks ago but at that time many were unable to attend. Those who attended the operetta were very well pleased. This second presentation should draw a full house.

The school organizations are in need of money to pay expenses and this is their only means of meeting their obligations. All who did not attend the first performance should plan to attend Friday night. They are assured of their money's worth.

JUNIORS START PRACTICE FOR ANNUAL PLAY

Students Attended Court Trial At Garner Monday

We had several visitors from Garner High School the first of the week. Garner is having spring vacation this week.

The books for the junior class play have come and try-outs were held Monday and Tuesday. Practice will begin this week as the play will be given in about four weeks.

Each class had at least one sleighing or coasting party last week.

The freshman English class is studying "The Lady of The Lake." This week each person is to bring a picture that he thinks might illustrate some part of the poem.

Students who had their parents permission were allowed to go to Garner to hear the case which was being tried in court Monday.

Grades 7 and 8

Through an oversight we did not mention the winners in the seventh and eighth grade spelling contest in our room last week. In the seventh grade Selma Hogan, was first; Paul Schuldt, second; Ruth Blickenderfer, third. The winners in the eighth grade were. Carmen Kluckhohn, first; Emily Paul second and Doris Ludeke, third.

Jaunita Pavey was absent from school Monday and Tuesday because of illness.

Theodore Kaduce and Alvin Bachman were absent Friday.

The seventh and eighth grades enjoyed a bob-sled ride Thursday night. Afterwards we came back to the schoolhouse and ate home-made ice cream.

Grades 5 and 6

Doris Johnson went to Garner on Saturday afternoon and represented Klemme in the county spelling contest. There were sixty-five pupils entered in this contest. Doris spelled until the fourth from the last. She was given the word "faun" and spelled it "fawn" putting in a "w" instead of a "u". She was presented with a fifty cent piece as a prize. We are very proud of Doris and expect her to do much better in the two years she has left of grade school.

Donald Lemke was absent from grade five for three days last week. Elnor Schuldt was absent on Monday and Tuesday.

Grades 1 and 2

The 2nd grade wrote a little story about their Dutch Village project.

The 2nd graders each told a story in language class that they had read from reading table books.

The 1st grade are beginning their new work books this week.

Mrs. Larson, Mrs. Merkel and Mrs. Buntenbach came to visit us last week.

We are reading a new book about the Dutch people called "Ned and Nan in Holland.

THREE KLEMME YOUNG MEN IN CAR ACCIDENT SUNDAY NIGHT

Alvin Lauden, driving his Essex sedan, accompanied by Roy Smock and Otto Smid, when returning home from Garner Sunday evening, upset near the Elltown Reformed Church. The accident was caused when Lauden swung his car to one side of the road to allow another car to pass. Evidently ice or snow started the car to rocking which finally threw it into the ditch against a fence on its side. In the shake-up Otto Smid was tossed back and forth in the rear seat of the car and received bad scalp cuts and a deep cut on one knee. Roy Smock riding in the front seat with Lauden received an injured thumb. Damage to Lauden's new car amounted to the glass being broken from the rear windows, fenders and running board damaged and the top damaged.

CREAMERY MEN ATTENDED MEETING OF I. S. B. CREAMERY

Local Creamery Markets Butter Thru National Organization

Paul Mueller, manager of the local cramery, accompanied by Otto Pringnitz and J. E. Stille, attended the quarterly meeting of the Iowa State Brand Creameries at Mason City Saturday.

In discussing the business of the past year it was found that Iowa State Brands handled more than a twenty-five per cent gain in butter during the past year. Two grades of butter are marketed; the nationally famous "Iowa State Brand" and the other is known as "Corn Country Roll."

Many improvements have been made at the plant and $15,000 has been invested in new equipment.

JACOBS TO HAVE SERVICE DAY FOR DE LAVAL OWNERS

E. F. Jacobs has set Friday as the date on which he will have an expert De Laval service man at his store to inspect and repair separators in this territory. The "Star Printing Company" has printed special advertising for the DeLaval day, of special interest to DeLaval owners. For the information of our readers we might add that the Star Printing Co. is the job printing department of the Klemme Times.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE DINNER ON EDITOR

When Ye Editor returned home from church Sunday noon a number of friends greeted him at the door with "birthday surprise!" As the time neared the noon hour more folks arrived with baskets of good things to eat and all enjoyed a big dinner. Those present who helped us over another milestone were W. C. Keraus and family, C. G. Waterman and family, Lyle Liebendorfer and family of Mason City and Mr. and Mrs. J. Jorgenson of Garner. Needless to state the Editor is ahead of the game with a number of fine gifts. It might not be a bad idea to celebrate birthdays oftener!

DOWS AND KLEMME PASTORS EXCHANGED PULPITS SUNDAY

Rev. Wessels, a former Klemme pastor but now of Dows, preached at the Methodist Church Sunday. Rev. Ralston filled the pulpit for Rev. Wessels at Dows Sunday. Ben Coobs and Glenna Gruetzmacher accompanied Rev. Ralston to Dows. A large crowd attended the services in both Klemme and Liberty.

STAR OFFICERS ENTERTAINED AT LUNCHEON AND BRIDGE

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Jorgenson entertained the officers of the Eastern Star Chapter at a one o'clock luncheon and bridge at the Jorgenson home Friday, which was attended by twenty members of the Star from Garner and Klemme. The Star color were carried out in the home decorations as well as the luncheon. The afternoon was spent playing bridge. Mrs. Frank Clark won high score; Mrs. Roy Strate won second high, and Mrs. Chas. Bethke was awarded low score.

NOTICE TO PUBLIC

It having been requested, the offices of the Hancock County Court House will be open continuously from 8 A. M. to 4 P. M. effective on Saturday, April 1st.

This will afford service to the public during the noon hour.

Dorothy Horecka Places 1st; Doris Johnson, Klemme, is Fourth

Dorothy Horecka, eighth grade student of the Hayfield consolidated school, won first in the Hancock county spelling contest held in the Garner high school gymnasium on Saturday Dorothy won the contest by spelling "porcelain" correctly and then spelled the word "epitaph" correctly. Dorothy's teacher is Mabel Gauger.

Edna Kemp, district No. 2, Erin township won second, Margaret Palveka, district 1, Erin township, was third; Doris Johnson, sixth grade Klemme, was fourth; Ruth Caldwell, Britt; Hugh Mullin, Orthel 7; Kermit Schultz, Ellington 4; Donald Lewiston, Erin 8; Harold McWilliams, Ellington 5; Barbara Schuldt, Garfield 6 were also high.

Judges were Supt. R. N. Fish, Goodell, Supt. L. B. Kraft, Hayfield and Anna Paulson, Britt. The contest was presided over by County Supt. J. R. Baggs. Prof. C. T. Tompkins pronounced the words. Sixty took part in the contest. Eleven dollars and fifty cents was awarded to the ten best spellers by the Garner Lions Club and an individual donor.

IOWA HIT BY SECOND BLIZZARD

Another blizzard hit Iowa Friday afternoon and night, to pile up more snow to that which was brought in by the recent storm of less than a week prior. The blizzard Friday began with a wet snow fall during the afternoon which melted almost as soon as it fell. Later in the evening the wind whipped the snow about and again blocked some of the roads. The highways were open again in a few hours to traffic.

ELL HOME PROJECT LEADERS MET FRIDAY, MARCH 24TH

Miss Raake, H. D. A., met with Ell Township Cooperators and leaders at the C. J. Wille home Friday, March 24th. The lesson "Laundry Methods and Equipment" was presented. Neutral landry soap was made by the cold method. Homemade soap brought by the ladies was compared and criticised. Different types of washing machines and other laundry equipment were studied. We learned new ways of solving our laundry problems.

Our music appreciation study included "Narcissus" by Ethelbert Nevin and the song "Way to Dreamland Town" by G. A. Grant and Schaefer. The lives of these composers were studied as well as the stories of their compositions.

After learning to play the game "American Circle" the ladies adjourned to meet for their final lesson at the Weaver home May 10.

PRINTER IS MADE DEPUTY SHERIFF

J. E. Tierney, for many years a publisher of newspapers at Klemme and Garner, and who for the past several years has been working for the Williams Publishing Co. at Garner, has been named by Sheriff E. P. Hanson as his deputy. He will assume the duties as soon as the board of supervisors meets and approves his bond.

Mr. Tierney is a man of mature years, is well qualified and well known throughout the county.

JESUS MINISTERING TO JEWS AND GENTILES

(World Friendship Lesson)

LESSON TEXT—Mark 7:1-37.

GOLDEN TEXT—And other sheep I have, which are not of this fold: them also I must bring, and they shall heur my voice; and there shall be one fold, and one shepherd. John 10:16.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Little Neighbors.

JUNIOR TOPIC—A Foreign Woman Meeting Jesus.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Our Attitude to Other Races.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Ministry of Jesus to All Races.

I. Jesus Dealing With the Pharisees and Scribes (vv. 1-23).

The Pharisees and scribes zealously sought to preserve Judaism from the encroachments of heathenism. In this effort they built up a wall of traditions which in turn obscured the very law of God. As they gathered together unto Christ, he taught them:

1. The emptiness of formal worship (vv. 1-7). The tendency of the human heart is to depart from the life and rest in the form which was calculated to express the life. Christ declared that worship which centered in forms was as empty and meaningless as lip service while the heart is away from God. This kind of service he calls "hypocrisy," and it is common today.

2. It made the Word of God of none effect (vv. 8-13). A case in point was the consecration of earthly goods to escape the responsibilities of caring for one's parents. This made it possible for a man to be living in luxury while his parents were in the poorhouse.

3. The real source of defilement (vv. 14-23). Sin is moral and spiritual. A man is defiled by that which springs out of his soul and not that which enters his mouth. The deliberate choice of the will is the source of defilement (v. 20).

II. Jesus Healing the Daughter of the Syrophenician Woman (vv. 24-30).

In sharp contrast with the apostasy of Israel and their rejection of the Savior, we see in the Syrophenician woman the foregleam of the offer of the Savior to the Gentiles.

1. The mother's awful distress. Her daughter was grievously vexed with the devil. The daughter was the one afflicted, but the mother carried the burden. Doubtless, this Gentile woman had heard of the fame of Jesus, his power to heal, and many times longed for him to come that way that her daughter might be healed. She now came straightway to him.

2. Her fervent appeal for help (vv. 25, 26). She humbly fell at Jesus' feet and besought him to cast the devil out.

3. Her faith rewarded (vv. 27-30).

a. Jesus' apparent refusal (v. 27). According to Matthew he answered her not a word. The reason for his silence was that she appealed to him on the wrong basis, addressing him as the Son of David (Matt. 15:22). An Israelite only had a right to seek his blessing as the Son of David. He was sent to the lost sheep of the house of Israel. Jesus said, "Let the children first be filled; for it is not meet to take the children's bread, and cast it unto the dogs."

b. The woman's quick response (v. 28). As soon as she perceived the real difficulty she addressed him as Lord and cried for help (Matt. 15:25-27). Only an Israelite could approach him as the Son of David, but all could come to him and own him as Lord. She willingly took her place as a Gentile, showing her willingness to receive but the crumbs from the children's table.

c. The glorious issue of her faith (vv. 29, 30). Jesus said, "Go thy way, the devil is gone out of thy daughter."

III. Jesus Healing a Deaf-mute (vv. 31-37).

1. The place (v. 31). This is the region where he had healed the Gadarene demoniac and where the people had requested his withdrawal from this country (Mark 5:20), because of the loss of their swine.

2. The method (vv. 33, 34).

a. "He took him aside from the multitude" v. 33). He did this to avoid publicity.

b. "Put his fingers in his ears, and he spit, and touched his tongue" (v. 33). This was a sign language designed to objectify to the man what Jesus was going to do for him.

c. "He looked up to heaven" (v. 34), to show to the man that his help was from God.

A command issued (v. 34). The

A SUPPER TO SING FOR!

If the sugar-plum tree should come to life!

And honey-dew come from the magic pitcher—wouldn't supper times be jolly for five and seven years olds!

A supper that has all the charm of the sugar-plums and the honey-dew has for dessert a cup of crushed canned pineapple, cool and sweet. Never was anything so good to eat nor so good for growing boys and girls. For nutritional research has recently found canned pineapple to be a valuable source of five minerals, essential to health, as well as a valuable source of vitamins A, B, and C—a discovery that makes the task of mothers much simpler. The delicate flavor and color of pineapple are especially appealing to children. Pineapple is a food which rightly belongs in their own world of magic goodness. When it is served simply—a generous bowlful of crushed pineapple—it is a treat which young Mary and Johnny find suited to their most epicurean tastes. Two slices a day or a cup of crushed fruit is the amount recommended to aid in the maintenance of health and growth.

The Child Reader

by

MARJORIE BARROWS

Editor, Child Life Magazine.

I met Bill's father today.

"Bill's six years old," he said. "He's a hard-headed young man and he treats fairy tales with a withering contempt. He likes real stories. He likes simple books about how things happen. Are there any new books that will fit Bill?"

Marjorie Barrows

I gave him the names of several new ones, for there are lots of Bills in America today and many authors are writing just the sort of books they like.

Real Adventure Best.

If your Bill doesn't take to fairy tales, to legends, to fables, don't force them on him. Offer him instead Charlotte Kuh's delightful "A Train, A Boat, and an Island"—the story of a real family's real trip to Bermuda. Offer him Heluiz Washburne's fascinating "Letters to Channy"—a real mother's letters of a trip around the world written for her own little boy back home. Offer him "The Pilgrim's Party" or "The Cruise of Mr. Christopher Columbus" by Sadybeth and Anson Lowitz, two humorous and very interesting picture books that acquaint younger readers with stirring history.

Perhaps Bill wants to know more about motormen and firemen and what they really do. Mrs. Kuh's books for small children will help him out there. Perhaps he would like "How It All Began," a book that is delightfully written and illustrated by Janet Smalley. It will tell Bill how primitive man watched the lightning and found he, too, could make fire by twirling two sticks around together. Later man found other ways of heating and lighting and at last we got our matches, gas, oil and electricity. The book goes on, in the simplest fashion, to show the beginnings of messages, of travel, clothing, houses. It is a thrilling sort of real fairy tale that particularly appeals to boys like Bill.

Travel Stories Are Good.

What happens to a real letter after it gets posted may also interest some of our very youngest readers. William Siegel, a Russian artist, tells a simple story about that in "Around the World in a Mailbag." Bob and Betty's letter to their father doesn't reach him in San Francisco. So it is forwarded to China, Russia, France, and even to Egypt. But though the various postmen do their best the letter does not finally reach him until he is back in New York again. The pictures make this book especially attractive.

Here are just a few of the new books for fairy-tale-strikers. Many more are to be found in the libraries and bookstores. Just exactly the book your Bill is looking for is waiting for him there. And it is just the right book for him at the present time.

Take him along and let him help find it!

Larger Comprehension

If the message is to come to men with most effect, there is need for larger comprehension on the part of those who proclaim it, as well as of those who lay plans for its release.—John R. Mott.

The Master Light

In our world of the inner life we gratefully acknowledge Christ as the Master light of all our seeing, in whose radiant presence our problems are solved and our faith made plain.

The Child Reader

by

MARJORIE BARROWS

Editor, Child Life Magazine.

One afternoon many years ago a wharf rat on San Francisco Bay wandered into the Oakland Public Library. There, opening a bound volume of a children's magazine, he stumbled upon a story. It was a story about a boy like himself—a runaway, a gang leader of wharf rats, who had certain semi-piratical adventures, but who, after a hard lesson, learned of better ways of living his life.

Marjorie Barrows

Making of Jack London.

The dramatic, exciting story awoke in the young reader the uneasy consciousness of his own wrong actions. He walked out of that library resolving to lead just as adventurous a life but one that carried with it a clear conscience. So he joined the Fish Patrol, cruised about the bay, fought poachers, and before long began to write stories about his adventures.

That boy was Jack London. The experience of this famous writer occurs, in a rather less dramatic fashion, in the life of every boy or girl.

Careful investigators have discovered that next to persons, nothing has more influence on children than what they read. If a hero they admire acts under certain circumstances as they themselves would like to act, they'll remember it.

They Imitate the Hero.

And when the time comes, they'll unconsciously be influenced by that hero's action and try to do likewise. The heroine's kindness, ambition, steadfastness, loyalty, the hero's resourcefulness, quick-wittedness, painstaking qualities, courage, magnaminity, modesty—all these examples "sink in" and are emulated both now and later. One story with hidden character-building values is worth a dozen sermons from parents or teachers.

Let us try to see that this sort of a story, full of plenty of adventure for the boy, full of interesting plots and characters for the girl, is convenient for them to pick up.

Jack London isn't the only one to be tremendously influenced by the printed word.

Pilgrims Ascend Mount St. Patrick Made Famous

One of the most unusual of all pilgrimages is that made annually to the mountain-top shrine of St. Patrick on the high, bare, cone-shaped mountain which bears his name and which overlooks Clew bay, County Mayo, on the west coast of Ireland.

According to tradition it was from this mountain that St. Patrick drove all the serpents from Ireland into the sea.

The pilgrimage up the side of the holy mountain, where St. Patrick spent the 40 days of Lent in penance, fasting and prayer, 1,500 years ago, begins on Saturday evening any time between six o'clock and midnight.

Torchlights are carried by many to light the way and guard against precipitous falls. Often the crowd breaks into a hymn to make the walking easier or to help them to forget the difficulty of trudging over stony paths. For the climb up the last 200 yards before reaching the summit the pilgrims remove their shoes and finish the journey barefooted. Many of the more religious make the entire climb without foot protection.

St. Patrick was seventy years old when he first climbed the mountain. Now many a pilgrim of the same age makes the journey, taking a keen pride in this imitation of a part of the rigid Lenten penance of the patron saint of Ireland.

Devil Worshipers Must Not Mention His Name

A strange tribe of Yezidi "devil worshipers" has been discovered in the mountains of Iraq by Dr. Edmund A. Walsh, vice president of the Georgetown university.

"This tribe," he said, "worships the evil spirit under the name of 'Melek Taus' symbolized by a bronze peacock, before which they offer incense, sing, dance and prostrate themselves. Their history goes back at least to the Seventh century.

"Their beliefs are contained in two sacred books which are preserved secretly somewhere in the mountains—the Book of Revelation and the Black Book.

"The Book of Revelation, which no foreigner has ever seen or been allowed to read, purports to contain the personal instructions of Satan to his chosen people. One of the curious injunctions of his satanic majesty forbids the Yezidi ever to mention his name or even the syllables that compose it."

World's Silver Output

All the silver mined in the world since man began to use the metal would make a cube only 115 feet on a side. This is no mean quantity, however, for it would pave an avenue 144 feet wide 6 inches deep for four miles.

It is estimated that the amount of silver mined in the world since 1492 is about 15,000,000,000 fine ounces, and of that amount, 40 per cent has been obtained in the last 30 years.

The May marriage season in India is one of the biggest factors in the movement of silver in the world. The metal is used in large quantities for bridal ornaments that become the "rainy day" fund of the family.

Revolutionary Hero

Benjamin Stoddert, the secretary of the navy, who also was secretary of war, died at Bladensburg, Md., and was buried in the churchyard of the Addison chapel, Church of St. Matthew's, Prince George county, Md. He died December 18, 1813, aged sixty-two years. He had served in the Revolutionary war with the rank of major, but was so severely wounded at the battle of the Brandywine that he was compelled to retire. He was born in Charles county, Md., and did a mercantile business at the ports of Bladensburg and Georgetown.

Army Distinction Badge

More than 150 years ago General Washington wrote the general order establishing the Purple Heart as a badge of distinction in our army. The badge was to foster and encourage every species of military merit and reward not only instances of unusual gallantry, but also of extraordinary fidelity and essential service. Those to whom it was awarded were permitted to wear on the facings over the left breast the figure of a heart in purple cloth or silk, edged with a narrow lace or binding.

Debtor's Life Made Burden

A man in eastern Turkestan who does not pay his debts leads a dog's life until he comes through. He is shadowed night and day.

If the creditor is of the same caste as the debtor, he does the shadowing himself. If not, he hires some one to do it.

If the debtor goes to market, the creditor goes along, a silent advertisement that the man he is following is not to be trusted. The creditor eats where his man eats, and sleeps by his door.

Trees That Whistle

In Barbadoes there is a valley with trees which bear pods with an open edge, and as the wind blows through these it causes a most uncanny note. There is another kind of whistling tree in the Sudan. Insects which infest it cause galls, and when the creatures emerge they leave a circular hole, converting the hollow gall into a musical instruments on which the wind plays.

Don't Plow Fertilizer Under

Modern machinery for distribution of manure and commercial fertilizers not only saves time and labor but distributes the fertilizer more evenly over the field. The beneficial effects of a fertilizer are affected to a large degree by the method of application.

Experiments at Iowa State College have shown that commercial fertilizers should be applied to the surface of the soil and not plowed under. In most cases, also, manure is just as effective when it is disced in as when it is plowed under.

Lucky Scrap Jelly

Chip up pieces of candied fruit—you must have at least one-half cupful and you can use twice that amount if you like. If no candied fruit is around, use broken nut meats, or small bits of candy or raisins or dates stoned and finely cut.

Make 2 cupfuls of lemon or orange gelatine. Pour the gelatine into a mould and, when it is cool and begins to "set" add the diced candy. When serving time comes, turn the mould upside down over the serving dish. Wrap it tightly with a cloth wrung out of very hot water and the jelly will fall onto the dish.

A garnish of whipped cream or condensed milk, whipped, makes the dish prettier.—Child Life Magazine.

Old English Church of Interest to Americans

Southwark cathedral, one of London's ancient churches, known to Londoners as the "Church in the Hole," is falling into decay, says an article in the Montreal Family Herald. Shakespeare used to attend divine services there. His brother, Edmund, is buried in the church. John Harvard, whose donations founded Harvard university, was baptized there in 1607. Some years ago the alumni of Harvard rebuilt one of the chapels. Southwark cathedral is the only English church in which a Fourth of July celebration ever was held. This took place some years ago. Shakespeare and his contemporaries used to come over to Southwark to see their plays produced. They often lodged in Southwark and attended the cathedral services. In recognition of these visits, there is now a memorial window to the famous Elizabethan dramatist in the cathedral.

Washington's Supremacy

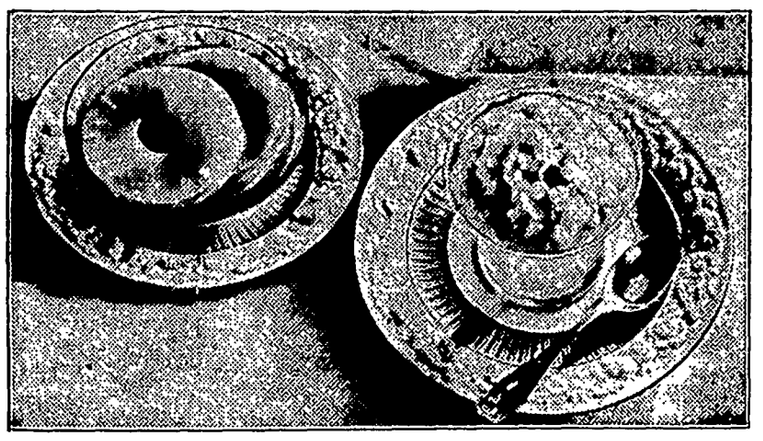
Many estimates of George Washington's character have been written, but perhaps none is more interesting than that of the historian George Bancroft, who summarized the great first President as follows: "His faculties were so well balanced and combined that his constitution, free from excess, was tempered evenly with all the elements of activity and his mind resembled a well-organized commonwealth; his passions, which had the intensest vigor, owned allegiance to reason; and with all the fiery quickness of his spirit, his impetuous and massive will was held in check by consummate judgment. He had in his composition a calm which gave him in moments of highest excitement the power of self-control and enabled him to excel in patience, even when he had most cause for disgust."

Japanese Customs Odd to Visiting Westerners

At the door of a theater or a restaurant the Japanese hand the attendant their shoes instead of their hats. At a dinner the sweets, if they come at all, are served early in the meal instead of toward the end. Acting in the theater is modeled not on life, but on the movements of dolls in marionette shows, and in the classic "No" drama the possibility of showing emotion by facial expression is eliminated by the use of carved wooden masks.

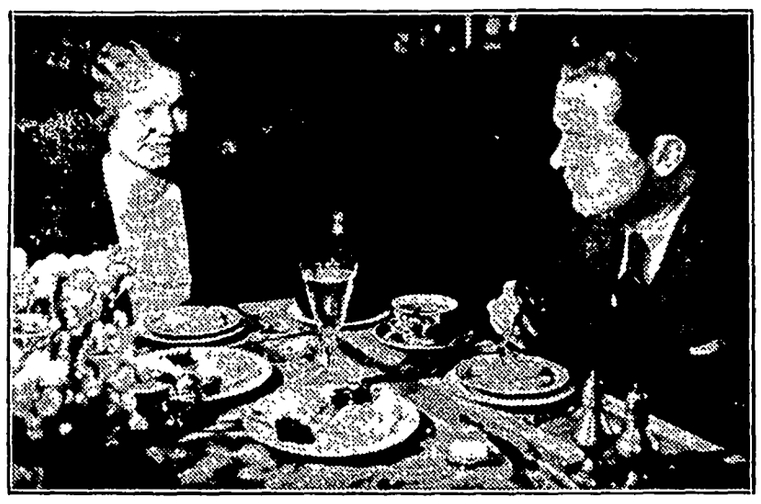
And, where the people have not been "civilized" out of their natural courtesy, a chauffeur will refuse to pass another on the road—from motives of politeness. To us the Japanese method of beckoning would signify "go away." Boats are beached stern foremost; horses are backed into their stalls, sawing and planing are

PINEAPPLE TAKES NEW ROLE



Canned pineapple, familiar food delicacy on the American table for so many years, is seen today in a new role. New food research has found that canned pineapple is a valuable source of five necessary minerals and vitamins A, B, and C. Authorities recommend two slices or an equivalent amount in crushed pineapple or tidbits in the daily menu as an aid in maintaining health. In addition to its mineral and vitamin content pineapple has been found to be a valuable aid to digestion of proteins such as meat and eggs and to the prevention and relief of acidosis. A beneficial dietetic change wrought by temperatures during the canning process is said to make these findings true of the canned rather than the raw fruit. Smart hostesses following the new dietetic advice, are serving the new pineapple cup made from the canned crushed fruit or tidbits as the first course for dinner or two slices for the breakfast fruit, luncheon salad or for the dinner dessert. And their guests proclaim it delicious.

TO GLORIFY BREAKFAST



Toast and coffee and the morning paper!

Coffee and toast and the morning paper!

Ho hum! That's the great American breakfast—prepared with misgivings, swallowed in haste, not remembered long enough even to be repented.

It is perhaps a great pity that the days when American breakfasts were mighty affairs, suited to pioneering activities, are gone forever. Yet there are still ways to arouse even lagging modern breakfast appetites.

One is to add the delicious tang of pineapple to the morning meal. And nutritional studies have recently revealed a definite health reason for the addition. For canned pineapple has been found to be a generous source of vitamins A, B, and C and five essential minerals. It is also revealed as an aid to the digestion of proteins such as meat and eggs and to the prevention and relief of acidosis.

So here is a modern breakfast suited to modern needs—appealing to the appetite, healthful and simple to prepare—two slices of pineapple, a cereal if desired, two poached eggs on toast, and coffee.

College Degree Worth $100,000, Experts Find

Statisticians and research investigators have at last run down the elusive and much discussed dollar and cents value of a college education and have fixed it at $100,000. Their survey reveals that the average untrained boy goes to work at the age of 14, earns less than $1,700 a year, so that his income from 14 to 60 totals $64,000. The high school graduate, they find, starts work at 18, reaches his maximum income of $2,800 at 50 and by 60 has earned a total of $88,000. The college graduate, they learned, starts his career at about 22, has caught up with the high school graduate by 30 and at 60 is earning from $6,000 to $8,000 a year with a total earning at 60 of between $160,000 and $200,000. Figures from the same survey produced by the statistical department of Union Central Life Insurance Company show that out of 1,000 children entering grade school only 23 graduate from college. Lack of funds is revealed as the main reason for leaving school and educational insurance is now advocated as a means of giving a higher percentage the "break" which a college degree assures.

The Devil's Marks

In many parts of the Emerald isle there are to be found traces of the devil. In beautiful Wicklow is the Devil's glen cut out by the angry slashings of Old Nick's tail when he failed to lure a fair maiden from her convent. In Tipperary is the Devil's bits—a huge bite taken out of the mountain range and spat down to the plain below, where it still stands as the Rock of Cashel. Then, of course, in Killarney is the Devil's punch bowl—but all it contains in these days is pure water.

Joy in Work

Is there not rather a tendency as we grow older to lose our enthusiasm, to get a little dull, a little blunted, and to say that we have sobered down? Yet how a joy in work carries a man on! It drives him forward in the absorbing pursuit of an ideal, through the rough and smooth places of the world, forgetting all else but the object of his search, in invention, in labor, in art, and—yes—in holiness—Canon Newbolt.

Pure Oxygen

Pure oxygen, except under pressure, is not harmful to the human body. Those experimenters who are engaged in energy metabolism studies, in which oxygen with little air is consumed for a period of from 10 to 15 minutes, will welcome this opinion of a doctor writing for Hygeia Magazine.

Nothing New

There just isn't anything new. We go into ecstasies about a lovely new perfume. We go shopping and lay in a supply of bath towels of the most modern sort—rough, soft, perhaps designed in angles and straight lines. We think we are most modern. Then we read of excavations of a tomb 4000 years old in Egypt which have brought forth the most attractive perfume bottles once filled with the most alluring scents; and bath towels woven in plain and zigzag stripes, sometimes hemmed along the edges, with little knots throughout their weaving to make them rough like our modern Turkish towels.

Spelling Not Paramount

Gen. Zachary Taylor, who became President largely because his victory over General Santa Anna at the battle of Buena Vista turned the Mexican war to the triumph of the United States, was not a good speller. He wrote an account of the battle in which he left the a out of reach, and used very long sentences, one of which was eighty-seven type lines. He is accused of grammatical errors also, which are not surprising in a sentence more than 500 words long. But one may excuse that in a general who with 5,400 untrained men whipped 20,000 fresh troops.

Early American Furniture

The furniture made in America during the Hepplewhite and Sheraton periods compares very favorably with English pieces of these periods. While lacking on the one hand the greater sophistication of the pieces made for the nobility and wealthier classes in England, it seldom shows the crudity of English provincial furniture, and there is often a nice balance and a delicacy of line and proportion that made these pieces most attractive. The best furniture of this type seems to have been made in New England, New York and Maryland.

Hard Labor

A good time means going to the races, playing bridge, drinking cocktails, dancing till four in the morning, and talking about nothing. And meanwhile the beautiful, the incredible world in which we live awaits exploration, and life is short and time flows stanchlessly, like blood from a mortal wound. And there is all knowledge, all art. There are men and women, the innumerable living, and, in books, the souls of those dead who deserved to be immortal. Heaven preserve me, in such a world as this, from having just a good time.—Aldous Huxley.

BANCROFT:—When C. P. Hanson went out to his barn one day to milk his cows, he was surprised to discover that someone had already milked them. Moreover, not a drop of milk was to be found anywhere about the place. Puzzled, he waited. The next day the cows had been milked again. On four different occasions someone entered the barn when nobody was around, milked the cows and took away the milk, leaving not even a few drops for the Hansons. Mr. Hanson's barn is now securely padlocked, but just how the trick was done has not yet been explained, since the barn is close to the house.

Gardens! NOW is the time to---

Barnyard manure is the best fertilizer for the vegetable garden. If available, 10 to 20 loads per acre will not be too much.

Sheep and poultry manures are more concentrated than horse or cow manures and may be applied less heavily. Poultry manure shou'd be used sparingly as it may burn some garden plants. A ton per acre, scattered broadcast will probably be enough if no litter is present in the manure.

Green manures may be used profitably on gardens where the space is not limited. Cowpeas or soybeans may be sown following the early vegetables. If the garden may be moved from one part of the farm to another, it may be well to arrange a rotation so that the garden follows one of these green manure crops every year.

Nitrate of soda and sulfate of ammonia are useful in forcing quick growth of leafy crops such as lettuce, cabbage and spinach and plants that have been transplanted to the garden such as tomatoes. These fertilizers may be applied as a top-dressing around the plants or in a solution of 1 pound to 25 gallons of water sprinkled around the plants.

The latter method is probably the safer because the nitrates may burn the plants if applied to heavily. When these commercial fertilizers are broadcast, 100 to 150 pounds per acre or 1 pound per square rod will be sufficient. These fertilizers should not come in contact with the leaves of the plants or they will cause burning.

Superphosphate (acid phosphate) at the rate of 200 to 300 pounds per acre with animal manure usually gives good results on root crops such as potatoes, carrots and turnips, on soils other than peat or muck. On peat or muck soils an 0-9-27 (9 percent phosphat and 27 percent potash) fertilizer used at the rate of 500 pounds per acre will usually prove profitable.

When considerable quantities of animal or green manure have been used on the ground several years it us usually necessary to lime the soil for best results. Ground limestone is the most economical, but hydrated or air-slaked lime may be used on the small garden if ground limestone is not available. Lime should not be applied to land to be immediately planted to potatoes, since potato scab is worse on limed soils.

THRUST And PARRY
By
Phil Osifer

A lot of these birds around here have seen fit to hand me some good natured kidding because I am forever making some peculiar gadgets to fit my queer purposes. Lately I have observed some queer creations that were not my handiwork, though they might have been, considering their appearance. So long as the boys don't try column writing I am still one jump ahead.

—P. O.—

Did you ever happen to notice that I don't know what a comma (,) is for.

—P. O.—

Whenever I start making words fit initials I am not going to jimmy words to make them fit. Moreover sickle sections make good arrow heads but it took one printer and two ex-tomcat owners to put it across.

—P. O.—

From the number of unmolested cases of alcoholic poisoning that have been free to roam our fair city it appears that someone has been overlooking a swift and sure way of increasing the amount of pelf in the village coffers.

—P. O.—

There is a friend of mine who sees fit to tell me about what I have written after he has read it in his neighbors paper. I guess people live too close together to support a good newspaper so they read the neighbors weekly screamer and get along as best they can.

—P. O.—

I have lived to learn that it is possible to make a graceful retreat in the face of possible disaster.

District Superintendent Conducts Special Services Here

In spite of the very wet weather the meetings at the M. E. Church have been well attended. It is hoped that the weather will be a little better next week. By the time that this announcement reaches our readers most of the meetings will be over but there are enough remaining to be of interest to the general public. The afternoon services for children at 4:15 will continue. All parents and their children are invited to come out on Thursday evening. Friday night is Young People's Night. All young people are urged to come. The theme for the Sunday morning sermon will be "Love Supreme" and for the evening sermon will be "Kadesh-Bornea'. We believe that there will be something helpful in all of the sermons and services which should be heard by everyone regardless of denominational affiliations. The public is cordially invited to attend.

NEW COUNCIL MET MONDAY AS BOARD OF EQUILIZATION

New Council Members Got Right Into Tho Harness Like Veterans

Mayor J. E. Stille organized the Town Council Monday and the new members, Paul Mueller and Julius Priebe were sworn in. The board then took up the task of tax equilization and worked with the old Assessor, Joe Johnson, throughout the day on this matter.

Regular meeting of the council was then taken up in the evening at which time the various commitees were appointed for the term. The two new members, Mueller and Priebe have already displayed that they are a valuable addition to the board. They got right into the work like old-timers. We predict that the present board will be a harmonious body able to accomplish many things for the good of the town.

Henry Suckow is the new Assessor and C. G. Waterman was reelected treasurer. A. J. Kudje was appointed as Clerk by the board.

LIBERTY HOME PROJECT LADIES MEET

The fourth lesson of the women's project work was held at the W. G. Lenz home Wednesday afternoon, March 29 with 8 ladies in attendance.

Mrs. Victor Hueneman gave the lesson on "Laundry Equipment and Methods'. She also told about soap making and showed different kinds of ironing equipment.

At the close of the meeting a delicious lunch which consisted of many kinds of cookies and ice cream was served.

RIDE ON RAFT IS TRIP TO HOSPITAL

R. A. Jorgenson and family and C. G. Waterman and family drove to Mason City Suday to see Robert Liebendorfer and Melvin Decker, who were patients at the Park Hospital. The boys had a thrilling experience Saturday when they attempted to ride a raft down the river near Mason City. They were caught in the swift current and being afraid the raft would smash up on a bridge down stream they dived into the icy waters and swam to a group of small trees to which they clung until rescued from their perch by the police and fire departments. The boys suffered from cold and exposure, but latest reports are that both boys are now O. K. Robert Liebendorfer is the son of Mrs. Jorgenson's sister.

SCHRAM TRIAL CAME TO CLOSE THURSDAY

JURY DISAGREES ON SCHRAM CASE AT GARNER

Dismissed After Pondering Case 44 Hours; Retrial In May

The jury in the Gus Schram case failed to agree Thursday afternoon and was dismissed by Judge J. J. Clark after it had deliberated 44 hours on the case. It was understood that the jury stood 7 to 5 for acquittal when the deadlock was reached.

The case will be tried again in the May term of court which opens May 10. The defendant will be taken to the penitentiary at Fort Madison in the meantime, where he is serving a 20 year sentence on an arson charge, to which he pleaded guilty.

Schrom is charged with first degree murder in the death of Leo Brockman, Hayfield boy, who was a victim of the fire. Frank W. Senneff of Britt, assisted County Attorney L. C. Beaumont in prosecuting the case. L. R. Boomhower of Mason City was counsel for the defense.

Members of the jury were: Jake May, Corwith; James Gamble, Forest City; William Gilbert, Garner; Einer Christenson, Garner; Joey Tobin. Garner; Maude Smith, Garner; Layton Anderson, Britt; John Richterm, Wesley; William Fenleman, Garner; Herman Cook, Corwith; Nels Bock, Goodell, and Fred Barz, Klemme.

HOW TO PRUNE YOUNG APPLE TREES

In the following description are given the methods for pruning young apple trees from the time they are planted until the first bearing period.

The first year it is best to cut off the top of the tree ten inches above the place at which the grower wishes to encourage development of the lowest framework branch. Trees from which the lowest framework branch arises at a point not more than 27 inches from the ground is considered low headed. Medium headed trees show branches arising from 30 to 36 inches from the ground. While trees whose lowest branches arise above 36 inches off the ground are regarded as high headed. In general trees of medium height are the most satisfactory.

Young trees one and two years old should be pruned to a total number of 3, 4 and 5 branches arranged alternately about one central leader and as widely separated from each other as a choice of strong laterals will permit. The top shoot should be retained as a central leader and should be shortened to a length of 10 to 12 inches. The laterals should not be allowed to project this high. The amount laterals are pruned is determined by the location on the trunk and their position relative to one another. Approximately one half to one third of the total growth is removed.

The second year little pruning is necessary unless growth was extraordinarily large. Keep the head of these low and not over 12 inches above the top projecting lateral. Keep all crosswise and diseased branches out.

At the beginning of the third year pruning should be continued along the lines similar to the practice at the beginning of the second year. After which it will be found impractical to mantain the short central leader which we had at first.

Fourth and fifth years very little shortening of shoots and branches will be necessary but some of the shoots and even occassionally branches should be removed at their points of attachment to prevent the development of a tangled top and to admit sunlight.

The rule should be to remove as few shoots and branches as possible while correcting crotches and bad or weak habits of growth. Indeed the grower is strongly cautioned to prune most severely during the first year or two when a large reduction in the number of buds really corresponds to the loss of roots which results from the usual method of tree digging.

Pruning trees from 5 to 15 years of age should be regular and only light pruning given. Prune annually but remove only awkwardly placed, crowded or broken branches water sprouts and suckers. Do not remove the small laterals, twigs and spurs which arise near the base of the principal framework or even on up the trunk of the tree.

GEO. CAROLES AND FAMILY VISIT FLOODED DISTRICT

Mr. and Mrs. George Caroles and daughters, accompanied by Miss Louisa Rosendahl and Verner Priebe left Klemme Sunday afternoon for a ride. They had not planned on going any place in particular. but started south and hit number ten and went from Hampton to Allison and on to Waterloo.

Near Allison they crossed the pavement which had a huge pile of dirt washed up onto it on one side while the roadbed was nearly washed away on the opposite side. They were glad when they were over this and planned on returning another road to avoid going over it again. All the way into Waterloo they saw lots of water. One place the water on the paving came above the running board of the car. The park that we always pass going into Waterloo was flooded. The man holes were being held down with many sacks of sand as the water was trying to gush out of them instead of being carried away. Once you entered the traffic line, you had to stay in line, as everybody for miles around was out driving to see the water. The Caroles family drove to Cedar Falls and spent an hour or so visiting with her parents. They also called on Ethel Barz at the college and she was greatly surprised to see them. They had not had much rain and scarcely any snow at Cedar Falls but they were certainly getting all the water from the heavy rains we had up here. The grass is much greener there and it really begins to look like spring was just around the corner.

The party enjoyed the ride very much as it surely was a sight to see so much water. They returned to Klemme safely Sunday evening.

R. W. Elder dispatched his hired man to town Thursday morning on a horse to procure hip boots, which were gladly loaned to him by Ye Editor. Ralph, like a lot of other people, had more or less of a lake at his dairy farm. Before getting the boots he went about barefooted but that was rather chilly. Water at a dairy farm is something to say in a whisper—but, the milk seemed as rich as usual!

Mrs. Wm. Stille has a quilting bee and dinner for relatives and friends today. It seems as though it is real popular in Klemme this winter. There evidently will be an enormous number of beautiful quilts in this vicinity. If you have not noticed the quilt Marie Blank has in Thada's window, when you are up town take a look at it. It is a butterfly quilt and put together so much different than many others are here. It belongs to Mrs. John Larson.

Mrs. Tony Ahrenkeil of Goodell spent Saturday at the Tom Blank home.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Mathews of Clear Lake visited Sunday at the J. N. Day home. The Mathews have moved to their recently purchased farm and say they enjoy it very much. They live a few miles southeast of Clear Lake.

On Wednesday morning Kermit Koerner, Sport Bridges and Milvern Lau all dove to Sioux City and spent a couple of days visiting with Gerald Koerner. They report Gerald to be walking on crutches now and he is promised that he will be able to come home by Easter. He has been in the hospital since February 2nd.

THE CASE FOR GRAIN ALCOHOL BLEND

Supplanting of horses and mules by the automobile, truck and tractor has eliminated a yearly market of 285 million bushels of grain, according to estimates. This, of course, is a main factor in creating a farm crop surplus which holds the general grain price down to a ruinous level.

We can't turn back. The automobile is here to stay. Nothing could be more sensible, therefore. than this plan which proposes to utilize grain as part "feed" for the gasoline motor. It was the motor which took away this market. Let the motor make good the loss. Nothing could be fairer, always providing, of course, that there is a practical way to accomplish it. And the evidence is convincing that the practical way has been found.

Within the past two weeks a two-day demostration of the alcohol-gasoline blend was held at Spencer. Ten of the service stations there were furnished with a fuel blend of corn alcohol and gasoline. Seven hundred motorists in Clay and surrounding counties used this fuel, which was a mixture of corn alcohol and gasoline, without a single report of dissatisfaction. Many of the users claimed that the results of the fuel blend surpassed their most optomistic expectations. The tests seemed to demonstrate that it is a superior fuel, gives greater mileage, and more speed, acceleration and exceeds any anti-knock qualities of the finest ethyl now on the market.

Experiments have been conducted at Iowa State College since last July. Ten different grades of gasoline have been used and fourteen different makes of cars, with about fifty different individual cars. There was no case in which the car did not show improvement when 10 percent alcohol was added to the gasoline without any carburetor adjustment. The alcohol and gasoline mixed without difficulty. Cars start easier. A higher mileage was reported.

Surely this whole subject is one which deserves the most earnest and intelligent consideration. Its possibilities are by far the greatest of any farm relief plan ever suggested.

JESUS REQUIRES CONFESSION AND LOYALTY

LESSON TEXT—Mark 8:27-38.

GOLDEN TEXT—And when he had called the people unto him with his disciples also, he said unto them, Whosoever will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me. Mark 8:34.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Being True to Jesus.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Passing a Hard Test.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Loyalty to Christ.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—What Jesus Expects of His Followers.

The time had now come for Jesus to take account of his ministry. Having been rejected by the rulers he went into retirement with his disciples. The primary object in his teaching at this time was to prepare the disciples for the tragic hour of the cross which he knew was so near. His teaching centered in the great cardinal doctrines of the Christian faith. He instructed them, touching his atoning death, resurrection, and glorious coming again. He knew that in the measure that they intelligently apprehended these things they would be able to pass through the ordeal before them.

I. Peter's Confession of Christ (vv. 27-30).

This confession was provoked by two questions of Jesus.

1. "Whom do men say that I am" (vv. 27, 28)? This question referred to the opinions of the people regarding Jesus. Some believed him to be John the Baptist; some Elijah, and some, one of the prophets. They all recognized him to be a teacher or prophet with more than human authority and power.

2. "Whom say ye that I am" (vv. 29, 30)? Jesus persistently claimed to be the God-man, the very Son of God, incarnate. He wanted the disciples to know him personally as the Son of God.

II. Jesus' Teaching Concerning the Cross (vv. 31-38).

He charged the disciples not to make public his Messiahship as that would precipitate a crisis.

1. What he taught (v. 31).

a. "The Son of man must suffer many things." He suffered weariness, hunger, ridicule, contempt; and even misunderstanding and lack of appreciation on the part of his friends and disciples.

b. "Be rejected of the elders, chief priests, and scribes." These were the nation's official representatives, who should have known and received Christ and recommended his reception on the part of the nation.

c. "Be killed." Jesus now states with definiteness that he must die on the cross. The disciples had not yet come to know that redemption was to be accomplished through the passion of the cross.

d. "Rise again." Though this was utterly incomprehensible to the disciples, he showed them that this would be the glorious issue of his death.

2. How the disciples received his teaching (v. 32). So unwelcome was his teaching, touching the cross, that Peter, the spokesman of the disciples, rebuked him.

3. Jesus rebukes Peter (v. 33). He told Peter plainly that his attitude was due to his being under the influence of the devil.

III. Jesus Going to Jerusalem to Die (Mark 10:32-34).

He went to Jerusalem with the consciousness of the awful tragedy before him, the treachery of Judas, the fiery persecutions of the priests and scribes, the unjust judgment, the delivery to Pontius Pilate, the mocking and scourging, the crown of thorns, the cross between malefactors, the nails and the spear—all were spread before him. He had not only come to minister but to give his life a ransom for many. The joyous outlook of the victory which was to be accomplished through the shedding of his blood led him forward (Heb. 12:2).

IV. The Cost of Discipleship (Mark 8:34).

The law of the Christian life is suffering. To follow Christ means to turn one's back upon the world and share his sufferings.

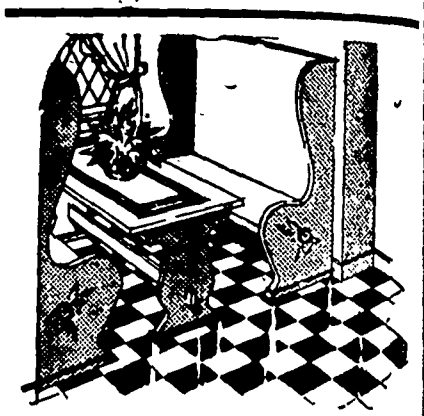
1. There must be denial of self (v. 34). There is a vast difference between self-denial and denial of self. All people practice self-denial, but only Christians deny self.

2. The cross must be taken up (v. 34). This means that suffering and shame will lie in the pathway of the one who is loyal to God (II Tim. 3:12).

3. Christ must be followed (v. 34). The blessed issue of following Christ is a life of freedom here and now, and eternal life hereafter.

TROUT IN IOWA

Trout fishing is onsidered one of the finest outdoor sports and to those who do their fishing in the lakes and larger streams of the state goes this bit of information. It has been learned that many of our fishermen do not know that Iowa has some of the finest trout fishing waters in the country. While they all do not compare with waters in some of the other states in the Union, yet it is generally recognized by authorities on the subject that Iowa possesses some of the best streams. Some are not in the best of condition but if the plans of the Iowa Fish and Game Commission can be carried out and the cooperation of the sportsmen and others secured, these can be improved to make additional fine trout waters. With the stocking policy of the fish and game department, that of placing adult fish in the streams that have been improved, the next five years should produce some of the best sport known. The best of these streams are located in the northeast corner of the state and it is here that the Commission is giving a great deal of attention. Last fall 27.000 adult trout were placed in these waters and as more streams are improved by the interested sportsmen it is hoped that more adult trout will be available to make a trip to these streams worth while.



DIRT FIGHTS A LOSING BATTLE

Dirt fights a losing battle when linoleum is protected by LOWE BROTHERS LINOLEUM LACQUER. For this smooth, durable finish makes linoleum so easy to clean that wiping with a damp cloth removes all dirt. Moreover, this high-grade lacquer preserves the original beauty of new linoleum, brightens old linoleum, and greatly increases the life of both. LOWE BROTHERS LINOLEUM LACQUER dries within one hour after it is applied.

have passed unnoticed were it not for the confused attempt to cover it up. We can be assured from this that the individual is fundamentally honest and innocent, because the most exacting phase of the commission of crime is the confusion of detection, and no plans were made for the get-away. Else how come I would know about it?

If you can't swallow some of the words in the foregoing, just let it pass. When I get the time I will write words of greater obsurity. That will be when I commence that great American treatise. "The Incompatability of the Incompatible". To explain shortly, it means the reason for the acute diversity and compound bifurcation between what we have and that which we wish we had. Boy, hand me the paradimethylaminolbenzaldchyde. Now you know what I use to get myself in that condition.

A lengthy article I have read in a recent Saturday Evening Post says that at the big coming-out parties thrown by the elite in the East, the invitations are arranged so that there are three men present for every girl. They must be pretty poor men to be satisfied with 1-3 girl each.

It must be puppy love when we see a man, a girl and a young dog in the same place at the same time in the spring. Tra-la!

Why is it that on April 1 we always kick bricks that are under hats, pick up phony money (and lay it down again) and try to lift pennies that are nailed to the floor. Methinks that July 4th is less damaging to our good nature.

Which reminds me of the prominent business man who buys his firecrackers on July 4th and then explodes them at odd moments the year round for the fun of it. Don't tell me that men aren't just grown-up boys.

And then there was the blacksmith who kicked like a bay steer when arrested under the corrupt practices act for pounding cold iron.

Last Friday night proved that if our business men can't be successful at everything collectively, they can at least hold a good meeting.

W. C. Keraus and family drove to Belmond Sunday to view the damage done by the fire.

There were four babies baptized at the Methodist church on Easter Sunday. The following parents had their babies baptized: Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Waterman; Mr. and Mrs. Peter Christians; Mr. and Mrs. Louie Knoke; and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Johnson.

Belmond experienced quite a fire last Thursday night or early Friday morning. Six frame buildings were burned to the ground. One man was burned to death and his brother in jumping from the second floor window broke both legs and injured his back and is in a critical condition.

A new chimney graces the office of the Farmers Elevator.

NEW CURRENCY WILL NOT INFLATE

May Result in Credit Expansion And Price Rise

The recent federal emergency bank legislation will not result in depreciated currency and an immediate price boom, in the opinion of two Iowa State College economists, Geoffrey Sheperd and Wallace Wright.

It does, however, leave the way open for a moderate credit expansion and a consequent rise in prices, the economists added.

The economists, in a statement for the press, said the belief held by many people that the new issue of Federal reserve bank notes would result in a substantial currency inflation and price rise was false.

"There will be no uncontrolled price inflation because every dollar of currency that is placed in circulation is matched by a dollar of credit taken out of curculation.

"The new currency is backed by 100 per cent commercial paper, pledged to the Federal Reserve Banks by banks that wish to convert some of their assets into cash. Price inflation can result from currency expansion only when the total volume of money is increased. The issuance of new currency is simply replacing slow assets of banks by cash.

"A mild credit expansion and consequent price rise may, however result from the new legislation," the statement said. "The law makes it possible for banks to keep themselves liquid. They will probably be inclined to extend more credit and this will increase the amount of money in circulation. In normal times banks lend out about 10 times as much as their reserves. Since the depression began banks have been contracting their credit and making few loans. The new banking law makes it possible for a bank to withstand any run by converting its assets immediately into cash."

The effect of credit expansion which may take place will be slow, since a great deal of credit is at present tied up in closed banks and banks operating under restrictions.

Only 9 million dollars of new currency has been issued so far. "Apparently the public is not calling for large amounts of the new money—the absolute certainty of conversion of deposits into cash has taken away the desire to draw money out of the banks," the economists stated.

THINGS FOR THE SPORTSMAN TO DO IN APRIL

The month of April loads the sportsman down with many important things to do. With the trout season opening on the 15th and seasons on other species opening in May or June, there is the takle to think about. Get out the rods and reels. Give them the once over. Wash the working parts of the reels in benzine with an old toothbrush. Replace broken or worn parts. REV. MUHLEMAN GAVE TALK TO HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

Through the kindness of Rev. Ralston, the high school heard a splendid talk by Rev. W. G. Muhleman Thursday afternoon. Rev. Muhleman is conducting special meetings in the M. E. Church. He is much interested in young people and has been active in Boy Scout work for a number of years. On Tuesday he again gave an adress on World Peace and told of some of his war experiences.

The home economics girls have been making a study of fabrics, discussing the kinds suitable for different garments. They are starting their first project this week.

Our attendance was somewhat irregular last week due to the condition of the country roads.

The Juniors are not burdened by much spare time as they have started work on their play. The name of the play is "Shirt Sleeves" and the twenty-first day of April is the date set for it to be presented.

The girls glee club and the orchestra did well at the music contest at Britt. No winner is announced at the contest, according to the new constitution, but ratings are sent to the Superintendent. We feel that Klemme should be proud of the fine representation at Britt.

Grades 1 and 2

Mrs. Gram and Mrs. Ulrich were visitors last week.

We are making April posters and spelling booklets this week in handwork time.

The 2nd grade will finish their child study Readers this week.

The 2nd grade are reviewing the 100 subtraction combinations. If we do good work we play store. We are learning to add up bills and make change. We made money out of tag board and know the names of the different coins.

Grades 3 and 4

Mrs. Buntenbac and Junior, and Mrs. Merkel were visitors in our room.

Dorothy Griffen, a fourth grade pupil in Garner, spent an afternoon with us last week.

Saturday. the third and fourth grade and Miss Wilson went sliding After an hour and a half everyone returned to the schoolhouse and a lunch consisting of sandwiches, cocoa and cookies was served.

For several weeks the pupils have been working on "Poem Booklets" Everyone is required to copy the twelve poems and learn them.

The fourth grade will soon finish the Pacific States which will be the last of the 48 which they must study. Their next Geography project will be "map booklets".

Grades 5 and 6

Marvin Lemke was absent from grade six last week because of illness.

Elnor Schuldt was absent from grade five Friday.

The fifth grade completed their study of the Civil War.

Donald Lemke and Cecil Leitzinger were absent on Monday.

In sixth grade language we are writing original poetry.

Grades 7 and 8

Arlene Kraus was absent Monday and Tuesday because of illness.

Paul Schuldt was absent Monday.

A number of seventh and eighth grade people enjoyed a coasting party Tuesday night.

The seventh grade are beginning a study of the Revolutionary War in history.

The eighth grade have just completed a study of courts in Civics.

CORN TESTS DISCLOSE HIGH GERMINATION

Twenty Farmers Submit Corn For Determination of Quality

General tests of seed corn from 20 different farmers in Hancock County during the past three weeks showed the average germination to be 90%. The seed was sent in, by the Farm Bureau, to the seed laboratory where careful tests were made. Farmers from twelve townships submitted samples at random from their seed corn. The samples were kept separate. Half of the seed the college laboratory was treated while the other half remained untreated. Following are the results:

	non-treated	treated
No. kernels	1800	1800
% Strong	90	98
% Weak	9	1
% Dead	1	.7

It is evident from the above results that it pays to treat seed corn, especially when the cost is less than 4 cents per acre.

This gain however, can seldom be detected except by actually harvesting and weighing the yield from each row separately. In some cases a difference in the stand can be noted if the season is cold and wet during the period of germination.

There are four dusts which are satisfactory for treating corn, namely: Merki, Cemesan Jr., Barbak III. Sterocide. The amount required is two ounces per bushel or one teaspoon to a ten gallon can half filled with corn is an easy and practical method to treat.

If you want to make more than 1000% on your investment treat your seed corn this spring. You can treat it several weeks before planting time according to S. J. Oberhauser, county agent.

First Spring Flower?

Mrs. F. A. Arnold had two crocus one a blue and the other a yellow, in bloom the latter part of last week. The plants are on the east side of the house. The snow and ice had scarcely disappeared when the first flowers of spring were in bloom. Mrs. Arnold has many varieties of flowers and from early spring until late in the fall one can see many flowers in bloom at the Arnold place.

BACK TO Pre War PRICES

TO the American public, pre-war prices have come to represent a supposedly desirable low level. It is natural therefore, that in these days of reduced budgets, the desire for pre-war prices is heard repeatedly. The error of this desire is easily demonstrated. Nearly all products have been greatly improved in the last 20 years and yet prices today compare favorably with those of 1913. As applied to electric service, a return to the good old days would be decidedly costly. The average domestic consumer now pays approximately $4.90 for 60 kilowatt hours. Before the war (1912) the same amount of current cost about $7.50. The history of the electric industry is marked by consistently reduced prices and a constant improvement in service.

ATTENDED FUNERAL OF BOY WHO WAS BURNED TO DEATH

Three Year Old Nephew of Mrs. Ed. Buntenbach Victim of Sad Tragedy

Ed Buntenbach and family drove to Williams Friday to attend the funeral of Bobby Rankin, 3, nephew of Mrs. Buntenbach, who died in a fire which destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Rankin near Williams Friday morning.

The Rakins had gone to the barn to milk, leaving their four children asleep. The 9 year old daughter first discovered the fire, and ran from the house to notify her parents Her father rushed to the second floor of their nine room home and found the younger daughter unconcious at the top of the stairway. He carried her and a son to safety but could not find Bobby, the youngest. Fire departments of Williams and Alden were called but lack of water made their efforts useless. The body of the little boy was recovered later from the ruins.

WATCH FOR THE BIRDS

During the first few days of April if the weather is good, several of our feathered friends will put in their appearance. They will be returning from the South where they have spent the winter in comfort. Some of the birds that will be returning about this time are the purple Finch, Sparrow Hawk, Vesper Sparrow, Grebe, Kingfisher, Blue Heron, Coot. Field Sparrow, Woodcock, Yellow Bellied Sap-Sucker, Flickers, Teal and other ducks. About the middle of April one can expect to see such birds as the tree-Swallow, Winter Wren, Gold Finch, Red-Crowned Kinglet, Barn Swallow, Sandpiper and Water Thrush. If one will make a study of the history of many of these birds and learn where they spend their winters, it will be interesting to know how far these birds fly to make their homes among your yards and gardens. Many of the birds named above can be encouraged to make their homes near us where they will delight us with their songs and their bright plumage. This can be done by building homes for them and giving them food and water. Nesting materials should be scattered about on the bushes, such as cotton. short pieces of thread or string. It behooves us to make the bird's home as comfortable as possible for they come many miles to nest and raise their young.

CLEAR LAKE FISH HATCHERY TO BEGIN OPERATIONS

Seining Of Carp Continues; One Car Load Has Been Shipped

Operations at the Clear Lake Fish Hatchery began the latter part of the week when five crews of 2 men each began the annual task of seining and removing spawn from pike and placing them in the hatchery where they will go through the process of hatching into baby pike, later to provide sport for fishermen.

The seining of carp continues for several more weeks. The nets are placed at the head of the lake between the sand bar and the grade and are hauled onto the grade. The fish caught are stored in floating bins until there are enough for shipping. One car load has already been shipped to eastern market and thousands of carp are in storage for further shipments.

J. L. RALSTON, Pastor

Marning worship at 10 o'clock. Sermon subject "The Easter Message".

Sunday School at 11 o'clock.

Let us make this a great day in the church and Sunday School. Why not all come and boost the attendance to 200 next Sunday? Let us give the church its rightful place.

There was a nice company of folks at the Epworth League last Sunday. Why not come and worship with this group of young people? All our young folks are urged to be present next Sunday at 7:00.

Evening service at 8 o'clock. The Subject is "The Burning Heart.'

We greet you with gladness and joy this glorious Easter. We pray that its message of joy, faith, hope and love will fill each ones heart. This is the time when we should open our hearts to the Spirit of God, so that the life of God seen every where about us and the glory of God seen in our Risen Lord may fill our hearts with love and devotion to God, and good will towards our neighbors and friends.

There will be an opportunity for all those who wish to be baptized to have this ceremony performed at the morning service.

Also the doors of the church will be open and all those who wish to follow Christ will have the privilege of being admitted to the membership of the church. There is no greater day to take this step into the church than on this glorious Easter morning.

JESUS TRANSFIGURED

LESSON TEXT—Mark 9:2-29.

GOLDEN TEXT—And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, (and we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father,) full of grace and truth. John 1:14.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus God's Son.

JUNIOR TOPIC—With Jesus on a Mountain Top.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Glory of Jesus.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Meaning of the Transfiguration.

In II Peter 1:16-18 is given an inspired interpretation of the transfiguration by one who was present and knew all that transpired. When Christ announced his death which was to take place on the cross, the disciples were greatly perplexed as to how victory could issue from death. Peter, James, and John accompanied Jesus into the mountain. They went there to pray (Luke 9:28).

In order to revive their drooping spirits and restore their confidence he was transfigured before them. Two men were sent from the realms above to talk with Jesus about his approaching death at Jerusalem (Luke 9:31)—the very thing about which the disciples had refused to talk (Mark 8:31-33). The transfiguration is, therefore, a foregleam of the coming Kingdom. It gives the outline of the order and method of the establishment of Messiah's Kingdom.

I. Jesus the King Glorified on the Mountain (vv. 2, 3).

He took the disciples "by themselves" and was "transfigured before them." This shows that the purpose of the transfiguration terminated upon the disciples and not upon Christ. Christ's rebuke to Peter for his unwillingness to hear concerning his death seemed for a time to estrange the disciples from him. His shining raiment was typical of that glory which shall be manifest when Christ comes back to earth. His appearance on the mountain typifies his visible appearance on the Mount of Olives (Zech. 14:4, 9).

II. Peter, James, and John Represent Israel in the Flesh in Connection With the Kingdom (v. 2).

Christ is peculiarly the King of Israel. According to Ezekiel 37:21-27, the Israelites are to be the central people in Messiah's Kingdom.

III. Moses and Elijah Appeared in Glory With Jesus (vv. 4-13).

These men in the glorified state are typical of the state of the saints in glory. Moses who was once denied an entrance into Palestine now appears in glory. He represented the redeemed of the Lord who shall pass through death into the Kingdom. Elijah represents the redeemed who shall pass into the Kingdom through translation. Some shall be living upon the earth when the Lord comes, who without dying shall be changed and thus pass into the Kingdom (I Cor. 15:50, 53; I Thess. 4:14-18).

1. Peter's proposal (vv. 5, 6). So definitely was the method of the Kingdom unfolded before Peter that he proposed to erect tabernacles, one for Christ, one for Moses, and one for Elijah. It is true that the unveiling of the majestic person of Christ somewhat disconcerted Peter, yet he grasped its central meaning and proposed to celebrate the advent of his Kingdom which had been prefigured in this tangible way.

2. The divine voice out of the cloud (vv. 7, 8). God declared Jesus to be his beloved Son in whom he was well pleased. The way to know what is pleasing to God is to study Jesus.

3. Christ's charge (vv. 9-13). He charged them that they should tell no man concerning the things which they had seen until he had risen from the dead.

IV. The Purpose of the Establishment of the Kingdom Demonstrated (vv. 14-29).

When they descended from the Mount of Transfiguration they witnessed a great multitude in a state of perplexity. The immediate cause of this state was the grievous condition of a young man possessed with a demon (v. 18), whose father had appealed to the disciples to cast out the demon, but they were unable to do so. When they brought him unto Jesus, the foul spirit was rebuked and came forth. This young man's state is representative of the nations who are grievously oppressed by the devil. Just as this young man was grievously oppressed, causing him to cast himself into the fire and into the waters, so the nations even today in their great perplexity are doing the things which will result in their own destruction. The devil will be peculiarly active in the oppression of men and nations in the last days.

TEN YEARS AGO

April 12, 1923

Harry Buss has sold his interest in the Coobs & Buss garage and has moved to Goodell, where he bought a garage.

Mr. H. F. Kellogg, manager of the Iowa Falls Electric Co. was in town on business yesterday. He stated that the company is going to reduce the rate on light current in Klemme, and will go back to the old rate. That sounds fine.

Dr. Zinn left Saturday night for Canada. He intended to stop off at Battle Creek, Mich. (to eat some breakfast cereals) and join his brother there and then they would go on to Hanover. Canada, for a visit with their father. "Doc s" daddy is ninety-four years young; and perhaps his son, George, will get a spanking for not coming home for two years.

Dick Bamman began his new duties yesterday as street commissioner and water works superintendent for the Town of Klemme.

TWENTY-ONE YEARS AGO

April 11, 1912

Ed Ell and John Bock, Jr. are at Garner this week serving as petit jurors.

Ralph Elder hauled out lumber last week to be used in remodeling his house.

J. N. Day and wife came down from Buffao Center last Saturday evening for a visit with relatives. They returned home yesterday.

While playing Monday evening Earl Josten fell in some maner and sustained a fracture of the arm.

Nels Palmer and his efficient helper, Jack Weiland, are good and busy these days. They are tearing down the old lumber shed on the south side of the street. The old Northern Lumber Co. office will be movedto the North side of the street as well as the old lime house and the present cement house next to the tracks will be moved.

The house on the Mrs. Wiles' farm south of town, occupied by Henry Rust, was burned to the ground last Thursday afternoon. The cause of the fire is unknown. Mrs. Wiles was at the house alone and was sick in bed. A doctor had been called and was just arriving when he noticed that the building was on fire. A strong wind was blowing and all efforts to save the building were useless. A new residence will probably be built at once

And on Monday morning another wheelbarrow full of rubbish goes down the chute. Such is the life of an uneducated specialist! It's a good thing that the Times is not a daily because then you.. wouldn't.. have interval enough to recover from successive shots of this stuff. Neither would I.

Some time ago I said something about two families making one subscription do for both. Now I could say something about the small-town editor who sent his paper to a certain party for years after the subscription had run out. Circulation, what crimes are ommitted in thy name!

Then there is the guy that broadcasts the blessed event of external ablution. If it happened once a day instead of once a week the affair would become a habit and not worth mentioning.

If the siren would have cut loose last Friday night I expect that Coonie would have picked up a few chairs and maybe a table. It would not have been unusual in the face of the circumstances to have seen chicken bones scattered from Coonie's to the firestation and from there to the point of disturbance.

I didn't much care who got elected mayor. Both candidates had to traverse the gap in the sidewalk by the town hall if they walked up town.

Maybe you recognize some of your own wise-cracks in this column. Well. why not? If I find them worth writing up maybe some one else will find them worth reading.

Well, I wonder how soon it will snow some more.

HOBBY SHOW WAS REAL INTERESTING

C. G. Waterman and family and R. A. Jorgenson and family drove to Mason City Friday afternoon to see the "Hobby Show" at the Y. M. C. A. The display was very interesting. Over 120 boys had their hobbies on display and hundreds of items including displays of milk bottle caps, pop bottle caps, match covers gum wrappers. nesw heads and clippings, collections of coins, stamps, butterflies, relics, marbles, nails, woods, scrap books, airplane models, coach models, ship models and as an auctoneer would say. "many other articles too numerous to mention' were on display.

The Editor believes that a hobby show could be staged in Klemme, as there are many interesting collections and hobbies in our community Off hand we name a few: Collection of Indian arrow heads and implements; several coin collections; stamp collections; archery equipment; old relics; quilts; guns and many others. We know of one boy who has thousands of empty cartridge cases, another boy who has hundreds of pop bottle caps. A hobby show could be held at the school house in connection with the next P. T. A. meeting, or for that matter, anytime. The authorities that be a work on this suggestion. There is no admission charge to a hobby show.

Where the Dark Begins—

MORE CRIMES—ACCIDENTS—THEFTS—

IN every town much activity continues after sundown, and proper street illumination is necessary. Where the dark begins you find more crimes and accidents, poor business and low property values. The city of Detroit offers definite proof of the false economy of reduced street lighting. In 1931 Detroit street lighting was reduced 33% to curtail expenses. During the following months, fatal automobile accidents at night increased over 23%. There was an unparalleled increase in crime. Within a year the full lighting system was restored at popular request.

HERE'S ANOTHER FOR EDITOR RAY ROBERTS

Tongue twisters are always interesting, amusing and instructive. And they are now used by station authorities to try out radio anouncers. You can have lots of fun by digging up a few of the most difficult ones to have your party guests try.

Don't forget to include this one in your list: 'Esau saw Saul sawing but Saul saw not Esau as he sawed for Esau saw Saul from where he saw not.' Here's another: "The sea ceaseth and it suffices us." Be sure to have them try their luck saying the following three sentences—rapidly. "A growing gleam glowing green." "The bleak breeze blighted the bright broom blossoms." "Flesh of freshly dried flying fish." It is almost impossible for anyone to repeat them correctly if they do it fast.

Almost equally difficult are the following: "Six thick thistle sticks." "Two toads tried to trot to Tedbury." "Give Grimes Jim's great gilt gig whip." "Strict, strong Stephen Stringer snared slickly six sickly silky snakes." "She stood at the door of Mrs. Smith's fish sauce shop welcoming him in.'

Gardens! NOW is the time to---

PESKY PESTS OF SMALL FRUITS

Iowa gardeners will soon be concerned with some of the problems connected with the growing of strawberries, raspberries, gooseberries, currants and blackberries. Thee are several important diseases that attack these plants, but they may all be controlled by taking the proper action at the proper time.

Leaf spot causes a familiar spotting on strawberry leaves and may be controlled by spraying and sanitary measures. Leaf spot does not cause serious damage on the Dunlap variety but is usually rather serious on the Mastodon.

Leaf roller. an insect which occasionally causes heavy strawberry losses may be stopped by an application of arsenate of lead when the insect is first seen. Apply the arsenate at the rate of 2 pounds to 50 gallons of water followed by weekly applications until the fruit is well formed. This insect may be recognized by its habit of rolling up the leaves in the spring and feeding from within the chamber. A circular dealing with leaf roller may be obtained from the county agena or from Iowa State College.

The currant worm is a menace to gooseberry and currant bushes. Arsenate of lead at the rate of 3 tablespoonsful of lead arsenate to each gallon of water will control this insect which strips the leaves of the plants. Black raspberres are subject to a disease known as anthracnose, which causes a grayish, cracked appearance of the canes. This disease is controlled by sanitary measures and by spraying. Circular 105 whch may be obtained from the county agent or Iowa State College gives specific instructions for control of the disease.

Questions concerning the culture and control of the pests of the small platns will be answered by the Department of Horticulture, Iowa College.

8 GOOD POTATO VARIETIES

The only good potato varieties for Iowa are the Early Ohio Irish Cobbler and the Rural New Yorker. In most cases Irish Cobblers should be used.

New northern seed should be purchased every year in the case of the Early Ohio and the Irish Cobbler. Iowa-grown Rural New Yorker seed is satisfactory if always planted late and away from other sorts. Seed potatoes should be relatively short. Any tendency toward pointed seed ends or length indicates low yielding power. Knobby or second growth tubers if otherwise all right in history and freedom from disease may be perfectly good seed.

Potatoes for seed should not be cut to get a certain number of eyes to the piece but rather for the size and shape of the piece. Pieces should be cut as chunky as possible and should weigh about 10 to the pound. or about as much as hen's eggs. The seed should be planted as soon as possible after cutting.

For the home garden Paris green mixed with flour is the best dust. It will kill bugs quickly and the flour will make it stick to the leaves. A blow gun or a perforated baking powder can will serve for applying the mixture.

Potatoes should be cultivated throughout the season at first deeply and then shallow. They should never be laid-by. It is important to keep the ground loose at all times and to kill the weeds.

THE HOUSE WREN

When building of bird houses comes to mind, the chances are that one of the first birds thought of is the Common House Wren. This small bird is readily identified by its size and is to be found in almost any part of Iowa during the summer months. Perhaps the most interesting thing about this little bird is the fact that it will nest in almost any hole, crevice or receptable. Nearly anything will do. Even to nail up a tin can in the proper place and in the right position will serve as their home. The Wrens nests have been found in peculiar places such as rural mail boxes, in the leg ofa pair of overalls hung out to dry, broken jug and cow's skull which was placed on top of a fence post. Their food consists chiefly of bugs, grasshoppers, crickets, locusts, caterpillars, moths weevils, leaf-beetles, ants and spiders. There is practically no vegetable food in its diet. An interesting characteristic in its food habits is that very few useful insects are included in its diet but there are numerous injurious insects included

For those who are not sure of their identification of the Wren the following description may help: It is a small bird with a slender pointed bill; grayish-brown above; dull white below; the back, wings, tail and flanks are closely barred with dusky-black. During the nesting season the nests will contain from six to ten eggs which are a dull white. thickly speckled with minute dots of brownish-red, so dense are these dots that they make the egg appear as of that color. The period of incubation is from 11 to 13 days.

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENTS MET AT BRITT WEDNESDAY EVE

The superintendents of the county were entertained by Supt. Thies of Britt last Wednesday evening. Officers of ahe clud were elected for next year. Supt. Fish, who is serving as vice-president. was elected president for next year; Supt. Hunter, secretary-treasurer this year was elected vice-president; Supt. Zwald will act as secretary.

Supt. Fish and Supt. Hunter were appointed as a committee to make a complete schedule in basketball for next year for all the schools in the Seven Eagles Conference. The schedule is to be approved by the members at the meeting in Goodell next fall. The committee will be able to make a more balance schedule than was possible by individual schools. If the schedule proves satisfactory next year it will be rotated from year to year.

The County Track meet will be held May 16, at Britt.

Dr. W. G. Muhleman, who has been conducting meetings at the M. E. Church spoke last Tuesday morning to the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades and high school students. He told of the fascination that war held for him when he was a boy of his experiences while he belonged to the Illinois National Guards, emphasizing the fact that the taxpayers have to pay for such ventures. During the time of the Pullman strike in Chicago, he said he got a taste of the less desirable side of war, but it was not until he served as Chaplain during the World War that he saw war as it really was. He said he wanted every young person to realize the meaning of war and to learn to hate it—to know that no people can want war if they are following Christian teachings. He showed some of the minor weapons that were used in the World War.

Rev. Ralston and Mr. Baggs. our county superintendent, were present at the assembly Tuesday morning. Mr. Baggs has promised to come some time soon to give us a talk.

The Juniors have decided to give their class play "Shirt Sleeves" two nights, Friday and Saturday, April 21 and 22.

Grades 7 and 8

The seventh grade reading club gave their monthly program last Frday. The followng officers were elected for April: president, Ruth Blickenderfer; vice president, Elaine Buntenbach; secretary, Wayne Shoafstall.

The seventh and eighth grades are busy reviewing for our six weeks tests.

Elaine Buntenbah, Paul Schuldt, and Avis Barz were absent Friday.

Grades 5 and 6

Grade five has been working on some flag notebooks. In them they have pictures of the first five flags of our country and the history of each.

For history in grade six we have completed our study of the exploration period. We now have made maps showing the routes taken by the explorers.

Donald Lemke was absent from grade five for several days last week.

Eugene Kluckhohn was absent from grade six Tuesday morning.

In fifth grade geography we have made a large "European Friends" poster. We have colored a boy and a girl from the most important countries. colored their country's flag and given them names. We pasted them on a large sheet of wrapping paper and now have it in the back of the room. Besides this each child had a separate notebook containing the same information.

Grades 3 and 4

The third and fourth grades have four new plants this spring.

Last week the room took a hike and looked for birds nests.

We made new spelling booklets for April. This month they are rabbitts.

Grades 1 and 2

Harlan Buss. Elwyn Jacobs, Betty Jean Etchen, Betty Schuldt and Eugene Johnson have won their stars for 100 in spelling.

We made April posters for our room last week.

The 2nd grade began work in the "Learn to Study Readers" Monday. They also finished the lessons" in their "Seatwork Books '.

The 2nd grade completed their study of the months by making booklets and posters.

BUSINESS MEN SEND OUT NOVEL BOOK

BUSINESS DIRECTORY PUBLISHED AND MAILED OUT

For the past week the Times has been busy printing a Business Directory for Klemme. With the help of a number of business men who came to help assemble and address the books, Monday night, the first edition was put into the mail early Tuesday morning, and a copy will reach every resident in the Klemme trade territory. Look the book over and read its contents. Your first impression will probably be that you did not realize there were so many men in business n Klemme.

A number of extra books were printed and these will be given to the advertiser. Anyone wishing an extra copy of the Drectory can procure one from any of the business men. These extra copies, however, will not be available for a few days, all of the assembing work having been completed.

Driven Over By Tractor But Not Badly Hurt

FLOYD GREIMAN ESCAPES SERIOUS ACCIDENT

Floyd Greiman, seventeen year old son of Ben F. Greiman, Liberty township farmer escaped with minor injuries Saturday when he was run over by a tractor while discing at the Greiman farm.

The tractor which Floyd was using to pull the heavy disc across the field had been equipped with long steel lugs on the drive wheels. As he made a turn one of the lugs caught in the disc frame, causing the wheel to raise up. Floyd glanced back to see the heavy disc being pulled toward him and in jumping from the tractor fell under the wheel. However with the lugs digging in the dirt and the ground below, he was only bruised by the wheel passing over him. He was able to get up and go to the house where he was O. K. after a couple minutes rest.

The tractor had elevated itself high enough to throw it up on top of the rear end of the tractor. Floyd feels that he was lucky to get out of its accident as well as he did.

LIBERTY 4-H CLUB MET LAST SATURDAY AT HABERKAMP'S

Liberty's Happy Home Helpers met at the home of Dorothy and Margaret Haberkamp Saturday. 13 members answered roll call. Marie Greiman was elected as queen for Rally Day to be held at Britt. Lillian Brown was elected as delegate to the 4-H convention at Ames.

The members had a discussion on "courtesy" and "How to Register at a Hotel".

Lola Golt gave a demonstration on the color wheel and Dorothy Greiman gave a talk on "What is a Perfect Foot."

There was a discussion on music The girls then made needle cases and the leader showed them how to make mending kits and aprons.

Lunch was served by the hostesses. The next meeting will be held at the home of Ethel Pringnitz on May 20. All members are urged to be present.

Young Klemme Couple Married Last Thursday

DWIGHT HELPS AND ALVINA BUSS MARRIED

The information is meager, but we gather that Dwight Helps, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Helps and Miss Alvna Buss, daughter of Mrs. Eelko Buss, were married last Thursday. Evidently the young couple stole a march on their friends for they left no information as to where they were married or when they will be back. The Times hopes to publish a more detailed report of this happy event, and in the meantime, we join with their many friends in extending congratulations.

M. E. LADIES AID THURSDAY

M. E. Ladies Aid will meet Thursday at the church. Mrs. J. N. Day and Mrs. Wm. Smith will be the hostesses. There will be a quilt put on Wednesday afternoon and we are asking all who can to come at eight thirty and quilt until time to go home and get dinner and come back and quilt all afternoon. We want to accomplish as much as we can in one full day. We can handle fourteen around it in starting. There are other quilt blocks to finish and there will be some rags to get ready for the rugs, so everybody come and work.

Lemon juice will remove berry stains from the hands.

THE SECRET IS OUT--COUPLE MARRIED!

YOUNG COUPLE WERE MARRIED BEFORE CHRISTMAS—HAVE KEPT IT SECRET

Miss Ethel Schoenwetter nnd Herman Meyer Married In Illinois

The secret has leaked out—Miss Ethel Schoenwetter and Mr. Herman Meyer, young Liberty couple, have been married since the day before Christmas. They stole a march on their many friends by going to Illinois for a visit with Mr. Meyer's relatives, and were married at an Illinois town December 24th, 1932.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Art Schoenwetter, of Liberty township. She is a graduate of the Klemme High School and has lived all of her life in this community. Mr. Meyer is a son of Mrs. Herman Meyer of Elkader. He is well known in this community as he has worked on a farm in Liberty township. Both of the parties are fine young people who have a host of friends who wish them well thruout life's journey.

Mr. Meyer is employed on the Albert Schmidt farm this summer Mrs. Meyer will remain at home for a time to assist her mother.

KERAUS HOME SCENE OF DOUBLE SURPRISE

Easter Sunday when W. C. Keraus returned home from church he was surprised to find a number of relatives there waiting to help him celebrate his birthday. Around noon Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Liebendorfer and son, Robert, drove over from Mason City and Mrs. Liebendorfer was also duly surprised, her birthday being the same day as Mr. Keraus'.

A bountiful dinner was enjoyed by all and the afternoon was spent in a social manner. Those present at the event were Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Keraus, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Waterman and Marian, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Keraus and Otho and Verle. Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Jorgenson and son Junior, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Mitchell of Swea City, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Liebendorfer and son, Robert, of Mason City and Mr. and Mrs. Dean Hiltman and son, Darrell of Clear Lake.

P. H. M.'S MET SATURDAY AT STEWART HOME

P. H. M's met at the home of Marjorie Stewart Saturday, April 15th. Nine members answered roll call, giving the parts of the sewing machine.

Miss Marjorie Stewart was chosen to represent the club in entering as a contestant for the queen contest which will be held at Britt in June. Talks were given on "Materials for Kimona and Bath robe" by Jennie Albers and Lydia Pearson; on the "Shampooing of Hair" by Charlotte Greiman; "Alternation of Patterns by Winnifred Hampel; "Hair Waving and Setting of Hair" by Nellie Stromer. This was followed by music and folk dances and a delicious lunch served by the hostess.

The next meeting will be at the home of Lydia Pearson on May 13.

Fire Damages Parked Truck At Creamery

CREAM HAULER'S TRUCK CAUGHT AFIRE

Friday afternoon Emil Kraus' practically new truck was badly damaged by fire. Mr. Kraus, who is a hauler for the Klemme Creamery, had returned from his route and left his truck parked on the lot east of the Creamery. Paul Mueller, buttermaker looked out from the creamery and saw smoke rolling out of the truck. The fire was extinguished with chemicals but not before a lot of damage was caused. The cab, cushions,,, steering wheel and other parts were damaged so that a new cab will have to be put on the truck, and various parts installed new. The cause of the fire is thought to have been a bare spot on a wire coming in contact with a metal part of the truck and causing a short.

THE VOICE OF THE VATICAN

An added extra attraction will be shown at the Avery Theatre at Garner on April 30 and May 1 and 2 in conjunction with Lee Tracy in "Private Jones" and that is the "Voice of the Vatican". His Holiness Pope Pius XI is seen for the first time on the talking screen, showing him with his dignitaries and intimate views of the Vatican. This reel has been praised by both church and clergy and is a reel that is worth going miles to see. It also shows Mussolini, King Victor Emmanuel, Marconi and many other dignitaries of church and State in scenes to thrill the nation's millions Whether you are a church goer or not you should see the "Voice of the Vatican", so make your plans to visit the Avery on the above dates

HORSEHAIR SNAKES

The American Nature Association says there is no foundation for the myth that a horsehair put into water will turn into a snake. The origin of this belief is thought to be the actual existence of a hair worm or threadworm, which is of the thickness and general appearance of a horsehair. These creatures are hatched from eggs, however, and have lives similar to other worm-like animals.

Lesson for April 23

JESUS REBUKES SELF-SEEKING

(Temperance Lesson.)

LESSON TEXT—Mark 9:30-50.

GOLDEN TEXT—Love worketh no ill to his neighbour: therefore love is the fulfilling of the law. Romans 13:10.

PRIMARY TOPIC—My Playmates.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus' Test of Greatness.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Others First.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Sin of Selfishness.

I. The Stupidity of Self-Seeking (vv. 30-32).

Jesus with his disciples was on his way to Capernaum for the last time. He sought a way of retirement in order to be alone with his disciples so as to lead them to apprehend the meaning of the cross. The teaching which was interrupted at Caesarea by Peter's rebuke is now resumed and with definiteness he declares the future event as already present.

1. "The Son of man is delivered into the hands of men" (v. 31).

2. "They shall kill him" (v. 31).

3. "He shall rise the third day" (v. 31). While pressing continually upon them the fact and necessity of the cross, he always showed them the bright side—his triumphant victory over death in the resurrection from the dead. The hearts of the disciples were so steeped in selfishness that they failed to grasp the meaning of his teaching.

II. The Wrangling of Self-Seeking (vv. 33-37).

1. The searching question (v. 33). Because Christ was omniscient he knew the secrets of their hearts. The fact that the disciples were wrangling about official position while the Lord was facing humiliation and death for them and for the whole world, shows how completely alone he was in his sorrow.

2. The silent disciples (v. 34). They were ashamed in his presence when the selfishness of their hearts was revealed.

3. The stinging rebuke (v. 35). "If any man desire to be first, the same shall be last of all." The greatest men are those who are willing to take the lowest place and serve others.

4. The striking illustration (vv. 36, 37). He took a child and set him in the midst of them, thus in a concrete way enforcing his teaching. The child was an illustration of ignorance and dependence. By example and word he showed that true greatness is expressed by willingness to aid the weak, to enlighten the ignorant, and to serve those in need. All who render such service do it, not merely to the needy ones, but to Christ and God. True greatness, therefore, consists not in self-seeking, but in rendering cheerful service to the needy in the name of Christ.

III. The Intolerance of Self-Seeking (vv. 38-41).

1. John's guilty conscience (v. 38). In the light of the teaching of Jesus, John was disturbed over having forbidden a worker for Christ who did not follow after him. Doubtless. this intolerance was in part due to jealousy for Christ, but also for selfish ambition. Many times bigotry is mistaken for zeal for Christ.

2. Whom to tolerate (vv. 39-41).

a. Those who are casting out devils (v. 39) We should really satisfy ourselves that supernatural works are being done. Are demons being cast out? However, this is not final, for there is a supernatural work not of God (Matt. 7:21-23).

b. Those who are doing supernatural works in Christ's name (v. 41). All workers going forth in the name of Christ and for the glory of Christ should be given Godspeed, even though not members of our church or school. "Forbid him not."

IV. The Awful Issue of Self-Seeking (vv. 42-50).

1. Ruin to others (v. 42). Self-seeking usually results in ruin to others.

2. Ruin to the individual (vv. 43, 45, 47). In both cases the issue is eternal torment. Selfishness is opposed to God; and that which is opposed to him must be eternally separated from him. Self-renunciation should be so complete that we should be willing to abandon the most necessary and lawful things in life—hands, feet, eyes—when they become occasions for stumbling either for ourselves or others. No matter how dear or how necessary the friendship, faculty, or possession, if it leads to disloyalty to Christ, it must be forsaken. Spiritual surgery must be employed even when the loss is as great as the sacrifice of a hand or foot. Better suffer the temporary loss and pain of such separation than to suffer eternally.

Leaving the Gospel

"Wrong views of Divine truth among the people of God are always the immediate forerunners of a total departure from the Gospel on the part of a great body of professors of religion."—Robert Haldane.

THRUST And PARRY
By

It has been pointed out to me that if the correct thing were observed you could buy a sermon in a store on Saturday night and get groceries for a church membership on Sunday.

—P. O.—

It has been said that Ye Editor wants the Mayor to tax the extra space on Herman's billboard because of the threat of its cutting in on newspaper advertising. Hm-m-m. High protective tariff for infant industry.

—P. O.—

And then there is the young man who wondered if I saw what he was doing in that car on Main Street last Sunday night. Sure, I did!

—P. O.—

I didn't know I look that way but I guess I must. I shoved a dollar bill into the cage for two tickets. I got the tickets handed clear out to me. A four-bit piece made its appearance above the cash drawer way back inside and I scarcely noticed it. But I glanced up to where a sign said "admission 25c". I had to reach clear up to my elbow for the four bits, but at that it was only a two-bit reach. This did not happen in Garner, Goodell, Belmond, Britt or Klemme.

—P. O.—

In a neighboring metropolis there is a sign painted on a building that says: UNDERTAKING. Below that a ways is another one that says: CLOSING OUT. Possibly this is as close as a realist can come to the saying about the dead past burying its dead. Or else people down there the crawling in holes and pulling them in after them. I dunno. You guess.

—P. O.—

When the cats are away the mice will lift the lift the lid and if they find enough happy sap to get smifed, the lid gets a prop under it. The interior of the house is liable to change materially. If you want to find out more about this, ask anybody. It's out.

—P. O.—

There were at least four bottles of three-two in town a week from last Sunday. One I did not see was emptied of its original contents and filled with 10c worth of near beer and sold for two bits to a guy who was led to believe that the bottle contained three-two. He said that it was pretty good, but he thought it was a little weak. Was he, or was he not a good judge of distance?

Legends of Primitive Peoples

The [illegible] of the Malay peninsula [illegible] an interesting myth which seeks to account for the differences between day and night sky and also the motions of the sun and moon.

According to this legend, both the sun and the moon are regarded as women, while the stars are the children of the moon. The legend tells that the earth once had as many children as the moon. The children of the earth were bright like the sun itself.

Finding that the earth could not [illegible] light and heat, the sun and moon made an agreement to eat their children. The sun carried out [illegible] part of the agreement, but the moon [illegible] her children.

When the moon's children, the stars, came out at night, the sun was very angry and began to pursue the moon. This accounts for the motions of the sun and moon through the heavens, which the Malay natives regarded as [illegible] pursuit of the moon by the sun.

The reason [illegible] out as the sun rises. The natives say, is because the sun is still devouring her children. But the moon hides her children dur-ing the daytime and brings them out at night.

Among the American Indians we find the sun and moon generally regarded as brother and sister.

One legend of the Ottawa Indians tells of two Indians who "sprang through a chasm in the sky and found themselves in a pleasant moonlit land." There they met the moon, who was "an aged woman with white face and pleasing air." She introduced them to her brother, who was the sun.—David Dietz, in the New York World-Telegram.

Even Ordinary Mortal Is Rich in Ancestors

"A pedigree like this is, of course, such as few can claim," says the Canadian Mining Journal, commenting on an article on the subject of heredity. But, with reference to the pedigrees of very ordinary mortals like ourselves, it is interesting to recall that a distinguished legal commentator has estimated that at the fortieth genealogical remove—that is to say, in the course of sixteen or seventeen centuries—the total number of a man's progenitors is more than 1,000,000,000,000.

"'All of us have now subsisting,' wrote the great Blackstone, 'nearly 270,000,000 of cousins in the fifteenth degree; and if this calculation should appear incompatible with the number of inhabitants on the earth, it is because, by intermarriages among the descendants, a hundred or a thousand different relations may be consolidated in one person, or he may be related to us in a hundred or a thousand different ways!'

"What a field of speculation this train of thought opens up! Small wonder that each of us is supposed to have a 'double.'"

Pelican's Big Appetite

It is interesting to see a flock of pelicans on the wing. They usually fly in single file, and when the leader starts or stops flopping his wings the others follow with mechanical precision.

From three to five white chalk-incrusted eggs are laid by the pelican on its crude, bulky nest. Usually not more than two birds are raised. When the chick breaks shell it is black skinned and the long bill already is noticeable. Within a few weeks the bird is downy white and his faint squawking is brought about by a desire for more fish daily. When he is only three weeks old he must have several pounds of fish daily. And when the young pelican reaches his fifth week he displays a ravenous appetite.—Anthony V. Ragusin, in the New York Herald Tribune.

Treasure Lure Strong

Cocos island, in the South Pacific, is again luring gold hunters, notes the Atlanta Journal, referring to expeditions to "that olden haunt of pirates in the South Pacific," in search of "treasure fabled to be worth between $25,000,000 and $75,000,000—a treasure that has long proved a will-o'-the-wisp," according to the Journal. "But," comments this paper, analyzing the persistence of the search, "it isn't the gold merely that these smitten hearts desire; it's the sea wind, the lonely beach, the forest tangle, the very hardship and danger that lift life above humdrum in their foretaste if not in reality. Men will ever be hunters and sailors; and the wilder the chase, the more perilous the voyage, the better they will fancy it.

City of Venice Unique

Venice is at the head of the Adriatic sea, between the mountains and the sea. The whole of the plain has been formed by the debris swept down from the Alps by rivers. In the process of time some of these banks, as in the case of Venice, raised themselves above the level of the water and became the true shore line, while beyond them lay large lagoons formed undoubtedly by fresh water brought down by the rivers and partly by the salt water tide which found its way in at the channels of the river mouths. On a group of these mud banks about the middle of the lagoon stands the city of Venice. The soil is an oozy mud which can only be made suitable for erecting buildings by the artificial means of pile-driving.

Rapid Recording

Typewriter speeds of as high as 235 words a minute have been recorded. In shorthand, 280 words a minute on court testimony have been transcribed, while speeds as high as 350 words a minute have been reported. The speed of wireless telegraphy is 186,000 miles a second. The average speed of transmission by the Morse manual telegraphy is given as 30 to 40 words a minute; automatic devices have increased this speed to 500 to 600 words or more.

Metallic Hearts

We often hear the expression "a heart of gold," but although there is no gold in the human heart, there certainly are other metals.

Examination through the spectroscope has revealed traces of copper, aluminum, and silver. The thyroid gland has been found to contain tin, silver, copper, lead, and zinc.

THERE'S ONLY ONE GRADE OF ELECTRICITY

It is common knowledge that many so-called price reductions have been accomplished at the expense of quality. Many merchants have been forced to stock cheap merchandise in order to meet the demand for low prices. This is something your power company cannot do. It cannot produce a second grade kilowatt hour for the low price trade. From the very beginning of the industry the price of electricity has gone steadily down. It will continue to go down slowly and steadily but never by jumps because 90% of its costs are fixed and independent of changes in commodity prices.

No Knowledge of First English Poet Laureate

There is no authentic record of the origin of the office of poet laureate of England; it is said to have been created during the reign of Edward IV (1461-1483), though earlier than this date, during the reign of Henry III (1216-1272), there was a king's poet who was paid 100 shillings a year. Geoffrey Chaucer, who lived from 1328 to 1400, assumed the title of poet laureate, and in 1389 received a royal grant of a yearly allowance of wine. But the first poet laureate in the modern sense was Edmund Spenser, who was granted a pension of £50 by Queen Elizabeth in 1591. Ben Jonson was the first to receive the office by formal letters-patent.

The appellation is derived from a custom of the English universities, which continued until 1512, of presenting a laurel leaf to graduates in rhetoric and versification—the "King's Laureate" being a graduate rhetorician in the service of the king. It was formerly the duty of the poet laureate to write an ode on the birthday of the king, but this custom was discontinued in the reign of George III.

Maoris Firm in Belief That "Tiki" Brings Luck

Although the Maoris are becoming civilized to an extent where they can send intelligent representatives to the New Zealand parliament, they nevertheless cling religiously to the greenstone charm called "tiki," which they superstitiously believe will ward off all evil. The stone is of small value, so it is an easy matter for even the poorest to provide themselves with it.

They usually cut it into grotesque figures, or heads, with eyes boldly open and the tongue sticking out in defiance, or derision, the idea being to frighten away anything that might be harmful. The women wear these charms on chains around their necks, and no native woman is considered fully dressed without this superstitious challenge to fear.

Like other South sea islanders, the Maoris believe in the tapu, or tabu. They are taught not to touch the things that are forbidden, and if the tapu is broken the transgressor suffers great agony of mind. Some have died in agony after learning that they had eaten some food that was forbidden.

Where Rhine Is "Lost"

The mighty Rhine river, flowing through half of Europe, is camouflaged when it reaches Holland. The traveler need not ask, when in Holland, where is the Rhine? Not even the natives know.

The river branches into many outlets when it reaches Dutch soil, and each outlet has been given an individual name, the Dutch being careful to avoid the use of "Rhine."

The Waal is part of the Rhine, uniting the Maas, which is known in its southern course as the Meuse, and then on its way to the North sea is neither the Rhine nor the Waal but the Maas.

"Romantic" Writers

Against the rather cold rationalism of the Eighteenth century there set in a reaction which emphasized the emotional side of life. It went in for poetry, and the beauties of nature, and rather idealized the past, particularly the Middle ages. In Germany, some of Goethe's earlier work was romantic in tone. In England, Coleridge, Wordsworth, Byron, Shelley, Keats and Sir Walter Scott, and in France, Victor Hugo, belong in general to the same tradition. So do most of the American writers of the earlier Nineteenth century, like Cooper, Hawthorne, Poe and Melville.

Gardens! NOW is the time to---

ATTEND TO STRAWBERIES

Selection of strawberry varieties for Iowa is a comparatively easy task. Due to the late spring there is still time to plant this favorite small fruit of the family-sized garden.

The Dunlap is the easiest and best variety to grow in the small, Iowa garden. The Dunlap can be expected to produce 1 pint of berries for each plant set out. Aroma and Gaudy are later in fruiting than the Dunlap but should be planted only on heavy soil. Mastodon and Progressive are good varieties of the everbearing type. The Mastodon is probably preferable for the average garden.

Cultivation of strawberry plants should begin as soon as the plants are in the ground. The soil should be hoed vigorously by hand when needed. All blossoms are removed which arise from newly set plants. Every attempt should be made to get a good set of early-formed runners as these plants give the greatest yield of fruit.

Silk Worms "Smuggled" Into Europe by Monks

The discovery of the thread of the cocoon is credited to a wife of a Chinese emperor as far back as 2600 B. C., but it was not until the Sixth century since the birth of Christ that the manufacture of silk worked westward into Europe. The first of the worms to be brought west were carried by two Persian monks in hollow canes, who brought them to Constantinople.

After eventually reacning France, the silk industry received a considerable acceleration which later drew England into the field, for many silk weavers were forced from France by the edict of Nantes. Seeking a supply of cocoons, the English sought to foster the production of the silk worm in the Colonies. The first were introduced into Virginia, with bounties offered for the production of silk. Virginians found, however, that tobacco was a more profitable crop and the silk worm languished.

Efforts were also made to establish the worm in South Carolina and in Connecticut, while 75 or so years ago an attempt was made in California, but they all came to nothing.

Made Religious Rite of the Brushing of Teeth

The ancient Indo-Europeans of 1700 B. C. made a religious rite of the brushing of teeth, according to Dr. George V. Bobrinskoy, assistant professor of Sanskrit at the University of Chicago.

These early Indians bad no tooth pastes, but they brushed the teeth thoroughly, he said.

For a tooth brush, they used a twig taken from a living tree, a species of fig tree being recommended for the purpose, he continued. It was imperative that the bark remain on the twig. The "tooth brush" could be used but once.

There was a long list of days when the rite must either be omitted or performed in a different manner, he said, and on such days the cleansing of the mouth by rinsing with twelve mouthfuls of water was substituted.

A prayer to be delivered before and after the brushing of the teeth was translated as "O Lord of the Forest, grant us long life, strength, glory, progeny, cattle, riches and knowledge."

When Bread Is "Stale"

Definition and explanation of staling: "It is rather difficult to define stalement fully in a few words. From the standpoint of the consumer, bread is considered stale when, measured by the sense of feeling and taste by contact with the skin and palate, it appears dry and harsh, and not acceptable as fresh. There are, of course, various degrees of staleness, and there exists no absolutely definite dividing line between the so-called freshness and staleness of the loaf. In general, however, bread which is termed fresh possesses a crumb which is somewhat translucent, elastic and springy, while the crumb of stale bread is more opaque and at first tough, then later crumbly or hard, with a noticeable lack of flavor."

Famous Fishing Ground

"Bank" in connection with the Grand Bank of Newfoundland, means an undersea elevation which produces a shallow. The Grand bank off the coast of Newfoundland, which is 300 miles long and less than 600 feet under sea level, is believed to be the top of an old submerged mountain range. It is famous as a fishing ground because codfish resort there every year in May and June in enormous hordes to feed on the crustaceans and mollusks developed in the shoals as the result of sea plants brought in by the meeting of two currents.

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS ITEMS

Miss Carrie Swalve assisted Mrs. Gilbert Schaefer with house cleaning the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ely of Belmond visited at the home of W. F. Missman Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Mable Schaefer and a friend from Rowan spent the week end at the Ed Schaefer home.

Dr. and Mrs. Missman took Byrnes and Miss Gracka Quandt to Clarion Monday evening where they took the train for Iowa City.

JIG-SAW EXCHANGE — Bring your old puzzle and 5c and exchange for another puzzle. Gibbs News Stand. 2tc

Mr. and Mrs. John Bock had a family gathering Sunday. Miss Stella came home from Des Moines Saturday afternoon and Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Bock and daughter Mary Margaret of Garner came for the day.

Shorty Eggers and family of Belmond moved to Klemme the past week and are nicely located in one of Dr. Anderson's houses on Frog Slip Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Blank took a little drive Sunday and spent the day visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Worthie Usher and children. We suspect that the grandparents went to see the children mostly as they certainly have missed the two little boys since they moved to Rowan. They also visited with Mrs. Blank's sister at Belmond.

Lou Suckow and lady friend, Miss Westonberger of Mason City visited with his relatives here Sunday. Grandma Suckow of Garner was a guest at the Herman Paul home on Sunday. She has been staying with Carl Suckow's children at Garner while Carl and his wife are on a trip to Louisiana. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Suckow sold their home at Garner to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Grell and the Suckow's might go south to live.

House of the Dead

In the Chinese cemetery at Panama, a strange building has been erected. Although modern in construction, it is designed after ancient Chinese architecture, preserving the oriental lines of decoration. The building contains 150 separate compartments for coffins. The Chinese who die in Panama are "buried" temporarily in this building. When all of the vaults are occupied a ship is chartered and the 150 coffins are shipped back to China. According to the religious belief of the Chinese, the soul will not gain immortality unless the body is buried in Chinese soil.

Grades 1 and 2

The 2nd grade had a test Friday over the 100 subtraction combinations. They have been learning how to use their foot rulers to measure with.

Both grades have been studying poems about birds in language class.

In nature study, we have been noticing the arrival of the early spring birds. Monday our room went on a "bird hike". Betty Jean kept a list of all the birds we saw.

The first grade have been making good progress in their reading. They began work in the Child Story First Readers Friday.

Last week we made drawings for Easter.

Grades 3 and 4

The third and fourth grade have been reviewing letter writing. Good form and interesting material was stressed. Most of the pupils were able to write these letters with very little help.

Last Saturday Miss Wilson returned the books from the Traveling Library and brought back 20 new ones and three sets of steroscopic views about China and Japan.

The third and fourth grade have a collection of articles made in China and Japan. These include dishes, dolls, shells, Chinese puzzle boxes, silk handkerchiefs. Japanese towel, a Chinese back scratcher, money and ornaments.

Frederick Globeli treated us to candy bars on his birthday last week.

Our new poster for this week reads, "Keep Your City Clean".

Grades 5 and 6

Velma Kaduce was absent from grade six on Monday.

Edith Bachman was absent from grade six on Tuesday.

In geography the fifth grade is beginning its study of Asia.

Several weeks ago we put some twigs from an apple tree in water and now we have some apple blossoms.

Last Tuesday evening we had many visitors come to look at our room to see some of the things we have learned to do this year. We hope you will come to see us again some time.

CIVIC CLUB OF KLEMME WAS ORGANIZED AT MEETING

Monday evening a Civic Club was organized in Klemme, the purpose of which was to have a group which would be in a position to work for the welfare of the community, and to assist any other organization in promoting projects which would be a benefit to the community. Such community projects as free movies, band concerts, observance of Memorial Day, come under the supervision of the club. It's officers are Andrew Wellemeyer, pres.; Frank Gibbs, vice-pres.; W. C. Keraus, sec. and treas.; and an advisory board of five: C. A. Larson, R. A. Jorgenson, Dr. Anderson, Paul Grange and A R. White.

4-H ACHIEVEMENT DAY WILL BE HELD AUGUST 18-19

The Hanock County Farm Bureau Womn's Achievement Day will be held at Garner in connection with the 4-H boys and girls Club Show.

These dates are approximately the same as last year and precede the week of the North Iowa Fair at Mason City. This arrangement makes it possible to take any livestock direct from the Achievement Show to the North Iowa Fair at Mason City, without the usual rehandling of the livestock as has been the case in the past.

BABY BEEF CLUB LARGEST IN HISTORY

At a recent check up on the Baby Beef Clubs of the county it was learned thot 35 boys were feeding a total of 57 calves. Quality and condition of the calves on feed seem to be well in line with those of last year, according to Mr. Carl Oldsen, Secretary of the Iowa Beef Producers, who recently made a tour with the county agent visiting some of the boys who are enrolled in the club.

ELL FARM BUREAU HAD LARGE ATTENDANCE

A large crowd attended the Farm Bureau meeting at District 4 Thursday evening. A splendid program consisting of songs readings and talks was given. Refreshments were served by the committee. The next meeting will be in Dist. 2.

REFORMED SUNDAY SCHOOL ELECTS OFFICERS

The following officers were elected for the Sunday School work at the Klemme Reformed Church for the ensuing year. Supt. Albert Priebe; Asst. Supt., Ewald Josten; Board Members, Mesdames, Albert Schmidt, H. H. Thiemann and Alvin Goll.

Do You Have Your 1933 License?

Cards are being mailed to all Auto Owners who have not been in to get their 1933 Auto Licenses. County Treasurer, McMillin, will appreciate your checking the card and returning it at once. May 1st is set as the Dead Line for 1932 licenses.

July 1st Is Delinquent Tax Date

The new law regarding taxes makes July 1st the delinquent date this year, after which date 3-4 of 1% penalty will be charged. The penalty will date back to April 1st and be charged from that time instead of July.

QUALIFICATIONS GIVEN FOR FORESTRY JOBS

Word was received at the Farm Bureau Office concerning men to be employed for the Emergency Conservation Reforestation.

The men who will be selected for this work will be those who come within the following classifications:

1. Between the ages of 18 and 25.
2. Single.
3. Must have dependents.
4. Must be physically qualified for ordinary labor and free from active disease.

The county emergency relief committees designated as agents of the Department of Labor will first select from among those already receiving relief and the men who meet the qualifications as stated above. If there are not enough such men to fill the quota assigned a county then consideration will be given to those men not receiving relief who are qualified as provided above.

The state quota is 5000 men to be used in reforestation work. Hancock county has a quota of 25 men. S. J. Oberhauser, county agent, has been named as the director for Hancock county n the selection of the men.

Candidates should not go to the Des Moines Office or to any recruiting office or to county offices as selection will be made first from those already on relief rolls.

COUNTY AUXILIARY MEETING HELD AT BRITT

There was County Auxiliary meeting held at Britt Monday afternoon at the Legion and Auxiliary hall. Those from here who attended were Mrs. Paul Grange, Mrs. Ben Coobs and Mrs. Carl Wolfe.

Miss Wanda Jean Kuck is the only little war orphan in Hancock county and she lives with her grandparets, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schwartz. Both her father and mother are dead and the Auxiliaries are helping her share this loss by assisting in supplyng clothing and articles of wearing apparel. Mrs. Paul Grange has officially been appointed as her guardian in this matter. Little Miss Kuck went to Britt with the women Monday so the County Auxiliary ladies could get better acquainted with her.

Items Of Interest Concerning Our Schools

FIFTEEN STUDENTS PLACED ON HIGH SCHOOL HONOR ROLL

The following are the names of those whose numerical averages for the last six weeks were 90 or above:

Freshmen:—Millvern Barz.

Juniors:— Helen Albers, Roy Arnold (A), Howard Baack, Novella Bredbenner (A), Marie Stille, Lillian Brown.

Seniors:— Mitchell Bock, Raymond Drake, LaVohn Lorsen, Nellie Stromer.

The Seniors and Supt. and Mrs. Hunter enjoyed a second of a series of parties at Miss Norma Wille's home last Wednesday evening. Two weeks pror to this Miss Nellie Stromer entertained the same group. Both parties were enjoyed by all. County Superintendent Baggs gave the high school and upper grades a very interesting address on the Spanish-American War Monday. Although Supt. Baggs told how it fe't to have bullets whistling on all sides, he stressed the commercial side of the war. He told the boys their future duty was to maintain peace. He has a very fine collection of relics which he will bring to Klemme in connection with our proposed Hobby Show next year.

Supt. Hunter and family spent Sunday afternoon and evening visiting with Supt. Derringsfeld and family of Alden.

The Seniors have ordered their graduating announcements.

The classes in geometry and physics have finished their text books and are doing supplementary work and review work.

The Seniors are starting work on their play "Climbing Roses" which they plan to give May 19 & 20.

JESUS SETS NEW STANDARDS OF LIVING

(Stewardship Lesson)

LESSON TEXT—Mark 10:1-31.

GOLDEN TEXT—And as ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise. Luke 6:31.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus and the Children.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Choosing Time.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Making the Right Choice.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—All for Christ.

I. Concerning Marriage (vv. 1-12).

The question touching divorce which the Pharisees temptingly put to Christ brought forth teaching which exhibits marriage in its true light.

1. Marriage should not be degraded by divorce (vv. 1-5). Marriage was instituted by God and was intended to be indissoluble. Moses suffered divorce, limited and regulated it. Its existence indicates the coarseness and perverseness of man. Its real cause is sin. Perhaps the most outstanding evidence of the blighting effects of sin is seen in the increasing number of divorces.

2. Marriage God's primal law (vv. 6-8). The ideal law of life for the subjects of Christ's kingdom is marriage. This is proved by the fundamental fact of sex. "God made them male and female." (v. 6). The union of the male and female natures is physical, mental, and spiritual. In marriage the male and female natures are mutually complemented—"They twain shall be one flesh: so then they are no more twain, but one flesh" (v. 8).

3. Marriage has God's sanction (v. 9). When God created Eve and brought her unto Adam, he declared that man should leave his father and mother and cleave unto his wife and that they shall be one flesh. God performed the first marriage ceremony.

4. Remarriage of the divorcer is adultery (vv. 10-12). The marriage relation can only be dissolved by death and sin. Marriage is for life. Divorce for other than marital infidelity does not give the right to remarriage.

II. Concerning Children (vv. 13-16).

The union of the male and female natures according to God's primal law of marriage, lays the foundation for family life. The normal issue of such union is children. It was fitting that Jesus in connection with the divine law of marriage should set forth his estimate of children. Christian men and women will regard children as the property of the Lord and will esteem it a high and holy privilege to train them for him. Observe:

1. Children brought for the touch of Jesus (v. 13).

2. Parents rebuked by the disciples for bringing their children (v. 13).

3. Jesus' reply (vv. 14, 15).

a. "Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of God" (v. 14).

b. "Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall not enter therein" (v. 15).

4. Jesus' action (v. 16). He took the children up in his arms and blessed them. Where Christ rules, childhood is sacred.

III. Concerning Riches (vv. 17-31).

1. The young ruler's question (v. 17). This young man was in earnest. He came running and kneeled to Jesus. He was a young man with a lovable personality. Jesus loved him. While moral, earnest, and courageous, he had a defective theology. He thought that eternal life could be obtained by good works.

2. Jesus' reply (vv. 18-20). He put his finger on the weak spot in the young man's life. He knew that possessions gripped his heart, revealing the fact that he was a covetous man, a violator of the tenth commandment.

3. Lacking one thing, and yet lost (vv. 21, 22). When the Lord pointed out to him that the love of money was the defect of his life, he chose wealth rather than Christ, and perhaps parted company with the Lord forever.

4. The peril of riches (vv. 23-27). Jesus said, "How hardly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God!" Discerning the astonishment of the disciples he said further, "How hard is it fer them that trust in riches to enter into the kingdom of God!" The difficulty does not lie in the fact that a man possesses riches, but that riches possess him. Wealth is a mighty power and in itself is good. It will provide bread for the hungry, and send the Gospel to the ends of the earth. It is a short step from the possession of riches to trusting in them.

The Best Proof

The best evidence of the inspiration of the Word of God is found in the word itself. When studied, loved, obeyed, and trusted, it never disappoints, never misleads, never fails. It satisfies.—J. Hudson Taylor.

The Noblest Life

The noblest life is to live as his children that we may reveal to others the blessings of his presence, his guidance and his peace.—Thomas J. Garland.

GET IN THE HABIT OF COMING TO KLEMME!

This week The Klemme Times is being mailed to 1200 families in the Klemme trade territory. This is to be the first of a series of mailings in a co-operative trade extension campaign, sponsored by the business men of Klemme.

Klemme is centrally located to a large number of families. The overhead costs on conducting a business in Klemme are low. With the many advantages here, the merchants are able to price their goods lower than can be found in most towns. To acquaint the people of this territory with a few of the prices, the Times is being sent to a larger territory than usual.

The Best Town In Iowa

Klemme is known far and wide as one of the best towns in Iowa. Klemme leads all other towns in this division in the amount of livestock shipped out. The stock buyers here are live wires and pay top prices. Klemme has one of the best creameries in Northern Iowa and its routes reach out in a wide radius and its patrons number hundreds of satisfied farmer patrons. Our bank, The First National, was one of the First in Iowa to re-open following the National holiday. The First National of Klemme is known as one of the safest and strongest banks in Iowa. Klemme taxes are low, considering other communitites. We have many modern conveniences as a municipality. We have two of the finest churches in Iowa. Our schools are up to a high standard.

With all of these advantages and ideal conditions, it is but natural, that our business men are wide awake and "on their toes" for more business. With the prices of raw materials rising every day, now is the time for the consumer to take advantage of the low prices offered. Get in the habit. trade in Klemme—it will mean dollars in YOUR pocketbook.

JUNIOR CLASS PLAY WAS SPLENDID SUCCESS

The Junior class presented a clever three-act comedy, entitled "Shirt Sleeves" Friday and Saturday nights of last week. Beyond all doubts it was one of the best plays ever given in Klemme. The leading roles were played by Novella Bredbenner, Roy Arnold, Hilda Keeper, Verle Keraus, Marie Stille James Larson, Frances Sandrey and Mildred Thieman. The other members of the cast included the remaining Juniors.

Miss Agnes Galbreth coached the play and she certalniy is to be complimented on the good judgement used in choosing the characters n the play. Each one was exceptionally well fitted for his part. The play showed much hard work for all who ere connected with it.

The Seniors are busy this week getting started on their classs play entitled "Climbing Roses."

Mildred Lemke is assisting with the house cleaning at the John Josten home. She has been caring for Mrs. John Josten. For the present Mrs. Lee Klotzbach has kindly consented to assist with the work at the Josten home.

Erick Josten must be remodeling his barn into a garage as Tuesday he and Fred Henschen were busying themselves tearing down part of the old barn.

W. F. M. S. of the Methodist Church will meet next week Thursday, May 4th with Mrs. Clarence Larson. There will be the regular iesson study and all members are requested to attend.

Funeral Service

When death visits a home, the first concern is to preform the last service to the loved one in a becoming manner. Whatever is done must express all the reverence and affection that is felt at such a time.

But in addition to this, a further responsibility rests upon the funeral director. It is his privilege and duty to lessen, as far as lies within his power, the burdens laid upon those who remain behind. By countless little acts of thoughtfulness he can make the way easier for them.

We consider this part of our work as important as any other. Our highest aim is to have our patrons look upon us as trusted friends, ready and anxious to serve in any possible way.

Our Government —How It Operates

By William Bruckart

TO CHANGE INAUGURATION DATE

THOSE of us whose span of life carries us beyond the end of 1935 are almost certain to witness an epochal change in our government. After more than 150 years, our nation is about to alter a basic date in our system of government, namely, the date upon which the terms of our Presidents, Vice Presidents and senators and representatives in congress begin. In all probability the change will have been ordered in advance of 1936, but it will not take effect until early in 1937.

This fundamental revision is to take place through adoption, or ratification, by the several states of the so-called "Lame Duck Amendment" to the federal Constitution. It is the consensus now that its ratification as a part of the organic law is only a question of time.

So, in a few years then we will witness the convening of our congress in January of each year for sessions of no fixed duration or life up to one year, and each four years, we will see a President inducted into office in the same month. Congress now meets in December, of course, but its sessions, started in the odd years, end automatically on March 4 of the succeeding even year; the sessions beginning in December of the even years may run through to the following December, if the legislative body so choose. The new amendment will start the sessions on January 3, of every year and they may continue until that date of the next year if the work has not been done in the meantime.

In the case of the Chief Executive, he will take office on January 20, of the year following his election. The term of office beginning next March 4, therefore, appears certain to be the one break in a steady succession of four-year terms for President since the formation of our government, for it will be reduced by the difference of time from January 20 to March 4, in order that the succeeding Presidential terms may be for four full years.

The purpose of the amendment is, in the words of its author, Senator George W. Norris, of Nebraska, "to bring congress closer to the people." And there is not a great deal of disagreement about that. It will make congress a body more responsive to the people, because senators and representatives who are elected in November will take office in just two months thereafter. Those who are defeated by the electorate will not serve again, unless perchance a session continues past the date of the election. At any rate, the will of the people as expressed at the polls in November can be carried into the halls of congress within two months instead of being delayed, as is the case at present, from November of one year to December of the next year.

Considerable research has failed to disclose how the term, "Lame Duck" had its origin. It has long been applied to the unfortunate politician who guessed wrong as to what his constituents wanted, and was defeated. He has served through another session of congress, however, before surrendering office to a successor.

While the new amendment will make congress more responsive, and closer to, the people, there is and probably always will be some lack of unanimity of opinion as to its value. The school of thought in congress that opposed the amendment felt there was danger that congress would be too responsive to public will; that there were such things as whims and public demand based upon misinformation, and that the present period of delay afforded time for the electorate to "cool off."

Those who look at both sides of the question see that danger. They recognize it is possible for a majority of the citizens of the Republic to be swayed by demagoguery from a raucous minority. Some act of a foreign nation might possibly engender such steaming hatred just in advance of an election as to cause the selection of a majority of congress willing to rush into war. Or there may be some domestic issue about which the flames of public sentiment may be fanned, with a subsequent action by congress that would be regretted in later years.

On the other hand, those who fostered the change and who pressed it through congress have contended that this new responsiveness will work both ways. It is their view that senators and representatives will "hear from home" more quickly than ever before if sentiment swings back from the point that it reached at the polls. Plenty of safeguards are said to exist, and this observer is inclined to the opinion that they do exist in force.

After watching the performance of congresses through more than a decade, I hold the conviction that they represent a rather good cross section of the population that elects them. The voters now and then get one who is better than the average and now and then put one in office who does no credit to the district or state from which he or she comes. But the average of anything is the sum total of all, divided by that number. Representatives and senators, as I have seen them, make up a congress representative of the public which usually, therefore, has had just about what it is willing and entitled to receive.

Always Time for Jams and Jellies

Housewife No Longer Has Special Season for Preparation.

Jelly and jam season used to be confined almost entirely to summer and early fall. Nowadays, however, the housewife is almost as likely to make up a few glasses at a time in one season as another. She uses the fruits which are inexpensive at the moment, or perhaps makes use of bottled grape or pineapple juice or canned or dried fruit, to which she adds the bottled pectin which supplies so surely and so easily the jelly-making quality which is necessary to make jam and jelly "set."

At the present moment the fresh fruits which are cheap and good are oranges, grapefruit and apples. This is certainly the moment to make citrus marmalade either of orange or grapefruit alone or combined. There is also that well-known combination of one lemon, one grapefruit and one orange which is pungent in flavor which some people like especially well.

All of these fruits contain their own supply of pectin, so that it is unnecessary to add any extra amount unless you want to cut down your time of cooking. Apples also carry their own supply of pectin. In fact the commercial pectin is merely a concentrate of apple juice. Apple jelly is rather flavorless but with the addition of spices or of mint flavoring we can get a product which will blend delightfully with meat dishes.

Cranberry jelly and "sauce," which is actually marmalade, is also high in pectin and needs no addition. A combination of cranberries with orange is well-liked. A new combination is of cranberries with bananas. In this case some pectin is added because bananas are not so well supplied as cranberries. Any of the dried fruits alone or combined with each other or with canned fruit or oranges can be manufactured into jam which is especially good for sandwich spread.

In making jams and jellies, by whatever method, do not try to make large quantities at a time. Six or twelve glasses can be made with much greater satisfaction than large quantities.

Jellied relishes are appetizing with meat. Tomatoes or peppers are the favorite flavors. They can be spiced in any way you like to bring out the flavor.

In making marmalades and jams without additional pectin, no exact directions can be given about the time of boiling the fruit with the sugar. Fruit differs in "jellying" quality. The jam or jelly must be boiled until you get the jelly test. To make this test dip spoon in boiling mixture and then hold it "on edge" above kettle—when two drops will hang side by side on edge of spoon the crucial moment has arrived. Remove from the fire at once and pour into glass.

To cover jelly with paraffin it has been found that it is best to coat it thinly as soon as jelly is in the glasses. When it is cold and set add another layer and roll glass from side to side to seal perfectly.

Tomato Relish.

3 cups cooked tomatoes and lemon
6½ cups sugar
1 bottle pectin
⅛ teaspoon each of ground allspice, cloves and cinnamon.

Scald, peel and crush tomatoes. Boil spice with four cups crushed tomatoes (fresh or canned) ten minutes, uncovered, stirring occasionally. Add juice and grated rind of one lemon. Measure cooked mixture into large kettle. Add sugar, mix, and bring to a full rolling boil over hottest fire. Stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard two minutes. Remove from fire and stir in pectin. Skim, pour quickly into glasses. Cover with film of hot paraffin, when relish is cold, cover with ⅛ inch of hot paraffin. Roll glass to spread paraffin on sides. Sets very slowly.

Dried Apricot Jam.

½ pound dried apricots
2½ cups water
7 cups sugar
1 bottle pectin

Add water to washed fruit and let stand four hours or overnight. Simmer, covered, thirty minutes. Drain fruit, crush thoroughly and mix with juice. Measure fruit into large kettle. Add sugar, mix and bring to a full rolling boil over hottest fire. Stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard one minute. Remove from fire and stir in pectin. Skim; pour quickly into hot glasses. Cover hot jam with film of hot paraffin.

We Believe That

Now Is The Time--

To Make Necessary Improvements

—to get that booder house that you have been wanting as you can't raise chicks very well with a make shift brooder house.

A good brooder house 10x12 can be built for about 40.00 with plenty of sunlight. Cheaper ones if you want them.

If you will note, the big insurance companies are beginning to make necessary repairs and in many instances erecting new buildings. They realize that now is the time to make such improvements. Material will advance. To give you an idea how cheap repairs can be made check up for yourself by using the prices as given below.

DON'T TAKE A CHANCE ON THE WEATHER! FIX UP THE ROOF

It's too late after the plaster has fallen or if it's the brooder house you can't afford to have a leak. In many cases a few dollars spent for shingles or roofing will make the building usable for several years.

SHINGLES, Red Cedar, 5 to 2, per square - - - - $3.0

Roofing $1.35 per square and up (Complete) Heavy Green Slate $2.00 per Roll

OUR Price on 5" TILE is $38; 6" TILE $48 (Subject to stock on hand)

A NEW WAY TO SAVE MONEY

An Electric Refrigerator more than pays for itself in reduced food costs. First of all it makes it possible for you to buy an extra supply of food at special sales when prices are low. An electric refrigerator will keep the food in perfect condition until you are ready to use it. Left-overs which once represented a great waste can now be saved until you are ready to serve them in some new and different form. Food spoilage is practically eliminated, thereby reducing food costs to a minimum. Actual tests have shown that these savings will pay for your electric refrigerator in a surprisingly short time.

Supervisor Oxley is appointed a committee to investigate and cause repairs to be made in drainage district 96. Carried.

Supervisor Klipping is appointed a committee to investigate and to cause repairs to be made in drainage districts 7, 37-39, 46, and 31-36.

Carried.

On motion and second the quarterly report for quarter ending March 31, of Fern Peck Katter was approved. Ayes all. Carried.

There being on file a petition whereby the town council of Corwith asks that the taxable valuation of property owned by Thos. Beecher and described as the W½ SE¼, section 6, Magor township be reduced from $1997 to $1349 for the years 1931 and 1932.

Be it Resolved that the auditor be and he is hereby ordered to make such correcton on the tax records as by law required. Carried.

The matter of instituting proceedings for the issuance of $85,000 Primary Road Refunding Bonds was again brought up for consideration, and the Board having investigated and found that notice of the proposed action for the issuance of said bonds had, according to law and as directed by this Board, been duly published on the 5th day of April, in the Garner Leader and Signal, a newspaper of general circulation within said county and that no petition setting forth objections to said proposed action had been filed in the office of the County Auditor.

Thereupon Supervisor Schoun introduced and read a resolution hereto attached entitled "Resolution providing for the issue of $85.000 Primary Road Refunding bonds of Hancock, County, Iowa." and moved its adoption seconded by Supervisor Klipping, and after due consideration thereof by the Board, the Chairman put the question and upon the roll being called, the following members voted: Ayes: All; Nays—None. Whereupon the Chairman declared the resolution duly adopted.

RESOLUTION providing for the issue of $85,000 Primary Road Refunding Bonds of Hancock County, Iowa.

WHEREAS the County of Hancock, in the State of Iowa, is a body corporate, duly organized and existing under and by virtue of the laws and Constitution of the State of Iowa; and.

WHEREAS, said County now has an indebtedness outstanding evidenced by bonds issued for Primary road improvement purposes as follows:

Bonds numbered 501-575, incl., issued 7-1-22 for $75,000 at 5% interest.

Bonds numbered 631-640 incl., issued 2-1-28 for $10,000 at 4 1-4 percent interest.

Maturing May ,1 1933 and their are no available funds to pay said indebtedness in the amount of said Eighty-five Thousand Dollars ($85,000): and,

WHEREAS, said indebtedness was contracted and incurred by order of the Board of Supervisors of said County for the purposes authorized by law, and in the form, time and manner as required by law; and said indebtedness was incurred in full compliance with all laws restricting and regulating the contracting or the incurring of indebtedness of that character and in particular the law as now contained in Chapter 241. Code of Iowa, 1931; and,

WHEREAS, none of said indebtedness has ever been adjudicated to be invalid and no litigation is pending, prayed or threatened involving the validity of any of said indebtedness and said indebtedness thus evidenced is a legal, valid and binding obligation of said County, and said indebtedness thus evidenced is in such form and of such character that it can be legally retired and refunded (and in the manner hereinafter provided); and,

WHEREAS, it is deemed advisable and for the best interests of said County that Primary Road Refunding Bonds of said county be sued as proposed and notice of the proposed action by this Board of Supervisors to initiate proceedings and authorize the issuance of Primary Road Refunding Bonds in the amount of Eight-five Thousand Dollars ($85,000) has been duly given publication of such notice at least once in a newspaper of general circulation within said County at least ten (10) days before this meeting and no appeal pursuant to said notice has been filed.

NOW THEREFORE, Be It and It Is hereby Resolved by the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County in the State of Iowa:

Section 1. That for the purpose of retiring and refunding the indebtedness of said county in the amount of Eighty-five Thousand Dollars ($85,000) referred to and proposed to be refunded in the preamble of this resolution, there are hereby authorized to be issued 85 negotiable Primary Road Refunding Bonds of said County; to be numbered consecutively from 1001 to 1085. both numbers included; to be of the denomination of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000) each, to be dated the first day of May, 1933 each bond bearing interest from and after the date thereof until paid at the rate of—% per annum, payable November 1, 1933, and semi-annually thereafter on the first days of May and November each year, such interest to be evidenced by negotiable coupons attached to each of said bonds; both principal and interest of said bonds are hereby made payable at the office of the County Treasurer of said County, in the City of Garner, State of Iowa. Said bonds shall become due and payable in numerical order as follows:

Bonds Nos. 1001 to 1045 incl., $45,000 on May 1, 1935.

Bonds Nos. 1046 to 1065 incl., $20,000 on May 1, 1936.

Bonds Nos. 1066 to 1085 incl., $20,000 on May 1, 1937.

Section 2. That upon presentation at the office of the County Treasurer of any of said bonds, same may be registered as to ownership in the name of the owner on the books of the County Treasurer such registration to be noted also on the reverse of said bonds, and thereafter the principal of such registration bonds shall be payable only to the registered holder, his legal representatives or assigns. Such registered bonds shall be transferable to another registered holder, or back to bearer, only upon presentation to the County Treasurer with a legal assignment duly acknowledged and approved. Such registration of any of said bonds shall not affect the negotiability of the coupons attached to said bonds, but such coupons shall continue transferable by delivery merely.

Section 3. The bonds hereby authorized shall be in form and recitals substantially as follows:

FORM OF BOND

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA
STATE OF IOWA
COUNTY OF HANCOCK
PRIMARY ROAD REFUNDING BOND

No. $1,000.00

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS: That the County of Hancock in the State of Iowa, for value received, promises to pay to bearer One Thousand Dollars ($1.-000) lawful money of the United States of America, on the first day of ....., 19...., together with interest on said sum from the date hereof until paid, at the rate of per cent (.%) per annum, payable November 1, 1933, and semiannually thereafter on the first days of May and November of each year upon presentation and surrender of the interest coupons hereto attached as they severally come due. Both principal and interest of this bond are payable at the office of the County Treasurer of Hancock County, in the city of Garner, Iowa, and for the prompt payment of the principal and interest hereof when due, and for the levy of taxes sufficient therefore, the full faith, credit and revenues of this County are irrevocably pledged.

This bond is one of a series of bonds issued by said County pursuant to and in strict compliance with the provisions of section 4753-n14 and Chapter 266, Code of Iowa, 1931, and all laws amendatory and supplemental thereto, and in conformity with a resolution of the Board of Supervisors of said county duly passed, for the purpose of retiring and refunding a like principal amount of the bonded indebtedness of said county issued for primary road improvement purposes.

This bond shall pass by delivery unless it has been registered in the name of the owner on the books of the County Treasurer of said County and evidenced of such registration endorsed on the back thereof. Thereinafter no transfer of this books and similarly noted hereon, unless the last registration shall have been given to bearer, in which case transferability by delivery will be restored. The registration of this bond shall not affect the negotiability of the coupons hereto attached which shall continue negotiable by delivery, notwithstanding registration thereof.

AND IT IS HEREBY CERTIFIED AND RECITED: That all acts, conditions and things required by the Constitution and laws of the State of Iowa to be done precedent to and in the issuance of this bond and precedent to and in the issue of the indebtedness hereby retired and refunded, were and have been properly had, done and preformed in regular and due form and time as required by law, that the indebtedness hereby retired and refunded was a valid, subsisting, legal and general obligation of said County, that adequate provision has been made for the payment of the principal and interest of this bond as the same will become due, and that the total indebtedness of said County, including this bond, does not now or at the time of incurring the indebtedness hereby retired and refunded exceed the constitutional or statuatory limitations.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, said County, by its Board of Supervisors, has caused this bond to be signed by the Chairman of said Board, and countersigned by the County Auditor, with the seal of said County and the coupon hereto attached to be executed with the facsimile signature of the County Auditor, and said County Auditor, by the execution of this bond, does adopt as and for his own proper signature, his facsimile signature appearing on each of said coupons, all as of the 1st day of May, 1933.

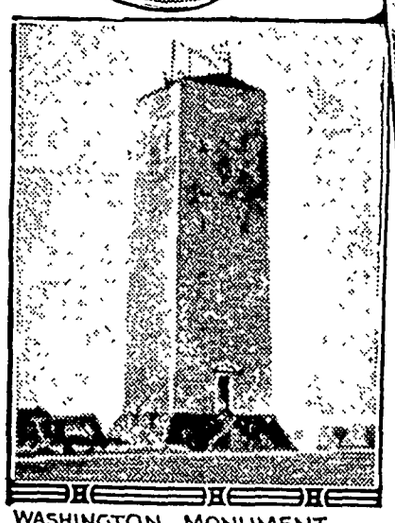
WASHINGTON AQUEDUCT—CABIN JOHN BRIDGE



WASHINGTON MONUMENT UNDER CONSTRUCTION IN 1867

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

FROM the earliest days of the Republic, in speaking of some great construction project, to say that "the army engineers built it" has been equivalent to saying that here was a piece of work accomplished with the utmost in efficiency, economy and honesty. Therefore, during the last administration, when it was proposed to transfer river and harbor improvement projects from the corps of engineers in the War department to a division of public works in another executive department, there was an immediate protest from those who had the best reason to know how valuable were the services of the army engineers in this work and what the result of such a transfer might be upon those very factors of efficiency, economy and honesty.

To many Americans "rivers and harbors work" is synonymous with "pork barrel legislation" by congress. What they do not realize is that for more than a quarter of a century the corps of engineers of the United States army has been the watchdog which has kept rivers and harbors projects from being just that. Its board of engineers on rivers and harbors functions as a sort of supreme court in waterway matters submitted to them by congress. From June 13, 1902, to March 31, 1928, this board of engineers has reported on 2,377 waterway projects. Of these only 805 reports were favorable as compared to 1,572 that were unfavorable. In other words, these army engineers turned down two out of every three projects submitted to them. And the degree of confidence which congress has in the integrity and judgment of the army engineers is shown by the fact that during the last 10 years in less than half a dozen cases has congress authorized the projects upon which the board of engineers on rivers and harbors had presented an adverse report.

Perhaps one reason why the corps of engineers stands so high in the estimation of both government officials and the public lies in the fact that the efficiency and the honesty of the army engineer has become proverbial. Millions and millions of dollars of public money have been expended under their direction without the slightest breath of scandal or question as to their ability. And perhaps another reason for this confidence lies in the close association of the corps of engineers with the United States Military academy at West Point where the motto is "Duty-Honor-Country"—Duty—the bedrock upon which their character is founded and their careers are built; Honor—the barrier, invisible but invincible, which sets the bounds to their activities; Country—that august, godlike mistress to whose service their lives are dedicated and for whose safety they would lay down their lives in case of need.

The academy at West Point was founded in 1802 as a school for engineers of the United States army, it being the first engineering school in this country. And from the beginning it has been those who have won honors, "the cream of the crop" of new officers, who have been given the privilege of entering the corps of engineers in the army. So there has grown up a set of traditions and an esprit du corps that is difficult to duplicate anywhere in the world. Of the corps it has been said "One of the most wonderful records in the history of the human race is that out of all the thousands of men who have served in the corps of engineers during its century of existence, only one man has ever broken through that invisible barrier of honor."

The contribution of the corps to public service covers a multiplicity of things: Mapping, explorations and surveys; public buildings and city engineering; roads; railways; bridges; siege works; explosives; camouflage and decorative arts; chemical engineering; mechanical and electrical engineering; power plants; field engineering; seacoast defenses and shipping; marine design and operation of boat lines and waterways. It would be impossible within the space of this article to list all of the projects which stand as enduring monuments to the engineer corps of the army, but here are some of their outstanding achievements:

The Panama canal—At first it was under the control of civilian engineers but the men who conquered difficulties which seemed almost insuperable and pushed through to a triumphant conclusion the greatest engineering project the world has ever seen were army engineers. In the minds of Americans there will forever be associated with the name of the Panama canal the name of an army engineer, Col. George W. Goethals, who organized the work, solved complicated engineering problems and problems of supply, personnel and finance and completed the construction of the canal ahead of the estimated time.

The work was organized in three divisions as follows: the Atlantic division under Sibert where was built the Gatun dam, the world's largest earth dam, and the Gatun locks, also the world's largest; the Pacific division under Williamson, which included three locks of the same size but requiring less concrete; and the Central division under Gaillard, which included the Culebra (now Gaillard) cut, the world's largest single excavation.

The total cost of the Panama canal was $370,000,000. The total amount of concrete placed was 5,000,000 cubic yards, the equivalent of a wall 8 feet high and 3 feet wide running clear across the continent, from New York to San Francisco. The total excavation work was 240,000,000 cubic yards.

Another big job which the army engineers did and did with their accustomed thoroughness was in connection with the American Expeditionary Force in the World war. Under the leadership of Langfitt, Taylor, Patrick and Jadwin, here are some of the enormous engineering problems of construction and supply which the corps was called upon to solve: the building of 967 miles of railways; the construction of 600 miles of light railways and the operation of 2,000 more miles of the same class; the maintenance and repair of 1,750 miles of roads; building and operating 107 lumber mills, producing ties, poles, cord wood and over 1,000,000 board feet of lumber per day; erection of 16,000 barracks, equivalent to 311 miles and providing space for 280,000 beds in hospitals, of which 147 miles of wards were new construction; building storage warehouses, covering the equivalent of 500 acres under roof; building wharves the equivalent of seven miles of berthing space for ships; making improvements and additions to existing water supplies and sewerage, among which was a system supplying 4,000,000 gallons of water per day; receiving, storing and issuing 3,250,000 tons of engineer supplies.

The famous epitaph of Sir Christopher Wren, builder of St. Paul's cathedral, might well be paraphrased for the corps of engineers, and the visitor to the National Capital might well be told "if you would see their monument, look around you." The City of Washington was laid out by Major L'Enfant of the French engineers, but it was surveyed by Andrew Ellicott, professor of mathematics at West Point, and the development of the city plan was continued thereafter by army engineers. One of them was T. L. Casey, who in 1867 found the Washington monument 156 feet high and unfinished by civilians in charge. He put a new foundation under the existing monument—an intricate and difficult job, albeit—and finished it to its full height of 555 feet. But the Washington monument is not the only work of the army engineers in Washington. The public buildings there which they constructed include the Capitol, the Library of Congress, the Government Printing office, the State, War and Navy building, the Post Office building and the Lincoln memorial. Moreover the water supply of Washington (the Washington aqueduct) was built and is now being operated under the direction of army engineers.

In the vicinity of Washington are three bridges which are outstanding engineering accomplishments, all built by this corps. They are the Cabin John bridge, completed in 1855, by Meigs which was the longest masonry arch bridge in the world (single span, 228 feet) for nearly 50 years; the Francis Scott Key bridge, built in 1920 by Tyler to replace the old Aqueduct bridge connecting Georgetown with Virginia, and the Arlington Memorial bridge, which is being constructed under the direction of Mehaffey, which is to cost $15,000,000 and which will connect the Mall with the Virginia side leading to the Arlington memorial.

The imprint of the army engineers is strong upon both the highway and railway systems of the country. The famous old Cumberland road, from Cumberland, Md., to St. Louis, the first national highway, was constructed and maintained by officers of the corps of engineers, from 1824 to 1840. The Alaska road commission, consisting of three army officers, has constructed and maintained 1,100 miles of wagon roads, 600 miles of sled roads and 4,400 miles of trails.

Mention of river and harbor work at the beginning of this article recalls the fact that this work was begun by the corps of engineers in 1824, when West Point was the only engineering school in the country. On this account and also because there was then no continuing civil service and because fortification construction was already an organized service of the army, these works were put under the charge of army engineers. From that time to this they have been in charge of the development of this work and up to the present time the investment of the government in these projects is over $1,000,000,000; their upkeep requiring $20,000,000 a year. The corps of engineers now has charge of 200 harbors, 291 rivers and 53 canals.

The Dance

By JOHN GRAY

©, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate. WNU Service

IT WAS the day before the all-important junior ball at Tilton college. On the "spare room" bed in the Denby farmhouse lay the pink chiffon frock that Bertha had bought for the big event. Silver slippers and stockings lay beside it.

The whole house was in an air of expectancy and even the cows and chickens in the barnyard and pasture must have suspected that something was in the air from the happy, preoccupied air of Bill Denby, gruff and usually indifferent as he went about his daily chores. Bill Denby was Bertha's brother, her elder by ten years, who, though he avoided society himself, never seemed more content than when his pretty sister was included in the festivities at the nearby Tilton college.

Then George Fulton came with the news that changed all this air of pleasurable expectation to one of gloom and dejection.

"I've done the thing that seems most honorable," he announced. "It means that I can't take you to the ball." And with much faltering and many hesitations he proceeded.

"Last summer I met a girl who lives out in Wyoming. We played tennis together and went swimming and sailing and—well, before we parted I asked her to go to my junior ball with me. That was before I met you. Well, we wrote once or twice and nothing more was said about the ball, and then we didn't write any more. I had met you and she didn't seem to care whether I wrote or not. This morning I had a letter from her. It just says: 'I'm coming for the ball. Will arrive at 5 Friday. I know you haven't forgotten your invitation.'

"It's too late to prevent her coming—she is almost here. I didn't know what to do. Of course, I want to take you more than anything else. I made up my mind that the right thing for a fellow to do in the circumstances was to go to the girl he really cared for, the one who—well, the one who trusted him and understood him—and tell her."

It was not till George had gone and Bertha had gone to nurse her grief in sight of the pink frock laid out so neatly that she permitted tears to flow. Bill Denby, who had looked in vain for his sister downstairs, found her there in the spare room. Bertha explained.

"I don't care so much about going with him," she fibbed, "but I wanted to wear the dress. I never had such a pretty dress before."

"I'll take you," Bill said firmly.

"But they won't let you in—you're an outsider."

"See here," said Bill, shaking a defiant finger in her face, "you said this George is the boss of the dance. I'll show him I'm no outsider this time. I'm going and he's going to let me in. That's the least he can do."

In the thirty hours that were to elapse before the dance Bill found only a few for sleep. There was a hasty trip by motor to Tilton in quest of evening clothes. It was eight years since Bill had worn them.

He came back with numerous bundles. "Here's everything from soup to nuts," he announced, "dancing pumps, silk socks and everything. Now start in and show me the steps."

The next evening at half-past eight, when Bertha, dressed in her pink chiffon, started off with her brother to Tilton college, she was inclined to think that this smooth-shaven, well-dressed young man must be some one else other than her big, rough brother.

It was an uncomfortable moment for Bertha at the door when the student whose duty it was to receive tickets, barred the way and looked skeptical when Bill said he would see the chairman of the committee, who would fix things up for him. George came forward, sensed the situation in a flash, and escorted the Denbys past the dismayed door committee.

What followed made Bertha feel as if she had suddenly been swept off her feet. The girl, beautiful, stately and brunette, but certainly older than George, took both Bill's hands in hers.

"What a wonderful surprise," she said. "I was going to get in touch with you tomorrow, but I didn't expect to meet you at the dance." Then she and Bill gravitated to some chairs behind some palms, and when the music started for the first dance, and George was expected to be the first on the floor, he did not even try to locate Bill and the mysterious girl.

They danced for a few minutes and then drifted toward two chairs which they utilized for a conversation. "That's Helen Dawson," George said. "She's the one Bill was engaged to. One of the boys was in Wyoming a few weeks ago and told her about Bill—how he'd never married and didn't like girls, so she decided to come and look him up. She found out when the dance came off, remembered I'd asked her, and took that as an excuse to come East. She didn't think that she might have spoiled it for me. But everything is turning out all right, I guess," added George as he looked across the room to where Bill and Helen Dawson were still talking, oblivious of music, dancers and possible on-lookers.

And that night when Helen and her new-found friend, Bertha Denby, whom she had seen once before as a little girl, said good night, Helen whispered to Bertha that she was engaged to Bill again. And Bertha, sublimely happy, confessed that with little persuasion she had accepted George.

Best Conversation in Commingling of Souls

The very best conversation can only occur between two persons who have proved each other worthy of trust. It can then abandon the shallows of intellect and plunge into the deeps of personality. Life is too short for beating around the bush. When at last I meet a soul so rare that it can be trusted in deepest consequence, I am wasting my time, and his also, if we do not fling off all disguises and talk, not about life as people pretend that it is lived, but about life as it is lived really. Such conversation almost disqualifies those who have enjoyed it for any fare less rich. This is why old friends are such gold mines of ideas. Intellectually they may not strike casual acquaintances as being stars of the first magnitude; actually they are the only persons with whom we can be completely ourselves and to whom we dare say exactly what we think. Hence with them conversation begins with an immeasurably victorious head start over that chilly mental interchange with which comparative strangers are obliged to content themselves and which may send one home with a full head but an empty heart.

For really good conversation, give us an old friend. Then there are no rules.—"Uncle Dudley," in the Boston Globe.

big help to BOWELS

What a joy to have the bowels move like clockwork, every day! It's easy if you mind these simple rules of a famous old doctor:

1. Drink a big tumblerful of water before breakfast, and several times a day.
2. Get plenty of outdoor exercise without unduly fatiguing yourself.
3. Try for a bowel movement at exactly the same hour every day.

Everyone's bowels need help at times, but the thing to use is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. You'll get a thorough cleaning-out, and it won't leave your insides weak and watery. This family doctor's prescription is just fresh laxative herbs, pure pepsin and other helpful ingredients that couldn't hurt a child. But how it wakes up those lazy bowels! How good you feel with your system rid of all that poisonous waste matter.

Do You NEED A BUILDER?

WHEN you're nervous, anemic and in need of a blood tonic, weight below normal, and you feel tired-out and weak, follow the advice of Mrs. Nellie Davis of 1804 Miami St., Omaha, who says: "When I was a girl I was in a very weakened run-down condition. My blood was impoverished and my complexion became quite sallow and yellow. I also was troubled with liver complaint, poor appetite—never felt like eating, and had bad headaches, but Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery built me up, rid me of my weakened condition, I ate better, slept better, and felt better in every way." FORCED OFF ROAD; TIPS OVER WITH LOAD OF SEED

When Ed Jacobs was returning home from Mason City early Monday evening with 1500 pounds of seed on his Ford pick-up truck, he was forced to drive into the ditch from the paving at the Wes Lenz farm just north of Klemme. His truck skidded, mowed off two small trees and caught fire.

All this happened because of a car coming from the south which Ed noticed was traveling along his side of the paving. As it approached it kept crowding over and the only course left open for Ed to take was to hit the oncoming car or take to the ditch to avoid an accident. The driver of the car failed to stop following the accident.

Mr. Jacobs received cuts on one leg and a number of bruises. His car was badly bent and will require a new front wheel. The glass is broken from the door and the back of the cab caved in by the weight of the seed. The fire was quickly extinguished as it was only burning around the carburetor. But one bag of seed was broken open.

Mr. Lenz and his family were on the scene of the accident a few seconds after Ed had crashed through the trees and assisted him.

Enjoyed Trip To Iowa City

Misses Marie Blank, Irene Harms, Marie Stille, Margaret Gates and Jeanne Thada left real early Sunday morning and drove to Iowa City and visited with Gracka Quandt. They also visited with Byrnes Missman and went to the hospital and spent some time with Pearl Neuberger Pearl is getting along fine and had especially enjoyed the day Friday, being permitted to be out in the sunshine. The girls arrived safely back in Klemme Monday morning.

Daughter of Rev. Howdeshell Is Honored at Liberty Picnic

A picnic dinner was enjoyed at the Ben Ridder home Sunday when a company of old friends of Rev. Howdeshell, a former pastor here. gathered to visit with his daughter, who is now Mrs Maxwell of Armstrong. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. August Ridder, Chester and Elsie Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Verner Nelson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Coobs and children, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Schaefer and Rev and Mrs. Ralston and family. Rev Ralston and Rev. Howdeshell are childhood acquaintances.

Early Flowers Of Spring

Almost as soon as the snow disappears someone finds a crocus or other early flower. At this time the spring flowers are quite numerous and the past week many could be found. Dr. Zinn claims the brass bound medal for the first dandelion which he found April 27. Last week Miss Valeria Koerner brought a large bouquet of Crocus to the Times Office, which she gathered April 23rd.

At this time one can easily find crocus, blood root, buttercup dutchman's britches and other early flowers of spring.

Lost Plow Lay On Way To Town

Ben Merkel was bringing a plow lay to town the other day to have it fixed up, and when part way in noticed the lay had detached itself from the car. Going back over the road Ben failed to locate it. Someone probably picked it up off the road to await the owner. Ben claims a plow works better properly equipped with a lay.

FAREWELL AT ARNOLD HOME

Mrs. C. A. Arnold and Miss Minnie Lenz rendered a farewell in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Suckow and children Sunday at the beautiful country home of Mrs. Arnold's. The old homestead of the Lenz's was the place owned by Otto Lemke at the present time and the old Ludeke homestead is the place now owned by Fred Schlichting. So these children spent many happy hours together playing at one place or the other. Many happy memories were recalled Sunday. A bounteous dinner was served at the noon hour.

Those present were Henry Ludeke and family. R. C. Ludeke and family Elmer Ludeke and son, Clarence, of Britt, Art Schoenwetter and wife. Geo. Schoenwetter and family, Wm. Ax and family, Elmer Weisbrod and family of Fenton, Mrs. Fred Schlichting and daughters, Herman Meyer and wife, and John Neuberger and family. The afternoon was spent in visiting and singing after which all departed wishing Mr. and Mrs. Carl Suckow much happiness and success in their new home in Louisiana.

MISS FERN STILLE HONORED AT SHOWER

A miscellaneous shower was given in honor of Miss Fern Stille. who will be married this evening, May 3rd. The shower was held at the home of her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Stille, last week.

A mock wedding was one of the features of the entertainment. Miss Lucille Stille acted as bride, wearing the dress her mother wore on her wedding day thirty-four years ago. Violet Schaefer was the groom; Mrs. Martha Janssen tied the knot while Mrs. Kermit Stille was the ring bearer. Each guest gave the bride to be her favorite recipe and some advice for the future which was read by Miss Stille.

Many beautiful and useful gifts were received by the bride-to-be. Delicious refreshments were served by th bride's mother and Mrs. Kermit Stille to about sixty guests.

ANNUAL BANQUET THURSDAY EVE AT M. E. CHURCH; HAROLD JOST IS TOASTMASTER

SENIORS AT WORK ON ANNUAL PLAY PRODUCTION

The Juniors are very busy this week as they are entertaining the Seniors at an annual banquet on Thursday evening, May 4th, at the Methodist Church. The Mothers of the Juniors are doing the work and to make it more convenient for them, the banquet is being held in the church this year in place of the schoolhouse. The Senior colors are crimson and white and their class flower is the red carnation. There are 23 Juniors and 16 Seniors besides the faculty to entertain. This is a great event in the lives of the Juniors and Seniors and one they never forget. Following is the menu and the Toast program which will be followed:

The fifth annual Iowa Academic Contest will be given the students of Klemme High School, May 9. One aim of the school is to keep the scholastic standing high. It encourages the pupil to give his best as his score is compared with others. It encourages the instructor to give an organized review as her results will be compard with other classes in the state. It gives the superintendent a good check on both pupils and teachers. The test is not taken from any one text book, therefore much supplementary work is required.

The sophomores completed their geometry text some time ago. Since then they have been working on a set of about 250 original problems. After these are finished they are going to have some work on new methods of construction recommended by the present research workers in geometry. Through its appeal to the pupil's visual sense, the construction exercises assist in redefining and reillustrating the geometric concepts employed and consequently serves to make more meaningful to the pupils.

The freshmen have finished their text book in algebra. They will work on review problem taken from supplementary material.

The Klemme High School Baseball nine opened their season with two defeats, Thornton 8, Klemme 1; and Goodell 4. Klemme 2.

The Juniors have been getting ready for their Junior-Senior banquet which will be held May 4 at the Methodist Church.

Grades 1 and 2

The children in our room are very much interested in our cocoon which the boys brought in. This morning a large beautifully colored Cecropia moth came out and we had a chance to observe it all day.

We have been busy making May baskets the last week and Monday the children exchanged.

Monday we had some of the early spring flowers such as lily of the valley, bleeding heart, and white violets. Birds and flowers are our main interest in Nature Study now.

The 2nd grade began to study the simple multiplication problems and multiplication tables this week.

Grades 3 and 4

The third graders are beginning the study of Japan. They will then be able to compare the Japanese and Chinese.

Arlene Buseman, Charles Bock. Merlin Buss, Garland Brinkman, Melvin Coobs, Magnus Schuldt, Elsie Drake, Keith Stille and Jacqueline Kudje have had 100 in spelling during April.

Margaret Ralston, Caroline Schwartz, Marjorie Lemke and Shirley Johnson have had 90 or more for the month.

Grades 5 and 6

Wayne Buseman and Velma Kaduce were absent last week.

Grade Six have completed their book in Health and Cleanliness. Now we are spending the rest of the time in reviewing.

Grades 7 and 8

Arlene Kraus was absent from the eighth grade Monday.

Theodore Kaduce was absent on Monday.

The seventh grade have completed their English books for this year. We will begin reviewing the work of the semester this week.

Lesson for May 7

JESUS FACES THE CROSS

LESSON TEXT—Mark 10:32-52.

GOLDEN TEXT—And it came to pass, when the time was come that he should be received up, he steadfastly set his face to go to Jerusalem. Luke 9:51.

PRIMARY TOPIC — Doing Hard Things.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Doing Hard Things.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Cost of True Greatness.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Greatness Through Sacrificial Service.

I. Jesus Foretells His Death and Resurrection (vv. 32-34).

This is the third time he makes this prediction. This time it was while on his way to Jerusalem.

1. Jesus going before the disciples (v. 32). Jesus was going with the full consciousness of the awful tragedy of the cross before him, the treachery of Judas, the fiery persecutions of the priests and scribes, the unjust judgment, the delivery to Pontius Pilate, the mocking, the scourging, the crown of thorns, the cross between malefactors, the nails, the spear—all were spread before him. The notion that the death of Christ was incidental to his career is most fallacious. The very purpose of the incarnation was the vicarious death (Heb. 2:14).

2. The amazed disciples (v. 32). His utterances and demeanor filled their minds with perplexity and their hearts with awe.

3. The crowd followed in fear (v. 32, R. V.). The strange atmosphere nnd happenings struck them with awe and fear.

4. Jesus instructed the twelve (vv. 33, 34). In this state of confusion Jesus called them to himself and patiently instructed them as to "what things should happen unto him."

a. "Delivered unto the chief priests and scribes."

b. "They shall condemn him to death and deliver him to the Gentiles."

c. "They shall mock, scourge, spit upon, and kill him."

d. "The third day he shall rise again."

II. The Ambitious Request of James and John (vv. 35-45).

1. What it was (vv. 35-37). It was for a place of pre-eminence in the Kingdom. According to Matthew, their mother was the intercessor (Matt. 20:20). Christ had told them of the awful agony of the cross and also of the glory which should follow. It was not entirely for their glory that they made this request, but because of their personal desire to be with their Lord.

2. Jesus' reply (vv. 38-45).

a. To James and John (vv. 38-40).

(1) Their misconception rebuked. "Ye know not what ye ask."

(2) Positions of glory in Christ's Kingdom are earned, not obtained through favor or arbitrary assignment. The way to honor is through suffering. The cup which they were to drink was all that they were to suffer because of his crucifixion.

b. To the ten disciples (vv. 41-45).

(1) Their displeasure (v. 41). They were displeased with the request of James and John, because they were not free from selfish ambition.

(2) True greatness declared (vv. 42-45). To minister to others is greater than to be ministered unto (v. 43). Among the Gentile nations greatness was conceded to those who exercised authority over others. The highest standard of Christ's Kingdom is to forget self in devoted service to others, even to the giving of one's life.

III. Jesus Cures Blind Bartimaeus (vv. 46-52).

Though already bearing the weight of his cross, he had time for gracious deeds. Blind Bartimaeus received his sight.

1. Bartimaeus' request (vv. 46, 47). As soon as he heard that Jesus was passing by he cried to him for help. The fact that he addressed him as the Son of David showed that he recognized his Messiahship.

2. Rebuked by the multitude (v. 48). This rebuke provoked even a more earnest cry from Bartimaeus.

3. The blessing granted (vv. 49-52). Though Jesus knew his desire, he wished him definitely to commit himself. Note the progress in the experience of Bartimaeus.

a. A blind beggar (v. 46). b. His cry for mercy (v. 47). c. The persistence in his cry (v. 48). d. His response to the call of Jesus (vv. 49, 50). e. His specific request (v. 51). f. He immediately received his sight (v. 52).

How quickly an earnest soul may pass from sore need to jubilant discipleship.

MOTHER'S DAY—MAY 14TH

The great events of this world are not revolutions, and economic conferences and banking reforms. The great events of the world are babies.

The most important people in this world are not soldiers, and statesmen and bankers. The most important people in this world are mothers, who are called upon to bring into existence a new generation.

So it is fitting that on Mother's Day we honor mothers.

FIND MISSING LINK IN PALESTINE CAVE

Connects Up Neanderthal Man With Modern.

Berkeley, Calif.—Digging in a cave on the west side of Mount Carmel in Palestine during the summer, Theodore D. McCown, University of California anthropologist, unearthed what is believed to be the "missing link" in the evolution of man.

McCown, who returned here recently after heading a joint expedition of the American School of Prehistoric Research and the British School of Archeology, unearthed eight skeletons of the Mousterian period which probably link Neanderthal man to the modern.

Four of the skeletons were found in excellent condition and four others were fragmentary, McCown said.

Sir Arthur Keith, noted British anthropologist, characterized the discovery as one of the most important ever made.

While at work in the same cave last year, McCown obtained the skeleton of a child, and returned this year to complete his work. Although there will be controversy as to the exact place of this ancient race in the evolution of man, it is believed probable it was a close link to modern man, McCown said.

The skeletons were found in postures which indicated they had been buried by their kinsmen. These prehistoric men possessed chins, which fact is a characteristic not found in earlier discoveries.

They had great overhanging brows giving their eyes a sunken appearance, McCown said. He pointed out that their lower jaws were immense and that they probably walked with a slouching gait, their knees bent. They were about five feet nine inches tall, several inches taller than prehistoric men found in the past.

McCown said the work was evtremely slow since it was necessary to drill into solid rock. When the bones were reached, great blocks were cut around them. These blocks were covered with plaster and cement and placed in wooden boxes to protect them from possible injury.

Cat Uses Auto Engines to Get Warm in Winter

Birmingham, Ala.—Crafty animals, these cats.

A feline that makes his home in the alley near the city hall here has discovered that automobile engines radiate warmth, and he has used his discovery to apparent great comfort this winter.

When an auto parks near the city hall, the cat leaps to the running board, bounds into the space between fender and hood, and snuggles down for a purring nap. Cooling of the engine stirs the cat from its comfortable place and he dismounts to await another machine.

There is little danger of the feline being carried away by any of the autos from which he chisels his comfort. Once the motor is in operation, he hastens away.

New Device to "Search" Visitors to City Hall

St. Louis, Mo.—Visitors to the city jail here will be "searched" when installation of the jail's electric "detectograph" is completed soon. The "detectograph" is a device consisting of two cabinets, placed on each side of a doorway leading into the jail corridor. When a person carrying a weapon or some other metal object of similar size passes between the cabinets the reaction produced lights an electric bulb and rings a bell in the jailer's office.

City Holds Rainfall Record

Aberdeen, Wash.—Aberdeen isn't known for many things, but it holds the rainfall record without a dispute. The United States weather bureau recently announced that the city had hung up a new all-time record. Officials measured 102.58 inches for 1932.

Old Gold Coin Found

Placerville, Calif.—Newton O'Neil is awaiting the report of coin experts on the value of a $2.50 gold piece dated 1835. He found the coin in an excavation eight feet deep and believes it to be quite valuable. He has refused an offer of $26 for it.

$150,000 Is Not Going to the Dogs

Denver.—Administration of a $150,000 estate that should have gone to the dogs was ordered investigated by Gov. Edwin C. Johnson recently.

The huge estate was bequeathed to "Shep," lumbering shepherd dog, by his master, Fred H. Forrester of Denver, six years ago.

Shep lived luxuriously for two years, then died.

Under terms of the trust the money, administered by the Colorado board of child and animal welfare, was to go to homeless dogs of Colorado.

The board has built three dog drinking fountains in Denver and assisted the Dumb Friends' league.

Joseph M. Wood, public examiner, claimed $10,000 of the dogs' money had been invested in a Texas oil development concern.

The governor wants to know whether homeless dogs are receiving maximum benefits from the trust.

THE MEADOWLARK
Natural History Series

Perhaps one of the most common birds seen when driving through the country is the meadowlark. This bird often winters in Iowa and during the past winter many were seen thruout the state. Reports coming to the Fish and Game department tell of the Meadowlarks feeding on the gravel highways where the snow plows had passed by after a heavy snow. The Meadowlark most common to Iowa is the Western Meadowlark, however, the Eastern Meadowlark is seen in some parts of the state. They resemble each other but their calls are different. The field marks of the Western meadowlark are: male, yellow below with deep black cresent on the breast. running up onto the sides of the neck; sides, tawny white, striped; above, striped and spotted with black, chestnut and dull white; outer tail feathers largely white; cheeks grayish white and the yellow confined to the throat; the female is similar but smaller and the yellow is paler, the black on the breast is restricted or broken into spots and streaks as in the young.

The food of the meadowlark consists of approximately 75 per cent animal matter, including grasshoppers, crickets, beetles, spiders, ants. caterpillars, etc. Many weed seeds are eaten by these birds and they are considered one of the most valuable birds to have around the farm. The Meadowlark is considered one of the best grasshopper destroyers of birddom. They nest on the ground, the nest being well concealed by the grasses. Very often a runway through and arch of grass leads to the nest. The eggs are from four to six and are white spotted all over with shades of brown and purplish. The incubation period is from 15 to 17 days.

Mr. and Mrs. George Caroles and children left Sunday morning and drove to New Hartford and spent the day visiting with George's parents, who that day celebrated their wedding anniversary. They also visited with Mrs. Caroles' parents at Cedar Falls a short time as her father has not been in the best of health.

Wish To Clarify Egg Grades

In order to improve methods of candling eggs and to clarify the terminology describing egg grades so that egg quality can be more accurately determined not only by the buyer but by the eastern trade, a series of conferences is being held by large egg buyers, by poultry husbandmen and marketing specialists from the United States Department of Agricuture, Iowa State College and other colleges, under the auspices of the Institue of American Poultry Industry. The first conference was held recently in Des Moines.

FISHING SEASON TO OPEN ON MAY 15 IN ENTIRE STATE

Law on Black Bass Will Not Be Open Until June 15; Restrictions Are Made

Under the new rules of the state fish and game commission, the method by which the state was divided into northern and southern zones has been abandoned.

I. T. Bode, state game warden, said Monday there is no change in the present open season on trout except that fishing must be between one hour before sunrise and sunset each day. With certain exceptions other game fish may be caught anywhere between 5 a. m., May 15 to midnight Nov. 30.

Bass Law Late

The exceptions are that black bass may not be caught from any state waters except after June 15 and that black and silver bass, crappies, blue gills and sunfish may not be caught in Spirit Lake, Clear Lake or the Okobojis unti the same date. The legal limit of bullheads may be taken at any time. All fish except carp, buffalo. quillback gar and dogfish are defined as game fish. The daily limit is 15 game fish including not more than eight black bass, trout or pike. A total day's catch may not exceed 25 fish including bullheads.

Legal Minimum Length Reduced

The minimum length on pike and pickerel has been reduced from 14 to 13 inches, black bass from 12 to 10 inches and trout and crappie from 8 to 7 inches.

The commission is given the right to provide open seasons on game birds after a public hearing.

Hunting Season Earlier

The open season on gray, fox and timber squirrels is set from Sept 1 to Nov. 1 inclusive, instead of Oct. 1 to Dec. 31 and the daily maximum bag is reduced from 15 to 10 animals.

Under the new regulations rabbits may be killed only from Sept. 15 to Feb. 1 and the daily limit is fixed at 15.

A gardener is a man who raises a few things. a farmer raises a lot of things, and a middle man is a man who raises everything.

YOUNG LIBERTY COUPLE TAKE MARRIAGE VOWS

MISS ETHEL FERN STILLE WEDS ARTHUR E. CARLSON

Marriage Was Solemnized At Home Of Bride's Parents Wednesday Eve

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on Wednesday, May 3, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Stille Liberty twp.. when their daughter, Ethel Fern, became the bride of Arthur E. Carlson, son of Oscar Carlson of Clear Lake.

Promptly at 6:30 p. m. Ruth Prull. of Iowa Falls, cousin of the bride, sang "Because" with Miss Irma Schoenwetter at the piano. At the strains of the wedding march, the bridal couple and attendants took their places beneath a beautiful arch of flowers and pink and white crepe streamers. The Rev. J. L. Ralston of Klemme, pastor of the M. E. Church performed the ring ceremony. Miss Prull then sang "I Love You Truly". The bride was attended by Miss Irene Carlson, sister of the groom and George Stille, brother of the bride, acted as best man.

The bride was charming in a gown of shell pink crepe and carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses and sweet peas. Her attendant was lovely in a sky blue crepe dress carrying a bouquet of pink carnations and white sweet peas. The groom and his best man wore the conventional blue.

Congratulations were showered upon the happy couple by the more than 30 guests who witnessed the ceremony. After which they partook of the bountious wedding dinner served in the spacious dining room of the Stille home. Lucille Stille, Velda Schoenwetter. Velda Schaefer and Midred Gast were waitresses.

The center piece was a beautiful wedding cake which Mrs. John Day had baked and decorated with pink roses and green leaves.

The bride is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Stille and has spent her entire life on the farm, where her wedding took place. She received her education in the rural schools and graduated from the Klemme High School. She also attended the State Teachers College. She was one of Hancock county's foremost rural teachers and will make the man of her choice a very capable and efficient helpmate.

The groom received his education in the rural schools of Liberty twp., after which he has assisted his father on the farm. The Carlson's moved to a farm near Clear Lake this spring after spending the last twenty-five years as residents of Liberty township.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlson will make their home on a farm 6½ miles southeast of Clear Lake where the groom will engage in farming with his brother, Carl, for the year. Mr. and Mrs. Carlson have a home of their own.

About 9:30 p. m. sixty neighbors and friends of the couple thought it a good time to remind them that they wanted a part in the ceremonies so arrived with bells, saw blades and tin pans and gave them a good charivari. After congratulating the bride and groom, they were invited in and served delicious refreshments, consisting of ice cream and cake. The groom passed the customary cigars. When this crowd was being entertained another crowd arrived and they were again charivaried. These were given the same treats outside.

Both of these young people have many friends in this territory and in Klemme and the Times joins with them in wishing this happy couple much success and continued happiness throughout their married life.

NEPHEW DIED AT GARNER

Mrs. Emil Kraus received word Monday evening that her nephew, Melvin Grell, died suddenly at Garner Monday evening. Since the Grell children had lost their father, the girls lived wth their mother, while the two boys made their home with Grandma Grell. Melvin. who had not been in the best of health, but was apparently as well as usual had just finished wiping the dishes. His Grandma. who had gone into another room. called to Melvin to turn out the kitchen light, and as he obeyed her he fell over on the floor dead. Melvin would soon have been thirteen years of age. He will be greatly missed by his loved ones and especially by his younger brother. The funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 p. m. from the Carl Grell home and from the church.

GASOLINE PRICE TOOK TUMBLE HERE MONDAY

Local gasoline dealers hung out new prices Monday morning announcing lower gasoline prices. Regular grade gasoline dropped 2.1 cents per gallon and now retails at 12.1 cents per gallon, tax included. Special test gasoline sells for 13.1 cents per gallon in Klemme.

DELEGATES TO STATE CONVENTION NAMED MONDAY AT WET-DRY MEETINGS

JUNIOR AND SENIOR BANQUET WAS GREATLY ENJOYED

The juniors were hosts to the seniors and faculty at the annual junior and senior banquet last Thursday evening. The banquet was given in the parlors of the M. E. church. The room was decorated in red and white, the senior colors and was to represent a ship. Life savers against the railing. the wheel at one end and a tiny lighthouse blinking from a distance helped give the atmosphere. The table decorations consisted of bouquets of red carnations, candles and ship nut cups.

The mothers of the juniors prepared the banquet dinner, which was served by eight freshman boys and girls, dressed in sailor costumes.

Maxine Bachman sang several numbers, and toasts were given by Harold Jost, who acted as toastmaster, Dorance Day, Mr. Grove, Margaret Gates, Roy Arnold and Marie Stille.

The juniors are very grateful to their mothers who prepared the banquet and to Miss Dallenbaugh for her help with the decorations.

Our high school took the tests in the fifth Iowa academic contest Tuesday. These are tests in major subjects and are given in schools all over the state. The results are sent to Iowa City and charts are prepared so that any school may compare in the achievement of its pupils with that of others.

The Seniors will present their play "Climbing Roses" Friday and Saturday nights, May 19 and 20.

Mr. and Mrs. Grove were honor guests at a dinner and theatre party at Garner, Monday evening. Mr. Hunter gave a short talk and presented Mr. and Mrs. Grove with a little gift.

Grades 3 and 4

The third and fourth graders are becoming quite oriental since they have begun the study of China and Japan. Japanese lanterns and Japaese spelling booklets are hung up in the room now. We have even learned why they burned incense and we are going to burn some in the room.

Charles Bock, Garlad Brinkman. Arlene Buseman, Merlin Buss, Melvin Coobs, Lorraine Buntenbach, Elsie Drake, Keith Stille, Gertrude Grosshuesch and Jacqueline Kudje, had 100 in spelling last week. Those above 90 were Frederick Gobeli, Shirley Johnson, Edwin Tiggeman, Della Kaduce, Magnus Schuldt and Allen Barz.

Grades 5 and 6

Ruth Heginger was absent Monday afternoon because of illness.

The fifth and sixth grade have completed most of the material in their text books and will soon begin reviewing for their final examinations.

Last week both fifth and sixth grades had perfect attendance records.

Grades 7 and 8

Juanita Pavey and Arlene Kraus were absent on Thursday and Friday respectively.

The seventh grade Reading Club had their program Tuesday. The following officers were elected for our last meeting: Buster Jorgenson president; Avis Barz, vice-pres.; and Jaunita Pavey, secretary.

The eighth grade expect to complete the Civics book this week. We will spend the last two weeks reviewing for our semester tests.

Rev. Grosshuesch and Elder Herman Priebe returned from the Classis meeting at Bongards. Minn. Saturday. They report that the proposed merger with the Evangelical Church was voted down by the Classis.

WETS AND DRYS HOLD THEIR CONVENTIONS MONDAY

Officers of the Wet and Dry forces had their preparations all made for their respective conventions held Monday at eleven o'clock. The drys held theirs in the Avery Theatre while the Wets held theirs at the court house at Garner. The dry group are those opposed to the ratification of the proposed amendment to the constitution to repeal the eighteenth amendment, while the Wets are in favor of the repeal. The Drys nominated J. N. Sprole as their chairman with S. B. Durant as their delegate while the wets had Lee of Britt as their chairman and nominated Rev. W. T. Wolfram as their delegate, Each convention nominated names that will appear on the ballots to be voted on at the special election June 20th.

They also elected a judge and two clerks in each township. For Ell, J. E. Stille is judge, clerks are Erick Josten and Emil Patet. In Avery, H. J. Bailey, judge, J. J. Cook and Henry Busse, clerks. In Liberty, John Terhufen, judge, J. L. Abele and Herman Gast, clerks.

GROW MORE OF DAIRY RATION

Purchasing Feeds Will Cause Dairyman's Costs to Mount

Raise what you feed and feed what you raise.

That slogan might well be adapted by all Iowa Dairymen in the opinion of Alvin Thoreson tester for the Fayette Cow Testing Association No. 4.

Mr. Thoreson in a report to the Dairy Extension Service of Iowa State College points out that the dairyman has his choice of a balanced or an unbalanced ration. Dairymen who practice economy will feed a balanced ration. The dairyman also has his choice between growing all the ration on his own farm or having it trucked out from the elevator.

When a legume hay is fed, a ration consisting of 400 pounds of corn, 400 pounds of oats, and 100 pounds of soybeans may be fed at a cost per ton of $9.46 at present prices. All of this ration can be grown on the home farm.

If, however, the dairyman feeds 400 pounds of corn, 400 pounds of oats and 1$0 pounds of linseed oilmeal in addition to legume hay, the cost per ton of theg rain ration is $10.24. If the farmer buys oilmeal 30 cents of each dollars worth of feed is not home grown.

If the dairyman feeds a non-legume hay, he must feed 400 pounds each of corn. oats and oilmeal to provide a balanced ration. This mixture costs $14.43 a ton. In this ration a total of 62 cents or more than half out of each dollar's worth is not home grown.

The radio prize announcer talks in his sleep: "Well, here I am with thousands of dollars of phony money to give to you, your children, and your children's children in an idiotic word-building contest presumably everybody and his brother will enter. You haven't a chance in a whirlwind of winning. but just to waste a lot of time with a borrowed dictionary, see how many standard Chinese words of three letters each you can construct from the letters in the sentence. "Once a sucker, always a sucker." Here are some examples: k-s-o; y-a-n; l-k-e. It's so simple it's positively absurd. You absolutely do not have to be a lunatic to participate: Now when you have finished (and, boy, you think you'll win, but you won't) attach your list to the carton surrounding a package of Wu Fung's famous No-Kan-Explode Chinese firecrackers, or make a messy facsimile drawing and mail it to the league of nations. Imagine having the postman some fine morning hand you a letter containing hundreds of dollars in worthless money Oh. boy! will your neighbors be curious."—Fenton Reporter

A NEW RAT TRAP

E. J. Studer of Wesley Ia. has developed a novel and inexpensive method of rat eradication. The rodents were especially numerous in a hog house on Studer's farm. So he purchased a supply of fish hooks and lined each of the rat holes with them. Now, whenever he opens the door, a wild scampering is heard within, followed by a squealing as the rats are impaled upon the hooks. After each catch, Studer dispatches his victims with a club, clears the hooks and is all set for another slaughter.

Joe Raggio of Philadelphia is considered the world's largest fat man. He weighs 750 pounds and has not been out of the house for 15 years because he is too big to get through a doorway. He eats 12 pounds of spaghetti each day and 7 pounds of hot dogs, 1 gallon of coffee, 3 quarts of ice cream and 60 to 70 hard-boiled eggs. It takes 8 yards of cloth to make his pants and 5 yards for his shirt.

It was a good many years ago that John Barrymore made one of his first stage successes in "The Fortune Hunter." The play went so well that Louis Joseph Vance was induced to write a book from it. The book was illustrated by Arthur William Brown, and Winchell Smith induced Barrymore to pose for some of the illustrations. The other day a young man came to Mr. Brown's studio. He brought him a battered copy of "The Fortune Hunter," which he said he had picked up in a Chinese book shop in Shanghai; said he thought the illustrator might like to have it. His reason for bringing the book to Mr. Brown was that he had always liked his illustrations.

But there was more to it than that. In the back of the book was pasted a label which read: "American Library association. Overseas Service." As further proof that this particular book had been through the war was a list of those who apparently had taken it from the library. They ranged all the way from corporals to colonels. And the pages had many names and comments scribbled on the margin. On one page had been penciled a quotation from "Alice in Wonderland." The name written below it was that of an Englishman. It was Rupert Brooke.

Norman Dodd was at Yale with Sam Pryor, Jr. When he came out, he went into a bank and did very well there. But one day he decided that he did not wish to spend his life in the banking business. So he left, gathered five other Yale men and, merely dropping a letter from banking, went into the baking business. He makes some sort of cranberry health bread and is doing well again.

A charitable organization appealed to a New York woman for a donation of clothes. She went to a repository where her husband kept cherished relics of the past and selected a frock coat, which he had not worn for many years, a pair of pin stripe, lavender trousers, from the same epoch, and a tall, silk hat, which had seen better days. These she contributed to the cause and it was not long before she received a warm note of thanks.

"You will be happy to learn," it read, "that the clothes you so kindly sent us were the cause of our being able to get a man unemployed almost immediate work. He is now greatly encouraged, as he has secured a job driving a hearse."

A rich man of Manhattan had a portrait of his wife, an exceedingly plain woman, done by a fashionable painter. It pleased her greatly, as the painter reduced her weight and vastly improved both her form and features. The Manhattanite showed the picture to a candid friend; asked his opinion; got it.

"Ah," said the friend, "very clever! But an appreciation, not a likeness."

Where Are the Record Big Game Heads?

METHOD FOR MEASURING

A RECORD MULEDEER

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

THERE'S a big game hunt on at present that's unique in the annals of American sport. It isn't a case of a hunting party, armed with high-power rifles and all the other up-to-date equipment with which the modern Nimrod supplies himself, setting out on an expedition to the remote regions where may still be found the relatively few survivors of the millions of buffalo, moose, elk, deer, antelope, mountain sheep and ain goat, bear and mountain lion which roamed this continent. Neither are these s going out with the avowed purpose of decimating the numbers of American me.

ead they are going out with—believe it or tape-measures and pencil and paper (cer- not very deadly weapons) and they will cerned not with killing more big game but animals that have already been killed. is by way of saying that the purpose of g game hunt is to find out where are the record big game heads, who was the hunter ecured these trophies, where were they se- who owns them now, etc.

four years the New York Zoological so- has carried on an active campaign to lo- ll the largest heads of American game. that time it has established the National ion of Heads and Horns and has brought r the finest collection of these trophies world, housing them in a fine building ted to the "Vanishing Big Game of the " ecember of last year it published a book "Records of North American Big Game," ed by a committee composed of Prentiss ay, editor; Kermit Roosevelt, Madison W. Redmond Cross, George Harrison, and bert Litchfield. In compiling this work han 35,000 questionnaires were sent out e aid of more than 3,000 sportsmen, mu- nd owners of trophies was enlisted.

andard method of measurement was de- and all measurements submitted for in- in the record were required to be made of the co-operating museums or a repre- ve of the National Collection of Heads orns. From the several thousands meas- total of 891 trophies were selected for n in the record, making it a veritable c de Gotha of the monarchs of the plains ountains.

book was divided into 13 sections, deal- h all varieties of big game on this conti- nd each section was edited by an author- the species, among them such nationally scientists and sportsmen as Dr. George rinnell, Ernest Thompson Seton, Dr. C. Merriam, Samuel Merrill, Wilfred H. Os- H. E. Anthony, Madison Grant, E. W. Nel- nj. E. A. Goldman, Dr. Thomas Barbour, d Seymour, Thierry Mallet, and C. H. nd.

society is now planning to issue another of the Records to bring it up to date and the coming year its official measurers will considerable time in various parts of the , especially in the Rocky Mountain visiting every town to measure trophies. now that many fine trophies must exist es, hotels and cafes in the small towns Rocky Mountain states and we wish to and measure as many of them as pos- says Prentiss N. Gray, editor of the Rec- "It is quite possible that among them we nd some world's records. Such heads considerable monetary value and while e no interest in purchasing any heads, ss many persons who possess trophies nough to be listed in the Records would to realize on them or at least to know ey are valuable."

e in charge of the Records have been in the past—and this holds good for the also—to accept only measurements au- ted by recognized natural history mu- r their own representatives. This is not tion on the honesty of the measurements owner of the trophy, but they early dis- that some over-zealous taxidermists con- it good practice and pleasing to their clients to alter trophies in order to increase measurements. They found that moose horns had been steamed or the skulls split and the spread thereby increased; additional points had been glued to elk antlers.

The climax was reached when they discovered one taxidermist who specialized in "making" record heads. One product of his shop, a Rocky Mountain bighorn, had been built up of horns from three separate sheep. Sections were fitted cleverly together and the final product, a world's record, was sold for a fancy price.

Thus, to have any real value, every head listed in the Records must be measured by men who know how and who can guard against such practices. Above is shown the method of measuring elk heads and deer heads, all measurements to be made with a steel tape. The following rules are given to explain and supplement the diagrams shown above:

Deer

A—Length on outside curve: Measured along the main beam from the base of the burr to the end of the most distant point.

B—Circumference of main beam: Taken midway between the basal snag and the first fork.

C—Circumference of burr.

D—Greatest spread: Measured between perpendiculars at extreme width of horns at right angles to the center line of the skull.

Points: No point shall be counted unless it protrudes at least one inch.

Remarks: State whether the trophy has any characteristics which depart from the normal for this species.

Elk

A—Length on outside curve: Measured along the main beam from the base of the burr to the tip of the most distant point on the main beam.

B—Circumference midway between bez and trez.

C—Circumference of burr.

D—Greatest spread: Measurement between perpendiculars, at right angles to the center line of the skull.

Points on each side: No point shall be counted unless it protrudes at least two inches.

Remarks: State whether the trophy has any characteristics which depart from the normal for this species.

Similar charts have been devised for other species of big game and the National Collection of Heads and Horns is asking anyone who has a trophy that exceeds the following measurements:

Mule deer, length on outside curve	26"
Whitetail deer, length on outside curve	23"
Bison, length on outside curve	14"
Elk (Wapiti), length on outside curve	54"
Moose, spread	56"
Sheep, length on front curve	39"
Goat, length on front curve	10"
Grizzly bear, length of skull	12"
Black bear, length of skull	12"
Mountain lion, length of skull	7"

to submit the record of his trophy for inclusion in the official Records and also to learn how it rates with the world's record heads.

Incidentally there is a patriotic angle to this unique "big game hunt," for many of the record American trophies are owned in England rather than in this country. This is true of the world's record muledeer, which was killed in Wyoming, but which is now owned by an Englishman.

The largest elk head in the world was killed in Wyoming and is today hanging in a castle at Horsham, England. It has a length on the longest horn of 64½ inches, a spread of 52 inches, with seven points on one antler and six on the other. Twenty-four of the 40 world's record elk heads are owned by Englishmen and only 16 are owned by Americans.

It is interesting to note that this sort of thing has been going on for three centuries. The first collection of American big game trophies of which we have record was made by Queen Elizabeth during the Sixteenth century. Her officials in the transatlantic colonies were commissioned to send back to England the finest specimens obtainable in the New world.

As a result, five great moose heads were shipped to England and found a place of honor in the Great Hall of Hampton Court palace over the dais where a succession of British sovereigns has dined on state occasions. The present-day visitor will recognize them with some difficulty for the officers of the queen's household evidently had little faith in the taxidermists of their time and no scruples against nature faking. The horns were affixed to carved wooden replica of "Cervus elaphus," the European red deer, the game animal with which the English wood-carvers of the day were most familiar.

Another American trophy owned by British royalty is a magnificent pair of moose horns which was presented to the prince of Wales (later King Edward VII) during his visit to America in the Seventies. The weight of the dried skull and horns is said to have been 56 pounds and the antlers had a spread of 70 inches. In 1898 an American Trophy exhibition was held in London and among the exhibits there was an elk head, shown by A. L. Tullock, Esq., which had been killed in Montana in 1883. Of this trophy it has been written, "Most judges give the palm in beauty to this superb 20-point head. Its size and points have been exceeded, but its massive beams, perfect symmetry and wonderful pearlings are so far unrivalled."

As early as 1850 titled Englishmen were coming to this country for big game hunting and in an article which appeared in the June, 1894, issue of the old Cosmopolitan magazine, under the title of "Famous Hunting Parties of the Plains," Col. W. F. Cody ("Buffalo Bill") tells of some of them as follows:

"The first great hunter who came to this country in search of big game, of whom I have knowledge, was Sir George Gore. I was a boy at Fort Leavenworth in 1853 when he arrived there from London and fitted out his expedition. At that time buffalo, elk, deer and antelope were so numerous upon the plains and all through the Rocky mountain region that we frontiersmen were naturally somewhat surprised to find that an English gentleman would come all the way across the ocean and make the tedious journey from the seaboard to the frontier, with no other end in view than the chase.

"Sir John Watts Garland was another great English huntsman. He came over here about 1869. At different points on the plains and in the mountains he established camps and built cabins to which he would return regularly about once every two years. In his absence, his horses and dogs were left at these camps in charge of men employed for that purpose.

"The third of the great hunters whom I have known was Lord Adair, who is now the earl of Dunraven, owner of the famous Valkyrie. He came with Doctor Kingsley, a brother of Charles Kingsley, the well-known author, and arrived at Fort McPherson, on the Platte river, about eighteen miles from the town of North Platte. . . . Lord Adair was the first of these visiting sportsmen that I remember to have had a military escort. Garland and Gore provided their own. Later he purchased a hunting park of his own. . . ."

Being interested only in sport, such hunters as Sir George Gore and Sir John Garland were willing to stay in the field long enough to get really good heads. They had a better chance than the present-day hunter to find a record head because the herds of elk had not been so badly shot up or their winter range so restricted that it was necessary to winter feed them. Good heads were common, as the animals were stronger and more rugged.

The Englishman knew the value of record heads and he carried back his own trophies plus the best heads he could purchase for resale at home. Therefore today the collections of game trophies in England contain the very best examples of our American big game, but, in the words of sponsors of the present "big game hunt," now being conducted under the auspices of the New York Zoological society, "We want to return the record of both elk and deer to the United States and it is probable that in some attic or home in the Rocky Mountain states the world's record can be found."

Pay for Neglect, Is Nature's Law

Articles Long Unused Are Bound to Deteriorate in Quality.

There seems to be a natural law that unused articles shall become useless. As soon as one stops utilizing whatever the thing happens to be, from that time it commences to deteriorate. It is as if the article said:

"If you are done with me, so am I done with you. I will not be neglected and continue to keep in good condition. I will serve you to the best of my ability so long as I endure, provided you want me. If I am no longer desirable, I cannot help deteriorating."

How many of us homemakers have found that such a state of affairs is truth. We let garments remain hanging in a closet. They may get weak and tear or cut along seams and in folds when we again want to use them. Silk is particularly liable to be affected. If the closet is warm, the heat is ruinous to silk in which there is any filling. So few silks today are pure. Women insist on them having "body," and filling supplies "body."

Or it may be that the frock is partly or entirely of wool. Beware of moths and buffalo bugs, if so. They accept the invitation of long-standing unused material and worm their way into the textiles, and tiny holes, always just where they will show most, are found in a surprisingly short time.

Wash goods get soiled and mussed. Dirt rots textiles. Also, being suspended on clothes hangers strains the material of whatever sort, where it bears the weight of the garment, on the shoulders usually.

But it is not wearing apparel alone which repays us in kind for failure to make use of it. Furniture will get loose in its joints, dull of polish, shabby in upholstery, etc. It will need to be done over after a period of disuse.

It is odd that the articles which are most easily breakable when used, are those which, when not used, show ill effects least. Glass and china, when carefully packed away, can be taken out, and be found in perfect condition in later years. If not so taken care of, however, they get encrusted with dust, which gets a greasy quality, and it is something of a job to wash and clean the pieces.

Then, too, unused articles have a strange way of losing themselves. How the articles go or where, remains a mystery. Like shoe buttons, which one young boy declared "died off," so do these unused articles seem to die away. Certainly they vanish without anyone in the household being aware of how or when. So it pays either to use things constantly, or else pack them away in some manner which will preserve them against the time of returned desire to have them utilized.

It's So Different

It takes the rising generation to convince you that you are old.

Now my clothes last 2 or 3 times longer

"SINCE I stopped abusing my clothes every week—since I began soaking out the dirt instead of scrubbing it out against a metal washboard—I must have saved at least $100. For clothes washed the safe 'scrubless' Rinso way last 2 or 3 times longer. And they come shades whiter, too—even without boiling!"

The Rinso way of washing clothes is the modern way. So easy on you—so easy on your hands—so wonderfully easy on the clothes!

Cup for cup, Rinso gives twice as much suds as puffed-up soaps—even in hardest water. Great in washers, too—and simply grand for dishes! Get the BIG package.

ACID STOMACH EASY NOW TO CORRECT

Just Do One Thing—That's All

According to many authorities, some 80% of the people of today have acid stomach. This because so many foods, comprising the modern diet, are acid forming foods.

It usually makes itself felt in sour stomach, indigestion, headaches, nausea, "gas," "biliousness," and most frequently in stomach pains that come about thirty minutes after eating. So you can easily tell if you have it.

Now Quickly and Easily Corrected

If you do have acid stomach, don't worry about it. You can correct it in a very simple manner. Just do this. It will alkalize your acid soaked stomach almost immediately. You will feel like another person.

TAKE—2 teaspoonfuls of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia with a glass of water every morning when you get up. Take another teaspoonful thirty minutes after eating. And another before you go to bed.

What This Does

That's all you do. But you do it regularly, EVERY DAY, so long as you have any symptoms of distress.

This acts to neutralize the stomach acids that foster your "upset" stomach, that invite headaches and that feeling of lassitude and lost energy.

Try it. Results will amaze you. Your head will be clear. You'll forget you have a stomach.

BUT—be careful that you get REAL milk of magnesia when you buy; genuine PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia. See that the name "Phillips" is stamped clearly on the label.

ALSO IN TABLET FORM: Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets are now on sale at drug stores everywhere. Each tiny tablet is the equivalent of a teaspoonful of Genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia

Neutralizes Food and Tobacco Acids a few minutes after taking.

PLANT MORE TENDER FLOWERS

The middle of May is a good time to plant seed of some of the more tender annual flowers that cannot stand low temperatures. In this group are the cosmos, lupine, nasturtium, marigold salpiglossis, zinnia and scabiosa.

Potted or flatgrown annuals from the commercial greenhouse may also be set out at this time. With slow growing annuals such as verbena, petunia, pinks and snapdragons much time will be saved by planting stock grown under glass at home or in a florists' greenhouse.

The middle of May is also the right time to plant dahlia tubers and the roots of growing plants of cannas.

There are only four classes of roses that have a place in Iowa gardens. These are the hardy ramblers or climbing rose, dwarf polyantha or baby ramblers, the hybrid perpetuals and hybrid teas. The hybrid teas are so much in demand that many nurseries have difficulty in supplying plants of some varieties.

The hybid tea rose is the type that blooms all summer and the flowers, produced on single stems are large sized and desirable for cutting. Baby ramblers are probably the most desirable bush roses. The bushes are small and compact and the flowers bloom all summer. The baby ramblers are hardier than the hybrid teas in central Iowa.

Lesson for May 14

JESUS ASSERTS HIS KINGSHIP

LESSON TEXT—Mark 11:1-33.

GOLDEN TEXT—Rejoice greatly, O daughter of Zion; shout, O daughter of Jerusalem: behold, thy King cometh unto thee: he is just, and having salvation; lowly, and riding upon an ass, and upon a colt the foal of an ass. Zech. 9:9.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Praising Jesus.

JUNIOR TOPIC—King of All Kings.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Acknowledging Christ as King.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Lordship of Jesus.

I. Jesus Officially Presented to the Jewish Nation as Their King (vv. 1-11).

It is hardly proper to designate this the "triumphal entry" for it was only so to outward appearance. It was rather the promised Messiah publicly offering himself to the Jewish nation as the king.

1. The preparation (vv. 1-5).

a. Two disciples sent to bring the colt (vv. 1-3). Jesus told them just where to find it and how to answer the owner's inquiry.

b. The obedience of the disciples (vv. 4-6). Without asking the reason why, they went at Christ's bidding. The command may have seemed strange and unreasonable, but they rendered explicit obedience.

2. The entry into Jerusalem (vv. 7-10).

a. The disciples put their garments upon the colt, and Jesus sat upon it (v. 7). This action showed their recognition of Jesus as their Messiah, the King (II Kings 9:13).

b. The action of the multitude (vv. 8, 9). Some spread their garments in the way. Others who had no garments to spare threw down branches. This entry was in fulfillment of a prophecy uttered some five hundred years before (Zech. 9:9). They uttered the very cry which the prophet predicted. Since the prediction of the first coming was thus literally fulfilled, we can be assured that those concerning his second coming will likewise have literal fulfillment. The prophecy of Zech. 14:3-11 will be just as literally fulfilled as was that of Zech. 9:9.

c. The action of Jesus (v. 11). Upon entering the temple he looked round upon all things, but as it was eventide, he with the twelve withdrew to Bethany.

II. Jesus Exercising Kingly Authority (vv. 12-19).

1. The barren fig tree cursed (vv. 12-14). The fig tree is typical of the Jewish nation. The fruit normally appears on the fig tree ahead of the leaves. The presence of the leaves is assurance of fruit. This was an acted parable of Christ's judgment on Israel for pretension to being the chosen people without the fruits thereof.

2. The temple cleansed (vv. 15-19). For the various sacrifices many oxen, sheep, and doves were needed. It was impracticable for people from distant parts to bring their sacrifices with them. They brought money, therefore, and bought the animals needed. This privilege was provided in the Jewish law (Deut. 14:24-26). In such cases exchange was necessary. However, when evil men used it as an opportunity for gain, it became an offense to God. It defiled his house. Jesus made a scourge of cords and drove out the money changers (John 2:15), overthrowing their tables and pouring out their money. By this act he declared himself to be the Lord of the temple, and one with God. The scribes and chief priests grasped the meaning thereof, for they were aroused to murderous hate and sought to destroy him.

III. Jesus' Authority Challenged (vv. 27-33).

1. By whom (vv. 27, 28). The chief priests, the scribes, and the elders demanded that he show by what authority he accepted the honors of the Messiah and by whom he was given the right to cast out the money changers.

2. Jesus' answer (vv. 29, 30). He responded to their challenge by a question which placed them in a dilemma. Since John was his forerunner, the commission of John and Jesus had the same source. If John's commission was from heaven, Christ's commission was from heaven likewise. If they had accepted John's message, they would have been ready to accept his. They were powerless to destroy John because the people accepted John as having been sent from heaven.

3. The answer of the chief priests and scribes (vv. 31-33). Perceiving the force of the dilemma in which they were placed, they confessed that they did not know the source of John's commission. These rulers had no affection for Jesus so they rejected his message and sought to destroy him.

BAKE VEGETABLES IF POSSIBLE

Helps Conserve Vitamin and Mineral Content In Them

"Eat to nourish the body, not to please the appetite," was a stern old Puritan motto. But modern dietitians have a broader and kinder point of view about eating; they advise eating for both food and flavor value.

Proper preparation of vegetables gives them an "appetite appeal" that will encourage the family to eat them, according to Dr. P. Mabel Nelson, head of the Food and Nutrition Department of Iowa State College.

Scientists have discovered that the yellow, green and orange color in vegetables is not just a pretty decoration of Nature; these colors usually indicate the presence of certain valuable vitamins. Heat tends to destroy these colors and the vitamins with them. So cooking must preserve these colors, not only to maintain the attractive appearance but also the food value.

Baking is probably the best method for cooking vegetables to maintain the food value. Potatoes baked in their skins lose neither their minerals nor their vitamin content. Modern household equipment—with its tempered glass and earthenware baking dishes— has made it possible to bake many vegetables not baked before.

Boiling is the most common method of cooking vegetables, but often this process ruins the colors and destroys much of the food value. Vegetables should be cooked only long enough to make them tender and the water should be boiling when the vegetables are put in. This helps to preserve color, texture and vitamin content.

U. G. Smid and Eckard Zeidler were Mason City visitors Thursday.

The Klemme High School students were very busy Tuesday with the Academic tests which are by the State department to be in all high schools. Later they get returns from the tests Tuesday.

GIVE OLD JEWELRY TO HELP OUT NEEDY

New Yorkers Donate Worn Rings and Gold Teeth.

New York.—Mrs. J. B. Walker, prominent parishioner of Trinity church, never envisioned herself as a junk dealer of consequence, but that is what she has turned out to be, much to the net gain of the city's idle thousands. This was demonstrated recently when dignified old gentlemen surreptitiously dropped gold false teeth, along with old umbrella and cane handles, watch-fobs, lodgepins, stickpins, and cuff buttons into the collection plate at Trinity, adding to a constantly changing heap of odds and ends, which Mrs. Walker began collecting last fall as her personal contribution to the jobless.

At first, Mrs. Walker, wife of Dr. J. B. Walker, collected such articles from her friends. So rich proved the treasure from old bureau drawers, however, that before long she had made five trips downtown to the government assay office, had added some two pounds of gold to the national resources and had turned over to the unemployed fund of the Episcopal churches, under the leadership of Bishop Gilbert, assistant to Bishop Manning, some $500.

Gold and Silver.

Soon, all of Mrs. Walker's friends in the Church Women's league began rifling the bureau drawers of their friends. Now the women have established headquarters at the Allerton house and there, between 10 and 4 o'clock every day, a fairly steady procession of people come, bringing everything from old wedding rings and gold teeth to silver napkin rings and picture frames. In the meantime the Little Church Around the Corner and Grace church have also collected Sunday offerings of gold and silver for the "junk shop," and St. Thomas' and St. Bartholomew's will inaugurate a similar gift day very soon—and these churches, Mrs. Walker believes, offer great possibilities. If each St. Thomas bride, says Mrs. Walker, brought in all of the gold and silver wedding presents which she has never used and never wanted, the unemployed would be considerably enriched.

"Men are walking gold mines," Mrs. Walker said. "There isn't a man in this town, scarcely, who hasn't a gold gift pencil or an old stickpin, or one of a set of gold cuff links somewhere. Why, one day at a Philharmonic concert, I approached the woman sitting next to me on this subject—I had met her, of course—and a gentleman next to her overheard me. He fished through his pockets, produced a gold good luck piece he had been carrying for 20 years and added that he had any number of items at home he'd send me.

Every One Saves Gold.

"You see, nobody throws gold away, even when it is only one earring left of a set, or one cuff link, or even an old gold tooth. Yet, they never do anything with them. They haven't enough to melt down themselves—you have to have $100 worth, or five ounces, before the government office will melt it for you—and, although people have no use for these things, an ingrained instinct of thrift causes them never to throw away any gold article."

The collection of silver is not melted because of the low market value of silver at the present time. But Mrs. Walker has found a market among various antique dealers, who often give her very good prices for old silver articles, especially now that Victorianism is being revived. All of the gold is melted and the alloy removed, except in very rare instances, when an unusual article brings more than its gold value from a dealer.

"Many people make a point of having their contributions melted," she said. "Often it has names and dates or initials, and while the owners do not mind giving it up impersonally to the government, they do not like to think of it as passing into other hands."

One of the richest sources of income has been from gold wedding rings. The modern woman has, in many cases, replaced her heavy gold wedding ring with a new platinum and diamond. Divorces and deaths also have added to the number of wedding rings laid away in old jewel cases for no particular purpose.

Rheumatism Alibi Not Convincing to Court

Chicago.—A good case of rheumatism would have been most welcome to John Bagdonus, sixty-three, the other day. A railroad detective had just told a judge John was tossing coal out of a car.

"Why, judge," John protested, "I couldn't do that. I couldn't climb in a car because of my rheumatism."

"Run," said the court.

John did, and the judge commented: "Ten days."

Our Government —How It Operates

By William Bruckart

HOW CONGRESS FUNCTIONS

THE galleries for visitors in the chambers of the senate and the house are situated so as to give the maximum view for everyone, but that necessitated placing them on a level quite above the floors where the senators or the representatives have their seats. That circumstance does not always permit a proper understanding of debate. Many visitors go away from the Capital, therefore, with an impression that enactment of legislation is far too complex and intricate for the mind of the lay-person to comprehend.

It is unfortunate that this condition prevails, but it is not the only reason why those seeing the house or the senate in session for the first time fail to understand what is happening. They see only a part of the whole picture of the legislative function. They lack a knowledge of the rules of the game, and they are not conversant with what has gone before.

The house and senate are on a par in dealing with the bulk of the laws that go on our statute books, but each body has certain functions reserved to it and with which the other one has, and can have, no concern. The house, by direction of the Constitution must originate all laws that raise revenue, those that tax you and me, and it also must start all laws—they are bills while in the legislative machinery—making appropriations of public moneys. The senate could start them, of course, but would not mean anything. The senate, however, was given certain specific duties by the Constitution also. No treaties with foreign nations are operative until approved by the senate. It likewise has the final say-so respecting nearly all appointments to office made by the President.

It was suggested above that if the visitor wanted to see the start of the talking picture, he would have to attend another theater. That other theater is the committee room. There are 47 of these committees in the house and 34 in the senate. They are permanent committees. Special committees are constantly being named to do a specific job not readily susceptible of being handled by one of the standing committees, such as an investigation. In these committees is where the bulk of the work is done; where the grain is threshed.

The regular and usual procedure, therefore, is that a representative will introduce a bill in the house, or a senator will introduce one in the senate. Frequently, the same text of a measure will appear simultaneously in each body. The rules provide for reference of the bill to the committee having jurisdiction. The committee has a regular meeting day; the new bill is taken up, usually with only members of the committee present, and it is talked over informally. If it be of great consequence the committee will order that hearings be held so that those favoring the proposed law may state its merits and that those opposed to it may voice their opposition and point out weaknesses in the bill Sometimes those hearings will continue day after day over several weeks.

As a general rule, a witness before a committee will be allowed to tell his story, to state his views, without interruption. When his statement is finished, however, the committee members have their fling. Questions are not always designed to be fair, nor are they always aimed to bring out things which the witness desires to admit. It all depends on whether the committee member views the subject from the same angle. In consequence, the stenographic record of testimony that always is taken sometimes makes literature akin to comedy, for witnesses have a tendency to go too far; to leave themselves vulnerable to opposition criticism by overlooking weaknesses in their own statements, or by deliberate misrepresentation of facts.

Having taken all of the testimony that is offered, the committee again works behind closed doors. Not being under the necessity to watch out for the political effect of what they say, they talk frankly about the proposition before them, and reach an agreement, sometimes informally, sometimes by a record vote, as to the course they will follow. In most cases, the bill as it was sent to the committee needs correcting. Amendments to accomplish the purposes desired are drafted, with the advice of experts employed by the house and senate for that purpose, and in final form, if the majority of the committee so votes, the bill is ordered to be "reported to the house with the recommendation that the bill do pass," or to the senate, if it be a senate committee.

The fact that the bill has been sent back to the house or to the senate by one of its committees does not mean that it ever will see the light of day, figuratively speaking. Indeed, the chances are about 50-50 that it never will receive attention in the senate and they are about ten to one that nothing more will be heard of it if it was reported in the house by a committee of that body. Each house has a "calendar of business," and when a bill is reported, its members and title is entered on that calendar, there to await further attention, or possibly death because of adjournment of congress.

The Actress Incognito

By H. IRVING KING

© by McClure Newspaper Syndicate. WNU Service.

THERE was a touch of the theatrical about her as she passed with her swinging gait down the lobby of the hotel. Just a touch, not a loud pronouncement. It was a hotel on a Florida beach; a moderate-priced, retiring, restful sort of place, just suited to its patrons who came year after year.

Of course, every year there were a few new faces. This season the new faces were those of Rosalie Maltravers and Charles Burdick. Rosalie was the girl with the theatrical touch about her and Charles was the young man who sat watching her intently as she strode through the hotel lobby.

It was whispered that she was a celebrated actress down there incognito, just for rest.

As for Charles Burdick his manner and clothes were so perfect that it had been decided that he was a young man of "wealth and fashion."

On the third evening after the arrival of the perfectly equipped and perfectly mannered Mr. Burdick, he and the celebrated actress incognito sat on the veranda of the hotel looking out over the moonlit waters.

"Somehow, do you know, Miss Maltravers," said Charles, "your face seems familiar to me. Now where could I have seen you before?"

Rosalie gave a little gasp and replied, "Oh dear. It's no use for me to try and hide away—and just rest. People will recognize me. I may as well admit that I am merely an actress, seeking quiet retirement in this delightful and obscure place to recover from the nervous strain caused by my exacting work."

"Acting must be hard work," replied Charles. "No wonder so many actors and actresses suffer from nervous breakdowns. May I go so far as to ask your stage name?"

"Ah," laughed Rosalie, "that I may not—or will not—tell you. It would be all over the hotel in half an hour and I should have no peace. And may I add that you yourself, Mr. Burdick, appear to be somewhat of a mystery according to the gossip of the hotel? Tell me your real name."

"Really," replied Charles, "I must have my secrets as well as yourself. I, too, seek peace and not publicity."

After that Charles and Rosalie were together so much that everybody at the resort considered the affair as settled. The millionaire was going to marry the actress. Wasn't it delightful?

Never, never had the guests at the little hotel enjoyed their sojourn there so much. They wrote off reams of letters to their friends in the North about it. The lovemaking of Rosalie and Charles progressed rapidly, but after that first talk of theirs they let the mystery of their real identities stand as it was—as if there was no mystery. Or was it that all other mysteries were swallowed up in the mystery of love? Sometimes Rosalie would have a moody spell; sit silent, evidently thinking deeply and letting Charles do all the talking.

One evening as they sat in the hotel garden, the moon shining on the sea and a gentle wind waving the Spanish mass upon the live oak trees, Rosalie after one of these fits of meditation said, "Charles, I am almost tempted to tell you my real name."

"You need not, dearest," replied Charles, "unless you want to. It makes no difference. It is you that I care about. You are all the world to me. You know it. Now, then, will you marry me?"

Rosalie turned her head aside and said softly, "What would your wealthy family say to your marrying an actress? In some quarters there is still prejudice against the stage, you know."

"Nonsense," answered Charles, "that sort of thing vanished long ago. Again I ask, will you marry me?"

"When I have told you who I am, if you still want me, I will," said she.

"Don't bother," replied Charles. "I know who you are. You are that demure little stenographer who works for Hayden and Blankford in the Magathum building and are down here taking a vacation, the first in years. I have often seen you in the elevator, or passed you in the hall, but you never would look at me until I chanced to run across you here."

"You horrid thing," sobbed Rosalie. "Why didn't you tell me you knew me at once and not let me make a fool of myself posing as an actress. But you needn't think yourself so smart. You are that young lawyer who has an office on the top floor and I have known you all along. But I didn't imagine that you knew me. And, oh, I always did so long to be an actress."

"You are a perfect actress, darling," replied Charles soothingly, "but, as you remarked when we first met down here, good acting is a great strain on the nervous system. What say, Miss Ruth Mathews—shall we go back to New York and get married? Business is pretty good with me; you won't have to work any more."

Of course, Ruth, alias Rosalie, eventually said yes. Bpt at the same time she told Charles that she doubted if she ever could really forgive him for the way he had deceived her in Florida.

Gardens! NOW is the time to---

FEED LAWN, CROWD OUT THE WEEDS

Start the grass growing early and crowd out the weeds!

Fertilizer applied at the right time on the lawn will give the grass a head start in the race with the weeds. Numerous commercial brands of fertilizer are useful and may be bought at a reasonable prce. The recommendations of the manufacturer should be followed carefully to avoid possibility of burning the turf.

Nitrogen is rapdily used by grass and applications of this element are necesary to keep the turf in good condition. Amonium sulfate is the most used fertilizer supplying this element. Five pounds to 1,000 sq. feet of lawn is ordinarily adequate. It is better to make frequent light applications than one big application.

Fertilizer should be distributed evenly so there will be no danger of burning. A good way is to mix the substance with ashes, sand or dirt. It may also be applied with water. It is always safest to wash the fertilizer off the leaves after an application.

A good lawn fertilizing schedule: One application as early as possible in the spring; a second late in May or June and the last in early autumn.

In Iowa it is generally safer to start a lawn in the spring than in the fall because during the latter season there is often a lack of moisture to form a turf which will stand the rigors of the first winter. If the builders of the house left a lawn covered with a tight clay subsoil or left brickbats and boards in the soil it may be necessary to bring in a layer of 3 o 5 inches of rich, black soil before planting the lawn. It may be possible to improve it sufficiently by working in organic matter.

Kentucky bluegrass is most suitable for Iowa lawns. It is advisable to mix the seed with another grass on a new plot. Red top is probably the best nurse crop for Iowa, mixed 1 part to 2 parts of blue grass. Dutch white clover may be added when it is impossible to water the lawn as it stays green in dry weather.

THE EASTERN GOLDFINCH
Natural History Series

The Eastern Goldfinch, (Spinus tristis tristis) has been officially named the State bird of Iowa. Other names by which the Eastern Goldfinch is known to Iowan's are 'Wild Canary" and 'Thistle Bird". This bird is a common resident of the state and is readily identifed by almost everyone. The smallness, being only about five inches, together with its predominating color of yellow serve to aid in the identification of the bird. It is a late nester, often waiting until almost fall. One interesting characteristic of the bird is in its nest building habits. The nest is usually lined with pappus from seed of the thistle. The down from the milk-weed pod is the most used material. There will be from 3 to 6 eggs in the nest and the period of incubation is from 12 to 14 days. The young stay in the nest about two weeks. The food of the Eastern Goldfinch is composed chiefly of thistle seeds, sunflower, ragweed, and wild lettuce. It is also very fond of dandelion, coneflower, catnip, etc. It eats a small percentage of wild fruits and insects.

The male is brightly colored in the Spring and Summer, being a bright yellow with black wings and crown patch. The adult female in the Spring and Summer is yellowish brown above, dull yellow below, black crown patch wanting. The wings and tail dull black. The winter plumage of the adult male is grayish brown above, tinged with olive; throat and breast yellow, belly white; sides buffy. The adult female and immature birds are similar to the male but with much buffy. If you would have these birds about your home, the planting of sunflowers will no doubt be the best attraction for when the seeds ripen the Eastern Goldfinch is very fond of them.

A BOUQUET FOR THE WEEKLY
By W. Earl Hall in Mason City Globe Gazette

I gain genuine comfort by turning from the great daily newspapers to the weekly exchanges which come to the Globe Gazette. It's a good bit like stepping from the slums, full of vile, into an old-fashioned garden sweet with lavendar and thyme and the scent of perennial flowers The pages of the big dailies are so full of murder, thievery, immorality and selfishness that the better news is obscured by these blaring shatterings of the decalog. One puts the papers aside with a feeling of depression and heartache that the world is so full of terrible and unhappy things.

Then picking up the papers that record the happenings of the little cities around us in Mason City one gains renewed faith in life. Here are set forth only that which uplifts a community—the activities of the businessmen, the church news, the civic good accomplished by the women, school items, the happy social gatherings of the people, the marriages, births and deaths, farm items and all the thousand and one daily occurrences that make up the simple annals of the great common people, who are really the foundation of this broad country of ours.

Scandals are seldom published in the country newspapers, but if it so happens that decency demands it, the uglier details are omitted or given a kindly touch that is wisely different from the unfeeling publicity of the city press. The offenders may be our neighbors or people we have rubbed elbows with all our lives. They are real human beings to their home town paper, while to the great city dailies they are merely grains of a sort that are ground out hourly in their news mill.

Sometimes people speak lightly of the country newspaper, but it is one of the most potent and uplifting factors in our national existence. The great dailies have their misson, but their scope is to big to touch very closely the inner things of life.

MOTHER'S DAY

Today is your day, mother dear
My sincerest love I send to you
With memories of childhood creeping in;
Here's a wish for happiness we may renew.

Mother and father, such blessed words;
I thank God for having shared your lives.
And may your remaining years be filled
With every blessing the heart desires.

Altho your footsteps were often halted
In their journey along the way,
Your lives have been filled with gracious deeds
For the many loved ones every day.

Life is uncertain and death is sure
But there is my joy in having you two.
And with the realization of age coming on Comes the sadness from needing you.

I send a kiss in this message to you
In memory of my appreciation and love,
For the parents who have lived many useful years
And dedicated their lives to the One above.

FURNITURE NEWS

Business is picking up. We have been very busy in our Furniture Store during the last two weeks.

No, we don't blame you folks for buying furniture at today's low prices. Every farm home in this territory needs something new in furniture.

Hogs and Corn are bringing higher prices, and where better can one spend a little extra money than for the comfort and beauty of the home. It will pay big dividends in happiness. Always remember—

MEMORIAL DAY

TUESDAY, MAY 30TH

Let us decorate the graves of our dead.

We have at this time a complete stock of potted plants but it is always well to place your order early especially for cut flowers, as we sometimes run out on the last day.

We have just received a large shipment of Artificial Wreaths and Sprays from 33 cents up. These are especially appropriate and are most practical for Memorial Day use. These sold so well last year that we were closed out before Decoration Day. This year we have a larger stock and trust we can supply all customers.

We have a plat of the Klemme Cemetery and folks living far away may phone or write us and we can attend to planting flowers on the graves at or near Klemme.

Mrs. Lena Schroeder and Mrs. Paul Muller were named delegates at the recent meeting of the Reformed Missionary Society to attend the convention at Melbourne, Iowa on May 26th.

ALCOHOL GAS NOT PRACTICAL

Dr. Gustav Egloff, a Chicago research chemist, states that the proposal to give the farmers relief by making auto fuel from a mixture of grain alcohol and gasoline is poor economics. If gasoline contained 10 per cent alcohol, and grain sold at 50 cents a bushel the fuel would cost the motorist 35 cents a gallon while if corn sold for only 25 cents a bushel gas would cost 28 cents and this does not include a tax. Corn much cheaper than that would not furnish the farmer any relief.

In Iowa, he declares, the gasoline consumption was 350,000,000 gallons in 1932 and approximately half of this was used by farmers. A 10 per cent alcohol-gasoline blend would require 14,000,000 bushels of corn, which would bring the farmers $2,100,000 at 15 cents a bushel. The increased motor fuel bill would be $9,000,000, of which the farmers would pay half. Iowa farmers would therefore lose $2,400,000 on the deal.

FARM BILL FINALLY ENACTED

Attempts To Restore Farm Purhasing Power to Former Levels

With the farm bill finally enacted Iowa farmers are wondering just what it will mean to them. The mortgage section provides that those who have loans from the Federal Land Bank of Omaha, and whose loans are in good standing will get a reduction in their interest rate to 4½% within 60 days after the passage of the act and will not be required to pay anything on the principal for five years. The Federal Land Bank. holds 88 million dollars in farm loans in Iowa with an average interest rate of 5.3 percent.

This interest rate benefit will aid without question. a considerable number of Iowa farmers. Provisions are also made for scaling down the principal and interest rates on mortgages held by other than the Federal Land Bank.

Another section of the farm bill has to do with control of acreage and farm production. Processors of corn and hogs are being called together to decide definetly on a plan to follow to bring back higher prices to the corn and hog farmers of Iowa.

In view of the possibility of the government offering inducement to farmers to reduce their corn acreage economists at Iowa State College suggest that Iowa farmers who are in a position to do so reduce their acreage planted to corn 10 to 20 percent below a year ago. Land not planted to corn might be used for soybeans, oats for hay or some such crop. On some land it might pay to plant a crop to turn under as green manure.

The basic commodities finally left in the law are wheat, cotton, field corn, rice, tobacco, hogs, milk and its products. On all commodities named in the bill, except tobacco, the base period for figuring necessary price levels to reach equality in farm buying power is 1909 to 1914.

To meet the cash payments required to reimburse farmers for acreage reductions and crop control to needful amounts, the Federal Government has $100,000,000 in hand for immediate use; but later on these sums paid out of the treasury will be restored by means of a processing tax. The tax will be collected by the internal revenue department. It will be levied gradually and kept within reasonable bounds, always subject to the control of the Secretary of Agriculture and based on current conditions of supply and rate of consumption.

The third section of the farm bill gives President Roosevelt means to reflate the general price level.

County Engineer Gives Facts On Road Work

At the public letting held May 10 by the Hancock County Board of Supervisors the following contracts were awarded. Herman Brummusd of Kanawha, grading 7 miles of road in Amsterdam and Twin Lake townships, $1500; Adolph G. Anderson of Okoboji, Iowa, grading 4½ miles of road in Ellington township $980; Buns Bros. of Woden. grading 3 miles of road in Bingham and Madison townships $735; Paul Madsos of Britt, graveling 3½ miles of road in Bingham, Orthel and Britt townships, $835; Lars Jorgenson of Garner, graveling 2 miles of road in Concord township, $686; Ed Zeismer, of Garner, graveling 1½ miles of road in Garfield township, $390; B. A. Noonan of Britt, graveling 5 miles of road in Erin, Liberty and Ell townships, $1589.50.; John Schisel of Garner, gravelling 3 miles of road in Ell and Avery townships, $980; John Sheets of Britt, graveling 5½ miles of road in Orthel and Boone townships $1810.

The unit prices to be paid this yard which is 1-3 of the going price county for similar work. The grading was let for 2½ cents per cubic yard whih is 1-3 of the goisg price in 1930. The price for the most desireable section of graveling was 10 cents for loading a cubic yard f gravel and hauling it one mile and 2½ cents per cubic yard for each additional ½ mile of haul. This is about 1-4 of the average price paid for these items 10 years ago.

The clearing and grubbing, the removal of the surface rock, and the placing of all culvert will be done by day labor. The stripping of the gravel pits and the spreading of the gravel will be done by the regular patrolmen. These extras will add about 20 percent to the cost of construction.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Keraus and Miss Carmen Kluckhohn spent Sunday visiting with Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Keraus at their cottage at Ventura Heights. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Mitchell of Swea City also enjoyed the day at the cottage.

Kitchen Shower Held For Klemme Teacher

Mesdames W. L. Thada and A. J. Kudje and Miss Florence Wilson entertained twenty-two women Tuesday evening in honor of Miss Hazel Dallenbaugh. who on June 14th will become the bride of Mr. Orion Moe.

After the guests had arrived, Miss Dallenbaugh was invited to come over and assist Mrs. Kudje with some sewing. Upon her arrival she was hailed by the word "Surprise" and turning on the light found the room full of friends. Miss Dallenbaugh was very much surprised. The ladies had cleverly and successfully planned an evening full of entertainment. Among some of the things the guests were required to do, were: given the first line of a poem, make up the other three. Miss Georga Ford received the prize for this; Miss Norma Barz won the prize for seeing who could write down the most household duties in five minutes time. The guests were then given paper of many colors and varieties and were asked to make a hat for "Dolly" to wear. The hats were very funny and pretty and some very clever and many of the old time styles were recognized. Miss Florence Wilson received this prze but ence Wilson received this prize but gave it to her guest of honor Miss Dallenbaugh.

Then Miss Dallenbach and her guests were invited into the dining room where she opened her gifts. being required to tell what each was to be used for before opening. She received many very beautiful gifts, and it is hoped she will recall many happy days spent in Klemme, whenever she uses these gifts. The guests were then seated at small tables where a dainty two course luncheon was served. The guests were asked to wear they hats they had made during the lunch.

Miss Dallenbaugh has taught in the Klemme Schools the past two years and has a host of friends who wish her every kind of happiness in her married life. Mr. Moe is a school teacher and has a position for next year at Newell. They plan on having a lovely church wedding, the 14th day of June.

P. H. M.'S MET AT PEARSON HOME SATURDAY

Six members answered roll call by responding with materials suitable for party gowns when the Progressive Home Makers' of Ell twp. met at the home of Lydia Pearson Saturday afternoon, May 13.

Norma Wille was chosen to represent the club at the convention at Ames which is to be held some time in June.

Talks on items of interest were given by various members and music was studied under the direction of Miss Raake.

The meeting was adjourned and delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. Next Saturday there will be a joint meeting of Ell, Avery Liberty and Concord townships at the home of Mrs. Clarence Greiman to practice for Rally Day.

OPENING OF FISHING SEASON WAS NOT SO GOOD

Monday, May 15th, which marked the opening date of fishing for game fish in Iowa was far from being a record breaker. Hundreds of fishermen were out on scratch time, 5:00 a. m., and tossed varied and sundry choice morsels to entice the fish, but without avail. Very few good catches were made and in most instances boats returned without having even felt the tug of a fish on the line. Many of North Iowa's best fishermen failed to even register. Why? No one knows. Some say that it was the unsettled condition of the weather. Others that the state game department closed off practically all of the game fish feeding grounds. At any rate, there was not much doing.

Will Teach Next Year At Buffalo Center

Miss Ethel Wellemeyer, of Titonka, visited Saturday at the home of her parents here, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wellemeyer. Miss Wellemeyer has taught in the Titonka grade school the past three years. Next year she has contracted to teach in the Buffalo Center school and will take over the third grade work. Buffalo Center has a large school and the change will be in the way of a nice promotion for Miss Wellemeyer.

NATURE CONSERVATION TOUR OF PILOT KNOB, MAY 28TH

Last fall the State Board of Conservation established a cooperative relationship with the Botany Extension Service whereby an educational program could be carried on this spring in a few of the state parks.

The parks in which hikes and meetings will be held are Dolliver Memorial Park at Fort Dodge, the Ledges State Park at Boone, Pilot Knob at Forest City and several in different parts of the state.

The program will begin at 2:30 p. m. when those interested are asked to assemble at the Pavilion. May 28, June 11, 18 and 25 are the dates set for these educational meetings and hikes.

If lawns are watered, a thorough soaking once a week is much to be preferred to sprinkling lightly every day. Sprinkling lightly tends to make the roots shallower and less able to withstand drouth.

Lesson for May 21

JESUS ANSWERS HIS ADVERSARIES

LESSON TEXT—Mark 12:13-44.

GOLDEN TEXT—The officers answered, Never man spake like this man John 7:46.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Talking With Jesus.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus Answering Hard Questions.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Way to Meet Opposition.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—How to Deal With Objectors.

I. Jesus Silences His Enemies (vv. 13-34).

1. The Pharisees and Herodians (vv. 13-17). In order to destroy him they sought to discredit him among the people. To this end they sent representatives of both factions (v. 13).

a. Their question (v. 14). The Pharisees contended that since God was the real king of Israel, it was not obligatory to pay taxes to a heathen king. The Herodians were supporters of Herod. They came to him with flattery on their lips with this subtle question. For him to answer yes would have discredited him with the people, and to have said no would have made him liable to arrest by the Roman authorities.

b. Jesus' reply (vv. 15-17). He asked for a coin to be brought and inquired whose image and superscription it bore, declaring that those who accept the coin of Caesar should pay taxes to Caesar. In this reply Jesus escapes their trap and enunciates a principle which applies to all time and conditions as to the responsibility of Christians to civil government. Those who accept the protection and benefits of civil government should support that government. However, being a loyal citizen is not enough. There is a duty to God.

2. The Sadducees (vv. 18-27). The Pharisees and Herodians being silenced, the Sadducees came with a question which involved not only immortality but the resurrection of the body.

a. The case proposed (vv. 19-23). The law of Moses made it not only legal but morally binding in the case of a man dying without children for his brother to take his wife (Deut. 25:5). They proposed the case of a woman married successively to seven brothers. They asked whose wife she shall be in the resurrection.

b. Jesus' reply (vv. 24-26). By a quotation from the Mosaic law (Exod. 3:6), he proves the resurrection of the dead and their continued existence beyond death as human beings. He showed that marriage is for the present life only. In this respect human beings will be as the angels in the resurrection life. He pointed out that their gross error was due to two things:

(1) Ignorance of the Scriptures (v. 24). In the very Scriptures which they professed to believe was positive proof of the resurrection (Exod. 3:6).

(2) Ignorance of the power of God (v. 24). God is able to provide a life where there will be no death, no births, or marriages.

3. The scribes (vv. 28-34). Perceiving that Christ had effectively answered the Sadducees, one of the scribes came with the question as to which was the great commandment. Jesus summed up man's whole duty in one word, love—"love to God and love to man."

II. Jesus' Question (vv. 35-37).

He now turned upon his adversaries with a counter question. Its answer involves the central problem of Christian philosophy, indeed of all rational thinking. Christ's place in the scale of being is the foundation truth of all right thinking. "Is Jesus Christ man or God, is he God and man?" David spoke of the coming Messiah as both his son and God. There is but one answer to this question—the incarnation of God in Christ.

III. Jesus Condemns the Scribes (vv. 38-40).

The attitude of these people toward Jesus was not determined by insuperable intellectual difficulties, but by their moral nature.

1. They loved to go in long clothing (v. 38). This means they loved ostentation and display.

2. They loved to be saluted in public places (v. 38).

3. They sought to occupy the chief seats in the synagogues, and the uppermost rooms at feasts (v. 39).

4. They devoured widows' houses (v. 40). They lined their pockets at the expense of helpless women.

5. They offered hypocritical prayers (v. 40).

IV. Jesus' Praise of the Sacrificial Giving of the Widow (vv. 41-44).

These words of Jesus reveal unto us the fact that in God's sight a gift is measured by the heart motive.

Repentance

Repentance is heart sorrow and a clean life ensuing.—Shakespeare.

The strongest proof of repentance is the endeavor to atone.—Miss Braddon.

True repentance consists in the heart being broken for sin and broken from sin.—Thornton.

SERUM TO RESTORE PEP TO THE WEARY

Norwegian Finds Substance to Dispel Fatigue.

Oslo.—A serum that may dispel tiredness in human beings has been discovered.

Such is the claim of a Norwegian physician, Dr. Mentz von Krogh who has spent several years as medical professor in Argentina where he experimented for a considerable time with the problem of removing the human feeling of tiredness. His previous work of discovering a rejuvenation tonic brought him up against the problem of inventing an anti-tiredness serum.

The experiments have now reached a stage where the Norwegian scientist holds that he can bring the results before the public eye. In a lecture he explained how be first tried his serum on himself and with surprisingly promising results.

Serum Lifts Fatigue.

During his stay at an Argentine university he experimented with the serum which he calls antikenotoksine under particularly favorable conditions. After a swimming competition during which the participants had exerted themselves to the utmost the doctor injected the serum underneath the skin of the young men, and after the lapse of a couple of hours they were all freed of tiredness.

"The serum consists of the same substance," Dr. von Krogh declared, "that the human body produces in order to expel the tiredness substances. In a young and strong individual the capacity for developing this substance in a natural way will always be greater than in older human bodies.

Will Be Tested Now.

"With very old people the serum will be of no effect, more likely proving to be harmful. Nor will it mean much to very young people, but for the intermediate stages of human life it will cause a strikingly favorable effect. On an average ten injections are needed and the effect will then be noticeable for a long period, often reaching several years. The injections have no harmful after-effects."

Professor von Krogh is looked upon here as a serious and reliable medical scholar, and the results of his experiments will now be tested by the scientific authorities of Norway.

Methylene Dye Is Found Help in Gas Poisoning

Berkeley, Calif.—Use of methylene blue dye as a cure for poisoning from carbon monoxide gas, commonly caused by the exhaust of automobiles, was believed confirmed recently by experiments of a woman scientist at the University of California.

Mrs. M. M. Brooks, research associate in biology, who last April first suggested the same dye as an antidote for cyanide poisoning, announced her findings after long research and experimentation.

Medical experts believe her discovery will be a great boon to mankind because of the increased number of deaths from carbon monoxide gas asphyxiation during the last year.

Making her first tests with animals, Mrs. Brooks found that the effect of gas could be lessened by injection of methylene blue before subjecting them to the deadly fumes.

She also learned chances of recovery of those asphyxiated by the gas could be improved by a later injection of the dye, providing this infusion took place before the circulation ceased.

Prisoners Must Dig Up to Get Into This Jail

Greensboro, N. C.—Superior Court Judge W. F. Harding had to come to Greensboro to learn the law requires a prisoner to pay 50 cents to get out again.

The statute was enacted by the legislature of 1919 and makes lawful a turnkey fee of $1 charged by the Gilfford county jailer.

Judge Harding said he'd never heard of such a thing, but the public local and private laws of North Carolina substantiated the fact that "imprisonment of any person in a civil or criminal action" must pay "50 cents, and release from prison 50 cents."

Wife Bakes $700 in Bills in Oven With the Beans

Lynn, Mass.—The sudden decision of Mrs. Alice Winston to bake beans almost ruined the family financially.

The beans needed tending, and Mrs. Winston opened the oven door to be greeted by the smell of burning cloth. Investigating, she found a charred cloth containing the singed but still negotiable remains of $700 in bills. Her husband had reached the bank too late the day before and had placed the money in the oven for safe-keeping for a short time.

Mayor's Pay 4 Cents

Bridgeport, Conn.—Mayor Edward T. Buckingham received a check for 4 cents—his salary for two weeks. The mayor, recently appointed compensation commissioner by Governor Cross, had agreed to a $1-a-year salary.

Place Winter Woolens in Sunshine to Get Rid of Moths

Duet caps are out again.

Clbtheslines are full of jackets, coats, suits, buckets of water are standing at every corner of the house—womankind is on the warpath against dust and dirt.

The best way to free clothes from moth infestation before storing them away is to hang them in direct sunlight for several hours or by dry cleaning according to Miss Harriet B. Cookinham, of Iowa State College

The clothes may then be stored in tight boxes or trunks with paradichlorbenzene crystal. One pound of the crystals for each 10 feet of cubic space is about the right proportion It is best to put the crystals in small cardboard boxes with a few holes punched in the lids.

A good solution for cleaning wood work and walls is: 1 part rain water, 1 part kerosene and 1 part vinegar. The washing may be done with this solution and the rinsing done with a clean cloth dipped in clean water.

Furniture that has been dusted all winter may be cleaned by washing with a chamois wrung out of clear water. A cloth dipped in a solution of 1 table spoon of oil and then dried may be used for drying the furniture. Upholstered furniture may be cleaned by a cloth dipped in carbon tetrachloride.

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS ITEMS

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Beer and family, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Thieman and family all planned on having a Mother's Day dinner with their mother. Mrs. George Borry. Upon their arrival they found that it was also her birthday also. They all enjoyed the day immensely and wished she might have many more happy birthdays. It is not very often a mothers birthday comes exactly on Mother's Day.

J. C. Thomas and family drove to Belmond Sunday where they enjoyed a Mother's Day dinner at the home of Jim's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs Gerald Ersland. Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Thomas of Rowan, parents of Jim, were present and well as other children and ther families. Mr. and Mrs. Ersland and several of their children and families were also present. The dinner was in honor of the mothers: Mrs Thomas and Mrs. Ersland.

Mrs. Chris Anderson's father died at Hardy, Iowa Thursday evening at 10 o'clock and was buried on Sunday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson returned to Klemme Sunday evening but Mrs. Anderson expects to go back this week and assist her mother with the work. Perhaps her mother will come to Klemme and spend part of the summer. Friends extend sympathy to Mrs. Anderson in the loss of a loved one.

O. E. S. Friday evening at hall, starting promptly at eight o'clock. All members are invited. Lunch will be served afterwards. Then next week Thursday, May 25 is the District meeting to be held at Mason City. All members in the district are invited. There will be a six o'clock dinner served for thirty-five cents with work in the evening and many of the Grand Officers for the State of Iowa will be present. Gov. Hamill expects to be there and will give a talk.

Wednesday, May 24th there will ben an educational program on the proposed 21st amendment at the M. E. Church at Britt at 2 p. m. and at the Klemme M. E. Church at 8:00. This meeting will be addressed by Mrs. Sizer of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union. This is one of the great moral issues of the day and every fair minded liberty loving person in the community ought to hear Mrs. Sizer next Wednesday evening. Is it ever right for a government to sanction a traffic which must depend upon the depraved appetites of its men and women? Is it ever right to sanction strong drink which must depend upon our boys and girls and even children for its patrons in order that it may exist? Is it ever right to lay the burden of taxation on the backs of the poor, because through strong drink we can create appetites which will take bread out of the mouths of our children and clothes off their back and leave the merchant unpaid? Mrs Sizer will answer these questions for you next Wednesday evening.

Religious instruction Class will meet Saturday afternoon at 2:30.

Gardens! NOW is the time to---

DEEP HOEING HARMS GARDEN

Th main reason for cultivation is to prevent weed growth and not to conserve the moisture.

All garden crops need some shallow cultivation. Frequently amateur gardeners dig too deeply when they hoe. Carrots and parsnips have well-developed top roots extending about 8 or 10 inches from the base of the plant. Deep hoeing (below 2 or 3 inches) will cut out these feeding roots.

Muskmelons and cantaloupes likewise have extensive shallow roots and poor deep ones. They should be cultivated accordingly. Onions, too, are shallow root crops.

No cultivation ought to be more than an inch deep.

In a series of tests at Iowa State College, lettuce in deeply hoed plots yielded one-third less than when the soil was merely scraped with the hoe.

Mulching is not necessary. A straw mulch on the larger crops such as tomatoes, however, sometimes is valuable. This straw mulch placed on in the latter part of the summer, increased the yield on tomatoes by 30 percent in an experiment at Iowa State College. This experiment was conducted in a normal season. During an extremely hot and dry year (1930) this straw much resulted in lower yields. This is explained by the fact that the soil was too hot under the mulch during this particular season.

Potatoes do not need much "hilling up." The main reason for hilling is to protect the top tubers from being scorched by the sun. Hilling slightly may also make the harvest easier. The potatoes should not be hilled up when they are planted. As they aer cultivated during the season, a small amount of dirt may be scraped around the base of the plants.

Rev. J. L. Ralston certainly believes in planting fruit trees. He set out ten cherry trees on the lot where he old church stood. To the rear he set out apple trees and in the chicken yard he planted some plum trees. Then in the corner where the old sidewalks led to the church he has planted a nice rose bed of different colored roses. There are many people who drive into Klemme in the summer time and make splendid remarks about our little town. It certainly has many beautiful, well-kept yards and the houses are all well painted. Our pretty little park is certainly an artistic place and with two fine churches we have a real nice town. Take pride in keeping your place looking neat as we are all proud of our town of Klemme.

Mrs. Carl Wolfe enjoyed a visit from her mother, Mrs. Lauritzen, who came from Whittemore last Wednesday. Mrs. Wolfe took her home Thursday and took in the Senior Class Play at Whittemore that evening. Mrs. Eggers accompanied them as far as Algona where she visited.

Grandma Schroeder and Henry Schroeder arrived from Chicago on Tuesday afternoon. We have been expecting Grandma back for a long time as she usually comes as soon as the birds arrive from the South. She looks as if she had enjoyed the winter with her son and family in Chicago.

SCHOOL FACULTY SELECTED FOR COMING YEAR

At their special meeting Monday evening, the school board made their final selections for the teaching staff for next year. There were two vacancies to be filled, that of manual training instructor and athletic coach as Mr. Grove has a like position for the coming year at Stanley. The other vacancy is in the domestic science department as Miss Hazel Dallenbach is giving up this position to be married. A few weeks ago the board contracted Mr. A. L. Kingery of Crystal Lake as the new coach. Monday evening they elected Miss Marion Roberts of Britt as the new home economcs teacher. Miss Roberts taught at Woden this year. Mr. Kingery has taught at Crystal Lake the past three years. With the new people on the teaching force, the faculty for next year will be:

D. L. Hunter, superintendent
Agnes Galbreth, principal
Marian Roberts, Domestic Science
A. L. Kingery, Manual Arts

Grades

Miss Sanders, 1-2
Miss Wilson, 3-4
Miss Barz, 5-6
Miss Ford, 7-8

Class Play Success

The Seniors delivered their class play" Climbing Roses" Friday and Saturday nights to large audiences. The Roses happened to be a family and did the climbing in society. The parts were very well selected making an interesting play. The proceeds for the play were $75.75. Miss Agnes Galbreth will certainly need a vacation as she has instructed the Junior and Senior plays recently with all her other work with much credit to herself. We are glad Miss Galbreth is returning for another year in our schools.

Miss Georga Ford and the 7th and 8th grades enjoyed a skating party at Baysde Monday after school They took along a delicious lunch, and all enjoyed partaking of the eats after skating. Mr. and Mrs. Sampson, Clarice Wellemeyer, Emil Kraus and Mrs. R. A. Jorgenson drove for the crowd and. they too enjoyed the picnic supper.

The Juniors entertained the Seniors at Bayside Monday eve with a skating party. When they arrived at the cars ready to start home, Miss Marie Stille found that some one had broken one of the car windows in order to get the money she had in her pocketbook, which was lying under a robe on the seat. Later on the way home, Dorance Day discovered someone had stolen his gasoline from the car so Dorance and Verle Keraus had to walk into Klemme and borrow John Day's car to take their lady friends home.

SCHRAM CASE DROPPED AFTER PLEA IN GARNER

Murder Charge Dismissal Follows Claim Of Jeopardy

Judge Joseph J. Clark late Friday evening dismissed a murder charge against Gus Schram, bringing to an abrupt close one of the most sensational criminal actions in the local courts for years.

The dismissal came on the eve of what was to have been the second trial of the case in which Schram was charged with the murder of Leo Brockman. 6, who was burned to death at Hayfield last June. A former jury on the case had disagreed.

Dismissal of the case came after Judge Clark had sustained the plea of former jeopardy made by Attorney L. A. Moe of Mason City, who argued the old constitutional right that no man can be punished more than once for the same crime. Schram at the time of the trial was serving an indeterminate sentence of not to exceed 20 years in the state penitentiary for arson.

Attorney Moe maintained that the crime of arson was a part of the murder and dragged out a 100 year old New Jersey supreme court decision to support his case. This was the only case to the point on the matter that could be found and is believed to be the only decision on the question in the United States and on the strength of this Judge Clark sustained the defense plea.

Attorney Frank Senneff, special prosecutor in the case. filed a deemurrer and argued that the offenses were separate and that the state had a right to prosecute the case. The state is expected to appeal the case and give the Iowa supreme court an opportunity to pass on the question.

PAST MASTER NIGHT OBSERVED AT BELMOND

King Solomon Lodge, A. F. & A. M. observed Tuesday night as Past Masters night in the local Masonic lodge. Wayne Wesenberg of Goodell was a candidate for third degree. Past Masters taking part in the ceremonies were: E. A. Ely, C. C. Gries, H. J. Bohning, George Tjaden C. N. Hildebrand, and H. H. Larsen. One of the features of the evening was the presentation of a 50 year certificate to E. A. Ely, a Mason for 50 years, 30 being in the Belmond Lodge. We extend congratulations to Mr. Ely for such a fine service record in the Masonic work. He has always been an active and untiring member and has given of his time and effort willingly.

Mr. Ely is the father of Mrs. W. F. Missman of Klemme.

PROGRAM WILL BE HELD AT PARK AT 10:00 A. M.

Short Services Will Be Held At Local Cemetery After Program

"Memorial day is a creation growiig out of the sentiment of the times in which it originated," says the Huddle. "It has always been the custom in countries of the old world to decorate the graves of their soldier dead, but in no other country is it made a day of national observance as it is now known in the United States. Its observance at the first grew from the tender remembrance of the relations and others who survived the Civil War.

"In 1874 President U. S. Grant recommended that congressional action be taken to set aside May 30 as a legal holiday. It is now recognized as Decoration day in nearly every state in the union."

Each year as the ranks of the Civil War veterans grow thinner it becomes more and more the duty of American Legion Posts, Auxiliary Units and patrotic citizens to take over the responsibility of conducting proper services for the day. It is in keeping with this nationwide movement that such organizations in Klemme are this year co-operating in sponsoring the services that will be held in the Park beginning at 10:00 o'clock. Following these services at the Cemetery will be in charge of the Legion and Auxiliary The program is given on another column of this page.

Stores Will Close

As has been customary in the past all places of business in Klemme are asked to close at 10:00 o'clock and remain closed for the day Those who have shopping to do will kindly arrange to transacte their business before closing time.

POPPY DAY, SATURDAY, MAY 27

Saturday, May 27 all America will pay honor to its World War dead. Millions of Americans in every part of the country will wear bright red poppies to show that they still remember and are grateful for the services of the men who gave their lives in defense of their country some fifteen years ago. Here in Klemme the women of the Adam-Schaefer Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary will distribute memorial poppies throughout the city, all during Saturday. May 27.

The Auxiliary will distribute its poppies on a voluntary contribution basis. Poppies will be given in return for contributions of any size the individual is able to make. None of the American Legion Auxiliary workers will receive any compensation for her services.

FOLLOW-UP MEETING HELD AT BEN GOLL HOME

Sixteen ladies of districts 2 and 5 in Liberty townships attended the follow-up meeting of the ladies home project work which was held at the home of Mrs. Ben Goll on May 18. Mrs. Aaron Stromer gave the lesson on "sanitation," Lydia Pearson talked on "Safety in the Home" and gave the music for lesson five. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Quentin Stille and family have moved their house from Garner to Klemme, on one of the old Morningside lots, as it will be much closer to Mr. Stille's work at the Klemme cemetery.

Miss Jeanne Thada and Miss Florence Wilson entertained at a shower last Thursday afternoon in honor of Miss Hazel Dallenbaugh who is to be married June 14th. All the young ladies of the school and several others joined in the merry party. They played games over in our beautiful town park. They had lots of fun in opening the gifts after which a dainty two course luncheon was served by the hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Mathews came over from Olear Lake Saturday evening for the class play as Dorance Day, their nephew, had one of the prominent parts in the play. They stayed over night at the J. N. Day home and spent Sunday there. John Day and Mr. Mathews drove to the farm early Sunday morning and did the chores.

Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. Will Lemke and daughter, Miss Ethel, drove to Sioux City and attended the graduation exercises of Miss Helen Lomke. Miss Helen has completed her nurses training course in the hospital at Sioux City. She expects to return home with her parents for a couple of weeks rest and visit.

Gerald Koerner came home from the hospital at Sioux City last week Monday. He has been there since he fell from a pole onto icy ground and injured his heels. He is surely glad to be home as he is able to be up and around the house and yard and it is much more enjoyable than being in a hospital. However, he expects to go back about June first and see if everything is coming a-right.

Miss Norma Barz gave her fifth and sixth graders a real treat Saturday afternoon. taking them all as her guests to the show at the Avery Theatre in Garner. They certainly had a very enjoyable afternoon and all declared Miss Barz a delightful hostess.

BE SURE FLOWERS HAVE PLENTY OF WATER

Artificial watering may not be necessary for the flower garden every summer, but 4 out of 5 years in Iowa it will pay to have access to some supplement to rainfall.

In sprinkling, the average gardener is inclined to give up before he has thoroughly soaked the area. The new type of hose with holes in the hose itself is ideal for watering, since it soaks up the soil thoroughly. The soil should be wet to a depth of 4 or 5 inches.

The bed may be watered about every 10 days or 2 weeks during dry weather.

A summer mulch is valuable in many cases because it helps the appearance of the garden, it keeps the roots cool and moist and it has a tendency to control weeds. A good mulch from the standpoint of appearance and utility is made of ½ to 1 inch of peat moss.

Fertilizers are useful for the flower garden but they should be applied carefully. Gardeners often apply too much commercial fertilizer and burn up their flowers. The material should be applied early and in small amounts. Late fertilizing is not necessary and may do more harme than good.

The MAJORITY of People Know They Can Buy Firestone QUALITY and SERVICE At the Same Price as Mail Order and Special Brand Tires

FIRESTONE realizes that any manufacturer to be successful today—and to continue to be successful must offer to the Public QUALITY and PRICE. There is no reduction in the quality of Firestone Tires. Today you can buy Firestone Quality at the same price you would have to pay for mail order and special brand tires.

FOR thirteen consecutive years the Indianapolis Races have been won on Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires. At today's low prices you can have the same safety for your family that world famous race drivers demand. The gruelling test of road and track have given to Firestone all world's records for Safety, Speed, Mileage, and Endurance. Trade us your worn thin tires for the tire made with the extra features of Gum-Dipping and Two Extra Gum-Dipped Cord Plies Under the Scientifically Designed Tread. The Greatest Tire Ever Built.

THE New Firestone SEALTYTE Leakproof TUBE

Extra Heavy Red Tube. Coated inside with a special compound, which seals against air loss. Flexible rubber valve stem — no chance for air leakage — constant air pressure insures greater tire mileage.

THE NEW Firestone CLINCHER CLOTHFIELD TYPE

This tire is the equal of all standard brand first line tires in Quality, Construction and Appearance. Sold at a price that affords you real savings.

Firestone CLOTHFIELD TYPE

This tire is superior in quality to first line special brand tires offered for sale by mail order houses and made without the manufacturer's name and guarantee. This is "The Tire That Taught Thrift to Millions."

Firestone SENTINEL TYPE

This tire is of better Quality, Construction and Workmanship than second line special brand tires offered for sale by mail order houses and others and made without the manufacturer's name and guarantee.

Firestone COURIER TYPE

This tire is of good Quality and Workmanship — carries the name "Firestone" and full guarantee — sold as low as many cheap special brand tires manufactured to sell at a price.

BETWEEN YOUR BARN ..and the weather

Farmers everywhere have found that LOWE BROTHERS STANDARD BARN PAINT, a paint prepared especially for farm buildings, covers far more surface per gallon, and wears years longer than paints ordinarily sold for barns and other outbuildings.

And of course, to choose and use a really good paint is the most economical way to protect outbuildings from the ravages of sun, snow, sleet and rain.

It will pay you to learn more about this splendid farm paint. So stop in the next time you are in town . . let us show you how little it really costs to keep your farm buildings looking bright and new with LOWE BROTHERS STANDARD BARN PAINT.

MRS. C. W. WILES

The Klemme teachers entertained the Waterman and Jorgenson families Tuesday evening at a beef steak fry. They all journeyed to Harry Trumbells woods and walked about a half mile into the woods to a nice ravine where they had a delightful steak fry. Away back in in woods they did not know the wind was even blowing. A lovely supper as served and how they all enjoyed eating. When you get out doors you can certainly work up a grand appetite. The evening was very much enjoyed and the teachers were declared delightful hosts and hostesses.

Hilary Greiman's little daughter is very ill at this writing. She was carrying the hopper on the separator when she accidently fell and ran an iron rod in back of her eye. Brain complications have developed and she is a very sick little girl.

Mrs. Aamanda Kirkwood, mother of Wm. Kirkwood was washing at the home of her daughter in Mason City Saturday when she got her hand caught in the wringer. Her little grandchild had turned on the wringer and had placed some articles in the wringer to run them thru, when Mrs. Kirkwood noticed her. Fearing she might run her hand thru, she grabbed to save the child's hand and ran her own thru the rollers as far as the wrist. In trying to hit the roller release she turned on the reverse and ran her hand back thru the wringer. She was taken to the Park hospital where she will be the rest of the week. Her Klemme friends were glad to hear that there were no bones broken and hope there will be no complications. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kirkwood were over to see her and report it was her left hand that was injured.

Says Her Husband Lost 16 Pounds In 4 Weeks

"I have never found a medicine that 'peps' you up like Kruschen Salts and better still, leaves you 'pepped up.' I take it two or three times a week—not to reduce.. but merely to feel good and clean. My husband took it to reduce, he lost 16 pounds in 4 weeks." Mrs. E. A. Ferris, Washington, D. C. (December 29, 1932).

To lose fat and at the same time gain in physical attractiveness and feel spirited and youthful take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning.

SPITLER HOME SADDENED BY DEATH OF INFANT

A birth and a burial occured on the same day at the Howard L. Spitler home in Liberty township.

The infant daughter, a nicely formed child of 8½ lbs., who arrived Tuesday morning to gladden the Spitler household, brought sorrow instead for she could not stay but passel quietly away.

The relatives gathered at the Spitler home in the afternoon, where Rev. Ralston conducted a brief service and Mrs. Ralston sang "Precious Jewels". The remains were then taken to the Klemme Cemetery and laid to rest among Memorial Day flowers.

The Howard L. Spitler family have lived on the same farm, next to the Liberty church, for 13 years. The family consist of three daughters and one adopted son. They are: Ruth Irene, 12; Edna Marie, 9; Doris June, 6; Arthur. 15. Relatives who attended the funeral are: Mr. and Mrs. John Spitler Sr, Belmond, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Howard, Klemme; Mr. and Mrs. John Spitler, Jr., Belmond Ia; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Howard and family and Mr. and Mrs. Ned Howard of Ventura,, Iowa.

PAUL SAMPSON LEAVES FOR REFORESTATION WORK

The following boys are leaving from Hancock County on Wednesday morning, May 31st, for the reforestation work: Paul Sampson, Klemme; Orville Hugh Murr, Woden; Clarence Jensen, Britt; Norman Nelson, Britt; Loren Holm, Britt; Carl Schoreder, Kanawha; Le Roy Lau, Garner; Kenneth Liscumb, Garner.

Due to the fact that seven hundred experienced men will be used in the twenty-eight work camps which have been tentatively approved for Iowa, it was necessary to rearrange the county quotas on a basis of 4300 younger men from the state. Therefore, under this rearrangement the corrected quota for Hancock county is twenty-one.

FRUIT TREES READY FOR MOST IMPORTANT SPRAY

What is usually considered the most important spray for fruit trees will soon be applied by Hancock County fruit growers, according to S. J. Oberhauser, county agent.

The spray is known as the Calyx Spray and is applied to most fruits just after petals have dropped off the apple blossoms. One of the heaviest set of blooms in years is reported in most orchards of the state this year. The growers are anxious to protect the newly formed fruit from disease and insect damage

Because of the weather conditions this spring this Calyx Spray is one of the most important needed on fruit this year. The spray should be appled to the apple trees just after the petals have dropped off and before the small apple is formed. In fact, if there has been considerable rain during blossoming time where the cluster bud spray was omitted ths calyx spray should be put on when about three fourth of the petals have fallen to keep ahead of scab infection. This treatment is mainly that apple scab and the codling moth worms of pears, plums and cherrier, blackberries, gooseberries and currants should be sprayed in addition to the apples.

In regards to the materials used in this spray Mr. Oberhauser says that both arsonate of lead and lime sulphur should be used. Use 5 qts. of liquid lime sulphur or 4 or 5 pounds of dry lime sulphur and 2 pounds of arsenate of lead to 50 gallons of water.

As you will notice heretofore 1½ pounds of leads arsenate was recommended. This year 2 pounds is recommended instead. This reason is to more effectively control the first brood of codding moths, to eliminate the need of late sprays in the summer for the control of the second brood worms and thus keeping at a minimum the amount of spray material left on the fruit at picking time.

Last year apple scab was very destructive in many orchards scattered over the state. This year we can expect considerable scab in poorly sprayed orchards. However, due to the dry weather that prevailed over the state until April 29th no scab had developed until that time. Undoubtedly this disease developed during the week of May first during the rain in some sections of the state. In most parts of the state both the cluster bud and calyx spray will prove important in keeping down apple scab infection this year.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK GIVEN VERDICT IN ALBERS CASE

During the past week of district court session the case of the First National Bank, Klemme, against George Albers was heard. The case involved suit against Albers on a note and the children of Albers intervened with claims on the Albers property.

The case was given to the jury Monday afternoon and the next morning returned a verdict in favor of the bank.

School Picnic Was Friday

Friday was an ideal day for a picnic as is was warm and yet not too hot. Most everybody in town was in the park and ready for the noon day meal. The food stuffs were all good wth lemonade and coffee being served and a good big helping of ice cream and many different kinds of cake. Mrs. J. N. Day had baked her customary cake for the graduates, a large, heart-shaped, decorated angel food, with the name of each Senior on it. Each senior received a peice.

MEMORIAL DAY SERVICE WAS ATTENDED BY LARGE CROWD

Rev. Milne. Clear Lake, Delivered Address At Park

The day was ideal and a large crowd gathered at the Park Tuesday morning to hear the Memorial Day program, which began at 10:00 o'clock.

Capt. Dwight Osborne was in charge as officer of the day. Places or honor in the band stand were occupied by Civil War Veteran Lew Lewis and Mrs. Lewis and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Crane, the former being a veteran of the Spanish Mexican and World Wars; Spanish-American War Veteran Henry Jost and Mrs. Jost; Gold Star parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Schaefer and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wille. The program as published was carried out and Rev. Milne's address was forceful and to the point. Following the park services the Legion and Auxiliary had charge of the balance of the services which included the march to the cemetery,, decoration of graves, Legion Memorial Service and tribute and salute to the Unknown Heroes.

The year the Civic Club co-operated with the Legion and Auxiliary in sponsoring the Memorial program

THE SILENT ROSTER

COUNTY WOOL POOL JUNE 5TH

Officers of the Hancock County Wool Growers' Association met at the Farm Bureau Office on May 24 to decide a date to pool wool. Mr. H. V. Caldwell with other officers of the association decided to ship by truck thereby making it possible to load from several different points in the county. Wool will be loaded from Garner, Britt, Kanawha and Goodell.

Wool growers who consign wool through the Iowa Sheep and Wool Growers' Association are receiving an advance of 18c per pound on bright one-fourth to three-eighths staple native wool. On semi-bright wool 17c per pound, according to S. J. Oberhauser, county agent. This is an increase in the advance of three cents per pound within the last week and it doubles the advance at the beginning of the marketing season. This sum represents about two thirds of the actual value that might be expected to be received through the cooperative plan when the wool is sold and final settlement is made. At the present time it looks like wool growers will be 27 to 35 cents per pound for wool.

A Review Of The Class Of 193

History of the Class of 1933

When little boys and girls begin school they feel very important and also very big. These important feeling boys and girls of 1920 were: Paul Busch, Dorance Day. Clarence Kluckhohn, LaVohn Larsen, Gladys Baack, Asa Gibbs, Hilda Keeper, Wayne Hurd, Eldin Kessler, James Larsen, E'dora Schwartz and Ursula Thomas. Miss Florence Everst was our teacher. This year we learned many things which laid the foundation for the rest of our school life. The school year closed to find these twelve important and big feeling boys and girls in the second grade Of course the school year would never close properly without a picnic so we had it in Koerner's grove this year.

Miss Everst was again our teached in the fall of 1921. During this year we learned many more things. When the spring of 1922 come these twelve boys and girls were ready for the third year. We again had a community picnic at Koerner's grove.

In the fall of 1922 we did not see Usrula Thomas in our class as she had moved away but we did have a new girl in our class. Her name was Hertha Moldenhauer. Miss Glayds Buchan was our teacher most of this year, but the classes were being moved from three in a room to two in a room so Miss Flessner was our teacher the last part of the year. Six weeks before school was out we moved into the second room now occupied by the third and fourth grades. This spring the children who had begun school in 1920 felt very much mis-used as we took our first semester tests and most of us were just seven years old and tho't ourselves quite small. This spring when school was out Fred Jahnke, who was at that time janitor of the Klemme school, gave us all a treat. We also had our annual picnic this spring.

During the summer vacation the school house was remodeled and the high school rooms, gymnasium and stage wore added.

In the fall of 1923 we were in the fourth grade. Asa Gibbs and Hertha Moldinhauer were gone. Miss Nina Lovrien was our teacher this year. This was to be our last year down on the first floor. We felt very grown up. This year the school picnic was held in the park.

The fifth year of our school life began in the fall of 1924. Miss Mable Thompson was our teacher. Harold Jost joined our class in about the middle of the year. Alvin Keeper joined in the fall and Eldon Kessler was gone. This year we again took semester tests or were exempt, depending on the kind of grades we earned. This year we again had a school picnic.

In the fall of 1925. Miss Marie Gauger was our teacher. Harold Jost, Hilda and Alvin Keeper left our class as they preferred to graduate in 1934. Margaret Gates who had moved to Klemme from Ingram Wisconsin. and Leon Lemke also joined our class in the fall. In the middle of the school year, Irene Harms came to Klemme from Alden Iowa to be in our class. Our room had a picnic in C. A. Larsen's grove and also had the customary school picnic.

Seventh graders! We were no longerin grades school, but rather, we were in Junior High School. We had high school teachers and could study in the assembly. We had really grown up. Mr. Heiden was in charge of our room. Doris Carson and Henry Smid joined our class this year and as James Larson preferred the class of 1934 he was not in our class. We were initiated into Junior on Hallowe'en by the eighth grade. It was a very stiff initiation but we all got thru in good shape and were full fledged Junior High students.

We seventh graders gave the eighth grade a return party in the spring out at the farm owned by U. G. Smid. We had a very good time until a rain storm was noticed in the offing so we packed up our lunches and scrambled for cover.

This year the entire room had many after school sessions as when Mr. Heiden would leave the room during the noon hour the folding chairs which were in our room made very good carts to push around the room and use for our amusement. We had the pleasure of staying in forty-five minutes much to our disgust. The year closed with a picnic on Larson's lawn.

In the fall of 1927 we were in the eighth grade and this year we initiated the seventh graders at a Hallowe'en party. They gave a return party at the Stille sand pit. After we returned from our picnic we played kittenball.

Raymond Drake and Louisa Rosendahl joined our class this year. The teachers for our Junior High school life were Miss Trumbell Miss McGinnis (now Mrs. E. F. Bock of Garner) Mr. Lewis, Mr. Penrod and Mr. Heiden.

This year our class graduated from the eighth grade in the fall we were eligible for high school. The annual picnic was held in Larsen's grove.

High School! We were green freshmen. Had you visited high school you would never have tho't our class would become dignified Seniors.

We were initiated for a week by those people who were sophomores and were supposed to set the example for us through high school. We paraded in dresses inside out and backwards, green hair ribbons and signs on our back reading "Green" or something pertaining to our being freshmen. The first day we brought dolls about six inches high and a bottle of milk and had to drink the milk in front the assembly. Tuesday we sang "Be it ever so homely, ther's no face like my own" to the tune of "Home, Sweet Home" On the Saturday evening of the same week we were given an initiation party at which we had a very good time.

The following were the officers for the freshman year: Sponsor, Mr. Penrod; pres.. Raymond Drake; secretary, Clarence Kluckhohn, who resigned later on. This vacancy was filled by LaVohn Larsen. Mitchell Bock was treasurer. We picked blue and gold for class colors. and we gave the sophs a return party April ninth.

The freshmen were Norma Baack, Mitchell Bock, Cecil Bridges, Doris Carson, Dorance Day, Raymond Drake, Margaret Gates Floyd Greiman, Irene Harms, Wayne Hurd, Clarice Johnson. Clarence Kluckhohn, La Vohn Larsen, Leon Lemke Truman Nelson, Louisa Rosendahl, Henry Smid, Nellie Stromer, Edith Swanson, Florence Tanner and Norma Wille.

Wayne Hurd quit school in the late winter of this year. The school year closed with the annual picnic.

In the fall of 1930 we were silly sophs and some of our green-ness had worn off. Those missing from our class this fall were Louisa Rosendahl, Leon Lemke and Floyd Greiman. They all began school in the fall but quit again soon afterwards. Leo Brown joined our class this fall and also dropped out again.

This year we had a high school party at Bayside. where we enjoyed skating. Before going to Bayside we attended a baseball game at Hayfield. We had the pleasure of finding a rainstorm to interupt our fun. When we got to Klemme our dads were out around town to see that we got home allright.

We also had the pleasure of avenging our wrath from last year's initiation.. We initiated those poor freshies the way we thought they deserved being treated for one day. We also gave them a party. Later in the year the freshmen gave us a return party.

Our officers were Nellie Stromer, president; Doris Carson, vice-pres; Florence Tanner, secretary; Margaret Gates, Treasurer; Mr. Breitske sponsor; Henry Smid, representative to student council.

Seniors of 1933

Hello Everybody! Here we are at last,
16 happy seniors whose High School days are past
Out of school life into life's school
To do our best is our steadfast rule.

First we shall call on Margaret,
For dating she is strong.
Sho insists upon this practice,
Though she knows it very wrong.

Norma Baack is rather flirty,
With her gay and winsome way.
She worries not for boy friends
They come flocking every day.

Poor Clarence seems to be abused,
But really he is clever
He's prompt in getting out of work
To loaf is his endeavor

Ducky is so sensible
His middle name is work,
He toils along from morn till nite
And never will he shirk.

LaVohn is smalll and tiny,
But she gets what she is after
And the way she goes about it
Will bring you tears and laughter.

Then next comes loving Florence.
Who really is a brick.
She helps us all most any time ,
When we're lonesome, sad or sick.

Now Hank is really quite a guy
To swap things is his pleasure
Such as watches, rings, etc
As a token of good measure.

Dorance is our president,
The nero of our play,
His winsome smile and mirthful jokes,
All brighten up the day.

Edith is our little friend
With warm and winning smile.
Her quiet ways console us
O'er many a weary mile.

Next on the list is Nellie
Who loves a merry tale
Her laughter may be always heard
Her spirits never fail.

Mitchell also has a smile
That runs from ear to ear,
They say that he is going to be
A first-rate auctioneer.

Boozy is a bashful boy
He's plumb scared of a girl,
Here's hoping that he falls for one
To give his heart a whirl.

Ikey is a real pal
With eyes of trusting blue.
She is full of fun and friendship
That she wants to share with you.

Cecil is our singer
Who seems quite basnful too,
But his voice is simply wonderful
Shall we have him sing for you?

A word for Norma Wille
She always aims to please
Cross words she never utters
She is always at her ease.

Last but not least is Irma
Tidy and neat as a pin,
Happy and ever friendly
To repulse her is a sin.

So we've summed up all us seniors
Perhaps we ain't so hot
But on bended knee we ask you
For heavens sake Forget-Us-Not.

HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF '33

Mr. Breitske gave us a party in May which was carried out as an automobile party.

This year Nellie Stromer won 1st in the county with her reading "Pig Tail Days". Nellie won the first loving cup in declamatory for Klemme.

In the fall of 1931 we were Jolly Juniors. Doris Carson moved to Rowan and is graduating from that school this year. Clarice Johnson and Truman Nelson also dropped out the same year. We also gained two new members, Irma Schoenwetter, who came from Goodell High and Francis Buseman who had been a Junior the year before having dropped out due to ill health and who started again in our class.

We gave our Carnival November 20, 1931, to raise funds for the Jr.-Sr. banquet. It rained nearly all day and evening making it rather difficult for many people to come but in spite of the weather we had a fair crowd however "Old Man Depression" held the upper hand.

May 20, 1932 we gave the junior-senior banquet at the high school gymnasium. It was carried out in yellow and white which were the colors of the class of '32.

The school picnic was held in the school house this year due to bad weather.

Seniors! This is our last year together. We are sixteen in number.

We have had much fun and also much work this year. The high school had a party in Goodell woods in the fall with a treasure hunt and a weiner roast after which we played games at the schoolhouse . In March we had a sliding party which we all enjoyed.

In the spring the Juniors gave a play to raise funds for the Junior-Senior banquet. On May 4th the banquet took place. It was held at the Klemme Methodist church parlors, which were decorated in crimson and white and as a ship. At the close of the toast program each Senior was presented with a gift.

May 10. 1933, was Skip day. It was not pleasant weather as it was rainy. We had a picnic dinner at East Park, Mason City, Iowa. In the afternoon we visited the Globe Gazette printing offices and attended a show. After the show we went to Bayside where we had a weiner roast and went skating.

May 19 and 20 we gave our class play "Climbing Roses" which was directed by Miss Galbreth.

May 21 our Baccalaureate sermon was delivered by Rev. Ralston at the Klemme M. E. Church.

May 22 the Juniors invited us to go along with them to a baseball game at Swaledale and a picnic at the Clear Lake Methodist camp. Roller skating was enjoyed by many and we are very thankful for the Juniors kind invitation.

May 23 our class day program was presented to the public in the high school gymnasium.

May 25 was our Commencement. Rev. Milne of Clear Lake delivered the address of the evening.

May 26 was the annual school picnic and was held in the town park.

The teachers for our high school life were Mr. Penrod, Mr. Breitske, Miss Trumbell and Miss McGinnis, (now Mrs. E. F. Bock of Garner) for our freshman and sophomore years and Mr. Hunter, Mr. Grove, Miss Galbreth and Miss Dallenbach for our Junior and Senior years.

The oldest member in our class is Henry Smid and the youngest is LaVohn Larsen. Valedictorian, Raymond Drake, Salutarian LaVohn Larsen; third high. Nellie Stromer; fourth Irene Harms. Dorance Day is the tallest member of our class and Norma Baack is the shortest.

Our colors are crimson and white; flower, red and white carnations; motto: Out of school life, into life's school.

Feels 20 Years Younger

"I surely can recommend Kruschen Salts. I reduced from 156 to 110 lbs., my natural weight and I feel 20 years younger." Mrs. Vale Walter, Seatle, Washington. (Dec. 30 1932).

Once a day take Kruschen Salts —one half teaspoonful in a glass of hot water first thing every morning. Besides losing ugly fat SAFELY you'll gain in health and physical attractiveness — constipation, gas, and acidity will cease to bother— you'll feel younger—more active— full of ambition—clear skin—sparkling eyes.

A jar that last 4 weeks costs but a trifle at P. M. Wilson's or any drug store in the world—but demand and get Kruschen and if one bottle doesn't joyfully please you —money back.

Refreshment

FOR HOT SUMMER DAYS

AN electric refrigerator adds much to the joy and comfort of living. Summer or winter you can enjoy tasy refreshments on a minutes notice. For hot summer days you can keep a ready supply of drinks, frozen desserts or salads. Guests will never catch you unpreparel. With all this convenience and enjoyment, it almost seems contradictory to add that the greatest feature of an eletric refrigerator is its ability to save money—real money— by reducing food costs and eliminating spoilage. All evidence points to higher prices in the near future. Buy now!

FOURTEEN CARS STOCK WERE SHIPPED OUT PAST WEEK

First Corn In Over Year Shipped Out Last Friday

Saturday night nine docks of live stock were shipped out of Klemme and five Monday. The shippers Saturday were: C. A. Larsen, 2 cattle and two decks hogs; Joe Johnson two decks of hogs; Farmers Union 1 car hogs; Herman Priebe, one car cattle; Henry Barz, one car cattle. Albert Schmidt shipped out five cars of cattle Monday.

Corn Shipped Out

Friday the North Iowa Grain Co. shipped out a carload of corn. which Agent Shoafstall reports is the 1st grain in over seventeen months to be shipped out of Klemme. Again on Monday another car load of corn was shipped out.

FARMERS URGED TO USE FLUSHING BAR

Farmers preparng to mow their alfalfa and hay land are urged by State Fish and Game Commission to use the flushing bar to prevent the destruction of game birds' nests. During the past year many Iowa farmers constructed a simple device for this purpose. After many trials the device which is extremely simple in its make up has proven extremely successful. A light bamboo pole extends out from the neck-yoke and burlap sacks are hung from the pole. The sacks drag over the alfalfa in the path of the sickle bar. The sacks are weighted slightly to hold them down; cross links from old tire chains make good weights. The outer end of the bamboo pole is supported by a trap or rope attached to the hames. The sacks passing over the bird's nest flushes the incubating bird from the nest; the sickle bar is then raised to pass over the location of the nest. Hundreds of game birds' nests have been destroyed in years past through the use of the mower and it is felt that farmers using the flushing bar will aid materially in the increase of the game bird population of the state. The cost of making this type of flushing bar is less than thirty cents (30c).

Attend Sunday School Convention Near La Crosse, Wisc.

The Klemme Reformed Sunday School will be well represented at the Minnesota Sunday School Convention of the Reformd Church, which will be in session Thursday and Friday near La Crosse, Wisc. The followng delegates will leave Thursday morning and will return home Friday night: Mabel Schuldt, Norma Stromer, Emma Goll. Ethel Baack, Mrs. Albert Barz, Mrs. Henry Barz and Edwin Thieman.

The convention will be held at the Mormon Coulee Reformed Church which is situated in a beautiful part of the country. The place gains its name from history. The Mormons stopping near there on their westward trek. The word "coulee" means valley, so the church is situated in a beautiful valley.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this means of extending our sincere thanks to our neighbors and frends for their willing help and for the many acts of kindness and sympathy shown us in our recent bereavement when we lost our little baby.

WEEKS ADD-A-LAFF

News item in the Jackson Center (Ohio) News—S. H. Lotz and family were Sunday visitors Saturday evening.

POULTRY CULLING CAMPAIGN WILL START SOON

An extensive poultry culling and dipping campaign will be started in Hancock County within the next two weeks. This project should be of interest to every farmer and poultry raiser in the county.

A hen doesn't know the significance of unemployment, so why let her "kid you" into keeping her in the flock if she doesn't lay eggs?

That is the question which extension poultrymen at Iowa State College are asking as the season for heavy culling of poultry flocks approaches. Culling is one of the easiest and surest methods of increasing profits from the poultry flock.

Hens that do not lay eggs not only fail to pay their own board bill but they lower the average profits received from the productive hens. They are not only loafers but steal the profits made by the good hens.

By selling hens which are not producing, their feed is saved and the labor of caring for them is eliminated. Furthermore, culling before the hens become sick or die secures cash from them while they are yet suitable for market. Failure to cull the flock will mean that some of the birds will later have to be destroyed, this requiring further labor and expense.

When egg production begins to drop, selling the loafer hens is necessary to keep the percentage of production high. The busy layer is the money maker. Some farmers think a hen needs a long rest. It is true a layer needs a rest but a good layer takes her vacation in the fall and then uses only 2 to 4 months. The loafer quits laying in June or July and does not start laying again until late winter or early spring.

Mr. Samuelson of Ames and for the past three years Poultry Development Agent for Northern Pacific Railroad will be in this county with an assistant to do this culling and dipping work. He will furnish the Sodium Flouride for dipping. The cost for this service will be two (2c) cents per bird handled. Anyone interested in this service is urged to notify the Farm Bureau Office soon.

Earl Josten To Remain Head Of Estherville Band Work

Earl Josten, of Estherville, came home Friday for a short visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Josten. Earl has been at Estherville for several years and has charge of the band and orchestra work in that school. Mr. Josten also has bands at Thompson and Swea City. Besides band and orchestra work, Mr. Josten has advanced his school in vocal work. He expects to take summer work at the Northwestern University of Chicago. The Estherville school has contracted with Mr. Josten for his further services for the next school year.

Caught Limit In Pike

Last Thursday morning Wm. Schlichting and Alfred Carpenter brought in a nice string of pike that they displayed in Klemme. They had sixteen nice, pike, the largest of which weighed about four pound. The fish were caught close to the rushes just southeast of the Willows Inn at Clear Lake.

At the village of Springville in Linn county, the only place giving permission to sell beer is the Springville Creamery, a concern with 250 farmer patrons, and the manager of the concern has just announced that he will trade beer for cream, with any of his patrons at the rate of one pint of beer for two pints of cream. Would not that be rather a poor bargain for the farmer? He might have a hard time proving to Mrs. Farmer that a pint of beer is worth two pints of perfectly good cream.—Osceola Tribune.

SUDAN GOOD EMERGENCY CROP

May Be Sown As Late As Middle Of June With Satisfactory Results

Heavy rains have delayed corn planting in many parts of Iowa and many farmers are forced to plant early maturing varieties—seed of which is difficult and expensive to obtain—or else plant some emergency crop.

Sudan grass is one of the most reliable emergency crops for Iowa. It almost invariably gives a good yield, experiments have shown.

Sudan grass will grow on almost any soil, has a low seed cost, is outstandingly resistant to drouth and makes an excellent mid-summer pasture. Seeding may be delayed until the middle of June with satisfactory results although some loss in yield must be sacrificed for delays in planting after June 1. About 15 to 20 pounds of seed are required per acre. Seeding by broadcasting and harrowing or by drilling in narrow rows with a grain drill are the most practical for hay or pasture production.

Sudan grass and soybeans grow successfully when mixed, also. The mixture does not yield as much hay but the feeding value is greater.

Two cuttings of hay give a slightly greater yield of high quality hay than one, but the difficulty of curing when two cuttings are made and the extra labor in volved make it usually more desirable to cut hay but once and pasture the rest of the crop.

THE KLEMME CEMETERY:—A BEAUTY SPOT

(By A. Wellemeyer)

The Klemme Cemetery is located on a beautiful tract of rolling land joining the town on the south. It has good natural drainage and is surrounded by a dark border of large and stately pine trees and at this time of year, with the grass clipped short and the graves planted to flowers or decorated with artificial wreaths and sprays, our Cemetery is truly a place of beauty.

Much credit for the fine appearance of the Cemetery is due to our faithful sexton, Quentin V. Stille. He has filled all sunken graves with black soil. He has mowed each lot four times and has clipped with a shears around each monument. After the heavy wind of last week, he gathered up a wagon load of pine cones which the storm had scattered and he will continue to keep the grass nicely clipped all summer.

Another interesting thing about our cemetery is that every grave is marked. Wherever regular head stones are lacking, Mr. Wellemeyer has placed metal markers. These are lettered with unfading ink and will last for many years.

RECOMMENDS POISON BRAN FOR CUTWORMS

According to information received from Dr. Carl J. Drake, state entomologist, cutworms are extremely numerous and active this year on account of the cool, moist weather. This condition has been unfavorable for rapid corn growth, consequently corn is more seriously damaged in seasons of the type we are having this spring.

Poison bran bait, similar to that used for grasshopper control, may be used at the same rate and applied in the same manner. This poison bran may be prepared at home from information and formulas available at the Farm Bureau office or may be purchased already mixed.

The Department of Agriculture has a limited supply of grasshopper poison bran left from last year that may be secured through the county agricultural agent on the same plan as last year except the storage charge will be added.

Klemme Band Will Give Concerts Saturday Nights

FIRST ORCHARD COVER SPRAY IS NOW DUE

The first cover spray, the third regular orchard spray of the season, should be applied this year 10 days after the calyx or petal spray, S. J. Oberhauser, county agent said today.

Notices have just been sent to the fruit growers of Hancock County. This cover spray should be appled to cherries, plums, pears, black raspberries, gooseberries and currants as well as apples. He suggests however, that bush fruits and black raspberries not be sprayed until after they bloom.

Apple scab and other diseases have developed rapidly since trees started to bloom on account of abundant rain in most sections, said Mr. Oberhauser, so it is not safe to wait more than ten days between the calyx spray and his first cover spray. In localities where rains were not general or severe, especially with no rain since the calyx spray, growers can wait two weeks before applying this spray.

Apple scab may be quite serious in most sections of the state with the possible exception of extreme southern Iowa. These moths have already made their appearance and it requires about two weeks for the moths to lay eggs and for the eggs to hatch. This first cover spray will kill the first of these worms and a second cover spray about two weeks later will, it is believed, pretty well control the first brood worms this season. To more effectively control this first brood of worms, the amount of lead arsenate used in this spray should be increased to two pounds to 50 gallon of mixture.

The careful fruit grower has his choice of several fungicides for this spray. Lime sulphur either liquid or dry may be used at standard strengths or may be diluted if hydrated lime is added. If the weather is quite warm, lime should be added to the standard strength to prevent burning. Some growers, especially commercial growers, will this year use a 2-3-50 bordeaux mixture in this and later sprays. If liquid lime sulphur is used, use 4 quarts or 3 to 4 pounds of dry lime sulphur. If the weather is fairly dry by the time this spray should be applied, the above amounts of lime sulphur may be cut in two and 5 pounds of hydrated lime used. Even though the lime sulphur be used at standard strength, two pounds of hydrated lime will check the danger of any injury to fruit of foliage.

CHOPPING HAY SAVES SPACE

Grinding or chopping hay may not improve the feed value of the roughage, but it gives the feed certain definite advantages over long hay.

For one thing, experiments conducted at Iowa State College have shown the ground or chopped hay requires much less storage space than long hay. About 2½ tons can be stored in the space required for 1 ton of long hay.

Chopped hay can be handled from the storage space to the cows with much less labor than is needed for long hay. Also, chopped hay is almost completely eaten by the dairy cows, whereas the cows usually refuse to eat the coarse stems of the hay when they are uncut.

Hay may be chopped with an ordinary ensilage cutter and blown from the cutter into the mow. The hay may be stored faster when it is chopped and blown into the mow than when stored as long hay.

Chopped hay is usually freer from molds than long hay because it is packed tighter and the air cannot penetrate.

FREE MOVIE SATURDAY NIGHT; NEXT WEEK WEDNESDAY NITE

Open Air Theatre Made Larger And Other Improvements Added

Beginning next Wednesday night the Free Open Air Movies will be shown in Klemme every Wednesday night during the summer months. However, the free movie will be shown this Saturday night as usual. An immense crowd saw the free show last Saturday night.

Opn Air Theatre Improved

Considerable improvement has been made at the Open Air Theatre which is located on Main Street on lots between the drug store and Quandt's cafe. The screen has been raised to a higher level and moved further back, to give more seating room. The operator's booth has also been moved to a more convenient location and sunk into the ground about a foot. The seats have been re-arranged and made more substantial. A light has been installed above the seats so that the crowd can find their way out easier after the show. The open air theatre will accomodate a thousand people and we expect that much of a crowd or more at each performance. Remember another show this week Saturday, after that date on Wednesday nights.

Band Getting Ready

The Klemme Band is rehearsing and expect to start their summer concerts in another week and will play on Saturday nights. That will give our people two fine entertainments each week.

AWARDED FREE SCHOLARSHIP

Raymond L. Drake succeeded in winning highest honors in his class in the Klemme High School and was awarded a Free Scholarship in his choice of a Stenographic, Bookkeeping or Telegraph Course at the Chillicothe Business College in Chillicothe, Mo.

AT STRAWBERRIES GENTLY

you intend to make the most those delicious spring fruits—wberries—you must treat them ly.

or strawberries bruise easily spoil quickly. Treated careless- they will lose shape, color and or.

on't wash the berries until short- before serving, because wet ber- are likely to mold or decay. Be rough but gentle in washing n. Instead of turning the water from the spigot on full blast, let it spray through your hands first. Don't wash them in a bowl, use a colander, so they won't be water-soaked.

If you want the berries to be firm and whole, don't add sugar until the last minute If you want them crushed as a sauce, chop them up and add sugar. If you want a juicy sauce, cook part of the berries and crush them—then add these to the fresh ones.

Strawberry Supreme is a dish that deserves capital letters and all the meaning that "supreme" can give it. You make it by folding fresh strawberries into sweetened, stiff whipped cream.

If you can strawberries, be sure to "plump" them by putting on sugar and letting them stand overnight. To each quart of berries add 1 cup of sugar. Boil slowly the next morning for 3 or 4 minutes, stirring gently at first to insure sugar dissolving. Fill the containers hot

Prove To Your Satisfaction That

Our Methods Are Fair

The "proof of the pudding is in the eating" and the best way to convince yourself that this creamery is on the square in the treatment of patrons , is to give us a trial.

There is a reason for the steady growth in our list of patrons—which is now approaching the 500 mark. Our fair methods are responsible for this large list of satisfiied patrons.

We assure you that your remittances will go forward promptly, the test of your butterfat will be a fair one, and that every effort will be made to keep you a regular and satisfied patron of this creamery.

Whether you are a new or regular patron we are anxious to so serve you that it will be as great a pleasure for you to sell your cream here as it is for us to buy it. We play no favorites and make an honest effort to please one and all.

For a good cream market all the time, sell your cream to us. Get in touch with any of our cream haulers or call on us.

KLEMME CO-OP. CREAMERY COMPANY

FLY TIME--

IS HIGH TIME YOU WERE MAKING READY

TO DO BATTLE AGAINST THIS ORNERY PEST

Flys and mosquitos can be licked. Screen doors and screen windows are one weapon that will block their attack on the home. Keep the fly and mosquito out of the house and much sickness is avoided.

If the fly does get into your home you may chase them with a fly swatter, but with GERM A RID HOSEHOLD Spray you can kill all in one room while you are swatting one fly.

GERM A RID for Outside use is very reasonable in price. In gallon lots at $1 and in 5 gallon lots at 85 cents per gallon. We guarantee it to be satisfactory or we will refund your money.

GERM A RID used as a spray in your brooder house with the little chickens in as well as the old hens, if running with them, will kill lice and mites. Demonstrations have proved it. If your chickens are lousy, call us or come in and we will prove to you that this GERM A RID is all we claim for it. It is a powerful disinfectant. Use it on any animal and in a very short while the lice will be done for. GERM A RID does not just knock the fly down, but kills it. Flies bugs, etc., cannot stay where GERM A RID has been used; the powerful fumes kill the insects and yet it will not burn or discolor the hair of any animal. It will not taint milk. Most fly spray has a creosote or tar base which is hard to handle and usually gums up the hair on animals and sometimes will take it off

We have a fly spray that is very effective and will last as long as the ordinary spray and sells for Only Fifty cents (50c).

The KLEMME FOOD MARKET Has This In Stock Also

Hay Time will soon be here. A new loader or side delivery will make it much easier to put up the hay. It may save you from having it rained on. Come in and look over our line or give us a call at Phone 26. We have one fairly good second hand loader.

Lesson for June 11

JESUS ON THE CROSS

LESSON TEXT—Mark 15:1-47.

GOLDEN TEXT—But God commendeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us. Romans 5:8.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Dying for Us.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus Giving His Life.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Jesus Accepting the Cross.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Meaning of the Cross.

This is the grand climax of the year's lessons. Without apprehending the significance of the crucifixion of Christ, all the other lessons are meaningless. It is not a matter of learning lessons taught by a great teacher or imitating the example of a great and good man, but apprehending the vicarious atonement made by the world's Redeemer. Christ saves, not by his ethical teaching, but by his shed blood.

I. Jesus Arraigned Before Pilate (vv. 1-15).

They bound Jesus and delivered him to Pilate in the early morning before the mock trial of the high priest. The Jews would gladly have killed him but they lacked the authority to do so. They delivered him to the Gentile governor, thus involving the Jews and Gentiles in this crowning act of human sin. Pilate questioned him without delay. He was accused of pretending to be a king. To this slanderous accusation of the chief priests and elders he made no reply, to the utter astonishment of Pilate, who sought to release him because convinced of his innocence. After several unsuccessful efforts to escape responsibility, he resorted to the expedient of letting the people choose between Barabbas and Jesus.

II. Jesus Crowned With Thorns (vv. 16-20).

After Pilate had scourged Jesus, he delivered him to be crucified.

1. Crown of thorns (vv. 16, 17). Knowing that Jesus had been condemned for claiming to be Israel's King, they clothed him with purple and crowned him with a wreath of thorns. The crown of thorns typified the cross which he bore for man's sins (Genesis 3:17, 18).

2. Their salutation (v. 18). In derision they said, "Hail, King of the Jews!"

3. Their mock worship (vv. 19, 20). They smote him on the head with a reed, taunted him, and went through a process of mock worship.

III. Jesus Crucified (vv. 21-41).

1. They led him away to the place of crucifixion (vv. 21-23). At first they compelled him to bear his own cross, but when physical weakness made this impossible they forced Simon, the Cyrenian, to bear it. Christ's face was so marked by the thorns and cruel blows that there was no form nor comeliness (Isa. 53:2).

2. Gambling for the clothing of the Lord (vv. 24, 25). They gambled for his seamless robe under the very cross upon which Jesus was dying.

3. The superscription (v. 26). It was customary to place over the victim on the cross, his name and a statement of his crime. He was indeed the king of the Jews.

4. Between two thieves (vv. 27, 28). His indentification with the two robbers was in fulfillment of the Scripture (Isa. 53:12).

5. The dying Savior reviled (vv. 29-32). They taunted him by bidding him come down from the cross, and said derisively, "He saved others, himself he cannot save." He could not save himself and others, so he chose to die to save others.

6. Darkness upon the land (v. 33). Nature threw around the Son of God a shroud to hide him from the gaze of a godless company.

7. The cry from the cross (vv. 34-36). When God laid upon his beloved Son the world's sin and turned his face from him, there went out the awful cry of anguish, "My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?"

8. He dismissed his spirit (v. 37). When the price of redemption was fully paid, Jesus as sovereign dismissed his spirit.

9. The rent vail (v. 38). This symbolized the giving up of his life (Heb. 10:20).

10. The centurion's confession (v. 29). He said, "Truly this man was the Son of God."

11. The lingering group of women (vv. 40, 41). Having lovingly ministered to him in life they were now waiting to care for his precious body.

IV. Jesus' Burial (vv. 42-47).

Loving hands now took the body and laid it in Joseph's new tomb. This man who did not consent to the foul treatment of the Lord now risks his reputation, and by his action made a bold confession of the Lord.

The Solid Bible

Few books can stand three readings. But the Word of God is solid; it will stand a thousand readings, and the man who has gone over it the most frequently and the most carefully is the surest of finding new wonders there.—Hamilton.

CHAIN SALE SCHEME UNDER EYE OF U. S.

One Hundred N.Y. Concerns Using System.

New York.—Endless chain selling enterprises, operating from this city, have spread from Broadway to Main street and are keeping postal authorities busy. So far there has been no decision on their legality, but it was learned that the government is investigating all chain schemes operating through the mails which have been called to its attention.

There are at least 100 get-rich-quick chain selling schemes being operated from New York city offices, according to information from the National Better Business bureau. Some are conducted by honest business men, others by fly-by-night concerns, and a few are nothing less than rackets.

Fountain pens, hosiery, pocketbooks, golf balls, kitchen gadgets, razor blades, food supplies, jewelry, watches, men's white flannel trousers, and even real estate have been set forth as the mediums of "awakening America" and insuring the return of happy days.

Glib Promoters.

Glib promoters have demonstrated mathematically how the ninth step in the chain selling scheme will net every participant a commission of $19,301.25, with the original sale of only four pieces of merchandise. What will happen when everyone has bought a wallet or a pair of socks has been ignored by the promoters.

Women's bridge clubs in Westchester and on Long Island have been working for the chain sellers. Charitable organizations have participated in the various "make a million" schemes, and the telephones in the Better Business bureau, both national and local, have been ringing with inquiries concerning legitimacy of the different schemes. The only advice either bureau had to offer was that "nobody knows yet whether it is legal or not, but that the participants were not likely to make any great amount of money."

Neither bureau has endorsed any of the schemes. The Better Business bureau of New York city, with offices at 280 Broadway, has found it difficult to draw the line.

Plenty of Inquiries.

"Some of the chain sellers are honest business men," said H. J. Kenner, "while others are operating shady, tricky concerns. We have received no complaints but we have been flooded with inquiries. It is not a new scheme, for I recall such methods of salesmanship were popular in 1912. We have not yet seen where we can make a complaint against the plan as a whole."

C. H. Clarahan, postal inspector in charge of the New York office, said investigation of endless chain-selling organizations was a long drawnout job. He pointed out that each concern had to be investigated individually, given a public hearing, and that frequently the case had to be carried through the courts.

Here's how it operates: The participant buys an article for $2.50 and 10 cents in stamps and then sells four articles at the same price, making a commission of $1.25 on the fourth sale. Thereafter the agent sells three other articles, making $3.75. His three customers sell three each and the original participant gets $33.75 in commissions and the others are ready to start their profit sharing. By the ninth step the total commissions amount to more than $12,000 if the chain remains unbroken.

Paralyzed by Bullet; Doctor Still Practices

St. Louis, Mo.—Paralyzed from the waist down by a robber's bullet, Dr. William A. Kluegel, a physician, is carrying on his practice on almost the same scale as formerly.

He has constructed a small trapeze, which hangs from a bar above his bed, by which he is able to move himself about. His patients are brought to his bedside and he makes his diagnoses.

Doctor Kluegel even has performed several operations. "There are times when I'd like to pack up and go out on a call," he said, "but that is out of the question."

He was shot by a robber who entered his office early in August.

Knowing Lord's Prayer Results in Cut in Fine

Las Vegas, Nev.—Ability to recite the Lord's Prayer in court saved Mrs. A. S. Bender, a divorcée, lots of days in jail.

Appearing for sentence on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor, the woman was informed by Judge Frank M. Ryan that she could be sent to jail for six months and fined $500. He admitted that the sentence might be lightened if she recited the Lord's Prayer.

In a low-pitched voice, Mrs. Bender recited the prayer, after which she was sentenced to 30 days in jail and fined $50.

"Dead Man" in Prison

Milwaukee, Wis.—Philip Stamm, forty, declared legally dead five years ago after he disappeared in 1022, is to serve two years in prison. His wife begged that he be released to "stay with his family," but the court declared: "You got along without him for 11 years so I guess another two years won't make much difference."

ITALY'S "DRUNKEN HOUSE" IS DOOMED

Built With Wine for Water by Tipsy Workmen.

Foggia, Italy.—The strange story of Foggia's "Drunken House" that was actually built with wine as the result of a curious feud between two rich Italian landowners in 1850 came to light here with plans to destroy the freak structure.

It was built in one night by the late Tommasco Antonio Bucci, famous vinegrower, with the aid of a friend's eleven sons—for the sole purpose of annoying Bucci's irascible neighbor, Don Francesco Saverio Figliola, wealthy cattle raiser and rural representative of the then king of Naples.

It appears that the fame of Bucci's wine spread far and wide and many people flocked to the vine-grower's place to get the product at its source—much to the annoyance of Don Francesco.

Exasperated by Don Francesco's complaints, Bucci finally decided to play a trick on him. Don Francesco's house commanded an imposing view of the city in which the landowner took a tremendous pride. Bucci determined to build a house on his own property that would just hide that view.

After he bought his building materials, he found his neighbor, official representative of the king of Naples, had ordered that no laborers take employment from him.

Bucci, more determined now than before, called into consultation his friend, Giovanni Raho, who volunteered the services of his eleven sons.

But as soon as Don Francesco learned of this, all the wells of the city were ordered closed and a guard stationed at each one.

But an ingenious idea came to Bucci. If plaster could be mixed with water, why couldn't it be mixed with wine.

That night there was a rumbling of rolling barrels in the Bucci cellar as his friend's eleven sons got busy. Barrel after barrel of the strong red wine for which Bucci was noted gurgled into mortar.

The result was a beautiful vermillion-colored plaster with which the eleven youths working through the night with frenzied energy put up the walls of a two-story structure that just concealed Don Francesco's view.

During the night the vapor of the boiling wine gave the eleven youths the equivalent of an all-night alcoholic jag and though they had refrained from touching a drop of the liquor they staggered drunkenly as the night wore on.

With the dawn there was a curious sight; a strange irregular structure with lopsided walls something like the lines in a futuristic drawing.

Finished Products Hold Lead in U. S. Exports

Washington. — Finished manufactured products constituted $624,903,000 or 39.6 per cent of United States exports totaling $1,570,821,000 in 1932, the Commerce department reported.

Crude materials accounted for the next largest group of exports, with a value of $513,649,000 or 32.6 per cent. These export groups compared with $1,110,675,000 and $566,791,000 respectively, during 1931, when exports aggregated $2,377,982,000.

The only imported products to show a percentage increase during 1932 over 1931, were crude foodstuffs and manufactured foodstuffs.

Meal of Antelope Costs Him $100 and 4 Months

Colorado Springs, Colo.—Dean Vandenburgh, twenty, of Fountain, Colo., had one of the most expensive meals ever eaten in this district.

It cost him $100 in money and four months of his time.

The reason the meal was so expensive was that the piece de resistance was antelope meat, and it is very much against the law to kill antelope.

The hunter was fined $100 and sentenced to four months in jail for the offense.

Drowns in Goldfish Bowl

Paterson, N. J.—The body of three-year-old John Pogano, of Fair Lawn, N. J., was found in the bottom of a concrete goldfish bowl at the rear of the home of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Foster, neighbors. The bowl is seven feet across and two and a half feet deep.

Bee Parley Ends in Buzz and Sting

Boise, Idaho.—Near-panic resulted when a swarm of bees, accidentally set free in a Boise hotel, stung everyone from their owner, Mrs. H. H. Keck, to several state legislators.

The accident brought a stinging climax to the Honey Producers convention when a bellboy knocked the cage to the floor, freeing the bees. They swirled out, stinging the bellboy until he was forced to flee. Mrs. Keck was their next victim.

Then they made for the open hotel lobby where legislators were relaxing. Chairs were overturned and general chaos reigned for nearly an hour.

Finally R. W. Childs, hotel manager, leading a squadron of employees armed with fly swatters, drove the bees into another cage.

LET WEEDS RULE CORN PLOWING

Practical To Cultivate Only When It Kills Weeds

"Plow corn at least four times" was a maxim of farming that carried over from the time it was done by the hand hoe method until 1920—and what's more, many farmers stick to a certain number of cultivations during the summer with little regard as to why they are doing it.

Experiments at several of the agricultural experiment stations have shown that cultivation is practical only when it kills out weeds. The belief that cultivation conserves moisture is false, as is also the belief that the soil needs to be stirred up to let the air circulate about the soil particles.

Cultivation to kill out the weeds is valuable for several different reasons. Weeds may grow up and rob the crop of sunlight; they rob the crop of nourishment and they use up vast quantities of water that the crop need for successful growth.

The belief that the soil should be cultivated to permit moisture to soak in better during a rain has also proved false. Tests have shown that a stubble field, unplowed or uncultivated, absorbs more water than a finely cultivated top layer of soil, except when it is badly crusted.

Cultivation is practical when the soil is so crusted that the water runs off rather than soaking in. Cultivation during the early spring is valuable to start the weed seeds to germinating so that they will be killed when the corn is planted. Also this early cultivation warms up the soil so that the bacteria which make nitrates available will get to work.

A NEWSPAPERMAN'S MANY QUALIFICATIONS

A young man asked us our opinion about entering the newspaper field. We answered this wise, says the Mineral Wells Index:

If he can listen with a smile to tiresome things he's heard oft before; if he can refuse to do what three or four people ask him to do without making them mad; if he can write in a way to make people laugh when he feels like cussin', or in a way to make them weep when he feels like cracking his heels together and laughing out loud; if he can remain silent when he feels like he'll burst wde open if he does not talk; if he can argue without getting mad or making the other fellow mad; if he can refuse a woman's request for free publicity without making all the members of her set mad at the paper; if he can react to the loss of a good news story and catch a better one on the rebound; if he can explain a typographical error without using up more than thirty minutes time; if he can concentrate and write intelligent copy while three different conversations are going on about him, several typewriters clicking away and the telephone ringing and the subdued hum of the presses in the next room drumming in his ears if he can explain why Mrs. Jones poem on "The Sylvan Depth of October Woods" did not appear in the paper without her husband stopping his advertising; if he can take a four-line story and spread it to a column, or take a two column story and condense it to two paragraphs if he can read proofs without overlooking an error and write headline without murdering the king's English; if he has a nose for news, an itch for writing and an inclination to work fifteen hours a day, then we'd advise him to get into the game.

SCENES AT FASTEST 500-MILE RACE IN WORLD HISTORY

Tho 21st International Sweepstakes at Indianapolis May 30, fastest and most thrilling 500 mile automobile race in World History, brought the highest honor of racing to Louis Myer, winner in 1928 and the only one except Tommy Milton to win the great race twice. He was driving the Tydol Special.

The race set the amazing record of 104.162 miles per hour average, despite the fact that the cars carried 2 men and were limited to 15 gallons gasoline carriage necessitating

This average required terrific several stops. This average required terrific speds on parts of the 2½ mile oval—speeds that are said to go as high as 170 miles per hour.

"The fact that I had no tire trouble enabled me to set the new speed record," Louis Myer said at the close of the race. " I want to express my appreciation for the building of tires that stand up under the terrible punishment." He was using tires built by Firestone—which were equipment chosen by all those who placed in this race, and have been on the winning cars for 14 years.

At the Speedway the "pits" where the cars are serviced are a center of activity and interest. Firestone engineers see that tho tires are mounted properly on he wheels, ready to withstand the burning speeds, the grinding curves, and the hours of relentless pounding over the brick track under the blazing sun—supreme tests of safety and endurance which have made better tires available to all motorists.

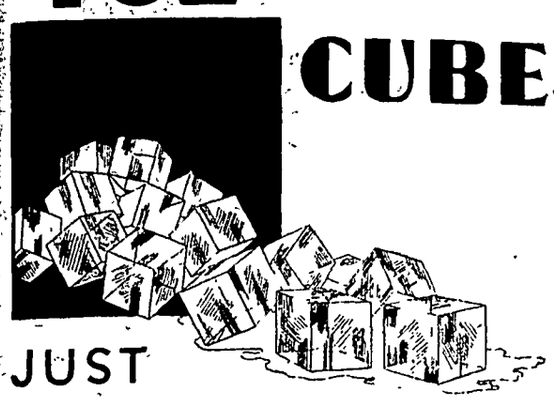
ICE CUBES—



JUST PART OF THE STORY

ICE cubes have become symbolic of electric refrigerations — but many other features are of far greater importance from a standpoint of economy and convenience. Most important is the health value of properly preserved food. Great savings in food costs are made possible by quantity buying and the elimination of food spoilage. Low operating costs have been further reduced by improved construction and prices are the lowest in the history of electric refrigeration. Buy now before prices advance.

The Season Of Open Doors--

It won't be long now before summer comes. Doors and windows will be invitingly open, and all too frequently they prove entirely too inviting.

Why don't you, now, before the open door season comes, put your valuable papers and other things away where they'll be safe from marauders. The cost of such protection in our safe deposit vault is exceedingly small—but the protection is great indeed.

Make a point of visiting our vaults and selecting a box in the very near future.

IMMENSE CROWD IN KLEMME SATURDAY NIGHT TO SEE FREE MOVIES

Klemme certainly had the appearance of a small city by the great crowd in town Saturday to see the free movie and to shop with the Klemme merchants.

A couple of weeks ago the open air theatre was remodeled and enlarged and it was thought amply large to accomodate any crowd. Saturday night's crowd more than filled the free movie and a great many people had to stand as every available seat was taken and the rows of spectators extended clear out into the street. When the crowd left the movie after the show, the streets of Klemme had all the appearance of a celebration crowd.

Movies Will Be Wednesday Nights

Beginning with this week the free movies will be shown on Wednesday nighs throughout the summer. This change was made necessary because of the band which will give concerts on Saturday nights.

First Band Concert Saturday Night

The Klemme Band, strengthened by the addition of several good musicians from out of town, will give their first concert this week on Saturday night. Band concerts will be given on Saturday nights thruout the summer.

With the free movies on Wednesday night and a fine band concert on Saturday night, Klemme is providing more entertainment for its visitors than any other town in North Iowa. Bring your family, bring your friends and neighbors to Klemme. You will find a warm welcome awaiting you!

RE-UNION OF THE G. C. YAHNKE DESCENDANTS

The annual re-uuion of the descendants of the G. C. Yahnke family was held at the city park in Wells, Minnesota Wednesday, June 7th, 1933. A bounteous picnic dinner was enjoyed after which the following program was given:

Song "What A Friend We Have In Jesus" led by Evelyn Yahnke of Buffalo Center. Iowa.

Devotions "Isaac digged the well" by President Mrs. R. W. Elder.

Reading of Minutes by Secretary Mrs. C. A. Larsen.

Presentation of the graduates of the family, seven in number, and the Reading for the graduates "Life Ahead" written by Clarence R. Elder and read by Mrs. R. W. Elder.

Reading "Worth of the Jew" by La Vohn Larsen

Reading "Stylish Congregation" by Alvin Stokesbary.

Pantomine reading Vina Fuller.

Reading "My Home" by Reva Elder.

The following officers were elected for next year, H. P. Yahnke, Garden City, Minn.. president; Walter Yahnke, of Garden City, secretary and treasurer.

There were 127 in attendance, and 106 of these were descndants and their families.

According to the Secretary's report there were three babies born and two marriages in the family during the past year and no deaths.

Relatives who attended from Klemme were C. A. Larsen and family; Alvin Stokesbary and family; B. H. Katter and family; Emil Pringnitz and family; R. W. Elder and family. Mr. and Mrs. J. Stokesbary also attended.

The picnic will be held at the same place next year, the first Wednesday in June.

JESUS RISES FROM THE DEAD

LESSON TEXT—Mark 16:1-20.
GOLDEN TEXT—And he saith unto them, Be not affrighted: Ye seek Jesus of Nazareth, which was crucified: he is risen; he is not here: behold the place where they laid him. Mark 16:6.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Living Again.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus Conquers Death.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Our Living Lord.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Power of the Resurrection.

I. The Visit to the Sepulchre (vv. 1-4).

1. By whom (v.1). Mary Magdalene, the mother of James, and Salome. They brought sweet spices with which to anoint him. This was a ministry of love, yet had they believed what he had said concerning his resurrection, they would have known that his body would not be there.

Mary of Bethany understood this. She therefore expressed intelligent affection for the Lord, and against the day of his burying poured out her box of precious ointment upon him (John 12:3, 7).

2. The time of (v. 2). It was very early in the morning of the first day of the week, before the rising of the sun.

3. Their perplexity (vv. 3, 4). They questioned as to who should roll away the large stone from the mouth of the tomb. To their surprise they found the stone removed.

II. The Angel in the Tomb (vv. 5-8).

Jesus knew that these women would come to the sepulchre with perplexed and unbelieving hearts, so he had an angel waiting there to announce to them the fact of his resurrection. Note the message of the angel:

1. "Be not affrighted" (v. 6). How sorely they needed this kind word.

2. "Ye seek Jesus of Nazareth which was crucified" (v. 6). This threefold designation shows with marvelous clearness—

a. His humanity—"Jesus."

b. His lowly residence—"Nazareth."

c. His ignominious death—"crucified."

3. "He is risen; he is not here. Behold where they laid him" (v. 6). He was born in lowly circumstances and suffered the shameful death on the cross, but now is the conqueror of death. His resurrection gives meaning to his death (I. Cor. 15:17).

4. "Go your way, tell his disciples and Peter" (v. 7). All the disciples needed this blessed news, but Peter especially, since he had so emphatically denied his Lord.

5. "He goeth before you into Galilee, there shall ye see him" (v. 7). Christ had told the disciples that he would rise from the dead and meet them in Galilee (Matt. 26:32).

III. The Appearances of the Risen Christ (vv. 9-14).

Since Christ's resurrection was to be the central theme of apostolic preaching, it was necessary that they have a certainty of knowledge as to it (Acts 1:3). Without the resurrection of Christ, his death would be meaningless. Out of the ten or more appearances, Mark refers to three.

1. To Mary Magdalene (vv. 9-11). Her devotion was amply rewarded by being the first to meet the risen Lord. She went at once and told the story to the disciples, but they refused to believe her.

2. To two disciples on the way to Emmaus (vv. 12, 13). Luke gives full particulars concerning this appearance (Luke 24:13-25). Jesus walked, talked, and ate with them, convincing them that he had indeed risen from the dead.

3. The eleven disciples (v. 14). Jesus appeared to them while sitting at meat, and reproved them for their unbelief. The fact that they steadfastly resisted the testimony that Christ had risen, but afterwards were willing to risk their lives in the proclamation of this truth, proves the genuineness of their faith and should strengthen ours.

IV. The Commission of the Risen Lord (vv. 15-18).

After the disciples were convinced of the truth of his resurrection, Jesus sent them forth to preach the gospel to every creature. What a blessed issue to those who believe, and how awful to those who believe not. "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned" (v. 16).

V. The Activity of the Risen and Ascended Christ (vv. 19, 20).

After giving the disciples their commission, he ascended on high, and from the unseen sphere directed their activities. Whenever they went he confirmed their word with signs.

Christianity

"Christianity is unique; Christianity is something most lovable; for Christianity is a person, and the person is Jesus; and this Christianity has accomplished more wonderful things than any other religion in the world."

More Effective

Christianity in books may have done much to influence men, but Christianity in boots has done more along this line, and is still as effective as ever.—Isaac Page.

METHODIST SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC WILL BE FRIDAY AT LARSEN'S GROVE

Annual Event Of Liberty And Klemme Sunday Schools

As has been customary in past years a joint Sunday school picnic of the Liberty and Klemme Methodist churches will again be held this year at the close of the three weeks Summer Bible School. This year the picnic will be held in Klemme at the C. A. Larsen grove, beginning at 11:30 o'clock, so that everything will be in readiness to serve the big picnic dinner at noon.

Everybody Invited

All members and friends of the churches are welcome to attend the picnic Families attending are asked to bring enough sandwiches for their own family and two covered dishes . The latter can be any of the following: baked beans, deviled eggs, potato or other salad, pickles. cake, etc. Ice cream, coffee, and lemonade will be furnished by the Sunday school.

Plan to take the day off and have a fine time visiting with your neighbors and friends. There will be soft ball games for old and young

SAMPLE BALLOT PRINTED IN TODAY'S ISSUE

Iown Votes June 20th On Repeal Of Eighteenth Amendment

Iowa people will go to the polls June 20. to vote for or against the repeal of the 18th amendment. A sample ballot to be used in the statewide election appears in this issue.

Voters who expect to vote on the issue should study the ballot carefully. The wording of the ballot is such that one can easily vote opposite from what he intends.

The first column on the ballot headed "Group of Candidates Favoring Ratification" is a list of the 99 delegates in favor of repeal or in other words the "wet" delegation. In the second column head "Group of Candidates Opposing Ratification' is the list of the 99 candidates opposed to the repeal or the "dry" delegates. If you vote either of these columns you just make a neat X in the circle at the head of the list of names you wish to vote for. Do not make any other mark on your ballot unless you wish to vote for an unofficial group of candidates

Then you should write in such names in the third column and put a cross in the circle at the head of it.

There is one sure way to tell which ticket to vote. Inform yourself as to who the wet and the dry delegates of your county are, find the name of your candidate on the ballot and then mark a cross at the head of the column in which you find his name.

The names of the Hancock county delegates will be found about half way down on the two lists.—Walter T. Wolfrom for repeal and S. B. Durant against repeal.

In other words, if you are wet vote the first column. If you are dry vote the second column.

COUNTY 4-H CLUB TOUR ON WEDNESDAY, JUNE 21

The county 4-H club tour has become one of the red letter days on the 4-H calendar. The county club committee has decided to hold but one county-wide tour this year and have set aside the date for Wednesday, June 21.

It is hoped that all club members will plan to attend this tour with their parents and other members of the family. Farm Bureau officials breeders, business and professional men are invited to attend. This is your opportunity to see what other club members are doing and no doubt many practical ideas and suggestions can be obtained and put into use.

There will be judging of live stock of all classes, as well as fitting showing and management of the various club projects. Erosion control and planting of idle acres to trees will be illustrated by the forestry club boys. This is the first year of the forestry club. John Quist, State Boys Club Leader of Ames will be with us.

Every family is urged to bring a well filled basket of eats for the dinner. Lemonade will be furnished.

The tour will start from the Farm Bureau Office at 8 o'clock. Ben V. Greiman, member of the county club committee, will be master of ceremonies for the day. A kittenball game between the different club groups will be a feature part of the noon hour.

Birds Pick Variety of Locations for Nesting

Birds that nest in holes or burrows are the wood duck, owls, woodpeckers, tree swallow, house wren, brown creeper, nuthatch, titmouse, chickadee, bluebird, bank swallow, kingfisher.

The birds which usually build their nests on the ground are the woodcock, bob-white, ruffed grouse, whippoorwill, white-throated sparrow, junco, pine woods sparrow, towhee, black and white warbler, Canadian warbler, hermit thrush, and marsh hawk.

In the undergrowth and in low bushes, you will find the nests of the field sparrow, song sparrow, cardinal, white-eyed vireo, most of the warblers, catbird, brown thrasher and winter wren.

In the higher bushes and the lower branches of trees, nest the mourning dove, kingbird, blue jay, chipping sparrow, gold finch, rose-breasted grosbeak, scarlet tanager, cedar waxwing, yellow warbler, kinglet, wood thrush and robin.

In the higher branches of the trees, far out of reach, so that you see only the under side of the nests are the platforms of the herons and the eagles, the hawks, and the ospreys. Many of these nests are used from year to year by the same birds and should not be disturbed.

Samoans Happy People; They Laugh at Anything

The Samoans are a happy race. They are smiling all the time except when they are laughing and it takes very little to make them laugh. A large group of native stevedores toiling under the torrid sun were thrown into convulsions by the sight of a tractor which they were taking from the hold. They concluded it was some new kind of automobile with a single seat.

The Samoan has little or nothing to worry him and hence his jovial disposition. His food grows all about him and his clothing demands are quite limited. A clean garment of bright colors and some cheap jewelry make a well-dressed woman and the young children wear no clothes at all. There are many short and sudden showers, but as a rule the climate is warm and sunny and the temperament of the people seems to be the same.—Los Angeles Times.

Nelson Relics

The announcement of the sale of a spy glass said to have been the property of Lord Nelson has been the means of arousing greater interest in the Nelson relics. An aged clerk of the admiralty remembered having seen a small desk stored in an attic of one of the government buildings which was thought to have a Nelson connection and when the search was made it was located and cleaning revealed an inscription roughly scratched upon it, indicating that it had been the property of Lord Nelson. It was repaired and sent to the reconditioned Victory. Another desk and spy glass were discovered in the British consulate at Tripoli. All of these relics are duly authenticated.

Invented Pari-Mutuel Plan

A Frenchman named Oller invented the pari-mutuel system of betting on horse races in about 1872. In 1880 a man in New Zealand named Ekberg, who had studied Oller's procedure, conceived the idea of automatically recording bets. He devised a machine for the purpose, called it a totalizer, and used it for the first time at the Canterbury Jockey club's meeting at Christchurch, New Zealand, in 1880. It was not until 1908 that the pari-mutuel system of betting was methodically exploited in the Unietd States, and in the spring of that year it was adopted in Kentucky.

"To Play the Hedgehog"

This is a phrase familiar to some of us to describe people who go through the world careless of other people's feelings and regardless of their rights. People who "play the hedgehog" are more concerned about getting what they happen to want at any particular moment than about what other people think of them. In this phrase we find allusion to an old fable of the hedgehog, who, on being received into a den, drove out his host. The expression had its first recorded use in "Defense of Poesie," which dates 1595, by Sir Philip Sidney.

Insomnia Records

The case of Cornelius Szekely, who, following a wound in the head inflicted 16 years ago, lost the power to sleep, and who died in Budapest after remaining awake for 140,160 hours, is remarkable; but it is not unique. Two years ago it was revealed that a man living at Newcastle-on-Tyne had not slept for 20 years as a result of a cycling accident; and at about the same time details were published concerning a Hungarian civil servant who had not closed his eyes in sleep since a Russian bullet struck his head in 1915.

Baldness and Badness

The worst type of habitual criminal is generally bald, according to the chief physician of the Fukuoka prison Tokyo, who recently completed an extensive study of 1,521 criminals occupying ten years. In the course of that work he found nine typical habitual criminals. They had from 16 to 20 criminal convictions, and had spent from 20 to 30 years in prison. They were all bald.

HELPFUL FISHING HINTS

Minnows will remain alive longer when being used for bait if the hook is placed thru the upper lip only. This permits the fish to breathe. In hooking a bait fish through the back be careful not to injure the backbone. The most satisfactory way to hook a crawfish is through the tail.

Central States ELECTRIC COMPANY

IOWA COMPANY—OWNED AND OPERATED BY IOWANS

Voltages Necessary to Electrocute Criminals

Electrocution of criminals in various states often raises the question of how much electricity is required to snuff out life. According to one authority, it is impossible to say what voltages are safe, for so much depends upon the conditions existing at time of contact. One man was killed near Prague by coming into contact with a wire charged with a pressure of 95 volts, yet electricians have touched wires carrying currents of such high pressures as 5,000 volts without experiencing any ill effects. Criminals are electrocuted in this country by making contact with a high voltage, 1,800 to 2,000, for three or four seconds, reduced to 500 volts until nearly a minute has elapsed, raised to high voltage for a second or two, again reduced to a low voltage until one minute has elapsed, when it is again raised to a high voltage for a few seconds and the contact broken. A second, or even a third, brief contact is sometimes made later, but there seems little doubt that circulation and respiration cease with the first contact. The general deduction has been drawn from experiments in electrocution work at Sing Sing that no human body can withstand an A. C. current of 1,500 volts, and 300-volt current has produced death, while for the continuous current it may be necessary to use 3,000 volts to produce death.

Animal Characteristics Much Like Those of Men

Animal personalities vary as much as human personalities. No two animals will react to the same stimuli in exactly the same manner. Neither can all leopards, for instance, be judged as one. I have had leopards as pets, notes a writer in Tit-Bits Magazine, which were as fond of me and nearly as trustworthy as a dog. I have also had leopards that were the incarnation of rage and vindictiveness.

It is possible, however, to separate animals into general classifications as regards temperament. Leopards are excitable and nervous, given to violent outbreaks. They are easily frightened and, although their fear often leads them to attack, it is a sort of desperation because of their nervousness and thoughtlessness. Lions are given to terrible bursts of fury, but it requires more time and cause to start a lion than a leopard. Lions think over a situation before plunging. Leopards fight at the drop of a hat—or less.

Cheetahs, although not strictly members of the cat family, exhibit the temperamental qualities of both the lion and leopard. They are very nervous, but at times have a calmness and repose suggestive of lions. When tamed and accustomed to humans, cheetahs can be affectionate and docile. This is a trait of the lion.

City Life Reforms Sparrow

A member of the French Academy of Medicine, celebrated his hundredth birthday anniversary by reading a paper before that body, covering the observations of sparrows. He said: "The country sparrow and the city sparrow are close blood relations, and the country sparrow is rightly detested for its voracity and evil ways. But the little sparrow of Paris has completely changed its character. Pampered and spoiled by its human neighbors, it has become a lovable, cheery comrade whose presence adds a pleasure to our walks and outings. City life has given the sparrow refinement and culture and made it a wholly respectable and agreeable member of society."

Coolidge Was Religious

Calvin Coolidge was of Puritan descent. A great influence in his life was Amherst college, where he was graduated in 1895. A long list of civic offices in Massachusetts brought him at Harding's death to the Presidency of the United States. He sought reelection and it was granted. A man of plain, unpretending temperament, he appeared to personify the New England virtues. While President he joined the Congregational church, which for years he had attended. He went to service at the First Congregational church in Washington, and on occasion to Washington cathedral and elsewhere. "The strength of our country," he wrote, "is the strength of its religious convictions."

Slayers of Presidents

Leon Czolgocz, murderer of President William McKinley, was electrocuted in the state prison at Auburn, N. Y., October 29, 1901. After an autopsy his body was buried in quicklime in the prison lot in an Auburn cemetery. Charles Guiteau, who killed President Garfield, drew up a will shortly before he was hanged on June 30, 1882, in which he left the disposition of his body to Rev. William Hicks, who spent the last hours with him. It was buried beneath the pavement of a court in a wing of the jail in Washington, where he was executed.

Wearing the Leek

In the old days, Welsh farmers used to help each other at plowing time. Those in a certain district would gather at each farm in turn, and plow the fields there, then go on to the next. On these occasions they took leeks with them to put in the pot for a communal meal. This, it is suggested, was how the custom of wearing the leek on St. David's day originated. Presumably the farmers stuck the vegetables in their hats as the simplest way of carrying them.—Answers Magazine.

Acrobatic Drum Majors Usually Get Good Hand

The gymnastic drum major was once a favorite feature of public processions, and these performers were often of national repute. Of recent years, however, there has been a more modest behavior at the van of the musical organizations, the time markers restraining themselves to sedate movements to guide the cadence of their followers. But old-style twisters of the baton came back into vogue and won the plaudits of the crowd.

People like to laugh, and they are quick to acclaim with mirth anything that is peculiar and out of the ordinary. The drum major who flings his baton high in the air while he executes a double shuffle, who struts with exaggerated pomposity and protruding chest, who cake-walks his way along the route, is sure of a "hand" from the crowded curbs. Certain bands cannot tolerate such behavior at their van, for they have reputations as musicians to maintain rather than as comedians. It has in the course of many years been noted that the drum major who wins the loudest applause usually leads the poorest band.—Washington Star.

Coldest Place, Between Hudson Bay and Alaska

The coldest part of North America is the tract between Hudson bay and Alaska. In the neighborhood of the Mackenzie river the temperature probably falls at times to 75 degrees below zero, states the author of "Climates of the Continents."

The 1926 government weather report of lowest temperature shows a drop of 76 degrees below zero in January, 1886, at Tanana, Alaska, and at Eagle, Alaska, during the same month, a drop in the temperature to 75 degrees below zero. There is no record of the temperature falling as low as 80 degrees below zero in Alaska, but undoubtedly the temperature frequently drops to more than 80 degrees below zero in parts of Siberia.

The lowest temperature ever authentically recorded in the United States was 65 degrees below zero, which occurred at Fort Keough, near Miles City, Mont., in January, 1888.

Concave Mirrors

An ordinary mirror reflects light directly from its entire surface, but a concave or convex mirror reflects as if every distinct point of its surface were a separate and very small plane mirror. These mirrors produce upon light effects similar to those of lenses, except that the concave mirror corresponds to the convex lens and the convex mirror to the concave lens. Now, as in a lens, from whatever direction rays of light may fall upon a concave mirror, they are brought to a focus near the central ray, and if they fall obliquely from one side of the axis of the mirror, they will be reflected at the same angle on the other side of the axis. Therefore, the mirror will form an inverted image of any object placed before it, just as the lens does, and the image will be near or distant, and large or small, according to the divergence of the approaching rays, just as with lenses.

Grant Went Broke

General Grant left the Presidency of the United States a fairly well-to-do man. He toured the world after his retirement, and then three years later was defeated for nomination for a third term. Then it was that he invested what money he had in Wall Street and became a member of the firm of Grant & Ward. Three years later the firm went down in failure and Grant was bankrupt. He was forced to earn money by writing for magazines, and he provided for the future of his family by writing his memoirs. He persevered on his book despite grievous illness, and finished it only four days before his death.

View 300-Year-Old Creed Book

Thousands of Sikhs, a Hindu community in the Punjab of India, have been flocking to gaze upon one of the historic manuscript books of their faith. The book, known as the Adi Granth, was on display at the residence of the Guru, their spiritual chief, at Kartarpur. The Adi Granth was written by the fifth Guru more than 300 years ago, and it is said that only two men have read it. The Sikhs originally were a religious community founded by Baba Banak, who was born in 1649.

Stonehenge

"Stonehenge" is a name that applies to the huge monoliths. About the half of the word "henge" there is some difference of opinion. The Anglo-Saxon word "henge" means something hanging or supported in the air. It is possible that in some prehistoric time these great monoliths supported some kind of a ladder. Another theory with reference to the word is that Stonehenge was erected to commemorate some act of Hengist, one of the early rulers of a part of Britain.

Dead Sea Fruit

Dead sea fruit, which turns to ashes in the mouth, is not a mere legend. It grows on a tree about 15 feet high, is a bright yellow color, and is about the size of an apple. It looks very luscious, but is often attacked by a large black and yellow cricket so that that whole of the interior becomes dust although the skin remains unharmed. Thus, when it is picked it turns to tasteless powder.

How She Lost 18 Pounds Of Fat

For Less Than 1.00

"Will say in regards to Kruschen. I took it to reduce. I lost 18 pounds after using one bottle and feel fine. Just bought one more bottle today and expect to lose 18 more pounds. I now weigh 148 and feel fine." Mrs Harry Robinson, Akron. Ohio (Jan. 6, 1933).

Once a day take Kruschen Salts—one half teaspoonful in a glass of hot water first thing every morning. Besides losing ugly fat SAFELY you'll gain in health and physical attractiveness — constipation, gas, and acidity will cease to bother—you'll feel younger—more active—full of ambition—clear skin—sparkling eyes.

A jar that last 4 weeks costs but a trifle at P. M. Wilson's or any drug store in the world—but demand and get Kruschen and if one bottle doesn't joyfully please you—money back.

MISS REGINA R. MILLER AND HARL D. GIMER MARRIED ON FRIDAY EVENING, JUNE 16

Last Friday evening at 8:30 o'clock the marriage of Miss Regina Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs L. W. Miller to Mr. Harl D. Gimer, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Gimer, was solemnized at the First Methodist Church in Renwick The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Belden Welkel, pastor of the local church.

The bridal party entered the church to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played by Miss Mildred Johnson of Klemme. and took their places before the altar. Soft music was played throughout the ceremony. Mrs. Clarence Johnson, sister of the bridgroom was matron of honor; Barbara Johnson was flower girl and Miss Blanche Gimer sister of the bridegroom and Miss Louise Peck, of Perry, friend of the bride, served as bridesmaids; Rosemary Nellis and Pauline Klassie were pages and carried the bride's veil. Frank E. Gibbs of Klemme attended the bridegroom and Clarence Johnson and Thomas Gimer were ushers.

The bride was attired in a gown of white crepe and taffeta and wore a veil of net and lace caught in cap fashion with orange blossoms and trimmed with pearls and rhinestones and carried and arm boquet of orange blossoms, roses and delphinium The bridegroom wore a conventional black suit. The matron of honor was attired in an eggshell crepe gown and wore a corsage of pink rosebuds and orange blossoms. Miss Gimer was dressed in lavender georgette and Miss Black in yellow taffeta, both carrying arm bouquets of garden flowers. The flower girl was dressed in white, and the pages ono in yellow, and one in blue. The church was attractively decorated with garden flowers.

Just before the ceremony at the church the guests were entertained with a violin solo played by Miss Mildred Johnson, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. E. S. Heivilin, also of Klemme. They also played several selections at the reception held immediately following at the home of the bride's parents. A color scheme of pastel shades was carried out at the reception. The refreshments were served by Lavonne Thompson. Ardath Goettsch, Yulahmae Murry and Thelma Gimer.

The guests at the wedding and reception consisted almost entirely of relatives of the two families, those from out of town who attended being: Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Murray and daughter of Livermore; Mr. and Mrs A. L. Peterson of Algona; Miss Anna Murray of LaVerne; and the following from Klemme; Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Kudje, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Heivilin, Joe E. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Larsen, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Elder, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mueller and Arthur Johnson.

The bride was graduated from the Renwick High School and the past year has been attending Frances Shimer College at Mount Carroll, Ill. While it is usual at this point in the write-up of such an event, to eulogize upon the good looks , accomplishments, etc., of the bride, the writer, happening to be her dad, is going to pass the buck. She has lived here since a mere infant and most of our readers probably know her almost as well as we do.

Mr. Gimer moved here with his parents from Klemme about a year and a half ago and is associated with his father in the operation of the Renwick Community Creamery. He is a graduate of the Klemme high school and studied two years at Morningside College, Sioux City.

Mr. and Mrs. Gimer will be at home after July 1 to their many friends. They are located in the editor's former home in southeast Renwick which they have had furnished and prepared for immediate occupancy. They have planned their wedding trip to take place in September when they expect to visit the Chicago World's Fair—Renwick Times.

M. E. BIBLE SCHOOL CLOSED WITH PICNIC FRIDAY

The three weeks course of the summer Bible School conducted for the Liberty and Klemme Sunday schools at the Methodist Church in Klemme came to a close with a joint picnic Friday held in Klemme at the C. A. Larsen grove.

A large number of people from both Liberty and Klemme were present to enjoy the picnic dinner

Program Given Sunday Evening

The pupils of the Bible School gave their program at the Klemme Methodist church Sunday evening. The program was attended by a large crowd.

The Bible School was a fine success this year, with a large enrollment. A good staff of teachers conducted this school and are to be complimented on the manner in which they handled the work.

LARGE CROWDS OF SHOPPERS IN KLEMME FOR OPEN NIGHTS

Streets Were Packed On Both Wednesday and Saturday Night

A big crowd was again in Klemme last Wednesday evening to see the free movies This is a feature which attracts many visitors to Klemme every Wednesday night. The free movies will be shown each Wednesday night thruout the summer months.

The business men of Klemme are putting on these free movies and they invite everyone to come in and enjoy them.

Large Crowd Hears Band

The Klemme Band made its first concert appearance Saturday night. An immense crowd was in town to hear the band play. The band this year is under the leadership of a young man from Dows. A number of outside players are in the band this year. Klemme has as fine a band as will be found in Northern Iowa.

The band concerts will be a feature in Klemme every Saturday night throughout the summer.

FISHING FOR SUNFISH AND BLUEGILLS

Pan fish are retaining their popularity this year according to a survey made of various lakes and streams. Those who are particclarly interested in sunfish and bluegills should remember that these fish are found in greatest nembers by locating a sandy bottom just outside the shoreline fringe of rushes, in watter from fve to fifteen feet n depth. Sandy open patches, surrounded by much submerged vegetation, particularly off points of land extending into the lake, usually produce good fishing. Deep water will produce the larger fish while more shallow waters will yield the greatest numbers of smaller fish.

ELL TOWNSHIP FARM BUREAU MET AT GREIMAN HOME

The regular Farm Bureau meeting of Ell township was held at the home of Addis Greiman, Friday June 16th.

A very fine program was given by the 4-H boys. The program was opened by the group singing the Farm Bureau Spirit Song.

A number of recitation were given and Curtis Greiman gave a report on 4-H work this year. The program was closed by the 4-H boys singing "Whispering Hope."

Ice cream and cake were served by the boys to a large crowd.

ELL DESCENDANTS HELD ANNUAL RE-UNION

On Sunday, June 18, the descendants of Sebastian Ell met on the old Homestead in Ell township for the annual reunion and picnic dinner.

There was a literary program in which a prize was offered to the family putting on the most novel stunt. The Nissen family won this year, having two numbers that were "knockouts". There was tap dancing by a daughter of "Spider" Nissen and an impersonation, in appropriate costume, of an Italian street musician by George Nissen on his accordian. Paul Nissen, radio singer also favored the group with two selections.

Out of town families who attended included Ed Ell of Mankato; Chas. Ell of Rudd; Phil Ell, Les Ell, Mrs. Lillie Ell of Mason City; Fred Gates, Ira Latham of Clear Lake; Albert Yahnke of Garden City, Minn; Paul Nissen of Valley Junction, Iowa, George Nissen of Iowa Falls; Charles (Spider) Nissen of Rockwell City and George Ell of Belmond.

Next year the picnic will be held at the Fred Gates home on the south shore of Clear Lake.

MANY FIELDS OF CORN ARE NOW "KNEE HIGH"

Dry Weather Has Made Oats Crop Short This Year

Two weeks of hot, dry weather has made the corn in North Iowa grow by leaps and bounds. As a rule, if corn is knee-high by the Fourth it is considered to be fine corn in Iowa. Many fields of corn in Hancock County are already knee high and every indication points to a fine corn crop.

The weather has not been the best for oats. however. Oats has headed out and the stems are very short. Harvesting oats is going to be a real job on account of the short stems. The crop will be light in Iowa on account of the dry weather.

Pastures and lawns in which the grass was short are drying out and turning brown. A good rain would be welcome now.

PREPARE CANNING EQUIPMENT

Much of the drudgery of canning may be removed by preparing the eqcipment to be used the day before the actual canning takes place. Time and energy are saved for the preparation of the food and the canning process.

Wash all jars, rubbers, glass lids and tin cans in hot soapy water. Rinse thoroughly in clear, hot water. Gasket lined tin covers should not be wet. Jars that have had spoiled food in them need the following special treatment: after washing place the jars and lids in a pressure cooker at 15 pounds pressure for 15 minutes; or boil the jars and lids for 2 hours in enough water to cover them.

Test all jars, both old and new, for leaks. A little nick in the glass top of a jar may prevent a perfect seal and spoilage may result. Partially fill with hot water each jar to be used, completely seal the jar and let it stand inverted for at least 5 minutes.

New rubbers are needed in most cases for each jar. At any rate don't use rubbers that are cracked and hard.

HANCOCK COUNTY VOTES WET IN SPECIAL ELECTION

Nine Townships Vote Wet. Eight Vote Dry In County

In the special election Tuesday Hancock county went wet with the state. Reports over the state indicate that the wet issue or repeal of the 18th amendment, carried by a large majority of some less than two to one.

Vote Was Light

The vote in Ell township, as well as over the county was considered very light as compared with the vote cast in the general election last fall. Many failed to vote as they did not understand the ballot, or could see nothing to be gained by voting either way.

Tabulated Vote Given

The Times is publishing the unofficial returns of the election as they were given to us this morning from the County Auditor's office. The results are given by townships.

How To Keep Your Cream Sweet--

The best way to keep cream is to keep it in COLD WATER. The production of good, clean cream is really not such a difficult matter. There are three features to be remembered in the production of quantity cream. Clean, sterile utensils, including your separator, the PROMPT COOLING OF YOUR CREAM, clean cows and stables. In cleaning utensils it is well to rinse them first in clean, cold water. They should be thoroughly washed in hot water and washing powder and thoroughly rinsed with boiling water. The cream producer who follows these suggestions will be more than pleased with the fine flavor of the cream he is able to deliver and the operator of this creamery will be more than delighted with such cooperation.

FOR FAILURE PROOF BANKING STRUCTURE

Speaker Outlines Threefold Cooperation Between Bankers, Government Officials and the Public to Maintain Bank Standards

TWO elements besids the bankers themselves are required in order to give the nation universally the type of banking it should have, Francis H. Sisson, president of the American Bankers Association, declared in a recent address. He said that the efficiency of government officials upon whom the people rely to supervise the banks properly, and the patronage of the people themselves are factors in the kind of banks a community shall have.

"There can be no question that the people of the United States should have banks immune from failure and wholly free from bad or questionable banking," Mr. Sisson said. "It is not enough, as President Roosevelt has said, that while some bankers had been incompetent or dishonest, this was not true in the vast majority of our banks. A situation should exist in which there is not even a small minority of bankers open to question. There should be no room for dishonesty or incompetency to exercise any influence in banking anywhere.

"While bad faith and bad management enter the human factor in all types of business, their effects in banking should be surrounded by such special safeguards as to render them no longer a factor in bank failures. The responsibility for bringing this about, however, cannot rest upon the bankers alone, for the means to accomplish it are not wholly in their hands. There are other essential elements.

"One is the efficiency of government supervision. Since we rely so greatly upon supervision, it may, unless it is of the highest order in safeguarding the public interest, create a sense of false security. Supervision should render bad banking impossible, but it has failed to do so. There was supervision by presumably the highest type of bank supervisors in every one of the instances of questionable banking that has shocked the attention of the country during the past three years. Therefore a thorough strengthening of supervision is clearly called for if the people are to rely on it to the fullest extent for the protection of their interests.

The Public's Part

"Another essential factor in maintaining good banks involves the part played by the public in banking. There is certainly a responsibility on the people themselves to support that type of banker whose rigid adherence to sound principles makes a sound bank, rather than to give their patronage to the easy going banker who may be easier to do business with, but whose methods create a weak bank.

"Bank customers are charged with a great responsibility in protecting the safety of their banks in respect to their utilization of the assets of the banks as borrowers. Banks have failed because many of their loans and securities, created in good faith by bankers in cooperating with the business interests of the country, proved unsound under subsequent conditions. An unsound loan is created by the borrower as well as the banker. A bank is only as sound as its community, and this applies also to the banking structure as a whole in relation to the economic condition of the nation as a whole.

"A bank is truly a semi-public institution, but in a reciprocal sense—it has its obligations to the public, but so has the public equal obligations to the bank. No one who has not sound banking principles at heart has any business in a bank whether as a banker or as a customer.

"The banker is a semi-public servant. He is charged with the heaviest of responsibilities and obligations that occur in our economic life. But he can meet these fully only through the cooperation of good laws, good public officials who are empowered to exercise authority over his bank, and good business methods on the part of business men generally who utilize his bank. Only through such cooperation by all elements in our nation's community life can we be assured of a failure-proof banking structure.

"The Administration at Washington has taken hold of this problem with a firm grasp of essentials and is exercising splendid leadership toward the desired end. The strongest feature of the government program will be found in recognizing the joint responsibility of the public, of business and of government officials together with the bankers themselves in creating the kind of banking the nation should have."

Improved Pasture Pays

IMPROVED pastures are a cheap source of feed for stock. A farmer in New Hampshire, cooperating with his county agent top-dressed his 5 acres of pasture with 500 pounds of complete fertilizer at a cost of $75, reports the United States Department of Agriculture. After 4 weeks he turned his cows out on this pasture. Tests made during the six weeks the cows grazed there showed that his herd produced 7,000 pounds more milk than they did in the same period the previous year, although the farmer had one cow fewer and fed 800 pounds less grain. Based on current milk prices he made $139 on the extra milk and saved $16 on the grain, netting him an increase in income of $126.—U. S Department of Agriculture.

CAN ONLY CLEAN ASPARAGUS

"One hour from garden to can" is a good slogan to follow in canning asparagus. The longer the time between cutting the asparagus and canning, the greater is the chance that bacteria will collect on the vegetable and cause spoilage.

All scales on the stalk should be removed before canning since the dirt under them may harbor millions of bacteria.

Asparagus should be washed thoroughly and since the dirt settles to the bottom of the pan, lift the stalks out instead of pouring the water off.

The asparagus may be cut into pieces one inch long, or cut to the length of the jar and tied into small bundles. Stand the bundles in a saucepan with the tips up. Add boiling water but do not submerge the tips. Cover the pan so that the tips will steam and boil 5 minutes.

Pack loosely in clean, hot jars. Add ½ teaspoon of salt per pint. Fill the jars with boiling water. The water in which the asparagus was cooked may be used, but the vegetable will be stronger in flavor than if fresh water is added.

KEEP FOOD SAFE for CHILDREN

In hot summer weather, mothers are confronted with the serious problem of keeping food fresh and sanitary for children. Milk, fresh fruits and vegetables are essential foods for young folks — but they are also dangerous foods when stored in temperatures which allow the growth of deadly germs. For the safety of your family, install an electric refrigerator for positive food preservation.

DO NOT KILL STRANGE BIRDS

With the passing of the Heath Hen into extinction as was reported in a bulletin of the American Game Association one gives thought to numerous other species which are nearing extinction. The sighting of a strange bird often inspires certain individuals to kill these birds that they may be able to examine it more closely and to have the honor of killing a species that is odd to their locality. Reports to the Fsh and Game commission tell of the finding of strange birds that have been shot and killed and left to lay. Many of these birds are members of species which are considered rare and which should be encouraged to increase and not hurried to extinction by wanton killing. Rather than to kill a strange bird one can render a really valuable service by making notes of the description of the bird, the place seen etc.. as completely as possible and turning this information over to an ornithological society or to the Fish and Game Department. The State may then add the name of the bird to the records of birds seen in Iowa. The list now numbers near three hundred.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

Lesson for June 25

REVIEW: JESUS OUR LORD AND SAVIOUR

GOLDEN TEXT—Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you. Matt. 28:19, 20.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Our Friend.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus Our Saviour and Lord.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Trusting and Obeying Jesus.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Giving Ourselves Unreservedly to Christ.

Two methods are suggested which may be used for the senior and adult classes.

I. A Perplexities Review.

This is suggested by Dr. Amos R. Wells. A perplexity arising from each lesson of the quarter should be assigned to a member of the class a week ahead of time. Suggestions:

April 2. Why is sickness allowed in the world?

April 9. Why is the Christian life often so difficult?

April 16. Why does our Christianity sometimes lack splendor?

April 23. Why do some men grow hard as they grow older?

April 30. How can we give without pauperizing the needy?

May 7. Why must some be masters and others servants?

May 14. What degree of ambition is wise?

May 21. How can we conduct controversy without bitterness?

May 28. What proportion of our income should go to the church?

June 4. How can we make sure of a complete loyalty to Christ?

June 11. How is it possible for us to get rid of sin?

June 18. How can we be certain of living again?

II. The Summary Method.

The aim in the use of this method is to cast up to view the leading facts and deduce from them the leading lesson. The following is suggested:

Lesson for April 2.

Jesus responded to the fervent appeal of the Syrophenician woman to help her demon-possessed daughter. His sympathy is as wide as the race, and his power unlimited.

Lesson for April 9.

Before going to the cross, Jesus retired with his disciples to prepare them for the severe trial through which they were to pass. He instructed them concerning his atoning death, resurrection, and second coming.

Lesson for April 16.

Jesus transfigured. Two men from the upper world were sent to converse with Jesus about his approaching death at Jerusalem, the thing about which the disciples refused to talk.

Lesson for April 23.

The disciples were so steeped in selfishness that they were wrangling over official position while the Lord was facing the cross.

Lesson for April 30.

Jesus as a son was faithful to his parents. In this lesson he sets forth the truth concerning marriage, which is the foundation of the home.

Lesson for May 7.

The supreme purpose of Christ's coming into the world was to die for the salvation of sinners. Through the cross, judgment was passed upon the world, and Satan was cast out.

Lesson for May 14.

Jesus entered Jerusalem and officially presented himself as King to the Jewish nation, according to prophecy. He exercised kingly authority in cursing the fig tree and driving out the money changers.

Lesson for May 21.

The Pharisees, scribes, and Sadducees sought to entrap Jesus so as to hinder his work. The very ones who should have welcomed him sought to destroy him.

Lesson for May 28.

This lesson affords a study of a prophetic outline of events in the interval between Christ's crucifixion and his second coming. According to this outline the present age shows increasing evidence of the near coming of the Lord.

Lesson for June 4.

The black crime of Jesus' betrayal was committed immediately following the beautiful act of Mary's devotion to the Lord (John 12:1).

Lesson for June 11.

The crucifixion of Christ is the grand climax of the lessons for the last six months, and without apprehending its significance, all other lessons are meaningless. Christ saves, not by his ethical teaching, but by his shed blood.

Lesson for June 18.

The resurrection of Christ was announced by an angel, and he was afterward seen by many. Conviction touching the reality of Christ's resurrection is absolutely necessary in order to be an effective witness for him.

The Other Road

DISPELS MYSTERY OF BANK BUSINESS

Country Banker Gives Simplified Picture of How a Bank Works to Help Other People's Business

A COUNTRY banker recently prepared the following simplified statement for his neighbors on just how a bank goes about helping them:

"It is the most important part of a bank's business to lend money. Of all the money deposited in a bank, the law requires that a certain percentage be kept on hand as a reserve to meet the demands of depositors. It is the business of its officers to lend the balance conservatively and safely.

"The loans of a properly managed bank are invariably made to those it believes are able to repay, and always on condition that they be repaid at a stipulated time.

"The promise of an individual to repay a loan to a bank on a certain date is as sacredly inviolable as the promise of a bank to repay its depositors on demand, or, in the case of a certificate of deposit, on the date it falls due. When it comes to be known of an individual that he 'always pays,' his credit is established and his bank is always glad to extend him needed accommodations.

"A well managed bank never capitalizes industries. That is, it does not place its loans in fixed form, but puts them where they are to be used for temporary requirements, and where they will be taken up at the time specified.

How a Bank Lends

"It is not the function of a bank to become a partner in industries, nor could it be legitimately done with the money of depositors. Its loans must be kept in 'liquid' form,—that is, repayable in cash at stated intervals.

"A bank must use the greatest discrimination in making loans. A stranger cannot expect accommodations. It is customary for the borrower to make a statement of his financial affairs, which is kept in the bank's records. It is a punishable offense to make a false statement for the purpose of borrowing funds.

"Naturally, in their dealing with the regular depositors of the bank, its officers become well acquainted with their characters and their resources and are thus in a position to determine how large a line of credit each one is entitled to. That is one of the great advantages of being a bank depositor.

"The man who knows how to get into debt wisely, that is, who borrows money with which to make more money through legitimate enterprise, is the borrower whom the bank is looking for. By the frank interchange of opinion and a free discussion of various projects, the borrower is often guided and helped by his banker.

"In order to procure a line of credit at a bank three things are important:

"1. A statement of assets showing a basis of credit in the way of invested capital, or collateral of sufficient value to cover amount of loan, or

"2. An endorser whose credit is established at the bank; and

"3. Average deposits of a sufficient amount to justify the extension of the desired accommodation."

AS WILL ROGERS SEES IT

Will Rogers recently told why the banks had got into trouble. "Don't blame it all on the bankers," he said. "When we all needed money they loaned it to us—but when they needed it we couldn't pay it back."

Advertising Aids Business Revival

NEW YORK.—Aggressive concerns are expanding business by effective advertising despite depressed business conditions, declared A. W. Diller, advertising counsel, at a bankers' conference here recently.

"Is 1933 a good year in which to advertise?" Mr. Diller asked. "Yes, if 1933 is a good year to stay in business, to reinforce the public's confidence in you, to put more business on the books. There is new business to be had today and aggressive companies are getting it. But new business will come in only if you go out for it. Advertising certainly goes out for it.

"Will people read newspaper advertisements these days? They will read anything that interests them. There are plenty of present-day arguments for business."

Advertising Mistakes

A QUESTION before many of us is what change of advertising policy, if any, should be made in view of present financial and business conditions. It is perfectly natural for us to give consideration to some degree of retrenchment, but it is dangerous to let reduction in expenditure be such as to bring about a real gap in the continuity of the advertising. It is a common mistake for some advertisers to think that they can turn advertising on and off, like water from a faucet, and expect it to become immediately effective whenever they are prepared to resume operations. Advertising does not work that way. Temporary conditions should not influence us to make too serious inroads on the program of advertising, which can be wisely conceived only on a long term basis.—Francis H. Sisson, President American Bankers Association.

The Star Spangled Banner

Let it rise, Let it rise, till it meet the Sun in his coming: let the earliest light of the morning gild it, and the parting day linger and play on its summit

Daniel Webster (at Bunker Hill Monument)

ACCORDING to many historians there were several ceremonies celebrating the first anniversary of American Independence on July 4, 1777, says the Detroit News. The records show that at noon on that day the armed ships and galleys in the Delaware river, at Philadelphia, flew the "colors of the United States." On the same day a "flag bee" was held by the young ladies of Portsmouth, N. H., who with much patriotic enthusiasm and many heart thrills wrought out of their own and their mothers' gowns a beautiful Star-Spangled Banner. This coincides with a report that the Stars and Stripes were hoisted aloft on the vessel Raleigh in Portsmouth harbor on that date.

It was more than 150 years ago that Colonel Gansevoort and his little command of 800 men were defending Fort Stanwix, near the present site of Rome, N. Y. They had just heard that congress had passed a resolution authorizing the use of the Stars and Stripes.

They had no flag of the new pattern. The garrison was ransacked for material they could fashion into the new design. A blue cloth coat was offered by Captain Swartwout to form the blue union. A soldier's wife donated a red petticoat for the red stripes, and the soldiers ripped their ammunition shirts to supply the white stripes. It was not a handsome banner, but it thrilled the hearts of its makers as they placed it on a bastion nearest to the attacking British and allied troops.

This is the first time, so far as the available records show, that the Stars and Stripes were actually displayed before a hostile and threatening enemy. The date was August 3, 1777.

The official birthday of the Stars and Stripes was June 14, 1777, when the Continental congress passed a resolution "That the flag of the 13 United States be 13 stripes, alternate red and white; that the union be 13 stars, white in a blue field, representing a new constellation."

Nearly six months before the adoption of the flag by congress, George Washington crossed the Delaware and captured 1,000 Hessians in his brilliant attack on Trenton. Artists of the time show the Father of Our Country crossing the river in a boat displaying the familiar design of the Stars and Stripes. Apart from this doubtful evidence, which may have originated in the artists' imagination, there is nothing to prove that the Stars and Stripes was in use at this time.

Many theories as to the true origin of our National flag have been advanced, none of which have been definitely proved. Some believe it is an adoption of the coat-of-arms of the Washington family, which contains both stars and stripes. Others credit Betsy Ross with the creation of the design. Others maintain the idea for the flag came from the Netherlands.

The fact that Francis Hopkinson, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, submitted a bill to congress in 1779 for the designing of the "flag of the United States of America," lends color to the belief that he was its creator.

The United States flag has had 48 stars only since July 4, 1912, the Independence day following the admission of the last two states, New Mexico and Arizona.

FRANK W. JAHNKE PASSED ON LAST TUESDAY

APRIL TAXES WILL BECOME DELINQUENT JULY 1ST

June 30 is the last day of grace for paying the first half of taxes which were due and payable in March, without paying additional penalty. On July 1, a penalty of 3 per cent accrues.

If property owners pay their first installment of taxes before July 1, there will be no extra penalty except on special assessments. In order that our readers may fully acquaint themselves with this act we are herewith reproducing Sections I and II as follows:

Sec. 1 That the first half, or what is denominated in the statute as the first installment, of all taxes payable in he year 1933 shall not be deemed delinquent until July 1, 1933 and may be paid at anytime prior to said day without interest as a penalty.

Any penalty prior to the taking effect of this act shall be credited as a payment on the second installment. If said installment be not paid prior to said July 1, 1933 it shall draw from April 1, 1933 interest as a penalty, three fourths (¾) of one per cent (1%) per month until paid.

Sec. 2 This act deemed of immediate importance and shall be in force and egect from and after its publication in two newspapers of this state, as provided by law.

I hereby certify that the foregoing act was published in the Emmetsburg Democrat, April 13, 1933 and the Monroe Mirror, April 13, 1933.

KNOW THE LAW

Some misunderstanding has led many to believe that spearing which is now permtted under the new regulations for certain species can be done without a license. Spearing is a form of fishing and is a method of taking fish from Iowa waters and for that reason it is necessary for anyone desiring to spear gar, carp, quillback or buffalo first to procure a license, except for farmers fishing on their own land.

Little Gray Car

By CHARLES TILTON

©, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate. WNU Service

OLIVE swung the bag carelessly as she walked; it was a beautiful thing, of oriental brocade in peacock shades. Larry Deane had given it to her on her birthday, shortly after their engagement, and she cherished it above all her treasures save the beautiful cluster of diamonds on her fingers. Because she was quarreling with Larry, she had willfully included the bag in her wrath and twisted it mercilessly on the end of its golden cords.

"The cord will break and you will lose the bag," cautioned Larry.

Olive pondered provokingly. "There are some really precious things in it—my vanity case, my gold purse, the birthday gift Joe Watterson gave me, one of his letters, and—"

"Isn't that enough?" glared Larry, for they had been disagreeing about Joe's attentions to Olive.

"Enough letters from Joe? Well, he is interesting, Larry—so good tempered. One enjoys him, you know."

"I know one who doesn't enjoy him—although he's a cheerful sort of an idiot."

"The cheerful ones are the nicest, just the same," tossed Olive over her shoulder as his little gray roadster turned into the driveway of her father's house.

"Hmmmmm!" remarked Larry disagreeably.

As he helped her out and she released her hand, he discovered that she had left the cluster-of-diamonds ring in his palm. He grew white and stared at her.

"You mean that, Olive?"

"Of course."

"Why?"

"You do not trust me—you are jealous."

"I am sorry you believe that—I said nothing until you criticized my dancing with Ella—well, what does it matter? If you really cared, you could not play with happiness in this way. Good-by," he said.

Olive watched him with unbelieving eyes; as he went the gray car became a blur because she was crying. When her mother inquired why she wept Olive confessed that she had lost her beautiful brocade bag.

"How careless," chided Mrs. Dare. "Perhaps it is in the car, dear. Shall I telephone to Larry?"

"No—no—please don't! I have given Larry back his ring—and I've lost his bag—and I never want any of them back again," announced Olive.

"You have lost something very precious," remarked her mother sadly.

* * * * * * *

"Some bird!" ejaculated Larry, as the little gray car poked along through a pleasant byway on the road home. His gaze was fixed on a bit of brilliant blue-green perched in a shade bush beside the road.

"Olive's bag!" he cried, recognizing it with a pang, and then the little gray car stopped promptly. Larry took the bag from its perch. The golden cord that served as a handle was broken and he realized that, in the heat of the argument, Olive had unwittingly swung the bag once too often and lost it. Perhaps she had done it intentionally something whispered in his ear, but he dashed suspicion aside.

Jealousy came to take its place. She had said Joe Watterson's letter was there—ruthlessly he pulled the bag open and looked; the golden purse, the foolish pencil Joe had given her—it looked like a stick of peppermint candy—some letters which he recognized as his own—and one penciled scrawl which might be Joe's. Suddenly he did not care about Joe. His own letters made the bag precious to her. He must bear with her! He had not touched the contents of the bag, and now he dropped the engagement ring inside and drew the cord tightly. Just then he heard footsteps, hurrying.

Larry hung the bag on the bush and the little car scampered to a bend in the road and waited breathlessly. Larry peered through the underbrush. It was Olive.

There were traces of tears of her soft cheeks.

When she saw the brocade bag she uttered a soft cry of pleasure and snatched it from the bush, hugged it to her lips.

"You dear, dear thing!" she sobbed, "you are all that I have left—"

That is what she really said, for Larry had stolen upon her and heard her just in time to hold her very tightly in his strong arms.

"Is it too late for happiness, dear?"

"Not—if you can forgive my being so silly," she whispered.

"Then—let us say it will never happen again—and the ring is in the bag—"

At last when they were seated in the car and Larry had started it, Olive turned swiftly.

"What was that sound?"

Larry said he didn't know, but I think he suspected it was a quiet chuckle from the sympathetic little gray car.

Became Cruel King

Sennacherib was the son of Sargon, commander in chief of Assyria under Shalmaneser, who seized the throne upon that monarch's death, displacing the infant heir Ninipiluya, and became a very wise, successful, and cruel king. It is thought that glass was invented in his reign. He is mentioned in Isaiah 20:1, and is especially notable as a conqueror of Babylon, chief city of Babylonia on the Euphrates.

A Fowl Reply

Hayes looked thoughtful.

"Tell me," he said, "is a chicken big enough to eat when it is two weeks old?"

His friend laughed.

"Don't be absurd," he replied. "Of course it isn't."

Hayes gave him a friendly push.

"Then how does it live?" he asked. "Tell me that."

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

©, 1933, Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for July 2

JOSHUA

LESSON TEXT—Joshua 1:1-9; 23:3, 4, 14.

GOLDEN TEXT—Have not I commanded thee? Be strong and of a good courage; be not afraid, neither be thou dismayed: for the Lord thy God is with thee whithersoever thou goest. Joshua 1:9.

PRIMARY TOPIC—God Helping Joshua.

JUNIOR TOPIC—A Captain Courageous.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How Joshua Succeeded.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Source of Joshua's Strength.

The book of Joshua, from which our lesson is taken, is a history of the conquest of the promised land and its division among the tribes of Israel. It takes its name from its principal character, Joshua.

I. Joshua, the New Leader of Israel.

1. His appointment (Num. 27:18-20). The people were not to be left in doubt as to a leader when Moses was gone. The leader was to be appointed and to be given recognition before the people.

During the wilderness journey Joshua was Moses' minister and the captain of his army. When Moses was denied the privilege of going over the Jordan, Joshua was appointed to the leadership of Israel.

2. Joshua's fitness for the leadership of Israel (Deut. 34:9).

a. He was full of the spirit of wisdom. Although not dependent upon human wisdom, God selects as his representatives men whom he has endowed with the proper wisdom.

b. He was divinely ordained for the work at the hand of Moses, for "Moses had laid his hands upon him." This he had done at the commandment of God (Num. 27:18).

c. The people owned him as their leader. For successful leadership, a ruler must have the individual affection and allegiance of the people.

II. Joshua Commanded to Take Charge (vv. 1, 2).

Moses was dead, but God's work must go on; therefore, God issued the command for the new leader to assume his duty.

III. God Renews His Promise to Israel Concerning the Land (vv. 3, 4).

This promise had been given to Abraham and renewed to Isaac, Jacob, and Moses. It is now renewed to Israel as they were about to enter upon its possession. The nearest this territory was ever possessed was during the reign of David and Solomon. This land still belongs to the Jews, and in God's own time they will possess it. The world will not be at peace nor the fullness of divine blessing come upon the world until Israel is in this land. The present distressful condition in Germany and other parts of Europe may hasten the movement of Israel to their own land. As these notes are written, Great Britain is being advised to open Palestine to the Jews.

IV. The Promise of the Divine Presence (v. 5).

Joshua was entering upon a perilous and difficult enterprise. The difficulties before Joshua were:

1. The Jordan river (v. 2). This river was now at its flood (Josh. 3:15), making it impossible for armies to cross.

2. People were living in walled cities (Num. 13:28). Notwithstanding this, God was ready to insure success.

a. "I will not fail thee, nor forsake thee" (v. 5).

b. "There shall not any man be able to stand before thee" (v. 5).

c. "As I was with Moses, so I will be with thee" (v. 5). Because of his conviction that God had been with his master he was willing and ready to cross the Jordan at its flood tide and courageously meet his enemies.

V. Conditions of Blessing in the Land (vv. 6-9).

1. "Be strong and of good courage" (v. 6). His mission was to go in and conquer the land and then to divide it among the tribes for an inheritance. To do this required courage.

2. Unwavering obedience to the Word of God (v. 7). In all his work he must conform his life to the law of God. In order to accomplish this the law of the Lord must be in his mouth continually. Joshua rendered prompt obedience.

VI. Joshua's Retrospection (Josh. 23:3, 4, 14).

As his life was now drawing to a close, he summoned the people and rulers and gave farewell counsel.

1. Rehearses God's goodness (v. 14). God had given rest to Israel from all their enemies and had brought them into the land of plenty.

2. All that had been done for them was by the hand of the Lord (vv. 3, 4). God had fought for them. No one was able to stand against them.

The Vision of Life

This vision of life in the cross is not a vision of despair but of confidence and hope, because behind it there is the empty tomb, and the figure with wounded hands outstretched to bless, ascending into glory.—G. A. Studdert Kennedy.

Your Porch

Let's live on the porch during hot weather.

30 inch Steel Porch Cots	$3.35
36 inch Steel Porch Cots	$4.35
Cotton Pads—30 inch	$2.30
STEEL CAMP COT, Close folding with green denim pad	$7.50
PORCH DAY BED, Hi-Grade with felted Cotton Mattress	$17.50
Hickory Porch Swing	$1.50
Porch Window Shades	35c
Grass Porch Rugs, 4'6"x7'6"	$2.50
Quaker Porch Rugs, 6x9,	$3.75
Used Porch Tables	$2.00 & $2.50
Iron Porch Beds	$1; $2; $3
Special Porch Settee	$4.00

THRESHING

Two things usually happen at threshing time; either your well goes dry or your dining table, when you pull it apart for the threshers, falls in a heap.

We are not in the pump business, but we sure can fit you out when it comes to dining tables.

1 Used Round Table	$3.50
1 Used 5 ft. Table	$5.00
1 Used 8 ft. Table	$11.00
6 good Oak Used Chairs	$9.00
6 Used Chairs, leather seats	$11.00
4 Used Chairs, leather seats	$6.50
6 New Bow Back Chairs	$7.50
DINING ROOM SUITE 8 peice; New Walnut	$55.00

Also nice stock of Mirrors, Towel Racks, etc.

How about a cool Quaker Rug for your Dining Room?

REPAIRS

Old furniture is made strong when repaired in our shop. Since the rush of house cleaning is over we have more time to devote to repair jobs. Bring in your broken furniture. Prices reasonable at this time of year.

Shoe and harness work is handled by Ned Howard at lowest prices ever known in Klemme.

Wm. Voiles has a marked talent for sewing machine repairing. Bring your "head" to the store for a guaranteed job.

Ten or a dozen piano tuners work in our territory, but we recommend just two, Mr. Church of Forest City and Mr. Powell of Mason City, all work guaranteed. Leave orders for tuning or piano repair work here at the Store.

Memory Picture

One of the most sacred duties of the funeral director is to make the last rites a beautiful picture in the memory of those who remain.

To this end he employs all his skill in the preparation of the body, the selection of the merchandise and the conducting of the funeral service.

We measure our success by the extent to which we accomplish this purpose.

Egg Production

Most of the farm women say egg production has fallen off greatly since the hot weather came on. The hen, no doubt, does not like to work in hot weather any more than we human beings do, but if we had on us what most of the hens have we would not work very much either.

WHY DID THE HEN STOP LAYING TWO OR THREE WEEKS AFTER HOT WEATHER CAME ON?

Here is one and very likely a good answer: LICE, MITES and BEDBUGS. Mites can be kept down by average care, spraying with a good lice or mite killer, keep the roosts and dropping boards clean and the mite situation can be whipped. The louse and bedbug is harder to get rid of. The louse stays on the fowl all the time and you must get something that will kill them on the chicken. Bed bugs hide in the cracks and just spraying with ordinary dips will not do the trick and neither will one spraying get rid of any of these pests. They hatch in about seven days and in nine or ten days they breed and you have the same thing all over again if you do not keep after them. Two or three treatments of GERM-A-RID as per our instructions and we will guarantee you to be free of mites, lice and bedbugs.

IF YOU WANT A DEMONSTRATION, LET US KNOW!

But here is what you must do first: Thoroughly clean out your chicken house, clean off all the old and dried on droppings from the boards and roosts, clean out the nests, THEN give us a ring and we, with your help, will show you how GERM-A-RID will keep your house clean of these ornery pests.

GERM-A-RID

KILL FLIES, LICE, MITES, AND ALL INSECTS!

Try it, if not satisfied get your money back. Spray your little chickens while in the brooder house or in the coop and over night you can free your chickens from this pest.

EARLY "FOURTH" CELEBRATIONS

Parades, Picnics, Patriotic Programs Order of the Day.

THE old-fashioned Fourth of July celebration of a quarter century ago was an event looked forward to with great interest and preparations by individuals, families, towns and cities.

The celebration usually was held in a grove, near the county seat or another prominent town, where there was an abundance of shade and water. Delegations would come from neighboring townships and hamlets, each with its procession of wagons for the old folks, women and children and a snappy cavalcade of boys and girls on horseback.

At the head of the procession the stars and stripes would be carried in a decorated wagon in which would ride the local band. These country bands were of martial type—two fifes, two snare drums and a big bass drum and the performers were, as a rule, Civil war veterans. To be a good fifer or drummer was a proud distinction. The bands gave patriotic color to the scene as the delegation passed along the winding trails.

Each country division would be in command of a captain, usually an ex-soldier, conspicuous by his sash of red and his military hat. The divisions would reach town early and patiently wait at the edge of town or along side streets until assigned their places in the "grand procession." Prizes were awarded for the best display by a visiting delegation. The grand parade would form at 10 o'clock, pass along the principal streets, circle the court house square, cross the river bridge and, with bands playing and banners flying, triumphantly enter the celebration grounds, while snapping firecrackers, fluttering flags and booming cannon proclaimed the sentiments of the day.

The county seat contribution to this grand parade was often extensive and spectacular. To be its commander or "chief marshal of the day" was a coveted distinction. Usually "Major" or "Colonel" somebody would be chosen and his word was law for that day. His red sash and hat with gold tassels distinguished him from the captains of delegations, who acted as his aids. To fill this position often made the occupant a candidate for sheriff, mayor or the state legislature. The grand procession, headed by this dignitary and a brass band, often "took more than an hour to enter the grounds."

Upon reaching the grounds and feeding and watering the horses—no small task—the morning exercises began. The glee clubs would sing; the president of the day would deliver an address, and some favored school teacher would read the Declaration of Independence.

These exercises were only heard by those near the speaker's stand; for many were crowding around the pump or the barrels of "free ice water, as advertised," getting ready for dinner; while the noisy battle of fire crackers and torpedoes was being fought by small boys.

And then "dinner," with the tubs and baskets filled with old-fashioned food. Was there ever such sliced ham, juicy fried chicken, homemade rolls and doughnuts, eggs and pickles, jams, relishes, preserves, pies, cakes and hot coffee? A long table supplied the hungry wayfarer, but many preferred to dine by families or neighborhoods, even at the risk of being called "stylish and stuck up."

Sometimes there were supplies of "barbecued beef," "tumble in" and huge kettles of black coffee free for all. When such attractions were advertised, people often drove from points 30 or more miles away.

AMERICA

MY COUNTRY, 'tis of thee,
Sweet land of liberty,
Of thee I sing;
Land where my fathers died,
Land of the Pilgrims' pride,
From every mountain side
Let freedom ring.

My native country, thee,
Land of the noble free—
Thy name I love;
I love thy rocks and rills,
Thy woods and templed hills;
My heart with rapture thrills
Like that above.

Let music swell the breeze
And ring from all the trees
Sweet freedom's song;
Let mortal tongues awake,
Let all that breathe partake,
Let rocks their silence break—
The sound prolong.

Our fathers' God, to thee,
Author of liberty,
To thee I sing;
Long may our land be bright
With freedom's holy light;
Protect us by thy might,
Great God, our King.

July 4ths Before Noisy Crackers

ALTHOUGH giant firecrackers are a recent innovation and modern fireworks are actually more colorful, the rollicking fun of the hazardous celebrations of Independence Day in the Fifties will never be recaptured, writes Dan Beard, famous outdoorsman, in "Boys' Life."

"On the morning of the Fourth," recalls the author, "every boy tried to be first up and out to start the racket which was to continue all day. Most of us had some kind of a cannon which we fired as soon as we got outside of the house. Some boys made cannon by mounting the brass barrels of flint lock pistols on blocks; some even molded their own cannon by making a cylinder of writing paper, setting it into a hole in the earth or damp sand, whittling out a stick for the core and when everything was in place, pouring melted lead in and around the core inside the paper cylinder. Some of the more reckless boys made cannon of beef bones, by digging out the marrow and filing a touch hole; such cannon burst frequently, sometimes with serious and painful results; bnt in those days it was considered necessary for every lad to own a cannon of some sort.

"I was blown up but twice on Fourth of July or any other day. Once I had the powder from my cannon heaped up on a piece of brown paper and it and the cannon went off at the same time but did no real damage. My face happened to be turned the other way. The second time a pot of red fire exploded when my face was not turned away and I was laid up for repairs for about six months. A boy across the street had what we called fizzers, firecrackers broken in the middle.

"On Fourth of July," continues Dan Beard, "flags were displayed at every house; indeed the fronts of all the dwellings were more or less decorated with patriotic designs, big pictures of Washington, red, white and blue streamers, and at night the houses were illuminated along the line of parades. Red, white and blue tissue paper was tacked or pasted over all the window panes and illuminated by the light from gas or candles inside.

"Candles were often placed in each window pane, making a very brilliant effect and a very dangerous one, as the frequent clanging of the fire bells testified. Pin wheels, sky rockets, Roman candles, flower pots, fiery serpents, double-headed Dutchmen and all sorts of things were sputtering and booming on every street. To our great delight, reckless young men would often stand in the middle of the street and fire Roman candles at each other and many very painful and dangerous burns occurred from this practice; but I think all survived. I do not recall any fatal accidents from Roman candle duels. It is, however, a good thing that all this belongs to the past, for the country is too thickly populated to admit of such primitive sport, our cities are too congested, and today an old-fashioned Fourth of July would claim far too many lives."

CAN BEANS, PEAS, GREENS

Of the non-acid vegetables commonly canned, string beans are the easiest to can, with spinach, asparagus, peas and corn beng more difficult in the order named.

For peas, beans and greens, adding 1 teaspoon or more of lemon juice or vinegar per pint will greatly aid in getting the product to keep though some people object to the taste of vegetables when these acids are added.

It is important to attempt to can only freshly gathered, clean, sound greens, peas or beans. If they are packed in the jars hot, that will help in the processing, because one of the difficulties is to get the heat to penetrate quickly to the center of the jar or can. If course it is important to obtain a perfect seal. The jars should be cooled as quickly as possible after they are processed and then stored at once in a cool basement or cellar.

Greens should be sorted carefully discarding old leaves, tough stems and the like. They should then be washed carefully in several waters. The dirt will settle to the bottom of the container, so one should lift the leaves out rather than attempt to pour the water off.

Boil greens about 3 to 5 minutes and pack into the jars hot. Add ½ teaspoon of salt per pint or 1 teaspoon per quart. Use the water in which the greens were cooked to fill the can. If this is not enough, add boiling water to fill the jar within 3-8 inch of the top. Process greens in a boiling water bath for 3 hours or in a pressure cooker at 10 pounds pressure for I hour. After processing. remove and seal the jars.

Sort beans according to their size and maturity. It takes longer to process those which are large and mature. Wash and remove the strings. Break into small pieces or they may be processed whole if one desires. Heat to boiling in an open kettle. Pack into the jars while boiling hot, being careful not to pack them too tightly. Add ½ teaspoon of salt per pint or 1 teaspoon per quart. Fill the jars to 3-8 inch of the top and process in a hot water bath for 2½ hours or for 40 minutes in a pressure cooker at ten pounds pressure. If lemon juice is added (1 teaspoon per pint) the processing may be reduced to 1½ hours for pint jars and 13-4 for quarts.

Peas should be boiled 3 to 5 minutes before packing them in the jars. They should be packed loosely and processed 3 hours in a hot water bath or for 1 hour at 10 pounds pressure in a pressure cooker. Because they are hard to can, it is better not to attempt to can peas in quart jars.

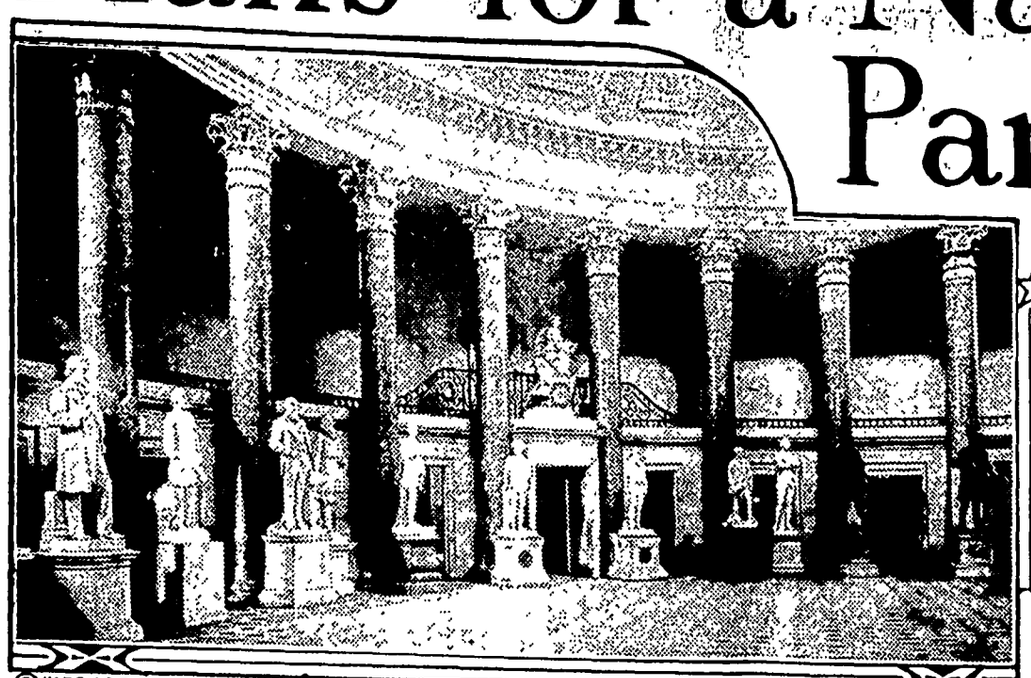
Plans for a National Pantheon

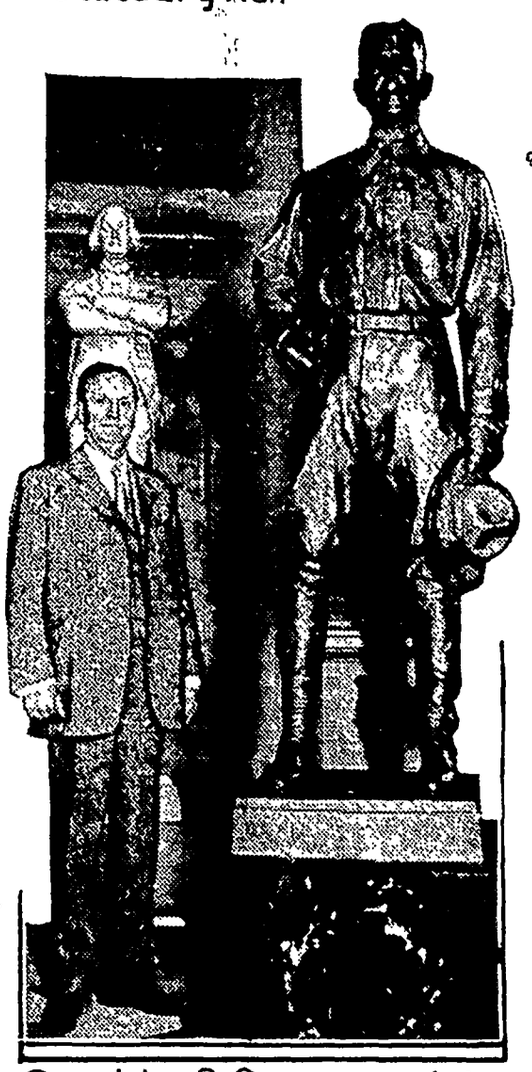


© HARRIS & EWING

The Present Statuary Hall

Senator Robert M. LaFollette—Wisconsin

Alexander H. Stephens—Georgia



Gen. John C. Greenway—Arizona

John M. Clayton—Delaware

Sequoyah—Oklahoma

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

THE recent announcement from Washington, that some of the statues in Statuary hall on the "main line" between the house and senate chambers in the United States Capitol are to be removed because engineers believe that the weight of the 68 bronze and stone figures which now crowd the hall is endangering the foundations of the chamber, has brought again into the limelight an institution which is regarded as our "national hall of fame."

Plans are under way to place many of the statues in the long corridor on the ground floor that runs the entire length of the Capitol building. Instead of being crowded together in a single chamber, these statues henceforth will be widely distributed.

This action has also revived talk of providing a national pantheon, a building where there would be ample room for the proper display of every statue, such as was provided for by a bill which was introduced into congress in recent years by Representative George H. Tinkham of Massachusetts, but which was referred to a committee and seems to have become lost in the legislative shuffle.

Statuary hall is the original chamber of the national house of representatives. In 1864 Representative Merrill of Vermont introduced a resolution to have the old house chamber set aside for this purpose. Each state was authorized to place there two statues of men and women who had been "illustrious for their historic renown" and had rendered distinguished civil or military service to the country.

Recent additions include statues of John M. Clayton and Caesar Rodney from Delaware, Hannibal Hamlin from Maine, Alexander H. Stephens from Georgia, John C. Greenway from Arizona, Robert M. La Follette from Wisconsin and Sequoyah from Oklahoma.

The list of states and the men who have honored their notables follow:

ALABAMA—J. L. M. Curry, member of congress, Confederate veteran, minister to Spain, and author; General Joseph Wheeler, graduate of the Confederacy and brigadier general, United States army, in Spanish war, also a member of congress.

ARIZONA—John Campbell Greenway, Yale athlete, Rough Rider, World war veteran and mining engineer.

ARKANSAS—Uriah M. Rose, lawyer, chancellor of state, president of the American Bar association, appointed by President Theodore Roosevelt one of delegates to the Peace congress at The Hague with rank of ambassador; James P. Clarke, governor of Arkansas and United States senator.

CALIFORNIA—Junipero Serra, missionary of the Franciscan order, the establisher of nine missions; Thomas Starr King, minister of the First Unitarian church in California and "the man whose matchless oratory saved California to the Union"—in the words of the inscription on his portrait at the capitol in Sacramento.

CONNECTICUT—Roger Sherman, signer of the Declaration of Independence, member of the Continental congress, of the Constitutional convention of the house of representatives and the senate; Jonathan Trumbull, chief justice and Governor of Connecticut, the only Colonial governor who espoused the cause of independence.

DELAWARE—John M. Clayton, who, as secretary of state under President Zachary Taylor, conducted the Clayton-Bulwer treaty with Great Britain; Caesar Rodney, member of the Continental congress and signer of the Declaration of Independence.

FLORIDA—Dr. John Gorrie, physician and inventor of the ice machine and mechanical refrigeration; Gen. E. Kirby Smith, Mexican war soldier, Confederate leader and in civil life a famous educator.

GEORGIA—Dr. Crawford Williamson Long, physician and discoverer of ether anesthesia; Alexander Hamilton Stephens, vice president of the Confederacy.

IDAHO—George L. Shoup, pioneer and patriot, colonel in the Union army, governor of Idaho, both territory and state, and United States senator.

ILLINOIS—James Shields, Union officer in Mexican and Civil wars and United States senator; Frances E. Willard, reformer, president and founder of the Woman's Christian Temperance union.

INDIANA—Oliver P. Morton, Civil war governor and senator; Lew Wallace, Union general and author of "Ben Hur."

IOWA—James Harlan, senator and secretary of interior; Samuel Jordan Kirkwood, minister to Denmark, senator and secretary of interior.

KANSAS—John J. Ingalls, lawyer, scholar and statesman, three terms a senator; George Washington Glick, governor and Union veteran.

KENTUCKY—Henry Clay, speaker of the house, senator and secretary of state; Ephraim McDowell, physician and surgeon.

MAINE—William King, first governor, successful banker and business man; Hannibal Hamlin, Vice President under Lincoln.

MARYLAND—Charles Carroll, member of the Continental congress and last surviving signer of the Declaration of Independence; John Hanson, patriot of the Revolution and president of the Continental congress.

MICHIGAN—Lewis Cass, senator, cabinet officer and statesman; Zachariah Chandler, senator, secretary of interior and chairman of the Republican national committee.

MASSACHUSETTS—Samuel Adams, governor, and patriot of the Revolution; John Winthrop, Colonial governor.

MINNESOTA—Henry Mower Rice, pioneer and one of the first senators from the state.

MISSISSIPPI—Jefferson Davis, president of the Confederacy; James Z. George, Confederate soldier and United States senator.

MISSOURI—Francis P. Blair, soldier, editor and political leader; Thomas H. Benton, senator and strong Union man.

NEW HAMPSHIRE—John Stark, soldier in the French, Indian and Revolutionary wars; Daniel Webster, senator and famous foe of secession.

NEW JERSEY—Richard Stockton, eminent Colonial leader; Philip Kearny, famous soldier and explorer.

NEW YORK—Robert R. Livingston, Colonial governor and signer of the Declaration of Independence; George Clinton, governor of the state and Vice President of the United States.

NORTH CAROLINA—Zebulon Baird Vance, Confederate veteran, governor and senator; Charles Brantly Aycock.

OHIO—James A. Garfield, Civil war general and President; William Allen, senator and governor.

OKLAHOMA—Sequoyah, Cherokee Indian and inventor of the Cherokee alphabet.

PENNSYLVANIA—J. P. G. Muhlenberg, minister of the gospel, soldier and member of the house; Robert Fulton, the adapter of steam power to the propelling of ships.

HER TWENTY-FOUR HOURS OF GLORY

Parisian "Lady of the Tub" Queen for a Day.

"In the gay nineties," says a bulletin of the National Geographic society, "the washerwomen or blanchisseuses in each quarter of the city of Paris elected a queen from among themselves, and the queens in their turn elected a 'Queen of Queens.' This honored lady of the tub was borne on a throne to the president of the republic, who bestowed upon her a golden bracelet. Among other presents she received $100 in gold, a dress which might serve for her wedding gown, and a crown which might later be pawned or used as a parlor decoration, depending upon the vicissitudes of the queen's later years.

"Recent celebrations have been merely processions of floats, grotesque or lovely according to the moods of their designers. The queens of queens have been beautiful—and with no background of suds. The president now presents them with wrist watches.

"Mi-Careme's queen for the day is selected from the 20 queens who represent the 20 arrondissements of Paris. In addition to these queens there are many more, including queens of students, hucksters, dressmakers, and typists.

"The number of queens has grown so great that it is now impossible for each to have a separate automobile for herself, and others for her attendants; so each queen has her car filled with her ladies in waiting. The automobiles of the queens are followed by floats which often caricature current events. There may be, for example, the ogre of high prices, the housing problem, and the vulture-faced landlord.

"The route of the procession is equivalent to a sight-seeing tour of Paris. It passes through the most interesting sections of the city: the Latin quarter, the Place de la Concorde, the Madeleine, the Opera, and Port Saint Denis. The procession stops at two places, the Elysee palace, where the president kisses the hand of the queen of queens and bestows a wrist watch upon her, and the Hotel de Ville where the city fathers' place her on a dais which is occasionally used for the entertainment of a visiting sovereign.

"Mid-lent Thursday is the only day except the French national holiday on July 14 when the Paris boulevards are closed to vehicular traffic and turned over to the crowds of pedestrians struggling to get close to the festival cars.

"Celebrations for Mi-Careme are now held in Corsica, Italy, and Spain. Nice and Cannes on the French Riviera, stand out, however, as the cities where the holiday spirit of the occasion is enjoyed with prewar zest and where the populace is not just a crowd of observers but active participants in the fun."

Wisdom and Dietetics Served in Two Kernels

The National Nut News deposits before its readers this kernel of wisdom, suitable for consumption everywhere. "Business is not a matter of promise, but of performance. A business man or institution is rated by his productions. If he does not serve his constituency to its satisfaction that constituency will select some other servant," and it advocates this addition to the diet: "Two dozen blanched and shredded almonds; butter; one tablespoon chutney; one-quarter teaspoon salt; one tablespoon worcestershire sauce; two tablespoons chopped pickles; few grains of cayenne. Fry almonds until well browned, using enough butter to prevent burning. Mix remaining ingredients, pour over nuts and serve as soon as thoroughly heated."

Says Her Husband Lost 16 Pounds In 4 Weeks

"I have never found a medicine that 'peps' you up like Kruschen Salts and better still, leaves you 'pepped up.' I take it two or three times a week—not to reduce but merely to feel good and clean. My husband took it to reduce, he lost 16 pounds in 4 weeks." Mrs. E. A. Ferris, Washington, D. C. (December 29, 1932).

To lose fat and at the same time gain in physical attractiveness and feel spirited and youthful take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning.

A jar that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle at any drugstore in the world but be sure and get Kruschen Salts the SAFE way to reduce wide hips, prominent front and double chin and again feel the joy of living—money back if dissatisfied after the first jar.

Bird study is interesting and is considered a very important part of hundred's of Iowan's lives. Several rare species are seen every year and their appearance in Iowa and very often the fact that they exist at all is valuable information to those who are listing Iowa's birds. The 25 year Conservation Plan adopted by the Fish and Game Commission and the Board of Conservation includes the preservation of the seed stock of all species of birds known to Iowa. For that reason this plea goes forth from the Fish and Game Commission. As a reminder Do Not Kill Strange Birds But Get Their Description As Completely As Possible And Give This Information To Those Who Are Interested.

EN STEER WITH SOYBEANS

Feeders To Hear Results of Tests Made At Ames

feeding trials with steer and calves during the past year Iowa Agricultural Experiment , Ames, have been concerned ily with helping to answer uestions: First, can soybeans d successfully as the protein ment and if so, in what quan- should they be fed? Second, lves be started on a limited and finished later on full- ith profit.

soybeans were fed whole and e different amounts, 1 pound eer daily, 1 1-3 pounds and ounds. These amounts were o approximate light, medium eavy allowances. All were red with a group similarly fed that linseed oil was used in of soybeans.

year ago the lots that were ybeans did not show as good as the steers that got linseed l," says C. C. Culbertson, in charge of the tests. "So ear we switched one lot that e medium allowance of soy- (11-3 pounds per steer daily) soybeans to linseed oilmeal 5 months. We hoped to deter- y this trial whether soybeans be used in the latter part to finish similar to that from linseed oilmeal throughout. esults of this test will be out and the steers themselves to the visitors at Iowa Cattle s 'Hey Day' at Ames, July lot of steers also got soybean l this year. The basal ration calves this year on the pro- upplement tests consisted of ilage, shelled corn, alfalfa alt, a mineral mixture and otein supplement—either soy- linseed oilmeal or soybean l.

second major part of the g trials was concerned with dvisability of limit the in the early part of the feed- als. If one buys calves in the d wishes to market them in nber, October or a little later llowing fall, he is like to find lves ready for markea long be- he desired marketing date if lves are on full-feed all year. ordingly, this year three of ts were limited for the first onths. They were given all of lage and hay they cared for, ere fed only a third as much as the lots were taking that n full-feed. One lot got equal of corn and oats and the other rn. One of these lots is now finished in dry lot and another ture so that a direct compari- ay be made between these 2 ds of finishing baby beeves.

BIG CROWD ATTENDS ANNUAL PICNIC FOR REFORMED BIBLE SCHOOL

Young People Enjoyed Party On Lawn In The Evening

Last Friday a large crowd gathered at the Reformed Church to attend the closing program of the annual Bible School and to attend the annual picnic given in honor of the students.

The students of the Bible School gave their program in the church which was enjoyed by a large gathering. The students are all to be complimented on their excellent demonstration of the knowledge they acquired during the several weeks of the Bible School course.

At noon more people came and enjoyed a fine picnic under the shade trees at the read of the church.

The afternoon was enjoyed in all kinds of sports by the younger people, while the older ones present enjoyed visiting. A ball game between the Alumni and the Bible Shool attracted a lot of attention and provided excitement. Athletic contests after the ball game provided a lot of fun.

Young People Have Party

In the evening the young people of the church gathered to enjoy their annual party and had a lot of fun playing games on the lawn. Later they enjoyed a lunch of ice cream and cake.

The Bible School was considered one of the most successful ever held and the attendance was large.

USE TENDER CARROTS, BEETS

While it is advisable in parts of the country where storage conditions are favorable to store carrots and beets for use during the winter. these "favorable" conditions usually do not exist.

Unless storage conditions are good, the carorts and beets will dry out and lose much of their flavor. It is also very convenient to open a can of carrots and beets and have them ready for a meal in a few minutes instead of having to begin the coking process long in advance of meal time.

Either beets or carrots should be canned before they are too large and as soon as possible after they have been pulled—while they are still fresh and crisp. Small beets shoud be canned whole and carrots may be ,too.

In preparing beets, leave an inch of the stems on and all of the roots while blanching as this will prevent loss of color. Wash the beets, then blanch them in boiling water 10 to 15 minutes—until the skins loosen. Now cold dip them and remove the skins. Pack them into hot jars with 1 teaspoon of salt to each quart. Fill the jars with boiling water partly seal and process for 1½ hours in a hot water bath for for 40 minutes in a steam pressure cooker at 10 pounds pressure. Remove from the canner and seal at once.

Carrots should be canned in the same manner Unless they are old do not scrape them, but merely wash them vigorously with a stiff brush.

Small carrots are especially delicious when canned in the foregoing manner. If one plans to can carrots by all means do so before they get too large.

PLANT GARDEN CROPS IN JULY

Corn, Beans, Carrots, Turnips, Beets Radishes and Lettuce Possibilities

The abnormally hot. dry weather which has ruined gardens in many parts of Iowa makes it even more desirable than usual to plant late garden vegetables this season.

Corn and beans may be planted the first week of July. A satisfactory yield can be expected with a reason able amount of rainfall between now and frost. Carrots and beets planted the first week of July have an even chance of producing vegetables for winter storage.

Late cabbage plants transplanted the first of July mature during the cool days of fall and if tomato plants can be secured these will produce a crop before frost if the season is normal.

Turnip seed may be sown the latter part of July and radishes and lettuce the middle of August for a fall crop.

The new officers for the Epworth League are: Mildred Gast pres.; 1st vice pres. Novella Bredbenner; 2nd vice pres. Ethel Pringnitz; 3rd vice pres Irma Sampson; 4th vice pres. Kenneth Gast; assts. Marie Stille Glen Lang and Ruth Wellemeyer. Secretary Howard Horn; treas. Vella Paul; Pianist Ruth Abele, asst. Marie Stille.

TWO BIG RAINS HERE DURING THE PAST WEEK

Heavy, Soaking Rain Great Benefit To The Corn Crop

This community and most of this part of Iowa, had big rains Friday and Saturday nights. In some localities heavy winds accompanied the rain. Saturday night tornadoes accompanied the rain storm in parts of Iowa.

The rains in this community will do a lot of good, especially for the corn, which never looked better than this year, but which could stand more moisture. Small grain will not benefit as much and a rain a couple of weeks ago would have helped the oats. However, farmers say the big rain came in time for all crops.

No accurate measurements for rain are available in Klemme, but the general contention is that we had about an inch and a half Friday night, and more than that on Saturday night.

FARMERS BATTLE CHINCH BUGS

State Lends Hand to Help Save Corn Crop in Southern Counties

"Save the corn" is the battle cry of farmers in the southern two tiers of Iowa counties following one of the worst chinch bug atta.. several years.

These pests are far more serious than the recent grasshopper invasion. Last week no serious infestations had been reported outside the two southern tiers of counties except in Marion. All through that southern section, however 90 per cent of the oats was badly damaged and the bugs were moving into the corn from 5 to 20 rows already having been killed in many fields.

The State Department of Agriculture has made arrangements to pay half of the cost of oil for maintaining barriers to prevent the bugs from moving into cornfields providing the oil does not cost more than 6 cents per gallon. Application for this aid should be made to county agents.

The only method recommended by college entomologists for stopping the movement of chinch bugs from small grain into corn is the use of barriers made of dust or of some material such as crude creosote or refuse from gas plants.

Ordinarily the migration of the chinch bugs from small grain to corn lasts for about 2 weeks, but sometimes longer, depending upon the amount of food left in the stubble after harvest. In some heavily infested fields, migration started before harvest after the crop had been destroyed by the bugs.

Chinch bugs ordinarily migrate from the small grain in the afternoon, the daily peak of migration coming between 2 and 7 p. m. On cool days, where there is a shortage of food, bugs may migrate during the entire day.

MR. AND MRS. ED HUGHES BACK FROM WEEK'S TRIP IN WEST

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hughes, accompanied by Miss Mamie White, of Goodell, returned Monday from their week's trip west. They left Klemme on a Monday morning and reached Torrington, Wyoming Tuesday forenoon. Mr. Hughes drove his Ford V-8, using 78 gallons of gasoline on the trip of 1,622 miles for an average of 20.8 miles per gallon of gasoline. He used two quarts of oil on the trip out.

They report that crops looked fine all the way. The wheat and sugar beets around Torrington promise to be a good crop this year.

OVER ONE HUNDRED MASONS AND STARS ENJOY PICNIC AT CAMP ROOSEVELT

Families From Garner, Klemme and Hayfield Enjoy Day At Camp

Sunday noon Masons and Eastern Stars and their families met at Camp Roosevelt, Ventura Heights, where they enjoyed a big picnic dinner in the mess hall at the Boy Schout Camp. Two long tables accomodated the crowd of one hundred and four persons who enjoyed the dinner which was served at 1:30 o'clock.

The afternoon as enjoyed in pitching horseshoes, visiting. etc. A ball game between the Klemme Tigers and the Garner White Sox ended in a tie of 8 to 8 called off on account of a big "argument" and both sides decided to quit while everybody was still friendly. Frank Clark, editor of the Garner Herald was the umpire and several times his scalp was in danger.

After the ball game a large number enjoyed swimming and water sports.

Those present all say they had a fine time and suggested that another such gathering be held early in the fall.

LARGE FISH CHASES MUSKRAT AND GETS CAUGHT

Mille Lacs Messenger:— Mr. Casper Olson, who is spending the summer with his daughter, Mrs. L. E. Simmons of Isle, had a peculiar adventure Sunday afternoon at Lower Twin Bays, where the family spent the week end in one of Simmons cottages.

Mr. Olson was strolling along the beach when he noticed a full-grown muskrat apparently making frantic efforts to escape from something that was pursuing it, swimming as fast as it could and frequently making terrified leaps forward. As it got into shallow water Mr. Olson could see that it was followed by a big fish and decided to go to its rescue. He waded out toward it. In the meantime the water had become so shallow that it interfered with the progress of the fish and the muskrat escaped to the shore.

Mr. Olson grappled with the fish which was clowndering around in a few inches of water. The big northern pike as in no pleasant frame of mind, probably because of the escape of the muskrat and bit savagely at Mr. Olson who has a lacerated hand to show as proof that this is a true story. He landed the fish which tipped the scales at a little over twenty-five pounds.

Klemme Boy Likes Reforestration Camp

Paul Sampson, who enlisted in Reforestration work about five weeks ago, came home Saturday from Winona, Minnesota where two hundred young men are doing erosion work along the Mississippi river.

Paul was located at a camp near Des Moines for several weeks where the boys received training and were then sent to other camps to get into the actual work. Paul says the boys are all fine young men, the officers are mighty fine and that the "grub" is great. He likes the work very much.

Paul came to Iowa with a group of 56 boys who all rode in a truck to Mason City. They spent the week end at home and then returned to the camp again Tuesday night.

SIX YEAR OLD GIRL KILLED AT GARNER JULY FOURTH

Struck By Car When She Chased Balloon Into The Street

Beatrice Nonweiler, six year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Nonweiler, of Miller, was struck by an automobile driven by Raymond Bunkofske, young Garner man, Tuesday afternoon at about 5:30 o'clock. The little girl died in a Garner doctor's office a few minutes after the accident.

The little girl who had been playing on the lawn of the Ziska home, near the Catholic church and was chasing a toy balloon when she ran out into the street. Bunkofske, who was driving at a slow rate of speed, did not see her. Glenn Gard, Ventura, and Doris Ziska, Garner, were riding with Bunkofske at the time of the accident.

A boy from Forest City picked up the girl and took her to the doctor's office where she died a few minutes later.

No blame was attached by officials to the driver of the car. Witnesses said the accident was unavoidable as the child ran from behind another car into the car's path.

Hayfield Boy Injured

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bredlow's little boy was injured at Garner July 4th when he was struck by a car and sustained body bruises. Reports are that at this time his injuries were not considered serious. Mr. and Mrs. Bredlow, who now farm near Hayfield, are former residents of the Klemme community.

He was considered out of danger Tuesday night. The child received severe cuts on the face and body bruises and was taken to a local physicians office for treatment and taken to his home. The accident happened near St. Boniface Catholic Church.

Returned From Month's Visit In Kentucky

Sadie Turgasen returned Sunday evening from a month's visit with her son, Vernon and wife at Louisville, Kentucky. She reports that she had a wonderful time and enjoyed the trip very much. Severe storms delayed the train on which she was returning and was over twelve hours late. Vernon Turgasen is a chemist in a large dairy concern at Louisville.

"Buck Jones" Car Damaged By Falling Tree At Garner

Fred Kluckhohn and family drove to Garner Friday evening to enjoy the show, parking their car on the street. During the time they were in the theatre a wind storm came up and blew over a large tree which struck their car smashing a front fender. Chas. Marks, manager of the theatre had his car parked near the Kluckhohn car and the falling tree badly damaged his car wrecking the front part of the car.

Attending World's Fair

Mr. and Mrs. John Larson, daughter. Bessie, and son, James, drove to Chicago the latter part of the week to attend the World's Fair.

Dr. Bradshaw and wife left on Sunday on a long trip. In fact they will cover at least eighteen hundred miles before they return to Klemme as they are going to Vivian, South Dakota and to Syracuse, Kans. on business. They will be back and in the office again on July 10th.

How One Woman Lost 20 Lbs. Of Fat

Lost Her Prominent Hips—Double Chin—Sluggishness Gained A Shapely Figure

If you are fat how would you like to lose it and at the same time gain in physical charm and acquire a clean, clear skin and eyes that sparkle with buoyant health?

Why not do what thousands of women have done to get rid of pounds of unwanted fat? Take one half teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast and keep it up for 30 days. You can help the action of Kruschen by cutting down on pastry and fatty meats and going light on potatoes, butter and cream. Then weigh yourself and see how many pounds you have lost.

Kruschen Salts are a blend of 6 salts most helpful to body health. Best of all, a bottle of Kruschen Salts that will last you for 4 weeks costs but a trifle. Ask P. M. Wilson or any druggist for a bottle and start to lose fat today. It's the safe way to reduce but be sure you get Kruschen—your health comes first.

THE FIRM FOUNDATION—

Prosperity of a community to be permanent must be based on a solid foundation.

During the past three years expensive and painful lessons have been learned. The farmer who has relied on grain farming has in many instances, been strictly up against it to keep the ship afloat. This has not been the case where dairying has been practiced. Butter is one of the products of the farm that has not suffered a severe decline in prices, and compared with other farm products, during the reconstruction period and consequently dairymen have been able to pull through the period of depression with flying colors.

Prepare now for the future by building up a dairy herd.

ECONOMY

ELECTRIC REFRIGERATION

No question about it—you can save real money with an electric refrigerator. There's nothing imaginary about these savings either—for example: government statistics show that the average family loses three or four dollars' worth of food each month through spoilage and wasted left-overs. With electric rerigerator those precious dollars stay in your pocket. You can buy food in larger quantities because it keeps longer. Quantity buying represents another big saving. And don't forget that it costs less to operate an electric refrigerator than it does to keep your ice box supplied with ice. From every angle, electric refrigeration saves you money. See your local dealer.

CALEB

LESSON TEXT—Joshua 14:6-14.

GOLDEN TEXT—Blessed is that man that maketh the Lord his trust, and respecteth not the proud, nor such as turn aside to lies. Psalm 40:4.

PRIMARY TOPIC—A Truthful Soldier.

JUNIOR TOPIC—A Fearless Soldier Rewarded.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Caleb the Courageous.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Caleb's Confidence in God.

Caleb stands out in Bible history as a strong personality. He was a man of such character as deserves special study.

I. Elements of Caleb's Character.

1. Independence of spirit (Num. 13:30). Though the multitude clamored to follow the report of the ten, Caleb determined to stand alone. This is a highly important element in human character. One should stand for what he knows to be right regardless of the sentiment of the crowd.

2. Loyal to convictions (Josh. 14:6; cf. Num. 14:6-9). What Caleb knew and felt he spoke out. He did not wait for the opinion of others and then shape his own to suit that of the crowd. The man who can be trusted is the one who is loyal to his convictions. Joseph was an earlier, and Daniel a later example of the loyalty to conviction exhibited by Caleb.

3. Unselfish (Josh. 14:12). He did not wish to thrust some one else into the place of difficulty. He desired to go into the place where it would require fighting in order to drive out the giants which were in the land.

4. Courageous (Josh. 14:12; cf. Num. 13:30). This courage he displayed when he insisted that they were able to go up from Kadesh-Barnea and take possession of the land. Forty-five years have elapsed since that time (Josh. 14:10). Though he would be now considered an old man, he still desired that place for an inheritance which would require fighting to possess. He said, "I am as strong this day as I was in the day that Moses sent me: as my strength was then, even so is my strength now for war."

5. Loyal to God (Josh. 14:8; cf. Num. 14:24). He served God with a whole-hearted devotion. A man who is thoroughly loyal to God is always true and magnanimous in his dealings with his fellows.

II. Caleb Laying Claim to His Inheritance (Josh. 14:6-12).

Caleb was accompanied by the children of Judah. He did not come alone to present his claim, lest he be suspected of taking advantage. Then, too, he did not wish to wait until after the lot was cast for God had already given a certain portion to him (Num. 14:30). The basis of his claim was:

1. The ground of his service (vv. 6-8). He had endangered his life in spying out the land—had gone to Hebron when the giants were there. He brought back a true report even when his brethren were all against him. He bore his testimony and insisted that they go up and take the land even though to do so incurred the displeasure of his brethren, making it necessary for him to stand alone.

2. On the ground of the oath of Moses to him (v. 9). Joshua had respect for Moses, and was bound to follow the counsels of his faithful master whom he succeeded.

3. On the ground of God's providential dealing with him (vv. 10-12). God had preserved him in bodily health. His natural forces were unabated, though he was now eighty-five years old. He still regarded himself as capable of driving out the giants who possessed the land. The preservation of one's health is an indication of God's will that there is still work to do.

III. Joshua Giving the Inheritance to Caleb (Josh. 14:13, 14).

1. Caleb blessed by Joshua (v. 13). He not only acquiesced in Caleb's claim, but bestowed the blessing of God upon him in it.

2. The inheritance given (vv. 13, 14). Hebron, which means fellowship, was the name of the inheritance. Only those who fully follow the Lord can enjoy fellowship with him. Though Caleb now legally possessed Hebron, it was necessary for him to fight to drive out the giants who infested it. In the Lord Jesus Christ we have an inheritance which God has given us. We, too, must fight because the enemy is unwilling to relinquish the claim upon it. Caleb got what he asked for because it was in keeping with the will of God. We, too, are sure to get that which we claim when we lay hold on that which is according to God's Word.

Will Open Any Lock

What a fool, quoth he, I am thus to lie in a stinking dungeon when I may as well walk at liberty; I have a key in my bosom called promise that will, I am persuaded, open any lock in Doubting castle.—John Bunyan.

The Road to Faith

"Are we prepared to tread this road of faith? God has given it to us as his appointed way. Are we ready just to trust him, doing step by step what he asks?"—Rev. Guy H. King.

SMALL GIRLS PLAY WITH MATCHES

Little Patty Kudje and Barbara Johnson had a hobby last summer of playing with matches. Their parents punished them in every way trying to break them of the habit and thought they had succeeded, but Wednesday afternoon they got the matches out again unknown to their parents and were playing in Happy Johnson's back yard. About five-thirty, Barbara lit a match which caught her dress on fire and, becoming frightened, she screamed and ran and the breeze spread the fire. But luck was with Barbara, as Dr. Missman. who was in his garden heard her cry and told her not to run, but being afraid she did run. However Dr. Missman caught up with her and rolled her over and over in the grass, putting out the fire after it had burnt most of her clothing. Her elbows, back and limbs were burnt but Dr. Missman says the burns are not very deep owing to the fact hat Barbara had light clothing on. She spent very good night and her many friends hope she gets along fine.

P. H. M.'S MET AT GREIMAN HOME WEDNESDAY

The Progressive Home Maker's of Ell township met at the home of Charlotte, Adeline and Dorothy Greiman Wednesday. Eleven members answered roll call by giving the name of a composer.

Various members gave talks on "Buying a Coat"; "Stain Removal;" "Wool Darning" and "Care of Our Clothes". The Leader gave points to consider in making garments for exhibition. Different seams were made by the members.

After adjournment delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses.

KNOW THE GAME LAWS

One of the most often asked of questions of the Fish and Game Department is "Is it legal to use an artificial light to take fish at night? In the tackle restrictions section of the new fish and game regulations a list of tackle or equipment, which may be used is given, and the list does not include artificial lights. Consequently it would be illegal to use an artificial light for the purpose of taking fish.

All members are asked to come early, as soon after dinner as possible to help work on a quilt which will be on the frame.

HOT WEATHER HARD ON PERENNIAL WEEDS

Lowers Food Reserves; Regular Mowing Will Do The Rest

There is at least one "bright side" to the hot dry weather such as existed during June besides the sunshine itself.

Ths abnormal weather has provided unusually favorable conditions for destroying perennial weeds.

During dry periods weeds struggle to produce seed, thus lowering the food reserves. Most perennial weeds if cut prior to blossoming time and followed by regular mowings thru out the rest of the season are prevented from storing food reserves in the roots for the next year.

Canada thistle is already in bud, in blossom in many sections, and should be cut at once. Seed is produced during July. Following the first cutting, the weeds should be mowed at least every three weeks during the summer or plowed and cultivated with a surface cultivator.

Quack grass is best handled by plowing the land and working with a spring tooth harrow during the rest of the season. Roots should be raked and burned.

If there are any perennial weeds present in cultivated crops, it is important to cultivate often enough with a surface cultivator to keep weed growth cut off. Land in soybeans makes it especially feasible to kill such weeds as Canada thistle sow thistle, horse nettle and leafy spurge

Although the month of June ordinarily is a good time for the first application of sodium chlorate to perennial weeds, hot dry weather made it unfavorable because the chemical is most effective when the soil moisture is relatively high. If the hot, dry weather continues, it is suggested that sodium chlorate be applied in September or October; the weeds should be kept mowed in the meantime.

NEW RULE ON MORTGAGES BECAME EFFECTIVE JULY 2

County officials have been advised by the state auditor's office of the state's new mortgage recording law which became effective July 2. The law provides that any assignment, sale or transfer of a real estate mortgage note or other evidence of indebtedness to be valid must be reported to the county auditor by the assignee within 30 days of the assignment, transfer, or sale. The law is designed to uncover now unreported moneys and credit taxes.

Enjoyed Trip To Northeastern Iowa and Wisconsin

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Thomas and son, Jimmie, enjoyed an automobile trip Sunday which took them to northeastern Iowa and across the river into Wisconsin. The scenery around McGregor is wonderful and as nice as any in the United States. A ferry ride across the Mississippi river to Prairie du Chien and a drive around that vicinity makes a fine sight. They took one route on the trip over and another route on the return trip.

USE BACON IN MORE MEALS

It Is Equally Desirable For Meals Other Than Breakfast

Bacon is a standard American breakfast food. In fact it is so common housewives are likely to forget that it is not only a delicious meat for b reakfast, but that its savory flavor makes it equally desirable for any of the other meals of the day.

Research in foods and nutrition at Iowa State College has shown bacon furnishes many important nutritional elements to the diet. The most important of these is fat—bacon fat being one of the most readily digestible of all fats. Bacon is particularly useful in supplying the body's fat needs because its high-quality tasty fat is not cut away from the lean such as are other meat fats.

Bacon is easily prepared in a number of attractive ways besides the fried strips which garnish the egg platter in the morning.

A tasty, unusual dish is bacon, asparagus and cheese on toast. Whole stalks of asparagus in salted water are cooked until tender. Six or eight of these stalks are placed on a slice of toast and the following cheese sauce is poured over them: 2 tablespoons of butter, 4 tablespoons of flour, 2 cups of milk, ½ teaspoon of salt, a few grains of pepper and 1½ cups of grated American cheese.

The butter is melted in a sauce pan and flour is added aud stirred until well blended. Then the milk is added slowly, stirred constantly until the sauce is thick. The seasoning and cheese are added and cooked slowly until the cheese is melted. Fried bacon is then laid across the top of the asparagus on toast.

FARMER HATCHES ALBINO PHEASANT

After the incubating pheasant had been killed by a dog, Chester McCoone of Lawler placed the sixteen eggs found in the nest under a domestic hen and hatched 12 pheasants. Four of the birds died and one of the remaining eight is pure white. Mr. McCoone is caring for the birds and will liberate them when they are old enough to care for themselves.

Celebrated 70th Birthday

Mrs. Emma Schwichtenberg was 70 years old Sunday and she was assisted in observing the event by having David Schwichtenberg and family with her. Mrs. Dave Schwichtenberg baked a fine birthday cake which with home made ice cream and cake, was greatly enjoyed.

FORMER KLEMME RESIDENT DIED LAST WEEK

Mr. and Mrs. John Suckow, Mrs. H. L. Suckow and Mrs. Ed Schaefer drove to Unionville, Iowa, about a week ago to attend the funeral of Mrs. E. A. Suckow. Those who have resided in our community a long time will recall that Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Suckow at one time resided on the farm west of Klemme now owned by C. A. Larsen.

Auxiliary Meeting

The Auxiliary ladies will meet this week Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. W. F. Pavey.

REFORMED CHOIR TO GIVE PROGRAM

The choir of the Reformed church will give a program at the Ell Town Reformed church Sunday evening. The theme of the Readings which will be given in connection with the musical numbers will be: "The Forerunners of the Reformation". The speakers are Miss Ethel Baack, Mr. Mitchell Bock, Miss Mabel Schuldt and Mr. Raymond Barz. The Mixed Choir and the Men's Choir under the leadership of Miss Adelia Schroeder will take part n the program.

PUT UP SOME FRUIT JUICE

Many farm women have adopted the pratice of canning fruit juices for use in summer drinks and also for use as flavoring in cooking. C ned fruit juices for drinks are especially desirable during the warm weather and for use during the harvest and threshing season.

Among the juices which may be canned are blackberry, grape, rhubarb, late cherries and gooseberry. Elderberry juice is desirable for coloring.

The juice should be extracted with as little heating as possible. This may be done in a fruit press or with a potato masher. If a complete extraction of the juice is desired the fruit may be heated in a pressure cooker, although this tends to destroy some of the flavor A waterless cooker is a good utensil to use.

The juice should then be brought to the scalding point (180 to 185 degrees F.) or barely to a boil, then placed in sterilized jars which are standing in hot water. A tight seal is made and the cans processed for 30 minutes in water held at 185 degrees

There was a large number in the Sunday School that had perfect attendance so far this summer. That is fine co-operation by the scholars and teachers. It shows a fine loyalty in the study of God's word "which is a lamp unto our feet and a guide unto our path."

Last week two infants were bap- t'zed and six were received into the church.

Frank Gibbs spent the latter part of the week at Ottumwa, Iowa where he attended a convention of the National League of District Post Masters. He returned home Sunday night.

LOUD NOISE NOT THAT OF AUTO HORN

Those deep, bass noises perculating out from the vicinity of the Northern Lumber Co. are not the noises of automobie horns, fog horns, or any tones being tooted by any member of the band. Those deep, bass, gutteral noises you have heard come from the throats of a dozen bull frogs owned by Paul Grange. Paul got in a shipment of frogs the latter part of the week. Just what Paul intends to do with his chorus of high jumping bass singers is more than we know.

OUR IOWA MORGANS

The search for hidden wealth in Benton county is proving of intense interest to the entire state. The Star-Clipper has for years urged a more searching investigation of monies and credits escaping taxation, but as much as we realized the heavy loss of just taxes from this source, we had little idea that in a county like Benton, similar to Tama in every way, was secreting millions of money from the assessors. According to the Vinton Times the tax ferrets employed by the supervsors a few months ago on a percentage basis have to date uncovered more than $4,000,000 of cash or securities that has been paying no taxes. Within the past three months 253 exposed tax dodgers have coughed up back taxes covering periods of from one to five years, with penalties added. It seems also that previously 175 citizens had confessed their sins and dug up That makes an average of more than twenty persons to the township who have hidden wealth from the assessor. Is it possible that a situation anything like that exists in Tama and other counties? The people with money to loan are the most able to pay taxes, yet it seems as a class a large per cent have been escaping while taxes on property soared almost to a point of confiscation. The record in Benton county should be an eyeopener to all Iowa.—Traer Star-Clipper.

There are hundreds of Iowa folks clapping their hands at the senate investigation of the Morgan tax dodgers who themselves dodge every tax possible. One of the biggest sins in taxation has been the dodging of the tax on monies and credits in Iowa. Just think of it. four millions of property in one Iowa county that dodged taxes And there are 99 Iowa counties.

Rev. Ralston is the first we have heard of to have sweet corn on the cob. Mrs. Wm. Keraus has been having sliced cucumbers and tomatoes for the past ten days. Mrs. R. A. Jorgenson had new cabbage and cauliflower from her garden while Mrs. J. T. Griggs had cucumbers to slice also. The gardens are slow this year and need another nice rain. The tomatoes will soon be ripe. Milton Paul has some that are turning.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wolfe were visiting with the C. A. Carter family at Rock Falls Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Thada visited with his mother, Mrs. Agnes Thada, at Thornton Sunday evening. Mrs. Agnes Thada will celebrate her 88th birthday this week Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Carolus and children were Mason City visitors Friday afternoon.

Mrs. P. M. Wilson was visiting friends at Clarion Thursday.

Miss Sally Taylor of Guthrie Center, visited Thursday with Miss Gladys Wilson. Both young ladies are teachers in the Clarion school.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fuller and daughter of Ambby, Minn., came Saturday for a visit over the week end at the R. W. Elder home.

Lesson for July 16

DEBORAH

LESSON TEXT—Judges 4, 5.

GOLDEN TEXT—God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble. Psalm 46:1.

PRIMARY TOPIC—God Helping Deborah.

JUNIOR TOPIC—A Woman Courageous.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—An Inspiring Leader.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Leadership in Emergencies.

In order to teach this lesson intelligently, it is necessary that the teacher have a grasp of the book of Judges from which it is taken. In chapter 2:6-19 is given a synopsis of the book. Observe:

a. The sin of the people (vv. 6-13).

b. God's judgment for their sin (vv. 14, 15).

c. Repentance of the people (3:0).

d. God's deliverance at the hands of the judges (2:16-19).

A repetition of sin, oppression by the enemy, repentance on the part of the people, and God's deliverance, is the story of the book of Judges.

The book covers the period from the conquest of Canaan and death of Joshua to the judgeship of Samuel. While Joshua and the elders of his generation lived the people in some measure remained faithful to God, but the very next generation went into apostasy.

I. The National Emergency (vv. 1-3).

1. Lapse into idolatry (v. 1). Ehud was not only a righteous but a strong ruler. As soon as he was dead, the people turned away from God.

2. The bondage of the people (v. 2). The Lord abandoned them to be oppressed by Jabin, king of Canaan. For twenty long years they were under the hand of this king who had nine hundred chariots of iron.

3. The people cried unto God (v. 3). Affliction brought them to their senses.

II. The Judgeship of Deborah (vv. 4-10).

The great national emergency which confronted the nation was met by a woman named Deborah. Her name means "Bee." As suggested by another, she answered her name by her industry, sagacity, and public usefulness. This woman was called to the judgeship of the nation because there seems to have been no man capable.

1. The place where she judged Israel (v. 5). It was under a palm tree, showing that she held an open air court for the administration of justice.

2. Her method (vv. 6-10).

a. Her summons to Barak (vv. 6, 7). Barak means "lightning." Deborah, being a prophetess, was able to select a man whose gifts would enable him to rally the forces needed to gain the victory over the formidable foe. Judging from his accomplishments, Barak was true to his name, for with lightning dispatch he wrought deliverance. It was really God calling Barak through Deborah. She gave definite instruction as to the number of men and the strategy to be employed, assuring him that God would deliver Sisera, the captain of Jabin's army, into his hand.

b. Barak's reply (v. 8). He expressed an unwillingness to go unless Deborah would go with him. This unwillingness should not be considered as weakness, for the presence of the prophetess would inspire courage.

c. Barak rebuked (vv. 9, 10). Deborah yielded to his request, but made it plain to him that it would detract from his honor as a conqueror, "for the Lord shall sell Sisera into the hand of a woman."

III. The Defeat of Jabin's Army (vv. 11-16).

Sisera, the captain, gathered a mighty army and went forth, confident of victory over the ill-equipped, undisciplined army of Barak, but he made one sad mistake. He did not consider that it was the Lord's battle (v. 15). At the psychological moment Deborah gave the signal to charge, assuring Barak that the Lord had gone before and would give the victory (v. 14). Through supernatural interposition the enemy became panic-stricken (5:30).

IV. Sisera Killed by a Woman (vv. 17-24).

In his flight he took refuge in Jael's tent. In the guise of friendship, she committed a most heinous murder after inviting him into her dwelling.

V. The Song of Deborah and Barak (ch. 5).

This song was composed and sung in celebration of the marvelous victory which God had wrought. Deborah set forth in the most definite way that the secret of victory was the help of God. Praise is given to those who responded to the cry, and scorn is heaped upon those who remained behind.

All Barriers Down

All his life long Christ had been revealing his heart, through the narrow rift of deeds, like some slender, lancet windows; but in his death all the barriers are thrown down, and the brightness blazes out upon men.—Alexander Maclaren.

Scars of Sin

"Ransomed, healed, restored, forgiven—thank God I can say that, but the scars of sin always keep me humble."—Bishop Linton.

Woodrow Wilson Brought Up in Religious Family

Woodrow Wilson was "a conservative orthodox Presbyterian." Son of Rev. Joseph R. Wilson, it is said that his election to the Presidency was predicted for him by his parent. The boy was born and reared in a parsonage. His first teacher was his mother, Janet or Jessie Woodrow, daughter and grand-daughter of Presbyterian clergymen. Later he went to school to his father, than to Davidson college and Princeton university. Deciding upon teaching as his life work, he lectured after graduation at Bryn Mawr, Wesleyan and Princeton. He became president of his alma mater in 1902, the first layman ever to hold that position. When at last he was elected to the highest office in the gift of the American people he found his faith a necessity; without it, he said, he could not go on. "I do not understand how any man can approach the discharge of the duties of life," he confessed, "without faith in the Lord Jesus Christ."

Wilson while President worshiped at the Central Presbyterian church and on occasion attended the New York Avenue, First and Eastern Presbyterian churches. He became a close friend of the Rt. Rev. James E. Freeman, Bishop of Washington, in the last months of his life, and when he died was entombed at Washington Cathedral. Thousands annually make a pilgrimage to the Bethlehem chapel where he rests, a crusader with his cross.

Diamond Drilling Most Tedious Task in World

Perhaps the most tedious job in the world, especially if measured by visible results, is the drilling of holes in diamonds. A hole .0004 of an inch in diameter takes two weeks of continuous drilling 24 hours a day, says Pathfinder Magazine. During the drilling fresh diamond dust and oil are dropped upon the spot where the steel needle is attempting to bite into the gem.

No machine being delicate enough, the work is all done by hand or foot power. The steel needle remains stationary, while the diamond to be drilled is mounted on a spindle and rotated rapidly.

These drilled diamonds are used as dies for drawing the tungsten wire filaments used in incandescent light bulbs. No hole has ever been bored fine enough for the filament of a three-watt lamp, so these must be etched in acid to reduce their diameter. The town of Trevoux, France, has practically a monopoly on diamond drilling.

Pock-Marked Earth

Judging from the discoveries of recent years, it now seems probable that scores, if not hundreds, of craterlike depressions in the earth's surface, capable of being more or less produced by meteor-falls, exist throughout the world and will be brought to light by future explorations—especially by aerial photography, which was responsible for the discoveries recently reported to the American Academy for the Advancement of Science. There have been discovered in the southeastern United States a large group of depressions in the ground bearing evidence of having been caused by the impact of meteorites and similar depressions have been found in the Carolinas.

DON'T BE ALARMED

NEPTUNITE Varnish Does Not Mar

Don't become alarmed when Junior skids the table across the living room or when Sister spills a pot of scalding tea on the floor. Be prepared for these happenings. Keep your floors protected with LOWE BROTHERS Quick-Drying NEPTUNITE FLOOR VARNISH.

This floor varnish is made to withstand more than ordinary abuse. It's so tough that moisture, heat or pressure do not mar it. Nor will it turn white—won't even scratch white.

And NEPTUNITE FLOOR VARNISH dries to walk on in from six to eight hours, bringing out the beauty of natural wood grain. See us about this unusual varnish.

MUST REPORT REAL ESTATE MORTGAGES TO AUDITOR

Owners Of Mortgages In Counties Other Than Own, Must Report

There are many new laws upon the Iowa statutes at this time that were not there prior to July 5, of this year and many of them are of interest to the general public

Senate File No. 348, enacted by the Forty Fifth General Assembly, requiring assigned or transferred mortgages to be reported to the county auditor within a certain time limit, is one which those of our people who hold mortgages on real estate in other counties than Hancock, will be especially interested. For the convenience of such individuals, we herewith publish the first three sections of the law:

Section 1. The assignment sale or transfer of all real estate mortgages or notes secured by real estate or other evidences of indebtedness secured by real estate mortgages shall be reported to the County Auditor of the residence of the assignte, by the assignee thereof, within thirty (30) days from the date of the execution of said assignment, sale or transfer, unless such assignment be recorded in the County Recorders Office of the county in which the assignee resides.

Section 2. No such assignment shall be of any validity until the same be reported to said County Auditor.

Section 3. The assignment, sale or transfer of mortgages or notes secured thereby, heretofore sold, assigned or transferred, shall be reported to the County Auditor, aforesaid, within thirty (30) days after taking effect of this act.

Section 3 makes this enactment retroactive so as to cover all such instruments now in existence and a time limit of thirty days from the date of July 4th has been set for the reporting of such instruments to the county auditor inorder for same to have validity.

LOCAL BOYS ATTENDING SCOUT CAMP AT ROOSEVELT NOW

Four Klemme Boy Scouts are enjoying a big time this week at Camp Roosevelt at Ventura Heights.

Duster Jorgenson and Max Barz left Friday morning for the camp to spend two periods or eight days in camp. Norman Sampson and Milton Paul left Tuesday morning for a four day period at the Boy Scout camp. All will return home Saturday morning.

Every period of the camp this year has been overflowing with registrations. The camp this year has been re-arranged and a new plan is being carried out. Scouts in camp this year are getting real camping experience, as they are required to cook two of their own meals each day.

Younger Boys Camp

A four day period for boys nine, ten and eleven years of age begins Monday, July 24 and closes July 28 Any boy is eligible to attend this camp. The fee is $3 for the four days. This includes all meals, etc.

Another Scout Period

Because of the many boys wishing to attend camp, two more periods have been added following the younger boys camp. The fifth period for scouts will be July 31 to Aug. 4, and the sixth period from Aug. 4 to Aug. 8. Registrations for this period must be in the scout office not later than July 27th.

Editors note:— Since the foregoing was written, Norman Sampson was taken ill with an attack of tonsilitis and was unable to attend this period of camp. However, he intends to go to one of the later periods

W. F. M. S. Gave Fine Play

The. W. F. M. S. sponsored a play "The Chintz Cottage" under the able direction of Miss Mildred Johnson. The play was given on Thursday and Friday nights to crowds. Candy was sold both nights and the entire cast took their parts much to their credit. Everyone who attended enjoyed the play. The cast and Miss Johnson donated all their time and effort and are to be congratulated on their fine performance. A violin orchestra furnished the music before the play and between acts. After the play Friday evening the entire cast were treated to ice cream and cake made by Mrs. R. W. Elder in appreciation of their services. The vroceeds amounted to $33.65.

COUNTY WHEAT GROWERS WILL ORGANIZE

The organization of Hancock County wheat growers who wish to participate in the benefits of the wheat allotment plan under the new Farm Adjustment Act will begin immediately. S. J Oberhauser, county agent announced on his return from a district wheat adjustment conference in Mason City this week.

Mr. Oberhauser with 12 other agents from this territory attended this meeting to become acquainted with the wheat acreage adjustment plan, how it is to be put into effect in Iowa and how it will help the individual farmer.

Township meetings will be called where the plan will be explained to the wheat growers by the county agent. Each township will elect a director to serve on the county wheat acreage adjustment committee.

After the township directors are chosen, the county committee composed of these directors will meet and elect officers. This county committee will be in charge of the Hancock county wheat adjustment program.

Other meeting will be held for farmers at which the allotment plan will be explained. In August or before, farmers who are interested in joining this program will be given a chance to sign contracts with the Federal government. In this contract they will agree to reduce their 1934-35 wheat acreage by an amount specified by the secretary of agriculture. Henry A. Wallace. This amount will not exceed 20 per cent and may be less. Farmers entering the agreement must sign up for the entire three-year period Reductions will be made on the basis of the farmer's average acreage for the past three years.

CAN APRICOTS WITH SKINS ON

This is the season for canning apricots. Retail stores report that prices for this fruit are running about the same as they were a year ago. Although most families do not can large quantities of apricots, they may help to provide a variety in the year's fruit supply. Furthermore, apricots have been found especially valuable in diets for correcting anemia, probably because of their copper content.

Choose apricots for canning that are firm, sound and are without blemishes, specks or bruised spots. The general practice is to can apricots with the skins on. Clean them by wiping with a damp cloth.

If one wishes to cold pack apricots the first procedure is to wipe them with a damp cloth, then halve and pit them; blanch a half minute; pack closely into hot jars with thin hot sirup made in the proportion of 1 part sugar to 1 part water. Partly seal the jars and process in hot water bath for 20 minutes. Remove from the canner and seal imediately.

To can by the open kettle method, make a medium thin sirup using 3 parts sugar to 2 parts water. Bring to a boil; drop in the apricots (whole or halves), boil gently until tender. Carefully pack into hot jars and seal immediately.

Apricot Preserves

Good preserves are one in which the fruit or pieces of fruit remain whole, tender clear and plump in a thick transparent sirup. The approximate proportions of sugar to apricots in preserves is ¾ pound of sugar to each pound of fruit.

Apricots also may be combined with pineapples and almonds to make a delightful preserve or with oranges, pineapples and almonds.

PAVED STREETS, NEW SCHOOL NOW POSSIBLE IN KLEMME

Klemme Should Take Advantage Of Federal Funds Available For Public Works

No matter how large or how small a community may be, if they are to secure their share in the allotment of the three billion, three hundred million dollars of Federal Funds, they must plan and act at once! And that means Klemme!

Public construction of any sort—schools, new civic buildings, waterworks, sewage disposal plants, paved streets, park and playground improvements—is in the list of needed public improvements.

Just what does our little city lack in this respect? Just what can KLEMME go ahead and build IMMEDIATELY?

Let's think ahead, starting today, and get a large share—a tremendous share—of the public works construction.

Now for the first time, Federal Funds will be available through our State Highway Department for paving arterial streets. The government provides for this with no burden to the property owner or city in its direct grant to states of road building funds. The Main Street of KLEMME CAN BE PAVED!

The time is not far off when Klemme will need a new high school Let the school board investigate the advisability of procuring funds from the government now available for public construction.

Community Building Needed

Another fine project would be a community building in Klemme. Our little city is sadly in need of a building for all kinds of public gatherings. Such a building could be made self-supporting once that it was constructed. Just another good idea where Federal Funds can be used in Klemme.

The Streets of Klemme are BAD —let the Town Council look into the matter we suggested. These projects are certainly worthy of a thorough investigation at the least. If Klemme can benefit from federal funds let's get in on it.

The Civic Club, the Town Council and the School Board have an opportunity that should be grasped.

ARHCEOLOGIST DESCRIBES THE RELICS OF PREHISTORIC MAN

Finds Skeleton Buried On Knees, Early Life Recorded in Caves

Caves along the northeast Iowa streams once harbored prohistoric man, perhaps an unknown race of cliff dwellers.

Bones of men and animals, fragments of pottery, perforated periwiukle shells used as beads and evidences of old fire places or hearts have been discovered in the caves along the Maquoketa and the Wapsipinicon rivers and their tributary streams.

Scientists Disagree

Whether enough evidence has been unearthed to warrant a belief that the caves were used by some ancient tribe 3,000 years ago, scientists disagree. They contend that explorations have not been yet extensive enough to support a positive doctrine.

"I have found evidences of human remains in some of the caves," Curator Edgar R. Harlan of the Iowa Historical department said. "Whether they were used as permanent abodes I am not sure.

Frank E. Ellis

"At any rate, it is reasonable to suppose that they were used as hiding places. It is possible that some of them were permanent dwellings."

Frank E. Ellis of Maquoketa, Ia. who conducts his own museum, believes his explorations over a number of years indicate that the caves may have been occupied by cliff dwellers similar to those of the southwest but much older and with a more highly developed culture. Some of the caves were apparently used as burial vaults.

Caves Left Dry

The caves were former by melting ice of the great Wisconsin glacier which ate its way into the soft limestone bluffs along the streams.

Gradually the process of erosion pushed the water far underground and made huge caverns. Through the hundreds of years required by this process, the river channel swerved and many of the caves were left dry and as high as 15 feet from the river's bed.

Fireplace In Center

One cave explored by Ellis was 12 feet wide and 14 feet long and high enough for an average person to stand erect.

"The floor ws made up of many years of accumulated dry wood ashes," Ellis said. "There was a fire place in the center, made by laying a circle of rocks.

Baby Skeleton

Digging through to the original stone floor, three feet below, Mr. Ellis said he found bones of animals, flaked flint and the skeleton of a baby. It was in this cave, Ellis said that he found pottery and other trinkets.

Along Mill creek, near Maqooketa Ellis examined a cave a block long with an overhanging ledge forming a roof 12 fete wide. Skeletons of five persons were located, he said. A man had been buried on his knees.

Shell On Head

On his head, Ellis said, was the lower shell of a turtle, apparently a fancy head dress Small arrows, fragments of clay pottery, bone awl and needles and a small hammered copper awl were found nearby, Ellis said.

As far as his explorations indicate, Ellis sad, only caves n Dubuque, Jackson and Jones counties may have been inhabited.

ISAIAH DENOUNCES DRUNKENNESS AND OTHER SINS

LESSON TEXT—Isaiah 5:1-30.

GOLDEN TEXT—Righteousness exalteth a nation: but sin is a reproach to any people. Prov. 14:34.

PRIMARY TOPIC—God's Good Gifts.

JUNIOR TOPIC—The Wrong Road.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Attacking Wrongs Without Gloves.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Evils Which Must Be Overcome.

I. Israel, the Unique and Beloved Nation (vv. 1-7).

The unique relation of this nation to God is presented under the figure of a vineyard (v. 1).

1. God's peculiar favor shown (v. 2). God did for this nation what he did for no other nation in the history of the world.

a. He "fenced it" when he assigned the boundaries of Israel's inheritance (see Num. 34:1-13).

b. He "gathered out the stones thereof" when the Canaanites were exterminated.

c. He "planted it with the choicest vine" when the Israellitsh nation, which had gone through the disciplinary process in Egyptian bondage, was placed therein.

d. He "built a tower in the midst of it" when under David Jerusalem was made the capital city.

e. He "made a winepress therein" when the temple built by Solomon became the fixed place of worship for the nation.

2. The obligation of the nation (v. 2). "He looked that it should bring forth grapes." The word looked expresses the idea, not only of desire, but of expectation.

3. The divine disappointment (vv. 3, 4). "It brought forth wild grapes." Instead of sweet, luscious grapes, they bore grapes of a sour and unwholesome kind.

4. The desolation of the vineyard (vv. 5-7). Since all efforts had been wasted, the owner of the vineyard purposes to take away the fences and leave it to be exposed to the wild beasts to waste and devour.

II. The Sins Which Brought Ruin to Israel (vv. 8-23).

1. Monopoly and oppression (vv. 8-10). The crime against which the first woe was denounced was that of the avaricious grasping after property which leads to the accumulation of wealth in the hands of the few. This state of affairs met God's judgment in Judea (vv. 9, 10), as one day it shall likewise do in America.

2. Dissipation (vv. 11-17). The particular sin denounced here is that of drunkenness. How we shudder to contemplate what God may do to America as she brings back liquor! This sin is never alone.

a. Drinking made the life-business of some (v. 11). They get up early in the morning and continue until late at night. A duplication of this will soon be seen in all of our American cities.

b. A show of refinement (v. 12). The saloon and brothel always have music. Pleasing music was always heard pouring forth from the infamous saloon. The prostitution of music has led many an unsuspecting youth into the way of sin.

c. Blindness to God's warnings and judgments (v. 12). Drinking and dissipation render men insensible to God's dealings.

d. God's judgments for such sin (vv. 13-17). The people were carried into captivity. Not only would they go into captivity, but there was great mortality among the drunkards (v. 14). The records everywhere show a much higher death rate among drinking men than among abstainers. Drinking degrades all classes (v. 15). The rich and mighty men are brought down with the poor and humble. Even the country itself was made desolate (v. 17).

3. Unbelief (vv. 18, 19). This woe is denounced against the sinner who presumptuously plunges into vice. He is not overtaken with sin, but deliberately goes after it and works at it. He becomes so daring as to defy the judgments of the Almighty (v. 19).

4. Moral confusion (v. 20). This woe is pronounced against those who try to adjust moral conditions to suit their sensual appetites.

5. Conceit (v. 21). The fifth woe is pronounced against the sin of self-conceit.

6. Perversion of justice (vv. 22, 23). The sixth woe is pronounced against judges who, because of a lack of moral discrimination, and the desire for temporal gain, cause justice to miscarry.

III. Predicted Judgment (vv. 24-30). The historic fulfillment of these predictions are but types of the severe ones which are to follow.

The Soul Beautiful

The colored sunsets and starry heavens, the beautiful mountains and the shining seas, the fragrant woods and painted flowers, are not half so beautiful as a soul that is serving Jesus out of love, in the wear and tear of common, nnpoetic life.—Faber.

His Will, Not Mine

"I cannot wish things were different from what they are, for if I do this, I wish my will not his to be done."—Gen. Charles G. Gordon.

CHINCH BUGS STILL THREATEN

New Brood, Soon to Hatch, May be Found Much Farther North in Iowa Than Present One

It is entirely possible that chinch bugs may infest corn in two-thirds of Iowa, entomologists at Iowa State College who have been studying the situation in southern Iowa believe.

The present brood of bugs is estimated to have destroyed about 20 to 25 percent of the corn in the two southern tiers of counties in the state. The adult bugs are found flying far north of their usual area of infestation. These adults are laying eggs and a new brood will soon be hatched. There is no way of estimating how widespread this next brood may be nor how much damage it may cause, says Dr. C. H. Richardson, college entomologist.

When the bugs get nto a field, there is little that can be done. In fact the only control measure that has been found successful is the use of oil, creosote, or similar material as barriers The barriers, however, have not proved fully protective. They stopped most of the nymphs (young stage of the chinch bugs) but the adults fly or jump across and some even crawl over the barriers.

Since the use of barriers has proved more effective than any other control, demonstrations in their use have been continued by entomologists.

Not only has corn suffered from the bugs, but they also attack sudan grass severely. They are a grass-eating pest. Some of the fields of corn that have been destroyed in southern Iowa have been disced up and soybeans planted The bugs do not bother this crop

There is a fungus always present in the soil which under the right conditions kills the bugs or holds them in check. The fungus this year has not been active. It was thought that recent rains might halt the destruction of the bugs, but no such result has been observed. In some places in Illinois where rains have been plentiful, the bugs have been very destructive, indicating that rains are not a sure check for the pest.

Anyone interested in description of chinch bugs and the use of barriers may obtain information by writing to Iowa State College, Ames.

South African Folk Music Traced Back to Holland

In South Africa today there are still people singing the songs that their ancestors sang in Holland seven hundred or eight hundred years ago, says a writer in the San Francisco Chronicle. This has been made known as a result of an effort to record on the gramophone the peculiar folk music that has grown up among the white Colonists since they first settled at the Cape in 1052.

A number of nations have contributed to South African folk music, including Hottentots, Malay slaves imported there in the Seventeenth and Eighteenth centuries, Bantu tribesmen from the north, and members of Oriental races shipwrecked on the shores. But the bulk of South Africa's folk music is of white origin, based on that of old-time Holland, also on that of France, England and Germany 200 or more years ago. Many of the melodies exist only in the memories of the native fiddlers at Boer merrymakings.

Perhaps the most curious phase of the local music is that it has preserved verses that are only historical curios in their countries of origin. Such, for instance, is the famous old lay, "Die Nonnetjie en die Riddertjie". (The Little Nun and the Little Knight), sung by Calvinistic Boers, to whom a Catholic Europe is inconceivable and to whom the customs of medieval knighthood are wholly unfamiliar.

Almanac Dates Far Back Into Early Day History

Almanacs date far back into antiquity, being issued as far back as the Fifth century after Christ by the Chinese. It is thought likely that they are of even older origin, dating back into the early days of Asiatic history, says the Washington Star.

The early productions, however, were limited, as they were produced by long hand, but with the advent of printing they became much more widely circulated. Containing much valuable information on astronomy, the tides and other such matters, they also were cheapened by coarse and superstitious remarks. They were often given to prediction both of the course of the weather and the probable occurrence of events. Most of the prognostications, however, were purely imaginary, although one outstanding example did occur when one Nostradamus foretold the death of Henry II of France.

Franklin's Poor Richard Almanac, first published in 1732, was the most famous of the American almanacs of the early history of America. Since that time, however, the advancement of the almanac has been rapid, and now many are put out which are reference books of great value containing information properly catalogued, on a wide variety of subjects.

Origin of Word "Wardrobe"

The origin of the word "wardrobe" brings to light the old English word "ward," which survives in our language today only with "off," as "ward off that danger." From the Anglo-Saxon "Weardian," this was an ancient synonym for guard. "Warder" for a guard is one of its descendants. Also the "ward" in wardrobe. "Wardrobe" comes to us through the old English from the old French "warderobe," which was originally "garderobe"—of German origin, and good German today, for a room or compartment where clothes were kept or guarded.

Soft Wood Gives More Heat

Pound for pound, pine wood gives off more heat than hickory. There is a widespread belief that hickory or other heavy hardwood has a higher fuel value than pine. Recent tests show the fallacy of this notion, which probably has held sway since stoves first came into use. A cord of hickory wood, being heavier, may give off more heat than a cord of pine. But most resinous woods, like pine, have a higher heat production value per pound than nonresinous woods.—Rural New-Yorker.

Mockingbird and Nightingale

The European nightingale and the American mockingbird, the leading representatives in song of the countries in which they are found, have been the subject of much discussion. While the two birds are so unlike in their style of singing that it is difficult to compare their vocal accomplishments, the nightingale probably has greater power, brilliancy and quality of its natural notes. It cannot bear comparison with the mockingbird, however, when it comes to ability to mimic other songsters.—Detroit News.

Hardened Copper

There are numerous processes of hardening copper by adding to it small amounts of other metals. No specimen of pure copper has been found which had a greater degree of hardness than can be produced by hammering. Any expert metallurgist of today can produce an edged tool of hardened copper as good as any made in prehistoric times, but the great majority of modern steel tools eliminates the demand for hardened copper.

Mourning Cloak Lives on Sap

The mourning cloak, that sturdy butterfly that comes forth from its winter's hibernation in a woodpile or similarly protected spot very early in the spring, feeds upon the exuding sap of trees before the flowers come. The same butterfly lingers long after the most of the flowers are gone in the fall, and then it finds the juices of decaying fruits such as apples to its liking.

Our Post Service Dates From February 17, 1691

The beginning of the American post proper dates from the signing of a patent vesting Thomas Neale with postal jurisdiction, February 17, 1091. On April 4, the same year, Neale and the royal postmaster general appointed Andrew Hamilton postmaster general of America. He was required to establish an intercolonial post. He visited all the colonies and secured from all except Virginia pledges of cooperation. The service began May 1, 1693, and consisted of weekly posts from Portsmouth, N. H., to Boston, Saybrook, New York, Philadelphia, Maryland and Virginia, five riders to cover each of the five stages twice each week. Hamilton died in 1703 and was succeeded by his son, John Hamilton. From 1707 to the outbreak of the Revolution the general post office in London controlled the system in America. Mail moved weekly between Boston and Maine in 1711 and between New York and Williamsburg, Va, in 1717. There was a fortnightly service between Philadelphia and Annapolis in 1727.

A new chapter was opened with the appointment of Benjamin Franklin as deputy postmaster in America, 1737. Sixteen years later he was named postmaster general with Col. William Hunter. The printer-philosopher made a tour of all the post offices in his jurisdiction, omitting only Charleston. Difficulties with Governor Hutchinson of Massachusetts in 1774 resulted in his dismissal. But the system which he had developed survived him, and when the Continental post office department was created, with headquarters at Philadelphia, he was elected postmaster general and resumed charge, July 26, 1775.

The Continental congress authorized the establishment of a line of posts between New Hampshire and Georgia "and to such other places as congress might direct." Rates of postage, fixed by law, were: Single letters, under 60 miles, 7.4; 60 to 100 miles, 11.1 cents; 100 to 200 miles, 14.8 cents; and 3.4 cents additional for each 100 miles.

Name "Jehol" Pronounced "RooHoo" by the Chinese

The name Jehol is composed of two Chinese words. It therefore can be divided into two parts; namely, "Je," meaning hot, and "ho," meaning river. So it is, literally, "Hot river."

For English-speaking purposes, the pronunciation of the first part is almost the same as the French "Je" (a zh sound). But in Chinese, read it as "brook," dropping the sound of "b" and "k." The second part of the word "Ho" can be pronounced as the word "hook" without the "k." So Jehol can be correctly pronounced as "RooHoo," with accent on the second syllable.

The Peking dialect adds an "er" sound to nearly every noun. Hence, "Roohooer"—Jehol. But outside Peking (or Peiping) it is pronounced as Jeho and RooHoo, without the suffix "er."

Needle History

The earliest needles had no holes in them, and were undoubtedly used more as pins or as awls, to make holes through which the long underground roots of plants or bindweed and leather thongs were passed by hand to serve the purpose of thread. These earliest needles were made of stone, bone or ivory. When the advantage of piercing a hole through the blunt end of these implements was discovered, the first real needle was made. During the Bronze age of history, metal needles came into being and further civilization gradually has resulted in the development of over 250 varieties of needles for sewing alone.

Color of Police Dog

The breed of dog which is often called the German Police dog is really the Alsatian Shepherd dog. The true German Police dog is really either a Dobermann-Pinscher, or a Schnauzer. The Alsatian Shepherd is a fairly large dog, black or brown along the back with lighter-colored fawn or brown markings around the head, legs and belly. The Dobermann-Pinscher is similar in coloring but generally darker, thinner, not so tall, with smooth hair and cropped ears and tall. As with almost every breed of dogs, the Alsatian can be trusted with children with whom he has been brought up.

Origin of Word "Navvy"

About a century and a half ago the many advantages of using canals rather than horses for transporting goods were being emphasized all over England. At that time canals were known as "inland navigations" and soon the large bodies of men employed to dig them became known as navigators—shortened into navvies. Presently, the railways supplanted the canals, but the men who did the hard manual work in the construction of the new iron roads kept the old name, which finally passed to all road makers and such workers generally.—Montreal Herald.

Refers to Counting Time

The word "Ides" refers to the Roman stystem of reckoning time. The Romans divided their month into Kalends, Nones and Ides. The Kalends came on the first of the month. In March, May and October the Nones fell on the 7th and the Ides on the 15th. In the remaining months the Nones came on the 5th and the Ides on the 13th. The "Ides of March," therefore, was the period from the 15th to the 1st of the following month.

Low Manufacturing Costs--

Did you ever stop to think how costs between the icer and the consumer vary? Take some products that manufactured from the produce produced by the er and the increased cost to the consumer is as high 0 to 400 per cent. Here is where a farmer owned and ted manufacturing plant gets in its work. Statistics that at a co-operative creamery it costs about 7 per to turn your butterfat into a finished product that s the highest market price on he eastern market.

Isn't it just good business to patronize yourself you can turn an unfinished product into a manufacone at the minimum costfor manufacturing?

It pays in the short run, and the long run as well, to nize the Klemme Co-Operative Creamery.

Tells How She Lost 15 Lbs. Of FAT

Rheumatism Gone Too

Here is a woman who was rapid'y putting on weight and who was troubled with rheumatism too. Read her letter:

"I sarted taking Kruschen Salts because of the good it had done for a friend of mine who had been crippled with rehumatism. At the end of the second bottle I was weighed and find I am now only 148 pounds (original weight 163 lbs.), at that I am so pleased. But I have also felt my rheumatism much less, which has been troublesome in my knees. I must say I think Kruschen a splendid weight reducer." Miss E. L. P

Overweight and rheumatic poisoning often go together. The six salts in Kruschen assist the nternal organs to perform ther functions properly—little by little that ugly fat goes; slowly, yes—but surely. You feel wonderfully healthy, youthful and energetic—more so than ever before in your life!

Kruschen Salts is obtainable at P. M. Wilson's—a jar last 4 weeks and costs not more than 85c

REFORMED CHOIR GAVE FINE CONCERT AT BAXTER, IA.

As guests of the Bethany Reformed Church of Baxter, Iowa, the choir of the Klemme Reformed Church have given their second concert of this season's tour

The personnel of the group that made the trip to Baxter are the members of the choir, Rev. Calvin Grosshuesch, chaperone; Miss Adela Schroeder, director; Mrs. George Carolus and children; Mrs. Herman Greiman, Charlotte and Adeline; Jacob Maurer; Edmund Josten; Gladys Bridges and Lillian Brown.

The group made the trip in ten cars leaving Klemme at 1:15 p. m. Sunday. The journey proved to be a successful one as the only mishap was a flat tire on the John Bock car just outside of Klemme.

The destination was reached at 4:30 where supper was served in the church basement.

The organist of the Baxter church offered an organ concert. This proved to be of special interest to the Klemme choir as they seldom have an opportunity to hear pipe organ music.

The program offered by the choir at 8:00 o'clock was identical to the one given at Elltown last Sunday with the addition of some piano numbers given by Mr. Maurer.

Refreshments were served after the services after which the group promptly left for Klemme.

The program rendered at Baxter was one of the most successful ever given by our young people. The speakers delivered their messages in excellent style. Both speakers and singers were inspired by the large and attentive audience that had gathered to hear them. The Klemme church expects to entertain the Baxter choir sometime in October this year.

Street Lamp Posts Painted

KLEMME BLUES TO PLAY FAST CRYSTAL LAKE NINE HERE

Game With Thompson Shamrocks Postponed By Saturday Rain

The Klemme Blues, local independent baseball nine will meet the fast Crystal Lake nine on the local diamond. Sunday, July 30. The Fishermen have a strong club and will put up a real battle with the undefeated Klemme team. Games are called at 2 30.

The game with the Thompson Shamrocks scheduled for last Sunday was postponed to August 13th due to the submerged condition of the diamond after the Saturday night rain here.

FISHERMEN ARE WARNED AGAINST HIJACKER

Reports coming to the Fish and Game Department tell of an individual representing himself to be a deputy game warden, who when accosting fishermen along the streams and lakes accuses them of violations. He then proceeds to extract sums of money from the fishermen which is explained to e their fine for the violation. Do not pay any money as fines to men representing themselves as deputy game wardens. The law does not permit deputies to collect any fines and only a magistrate can set the amount of the fine after the case has been properly presented to the court.

Fishermen are asked to get a description of the man attempting to secure money in this manner and report it at once to the Fish and Game Department or to the nearest deputy game warden.

Three Good Showers Past Week

If there was a threatened drought in this part of Iowa, it came to a sudden halt with a nice rain on Thursday night, followed by a heavier rain on Friday night. The weather man was taking no chances so ordered a real good soaking rain for Saturday night. There should now be plenty of moisture to carry corn through for a bumper crop in this community.

Former Klemme Woman Was Buried At Garner

MRS. ALBERT JOHNSON, 62, DIED AT HOME LAST THURSDAY

Johnson Family Lived Number Of Years On Farm Near Klemme

Funeral services for Mrs. Albert Johnson, former Klemme woman, who died at her farm home southwest of Ventura last Thursday, were held Saturday afternoon, July 22nd in the U. B. Church at Ventura with Rev. Harry Derks in charge.

The entire front of the church was banked with flowers which were silent conveyors of the love and esteem of friends and relatives.

A quartet consisting of E. S. D. Kahrs, Christina Hufford, Lena Stork and Jesse Green sang the following numbers during the service: "Does Jesus Care," "The Nearer I Reach The End of Time," "The Old Rugged Cross," and "Shall We Gather At The River."

The pall bearers were John Christians, Charles Lawhorn, John Day, Clarence Larsen, Ed. Holt, and Wm. Anderson.

Twelve women dressed in white, members of the Royal Neighbor Lodge of Klemme, acted as escorts to the body. The Loyal Rebecca lodge ladies of Garner assisted at the home and served the noon day lunch to the family and relatives gathered there. Several members of Clear Lake Rebecca lodge attended the services.

Obituary

Emma Elizabeth Svenson was born on Christmas Day in 1870 on a farm near the village of Ulrecham county of Blidsberg, state of Vestergotland, Sweden. She was the youngest of a family of four children, three daughters and one son, born to her parents, Swan Svenson and Maria (nee) Anderson.

Her parents were farmers and landowners and lived next neighbors to the farm then owned and occupied by the parents of Albert Johnson. Both she and her future husband attended the same rural school in Sweden. In Sweden the Luthern Church and the public schools are both controlled by the state and both are supported by taxation. It was customary at that time for children to complete the six year's course in the public school and then attend religious instruction for one year, after which, at about the age of fifteen, they were confirmed with suitable ceremony and thereafter considered as being adult members of society. And thus, as was customary in Sweden, the deceased was duly confirmed and became a member of the Luthern Church. Later in life she attended and contributed to the support of other protestant churches but she never relinquished her membership in the Luthern Church of her childhood days.

In 1888, at the age of 18, the deceased came to America, making her home with her brother, John Svenson at Chariton, Iowa. For two years she worked out doing housework and on February, 20th, 1891, she was united in marriage to the school mate of her younger days, Albert S. Johnson. To this union came eight children, two died in infancy; Ellen, a grown daughter, died in 1916 and five children survive her.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert S. Johnson commenced housekeeping on a farm near Chariton, Iowa, 50 miles south of Des Moines, where they remained 12 years, after which they moved to the Klemme and Ventura territory where the family has lived on various farms for thirty years.

Having been born and raised on a farm and being physically strong, the deceased was ever a real helpmate to her husband in the business of farming. She was devoted to her family and was always ready to sacrifice her own comfort so that the sons and daughters might attend school or be benefited in some way.

Some two years ago, Mrs. Johnson had an attack of Influenza that left her heart weak and finally a stroke of apoplexy ended her earthly career on July 20th, 1933, having attained the age of 62 years, 6 months and 25 days. She leaves of her immediate family, besides her husband, five children, Danny, Walter and Pearl, at home; Nina, of Lake Forest, Ill.; Mrs. P. E. Christians of Ventura; and two grandchildren, Winton and June Allen Christians.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this means of expressing our thanks to our many friends and neighbors; to the Royal Neighbors of Klemme and the Loyalty Rebeccas of Garner, for their kindness and help extended to us, and for the floral tributes and words of sympathy and cheer, all of which helped us bear the burden of sorrow in our bereavement.

Albert Johnson and family

ICE CREAM SOCIAL ON SATURDAY EVENING

The Ladies Aid of the Methodist Church will sell home made ice cream Saturday evening at Wellemeyer's lot. A big dish of ice cream and cake for 10c. Ice cream cones for the kiddies. Ice cream will also be sold in pint and quart containers. Comfortable seats and plenty of tables for all. You are invited.

Ladies who have been solicited for cream and milk will please have same at the church basement by 2:00 Saturday afternoon. Donations of milk and cream by anyone who has not been solicited will be appreciated.

THRESHING WELL UNDER WAY, OATS FAIR QUALITY

Threshing in this community got well under way early last week. The rains of Thursday and Friday nights stopped the activity in some rings. With good weather most of the threshing around here will be completed by the end of the week.

Oats this year is not the best, but it is much better than most farmers expected. Many fields are running thirty bushels and better to the acre. One farmer near Klemme reported his oats made 45 bushels o the acre and the quality was good.

MILO RENO WILL SPEAK AT EAGLE LAKE STATE PARK

Many from this community will go to Eagle Lake State Park Sunday to hear Milo Reno, president of the Farmers Holiday Association, who will speak at 2:00 o'clock. Mr. Reno is a good speaker and he will be well worth hearing.

KLEMME FARM SELLS FOR $95 PER ACRE

Frank Hrubes, farmer near Duncan, purchased the August Katter 60-acre farm, just west of Klemme. The price paid was $95 per acre.

This is the farm now rented by Ralph Ludeke and formerly owned by Henry Ludeke. The farm is well improved and the buildings are all good, having been built in recent years.

This is one of the first land transactions in several months in this locality.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lewis and son, Duard, are enjoying a week's outing and fishing in one of the northern Minnesota lakes this week.

CUT BOUQUETS IN MORNING

The best time to cut a bouquet is early in the morning. Florists cut their flowers at that time.

After the flowers have been cut, they should be placed in clean cold water at once and should never be left out of the water for more than a few minutes.

Cutting off a portion of the stems occassionally will freshen the water absorbing surface of the lower stalk. A sharp knife should be used in cutting of the ends of the stems and they preferably should be cut under water.

The water in vases should be renewed at least once a day. Deep vases and bowls are superior to the shallow types as they make it possible or more water to come in contact with the stems and lower foliage.

Keeping flowers in a basement or cool room overnight will add greatly to the length of time they last.

Lesson for July 30

GIDEON

LESSON TEXT—Judges 7:1-23.

GOLDEN TEXT—The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? the Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid? Psalm 27:1.

PRIMARY TOPIC — God Helping Gideon.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Winning Without Swords.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Gideon and the Three Hundred.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Winning With a Few.

After forty years of freedom, Israel again passes under the cruel yoke of bondage at the hand of the Midianites. So grievous was their affliction that they hid in dens, caves, and strongholds (Judges 6:2). In their distress they cried unto the Lord and He sent deliverance. This deliverance was effected through Gideon. The angel of the Lord appeared to him while at the post of duty. Gideon's hesitancy, when called, was due to modesty and caution, and not to unbelief. Before going forward he wished to be doubly sure (Judges 6:36-40). When once he was convinced of duty he was not only courageous, but enthusiastic.

I. The Opposing Army of the Midianites (v. 1).

On that eventful day, Gideon and his army arose early and encamped by the spring of Harod. Over against them was the Midianite host in battle array. Gideon's army was insignificant by comparison with the Midianites.

II. The Sifting of Gideon's Army (vv. 2-8).

At Gideon's call, 32,000 men responded ready for the struggle. This seemed a small army to go against the Midianite army of 135,000 strong (Judges 8:10), but God said this was too many lest they be led to self-confidence and boasting. All that were faint-hearted were allowed to go back, leaving only 10,000. There were 22,000 cowards in that group of men and, worst of all, they were not ashamed to confess it. This was still too many. When God was through with his sifting process only 300 remained. The 10,000 were brave men but not of the proper quality and fitness. Those who "lapped" the water showed alertness and caution. If a similar test were made today in our churches and Sunday Schools, would the percentage stand any higher?

III. Encouragements Given to Gideon (vv. 9-15).

God bade Gideon go down to the Midianite camp where he would hear something that would cheer his heart and strengthen his hands. When Gideon came near he heard a man telling a dream which was that of a barley cake tumbling into the camp and smiting it. He also heard the interpretation given to the dream which made Gideon to be the cake. This greatly cheered his heart and strengthened him for his work, and caused his heart to burst forth in worshipful praise to God. A barley cake is a very insignificant thing, a very cheap affair in itself, but with the hand of God upon it, it would be successful to spread consternation among the Midianites and even bring destruction upon their armies.

IV. Gideon's Victory (vv. 16-23).

His army was very insignificant and his weapons worthless. His attack was most unique. The whole matter was of faith (Heb. 11:32). The ground of his faith was God's Word and the token which he had given. God does not ask his servants to go forward without good ground upon which to rest their faith. Gideon formed his 300 men into three companies and provided each man with a trumpet and with a lamp concealed in a pitcher. Thus armed, they surrounded the camp of the Midianites. They were all instructed to keep their eyes on Gideon, their leader, and imitate him. Believers today are to keep their eyes on Christ, their Leader, and ever to do as he does. At the proper moment they blew their trumpets and broke their pitchers, giving an opportunity for their lights to shine out. This awful crash of breaking pitchers, following the sound of the trumpets accompanied by the shout, "The sword of the Lord, and of Gideon," threw the Midianites into a panic, causing them to fight among themselves. Thus 120,000 were slain, leaving but 15,000 of that mighty army (Judges 8:10).

In applying the teaching of this lesson to our age, we can think of the sounding of the trumpets as representing prayer or calling upon God; the torches as the light of the gospel; the pitchers, our human nature. Only as the pitchers were broken to allow the light to shine forth and as the trumpet of prayer sounds loud and long, can victory be expected.

Must Have First Place

God will put up with a great many things in the human heart, but there is one thing that he will not put up with in it—a second place. He who offers God a second place, offers him no place.—Ruskin.

Energizing Power

The world's advance is due only to the hopes, the plans, the progress, and the work of living men and women who have tasted of the waters of life for themselves.

NEW DEAL

The Farm Deal--

The New Deal on the farm means better prices for everything you sell.

The Government wants you to make money; money to pay taxes; money to pay interest; and still have money left to pay up back store debts and buy a few pieces of new furniture and some new rugs for your home.

The Store Deal--

We will do our best to keep prices so that your money will go farther Wellemeyer's Store.

But with the factories paying their more wages for shorter hours, we can see that furniture prices will be higher, may never in your lifetime see today's prices again.

CAN EARLY VARIETIES APPLES

Summer apples are like perishable berries, cherries and summer peaches—if you have more than you can use fresh, the only way to save them for use several weeks or months later is to can them.

Yellow transparent and Duchess are the two most common varieties of summer apples and both of these make very delicious sauce. If these are canned now, they will make a most pleasing dish to accompany meat or to use as a dessert at almost any meal next winter.

Cook apples slowly because the sauce will scorch easily. Add only water to prevent scorching. When the apples are well cooked and soft, add just enough sugar to sweeten. The amount of sugar will depend on the acidity of the fruit and will vary from one-third to one-fourth as much sugar as fruit.

Many people prefer a smooth sauce which may be obtained by beating it with an egg whip or by straining it. If one prefers more flavor than may be obtained from the apples and sugar alone, add any of the following: The juice of one medium orange; the juice of a medium lemon; the grated rind of ½ orange or 1 lemon may be added with the juice of either; a slice of canned pineapple; a sprig of garden mint may be cooked with the sauce and removed just before canning; or a stick of cinamon may be cooked with the sauce.

As a rule only one of these flavors should be added. The seasoning should enhance and not mask the principal flavor.

After the frult is cooked, pack it in hot sterilized jars, seal and store.

Summer apples may be baked whole with the skins on and canned. Prepared in this manner, apples are tightly packed in a shallow baking pan and well spread with sugar. As soon as they are cooked, pack in hot jars and seal as with sauce. The cores need not be removed until the apples are served. Spicy crab apples when canned in this way are delicious served with meat.

Fencing Time--- Will Be Here Shortly!

After threshing will be the time for fixing and building new permanent Fence With the pastures short and with the abundant undergrowth it will pay to get the stock in your stubble fields if possible. Don't for-get that hogging corn will pay just as big this year as it has in the past. The hog price will come up. A few steel post and a couple of rolls of Barb Wire will make this possible. We just unloaded a car of cedar post and the size and quality is excellent. We have Barb wire from $2.25 per spool and up. Steel post Studded Tee from 32 cents up. Wood post 13 cents and up. Don't run the chance of your cattle getting into the green corn when a few post and a little wire may save a critter for you.

FLY TIME

Fly time for the housewife is just commencing. From now on she will have to battle this pest all during threshing and canning. DON'T FORGET WE ARE SELLING GERM-A-RID HOUSEHOLD FLY KILER, and we are putting out a Real Bargain. A Real SPRAY GUN, one that will use the last drop in the gun, all Filled, Ready to turn loose on the flys for the sum of 15 cents. Get one! Don't let the flies get the upper hand in your home for 15 cents. Germ-A-Rid also at Klemme Food Market.

AFTER THREHING COMES PLOWING!

No doubt you will be wanting a new Sulky Plow or a Gang Plow. Drop in and see us. It will pay you to come in.

MISS EVA DURANT AND LLOYD ULRICH MARRIED SATURDAY JULY 22 AT CLARION

Marriage Was Performed At Methodist Parsonage By Rev. Ortmeyer

Miss Eva Durant, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Durant and their youngest child, was united in marriage Saturday morning at 10:30 to Lloyd Ulrich of Liberty township. The marriage ceremony was performed at the Methodist parsonage at Clarion, the Rev. Ortmeyer officiating. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wade.

The bride has spent practically her entire life in this community. She attended the local schools and completed two years of a high school course. For the past year she has been in the employ of the Willodson cafe. She is a young woman of much charm and has always been popular with her associates.

The groom is one of the substantial farmers of Liberty township, where he has spent nearly all of his life. They will take up their abode on his father's place which he has been farming.

A shower in honor of Mrs. Ulrich was given Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Dave Molloch and she was attended by about twenty-two neighbors and friends. She was presented with some very beautiful and useful gifts.—Garner Leader.

KLEMME RIFLE CLUB DROPS OUTDOOR MATCH TO CLARION

The Clarion Rifle Club, with seven men shooting, defeated the Klemme Rifle Club at the Kemme range Sunday morning. The course of fire was two targets each at 100 yards and fifty yards, the five high men shooting for record. A stiff breeze blowing at "two o'clock" added to the sport and difficulty of the match. The Klemme shooters all used regular or "iron sights" and were thus handicapped as all of the Clarion shooters used telescopic rifle sights on all targets. A return match at Clarion is scheduled for August 13th between the two clubs.

Following are the scores made by the five high on both teams:

ROYAL NEIGHBORS GIVE FAREWELL PARTY FOR MRS. STILLE

Paul Stille And Family Have Left For New Home In Louisiana

Friday evening the Royal Neighbor Ladies of Klemme gave a farewell party in honor of Mrs. Paul Stille. The ladies met at the Wiles & West Cafe and left from there in cars for the Stille home in Liberty township.

The evening was spent in playing games and putting on stunts of all kinds which were amusing and furnished lots of fun for all. At a late hour a nice lunch, including lemonade, home made ice cream and cake was served.

The Stille family left Monday for their new home at De Ridder, Louisiana, where they will arrive in time to put in their crops for the coming season.

Mr. and Mrs. Burdette Haefner are staying with Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Stille to assist with farm work. Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Stille will leave later for the south to join their son and family.

MAY BE MORE CHINCH BUGS

Preparations Under Way To Meet Possible 1934 Infestation

If conditions are right, Iowa may have an infestation of chinch bugs in 1934 which will make the one of this year seem insignificant, accordng to Dr. Carl J. Drake, Iowa State College.

There are far more bugs in Iowa this year than there were a year ago, the bugs increase rapidly and they are widespread. Therefore, if they should winter without heavy loss, the outbreak next year might be tremendous.

In order to meet the situation Dr. H. M. Harris and A. D. Worthington entomologists from the college have been making intensive studies of bugs this year in order to be prepared to formulate plans should a serious outbreak occur next year.

These men have been studying the egg laying habits of the bugs, the parasites which feed on the eggs and the parasites of the bugs themselves. They are noting which birds are especially active in feeding on the bugs.

An other angle whch they have been studying is the use of barriers. They have been comparing the results of different kinds of barriers and of different oil preparations used for barriers. They also have tried some modifications of the barriers commonly used.

The studies have been made not only in Iowa, but also in Illinois to note the methods used there and the results obtained.

This fall Mr. Worthington, who is extension entomologist, with an assistant will hold field and fence row burning demonstrations in the counties where heavy damage was done this year. Promiscuous burning is not recommended. They advise providing protection for such birds as quail where their regular protection is destroyed by fires.

PROGRAM GIVEN BY CHOIR OF REFORMED CHURCH NEAR WAUKON, IOWA

Many Enjoyed Trip To Points Of Interest In Northeast Iowa

The Reformed Choir completed their tours Sunday evening, when they gave their concert in the Salem Reformed Church, which is located in what was formerly the small town of Ludlow about eight miles from Waukon.

A group of thirty-three choir members and others from Klemme left early Sunday morning for eastern Iowa so as to have some time for sight seeing befor they were due in Ludlow.

The points of interest that were visited by different groups of the party were: the clocks at Spillville, made by the Bily brothers; The Little Brown Church at Nashua; Ice Cave at Decorah; Mississippi river at Lansing; smallest church near Festina and one group visited friends in Waukon.

Sunday afternoon at 1:00 o'clock another group left for Ludlow, and arrived at 5:30 where they met the group that had gone in the morning.

A delcious supper was served to the fifty-five Klemme guests in the basement of the church, after which a short toast program was given.

The Concert which began at 7:30 o'clock was rendered for a very attentive audience which filled the large church to capacity. The offertory was played by Miss Gracka Quandt.

After the program all but ten of the guests returned to Klemme. Those remaining returned Monday P. M. thus having an additional opportunity for more sight seeing.

Those who enjoyed the trip to Ludlow were the members of the choir; Rev. and Mrs Calvin Grosshuesch; Adela Schroeder, director; Viola Thieman, pianist; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rosendahl; Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schmidt; Mr. and Mrs. Emil Kraus and Arlene; Edith Bachman, Mrs. George Carolus; Mrs. John Swalve, Wilma, Raymond and Harold; Lillian Brown; Irvin Priebe; Harley Jensen, Mrs. John Bock; Clarence Brouwer; and Edmund Josten.

MRS. CRIS ANDERSON GIVEN FAREWELL PARTY

Mrs. H. D. Shoafstall entertained at a farewell party last Thursday evening in honor of Mrs. Cris Anderson, by inviting in a number of her neighbors and closest friends to spend the evening. The time was spent in a social way after which a delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Shoafstall.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson have moved from Klemme to their home at Bode, Iowa, where they are now comfortably located. Mr. Anderson, who has been section foreman here for the past year and a half has taken over a like position at Bode. Anderson has been in service with the Rock Island for a number of years and has but a little more than a year left before he will be eligible for retirement from service.

Milo Reno Did Not Speak

A number from Klemme and vicinity drove to Eagle Lake Sunday afternoon with the hopes of hearing Milo Reno, who was scheduled to deliver an address there that afternoon. Many were disappointed, as Mr. Reno failed to show up, but had sent a substitute speaker in his place.

Lesson for August 6

RUTH

LESSON TEXT—Ruth 1:6-19.

GOLDEN TEXT—Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God; and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God. I John 4:7.

PRIMARY TOPIC—God's Gift of Friends.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Ruth the Loyal.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Ruth the Loyal.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Message of the Book of Ruth.

In order to grasp the material contained in the subject there must be swept into view the whole book of Ruth. The lesson committee recognized this and assigned the book as the lesson text. However, for convenience the lesson text which is to be printed has been confined to the first chapter, verses 6-19.

I. Ruth's Connection With the Jewish Nation (1:1-5).

1. The sojourn in Moab (vv. 1-3). On account of famine in Bethlehem of Judah, Elimelech with Naomi, his wife, and their two sons sojourned in the land. During this sojourn Elimelech died, leaving Naomi, the widow, to care for two fatherless sons.

2. The marriage of the two sons (v. 4). During the sojourn the two sons fell in love with and married Moabitish women named Orpah and Ruth. For God's chosen people even to sojourn in the world exposes them to the likelihood of intermarriage of the members of the family with the people of the world.

3. The death of the sons (v. 5). In a brief time, three widows were left in the one family relation. This family went to Moab to escape trouble, only to have their troubles greatly increased. When God's people go into the world to escape difficulties they are sure to suffer in consequence.

II. Naomi's Return to the Land of Judah (vv. 6-14).

Because of the chastisement that was sent upon Naomi, she resolved to return to her country. The purpose of God's chastisement is to cause his children to return unto him.

When the time came for Naomi to go, Ruth and Orpah accompanied her for a distance. This she permitted, but deetrmined to place before them frankly the difficulties that would confront them. Having laid the matters before them, she urged them to turn back. As much as Naomi loved her daughters-in-law, she would not have them go with her without knowing fully what their decision meant.

III. Ruth's Noble Choice (vv. 16-18).

This choice on her part meant:

1. No chance to marry again. In that day to be unmarried was the greatest disgrace. Furthermore, it was against God's law for the Jews to marry outside of their own people.

2. She must renounce her gods. Idolatrous worship could not be carried on in the land where God's people dwelt. This was delicately touched upon by Naomi when Orpah went back (v. 15). Orpah went back when it was plain that there was no chance to marry again. At this time Naomi put an additional test upon Ruth, that of giving up her religion. Ruth was equal to the occasion. Her mind was fully made up. Her very expressions have come down to us in words which "no poetry has outrivaled, and no pathos has exceeded, and which have gone through centuries with the music that will not let them be forgotten." She was determined to share Naomi's journey, her home, her God, her lot in life and her grave in death, whatever that would be. It meant that she would renounce her heathen gods, and worship Jehovah.

IV. Blessings Which Attended Ruth's Choice (chaps. 2-4).

1. She found the true God (1:16). Instead of her heathen gods who were unable to help her, she now had a living God—the God of Israel.

2. She found human friends (chap. 2). As she went to glean she was led to the field of Boaz, a man of wealth and grace. The servants treated her with consideration. Even Boas gave instructions for special consideration to be given her.

3. A good husband and a happy home (chaps. 3, 4). She not only secured a husband, but a man of God who had an abundance of this world's goods.

4. An honored place in the Israelitish nation (4:13-17). Though she had to forsake her own people, she became one of a nobler people.

5. She became a link in the chain of Christ's ancestry (4:18-22, cf. Matt. 1:5). The one who fully decides for Christ and gives up all for him shall receive a hundredfold in this life, and in the world to come eternal life.

The Holy Spirit

There is only one inlet of power in the life; just one inlet—the Holy Spirit. He is power. To yield to his mastery, to cultivate his friendship, to give him full swing—that will result in what is called power. One inlet of power—the Holy Spirit in control.

Facing Wrong Way

Four Good Points

THAT INSURE DAIRY SUCCESS

We are always willing to help the dairy farmer whenever and wherever we can. Here are Four Good Points that should help everyone of our patrons to make more money in dairying:—

Point One

Better breeding because like begets like, and a good dairy bull may easily be more than half of the herd.

Point Two

Better feeding because the dairy cow is a manufacturing plant and she will manufacture butterfat in direct proportion to the right amount of raw material you furnish her.

Point Three

Closer culling because no herd that has not been bred and culled for production will be found free from the boarder animal or low producer. Breed high producing cows to bulls with high producing ancestry and you have eliminated most of the guesswork regarding production and even then their offspring should be tested for butterfat production.

Point Four

So much for the dairy herd.The Fourth Point is that it pays you well to sell your cream to us. We are ever striving to produce the highest grade of butter, which commands top prices. Therefore we are able to offer you the most for your cream.

THIRD ADJOURNED JUNE MEETING

Garner, Iowa, July 7, 1933.

The Hancock county board of supervisors met on above date with Supervisors F. J. Oxley, and F. J. Schoun present.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved as read.

On motion and second the quarterly reports of Fern Peck Katter, County Recorder, were approved.

Carried.

F. J. Schoun was appointed a committee to investigate and cause repairs to be made in D. D. No. 34.

Carried.

Be it remembered that on this 7th day of July, 1933, the board of supervisors of Hancock county met in session for the purpose of considering the estimate of the local county budget.

Said estimate was duly considered and the board being fully advised does designate the 4th day of August, 1933, for a hearing on said estimate, same to be held at the court house at 10:00 o'clock a.m. of aforesaid date.

The county auditor is hereby directed to publish estimate in the Garner Leader and the Britt News-Tribune as by law required. Publication to be for one insertion and at least 10 days prior to date set for hearing.

WHEREAS, the revenue in certain funds of the municipality set out in the within application is inadequate to meet the actual and necessary expense which must be paid from said funds and any extraordinary or unforseen expense which may arise during the ensuing fiscal year; and

WHEREAS, the inadequacy of the revenue referred to is deemed to constitute an emergency which requires the levy of an emergency tax; therefore

BE IT RESOLVED, by the board of supervisors, Hancock county, Iowa, that the director of the budget be and he is hereby petitioned for approval to levy an emergency tax for the year 1934 in the sum of Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000.00), (not exceeding four mills) said tax to be used as set out below.

T. B. Eradication Fund, Poor Fund, Goneral County Fund and County Expense Fund.

Extraordinary demands on the above funds make is necessary to levy this tax and whereas in November 1932, upon the approval of the budget director, a transfer was made to the poor fund from the T. B. Eradication Fund, $5,000 of this amount should be paid back to said fund from this emergency levy. The Beatty-Bennett law has been compied with.

F. J. Oxley, Chairman.
Fred C. Missal, Auditor.

The foregoing resolution was adopted at an adjourned meeting on the 7th day of July A. D., 1933.

The vote thereon was as follows:

Ayes—F. J. Schoun, G. E. Klipping, F. J. Oxley.

Nays—None.

Be it resolved that claims hereinafter set out be allowed in the various amounts designated thereon and the auditor be and he is hereby directed to draw warrants on the several funds of the county in payment of such claims.

Carried.

On motion and second board adjourned to July 26, 1933.

Carried.

PLAN TO RESEED ALFALFA

Should Not Be Delayed Later Than Middle of August In Northern Iowa

Because of hot weather and the drouth, thousands of spring seeding of alfalfa, sweet clover and red clover are failures in Iowa this year. Many farmers plan to reseed part of all their acreages this summer.

Summer seedings of alfalfa should be in by the middle of August at least in Northern Iowa. Sweet clover for pasture may be seeded successfully up to Sept. 1 in the average year. These facts have been established in many tests carried on at the experiment station at Iowa State College, according to H. D. Hughes,, chief in farm crops.

In central and southern Iowa, alfalfa seedings up to Sept. 1 will usually succeed although earlier seedings are preferable.

The success of summer seedings will depend upon moisture conditions to some extent and upon the preparation of the seed bed. Do not plow for these summer seedings. Plowing is likely to result in a deep dust mulch which is undesirable. He prefers to have the ground disced so that it will have a firm subsurface.

A procedure recommended is to disc, broadcast the seed, harrow it in and then roll the ground. This is usually preferable to drilling. If a drill is used, care should be taken to see that the seed is not covered over half inch deep. The same rate of seeding for summer is recommended as for spring seedings. No nurse crop should be sown in the summer.

If one plans to reseed red clover it should be in by Aug. 1. Summer seed ings of red clover have not generally been so successful as have seedings of sweet clover and alfalfa.

A family in a nearby town decided to dispense with the services of their hired girl, but the difficulty in doing so was that they owed the girl $15 and had no money to pay her. She figured, and no doubt correctly, that if she left the premises she'd never get her money, so she went up to her room and went to bed. After a couple of days the family became alarmed and called in a doctor, who asked the girl what was the matter. "Nothing," replied the girl, "except that these people owe me $15 and I'm going to stay here until I got it." "Push over," the doctor replied.— Elmore Eye.

HOW MUCH CORN IN A QUART OF MILK?

It is frequently pointed out that the final selling price of a kilowatt hour is many times the cost of fuel used in itsproduction. It is interesting to compare the delivered cost of a kilowatt hour with the delivered cost of a quart of milk. We do not know whether the price of milk is too high or too low, but we do know that the cost of the corn fed to the cow has very little bearing on the delivered cost of the milk. To determine the selling price of any product or service, it is necessary to include interest on money invested, taxes, maintenance of equipment and property, depreciation, wages and distribution costs. It is certain that the dairy industry is not making a fair profit under present conditions. Neither is your power company.

CLAIR WEST'S CAR DESTROYED BY FIRE ON HIGHWAY

Last week Tuesday night when Clair West was returning home to Klemme, his car caught afire north of Goodell, at a point a short distance north of the Christie farm on Highway 15. Clair first noticed smoke and flames shooting up from the floorboards. Before he could stop the car and get out, the flames had slightly scorched his face and singed his hair.

The car was completely destroyed by the flames. Just what caused the fire is not known. Mr. West says it was probably caused by a short in the electrical system igniting grease, or possibly the gasoline line might have sprung a leak.

The car, which was a Ford model A sport roadster was not insured against loss by fire.

SMOCK'S CUCUMBERS HAVE QUEER HABITS

"Anybody can raise ordinary pickle cucumbers," says C. D. Smock, "but it takes Some gardener to raise three of them at a time, all joined together."

To prove his statement Mr. Smock brought a queer specimen of a cucumber to the Times Office Saturday. The cucumber, or we better say cucumbers, for there are three of them grown together into a cresent or quarter moon shape. Evidently the first cucumber sort of curled up into a moon shape and craving close company snuggled up to another cucumber and the two thus grew together. And as if this was not enough a third cucumber joined the queer arrangement.

4-H Clubs Of County To Put On Annual Exhibit

TO PAY WHEAT GROWERS SOON

Farmers Who Sign Up Will Get 20 Cents a Bushel This Fall, 8 to 10 Cents Next Spring

Wheat adjustment contracts will offer Iowa wheat armers 20 cents a bushel this fall and either 8 or 10 cents a bushel next spring on an allotment of 54 per cent of the average past 5 years' production, in return for acreage reductions pledged, the Agricultural Adjustment Administration has announced.

In the contract the farmers will be asked to reduce the acreage planted for the 1934 and 1935 crops by the percentage that the Secretary of Agriculture may declare necessary to adequately control production. In no case will a farmer be asked to reduce more than 20 percent of his average acreage for the last three years.

If all wheat farmers of the nation accepted the plan, the first 20 cent payment would require approximately $90,000,000. Secretary Wallace has made public an estimate that the taxable consumption f wheat in the United States for the next year under the 30 cent processing tax which was put into effect July 9, will amount to 460,000,000 bushels. The total tax from this source will be $138,000,000 for the year, administration officials estimate.

The second payment is to be made next spring after farmers have given evidence that they have reduced acreage, will be for not less than 8 cents nor more than 10 cents a bushel on the allotment, less local administrative costs. Administration officials decided on the 2 cent reserve in the second payment in order to insure them freedom of action if the opportunity arises to help wheat growers by opening up new export markets. If no such opportunity is found, the second payment will be made on the 10 cent basis.

First checks will be mailed as soon as county wheat production control associations can be organized to administer the wheat plan locally and compete the farm allotments. These organizations are now in process of formation in Iowa under the leadership of extension workers from Iowa State College, county agents and members of the county wheat committees.

BAXTER CHOIR GAVE SPLENDID PROGRAM SUNDAY EVE

The choir of the Baxter Reform Church directed by Rev. D. Bosma gave a musical program in our local church. The program consisted of several German songs as well as English numbers. Instrumental music was also provided. They have some fine musicians and should be proud of the way each rendered his selection. The following instrumental numbers were given: cornet solo cornet and violin duet, violin duet played by Rev. D. Bosma and his daughter, Miss Anetta, who was also pianist for the choir. The audience was also privileged to hear a very good concerto played on two pianos by Miss Anetta Bosma a Mr. Jacob Maurer. This was the first time that a two piano duet was ever presented in Klemme and all enjoyed the excellent playing.

Two weeks ago the choir of the Klemme Reformed Church gave a concert at Baxter and in return the Baxter choir presented a program here.

Our young people served a six o'clock supper to the visitors and after the program lunch was served. Several Baxter people remained over night while the others returned to their homes.

MOST FRUIT EASILY CANNED

The housewife who cans vegetables successfully should have little trouble in preserving fruit providing she alters certain details of the process. Apples and peaches are 2 of the "old stand-bys" for home canning.

Peelings may be removed from peaches easily by scalding and cooling quickly. Plums for canning should be pricked with a fork. Most apples need not be peeled.

Jars, rubbers and lids should be boiled for 20 minutes to sterilize them thoroughly.

Most fruits are prepared for canning and are then dropped into sterilized containers standing in hot water. These jars are shaken to settle the fruit and the jars filled with boiling syrup. After the jars have stood a few minutes in boiling water to drive out the air, they are sealed tightly and processed immediately.

Apples should be brought to the boiling point in syrup to prevent shrinking and are then packed. Canned baked apples make a pleasing variation in the home food supply.

The hot water bath s recommended for canning fruits and tomatoes, as the pressure cooker has no special advantage. In the hot water bath, pint andquart jars are processed 25 minutes with 2 inches of boiling water over the top of the containers throughout the process. Tin cans are processed for 20 minutes.

If the open kettle method is used the fruit should be processed for 5 minutes after sealing. The open kettle method consists of cooking the fruit, placing it in jars and sealing them. Over-ripe fruit should not be canned.

WHO HAS TALLEST CORN?

Almost every year some farmer brings in a tall stalk of corn. So far this year there has been none brot in. However, we have heard a few farmers boasting how tall their corn is. Let's have some samples! Usually at this time of the year there are several samples tied up along our main street.

Necessary Fall Repairs Should Be Done Now!

Don't wait too long to do necessary fall repairing. Fencing off stubble for extra feed will be profitable this fall. A few steel post and a couple of rolls of barb wire will do it. We have a good stock of post on hand and expect another car in soon.

POSTS 13c Each

3" post (look like 4's) each .13c

Don't overlook the hogging down of corn. It has always paid.

Roof repairing should not be neglected at this time. Wet weather may set in and if your roof is in bad condition may spoil your plaster and paper. Shingles are still reasonable in price.

PLOWING will soon be the next project on the farm, if in need of a new plow or repairs, come in or call ns, we are at your command.

Tells How She Took 4 Ins. Off Waist 7 Ins. Off Hips

In 40 days by taking Kruschen Salts, Mrs. Helga Blaugh of New York City reduced 26½ lbs.—took 4 inches off hips, 3 inches off bust and 7½ inches off waist. She writes "I haven't gone hungry a moment—I feel fine and look 10 yrs. younger"

To get rid of double chins, bulging hips, ugly rolls of fat on wa t and upper arms SAFELY and without discomfort—at the same time build up glorious health and acquire a clear skin, bright eyes, energy and vivaciousness—to look younger and feel it—take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast.

One jar lasts 4 weeks and costs but a trifle at P. M. Wilsons or any drug store the world over. Make sure you get Kruschen because its SAFE. Money back if not joyfully satisfied.

First National Bank

Money, Money,

Easy Money---

Hogs, Corn and Farm Products are now slated for a rapid advance up to the 1926 level. This will probably happen within the next few weeks, as predicted by the National Recovery Administration, and of course we will do all we can to help the President.

But--

It has always been considered by Business Leaders that to "monkey" with the law of "supply and demand" even on a small scale was highly dangerous, and when we consider the gigantic size of the government's price fixing program, no man can predict what will happen before we get thru with this "recovery plan" and there may be a spell of "very hard times" when the government tries to let go of running everybody's business.

Play Safe--

When our pockets begin to bulge with the first easy money, which we may earn or win, in this artificial price raising game, we will all be tempted (and maybe urged) to spend our money as fast as we win it, or we may even be tempted and encouraged to make more debts.

Pay Debts First--

As we see it, the one thing for each of us to do when we get hold of this first easy money, is to "lay by" and not buy more than we absolutely need, not make any more debts, but first pay off our small store debts around home and thus "keep our house in order" so that if the "big slap" from this inflation hits us, we can face it with strength.

A Friend Indeed--

It is one thing to loan a man hard cash at a high rate of interest on ample security. There is seldom any friendship in a transaction of this kind. (Remember how Henry Ford hated the Jew money lenders some years ago?)

It is another thing when a Merchant or a Doctor or a Mechanic loans us their merchandise or their services. They have no security. They have only our word of honor that we will pay when we can.

They are not rich men but as far as they are able they extend credit to us. These transactions are based on Friendship and "a friend in need is a friend indeed."

To be fair, and to show proper appreciation to these good men who have trusted us, now and then, thruout the three years of this depression

Let's Pay Accounts First!

KLEMME "LAW" NOT TO BE TRIFLED WITH DISCOVERS YOUNG MAN

That the Klemme "law" is not to be taken lightly was demonstrated the past week to a young man from Dakota who was the subject of a legal action issued from the justice court of Henry Suckow.

This particular action, which was filed by Arthur Wellemeyer and against Albert Keeper, involved a note held by Wellemeyer against Keeper. Mr. Wellemeyer had turned the note over to Justice Suckow for action.

The Justice made out the neces- ary papers and turned them over to Don Stille, constable, to be served on Keeper. It is alleged that Keeper grabbed the papers from the constable and tore them to bits when Stille was in the act of serving them.

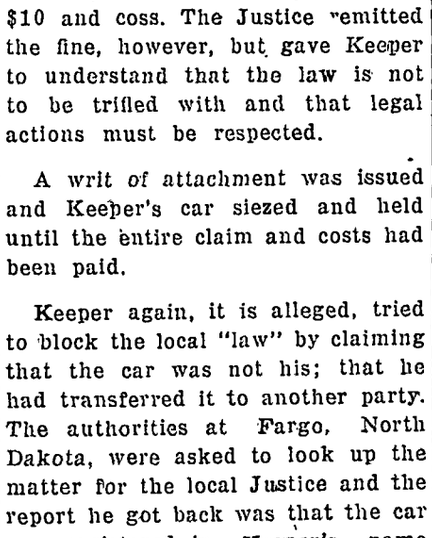
The next step of the local "law" was to place Keeper under arrest on a contempt charge for the illegal resistance of a process. Keeper was arrested on a contempt charge for the illegal resistance of a process. Keeper was arrested by Constable Stille and taken before Justice Suckow, who fined the young man $10 and coss. The Justice remitted the fine, however, but gave Keeper to understand that the law is not to be trifled with and that legal actions must be respected.

A writ of attachment was issued and Keeper's car siezed and held until the entire claim and costs had been paid.

Keeper again, it is alleged, tried to block the local "law" by claiming that the car was not his; that he had transferred it to another party. The authorities at Fargo, North Dakota, were asked to look up the matter for the local Justice and the report he got back was that the car was registered in Keeper's name and no other transfer had been placed on record.

The outcome of the whole action was that the local authorities were not to be bluffed, and so won their point.

RADIO STARS AT STATE FAIR



Des Moines, Ia., Special: Famous radio stars of the nation will be featured on a one-day program during this year's Iowa State Fair here on Sunday, Aug. 27. Above is Hiram Higsbee of the WLS Barn Dance programs, who will be one of the headliners of the big radio show. One performance for State Fair visitors will be presented on Sunday afternoon and another Sunday evening. PLAN SOCIETY HORSE EVENTS

Des Moines, Ia., Special: Blue-blooded horses from Iowa's finest w- horse stables will compete in four nights of Society Horse Shows at this year's Iowa State Fair, August 28 to 31 inclusive. Classes will include high school horses, three and five gaited saddle horses, fancy harness horses and ponies. These are in addition to the regular evening programs of the State Fair which include a Wild West Rodeo and Stampede, Century of Progress fireworks, band concerts, a huge, open-air hippodrome show, and the f night horse racing ever held in Iowa. The State Fair dates this year Aug. 23 to Sept. 1.

BLUES DEFEAT THOMPSON IN HIT AND RUN CARNIVAL 17-5

The Klemme Blues overwhelmed the Thompson Shamrocks on the local diamond Sunday afternoon 17 to 5 in one of the biggest slugfests they have put on this year. Local sluggers hammered out 18 hits off the Thompson moundsmen, Stewart and Laurence, who struck out 1 and 4 respectively. Stewart gave up 2 walks and Laurence 1.

Carpenter, local pitcher, received credit for 11 strikeouts and walked 5 and allowed 6 hits. Johnson who relieved him the first of the eighth allowed 2 hits and walked 3 men.

KLEMME BUSINESS MEN MET WITH STATE HIGHWAY COM.

Made Trip To Learn Possibilities Of Paving No. 179

A dozen or more Klemme business men made up a caravan headed for Ames Tuesday morning to meet with the State Highway Commission the object of the trip being to gather what information they could on the possibility of paving No. 179, stub highway from No. 15 into Klemme.

It is very doubtful as to just when this stretch will be paved. However, the project is on file and eventually the work will be done if funds hold out as there are a great many small projects listed for work.

BIG TOMATOES ARE GROWN IN KLEMME GARDENS

When it comes to big tomatoes and the best quality, Klemme gardens this year are producing world beaters. Several gardens around the town have produced very fine specimens. The largest reported to the Times so far include a 1½ lb. tomato from Mrs R. A. Jorgenson's garden. Tuesday morning C. D. Smock brought in a tomato from his son Faye's garden that beats all records. This particular tomato weighed 2 pounds and 3 ounces. Tuesday afternoon Sumner Trumbull brought in the record smasher —a tomato weighing 2 pounds and 5 ounces. Know any bigger?

JOHN LEMKE GROWS TALL CORN

John Lemke, Liberty township, accepted the challenge issued by the Times last week, by bringing in a stalk of tall corn Saturday. The stalk of corn measures fourteen and one-half feet from root to top. Some corn! That should hold the rest of you tall corn farmers for awhile.

However, you farmers get busy and bring in your corn. Let's see if we can't get a tall stalk for every lamp post on Main Street. And, what's more, the Times will give a year's subscription to the farmer who brings in the tallest stock by next Saturday night. If you can't beat John's sample then he gets the reward. We'll appoint Bill Stille s judge. He's a former farmer and knows tall corn!

NEW IOWA AUTO LICENSE PLATES BLUE AND YELLOW

Iowa's 1934 license plates will be dark blue, the same as this year with the numerals in yellow. The legend, "Iowa 1933" was placed at the top of the plate this year, but next year "Iowa 1934" will be inscribed at the bottom of the plate.

The change is made to prevent repainting of old numbers to avoid purchase of new plates. Tests show that the visibility of the yellow on the blue is very good. As in the past the plates are being made at the state reformatory at Anamosa. Only 675,000 truck and automobile license plates have been ordered for the state this year.

BLIND-FOLDED MAN WILL DRIVE CAR THROUGH STREETS HERE

Big, Special Entertainment In Place Of Movie Feature

There is a "wow" of a time coming to Klemme next Wednesday night. Aug. 23rd, for a great magician is to be here, along with his company of performers. They will give a big free entertainment on the lot where we usually have our moving picture show, beginning promptly at 8 o'clock. This entertainment is sponsored by the Civic Club of Klemme.

The first number on this program of fun will be at 7 when this magician, Mr. Manual, will drive n auto thru Main Street while ho completely blind-folded. Following this remarkable demonstration of unseen power, he and his company will mount a platform which is to be especially erected for this occasion and they will put on an entertainment of Magic Tricks for one and a half hours.

Among their bag of tricks will be the following:

The Disappearing Wedding Ring; The Vanishing Canary and Cage; The Vanishing Half Dollar; The Mail Bag Escape; Cross Escape; Silks—Tubes—Water; The Card in Egg trick and many other items of Magic.

This troupe of magicians are playing the State Fair and large celebrations, but they had an open date and our committee dated them as they are high class in their line.

If you want real entertainment, if you want to see real magic, if you want to be entertained most thoroughly, without cost to you, come to Klemme Wednesday night and be a guest of the town. all free.

SAMUEL

LESSON TEXT—I Samuel 3:1-10; 12:1-4.

GOLDEN TEXT—And Samuel said unto the people, Fear not: ye have done all this wickedness: yet turn not aside from following the Lord, but serve the Lord with all your heart. I Samuel 12:20.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Samuel Talking to God.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Samuel Listening to God.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Training for Service.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Responding to God's Call.

I. Samuel's Birth (1:1-20).

He was given to Hannah in answer to her prayer. His name means "asked of God."

II. Samuel Lent to the Lord (1:24-28).

In connection with Hannah's prayer for a man child, she vowed to give him to God. He was to be a Nazarite all the days of his life. In fulfillment of her vow, she took him at an early age to the sanctuary and gave him over to the charge of Eli, the priest, to minister therein.

III. Samuel Called of God (3:1-10).

Dwelling within the sacred courts and ministering before the Lord with Eli, is the innocent Samuel who is to become the saviour of his people. In Samuel we have a striking pattern of child religion. The Lord gave him in answer to his mother's prayer, and from his birth he was dedicated to the Lord. In the Scriptures we have set forth two types of experience; the one experiencing the saving grace of God after having lived in sin; the other of one brought up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord from his infancy.

Two traits of Samuel's character stand out in his call—his cheerful obedience to the Lord's call, and his surrendered will.

IV. Samuel Established in the Prophetic Office (3:11-21).

Up to this time Samuel obeyed Eli. The time has now come when he must directly hear and obey the Lord. The first message entrusted to him was a most terrible one. It doubtless was a bitter experience to Eli to see Samuel recognized, and himself passed by, but he was submissive. This fearful visitation upon Eli's house was due to the sins of his sons. Eli was accountable because he had not restrained them. He was a good man, but lax in the discipline of his children. Samuel grew and the Lord was with him and did not let any of his words fall to the ground. So fully did the Lord bless his ministry that all Israel knew that he was established as the Lord's prophet.

V. Samuel, the Judge (7:1-17).

1. People called to forsake their idols (vv. 1-6). Because of their sins God permitted the nation to be bitterly oppressed by the Philistines. Samuel promised them deliverance on condition of repentance (v. 3).

2. Samuel prayed for the people (vv. 7-14). In response to his prayer God miraculously delivered them from the Philistines. This victory was memorialized by the setting up of the stone called Ebenezer (v. 12).

3. Samuel judging Israel (vv. 15-17). Bethel, Gilgal, Mizpeh, and Ramah were his circuit, to each of which he made annual visits. These centers were for the accommodation of the people.

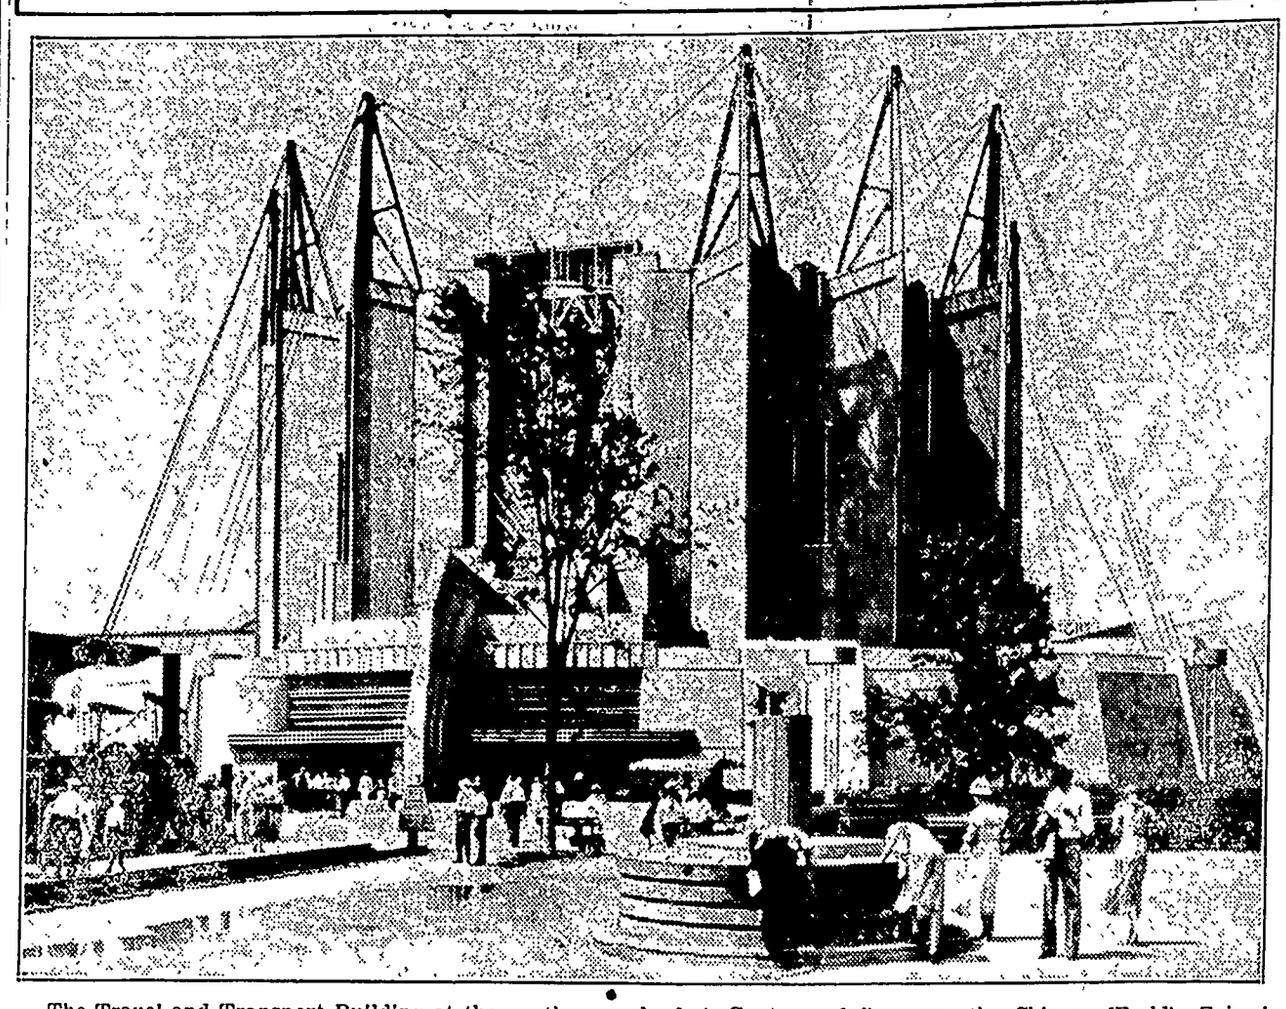
4. Samuel's final address (12:1-25). When Saul, the new king, was crowned, Samuel graciously retired, turning over to him the nation's affairs.

a. Samuel's challenge to the people (vv. 1-5) He reminded them of the way the king had been given and showed their direct responsibility for the change in government. He reviewed his own administration, showing his walk from childhood; and his career as judge and ruler. To this the people responded by a vote of confidence. It was Samuel's right as he laid down the reins of government to have his records vindicated.

b. Samuel reviews God's dealings with the nation from the time of Moses (vv 6-15). He showed them that national prosperity was conditioned upon obedience (v. 14) Though they had displeased God in choosing a king, if they would fear the Lord and render obedience, national prosperity would still be given them.

c. Samuel's personal vindication (vv. 16-25). The hour was so critical in the nation's history that Samuel sought to indelibly impress upon their hearts its meaning. This he did by praying for thunder and rain out of season. They saw this as an example of God's mighty power which, if directed against them, would destroy them instantly.

Story of Transport Thrills World's Fair Throngs



The Travel and Transport Building at the southern end of A Century of Progress—the Chicago World's Fair, is the mecca of thousands of visitors daily. Under its unique cable-suspended dome, and throughout its long exhibition halls are hundreds of displays dramatizing the story of man's achievements during the past one hundred years in transporting himself and his goods. All modes of travel are depicted, there being something of interest for everyone. The Travel and Transport Building is one of the many which are free to the public after the 50-cent gate admission is paid.

PICKLE SOME PEACHES, PEARS

Pickled peaches, pears and crabapples provide a delicious addition to many a meal. Peaches are known to be one of the good foods to use in the diet for the people who are anemic.

In choosing peaches, pears and crabapples for pickling, select only fresh firm fruit which is free from blemishes. Remove the skins from peaches by pouring boiling water over them. Pears are pickled whole in halves or quarters. But in any event, remove the stem end.

Peaches and pears may be pickled in many different ways. Those who are interested may get the recipes for several methods by writing to the Home Economics Division, Iowa State College.

One method of pickling peaches is to make a syrup from 2 quarts of cider vinegar to which has been added 3 quarts of granulated sugar. Place this in a kettle with a spice bag containing 1 tablespoon of whole cloves and 1-4 pound of cinnamon.

Cook the peaches in the sirup until tender, then place in hot jars. Fill the jars with the vinegar sirup and seal. The peaches may be left whole if prefered. Some people prefer to stick whole cloves in the peaches—5 or 6 to each fruit. If this is done do not add spice to the bag.

THE BLUE EAGLE

The Liberty Loan posters of recent memory, have their successor now: It is a blue eagle against a white background with the letters NRA at the top and the motto "We Do Our Part" below. One of the eagle's claws clutches a cog-wheel—the other holds to what might be a modernist's idea of a handful if wheat, or bolts of lightning. It is the emblem of the National Recovery Administration and represents one of the cleverest attempts yet made to produce a end through force of public opinion.

Contrary to many persons' belief the President has no legal means of forcing wage and work agreements on business.

He and his advisors became impatient at the way the codes were going—it took several weeks to produce one, that of the textile industry. The blanket appeal was the result. In effect, the Government is saying: "Of course, you don't have to do this, but— —"! And that is a very important "but" indeed. Recalcitrant businesses are apt to find themselves faced with a boycott. Mr. Roosevelt has the great mass of the public with him; he is making the most of it.

Agreements are being signed by the thousands and the idea is generally popular. Every business is made to feel that it has the President, personally, as a director and advisor. The press, irrespective of party, is behind the move, as are chambers of commerce and other organizations. If the plan doesn't work as expected, it won't be because there was lack of agressiveness and speed at the top.

GRUBS TAKE CORN, PASTURES

Heavy Outbreaks at Mason City, Charles City and Hampton

White grubs, true to their promise of doing considerable damage in Iowa this season, are beginning to show their wares. The heaviest outbreaks so far reported to the entomologists at Iowa State College are at Mason City, Charles City and Hampton.

One 30 acre field of corn has been so badly damaged at Charles City that it is not even considered fit for silage. The owner has turned stock in to consume what little feed is left in the stalks.

Many large areas of pasture grass and grass on golf links have been drying up. Often the cause is assigned is drouth, when actually the grass may have practically no roots left as a result of work of the grubs according to C. J. Drake, state entomologist.

At Hampton counts were made on a golf course badly infested with grubs. There the number of grubs averaged 26 per square foot. In one instance, 47 were found in a square foot of area, the heaviest infestation which Dr. Drake has ever observed.

The infestations reported indicate that the grub is moving westward. Some of the areas, Hampton for example, had only a very light infestation 3 years ago—the date of the last "white grub year" in Iowa.

Corn affected by grubs in some instances will blow over easily, and many fields will be reduced in yield because of the work of the pests. Other than these results, the owner may not be able to notice that and damage has been done.

Because reports of injury have just started coming in, the total effect of white grubs this year cannot be estimated for the state.

NIRA STAMPS WILL GO TO NIRA, IOWA, FROM WASHINGTON

Washington, (AP)—After Washington, Nira, Iowa comes next!

The little Washington County town whose name coincides with the initials of the national industrial recovery act, has been selected as the second place in the United States for the sale of special NIRA stamps to begin.

The official sale starts in the nation's capitol Aug. 15. Nira's sale starts Aug. 17. The rest of the country follows.

SHIFT ELECTRIC TAX BURDEN FROM CUSTOMER TO COMPANY

The 3 per cent tax on electricity that is now being paid by the individual user will, after September 1st be paid by the Electric Companies. The tax was originally levied upon the cutomers and was only a matter of a few cents added to the customer's bill a month. However under a clause in the new Fededal Industrial Control Act this tax is transferred from the customer to the producer and the private Electric companies throughout the country will now be called upon to pay an additional tax which means an increase in their expenses, amounting in the aggregate to millions of dollars.

Where the tax was not a burden upon the individual customer it now becomes a heavy burden on the particular Company serving a group of customers. The great majority of these companies are operating at a loss and this new tax works a real hardship on them. The Electric Companies in the middle west have been faced with a serious decrease in their revenues and they have been making every effort to reduce their expenses in order to partially offset this decrease. The imposing of this tax on these companies is another straw on the back of an already overworked and overburdened camel.

THE OUTCOME

According to the president, every advertiser must write his ad at least 48 hours before our publication day. All the church notes, society, club, ladies aid and kindred items, corespondence and the like must be in the office on Monday, when the new 35 hour a week goes into effect.

If the president can force the advertiser to write his copy on time and the same for the ladies who write the club and society items, why would a newspaper man ever want to go to Heaven?

The outcome will be, we will have to get this week's paper out next week.— Eagle Grove Eagle.

SQUIRREL SEASON TO OPEN

The open season on squirrels will open September 1st and close on November 1st, according to the new fish and game regulations. Both dates are inclusive. The daily bag limit is 10 squirrels for any one person.

Manual Arts

Wood working gives you the alphabet of experience in a wide field of labor. Contact with manual work will lead you to a more sympathetic point of view towards problems of the worker. In using your hands, you likewise use your brain; and you put some ideas to the test to see if they work out in the construction of this or that particular tack. The care of tools is also learned

Agriculture

Agriculture offers an opportunity to master the scientific principles which underly farming. It calls to its aid a great deal of chemistry and biology, some physiography and physics. A few of the concerns in this course are: the adaption of crops to soil preparation, selection and breeding of livestock, fruit raising and dairying.

Home Economics

Home Economics is a very practical offering for girls. There is detailed study of foods and of their values in nourishing the body; balanced diets are worked out. Sewing is also taught. It includes a study of textiles, their selection, wearing qualities, cost and care. The management of household finances, furnishing the home, the care and training of children, care of the sick and sanitation problems.

Extra-Curricular Activities

Many of the extra-curricular activities have won a place in the regular curriculum. The main objectives of extra curricular activities may be stated as follows: to prepare the student for life in a democracy, to make him increasingly self-directive, to teach cooperation, to interest the student in school, to foster sentiment for law and order and to develop special abilities.

In accepting the purpose of educating you for leisure the school has been obliged to consider music a very important part of the program. In this subject, you will develop appreciation of good music,, perfect your technique, and cultivate your own individuality.

Athletics furnish many physical, recreational and educational values.

Declamatory furnishes excellent training in speech.

HENRY GRIESMER BURIED AT GARNER MONDAY

Funeral Services Held at St. Boniface Church for Businessman

GARNER:—Funeral services were held Monday morning at St. Boniface church for Henry Griesmer, businessman, who died Friday. Mr. Griesmen had been in failing health the past two years.

Mr. Griesmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Griesmer of near Richfield, Washington County, Wis., was born Dec. 10, 1854, and grew to manhood there. He was one of a family of seven children having two brothers, Andrew and William and four sisters, Elizabeth, Margaret, Katie and Mary.

Mr. Griesmer came to Garner in 1878 and for a couple of years worked at the shoemaker trade with Gotlieb Haes. On Nov. 11, 1880, he was married to Justina Myer at the farm home east of Garner and to this union three children were born Katherine, Paul and Allie—Katherine and Allie preceded their father in death.

In 1881, he started a shoe store Britt. On account of ill health, he gave up the shoe business and moved to a farm northeast of Garner, known as the old Kuehner farm which he farmed for a couple of years. Then he moved to Garner, starting the present harness business there, which has been in continuous operation approximating 50 years. Surviving are his widow, Justina Griesmer; Mr. aond Mrs. P. M. Griesmer; four sisters, Elizabeth Hohler, Ms. Katie McCabe, Miss Margaret Griesmer, all of Milwaukee and Mrs. Mary German of Mason City.

Band Director's Father Buried Last Thursday

Miss Glenna Gruetzmacher and Mrs. D. P. Anderson drove to Dows last Thursday afternoon to attend the funeral of Mr. John G. Freese, who died at an Iowa Falls hospital Tuesday following an appendix operation. Mr. Freese was the father of the young man who directs the Klemme band this summer.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our neighbors and friends for their kindness and sympathies in the recent loss of our darling baby. Also for the many beautiful flowers.

LARGE CROWD ATTENDED ALL SERVICES SUNDAY AT PEACE REFORMED

THREE CONGREGATION ATTEND ANNUAL MISSION FESTIVAL

The annual Mission Festival held at the Peace Reformed Church north of Klemme Sunday attracted large audiences for each of the three services. The Klemme Reformed and the Garner Reformed congregations were invited and both churches were well represented.

The services began at 10 o'clock at which time Rev. Grosshuesch spoke to the Sunday school on the Winnebago Indians.

The morning service at 11 o'clock was in charge of Rev. L. A. Moser of Maringo, Iowa, who delivered a most interesting sermon.

A nice lunch was served in the church dining room at noon and some over four hudred persons were served by the ladies of the congregation.

Rev. Moser also addressed the audiended for the afternoon and was assisted by Rev. D. Plesscher of Kanawha.

Musical Program Given

In the evening an enjoyable program of musical numbers was given by the choir of the church. A special number by Rev. J. E. Mauer of Cleveland, Ohio, was enjoyed.

Many come from a distance and people from Laurens and Fonda, Ia. Colorado and Ohio were in attendance.

Visiting Chicago and World's Fair

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Patet and Milo Miss Irma Sampson and Asa Gibbs, left Saturday in the Patet car for Chicago where they will spend several days at the World's Fair and taking in the interesting things to be found in Chicago. Milo, who has spent a few years in Chicago, will act as their guide on the sightseeing trips. They expect to return to Klemme about Thursday.

Young Boys Warned By Mayor Stille

Dr. George Zinn the past week completed a business transaction with Dr. A. H. Dulmes, of Grundy Center, whereby Dr. Zinn disposes of his practice and business, after having practiced medicine in this community for the past thirty years.

Dr. Dulmes has practiced with Dr. Mol at Grundy Center for the past three years. Dr. Dulmes, whose home is at Adel, Wisconsin, but a short distance from the Mission House at Plymouth, after completing his high school work, took a course at a business college for a year. He then was employed in the retail business for about four years before going to medical college. Dr. Dulmes is a graduate of Northwestern medical college. He spent one year in a hospital at Madison, Wis., on interne work after which he took special work in a children's hospital in Chicago.

Dr. Dulmes is a very pleasing man to meet and we welcome him into our community. He expects to take over the practice here about the first week in September. In the meantime he is having his office remodeled and redecorated.

The Times is happy to state that we are not losing Dr. Zinn from our community. Dr. Zinn will remain here and look after his extensive farming interests, and no doubt, his friends can find him at his farm, happy, dressed in overalls, out looking over his stock or crops. Dr. Zinn has many old friends, who would indeed miss him very much if he were to move from our community.

MRS. WM. KIRKWOOD HAS THE LARGEST TOMATO YET!

The past two weeks there has been some friendly rivalry in Klemme as to who raised the largest tomato. Mrs. Wm. Kirkwood calmly set back and let the amateur gardeners do their stuff and watched them bring in tomatoes of various sizes to the Times Office. Each tomato brought in would be bigger than the previous samples until the Editor thought they could not grow them larger.

Wednesday evening Mrs. Kirkwood thought that it was time to put a stop to the argument, no she brought in her big tomato. And what a tomato! It weighed 3 lbs. and 8 ozs., believe it or not, as Ripley would say. The Times put it on display at the Wellemeyer store window where it attracted a lot of attention.

Another curiosity which Mrs. Kirkwood brought to the Times Office were several "ground lemons". This particular vegetable, or fruit. looks and smells much like a real lemon.

LAST CALL FOR TALL CORN!

The Times will give a year's subscription to the farmer in Hancock County who can beat John Lemke's sample of tall corn. The stalk he brought to town measured 14 feet and 6 inches.

So far John wins the subscription However, we think he will have competition before Saturday night as a couple of farmers have told us "You haven't seen anything yet." If you can find a perfectly formed stalk bigger than Lemke's tall corn, bring it to town and tie it to the lamp post in front of the Farmers Oil Co. station.

Lesson for August 27

SAUL

LESSON TEXT—I Samuel 15:13-26.

GOLDEN TEXT—And Samuel said, Hath the Lord as great delight in burnt offerings and sacrifices, as in obeying the voice of the Lord? Behold, to obey is better than sacrifice, and to hearken than the fat of rams. 1 Samuel 15:22.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Learning to Obey.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Why a King Failed

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Successes and Failures of Saul.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Strength and Weakness of Saul.

Few men had greater advantages than Saul. Certainly all human history fails to record a more tragic failure. In order to present this lesson properly, it is necessary that the teacher have a synthetic grasp of Saul's history.

I. Saul's Advantages.

1. A worthy inheritance (9:1). His father was "a mighty man of power." One's inheritance is a strong factor in determining his success or failure in life.

2. His natural gifts (9:2).

a. He was humble (10:22). When facing the responsibility of national leadership he hid himself.

b. He was considerate of his father (9:5). Not being successful in the mission committed unto him and thinking that his father would be concerned about him, he proposed to go back.

c. The grace of God was upon him (10:5-7). God visited him with his grace to enable him to perceive the divine choice and to make good in it.

d. The Holy Spirit came upon him (10:10). Acceptable service can only be rendered in the energy of the Holy Spirit.

e. He was zealous for God (11:4-15). As leader he rendered loyal service unto his people because of zeal for God.

.3 The friendship of Samuel (15:35). Samuel not only was loyal to Saul in the time of his life, but greatly mourned his death.

II. Saul Made King (chaps. 8-10).

1. The demand of the people (8:1-22). The reason for this demand was threefold:

a. Incapacity of old age (v. 5). This was at least the plea of the people, which seems not to have been denied.

b. The unfaithfulness of his sons (v. 5). Samuel greatly blundered in the appointment of his sons as judges. The office was not hereditary, and they were morally unfit (v. 3).

c. Desired to be like other nations (v. 5). The surrounding nations had strong leaders and rulers, and it was natural that the Israelites should desire proper leadership. Samuel protested, and took the matter to the Lord in prayer. The Lord directed him to solemnly point out to the people the meaning of their action.

2. Saul chosen as king (9:1-11). While on an errand for his father, Samuel found him and anointed him (10:1-16). In due time the divine choice was confirmed by the people at Mizpeh (10:17-27)

3. Saul's leadership displayed (11:1-15). He revealed his military genius in effecting a great victory over the Ammonites at Jabez. Samuel took advantage of this opportunity to have Saul confirmed as king.

III. Saul's Failure (15:1-25).

1. God's command (vv. 1-3). God directed him to utterly destroy the Amalekites because of their evil treatment of Israel (Exod. 17:8; Deut. 25:17).

2. Saul's disobedience (vv. 4-9). Agag, the king, was spared and the best of the goods appropriated.

3. Saul rejected by God (vv. 19-25).

a. Samuel cried to God (v. 11). The news of Saul's disgraceful failure greatly disturbed Samuel, moving him to pray to God day and night.

b. Saul's hypocritical pretense (vv. 15, 16). This pretense carried a lie upon its face. His disobedience was revealed by the bleating of the sheep and the lowing of the herds.

c. Samuel rehearses before Saul God's dealing with him (vv. 17-23). He brought him face to face with his sin. God is more concerned with having obedience on the part of his servants than he is to have them offer sacrifices unto him.

IV. The Divine Judgment Falls Upon Saul (15:26-35).

1. The loss of his kingdom (vv. 26-31). For the presumptuous offering of sacrifice the kingdom was rent from Saul and the dynasty passed from his house.

2. Under the control of an evil spirit (19:9-11). When Saul refused allegiance to God, Satan took control of him.

3. His shameful death (31:1-4). He refused to destroy the Amalekite and was shamefully treated by an Amalekite (II Sam. 1:10), and ended his life by his own hand.

SEED OATS WILL BE SCARCE

Seems to be Situation Facing Western Iowa, Dakotas, and Nebraska

On a good many farms in western Iowa, Nebraska and the Dakotas there are no oats this year or not enough to provide seed for the farm next year, acording to reports coming to farm crops men at Iowa State college. For that reason, it may pay those who have seed of good varieties adapted to this region to hold the grain until next spring to sell for seed.

Some of the varities developed at the Iowa Agricultural Experiment Station at Ames have given good results in Nebraska and the Dakotas. Considerable seed has gone from country elevators in western and especially northwestern Iowa, for seed.

L. C. Burnett, who has developed the new seed oats varieties at Ames believes that there may be a premium of as much as 10 cents a bushel for seed next spring in some areas. At least it seems fairly certain that those who have oats to sell will be taking little risk to hold until next spring.

the new SISALKRAFT

REG. U S PAT OFF

EARS of experience prove the economy and satisfactory results which farmers can get from temporary os of the type illustrated above. The snowfence prodes the necessary support for the silage and the Sisalaft lining excludes air. Its tough sisal reenforcement ves it the strength to stand this hard service and the w treatment which the paper is given resists the acn of fungus rot.

u can get such a silo without delay. You can build it easily—ywhere you want it. We furnish full instructions—which, of rse, should be followed carefully. The cost will be within the ch of anyone and you can re-use the material next year at no ditional cost except for a new lining.

ODE TO A FEMININE SMOKER

She pulled away at a cigarette and blew the smoke from between her rosy-hued lips in a cloud. It happened a day or two ago as she sat in an automobile in front of the World-Journal building. She struck a match on the sole of her shoe with the complacency of a veteran. Perhaps she was emboldened by the fact that she was away from home and mother, and no apron-strings held her. At first sight a bit surprised; she too ctahing sight of an observer and a conciousness that she was drawing attention took two or three more puffs at what was formerly characterized among men as a "coffin nail," as meanwhile a radio pulled down a jazzy air from the clouds Perhaps the young lady, along in the twenties, imagined herself having a glorous afternoon; away from home. carefree and perhaps not ,,caring a rip." Modest? Perhaps. Effeminite—everything to indicate it. But it isn't one of the essentials of womanhood or gentility, is it? Oh, yes, most everyone is quite aware that "such things are common' —and the observer is quite agreed that the are—common, very common.—Ackley World-Journal.

BARGAIN PRICES, GREAT PROGRAM ... FOR STATE FAIR

Des Moinos, Ia., Special:

Bargain admission prices, one of the biggest entertainment programs in years, and a farm and livestock exposition pointing the way to the "new deal" for agriculture, will offer a three-way invitation to tens of thousands of midwest vacation-seekers at the Iowa State Fair hero this summer.

Here are somo of the highlights of the ten-day State Fair program, opening August 25 and continuing through September 1:

A wild-west Rodeo and Roundup every night, with 75 famous cowboys and cowgirls in competition, and over 200 head of wild horses and cattle.

Night horse races every night, the first ever witnessed in Iowa. Also harness races four afternoons, Aug. 28 through Aug. 31. Running races one afternoon, Aug. 26.

Auto races two Fridays, Aug. 25 and Sept. 1 with over 60 nationally-famous drivers competing.

An open-air circus every afternoon and evening, "Century of Progress" fireworks every night, fifteen bands and orchestras playing both day and night, famous radio stars in two shows on Sunday only, Aug. 27, state checker tournament, midwest horseshoe pitching tournament, old-fiddlers' contest, baby health contest, a new "super" midway of 48 shows and rides, an auto show, radio show, and 120 acre free camp for fair visitors.

Agriculture's "new deal" will be outlined in a comprehensive series of educational exhibits. In addition, there will be a state corn and small-grain show, a state fruit show, apiary show, flower show, a state schools exposition, a fish and game exhibit, and a national farm equipment show. The National Livestock Show, the largest of its kind in the United States this year, will include over a million dollars worth of fine show herds from twenty different states. Farm Boys and Girls, nearly 2,000 from every county in Iowa, will have a complete fair of their own, covering all phases of farming and livestock raising.

Admissions will be the lowest in years. Autos will be admitted free, grandstand admissions havo been cut 25c per seat, campers may buy a ticket giving admissions for five days for two dollars, children under 12 will be free, and children from 12 to 16 half price.

"The biggest vacation, at the lowest cost, of any outing offered in the midwest this year, "Iowa State Fair officials said today in issuing the final welcome to the 1933 exposition.

State Fair "Kids' Party"

Des Moines, Ia., Special:

Every boy and girl under 16, in Iowa and neighboring states, has been invited to attend the Iowa State Fair free of charge on Friday, August 25, on the occasion of the big, annual Children's Party sponsored by the exposition management.

This will be the big, opening day of Iowa's great exposition, and over 25,000 youngsters are expected to be the guests of the fair for a program of circus features, daylight fireworks, band music, and scores of other diversions. Veterans of the world-war will also be guests of the fair on Saturday, Aug. 26.

Night Races at State Fair

Des Moines, Ia., Special:

The first night horse racing ever witnessed in Iowa or the midwest will be seen this summer at the Iowa State Fair on a newly-illuminated track.

Running races will be presented by the State Fair every night from Aug. 25 through Aug. 31. The track is being lighted by huge floodlights, similar to those used in baseball and football. The sport is said to be a sensation on eastern tracks this year, and is expected to be one of the biggest attractions of the 1933 Fair.

Racing Stars to Compete

Des Moines, Ia., Special:

America's 1932 dirt track auto racing champion, Gus Schrader, will meet Emory Collins, the Canadian National champion, in the "Hawkeye Sweepstakes", feature event of the Iowa State Fair's big auto race program here Friday, Aug. 25.

Both of these famous drivers are included in formal entries received here by Fair officials. Scores of other national record-holders are in the lists for the two days' classics, Aug. 25 and Sept. 1. They include Frank Sands, Buddy Calloway, Sig Haugdahl, Shano Fitzgerald, and more than fifty other pilots of I. M. C. A. standing.

There cannot be a secret Christian. Grace is like ointment hid in the hand; it betrayeth itself. If you truly feel the sweetness of the cross of Christ, you will be constrained to confess Christ before men.—Robert McCheyne.

God's Revelation

Unless we muse much on God's revelation of his word, no fires of zeal for his glory will glow in our souls.—D. O. Shelton in The Bible Today.

Attended County Auxiliary Meeting

Mrs. J. C. Thomas, Mrs. Paul Grange, Mrs. Carl Wolfe, Mrs. W. F. Pavey and Miss Berdice Schwichtenberg attended a county Auxiliary meeting at Crystal Lake Friday, at which time the new officers of the County Auxiliary were installed.

Here's One Good Way To END AGONY OF NEURITIS
Newark Man Knows How And Loses 10 Pounds

"Gentlemen: I used Kruschen Salts to try and get rid of Neuritis from which I had suffered for one year in my left shoulder and arm. ....I took a little of the salts in the morning, sometimes in my coffee, other times in water. I would also occasionally take a dose in water at night before retiring. For 3 months I used the salts and while I lost 10 pounds in weight, the pain in my shoulder HAS ENTIRELY DISAPPEARED. During the time I was taking the salts I received no other medical treatment.. so I am.. fully convinced the Kruschen Salts did the trick." C. K. Murray, Newark, N. J. Take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning—a jar last 4 weeks—get it of P. M. Wilson or any druggist in the world—costs but a trifle.

SIDE ACTIVITIES PROVIDE LUABLE STUDENT TRAINING

ic, Athletics, Declamatory Give evelopment of Special Talents

he main function of the school ough the ages has been to create od citizens". Good citizens mean erent things at different times ong different people. Knowledge law is no assurance of its obser- ce. Training in a democracy is best assurance of observance of t for which a democracy stands.

The Student Council

Training for life by meeting sit- ions which resemble or are like l situations is fast becoming the ctice of good schools. The stu- nt council gives the chance to n an election, study and amend constitution and laws of the ncil and carry out certain duties government. It gives good train- to both the leaders and follow- of a democracy. Much work is pected of the student council this ar.

Music

School music helps to discover d develop talent which many stu- nts might not know they have would not have had the oppor- nity of expressing. The second ain value is a cultural and broad- ing influence on the pupil. A ys glee club will be organized this ar if enough candidates desire it. he Girls Glee Club and Orchestra ill be active soon after school arts. If the above groups make eir usual favorable showing they ry likely will be entered in the usic contests during the year.

Athletics and Physical Training

An important value of physical ctivities is the recreational. Recre- tional means games and play of a ghter nature which the student lays for the enjoyment in it. For- al gymnasium takes as much en- rgy as a latin or geometry class. fter physical training one should ome back with a fresh mind and ested body. Other advantages of thletics are physical and social training. The student learns to lay with a team and that he is nly a part of a team; that he must acrifice for the good of the group. He learns both to lead and follow.

Coach Kingery will have some ard work developing his baseball eam due to the loss of such experi- nced players as Smid, Kluckhohn, Bridges and Drake, who graduated eaving places hard to fill. There re six lettermen left from last ear and many candidates for the ther positions. The schedule will e arranged as soon as possible.

Declamatory And Plays

Dramatics serves as opportunity for expression of any histronic tal ent the student may have. He learn to express himself clearly and vividly and adds many words to his vocabulary. Dramatics give the stu- dent fuller life by enabling him to understand other lives by acting them out.

Leisure time may be devoted to selection and presentation of good plays. During the year two major plays, the Junior and the Senior plays, are given to the public. Many one act plays are given for special programs. Klemme enters their students in both the county and state declamatory contest each year.

The calendar below will give a brief outline of some of the extra- curricular activities of the Klemme high school. It was the 1932-1933 School calendar:

KLEMME BUSINESS PLACES TO BE CLOSED LABOR DAY

Monday, September 4th, Labor Day, will be a holiday for the various business places in Klemme.

At a meeting a few weeks ago which was attended by a large number of business men who met to discuss NRA plans it was also decided that the stores and other places of business would not be open on legal holidays. Labor Day, Sept. 4th is the first holiday on the list. The stores will be open on Saturday night and, according to the plan, will not again be open until Tuesday morning, Sept. 5th.

Please bear this in mind and do your shopping Saturday so the business men can enjoy this holiday.

KLEMME CHILDREN IN DRUM AND BUGLE CORPS

A drum and bugle corps for children, sponsored by the American Legion has been organized at Garner and is under the direction of Dr. Roy F. Desart of Mason City. There are about thirty boys and girls in the new organization and the first rehearsal was held Tuesday afternoon.

Viola Schwichtenberg and Marion Waterman, Klemme, are in the drum section, while the following Klemme boys and girls are in the bugle division: John Schwichtenberg Melvin Coobs, Dorance Grange and Jacqueline Kudje.

FARM YOUNGSTERS COMPETE FOR BEEF CHAMPIONSHIPS

Des Moines, Ia., Special: The biggest baby-beef show in the United States this year will be held at the Iowa State Fair Aug. 23 to Sept. 1, when over 500 animals fed by farm boys and girls of Iowa and selected from over 4,000 head in 99 counties, will compete for the baby beef championship of the state. This will be but one event in a complete Junior Livestock Show headlining the Iowa State Fair, in which nearly 1,500 pigs, calves, colts, lambs and poultry raised by farm youngsters will be exhibited.

Hancock County Boys Win At North Iowa Fair

GRAND CHAMPION AWARDED TO EUGENE GREIMAN

Showing 11 of the top 12 steers in a group of 35 Angus calves the local boys won first showing as a group and third in the showing of the Hereford group.

Eugene Greiman, after receiving first in the Angus class, won the Grand Champion over all breeds at the North Iowa Fair

Eugene's calf brought the highest single bid that has ever been bid on a calf at the district fair. Lively bidding took place on the part of the buyers at the sale which made the entire group sell high. The Grand Champion calf went at 42c and the rest of the calves averaged $7:30 per hundred excluding the Grand Champion.

George Knaupp won Junior Champion of the open classes. He also won first and second in each of the following two club classes: Purebred senior Holstein calves and purebred yearling Holstein calves.

Loren Abele won 4th and 5th with his Holstein Senior Yearlings and Elmer Lundberg won first and second with his purebred boars and first and second with his purebred gilts.

LEO MANUAL, MAGICIAN, DREW IMMENSE CROWD HERE

Drove V-8 Car Through Street With Blind Fold Over Eyes

One of the biggest Wednesday night crowds in Klemme this summer were guests of the local Civic Club at on hour of free, high class entertainment given by Leo Manual, man of mystery and master of magic

To start the evening's free entertainment Mr. Manual was blindfolded and put in a V-8 Ford which he drove up and down the street as well as any man not thus handicapped. How Manual does this remains his secret.

The band stand had been fixed up for a stage and parked on the vacant lot west of the Wellemeyer building. An immense crowd was on hand for the free entertainment. Mr. Manual is an artist in magic and his mystifying tricks registered big with the crowd.

The Manual stunts were substituted for the regular run of free movies on Wednesday nights.

Supt. and Mrs. D. L. Hunter and daughter, Delores, returned Saturday from Iowa City where Mr. Hunter has been attending summer school. Mr. Hunter is getting everything in readiness for the opening day of school, September 4th.

WORLD CHAMPION RACES AT STATE FAIR

Des Moines, Ia., Special: Sig Haugdahl, probably the most famous auto race driver now living, holder of numerous world records, has entered in the two days of auto races headlining this year's Iowa State Fair here Aug. 25 and Sept. 1. This year's races are open to the world and more than sixty famous speed pilots are expected to compete on each of the two days.

KLEMME BLUES WIN CLOSE GAME FROM THOMPSON

The Klemme Blues journeyed to Thompson Sunday afternoon where they took their second win of the season from that club 6 to 4. The Klemme hitters garnered 20 blows but were unable to bunch them for any great number of runs. Lura, Shamrock pitcher, struck out five and walked four.

Carpenter got 12 strikeouts and walked 2, allowing 10 hits The Shamrocks were strengthened by a number of new players in an attempt to avenge the 17-5 defeat handed them on the Klemme diamond, but the Blues proved too strong for them.

CAN GRAPES FOR WINTER USE

That annual winter problem of the housewife: providing in fruit the phosphorus, iron and calcium necessary to well-being is less of a problem if grapes are canned at this season.

A convenient and desirable way to can grapes is to wash them and place them in a quart jar with sugar syrup. Use one cup of sugar for each cup of grapes, pouring the syrup over the grapes after they are in the jar. Fill the jar completely with boiling water. Seal in the usual manner.

When opened the grapes may be used in salads as they keep their shape nicely and taste almos t as good as fresh grapes. The sirup extracts the juice from the grapes and produces a highly colored, mild and delicious beverage.

This is an extravagant method if many grapes are to be canned as it uses a large number of fruit jars. Here is another method more economical of space: Wash the fruit, removing stems and imperfects. Add boiling water and simmer until the skins leave the pulp, about 1¼ hours. Then bring to the boiling point and boil 5 minutes. Remove from the fire and pour mixture into jelly bag, letting it drain until the pulp is dry. Bring the juice to the boiling point, add sugar and boil 5 minutes. Pour the liquid into bottles or jars and seal as usual Keep the juice in a dark, cool place.

State Fair Reduces Prices

Des Moines, Ia., Special:

Drastically reduced admission prices have been announced for this year's Iowa State Fair and Exposition, opening here Aug. 23 for ten days.

Autos are to be admitted free of chargo throughout the fair. Children under 12 will be admitted free, and children between 12 and 16 for half price. Grandstand admissions have been cut 25 cents per seat. Campers in the 120 acre free camp ground will be given five days' tickets to the fair for a special rate of two dollars.

"The biggest and cheapest vacation in the midwest this year", fair officials state. "In fact, we are going to make it almost as cheap to come to the fair as to stay at home."

FARMERS SHOULD SELL PIGS

Marketing at Prices Offered Better Than Feeding on 50-Cent Corn

Farmers short of feed can make more clear profit by selling pigs weighing less than 100 pounds at the prices offered undr the Emergency Hog Adjustment Program than by buying corn at 50 cents a bushel and feeding them out, accordig to a statement issued by A. G. Black, head of the Agricultural Economics Department at Iowa State College and now in Washington as acting chief of the corn-hog section of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

Dr. Black also said that the farmer who has both corn and hogs can well afford at present prices to sell some of his pigs and some of his corn. If the pigs are sold now, all future risks are eliminated and the farmer has the money in his pocket.

Under the Emergency Hog Production Control Program, the Department of Agriculture proposes to purchase 4 million pigs and light weight hogs weighing from 25 to 100 pounds. Prices will be well above the market, about $6 per hundredweight for hogs close to 100 pounds and as high as $9.50 per hundred for pigs weighing 25 pounds One million head of sows due to farrow within three weeks of marketing time will be sold at the market price for packing sows plus a bonus of $4 per head. This offer closes Oct. 1 or before.

The removal of these pigs and sows will effect a reduction in tonnage for the 1933-34 marketing season of about 1,800,000,000 lbs. of hogs live weight or about 16 per cent of the hog tonnage normally marketed. Such a reduction, according to past marketing experience, should increase hog prices for the season by from 25 to 30 percent

This program will be financed by a processing tax of not to exceed 60 cents per hundredweight on hogs during the 1933-34 marketing season. The hogs will be marketed thru designated terminal markets, and the Bureau of Animal Industry will make all necessary inspections at processing plants and public stockyards of sows and pigs purchased. The Emergency Relief Administration will purchase the meat at a price sufficient to defray all costs of processing, storage and freight and will handle it so that it does not come in competition with the meat sold in the regular trade channels. Inedible portions, including the small pigs and inedible sows, will be made into grease and tankage.

W. O. Fraser, of the Bureau of Argicultural Economics, Market News Service, Des Moines will assist packers in directing receipts of hogs so as to avoid gluts at processing points. In case a market glut is threatened at any time, Mr. Fraser will cooperate with county agents in informing farmers on the days shipments can be made from their respective countys and to what market the shipments should be made. Farmers are urged to get in touch with their marketing center before shipping hogs.

ADJUSTABLE CASH RENTS

This is the time of the year to renew leases. Many are asking about the adjustable cash lease in which the rate is adjusted according to the price of farm products. This is on the basis that when prices go up rents go up and when prices go down rents go down.

This is an equitable way to rent both for the landlord and the tenant.

Copies of the Sliding Lease may be obtained at the Farm Bureau office. Also copies of the grain share and stock share leases.

DAVID

LESSON TEXT—I Samuel 16:4-13; Psalm 78:70-72.

GOLDEN TEXT—But the Lord said unto Samuel, Look not on his countenance, or on the height of his stature; because I have refused him: for the Lord seeth not as man seeth; for man looketh on the outward appearance, but the Lord looketh on the heart. I Sam. 16:7.

PRIMARY TOPIC—A Shepherd Boy.

JUNIOR TOPIC—A Shepherd Boy Who Became King.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Why David Was Chosen King.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Secret of True Greatness.

I. David, the Shepherd Boy (I Sam. 16:11-13; 17:34-37).

As a young man he was engaged in keeping his father's sheep. Such a life might have tended to indolence, but it proved otherwise with David. He became athletic. As he himself tells us, in the defense of his father's sheep he slew a lion and a bear. His musicianship had brought him such fame as to be called to play at the royal court. Then, too, he had become such an expert marksman as to throw his stone to fell the Philistine giant.

II. David Anointed King (16:1-13).

1. Samuel sent to anoint David (vv. 1-3). The situation was delicate. Saul had become a desperate character. For the divine commission to become known to Saul, therefore, would imperil Samuel's life.

2. The method of selection (vv. 6-12). The Lord had made known to Samuel that one of Jesse's sons was to be the king, but not the particular one. All but one of Jesse's sons had been looked upon, and still the Lord's choice had not appeared. When the shepherd lad appeared before Samuel, the Lord indicated his choice. When the oil was applied the Spirit of the Lord came upon him.

III. David, a King Without a Kingdom.

While Saul was rejected, the time had not yet come for David to be head of the nation. He needed much training before assuming such responsibility. Then, too, the evil influences inaugurated by Saul needed time for development so as to be properly discerned and controlled.

1. David's life at the royal court (I Sam. 17-20).

a. He was called as a musician to minister before the king (chaps. 16-23).

b. Victory over Goliath (chap. 17). The armies of Saul and the Philistines were arrayed against each other. According to an ancient custom, the issue was to be determined by a combat between two selected champions. The nation whose champion was victorious was to rule. The Philistine champion was Goliath, the giant. The sight of Israel's cowardice prompted David to offer his service. When Goliath beheld David coming against him, he cursed him by his gods, showing that it was not merely a battle between David and Goliath, but between false gods and the true God.

c. Friendship with Jonathan (chap. 18). This friendship has become immortalized in the world's thought. It was unique in that it occurred between two men of rival worldly interests. Jonathan was the crown prince, and therefore heir to the throne. David was heir according to the divine plan. Jonathan knew this and waived his rights to the one whom God had chosen. In the establishment of the covenant between them, Jonathan stripped himself of his coat, robe, and equipment, giving them to David. This meant a virtual abdication of the throne to David. As a friend, Jonathan—

(1) Defended David from Saul's frenzy (19:1-7).

(2) Revealed to David Saul's murderous intent (20:30-40).

2. David's life as an outcast. Chapters 21 to 31 describe David's life between his being driven out from the presence of Saul and his being established king. The praise accorded him following the victory over Goliath provoked such violent jealousy in the heart of Saul that he sought to kill David. To escape Saul's wrath he fled the country and feigned madness.

IV. David Made King (II Sam. 2:1-14; 5:1-5).

1. Over Judah (II Sam. 2:1-14). Upon the death of Saul, God directed David to proceed to Hebron and he was there anointed King over Judah.

2. Over Israel (II Sam 5:1-5). After the death of Ishbosheth, the children of Israel came and formed a league with David, anointing him as their king. They assigned as their reasons:

a. He was their brother.

b. He was their leader in war.

c. He was the Lord's choice.

OPPORTUNITY TO KILL WEEDS

Will be Open to Farmers Who Take Land Out of Production

Iowa farmers who sign agreements to reduce the acreages of corn and wheat next year will have an excellent opportunity to exterminate weeds that have become a serious problem in certain fields.

Land taken out of wheat production cannot be used to grow crops that are marketed. The same plan probably will be followed when the corn acreage agreements are made. In view of this many farmers who join in the program may find it advantageous to take out of production fields where weeds of a serious nature have gained a foothold. This land may then be handled so as to kill the weeds.

Weeds which are becoming firmly established in Iowa and which are capable of taking possession of the land to the exclusion of crops are: Quack grass, Canada thistle, European morning glory (creeping Jennie) horse nettle, leafy spurge, perennial pepper grass, Russian thistle knapweed and perennial sow weed-thistle.

These weeds spread both by root and by seed and are a serious menace wherever thdy become established. Amy farmer who moves a part of his tillable land from crop production, would probably prefer to remove areas containing weeds of this character, but if he does the areas must be handled to exterminate the weeds and not so that the weeds will increaes and strengthen their foothold.

In some instances chemicals may be used economically—particularly where the areas are small. In other cases, regular and frequent mowings are sufficient, while with some weedy areas, keeping the ground bare througout the season is best.

If taking weedy land out of crop production and following a careful program of exterminating weeds is followed, foul land may be put in shape for crop production later.

CAN SUPPLY OF TOMATO JUICE

Canning tomato juice for cocktails, soups and cooking, in addition to a good supply of the fruit itself, will provide an abundance of tomato products which lend themselves to many uses.

Tomatoes may be peeled more easily after they are scalded and cooled quickly. Smaller ones should be canned whole, larger ones cut in halves or quarters. One teaspoon of salt should be added to each quart of tomatoes. After the tomatoes are placed in sterilized containers standing in hot water, tap the bottom of the jar to settle the tomatoes. Fill the jars with boiling tomato juice, seal tightly and process immediately.

The hot water bath is the best method of processing tomatoes. Pint and quart glass jars should be processed for 25 minutes with 2 inches of boiling water over the top of the containers.

Tin cans should be processed for 20 minutes. If the open kettle method is used, tomatoes should be processed fir 5 minutes after sealing.

To can tomato cocktail, extract, extract the juice with as little heat as possible and strain using all the pulp for that is the part containing most of the vitamins. Bring the juice just to the boiling point. Pack in sterilized jars, adding one teaspoon of salt to each quart. Omit the salt if the juice is to be used for infants. Seal tightly and process for 25 minutes in a hot water bath.

A tablespoon of lemon juice added to each quart add flavor. Some housewives add a teaspoon of celery seed to each quart for flavor.

The average family of five or six needs 100 to 110 quarts of tomatoes and tomato juice. This amount will last 9 months if used three times a week. More should be canned if citric fruit is not used frequently. Tomatoes contain an abundance of certain necessary vitamins.

ad For Dairy Prices!

Although the present butter price situation is not at its best, however, the outlook is more hopeful for his farm commodity at the present time.

Reasons for low prices are attributed to a sluggish market for milk, ice cream and cream which has thrown more butterfat onto the market, which was turned into butter. This, of course, created a tremendous surplus in that market. However, with thousands of men being returned to work all forms of dairy products are again being consumed.

With an improvement in industrial conditions bright prospects are ahead for the dairy farmer. Assuming that the above reports are correct, and we believe them to be, no dairyman shold dispose of his good dairy cows. Our advice is to plan strongly on dairying for the future.

YOU CAN'T GET MILK AND MEAT FROM THE SAME COW

The electric light and power industry is one of the most lucrative sources of revenue for the government. Last year electric companies in this country paid out approximately $225,000,000 in taxes. This year, with the addition of several new levies, the figure will be even larger. Public ownership of the electric industry would destroy forever this enormous governmental income. The public must decide whether the doubtful benefits of socializing this essential industry are worth more to them than the enormous tax payments now received from privately operated companies. You can't get milk and meat from the same cow.

A Washington girl has a night- looming cereus which has just lossomed after six years of waiting.

And still some people expect this ountry to come out of the dumps ver night!

Don't get discouraged. If a girl an wait six years just to see a lant bloom once, it seems as if we ught to be able to exhibit a simi- ar type of patience—especially hen we know that the beneficial esults, once they are attained, are going to be permanent, and not ust for a short time.

PAUL SAMPSON HOME FROM CAMP OVER LABOR DAY

Paul Sampson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Sampson, who is sta- tioned at a Reforestration Camp near Winona, Minnesota, had a short vacation and spent the week end and Labor Day in Klemme.

The camp at which Paul is lo- cated is gradually decreasing in numbers and there will be only about a hundred boys in camp when Paul returns. Paul has been promo- ted and is now working in the sup- ply departmet. He will be in full charge of this department in a few weeks when the boys will be moved south. He says the nights are getting quite cold and they ex- pect to move soon. Paul likes the work and has signed up for another six months period. Paul returned to camp Tuesday evening.

BLUES DROP FIRST GAME THIS SEASON

KLEMME BLUES DEFEATED BY GARNER NINE

The Klemme Blues dropped their first game of the season to the Garner Red Sox on the Garner dia- mond 8 to 2 on Labor Day. The Klemme nine made a number of errors which cost them the game. The locals garnered 4 hits off Hamilton who struck out 12 men. Carpenter, local hurler, struck out 9 and allowed 5 hits.

EMERGENCY HOG PRODUUCTION CONTROL PLAN

The problem many farmers are facing today is that they must sell their small pigs and sows bred to farrow this fall, because they do not have enough grain to feed them out. The solution is to take 4,000,000 pigs and light hogs and 1,000,000 sows due to farrow soon off the farmers' hands now at prices well above the present market. The plan is to have processors buy these pigs and sows for the account of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. There will be a graduated price schedule ranging from 25-30 pound to sell at $9.50, to 96-100 pounds to sell at $6.00 per hundred.

Pigs will be purchased on the basis of average weight per lot, with a minimum weight of 30 pounds, maximum weight of 100 pounds. The maximum range of weights on individual pigs in each lot will be 30 pounds.

Only pigs in good health of nor- mal growth will be accepted. Pigs of inferior quality, such as range pigs, razorbacks or Southerns can- not be taken except at a discount of $3 per hundred pounds below the Chicago base prices. All sows must be plainly pregnant and weigh 275 pounds or more. If after inspection, sows offered are declared eligible, a bonus of $4 above regular market price will be paid. Such animals are not subject to the usual dockage, making a premium really about $5 per head.

Hogs intended to come under the adjustment payments must be sold directly to the processor or his agent and the name and the ad- dress of the owner must be furnish- ed the processor. This offer does not hold good after October 1 and may be terminated before that date

Be sure pigs and sows are as- signed to a market where proces- sors have been authorized to make purchases at premium prices for the account of the Secretary of Ag- riculture under this program. Pigs and sows sent to other markets where the program has not yet been put into operation or where lack of federal inspectors will not permit operation of the program will not qualify for the premiums. Make sure that your shipments can be handled at the mrket where you are shipping. Communicate with your market directly or through your county agricultural extension agent or local marketing agency, before selling or shipping your pigs or piggy sows.

COW TESTER'S ASSOCIATION PICNIC SEPT. 6

Members of the Hancock County Cow Tester Association are having a picnic at the Eagle Lake State Park, Wednesday, Sept. 6. After the picnic lunch at noon the group will go to the county farm where several classes of dairy cattle have been arranged for judging pur- poses.

At a recent meeting of the Asso- ciation it was decided to send the winner of the judging contest to the Dairy Cattle Cogress at Water- loo.

Floyd Arnold of the Dairy Exten- sion Service will be present to take part in the program.

SETS NEW RECORD H. S. ATTENDANCE

HIGH SCHOOL STARTED WITH RECORD ATTENDANCE

High school began Monday morn- ing with a record attendance. The enrollment is approximately 85 and several more are expected to enroll within the next few days. There ar 25 in the freshman class.

A new course is being offered to upperclass girls this year. It is an advanced course in Home Arts. Miss Roberts is the instructor.

Mr. Kingery had his first base- ball practice Tuesday evening.

Our assembly is much improved by the new window shades which appeared during vacation. Mr. Patet had the whole building clean- ed and in fine shape when we re- turned to our school duties.

Have Moved To Belmond

Ross Eggers and familiy moved to Belmond last week. Mr. Eggers has been working in the Ford Garage here for several months.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Nelson return- ed from their three weeks trip into the Eastern States Saturday. They spent part of the time visiting rela- tives in Pennsylvania. Ben Coobs and family who have been staying at the Nelson home returned to their own home in town.

Last year there were fewer deaths from lynching than there were from football. This shows that we are making some progress on the road to civilization.

CUCUMBERS; SOUR, DILL, SWEET

When fruits or vegetables are preserved with salt or vinegar or both, with or without sugar and spices added, it is called pickling. The flavor which penetrates deter- mines whether it is dill pickle, sour or sweet pickle. When spices are added, the product is termed spiced.

Cucumbers, like most fruits and certain other vegetables, may be used in all sizes whether green or ripe.

If cucumbers are soaked for a time in salt solution, it makes the tissues firm and extracts surplus water. Parboiling in salt water may be used, if desired, in place of soaking. Either process will put the vegetable into better condition to absorb the spice vinegar or sirup.

Three difficulties commonly en- countered in the preparation of pickles in the home are: Shriveled pickles, soft pickles and hollow pickles. Too much salt or sugar or a very strong vinegar solution may cause the pickles to shrivel and be- come tough. If a very sweet pickle is desired, soak the cucumbers for a few days in a week solution, after which the strength of the solution may be increased. This gives the finished product a better texture.

Soft pickles may be the result of using a brine that is too weak to prevent development of organisms which cause spoilage. A 10 percent solution (1 2-3 cups of salt to 1 gal- lon of water) is necessary to keep the pickles in good condition.

Hollow cucumbers frequently re- sult from using cucumbers that were gathered for some time before they were put in the pickling solution. For best results, use the cucumbers as soon after they are gathered as possible.

The kind of vinegar is important in pickle making. A good grade of cider vinegar is considered the best for pickles. Spices should be bought fresh for each year's pickling.

Lesson for September 10

JONATHAN

LESSON TEXT—I Samuel 18:1-4, 19:1-7; 20:30-40.

GOLDEN TEXT—A friend loveth at all times, and a brother is born for adversity. Proverbs 17:17.

PRIMARY TOPIC—New Friends.

JUNIOR TOPIC—David's True Friend

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Choosing Worthy Friends.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—How to Be a Friend.

I. Friendship Established Between Jonathan and David (I Sam. 18:1-4).

The friendship of Jonathan and David has become immortalized in the world's thought. It was unique in that it occurred between two men of rival worldly interests. Jonathan was the crown prince and heir to the throne, according to hereditary rights. David was to be king according to divine choice and arrangement. Jonathan knew this and yet magnanimously waived his natural, personal rights in favor of God's chosen.

1. Love at first sight (vv. 1, 2). At the end of the interview between David and Saul, following the victory over Goliath, Jonathan's soul was knit with that of David. While there was mutual love, this trait stands out preeminently in Jonathan. To him it meant great loss, the loss of the throne, while to David it meant immense gain, the acquisition of the throne, to which he had no natural right.

2. A covenant established (vv. 3, 4). This mutual love found expression in the establishment of a covenant between them. Following this love covenant, Jonathan stripped himself of his court robe and equipment and gave them to David. This act was a virtual abdication of the throne to David. Truly, "Love seeketh not her own." (I Cor. 13:5).

II. Jonathan Defended David Against Saul's Frenzy (I Sam. 10:1-7).

David went into the battle with Goliath out of zeal for God and true religion, not for personal glory; but it turned out as always, that because he put God first, God honored him. It is always true that those who honor God shall in turn be honored of God.

On David's return from victory over Goliath, he was met by a triumphal chorus of women of all the cities of Israel, chanting praises to him of the victory over their enemy. They ascribed more praise to David than to Saul. The one group sang "Saul has slain his thousands," and the other answered, "And David his ten thousands." This praise of David aroused the murderous envy in Saul's heart and moved him twice to attempt to kill David.

This wickedness was in Saul's heart. The occasion fanned it into a flame making it a burning passion of evil. Let no one think of this as an imaginary sin. Its counterpart may be found in many of us. The supreme test is as to whether the success of others and the honor bestowed upon others arouses within us envy and jealousy. It is hard to forgive those who outdistance us in the race of life.

In Saul's third attempt to kill David, Jonathan defended him and secured from his father the oath that David should not be slain. He thus exposed himself to the anger of his infuriated father for David's sake. This willingness to lay down his life for David proved his real friendship (John 15:13).

III. Jonathan Revealed to David Saul's Murderous Attempt (I Sam. 20:30-40.)

The beginning of the new moon was celebrated by sacrifices and feasting, at which all the members of the family were expected to be present (v. 5). David's excuse for being absent was that he might go home to attend the yearly sacrifice of his family. Matters were now so serious that Jonathan and David renewed their covenant. In this renewal the terms were broadened beyond the life of Jonathan (vv. 14, 15).

Saul's anger was now so fierce that for Jonathan to be found in David's company was most dangerous, so he cleverly planned this sign by which he could make known to David Saul's attitude and purpose. True friendship warns those who are exposed to danger. This pledge was faithfully carried out by David (II Sam. 9:7, 8).

Testing Christianity

To examine its evidences is not to try Christianity; to admire its martyrs is not to try Christianity; to compare and estimate its teachers is not to try Christianity; but for one week, for one day, to have lived in the pure atmosphere of faith and love to God, and tenderness to man, that, indeed, is to have made experiment of Christianity.—William Archer Butler.

Monastery Founded by Monarch to Keep Vow

King Leopold III, first ruler of Ostmark, later to become Oesterreich or Austria, was so opposed to women exposing any part of their forms, regardless of the fashion, that he was moved to build the town of Klosterneuburg and its cathedral and monasteries because his wife lost her veil, according to a writer in the Detroit News. The veil was one he had given her for a wedding present, and one day while standing on the balcony watching for her lord and master to come home the wind snatched the veil and wafted it away. Servants could not find it and the king was quite angry about its loss when he came home. He swore it should be found and for seven years he drove his soldiers nearly mad in the search. He even had a number of the soldiers put to death because he thought they were lax in looking for it.

Finally he retired to his private apartment and prayed. He vowed that if his prayers were heard he would build a magnificent monastery on the spot where the veil was found. Oddly enough, the veil was found immediately. He summoned the Order of Augustine monks to help him, and they in turn brought thousands of laborers. Klosterneuburg and its cathedral were finished in 1136, after a labor of 23 years.

King Leopold died six weeks after his vow was accomplished.

Pray More

No resolution or, better, no determination you can make will mean so much in wonderful results as to determine that you will pray much more than ever, that you will pray longer and more widely and deeply in the closet hours at a time to do it, that you will have a worthwhile daily family worship, and that you will really pray in church services. Real praying breath turns to mighty steam power, to radio messages farther than you dream, to results immeasurable.

He Turned to Prayer

He lived in the atmosphere of prayer from first to last; and when any specially important work had to be done, any specially difficult crisis had to be faced, any specially trying experience had to be endured, he met it by special prayer.—G. H. Knight.

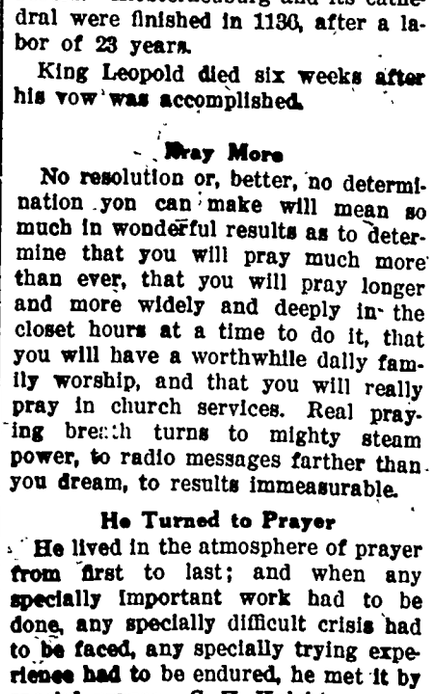
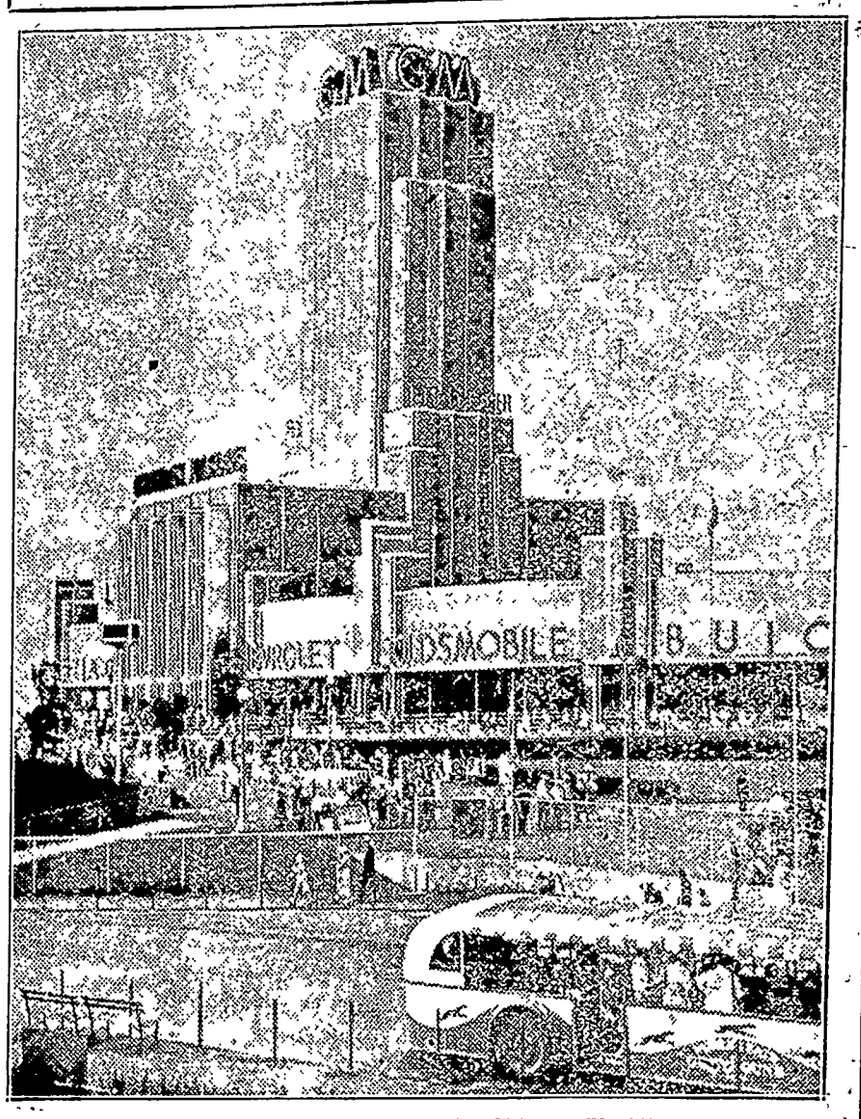
Rickshas for "Fair"



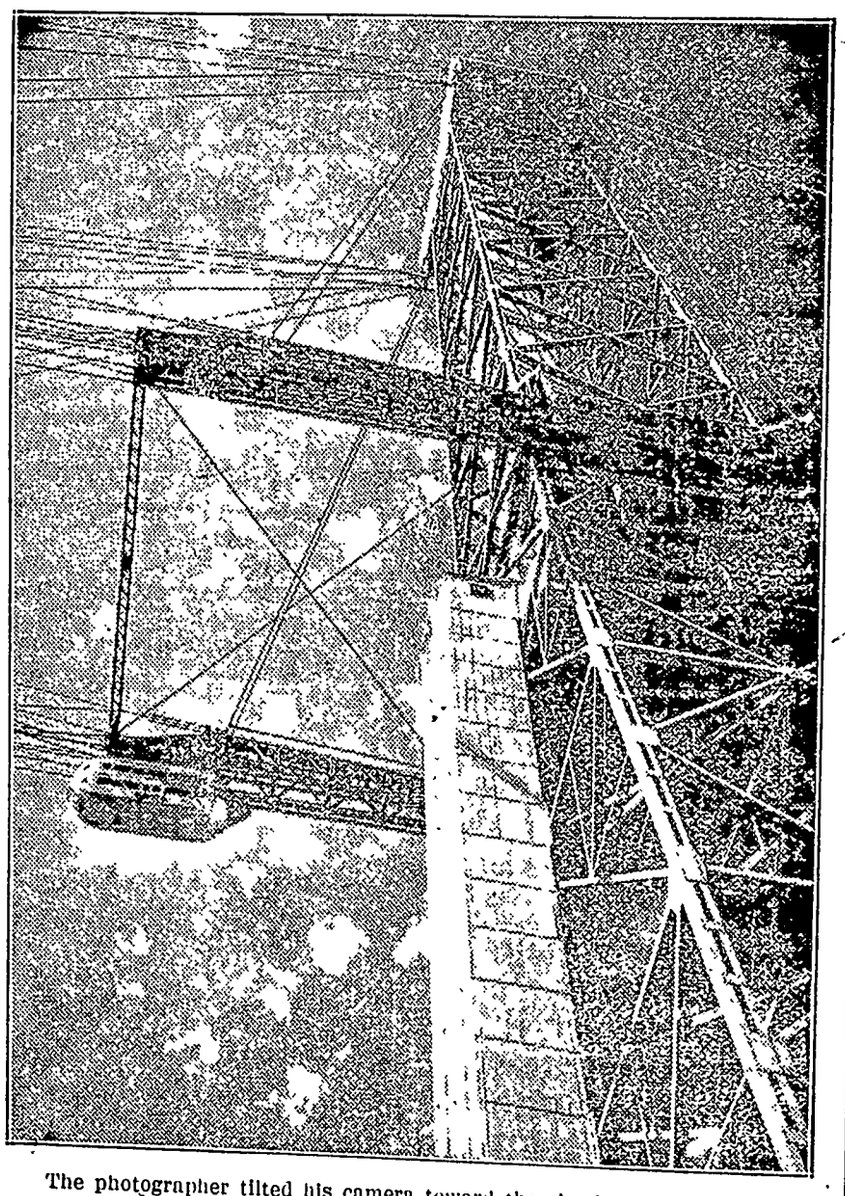
College athletes are the motive power of the picturesque jinrickshas at A Century of Progress, the Chicago World's Fair.

Automobiles Made While You Wait



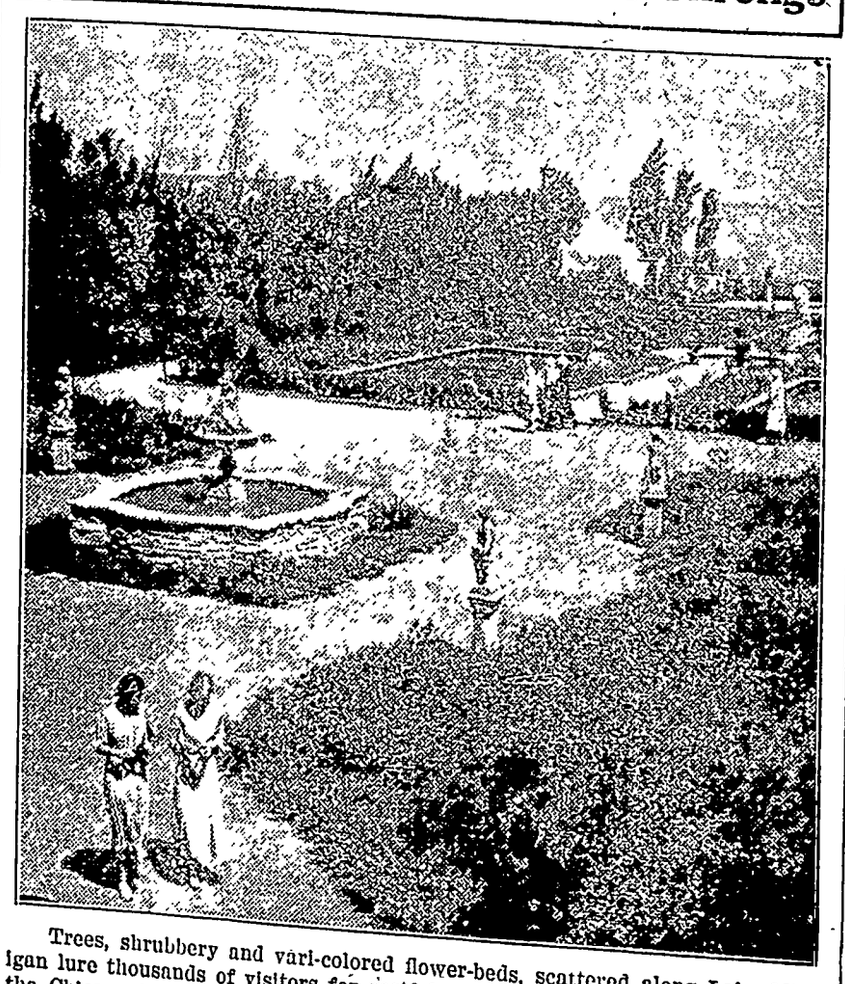
One of the very unusual exhibits at the Chicago World's Fair is that of General Motors, housed in a vast building in which automobiles are made as vast crowds of visitors watch the process. The above picture is of special interest because the photograph was made by W. G. Stuber, president of the Eastman Kodak Company. He visited the exposition and toured the grounds as an amateur photographer.

Towering Sky Ride Thrills Fair Crowds



The photographer tilted his camera toward the clouds to get this unusual view of the 628 foot mainland tower of the Sky Ride, the $1,000,000 thrill attraction of A Century of Progress Exposition—the Chicago World's Fair. To the left may be seen a rocket car that travels over a 1,850 foot cable 200 feet above the lagoon to the tower on Northerly Island. Above may be seen the observation tower reached by elevators which gives the visitor an unusual view of the Fair grounds and the city of Chicago stretched out below.

Restful Garden for World's Fair Throngs



Trees, shrubbery and vari-colored flower-beds, scattered along Lake Michigan lure thousands of visitors for restful moments at A Century of Progress, the Chicago World's Fair. The gardens pictured above are those in back of the Horticultural Building, one of the most visited spots in the Exposition grounds.

"Are you the editor?" inquired a heavy-jowled stranger with a fist as big as a ham, as he shoved open the door of the front office of the Bohunkus Argus.

"It all depends," replied the man with the weak chin and frayed pants legs, "on whether you want to make a kick or pay your subscription."

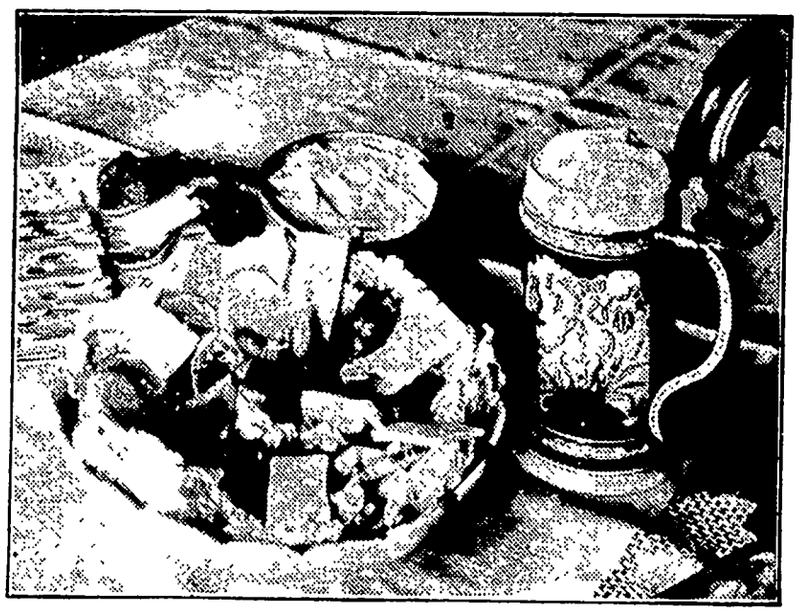
BUFFETS SAY "HAPPY DAYS!"



WHEN THE STEIN'S ON THE TABLE—

The proper cheese is bound to be there with it!

For beer and cheese—the buffet supper in all its glory—are classic and inseparable food combinations.

The very thought of the smooth and amber-flowing liquid conjures up in the masculine breast thoughts of generous slices of nut-sweet Swiss cheese, scoopsful of pungent Old English, wedges of ruddy American. From free lunch to political caucus, the joys of the foaming stein and the buffet supper are endeared to memory the world 'round.

Americans will have to learn the joys of the proper thirst-inducing, appetite-satisfying cheeses which properly belong with the foaming beverage, according to the educational department of the Kraft-Phenix Cheese Corporation. There are more than 400 different varieties of cheese—and all of them will enjoy renewed popularity now that buffet suppers are the thing, according to the cheese company.

Swiss, full-flavored American, Limburger, sharp and ruddy Old English—these are some of the cheeses which are expected to enjoy unparalleled popularity on the buffet tables of the nation now that beer is back.

The remainder are second graders: Julia Bell, Eunice Larson, Mavis Leitzinger, Corrine Merkel, Barbara Johnson, Marvin Wade, Laurence Bock, Robert Tiggeman and Wesley Suckow.

Most of this week we have been getting acquainted with our room, our teacher and our surroundings. The first day we went on a tour and Miss Sanders was the guide. The second grade are reviewing in all their work and the first grade are doing the introductory work of our pre-primer. We play games, sing easy songs, count and practice writing our names. We worked hard our first week.

Grades 5 and 6

The fifth grade people have thir-teen in their class, four boys and nine girls.

The sixth grade people have ele-ven in their class, six boys and five girls.

Cecil Leitzinger was absent on Wednesday because of illness.

We enjoy company and grades five and six extend a cordial invi-tation to you to come and visit us at any time you wish.

Wellemeyer Has Novel Electric Sign In Office

Art Wellemeyer has for some time been puzzled by a situation which confronted him and which he has now solved. The problem which bothered Art was how he could tell his customers who entered his place of business whether he was in the furniture room upstairs or in the shop downstairs. Art tried placing signs in the office telling his customers where he could be located. This did not work as they failed to see the sign.

Art then set about devising a sign they could see. With this in view he constructed a double elec-tric sign which hangs over a door near the entrance to the basement shop and also close to the stairway going up. The sign is electric light-ed and when Art is upstairs he turns a switch and the sign reads: "Wellemeyer is upstairs, come up," and an arrow indicates the direction If he is down stairs then that part of the sign is lighted with the mes-sage and an arrow pointing down to the shop.

The idea is quite novel and should work the way it is intended.

Descendants Of Klemme Gathered Here At Park

KLEMME FAMILY HAD PICNIC SUPPER IN KLEMME PARK

Present Town Site Former Home Of The H. J. Klemme Family

The children of H. J. Klemme and their families enjoyed a picnic sup-per in the Klemme Park Thursday evening, when they gathered here to celebrate the fiftieth birthday an-niversary of Jesse Klemme Stanber-ry, the first child born on the Klemme farm near the edge of the present town site.

This particular home still stands and is the property owned by Mar-tha Bredbenner. At the time the H. J. Klemme family lived here the house was located just south of the residence of Arley Blicken-derfer. After the evening meal in the park, the house was visited, and old friends in Klemme were also looked up.

Mr. Klemme laid out the Town of Klemme a few years after the rail-road went thru here. At that time there was a switch north of town for the hay station. At that period of time the hay business was flour-ishing. Politics entered into the proposition of the railroad putting in a siding and switch here and poli-ticians at Garner circulated and pre-sented a petition to the railroad not to put in a siding at the present site of Klemme. However the siding and swich was put in and the town laid out by Mr. Klemme.

The beautiful park in which the Klemme's enjoyed their picnic sup-per was given to the town by H. J. Klemme. It is one of the finest little parks in Northern Iowa and the citizens of the town are very proud of it.

Those who were here for the pic-nic were: Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stan-berry, of Mason City; Mrs. Ruth Klemme Bovard and son, Gilbert Klemme of Cerra Madre, Cal.; G. H. Klemme, wife and son, Harmon and R. H. Klemme, wife and sons, Randall and Douglass, of Belmond.

58 REGISTER FOR WORK ON HANCOCK HIGHWAYS

According to County Engineer Charles F. Merten 58 unemployed have registered for work up to date in Hancock County. At the same time last year 300 had filed appli-cation blanks. With three days yet open for registering, the number is expected to reach 100 or more. Lo-cal labor will be used on grading and paving as much as possible, Mr. Merten said. With the letting for an overhead bridge over the Mil-waukee railroad tracks on highway 15 one mile west of Garner on Sept. 12 and paving of about 1 mile to join highway 18 a great many of the unemployed of the county are expected to be at work by Sept. 15.

Blues Had Great Season, With One Ball Game Lost

KLEMME BLUES DOWN CRYSTAL LAKE NINE 4 TO 2

Local Baseball Nine Sets Good Record For The Season

The Klemme Blues came thru with their tenth win of the season Sunday at Crystal Lake in a red-hot game with the Fisherman Nine. The demand for arguments was at a premium; the slightest excuse being avidly seized upon for a free-for-all verbal battle. The game was air-tight until the 5th inning when with second and third occupied, Keraus cracked out a liner to left field scoring both men and then scored from second on Kluckhohn's drive to right field. Crystal Lake scored in the seventh when a safe hit brought home two runs.

Carpenter, local mound king, was in splendid form getting 20 strike-outs, allowing 5 hits and walking seven men. Janssen, starting pitch-er for the Lakers, went 6 innings, struck out 4, allowed 10 hits. Scan-lon, who relieved him, struck out 2, walked 2 and allowed 4 hits.

SOLOMON

LESSON TEXT—I Kings 8:1-11.
GOLDEN TEXT—Enter into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise: be thankful unto him, and bless his name. Psalm 100:4.
PRIMARY TOPIC—In God's House.
JUNIOR TOPIC—A King Worshiping God.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Learning to Worship God.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Value of a House of Worship.

I. Solomon Anointed King (I Kings 1:5-40).

The divine choice as to David's successor had not been known (v. 20). David is stirred to action by the combined appeals of Bathsheba and Nathan. At David's command the faithful three, Zadok, Nathan, and Benaiah, speedily anointed Solomon king.

II. Solomon's Acts to Establish His Kingdom (I Kings 1:41-2:46). He noted certain dangerous elements which if allowed to develop would weaken, if not destroy, his rule.

1. Adonijah placed under surveillance (vv. 41-53). Placing him on good behavior displayed both clemency and dignity on the part of Solomon. Adonijah fled to the altar, not to worship God, but to save his life. His repentance was not real. Solomon ordered his execution (2:13-25).

2. Abiathar removed from the priesthood (2:20, 27). He had joined Adonijah in his plot of usurpation.

3. Joab executed (2:28-35). Joab was a party to Adonijah's rebellion. Besides this, he had treacherously murdered his rivals in the army.

4. Shimei executed (2:36-46). Solomon first paroled him and confined him to Jerusalem, but when he broke his parole, had him executed.

III. The Divine Favor Upon Solomon (1 Kings 3:4-14).

1. God's gracious offer (vv. 4, 5). Solomon made a lavish sacrifice, showing that he had strong impulses toward the Lord. This was followed by the Lord's gracious offer.

2. Solomon's wise choice (vv. 6-9). He was keenly sensible of the difficulty and of the responsibility of his position.

3. God's unstinted gift to Solomon (vv. 10-14). Because Solomon appeared before the Lord in the proper attitude, God gave him more than he asked for.

IV. Solomon Building the Temple (1 Kings 5:1-8:66).

1. Preparation (5:1-18). He secured from King Hiram:

a. Wood for beams, ceilings, etc.
b. Stones for the great foundation.
c. Skilled workmen.

2. The erection of the temple (6:1-38).

a. Located on Mt. Moriah (II Chron. 3:1).

b. Dimensions. Ninety feet long; thirty feet wide; forty-five feet high—this on the assumption that the cubit was eighteen inches in length.

c. Its contents.

(1) The brazen alter. (2) The laver. (3) The golden candlesticks. (4) The cherubim.

3. The dedication of the temple (8:1-66). The dedicatory services consisted of:

a. Bringing up the ark (vv. 1-11). The ark was typical of Jesus Christ. God dwells among his people through Jesus Christ (John 1:14).

b. Solomon's address to the people (vv. 12-21). He pointed out to them that God had chosen David to be king, yet did not allow him to build the temple, but promised that his son should complete the work.

c. Solomon's dedicatory prayer (vv. 22-53). In his prayer, Solomon gratefully acknowledged God's goodness in the past, and plead that the promises made to his father should be verified. He asked that God's eyes might be continually open toward the temple, so that:

(1) In case of contention he would be their judge (vv. 31, 32).

(2) If smitten by the enemy, even though they had sinned, God would forgive and restore (vv. 33, 34).

(3) In famine, upon confession, God would forgive and send rain (vv. 35, 36).

(4) In pestilence and sickness, God would hear and forgive (vv. 37-40).

(5) In case of the coming of the foreigner, because of the news of God's favor toward Jerusalem, his prayer should be heard (vv. 41-43).

(6) In going out to battle, their cause should be maintained (vv. 44, 45).

(7) If taken captive, God would hear their prayers and restore them (vv. 46-53).

d. Solomon blesses the people (vv. 54-61).

e. Solomon offering sacrifices of thanksgiving (vv. 62-66).

PUT UP MELON DELICACIES

Melon preserves and pickles are enjoyed by many people. Even a fruit butter may be made from muskmelon. In making any kind of fruit butter, cook slowly and stir

For muskmelon butter select ripe melons, cut in halves, remove the rinds, seeds and soft parts. Place the melons in a preserving kettle with as little water as possible and boil until tender. Press through o collander and measure the pulp. To each quart of pulp add ½ cup sugar juice of ½ lemon and a little cinamon. Continue boiling until the mixture is thick enough to spread. Stir constantly to prevent burning. Pack the hot butter into hot jars and seal immediately.

Canteloupe may be combined with peaches to make a delightful conserve. Nuts and raisins may be added if one wishes. The ingredients for the conserve are: 1 pint diced peaches, 1 pint diced canteloupe, 3 cups sugar, 2 lemons and ¾ cup of English walnuts blanched and chopped fine.

Combine the ingredients with the exception of the nuts. Cook the mixture until it is thick and clear. Add the nuts and pour into clean, hot jars. Seal at once.

For watermelon preserves peel the watermelon and cut the rind into slices. Soak these slices overnight in a weak salt solution (1 tablespoon of salt to 1 quart of water). Drain off the water and parboil the watermelon rind for a few minutes in water containing a pinch of dissolved alum. Drain the slices again. Make a heavy sirup, using 3 parts sugar to 1 part water. Add 2 lemons, sliced thin and whatever spices are desired. Place the watermelon in the boiling sirup and boil slowly until tender. Pack into clean, hot jars. Seal at once.

MOTHER'S BEST FLOUR

Is The Best For The Money

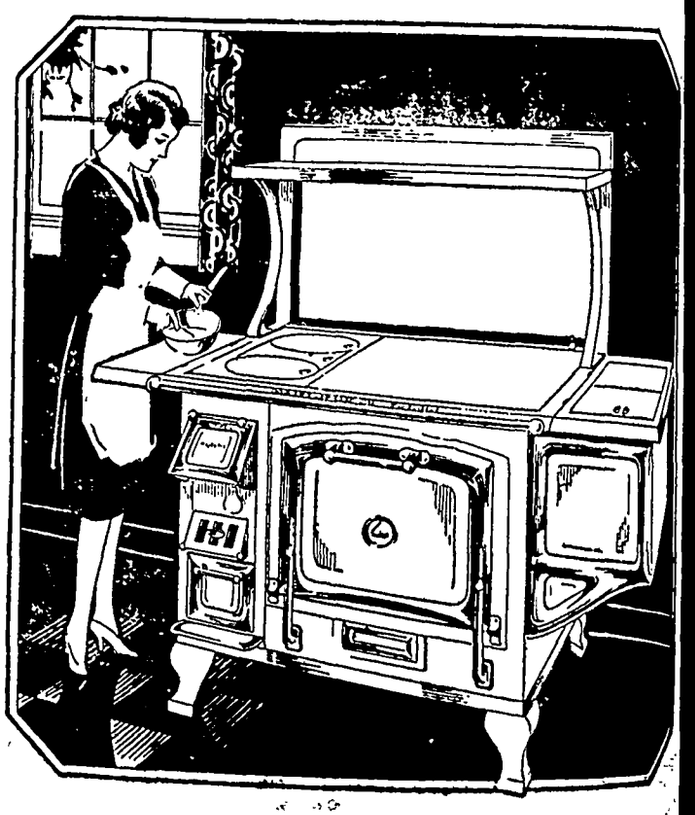
North Iowa Grain Co.

for ONE WEEK

beginning . . . .
NEXT MONDAY

A Special Factory Showing of the New All-Enamel Majestic Range will be held in this store next week. A man from the factory will be in attendance to show this new triumph in cooking efficiency, and explain its many interesting details. We specially invite you to come and see for yourself how completely the problem of efficient, convenient home cooking has been solved in Coal and Wood Ranges. It is easy to have a beautiful, cool and modern kitchen without changing over to expensive fuels.

The NEW ALL-ENAMEL



Majestic Range

IN IVORY, APPLE GREEN, GRAY, WHITE OR BLUE

No matter what fuel you use, the same amount of heat is always necessary to cook or bake. Cool, clean cooking is never a matter of the fuel, but of the Range. The New Majestic uses the good old reliable fuels that everybody is accustomed to, but it uses them with a new efficiency. It holds the heat inside, around the cooking compartments, instead of wasting it outside, in the room. With it you obtain the utmost in cooking and baking ability, together with real fuel economy and a cool, comfortable kitchen to work in. Results like these have been sought for years in coal ranges, but have only recently been obtained.

Makes a Cool, Clean Kitchen

Every woman knows how an ordinary range "heats up a kitchen, especially in summer, and how uncomfortable it is to work under such conditions. Yet this is all unnecessary. With a Majestic there is all the difference in the world. The heat is concentrated on the work; the room is comparatively cool; the cleanliness and the convenience and practical features of this modern aid to good housekeeping are equal to those in any range of any type — And you have with it a beautiful Kitchen, too — for the New Majestic is a handsome creation of bright enamel color and gleaming nickel — as easy to keep clean as it is wonderful to work with.

"Pay-as-you-use-it"

You can get one of these modern high-efficiency Ranges for your home so easily! By special arrangement with the Majestic factory we are able to offer a most attractive "pay-as-you-use-it" plan. Just a little down, the balance spread over many months. No interest, no carrying charges, no advance in price! Come in, this Next Week, and let the demonstrator from the factory show you how this beautiful New Majestic will lighten your work, and how easily you can obtain one!

FREE—Next Week only—while the special Majestic Demonstration is going on—a full set of these heavily nickeled, copper cooking utensils will be given to every purchaser of a New Majestic Range!

Burial Vaults

Vaults are now much better in quality and much cheaper in price than they were 19 years ago when the first metallic vault was buried in the Klemme Cemetery.

Our people, in arranging for a burial, will often ask to see the Vaults first. With a good vault the family is assured that the lovely casket will remain dry and undisturbed—a fitting tribute to the cherished memory of the loved one.

We have on display in our show room four kinds and types of Burial Vaults ranging in price from $30 to $95 each.

BABY VAULTS

The Henkle Co. of Mason City, now make a beautiful Baby Vault of Reinforced concrete. We have one of these on our floor. $19.00 buys the 3 foot size.

Pianos - Organs Phonographs

FOR SCHOOL USE:—

Used Reed Organs good enough for school room use are scarce and will soon be a thing of the past. However, we have two good instruments at $8.50 and $10 each.

Used Pianos, $50, $60, $70, in good mechanical condition, good looking case. We deliver in tune to your school house at above prices.

We have gathered up an umber of good Used Phonographs, in such well known makes as the "Victrola," "Brunswick", "Vocalian", etc. All are Cabinet machines with good motors. Store News

The best fiber furniture made in the U. S. comes from Sheboygan, Wis. We just received a shipment of high back rockers, spring seats, upholstered in rayon velour, at from $15 to $19 each.

Pretty soft! Every time we sell a good rug, Axminister or Velvet, we sell a rug cushion too. This has been going on for many months. Our customers say it makes the rugs wear longer. These cushions sell as to quality at from $3.75 to $7.50 each in the 9x12 size.

The Climax portable electric sewing machine sells at $39.00. This is the first good electric machine we have had at less than $50.00.

We have a dozen of Armstrong's rugs in the 9x12 size, which we are closing out at $6.95 each. . .

Unless you have money to burn, it will pay you to look over our Used Furniture department before you buy.

HESSIAN FLY CONTROL

The Hessian Fly and the Chinch Bug were two of the most important wheat pests in Iowa this year. On account of the danger of serious outbreaks next summer it is quite necessary that wheat growers take every precaution possible to eliminate this danger. It is urged that fence rows and other grassy places should be cleaned out and burned in order to destroy chinch bugs after they have secreted themselves in favorable grassy areas for the winter. The Hessian fly may be controlled by sowing sufficiently late in the fall so that the wheat will not come up until after the adult flies have emerged, laid their eggs, and died. Volunteer wheat, if possible should be disked up and destroyed before the fly free date.

Hancick County Wheat Growers can safely sow their wheat anytime after Sept. 11.

BUTTER PRODUCTION CONTROL CONSIDERED BY THE AAA

Contril and limitation of the production of butter and oleomargarine and other butterfat substitutes, are contemplated in amendments to the national butter marketing agreement now under cosideration by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

Under the proposed amendments to the agreement, representatives of the butter interests would work with representatives of the manufacturers of competing oils and fats in planning a general production program, taking into account the production and importation of both butter and competing fats and oils.

Further amendments propose a butter marketing committee, distinct frim the governing council of the national butter board to be created hnder the agreement as submitted. Such a committee would work in conjunction with the butter board and would be empowered to buy, sell and otherwise deal in butter, with the purpose of stabilizing the butter market. A loan of not more than $30,000,000, to be used by the butter marketing committee in its operations, is authorized by the amendments which are being considered.

Members of the committee would include representatives of the producers, chosen from units allied with the National Cooperative Milk Producers Federation, representatives of the National Association of Milk Dealers, the National Cheese Institute, and the American Association of Creamery Butter Manufacturers. The chairman would be named, it is proposed, by the Secretary of Agriculture.

The amendments will be considered for inclusion in the butter marketig agreement before it is offered to the butter industry for acceptanc and signature, and before it is approved by he Secretary of Agriculture.

While dairy interests and the officials of the dairy section of the Agricutural Adjustment Administration began consideration of the butter marketing agreement and its amendments, the Secretary of Agriculture announced new general regulations governing suspension, revocation, reinstatement, and modification of licenses issued under any of the trade agreements which he approves.

The new regulations provide that any license may be suspended or revoked by the Secretary after public hearing of charges of violations of its terms, but that the Secretary may reinstate the license either with or without putting the holder under bond.

They also provide that the terms of licenses may be modified by the secretary, either on his own motion or upon receiving complaints nfom holders of licenses that the terms are working injury to their business.

Practically all milk marketing agreements contain the license clause and dealers are renuired to be licensed by the Secretary of Agriculture.

Novelty Vegetable And Fruit Display

Art Wellemeyer has devoted a section of his display window the past couple of weeks to oddities grown in this vicinity. Storms

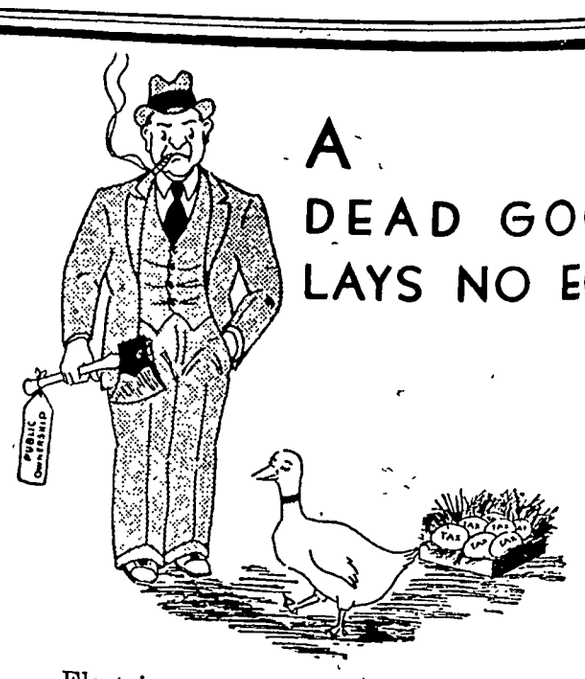
Atmospheric and financial storms are bound to come—no man has yet found a way to prevent them.

But sturdy business men and sound, conservative banks have learned by experience how "to ride 'em out." Let us help you and yours to safely ride out the financial storms of the future.

First National Bank



Electric service companies are quite frequently the largest taxpayers in their respective communities. Year after year an increasing percentage of their income is being paid in cash to the government. The loss of this dependable source of revenue is one the many disadvantages of municipal ownership. Tax-free municipal property is a liability instead of an asset. Notwithstanding the most glowing promises of lower electric bills, municipal plants invariably find it necessary to raise rtaes or to maintain existing rates while private companies offer rate reductions. And taxes of other property owners in the entire county must also be raised to make up for the lost revenue which the private utility formerly paid. There is little to be gained by killing the goose that lays the golden eggs.

KLEMME MAN NAMED HEAD OF HANCOCK SUNDAY SCHOOLS

The Hancock County Sunday on Tuesday last week with good attendance. Mr. Tom Nelson of Klemme was re-elected president, Miss Ardith Orr of Garner was elected secretary treasurer succeeding Mrs. Quontis, and Mrs. Ray Higdon was re-elected chairman of the children work. Klemme received the Christian Cross banner for having the largest attendance from the greatest distance.

Humor, Even In A Cemetery!

A Cemetery is usually regarded as a rather solemn place but our observing reporter got a laugh the other day while in quest of gophers and his trip took him through the Klemme Cemetery.

Recently improvements have been made there and it seems a neat, small building, erected in a not too conspicuous place brought forth the cause of a laugh. The building referred to has two doors. On one isprinted in bold, black letters the word "Maggie". On the other appeared the name "Jiggs".

Which brings to mind a filling station east of Clear Lake. A similar system there labels it's small building with "Tillie" on one door and 'Mac" on the other!

MAJESTIC STOVE DEMONSTRATION AT JACOB'S STORE

A factory representative is at the Jacob's Hardware Store this week conducting a special sale and demonstration of Majestic Rnges. One of the tests he made is immersing pieces of metal used in Majestic ranges in sulphuric acid. This test gives about the same effect on metal that soot has under normal conditions.

Whether or not you are in the market for a new range, you will find it very interesting to visit the store and have the factory man tell you many things about stove construction.

KLEMME STUDENTS ENTER COLLEGES

MANY KLEMME STUDENTS IN COLLEGE THIS YEAR

This spring's graduating class is well represented in colleges this year. Nellie Stromer and LaVohn Larsen will attend Ames; Norma Wille, Mildred Schoenwetter and Irene Harms will enter State Teachers at Cedar Falls and Dorance Day enters Iowa University.

Wilbur Arnold, 1932 graduate, will enter college at Ames. Paul Hughes, 1932 graduate will go to Iowa City.

Others who are returning to college are Byrnes Missman, Iowa U.; Gracka Quandt, Iowa U.; Ethel Barz, State Teachers, and Donald Gibbs, Mason City Junior College.

WATERFOWL SEASON TO BE ANNOUNCED SOON

Announcement of the season and bag limits is expected daily. The federal regulations are made by the United States Department of Agriculture. When announced by federal authorities the states usually adopt regulations to conform. Such is the case with Iowa. The fish and Game Commission will adopt regulaions for the taking of waterfowl in Iowa as soon as the federal regulations have been made.

YOUNG MAN INJURED IN CORN BINDER

Kenneth Bell, son of Wm. Bell, was injured Friday afternoon when his right thumb became caught in a corn binder as he attempted to free a stalk of corn that became entangled near the rollers. The machine caught Kenneth's gloved hand and before he could extricate himself the thumb of his right hand was badly mangled. He was brought to a local doctor's office and his thumb was amputated at the first joint. He is now getting along nicely.

At the conclusion of the games the hostesses served a delicious lunch.

Kanawha Downs Local Nine In Baseball Game

SHAMROCK NINE DEFEATED BY KANAWHA HIGH 18-8

Wildnesss Of Klemme Moundsmen Proves Fatal To Locals

The Klemme High School Shamrocks lost to the Kanawha nine on the local diamond Tuesday evening 18 to 8. Wildness of Klemme hurlers Jost, Brinkman and Drake, accounted for 10 free passes to first. However, this reflects no discredit on the boys, who suffered from the handicap of inexperience, all pitching their first game in high scholl competition. With a bit more practice they will be able to stand up to the best of hitters. Keraus was the hitter for the day collecting 3 safe hits out of four trips to the plate. Kluckhohn slammed out a double for the locals. Quire, of Kanawha had a great day collecting a triple, a double and two singles in 5 times at bat.

Vice president ..... Wilma Swalve
Secretary ..... Max Barz
Treasurer ..... Nora Wellemeyer

Historians for some of the classes will be selected at some of the later meetings.

Vella Paul, who has been taking a course in beauty culture in Waterloo, enrolled as a junior Monday morning. Vella is not a new student having been here her freshman and sophomore years.

LaVohn Larson and Nellie Stromer have been high school visitors recently. The girls will enter Iowa State College at Ames this week.

Judging from the class and committee meeting the sophomores have been holding, the fatal day for the freshman initiation must be scheduled for the near future.

GET READY NOW FOR THE HOBBY SHOW

It's not too early to get your curios and hobbies ready for the first annual Hobby Show to be held in Klemme, and sponsored by the P. T. A. this year.

You may not know exactly what is meant by a hobby show; a brief explanation will not be amiss. A Hobby Show is a public showing of your pet hobby or collection, such as a stamp or coin collection, display of fancy work, quilts, old relics heirlooms, etc., or anything you have been collecting or making. To illustrate: the Hobby Show held at Mason City Y. M. C. A. last winter had many displays of such things such as gum wrappers, paper match box covers, milk caps, nails, screws, coins, butterflies, insects, old guns, carvings, relics, Indian arrow heads, paper money, stamps, books, news clippings, model air planes, model coaches, model ships, marbles, spools pop bottle caps, etc., etc., All these things gathered together in a community and put on display make a very interesting and attractive exhibit.

Start work now for your entry in the local hobby show. If your exhibits need framing, now is the time to start work.

Off hand we can name a few hobbies right here in Klemme that are interesting and should be put on display: a fine collection of arrow heads and Indian relics; an extensive coin collection; many fancy quilts; display of archery tackle; old guns; empty cartridge cases; old relics; hand made handkerchief boxes; marble display; pop bottle cap collection; stamp collection, etc.

Start planning now for the Hobby Show. Let's make the first Hobby Show a good one.

LADIES AID WILL ELECT NEW OFFICERS THIS THURSDAY

Th regular September meeting of the Methodist Ladies Aid Society will be held at the church parlors this Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Officers for the coming year will be elected. Members are asked to bring something for lunch.

Grades 1 and 2

Las week the first grade learned to tell the "Gingerbread Boy" When everyone knew it. We invited the second grade to watch us dramatize the story.

The first grade are saving pictures for their scrap books. The characters are the same as the people in the preprimers.

The second grade finished making their annual booklets last week.

Friday our room went on a hike to see how many diferent kinds of tame fall flowers we could see and Mavis kept a list of them for us.

In health work our topic was was "Keeping Our Hands Clean". We had a little story and poem about it. Also we tried hard to remember to use what we learned.

Grades 3 and 4

Last week we told about the many different things we had noticed about our room. We wish to correct a mistake and add to the list Charles Bock and Zeola Johnson's birthdays are March 27 and Dean Merkel and Magnus Schuldt have birthdays on July 13. One half the fourth grade class have last names starting with B.

100 in spelling: Melvin Coobs, Margaret Ralston, Edwin Tiggeman Betty Jean Etchen, Harlan Buss and Eugene Johnson.

Above 90: Merlin Buss, Garland Brinkman, Charles Bock, Arlene Buseman, Magnus Schuldt, Betty Schuldt and Billy Grosshuesch.

Our project this fall will be a circus project. We are learning about the animals in Nature Study. Last week we learned about the pony which was chosen as the favorite by most of us.

Klemme Lodge Awarded Honors At District Meet

ROYAL NEIGHBORS GATHERED FOR DISTRICT MEETING

Large Delegation From Klemme Attended Clear Lake Meeting

Royal Neighbors from Klemme, Garner, Corwith, Britt, Mason City, Plymouth, Marshalltown Des Moines Charles City, Algona, Webster City, Minneapolis and other points attended the District Convention held at Clear Lake last Thursday and Thursday night.

Mayor Ward gave the address of welcome and Mrs. Geo. Peterson of the Clear Lake camp gave the welcome to the visitors and was responded to by Mrs. A. R. White of Klemme.

Class Is Initiated

The Klemme officers gave the initiation services in the evening in which three Clear Lake persons were candidates. The work was well put on and the Klemme ladies were highly congratulated.

Klemme Won Honors

The Klemme Lodge received special honors by winning the slogan contest, which is to be used for the state slogan. Mrs. Lee Ridder submitted the slogan.

Broken Arm Result of Kick by Cow

Dean Gilbert, who works on the farm for Paul Stromer suffered a fractured right foream Sunday when he was kicked by a cow.

THIS REPLY CAME BACK AFTER A REQUEST FOR FUNDS

Gentlemen:

It is impossible for me to send you a check. My present financial condition is due to the effects of federal laws, state laws, county laws, corporation laws, by-laws, brother-in-laws, mother-in-laws and outlaws, that have been foisted upon an unsuspecting public. Through the various laws I have been held down, held up, walked on, sat on, flattened, and squezed until I do not know where I am, what I am and why I am.

These laws compel me to pay a merchant's tax, capital stock tax, income tax, real estate tax, property tax, auto tax, gas tax, water tax, light tax, cigar tax, street tax, school tax, syntax and carpet tax.

I am suspected, expected, inspected, disrespected, examined and re-examined, until all I know is that I'm supplicatd for money for every known need, desire or hope of the human race and because I refuse to fall and go out and beg, borrow and steal money to give away, I am cussed and discussed, boycotted, talked to, talked about, lied to, lied about, held up, held down and robbed until I am nearly ruined, so the only reason I am clinging to life is to see what the hell is coming next."

Yours very truly,
BILL JONES

Lesson for September 24

REVIEW: SOME EARLY LEADERS OF ISRAEL

GOLDEN TEXT—Finally, my brethren, be strong in the Lord, and in the power of his might. Ephesians 6:10.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Friends From God's Book.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Some Heroes of God's Book.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Lessons From Great Leaders.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—What Makes a Great Leader?

For senior and adult classes, two methods are suggested.

First—The grouping of the men and women as leaders.

The material of this lesson is adapted from the Lutheran lesson commentary.

I. The Military Leaders (Lessons 1, 2 and 5).

1. Joshua (Lesson 1). He was skillful in military tactics as well as organization. He possessed natural gifts, but his success was due mainly to his obedience to God.

2. Caleb (Lesson 2). As one of the twelve spies, he insisted that by God's help they could possess Canaan.

3. Gideon (Lesson 5). He obeyed God's strange command to reduce his army to 300 men. With them he routed the host of Midian, and made Israel free for about forty years.

II. Women (Lessons 3, 6, and 7).

1. Deborah (Lesson 3). She was called in an emergency and led the people forward to victory.

2. Ruth (Lesson 6). She adopted a new people, a new God, and a new country, with no thought of personal gain. She became the ancestress of David and thus of Christ.

3. Hannah (Lesson 7). In Hannah shines forth ideal motherhood.

III. Prophets (Lessons 4 and 8).

1. Isaiah (Lesson 4). He has the place of first rank among the prophets. He denounced the sins of Israel. Drunkenness was one of the sins which destroyed Israel.

2. Samuel (Lesson 8). He was director-general of Israel while serving as a prophet of God.

IV. Royalty (Lessons 9. 10, 11 and 12).

1. Saul (Lesson 9). He had the anointing of God and the approval of the people. His days were filled with blunders, largely because he trusted and exalted himself rather than God.

2. David (Lesson 10). David came into prominence unexpectedly. He had the inner qualities that God could use for a true king. He brought the scattered tribes under one government, bound together with the bond of one religion.

3. Jonathan (Lesson 11). He is noted for his friendship for David. He was legal heir to the throne, but renounced his right in favor of David.

4. Solomon (Lesson 12). He came to the throne welcomed by a united nation. The idea of building the temple as well as much material for its erection came to him from his father. He built the temple and dedicated it to God, setting forth that its supreme purpose was God's glory.

Second—The Summary Method.

The aim here is to state the leading fact and principal teaching of the several lessons. The following suggestions are made:

Lesson for July 2. Joshua's faith in the promises of God and obedience to the divine command enabled him to carry forward to success the work begun by Moses.

Lesson for July 9. Because Caleb wholly followed the Lord, his strength was preserved.

Lesson for July 16. It was out of the ordinary for God to call a woman to a place of national leadership. Deborah had the good judgment to urge Barak forward.

Lesson for July 23.—Drunkenness and other sins caused Israel's ruin.

Lesson for July 30. Gideon, with a small band of men, routed and destroyed the Midianites because he trusted and obeyed God.

Lesson for August 6. Because Ruth chose to identify herself with the people of God she was abundantly blessed.

Lesson for August 13. Hannah stands out as the ideal godly mother.

Lesson for August 20. Samuel heard the call of God while serving in the capacity in which his mother dedicated him.

Lesson for August 27., Saul shamefully failed because he disobeyed God.

Lesson for September 3. Because David was a man after God's own heart, God used him and blessed him in spite of his sins.

Lesson for September 10. Jonathan is an example of a true friend.

Lesson for September 17. Solomon chose wisdom rather than honor and riches. Because of this God was able to give riches and honor.

BE IT REMEMBERED, That on this the 5th day of September, 1933, the Board of Supervisors of Hancock county, Iowa, met in adjourned session for the purpose of hearing upon the supplemental estimate of levies of taxes for future years as filed with this board. There were present Chairman F. J. Oxley, Supervisors F. J. Schoun and G. E. Klipping, a quorum as required by law. Thereupon the board investigated and found that the notice of the time and place of hearing had, according to law and as directed by the board, been published on the 23rd day of August, 1933, in the Garner Leader and Signal and the Britt News-Tribune, newspapers published in Garner and Britt of said county, and the affidavit of publication thereof was on file with the county auditor. Thereafter and on said day the estimate was taken up and considered and taxpayers heard for and against said supplemental estimate.

Thereafter and after hearing all taxpayers desiring to be heard. the board took up the supplemental estimate for final consideration and after being fully advised the board determined that said estimate be corrected and completed so that when completed it should be in words and figures as follows:

Year Levied 1933 Year Collected 1934 Amount $2500.00 Year Expended 1934 Amount Expended $2500.00.

The chairman and auditor were thereupon directed to properly certify and file the supplemental estimate with the county auditor.

F. J. Oxley.
Fred C. Missal.

Supervisor Schoun introduced and read the resolution next hereinafter set out and moved its adoption of said resolution, and, the roll being called, the following named supervisors voted:

Aye—All.
Nay—None.

Whereupon the chairman said resolution duly adopted as follows:

WHEREAS. There were on September 1, 1933, and now are outstanding, warrants of Hancock county, Iowa, in the aggregate amount of $11,000.00 which warrants were issued to cover expenses incurred for the support of poor persons as defined by Chapter 267 of the Code of Iowa, and

WHEREAS, There are not now and were not on September 1, 1933, funds on hand with which to pay said warrants, and it is necessary to fund said warrants by the issuance of a like amount of funding bonds of said county; and

WHEREAS, Before proceedings are instituted for the issuance of such funding bonds, it is necessary that notice of such proposed action be given to the taxpayers of said county;

NOTWITHSTANDING BE IT RESOLVED, by the Board of Supervisor of Hancock county, Iowa, as follows:

Section 1. That it is hereby determined that it is necessary for said county to issue its funding bonds to the amount of $11,000.00 for the purpose of funding a like amount of warrants issued for expenses incurred for the support of poor persons as defined by Chapter 267 of the Code of Iowa, all of which warrants were on September 1, 1933, and now are outstanding.

Section 2. That the auditor of said county be and he is hereby ordered and directed to publish notice of the institute proceedings for the issuance proposed action of this board to in- of $11,000.00 funding bonds of said county for the purpose of funding a like amount of warrants of said county. Such notice shall be published at least once in a newspaper of general circulation within said county at least ten days before the meeting at which such proposed action will be taken, and shall be in substantially the following form:

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given of the proposed action of the Board of Supervisors of Hancock county, Iowa, to institute proceedings for the issuance of $11,000.00 funding bonds of said county, for the purpose of funding a like amount of warrants of said county.

Notice is further given that such proposed action will be taken on the 26th day of September, 1933, at 10 o'clock a. m., at the board of supervisors' room, court house, Garner, Iowa, and that an appeall from such action may be taken to the director of the budget by filing a petition at any time before said date, signed by five or more taxpayers of said county, and setting forth their objections to such proposed action.

By order of the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County.

Fred C. Missal,
County Auditor.

Section 3. That this board of supervisors shall meet on the 26th day of September, 1933, for the purpose of considering the objections, if any, to the proposed action of this board to issue said funding bonds, and to adopt the necessary proceedings for the issuance of said bonds.

Section 4. All resolutions or parts of resolutions in conflict herewith be and the same are hereby repealed.

Passed and approved, September 5, 1933.

F. J. Oxley, Chairman.

Attest:

Fred C. Missal, county Auditor.

Fred C. Missal, Couny Audior.

Be it resolved that claims hereinafter set out be allowed in the various amounts designated thereon and that the auditor be and he is hereby ordered to draw warrants on the several funds of the county in payment of such claims.

Carried.

On motion and second meetng adjourned to September 11, 1933.

Carried.

EAT MORE OF YOUR FARM PRODUCTS AND RAISE THE PRICE — —

If thirty million farmers consume an extra dozen eggs per week, it means thirty million dozen or one million cases out of the market and within five weeks the tremendous surplus will be converted into a shortage and prices will automatically advance at least 5c per dozen.

If thirty million farmers eat one more pound of butter per week, there will be thirty million pounds less on the market and in five weeks the heavy surplus will be converted into a shortage resulting in an advance of at least 5c per pound.

If you are producing 2 cans of cream, equal to a tub of butter per week, the advan of 5c per pound means an additional $ per tub.

You can eat your products for NOTHING and make more money.

Big Trade-In TIRE SALE Firestone

GUM-DIPPED TIRES

DOUBLE SAVINGS for Car Owners who buy now! Prices are going up—Don't Delay—Equip your car TODAY and SAVE.

THE MASTERPIECE OF TIRE CONSTRUCTION

Here is how you make a DOUBLE SAVING! First—you will get a liberal allowance for your old tires—and second, you will save the amount of the next price increase which must come soon. It will be a long time in our opinion before you will be able to make such a tire saving again.

Don't risk your life and the lives of others on dangerously worn, smooth-tread tires, when we will give you a liberal trade-in allowance to apply on new Firestone High Speed Tires — the Safest Tires in the World.

Firestone Tires are built with high stretch Gum-Dipped Cords. Every cotton fiber in every cord in every ply is saturated and coated with pure rubber. This extra Firestone process gives you 58% greater protection against blowouts.

The NEW Firestone
SUPER OLDFIELD TYPE

Built to equal all first line standard brand tires in quality, construction and appearance, but lower in price—another Firestone achievement in saving money for car owners.

NRA
In Spirit and In Fact!

Being a public service company and required to operate twenty-four hours per day, 365 days per year, a strict and literal compliance with the Code has meant an increase of thousands of dollars in our annual operating expenses.

In addition to increasing employes and pay roll, all raw materials that we use have advanced sharply in price during the past thirty days.

Our gross business has decreased over 20% in the last two years and earlier closing hours of the business houses and stores under the NRA further curtails the customer's use of electricity and makes this condition steadily worse

The farmers' revenue has increased moderately, but not enough to meet the increasing costs of the materials and goods he must buy—

Our revenue is still decreasing—

PATHFINDER GUESSES WRONG!

The following article appears in a recent issue of Pathfinder, the Nation's Weekly under the head of "Official State Birds".

"What is your state's official state bird? Bet you a glass hammer you can't name it right off. Whether you know it or not, nearly all of the 48 states now have feathered representatives. That is, only four or five states haven't selected birds as yet. This year Norh Carolina's legislature decided to make the tomtit or Carolina chickadee that state's official feathered friend, but repealed the resolution olmost immediately for fear residents of that state who have long been known as Tar Heels would become known as "Tomtits."

"Other states not having selected feathered representatives are Connecticut, Iowa, New Jersey and Tennessee."

The Pathfinder evidently failed to check up very closely on their ource of information when they stated that Iowa has no official bird. Iowa has had a state bird for nearly a year as the last General Asembly adopted the Eastern Goldfinch as the official state bird for Iowa.

HERE'S A GOOD HUNTING YARN

KNOW ANY BIGGER?

The following little story, contributed by W. C. Furse of New York, will give you a laugh. He writes:

I recall distinctly the tale my grandfather used to tell as to how his life was saved by the use of cold shots. As he was at the time a young man, the story dates from the early part of the last century. He was hunting in the woods of Maine on a clear crisp day with the thermometer 50 or 60 degrees below zero. His gun was an old muzzle loader which had been used in turn by his father and which is still treasured in our family.

After a long day's fruitful hunt he was returning home when he came face to face, at a distance of not over twenty yards, with the largest and fiercest bear that he had ever seen. Rapidly he rammed home a super charge of powder, then reached for his bullets. They were gone! Meanwhile the bear was steadily drawing close. Death seemed inevitable. Huge beads of sweat broke out on grandfather's brow. As they fell to the ground these beads were frozen into solid pellets Gathering a handful of these, grandfather completed the loading of the gun. In the meantime the bear was coming on. At a range of less than 10 yards he fired.

The heat of the exploding powder naturally melted the ice bullets, which shot forth as a stream of water. This, in turn, immediately froze into a solid projectile which penetrated the animals skull and the bear died of water on the brain.

MELON CASE SETTLED OUT OF COURT

Justice Henry Suckow held court Saturday morning to hear evidence in a case filed by Roscoe Wiles against certain parties who are alleged to have molested his mellon patch about the 30th of August.

Nine people of Goodell and vicinity were involved in the case which was settled out of court, the defendants and Mr. Wiles compromising on a settlement for the mellons, according to Justice Suckow.

As we gather the story from the local Justice, there were three raiding parties involved in the affair, but the trial held Saturday was for the hearing of but one of the groups

THIS WEEK AT SCHOOL

Friday was the day which had been dreaded by the freshmen and looked forward to by the sophmores since school started—freshman initiation day. Complying with suggestions or orders issued by the sophomores, the freshmen appeared with a varied array of costumes. They presented an impromptu program in the morning and experienced other features of initiation during the day. After being put thru the "chamber of horrors" in the evening, the victims were entertained by the sophomores. The serving of refreshments closed the evening program. Thus another freshman initiation passed into history.

The student council will be organized this week. Each class will elect a member who along with the class president will represent the class at council meetings.

Two projects which the council will work on in the near future are: a system of honor points for extra-curricular participation; and plans for a series of assembly programs.

Alida Schubert missed a few days of school last week on account of illness.

Preliminary plans for a school carnival are under way. An announcement as to the date and nature of the program will be made soon.

Grades 1 and 2

Our room has a new beginner. Her name is Mary Lou Netland.

Friday we went on another excursion. This time we were looking for wild flowers along the road.

The first grade had fun dramatizing the story of The Three Bears for language work.

The first grade received their new Elson pre-primer work books last week. The material correlates with that in the Elson pre-primer which they are using.

The second grade finished one of their supplementary readers last week. In their language they learned about the boyhood of Robert Louis Stevenson.

Both grades had a little introductory rhythm work in music class.

Barbara Johnson, Eunice Larson and Mavis Leizinger had 100 in their spelling test.

Grades 3 and 4

Mrs. Klotzbach was a visitor in the third and fourth grade room Monday.

100 in spelling: Betty Jean Etchen, Harlan Buss, Eugene Johnson, Eugene Haberkamp, Garland Brinkman, Merlin Buss, Melvin Coobs, Charles Bock, Magnus Schuldt and Margaret Ralston. 90 or above: Arlene Buseman, Edwin Tiggeman, Billy Grosshuesch and Elwyn Jacob.

The third and fourth grades have their own telephone book now. Margaret Ralston made it for us.

Grades 5 and 6

Dorance Grange was absent Wednesday afternoon and Thursday morning. He attended a fair.

Donald Lemke was absent Thursday and Friday because of illness.

Elsie Ward and Shirley Johnson were absent Friday morning.

Mrs. Schwartz was a caller in grades five and six last week.

Last Friday Wanda Jean Kuck had Carmen and Elaine Goll as her guests.

We have two new small globes of the world in our room and find them very helpful in both history and geography.

Grade five are now beginning their study of South America. So far, this year has been spnet on review material.

The sixth grade are becoming acquainted with decimal points this week. The decimal points seem tiny and it is hard to know just where to place them. We hope to know them better before long.

Grades 7 and 8

Mitn Paul was absent on Friday because of illness.

The eigth grade has had a perfect attendance record since the beginning of school.

Doris Johnson was absent Monday on account of illness.

A committee has been appointed in eighth grade Civics class to gather information concerning the local water system and the local board of health.

Over Seven Hundred Attended Annual Festival

MISSION FESTIVAL HELD AT REFORMED CHURCH

The annual Mission Festival held at the Reformed Church Sunday will be a day long remembered by members and friends of the congregation. The weather was ideal and very available pew and chair was occupied at the morning service. Rev. Carl Koepke delivered the sermon in the morning. The Sunday School attendance was 520. Rev. Koepke spoke to the adult class, Dr. A. H. Dulmes to the Young People's Class and Mrs. Koepke to the children's department which met in the high school gym.

The Ladies of the congregation served dinner to over 700 guests at noon. Pastors and members of the following congregations came as guests in the afternoon: Rev. A. Kampman of Meservey; Rev. O. Poppen of Belmond;, Rev. D. Plesher of Kanawha, who spoke in the English language; and Rev. J. Frericks of Alexander. Members of Ell Town and Garner were present. Rev. Schmidt spoke at a Mission Festival at Ludlow, Iowa, Sunday.

Supper was served to the guests by the ladies. Rev. Koepke spoke again in the evening, delivering a timely and earnest message. The offering for the day amounted to $166

The Mixed Choir sang at all services. The Junior Choir and the Bible School Quartett sang during the Sunday School Program and the Young Men's Quartett sang a special number at the afternoon service.

Rev. and Mrs. Koepke visited relatives in the neighborhood of Garner Monday and returned to their home in La Crosse, Wis. Tuesday.

WHAT IOWA IS DOING IN CONSERVATION

A program of stream and lake improvement has started. Streams especially can double or treble their fish carrying capacity. Simple improvement measures make this possible. The rate at which this program develops depends on funds available and this is one place where local kroups of people can find a job to do that is worth while.

Distribution of all fish is steadily getting onto a basis of larger percentages of fingerling and adult fish. From experience and results shown from the recent fish survey, and from the experience of other states, we are not yet justified in assuming that fry distribution is impracical and unproductive. To arrive at an answer to the problem, the deprtment is working with three nursery lakes now and planning new developments, but there are many problems to be solved.

In this same connection plans are being made for development of nursery ponds and brood ponds for fish which cannot be handled in hatcheries. There is a need for producing other types of fish besides pike and trout.

Hancock County Lads To Compete At Cattle Show

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS ENJOYS BIG DINNER SUNDAY

The Loyal Workers, the adult class of the Methodist Sunday school had another great get-together day last Sunday, when they met at the church dinning room for a family dinner, at which about 75 people were present.

The occasion was also an annual meeting at which they elected officers for the coming year. All of the old officrs were retained for another year. They are E. J. Arnold, president; Mrs. E. J. Arnold, secretary; Frank Gruetzmacher, treasurer. Mrs. Will Stille is teacher and Mr. Eric Josten is the assistant teacher.

The class also enjoyed a very fine program in the afternoon.

LEGION AUXILIARY WILL GIVE AWAY FINE QUILT

The Legion Auxiliary ladies announce that they will give away a beautiful butterfly pattern quilt on October 7th. This has become an annual affair with the ladies and we predict they will have a large crowd present.

NIRA'S POPULATION

When NIRA, Iowa was first put on the map by the National Industrial Recovery Act its population was given as only 20. Now NIRA resents that because she actually has a population of several more than 50. On the first day the new NIRA stamp was sold at Nira, Postmaster E. J. Yoder got rid of 30,000. Since then he and six of his relatives who live in Nira have been busy sending out NIRA stamps postmarked at Nira, Iowa.

HANCOCK COUNTY TO BID FOR HONORS AT CATTLE CONGRESS

Hancock county will make a strong bid for honors among the numerous events of the Dairy Cattle Congress and Allied Shows Oct. 2 to 8 at Waterloo this year.

Garner high school will enter a team consisting of Clifford Anderson, Alfred Peterson, Elmer Abele and Glen Johnson in high school dairy cattle judging contests of the state. Contestants will include 22 judging teams numbering 88 boys. This competition will be held on October 3rd.

Four Hancock county boys will also compete in 4-H Dairy Cattle Judging contest on the opening day of the show. They are Loren Abele, of Garner; Robert Rasmussen, of Forest City; George Knaupp and Elmer Abele of Garner.

Membes of a 4-H Dairy Demonstration team also will be entered from Hancock County. Geo. Knaupp and Loren Abele will make a bid for the free trip to the Chicago Century of Progress offered to the winner of the state dairy demonstration contest. Should the Hancock 4-H Dairy Catle Judging team win the state contest, the boys then will be priviledged to represent Iowa in the Inter State competition on Wednesday, October 4. The winning team in the Inter-State event will be the champion of the United States.

Exceptional Belgian horse entries will be made by Ronald Greiman, who will show three animals and by Alfred Goll who will show one.

TAXES MUST BE PAID BY OCTOBER 1ST

October taxes, of the second installment of the 1933 taxes, are now due and must be paid on or before October 1st, when they will become delinquent. Changes in the tax laws by the last session of the general assembly made it possible to extend the time of the April payment to June 1st. However, no provisions were made for further extensions.

It is hoped that the coming special session of the legislature will provide ways which will make possible the extension of the time when semi-annual tax payments must be paid. As the law stands at present no further extension is possible and it is imperative that the remaining installment of the 1933 levy must be paid by October first.

KLEMME JUSTICE PERFORMED FIRST MARRIAGE CEREMONY

The reason for the more dignified appearance of our Justice of the peace, Henry Suckow, may be attributed to the fact that he is now a "marrying justice."

Saurday afternoon J. W. Pate and Miss Harriet Christianson, both of Clear Lake, procured a marriage license at the County Clerk's office and then came to Klemme to get "spliced." They seemed to have a preference to be married by a Justice, so came to the office of Henry Suckow, who spoke the necessary words, signed up the documents and collected the usual fee.

It was "Judge" Suckow's first marriage case, but he says he will guarantee he tied them good.

Former Local Telephone Operator Received Promotion

Miss Norma Schlawin, former local day operator at the Klemme exchange, and recently local and toll operator at the Forest City exchange, has been promoted to local and toll operator at the Emmetsburg exchange. The Emmetsburg exchange is the general office of the Iowa Union Telephone Co. Miss Schlawin is to be congratulated on her progress.

SAUL IN TARSUS

LESSON TEXT—Acts 21:39; 22:3, 27, 28; 26:4-7; Phil. 3:3-6.

GOLDEN TEXT—Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth. II Timothy 2:15.

PRIMARY TOPIC—A School Boy.

JUNIOR TOPIC—A School Boy of Tarsus.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Preparation for Life Work.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Training Christian Leaders.

I. Saul's Birth (Acts 21:39).

He was born at Tarsus, the capital of Cilicia. Tarsus was a gateway between the east and west, therefore a great commercial center. It was a self-governing city, making citizenship therein honorable. It was also one of the great educational centers of the Roman empire. In the providence of God the great apostle to the Gentiles was born in the city where he would encounter men of every class and nation.

II. Saul's Education (Acts 22:3).

1. In the home (Phil. 3:5). His parents were pious people and doubtless carefully cultured him according to Jewish standards. He was brought up as a strict Pharisee.

2. In college at Jerusalem (Acts 22:3). About the age of thirteen, as was the custom, he became a child of the law. It was doubtless at this age that he went to Jerusalem and entered upon his course of study under Gamaliel, one of the most eminent teachers of Israel. His course of study here, doubtless, was largely restricted to the Holy Scriptures. In this school he was prepared for the great work of a Christian theologian. Included in his education was:

a. Patriotism. He proudly affirmed "I am a Jew." He was brought up to love his nation. He was a nationalist of the true type.

b. A love for the Bible. To him the Scriptures were the very Word of God, the final word of authority.

c. Zeal for God. The word "zealous" literally means "to boil."

d. He was conscientious. His supreme aim was to have a conscience void of offense. Because of the blight of sin conscience needs to be disciplined by the Word of God.

3. A trade at Tarsus. Perhaps after his college course at Jerusalem he returned to Tarsus and learned tent making. Thus in later life he was able to support himself while preaching the gospel. One rabbi said "He that teacheth not his son a trade doeth the same as if he had taught him to steal."

III. Saul's Citizenship (Acts 22:27, 28).

In the providence of God, the apostle to the Gentiles was a free-born Roman citizen. He was loyal to his country, while at the same time strictly religious. Right relationship to God sanctifies loyalty to one's country.

IV. Saul's Defense Before Agrippa (Acts 26:1-27).

He expressed his delight that he now could speak and tell his case to one who could follow his line of argument, but doubtless, he was more delighted in that he could witness to him of the Saviour.

1. His manner of life (vv. 4-12). He had been in accord with the most rigid sect of the Jews. Therefore, he possessed the common Jewish hope of a coming Deliverer.

2. His supernatural conversion (vv. 13-15). It was through the personal appearance of Jesus Christ to him on the way to Damascus.

3. Commissioned by Jesus Christ and sent to the Gentiles (vv. 16-18).

4. His consecration (vv. 19-23). Upon receipt of his commission he instantly obeyed.

5. His appeal to Agrippa (vv. 25-27). He was anxious to have Agrippa act on the knowledge that he had.

V. Saul's Ground of Confidence (Phil. 3:4-6).

He had everything a true Jew gloried in.

1. Circumcised the eighth day (v. 5).
2. Of the stock of Israel (v. 5).
3. Of the tribe of Benjamin (v. 5). Benjamin had always remained loyal to the national customs.
4. A Hebrew of the Hebrews (v. 5). He was of Hebrew parentage, not a proselyte.
5. Touching the law, a Pharisee (v. 5). The Pharisees were a sect among the Jews most zealous for the rights and ceremonies of Judaism.
6. Concerning zeal, persecuting the church (v. 6). He proved his zeal by the positive effort to stamp out that which was threatening Judaism.
7. Touching the righteousness which is in the law, blameless (v. 6).

Germ-A-Rid

Will clean up your chicken house, will disinfect it and give your pullets a chance to make you some money this fall and winter.

YOU WILL HAVE TO DO THIS FIRST

Clean your chicken house thoroughly. You can't expect any kind of dope to kill mites and lice if you have a foot of manure in the house. Manure makes an excellent breeding place for the mite. You will always find lice on the fowl and so they must be sprayed thoroughly with Germ-A-Rid. Do this at night when the fowls are on the roost. It is used in the form of a mist and sprayed direct on the fowls. Germ-A-Rid will not hurt the chickens, but it kills any insect that does not have lungs, therefore the finer the mist the more effective it will be. It is the fumes that kill the lice on the chickens. With our Germ-A-Rid we will guarantee that your chickens will be free of lice and mites in 30 days.

We have had several affidavits telling what success these people have had before we started selling it here. Germ-A-Rid is not a new Dope: It must prove itself to you or you don't pay.

STAIRS MADE HER GASP FOR BREATH

PENALTY OF EXCESS FAT

Although she has lost but 7 lbs. of her overweight, this woman finds dthat 7 lbs. has made a remarkable difference to her:

Her letter reads: "I am 53 years old and my height is 5 ft. Last year I weighed 154 lbs. I have been taking a half-teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts, making no change in my diet. Now I am less round the hips and only weigh 147 lbs. dressed. But I feel lighter and can now run upstairs that before used to make me gasp for breath. Everyone says how well and fit I look."—(Miss) J. H.

Kruschen is an ideal blend of 6 separate salts that help body organs to function properly and maintain a splendid degree of health—it builds up energy and strength while you're reducing to normal weight.

Get Kruschen Salts at P. M. Wilson's or any other live druggist in the world—a jar lasts 4 weeks and costs not more than 85 cents.

REWARD POSTED BY FARMERS IN FOUR TOWNSHIPS

Chicken and Hog Thieves, Cattle Rustlers May Be Caught

There has been a fund created by farmers in Ell, Liberty, Avery and Twin Lake Townships for a reward to be given for the capture and conviction of chicken and hog thieves, cattle rustlers, property destroyers, or outlaws in general which are a nuisance to this community.

A signed pledge from about 40 Ell township farmers is on file in The Times Office. Similar lists are being circulated in the other townships. Anyone interested can call at the Times office and sign the list The more names, the better. So far it is estimated by the committee that at least $150 to $200 will be available for rewards.

The reward will not be paid to officers of the law who are compensated for law enforcement.

More publicity will be given this subject in coming issues. In the meantime, should YOU suffer a loss communicate with the Sheriff at once. It is easier to apprehend the thieves when clues are fresh.

SHAMROCKS SUFFER TWO MORE DEFEATS

GOODELL NINE TAKES SECOND WIN FROM KLEMME HIGH

The Klemme Shamrocks were defeated again by the fast Goodell nine on the local diamond 11 to 1. Keraus got the lone hit for Klemme scoring Brinkman who had been passed on balls. Klemme hurlers allowed but 7 hits but their wildness accounted for the unearned runs driven in by these hits.

SIX CAR LOADS LIVE STOCK SHIPPED SATURDAY NIGHT

There were a total of six car loads of live stock shipped out of the Klemme Yards Saturday night. C. A. Larsen shipped 2 decks of hogs and a car load of cattle. Joe Johnson shipped 2 decks of hogs. Albert Schmidt shipped a car load of cattle.

THIS WEEK AT SCHOOL

The freshman class had a picnic Friday evening in honor of Norman Sampson who with his family has gone to Des Moines to make his home.

The public speaking class had their first poem recital Friday. The poems of various author's were chosen this time. Those for the next recital will be poems by James Whitcomb Riley.

The seniors had a surprise party for Irma Sampson Thursday evening. The party resolved itself into a treasure hunt, the treasure being watermelons. The watermelons, however, had been previously purchased and had to be "hunted" because they had been mislaid on the way from the cars to the picnic ground.

Irma left Saturday for her new home in Des Moines. The seniors are sorry to lose Irma from their class. She was one of the two "charter members", she and Novella Bredbenner having started here in the first grade and contiued thru to their senior year.

Mr. Kingery's Industrial Geography and Agriculture classes have been making some interesting and attractive graphs.

Each class met last week to select a representative to the Student Council, except the Seniors who elected two. The seniors chose Roy Arnold and Fay Neuberger, the juniors, Vella Paul. The sophomores and freshmen elected LaVonne Sherwood and Walter Schubert respectively. The four class presidents are also members.

Grades 1 and 2

The 1st grade are beginning to read quite nicely in their little pre? primer book. Each child has a word book, also, which he made.

Our topic in Health for the week was "Clean Teeth".

Julia Bell, Eunice Larsen and Barbara Johnson had 90 or above in spelling last week.

Both classes had some free hand drawing to illustrate our story in language time.

The second grade went for a little excursion last week after school was out Tuesday. We went to visit the Post Office and learn how letters are stamped, weighed, addressed, etc. We had read the story about the Post Office in our readers and so enjoyed seeing what we had read about.

Grades 3 and 4

100 in spelling: Colleen Gram, Betty Schuldt, Eugene Johnson, Harlan Buss, Betty Jean Etchen, Arlene Buseman, Magnus Schuldt, Margaret Ralston, Garland Brinkman, Merlin Buss and Melvin Coobs. 90 or above: Leoard Kaduce, LeRoy Bachman, Elwyn Jacobs, Caroline Schwartz, Homer Blickenderfer, Charles Bock and Edwin Tiggeman.

Our Good Citizens League this year will be known as the Happy Helpers club. Our motto is:

For life is a mirror of king and slave;
It's just what you are and do;
So give to the world the best that you have
And the best will come back to you.

The officers are pres., Margaret Ralston; vice pres., Betty Jean Etchen; Secretary, Garland Brinkman. The committees are as follows Desks, Library, Blackboard, Erasers Flowers, Wastebasket, Colors, Paste Flag, Captain, Traffic Cop, Courtesy, Playground and Fountain.

We meet for regular meeting each Friday afternoon. This meeting is conducted by the president as follows: call to ordr, flag salute roll call, minutes of last meeting, reports of committees, open discussion and adjournment.

Grades 5 and 6

We are beginning practice in our room for our carnival which is to be some time in October.

The following people were absent from our room last week, Russell Wade, Wanda Jean Kuck, Marjorie Lemke, Jacqueline Kudje and Cecil Letzinger.

Thursday afternoon grades five and six had a surprise peanut shower on Miss Barz.

On Monday was Wayne Buseman birthday and he treated members of his room to candy bars and peanuts.

Grades 7 and 8

Ruth Blickenderfer and Marvin Lemke were absent from school on Monday.

The eighth grade have subscribed to the newspaper Current Events, which we use once a week in connection with Civics.

We have a new display on the making of glass which is proving quite an attraction in our room.

Bandits Blasted Vaults At Court House Saturd'y

DOUBLE DOORS IN TREASURER'S OFFICE FOIL ROBBERS

Close Check Up Will Reveal Exact Loss, Thought Less Than $100

When janitor Louis Henschen came to work at the Hancock County Court House at Garner Saturday morning he discovered that robbers had been at work. Sheriff Hanson was summoned and a check-up revealed that six vaults had been opened, five storage vaults in the basement, and a large vault in the Treasurer's Office.

A double door in the Treasurer's vault foiled the robbers, for after blasting away the outside door they were either frightened away or gave it up as a bad job. However, they obtained about $50 in gold coins belonging to Mr. McMillin, treasurer, and about $75 in stamps which were not kept in the inside of the vault. An exact check on the loss is being made.

Nothing of value to the robbers was obtained in the basement vaults but records were strewn about the floor.

Authorities are working on the case but as yet have made no arrests The opinion is that it was the work of professionals.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY NOTES

(By Mrs. P. W. Johnson)

The following is a history of the past years work of the Klemme Unit as compiled by Mrs. J. C. Thomas, historian.

This completes two very successful years under the able leadership of Mrs. Schwichtenberg and her corps of officers.

Mrs. Schwichtenberg can look with pride over the work occomplished in two of the hardest years, from a financial standpoint, the local unit has ever known. The personnell of the Klemme Unit can say of hr, "She was faithful to the trust placed in her two years ago."

MASONS TO HAVE FATHER AND SON BANQUET THURSDAY EVE

All Masons of this community are invited to attend the First Annual Masonic Father and Son Banquet at the Masonic Hall at Garner this Thursday evening.

Masons are expected to bring their son, or if they do not have a son, may bring any young man as their guest. The banquet will be served at 6:30 p. m. by the Eastern Star Ladies.

Young People Will Make Journey To Alleman, Iowa

A number of young people of the Reformed Church, and their pastor Rev. Grosshuesch, will go to Alleman, Iowa, Saturday to attend a meeting of young people who will gather there for a two day's session. A number of Klemme's representatives expect to remain at Alleman over the week end but Rev. Grosshuesch will return home Saturday evening.

MAY STAGE PICKERS' CONTEST

CORN HUSKING CONTEST MAY BE HELD IN HANCOCK

If a sufficient number of farmers in Hancock County are interested in a county-wide corn husking contest plans will be developed along this line.

A number of requests have come this office regarding this contest.

The winner will be picked and will represent the county at the state contest at Audubon on Nov. 3.

We hear much now days about depression, inflation, NRA and over producion of wheat and corn. A corn husking contest is a good stunt to get farmers to stop worrying over holidays, mortgages, farm loans and piggy sows. If you are interested, we plan to give you a real holiday looking at something you are interested in.

This contest must be held before October 31. Naturally plans must be developed soon in order to get this arranged.

Orville Wicks, last year's champ from Wright county, will defend his state title and if anyone in Hancock County wishes to try his husking ability he has an opportunity to do so.

After the county contest there will be a district contest. The winners from the different counties to compete in the district contest.

Anyone that is interested let County Agent. S. J. Oberhauser, know immediately.

SAUL IN DAMASCUS

LESSON TEXT—Acts 9:1-31.

GOLDEN TEXT—Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new. II Cor. 5:17.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Saul Learning to Love Jesus.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Saul Becoming Jesus' Friend.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Saul Becomes a Christian.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—What Is Conversion?

I. Saul's Violent Hatred of the Lord's Disciples (vv. 1, 2).

He know full well that unless the movement set on foot by Jesus was stopped it would supersede Judaism. He was ignorant of the genius of Christianity. He did not know that "the blood of martyrs is the seed of the church." Prosperity may ruin the church, but persecution never. Stephen's testimony intensified his hatred instead of softening his spirit.

II. Saul Kicking Against the Pricks (vv. 3-9).

The figure here is that of the eastern ox driver following the ox with a sharp iron fixed to the end of a pole. If the animal rebels and kicks against the sharp iron, it but injures itself.

1. A light from heaven (v. 3). The time had now come for the Lord to intervene. Saul was stricken with blindness and fell to the earth.

2. A voice from heaven (vv. 4, 5). This was the Lord's voice calling personally to Saul. In answer to Saul's inquiry, Jesus said, "I am Jesus, whom thou persecutest."

3. Saul's inquiry (v. 6). The dictator is now willing to be dictated to.

4. Christ's answer (v. 6). He told Saul to go into Damascus where information would be given him as to what he must do.

5. Saul entering Damascus (vv. 7-9). The savage persecutor went quite humbly into Damascus, led by his attendants where for three days he remained blind and fasted. The day is coming when all who oppose the work of God shall get a sight of the glory of the Son, either in salvation or in condemnation (Phil. 2:10, 11; Rev. 6:15-17).

III. Ananias Ministers to Saul (vv. 10-19).

1. Ananias' vision (vv. 10-12). He was instructed to go to Saul, given the name of the street and Saul's host.

2. Ananias' fear and hesitancy (vv. 13-17). He knew of Saul's ministry and the authority by which he came. The Lord encouraged him to go, assuring him that Saul was no longer an enemy but a chosen vessel to bear his name before the Gentiles.

3. Ananias' obedience (v. 17). He went to the house where Saul was staying, put his hand on his arm, and affectionately addressed him as brother. He informed Saul that the Lord had sent him with a twofold message.

a. "That thou mightest receive thy sight."

b. "Be filled with the Holy Ghost."

4. Saul baptized (vv. 18, 19). After Saul received his sight, Ananias baptized him. It was fitting that Saul should be baptized by one not having official rank, since his ministry as an apostle to the Gentiles was to be entirely independent of the twelve.

IV. Saul Preaching in Damascus (vv. 20-25).

1. What he preached (v. 20). He preached Christ, that he is the Son of God. This is the heart of the message of every minister and Sunday school teacher.

2. Where he preached (v. 20). It was in the synagogue. Because this was the place of assembly for the Jews, Saul took advantage of the opportunity to tell them that Jesus of Nazareth was the very Son of God.

3. The effect of his preaching (vv. 21-25).

a. People amazed (v. 21). They knew that the very one who had been the leader in persecuting the Christians in Jerusalem and had come to Damascus for the express purpose of bringing them bound to the chief priest, was now passionately advocating that which he had vehemently sought to destroy.

b. Jews confounded (v. 22). Saul increased in spiritual strength and knowledge so that he confounded the Jews, proving that Jesus was not only the Son of God, but their Messiah.

c. The Jews sought to kill him (vv. 23-25). Being unable to meet his skilful use of the Scriptures, they took counsel how that they might destroy him. So intent were they upon killing him that they watched the gate of the city day and night that they might take him. He escaped their wrath, being let down at night in a basket by the wall.

LIBERTY TOWNSHIP NEWS NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Will Lemke and Laurice were Mason City visitors Tuesday.

Rev. and Mrs. Priestly and Roland of Riceville visited their son and brother, Jonas, at the Beier home Tuesday and Wednesday.

Scraps of Paper

A farmer purchased a number of agricultural implements from a London firm. When, after a reasonable period, the account was not paid, the firm sent a representative to the farmer to demand payment in cash.

After much haggling with the farmer the representative finally agreed to take a check in payment. Returning to London, he presented the check at the farmer's bank, and was surprised when the cashier refused to honor it.

"But surely Farmer George keeps his accounts here, doesn't he?" asked the puzzled man.

"Yes, that's quite true," replied the cashier. "The farmer keeps his accounts here, but I don't know where he keeps his money."—Boston Herald.

Statesman and Gambler

Charles James Fox, English states- n, was a typical gambler of his iod, about 150 years ago. He won ily at the race track but lost at ds. At one time has father had to $700,000 of his gaming debts, and another friends raised $350,000. In lition, he lost all his winnings and estate. He entered parliament at age of nineteen, became a cabinet mber at twenty-one, and gambled ough a lifetime of great political tivity, in the course of which he ame foreign minister and, save for dislike of the king, would have n prime minister of England.

Only Two States Have Phosphorus in Quantity

While there are deposits of phosphate rock in the West, practically all which is used in baking powders comes from Florida and Tennessee. Since the early part of the Twentieth century natural phosphate rock has been the principal source of phosphate used for food purposes. Formerly the rock was treated with sulphuric acid, in which process the tribasic phosphate was converted into free phosphoric acid. The crude phosphoric acid usually contained small quantities of impurities, which had to be completely removed before it could be used for food purposes. The purified phosphoric acid was made into monocalcium phosphate by reaction with calcium carbonate. It was then dried in vacuum, milled to a fine granulation and bolted to a uniform size. The wet process of producing phosphoric acid has to some extent been supplanted by the volatilization processes, in which phosphorus is volatilized, oxidized to phosphoric anhydride and condensed in a small quantity of water, yielding a concentrated solution of phosphoric acid (H_3PO_4).

Elephant's Big Part in East Indian Pageantry

Elephant transport, slow but sure, survives in the rough country of Central India and Rajputana, but is gradually being discarded by Indian princes and merchants for the faster automobile, according to a writer in the Manchester (England) Guardian. On the great estates of the maharajas the elephant carriages are retained for state occasions, when the animal plays a leading role in the display of Indian pageantry. From ten to thirty elephants are used at festivities of this kind, especially when a local potentate celebrates a birthday. The beasts are gorgeously outfitted for such occasions, and painted. Their trunks, ears and tails are covered with red, yellow and green flowers and their foreheads are daubed with gilt to match the decorative coats of the howdahs and the trappings of the carriages.

Culture

Grove Patterson, of the Toledo Blade quotes from Matthew Arnold as to his idea of a man of culture. Arnold said: "The great men of culture are those who have had a passion for diffusing, for making prevail, for carrying from one end of society to the other, the best knowledge, the best ideas of their time, who have labored to divest knowledge of all that was harsh, uncouth, difficult, abstract, professional, exclusive; to humanize it; to make it efficient outside the clique of the cultivated and learned, yet still remaining the best knowledge and thought of the time, and a true source, therefore, of sweetness and light."

Ancient Soup Kettle

At Colchester, England, they dug up a bronze cauldron with drop handles. This kettle measures two feet across, and might have held the broth with which, as the rhyme tells us, the Old Woman who lived in a shoe fed her huge family.

The cauldron was found on the site of the old Roman camp, but the experts say it is Celtic work and that the first cook to stir it lived 2,000 years ago. It was looted by Roman soldiers, and it probably held soup made from looted cattle also. The life of a saucepan was not such a humdrum affair 2,000 years ago as it is today.

Naming the Chow

If you have a dog of Chinese breed such as the chow, pug or pekingese, of course you want your pet to have a Chinese name. Following are a few suggestions offered by the Dog World, with their English translations: Aye Shing—loving heart; Chu Jen—the master; Chin-Pao—golden treasure; Fwo-Kin—parti-color dog; Ho Yan—a fine fellow; Kum-Sum—golden hearted; Kwai-Chu—foreign jewel; Kwai-Wha—little lady; Shoh-Dee—little brother; Shih Bah—snow white; Shia-Kin—little dog; Tu-Sheng Tzu—only child; Tay Yiang—sunshine, and Yan-Dan—friend of man.—Detroit News.

WANDA WHALEN was what you might call a small town girl with a big town spirit.

Although she had been born in the pretty town of Medrose, a thriving enough little place situated on a river notable for the beauty of its winding banks, Wanda had practically never lived there. That is, until she came home from an eastern college and found herself, for the first time in her eighteen years, confronted with the idea of spending a winter at home.

Up to that time there had been the two years that the Whalens had spent abroad, previous to the death of her father, Cyrus Whalen, president of the Medrose City bank.

Then there had been Wanda's years at a young ladies' school in Boston and the subsequent four years at a girls' college in New York state. Summers had been spent either at the elaborate camps of elaborate friends, the Medrose estate in Canada or in Europe.

All in all, Medrose had seen practically nothing of Wanda, since her toddling years.

Meanwhile, the town had grown. Quite a residential district had sprung up around the end of town that was still dominated by the handsome old Whalen mansion.

What with her parents' recent death and the marriage of an only brother and his subsequent removal to Salt Lake City, Wanda was virtually the head of that mansion. When in Medrose she shared it with a maternal aunt named Rosa Lee Masters. A faded, rather lovely-looking edition of the more robustly charming woman who had been Wanda's mother. Rosa Lee ran the house with effectiveness and skill. The brief periods that Wanda spent at home were entirely devoid of the responsibilities of her elaborate household or of the many duties that might naturally clamor for the attention of a young heiress recently come into large holdings.

Between Rosa Lee and an old distant family relative and lawyer named Jade O'Higgins, Wanda's days continued to be peculiarly care-free and devoted almost entirely to the business of making them as enjoyable as possible. To the girls of Medrose, who sometimes did Wanda injustice to regard her frequent comings and goings a snobbery, she was, nonetheless, an object of perpetual fascination and mystery. There was something exotic about Wanda. She belonged to a great outside world of doings that made her a person apart from the usual run. Even the Medrose girls who were in a position to travel about a bit themselves, and who had enjoyed the advantages of finishing school, were nonetheless a little under the spell of Wanda.

She rode horseback like a daredevil. The streets of Medrose gaped to see her striding through them in natty knickers on a cross-country jaunt. She had a swimming pool built on the extensive grounds of the Whalen mansion and there were rumors of midnight swims when eastern friends came out for house parties. Once a motion picture star of international reputation, a Polish pianist and a senator from New York state had made up the personnel of one of these visiting groups.

Wanda's name and photograph were forever in the Medrose paper, to say nothing of the eastern society and daily sheets.

The town agreed, a little reluctantly, that Medrose was no place for her. There was really nothing there to keep entertained and occupied a girl-of-the-world like Wanda.

Wanda, although she felt an affection for her little home city, came to about the same decision that first winter she spent there. There were one or two girls who were agreeable to her. Edna Martin, who rode horseback with her. And the young daughter of the mayor of the town. A pretty girl named Tyron. There were even one or two of the local boys congenial to her. Larry Piexotto, who was a lawyer's apprentice and who drove his father's car like a whizz. And a rather reserved young fellow, Claiborne Clay, whose father had once been one of the influential men of the state, but whose family had gradually fallen into arrears until Claiborne and his mother, last survivors, occupied a little gray frame house on the edge of the town.

Claibrone was good fun because he was of a quieter and more thoughtful nature than any of the boys who frequented Whalen's. He was an architect by preparation and was already eagerly working toward the day when he would have earned sufficient for his first trip abroad.

But outside of this small group of picked friends, Wanda's interests lay in the world beyond. New York with its theaters, its concerts, its pastimes lured her. There were old ties to be renewed with friends she had met during the years abroad. Wanda yearned for a year in Paris. Another in Rome. Budapest! Vienna!

Her first quick judgment in these years after the death of her parents was to sell the Whalen house and take up permanent abode in New York. Sentiment forbade that. Beside it was fitting that while Rosa Lee lived the house should be kept up for her.

But it was decided almost without opposition, indeed with the co-operation, of Jade O'Higgins, that the thing for Wanda to do, now that her business interests were sufficiently concentrated, was to practically transfer her residence to the metropolis. In a subtle way, in a fashion not to bring the rebuke of Medrose down upon her pretty head.

Because, after all, it was in Medrose that the Whalens had accumulated their fortune. Medrose had been kind to her family. Deep in her heart, however, much as the sleepy little town might have bored her, Wanda felt this and was grateful.

So, on the bright spring morning that Wanda set out from Medrose for New York, few except her intimates knew that there was anything unusual about this particular departure. To all external intents and purposes, Wanda was simply off on another of her frequent jaunts, here, there and everywhere. The society column reported it. The society weekly commented upon it. And there was an end of it. But what the town at large did not know was that Wanda was practically, as she stood chic and gayly dressed at the station that day, shaking the dust of Medrose off her pretty feet.

Edna Martin and Tyron and Larry and Claiborne were at the station to bid her adieu. There was a more solemn note than usual lying underneath it all.

Wanda was practically leaving for good. Tyron, in spite of the fact that Wanda was promising to take her abroad with her the next summer but one, shed frank tears as the train pulled out. The boys doffed hats rather sadly. There was something a little too final about it all, not to be depressed by it.

For twenty-eight months Wanda did not set foot in Medrose, and, contrary to her expectations, neither did she go abroad, because of a course in interior decoration which had caught her attention in New York and to which she devoted the major part of her time. Tyron went to Paris on funds gaily supplied by Wanda, but, to the surprise of those who knew her, the young heiress went through with the work that was interesting her at home.

At its conclusion, however, she did go abroad. On a twelve-months' tour of Italy and France, devoting her time to a study of the galleries and old interiors of the larger European cities.

They were pleasant months, filled with interest in her work and an honest and sustained desire to get on in it.

Again her friends marvelled. Wanda was by nature as gay and as temperamentally many-colored as a humming bird. Wanda liked to flirt, Wanda liked to drive fast cars. Dance the shimmering, shimmying dances of the period. Ride gondolas to moonlight with a youth proper to the occasion.

Wanda was in search of romance.

She admitted it to herself.

It was part of the wanderlust.

Somewhere on the face of the globe that she was free to wander at will, there lurked what she sought.

It kept her feet wandering on.

It beckoned her from city to city, from country to country, from mood to mood.

Somewhere lurked romance.

She found it in an old corner of a garden in Florence.

Turning a shaded walk, suddenly, in the Boboli gardens, she came upon the left shoulder of a young man dabbing paint upon a canvas that was propped upon a small easel.

For ten minutes, standing there regarding that left shoulder, Wanda, the level-headed Wanda, knew, before he swung around to face her, that she was in love.

Knew it with a curious, and in this case a most sure-fire, instinct of hers that was never to fail her.

Of course the face, when it swung around, was to bowl her over; to paralyze her for the moment with surprise. With a flutter of heart beat.

It was the face of Claiborne Clay.

It was the face that was ultimately to lead her from the four corners of the earth, back to Medrose for the culmination of her romance.

Slot Machine Principle Familiar to Egyptians

It is an interesting fact that a slot machine that was patented in the United States late in the Nineteenth century was of practically the same construction as one used about 200 B. C. in an Egyptian temple.

The credit for inventing this ingenious machine probably belongs to Ctesiblus, who was also the inventor of the siphon.

The Egyptian slot machine was used to dispense purifying water to the worshipers in the temple. A clever arrangement of lever and valve inside a vaselike container allowed a small portion of the holy water to escape when the sum of five drachmae was dropped through a slot in the lid.

The weight of the correct number of coins caused the lever to open the valve in the bottom of the vase, and when the lever tilted, the coins slid off into the accumulation below, and the flow of water was stopped.

Prayer and pains, through faith in Jesus Christ, will do anything.—John Elliott.

Not Scriptural Quotation

The phrase, "He tempers the wind to the shorn lamb," is not, as some have supposed, a Scriptural quotation. It is a variation of the line from "Maria," by Laurence Sterne (1713-1768), "God tempers the wind to the shorn lamb." This may be traced back to a passage in "Jacula Prudentum," by George Herbert (1593-1632), "To a close-shorn sheep God gives wind by measure." About 1594, however, Henri Estienne wrote in "Premises, etc.," "Dieu mesure le froid a la brebis tondue" (God measures the cold to the shorn lamb)—Exchange.

Liberty Schedule

Sunday School at 10:15 A. M.
Morning Worship at 11:30 A. M.

Your pastor was appointed to the Klemme-Liberty charge by Bishop Frederic D. Leet of the Omaha area We hope and pray that we as church and people will increase in the fellowship and spirit of Christ our Lord, this year. "Hitherto God has helped us" and we are sure He will not fail us. Our concern must be that we do not let sin come into our hearts and make Christ depart out of them. "For we cannot serve two masters".

REFORM DELEGATES ATTEND YOUNG PEOPLE'S CONFERENCE

A delegation of young people, including Mable Schuldt, Emma Goll, Vergie Meinders, Mable Thieman, Viola Thieman, Ronald Barz, Mitchell Bock, Raymond Barz, Edwin Thieman and Rev. and Mrs. Calvin Grosshuesch returned last Sunday evening from a Young People's Conference which was held at Alleman, Iowa, Oct. 7 and 8. To this conference were invited all young people of the Ursinis Classis and of all other Reformed Churches of Iowa.

As the theme of the conference, the young people of Alleman chose "What I should know about my Church".

At the first session Saturday morning, we had the priviledge of hearing Rev. Grosshuesch speak on "The Reformed Church, Its History Organization and Work", and during the afternoon meeting he again delivered a splendid message on "The Duties of a Church Member".

For the evening meeting all delegates and young people of Alleman journeyed to a cozy log cabin in Union Park in Des Moines where after a hearty picnic supper, the young people themselves took part in a few discussions on topics of vita interest to any Christian.

On the following morning during the regular Sabbath worship, Rev. Kruetzman, pastor of the church in Alleman, gave an inspiring address on "Worship" as a par of the theme of the conference.

During the last session of the Conference Sunday afternoon, Rev. John Ruhl of Newton, Iowa delivered an address on The Evangelical Church, Its History, Organization and Work." Through this address and that given by Rev. Grosshuesch all listeners gained much information as to the work of both churches which will very likely be one denomination in the near future.

All Klemme delegates feel their time was well spent in attending this short conference. It was worthwhile, both educationally, being inspired by the various addresses, and socially, having learned to know the Alleman young people as excellent hosts.

HANCOCK COUNTY TEAM IS WINNER

DAIRY JUDGING TEAM WINS SECOND AT WATERLOO

Members of the Hancock County 4-H dairy judging team lost by a single point to the Sac county team in a contest staged at the Waterloo Dairy Cattle Congress on October 2nd.

The Sac county team was victorious by the score of 1522 and the Hancock county boys 1521 out of a possible 1600 points. Members of the local team were Robert Rasmussen, Forest City; Loren Abele and George Knaupp, Garner.

Robert Rasmussen was sixth in the individual judging.

The dairy demonstration team were third in their division. They demonstrated "Dehorning Dairy Calves by the Caustic Method."

S. J. Oberhauser accompanied the team to the cattle congress.

Ernest M. Wright, secretary of the Dairy Association of Iowa and Jack Nesbit, one of the official judges, said that reasons given by the youthful judges were far better than in most 4-H contests.

Farm Home Burned To Ground Sat'day Morning

LANGE RESIDENCE DESTROYED BY FIRE OF UNKNOWN ORIGIN

Loss To Liberty Township Farmer Covered By Insurance

Fire of unknown origin early Saturday morning destroyed the house on the Albert Lange farm four and a quarter miles west of Klemme, in Liberty township.

The fire was discovered at about 6:30 a. m. as Mr. Lange was returning from the barn where he had been milking. Other members of the family were aroused and an alarm sent out to neighbors. Mr. Lange first saw flames coming up out of the roof. Most of the furniture on the first floor was saved, but little from the rest of the house could be removed and the crowd which gathered was unable to check the blaze and the house was soon destroyed.

What caused the fire will remain a mystery. There had been no fire built in the kitchen range since the night before.

Mr. Lange expects to start at once to build a new residence and get it completed before cold weather sets in. At the present time the family is living in temporary quarters and with neighbors.

The loss was covered by insurance.

FINE VARIETY OF DISPLAYS AT P. T. A. SHOW

Will Probably Become An Annual Event In Klemme

The First Annual Hobby Show and Exhibit staged by the P. T. A. at the school gym Tuesday evening proved to be a success beyond all expectations. That there was such a large and varied assortment of hobbies and curios in Klemme was almost unbelievable.

To enumerate the many interesting things found at the show would be almost impossible and when we report that the gym was filled to capacity with unusual items we are putting it mildly. To give but a few of the many things, we mention the display of Indian Relics by Henry Runge, and son, Roland, was wonderful. C. G. Waterman and U. G. Smid had on display some fine collections of coins Durance Grange displayed a real boy's hobby in his collection of empty cartridges and his model airport. Quilts, rugs, and fancy work were hung all around the outer walls—work of many Klemme ladies. The oil paintings by Mrs. Ed. Hughes and Milo Patet brought forth exclamations of wonder that we had real artists in our midst. The display of fire arms by the Klemme Rifle Club was quite an attraction for the men and boys. Curios from the far corners of our own land as well as from foreign shores could be found and were of great interest. Who owned the first auto in Klemme? A picture of A. G. Koerner at the wheel is the answer. Even our funeral director Mr. Wellemeyer, has a hobby for things old and had on display an old "coffin" from many years ago. Many ancient relics and heirlooms could be found here and there. Stamps, scrap books, post cards, paper money, rocks, baskets, fishing tackle, arch tackle, etc., all was very attractive and all exhibitors are to be thanked for the interest they took.

Next year the hobby show should be of even greater interest and a larger number of people will show their hobbies and curios. And right now is a good time to begin planning and arranging your next exhibit.

The committee would like to thank each and every one for the part they took. Next year the Times will endeavor to have an accurate list of the names of people who took part; but it was impossible this year to arrange such a list and we do not want to slight anyone.

SAUL IN ANTIOCH

LESSON TEXT—Acts 11:19-30.

GOLDEN TEXT—For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; to the Jew first, and also to the Greek. Romans 1:16.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus' Friends Sharing With Others.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Earning a Name.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Sharing the Gospel With Other Races.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Racial Problems and Their Solution.

When God was about to launch the missionary enterprise among the Gentiles, he arranged for a new religious center. Antioch was admirably adapted for such a center. It was a great commercial center with communication between the east and west. The population was a mixed one. The upper classes were mainly Greeks and used the Greek language. The government officials were Romans and used the Latin tongue, while the masses were Syrians. Sprinkled among them were Jews who had come for commercial purposes. Travelers from all parts of the world were in evidence.

I. A Religious Awakening at Antioch (vv. 19-21).

1. The occasion (v. 19). The persecution at Jerusalem scattered the disciples abroad. This, God permitted in order to separate them from the home people at Jerusalem.

2. The preachers (v. 19). They were not officially appointed missionaries, but ordinary men and women. They were filled with the yearning desire for lost souls, and witnessed of the Lord Jesus in the power of the Holy Ghost. Wherever the disciples of the Lord really yearn after lost souls and witness of him in utter dependence upon the Holy Spirit, there will be conversions.

3. To whom they preached (vv. 19, 20).

a. Some went among Jews only with the gospel message. These had not yet come to see that the gospel purpose was wider than to include only Jews.

b. Some preached to the Grecians also. These were from Africa and Cyprus. They were of a more liberal spirit perhaps because they were removed from a Jewish center. The success of their preaching was so great that news of it reached the mother church at Jerusalem.

II. Barnabas Sent to Inspect the Work at Antioch (vv. 22-24).

1. The work done by Barnabas (v. 23) He gladly endorsed the work and earnestly exhorted them to continue steadfastly in the faith, clinging unto the Lord.

2. The character of Barnabas (v. 24). He was a good man. It is highly important in sending a man to follow up a spiritual work, that his character be good. He must not only be of unblemished character, but of broad sympathy—capable of entering into the full appreciation of things about him. He was also full of the Holy Spirit. Only a spirit-filled man can appreciate the workings of God.

III. Barnabas Brings Saul (vv. 25, 26)

The work grew to such an extent that help was needed. Barnabas had the good judgment to seek Saul for this important work. Saul was a more important man than Barnabas. It is the duty of Christian leaders to seek out men who are qualified for the Lord's work and bring them from their obscurity to the strategic places in the Lord's vineyard. There are many men in obscurity whose bringing forth requires a Barnabas.

IV. The Disciples First Called Christians at Antioch (v. 26).

They were not called Christians in derision as is so often asserted. It was in consequence of the teaching ministry of Saul and Barnabas that they were called Christians. In all Saul's teaching he showed the unique relation which the Christian sustains to Christ.

V. The Church at Antioch Sends Relief to Jerusalem (vv. 27-30).

The Holy Spirit through Agabus revealed that a great dearth should prevail throughout the world. This came to pass in the days of Claudius Caesar. Every man, according to his ability, determined to send relief to the brethren which dwelt in Judea. They made up money for the saints in Jerusalem and sent it by the hands of Barnabas and Saul. This act not only proved the genuineness of the work at Antioch, but it manifested the fact that the Jews and Gentiles are one in Christ and that therefore there should be no division among them. It was a case of Gentile Christians ministering to the Jews.

Ayes—All.

Nays—None.

Whereupon the Chairman declared said resolution duly adopted as follows:

WHEREAS, The County of Hancock, in the State of Iowa, is a body corporate, duly organized and existing under and by virtue of the laws and Constitution of the State of Iowa; and

WHEREAS, said county has now outstanding against it an indebtedness in the amount of over $11,000 all evidenced by valid warrants, each issued in pursuance of Chapter 255, Code of Iowa, all of which indebtedness thus evidenced was on the First Day of September, 1933, and now is outstanding, payable and due; and

WHEREAS, All of said indebtedness was contracted, incurred and allowed and each of said warrants was executed and issued by order of the Board of Supervisars of said county for purposes authorised by law, and in form, time and manner required by law; and none of said indebtedness was incurred, and none of said warrants was issued in violation of Sections 5121, 5258, or 5259, or of Chapters 265 or 269, Code of Iowa, as amended, or in violation of any law forbidding, restricting or regulating the contracting or the incurring of indebtedness or the issuance of warrants, or in violation of any law whatsoever; and

WHEREAS, None of said indebtedness was incurred and none of said warrants was issued for the purchase of any real estate or for the purchase or construction of any building or the construction of any bridge; and

WHEREAS, All of said warrants were issued to pay expenditures incurred for the support of poor persons as defined by Chapter 267 of the Code of Iowa; and

WHEREAS, None of said indebtedness or warrants have ever been adjudicated to be invalid, and no litigation is pending, prayed or threatened involving the validity of any of said indebtedness or warrants; and said indebtedness thus evidenced is a legal, valid and binding obligation of said county, and all of said indebtedness thus evidenced is in such form and of such character that it can legally be funded; and

WHEREAS, It is deemed to the best interests of said county to fund said outstanding indebtedness, thus evidenced, to the amount of $11,000; and

WHEREAS, The amount, nature and condition of the indebtedness of said county now is and was on the First Day of September, 1933, including the aforesaid indebtedness, evidenced as aforesaid, and was at the time of the contracting and of the incurring and of the allowing of each item of said indebtedness, including such item, and at the time of the authorization of the issuance and the presentation of each of said warrants, including such warrant, such that according to the last previous State and County tax lists, no portion of said county now is, or was at any of said times, chargeable with taxation (either levied or necessary to be levied) to pay county indebtedness exceeding the limit of one and one-quarter per centum of the actual value of the taxable property within such portion of said county, and such that the total indebtedness of said county does not now, and did not at any of the aforesaid times, exceed the costitutional or statutory limitations; and

WHEREAS, Notice of the proposed action of the Board of Supervisors to institute proceedings for the issuance of the bonds hereinafter authorized was duly published on the 13 day of September, 1933, in the "Britt News-Tribune," a newspaper of general circulation within said county, as required by Section 363, Chapter 23, Code of Iowa, 1931, and no petition objecting to such proposed action was filed; NOW THEREFORE

BE IT RESOLVED, By the Board of Supervisors of the County of Hancock, in the State of Iowa, as follows;

Section 1. That, for the purpose of funding the indebtedness of said county in the amount of $11,000, referred to and proposed to be funded in the preamble of this resolution and evidenced by the warrants also referred to in the preamble of this resolution, there are hereby authorized to be issued eleven (11) negotiable Funding Bonds of said county, numbered consecutivly from one (1) to eleven (11) both numbers inclusive, to be of the denomination of $1,000 each, to be dated the First Day of September, 1933, each bearing interest from and after the date thereof until paid at the rate of Five (5) per centum per annum, payable May 1, 1934, and semi-annually thereafter on the First Days of May and November of each year, such interest to be evidenced by negotiable coupons attached to each bond; both principal and interest payable in lawful money of the United States of America at the office of the Couty Treasurer, Garner, Iowa; said bonds to become due and payable in their numerical order as follows:

Bonds Nos. 1 to 3, inclusive, $3,000, November 1, 1935;

Bonds Nos. 4 to 7, inclusive, $4,000, November 1, 1936;

Bonds Nos. 8 to 11, inclusive, $4,000, November 1, 1937;

Section 2. That said bonds and coupons and form for registration shall be in substantially the following form:

(Form of Bond)

No. ——— $1,000

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA
STATE OF IOWA
COUNTY OF HANCOCK
FUNDING BOND

The County of Hancock, the State of Iowa, for value received, promises to pay to bearer, or, if registered, to the registered holder thereof, the sum of One Thousand Dollars, in lawful money of the United States of America, on the First Day of November 19—, with interest on said sum, from the date hereof until paid, at the rate or Five per cent per annum, payable May 1 1934, and semi-annually thereafter on the First Days of May and November in each year, upon presentation and surrender of the interest coupons hereto attached as they severally become due. Both principal hereof and interest hereon are hereby made payable at the Office of the County Treasurer, Garner, Iowa. For the prompt payment of this bond, both principal and interest, at maturity, the full faith, credit and resources of said county are hereby irrevocably pledged.

This bond is issued by the Board of Supervisors of said county pursuant to and in strict compliance with the provisions of Chapter 266, Code of Iowa, 1931, and in conformity with a resolution of said Board, duly passed, for the purpose of funding a like amount of the valid, subsisting indebtedness of said county outstanding on the First Day of September, 1933, and until the issuance of this bond.

This bond shall pass by delivery unless it has been registered in the name of the owner on the books of the County Treasurer of said County and evidence of such registration endorsed on the back hereof. Thereafter no transfer of this bond shall be valid unless made on said books and similarly noted hereon, unless the last registration shall have been to bearer, in which case transferability by delivery shall be restored. The registration of this bond shall not affect the negotiability of the coupons hereto attached, which shall continue transferable by delivery merely, notwithstanding registration hereof.

And it is Hereby Certified and Recited: That all acts, conditions and things required by the laws and Constitution of the State of Iowa to be done precedent to and in the issue of this bond have been properly done, happened and been preformed in regular and due form as required by law; that the indebtedness funded by the issuance of this bond was a valid, subsisting and legal indebtedness of said county, and that the total indebtedness of said county, including this bond, does not exceed the constitutional or statutory limitations.

In Testimony Whereof, said county, by its Board of Supervisors, has caused this bond to be signed by the Chairman of said Board and attested by the County Auditor, with the seal of the county affixed, and the coupons hereto attached to be signed by the County Auditor by his facsimile signature, which officer, by the execution hereof, does adopt as and for his proper signature his facsimile signature appearing on said coupons, all as of the First Day of September, 1933.

For the year 1936 the sum of $4,200.00 for interest and principal;

The principal or interest maturing at any time when there are not sufficient funds on hand to pay the same be paid out of the general fund of the county, and such fund be reimbursed when the taxes herein provided for shall have been collected.

Section 6. A certified copy of this resolution shall be filed in the office of the County Auditor, and said County Auditor shall enter annually the levy herein provided for collection until funds are realized to pay the principal and interest of the bonds herein authorized in full. The moneys arising from such levies shall be known as the "BOND FUND, SERIES SEPTEMBER 1, 1933," and shall be used for the payment of said interest coupons and said bonds and for no other purpose whatsoever.

Section 7. That the bonds herein authorized are hereby made subject to registration as to principal in the name of the holder upon the books of the County Treasurer, such registration to be evidenced by notation of said Treasurer on the back of each of such bonds so registered. No bond so registered shall be subject to transfer except upon such boks and similarly noted on the back of the bond so registered unless the last registration shall have been to bearer. Such registration of any of said bonds shall not, however, affect the negotiability of the coupons attached to said bonds, but such coupons shall continue transferable by delivery.

Section 8. All resolutions or parts of resolutions in conflict herewith be and the same are hereby replaced.

Passed and approved, September 26, 1933.

Straw Ticks

A Tick filled with nice, clean oats straw or carefully selected, soft corn husks, makes a fairly good bed, and fully one-half of our Customers slept on beds this kind 25 years ago.

But, there came a time during the World War when cotton prices were very low and price of a good mattress dropped to about $6.50. At this time we shipped in a carload of mattresses at one time, and in everybody's back yard there was a "bon fire" when they burned the old straw from family straw ticks. Since that time there are no straw ticks left in this trade territory.

And, worse luck, the straw crop this year is short and dusty, and mixed with weeds, that it could hardly be used for bed tick filling.

Now, folks, listen! We still have a limited supply of all cotton mattresses at $5.95 each, which are far better, cleaner and more sanitary than anyone's old straw tick.

Other Cotton felt Mattresses at $11.00 each and spring filled mattresses at $13.50 and up.

Cotton prices are going up every week and you had better buy an all cotton mattress now at $5.95 as it will surely be $10.00by Xmas time.

Corn Cribbing

All kinds, Slat and Wire, in 50 and 75 foot lengths. We also have 50" Diamond Mesh cribbing in 10 rod rolls. Ifyou are short of crib room, you can crib it pretty cheap with this kind of cribbing. Put some kind of covering over it and don't build these outside cribs to wide, not over 7 ft. This advice comes from parties who have stored lots of corn out. We would suggest that for a covering you use Rhino Rope which we have in 7 foot widths. For a dollarr two you can keep the water out and if you keep your corn over until next summer it will be in good shape.

Inspect Your Chimneys

Before winter starts in. See if you have a leak around it, if so this should be attended to as moisture that gets in under the roof will rot the mortar quickly between the brick. If your roof is settled away from the chimney we have a thick plastic fibered material to put in such places, that will stay and stop the leaking.

What shape is it in? Are you safe to go thru the winter with it in its present shape? Are the shingles turned up and about done for? Would a spark set them going? Will it leak if we should get some long, heavy rains? Have you thought this over? Will you ever be able to do the job as cheaply as at this time??

How's Your Roof?

If you have a composition roofing maybe a coat of good Asbestos Fibered Asphalt Coating would give you several more years wear. It won't cost you much. We sell Pure Asphalt. WE use Pure Asphalt on Our Roofs. The best is none to good. We have it in the bulk and it sells for 50c per gallon. Give Your Roof a coating this fall. Don't put it off.

If you need any of the above work done, Let Us Know. Get your order in for cribs or cribbing. SLAT CRIBS $4.50 and up. WIRE CRIBS $4.25 and up.

Federal Farm Loans

The fact that there has been delay in closing these loans should not discourage those who intend to apply for a Federal loan at the favorable rate of interest obtainable.

The reason for the delay is the fact that the Federal Land Bank of Omaha has been asked to close as many loans in the past four months as they had closed during a period of sixteen years previous to that. Having received over forty thousand applications, abstracts, and loan papers it was not humanly possible to close so many loans in such a short time.

We invite your application. We are in a position to give you real service. We are closing loans now for those who applied to us.

AS A MATTER O FACT

Once a scientific curiosity, electricity is now a tional necessity.

It is always available—whenever and however y desire to use it.

It has become so commonplace that it is accepte by you "as a matter of fact."

Few people realize the constant attention to detail the vast army of workers and the tremendous investme and expense that is necessary to make this service avai able.

It is this availability that forms a major item the cost of electricity.

COURT TERM CONCLUDED AT GARNER; DEFENDANTS WIN IN TWO JURY TRIALS

A three week's term of court came to close Friday afternoon with Judge M. H Kepler of Northwood presiding. Only one indictment was made by the grand jury. Frank Smith of Crystal Lake on a statutory charge who pleaded guilty and was given a 25 year sentence at the penitentiary in Fort Madison.

The petit jury was out five minutes and returned a verdict of not guilty in the trial of Leonard Evans on a charge of desertion brought by his wife, Mrs. Tillie Evans. Evans has been working as a mechanic in a garage at Traer. The Evan's have four daughters.

The case of D. W. Bates, superintendent of banking of the state of Iowa, receiver of the State Savings bank of Woden, vs. H. J. Orthel of Woden, was given to the jury early in the week. The case was decided in favor of the defendant. Orthel was represented by Frank Senneff of Britt and Linnan of Algona. John Hamill of Britt represented the plaintiff.

KLEMME RIFLEMEN IN N. I. MATCHES

NORTH IOWA SMALL BORE TOURNAMENT HELD SUNDAY

Local Riflemen Competed In Several Matches

Asa Arnold, Wayne Pavey, Paul Grange, C. G. Waterman, Art Kudje and R A. Jorgenson, members of the Klemme Rifle Club entered several matches in th First Annual North Iowa Small Bore Tournament held at the rifle range at Mason City Sunday, in which over sixty shooters from Des Moines, Ames, Waterloo, Clarion, Fort Dodge and other cities took part

C. G. Waterman placed first in class B shooting over the 100 yard course. Wayne Pavey showed good shooting on the 50 yard course with hard competition placing well up on the list of high men. Paul Grange, shooting over the pistol course tied for sixth place in a close contest .The weather was very disagreeable and several matches were fired in a downpour of rain, which made good shooting very difficult for the inexperienced local riflemen.

Hanson took Smith to Fort Madison to begin serving sentence.

ABOUT ENGLISH CALL DUCKS

Sir:

I have your letter of October 2 requesting information in regard to a game breeder's license on English call ducks.

En. lish call ducks are exempt from a game breeder's license and it is lawful to use English cal ducks for decoys without a game breeder's license.

Yours very truly
Wm. Schuenke,
Supervisor of Game and Wardens

Infant Child Passes Away

This community was saddened Saturday to hear of the death of infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Stille, born at the Mercy hospital at Mason City, Saturday, Oct. 14. This is the second little son they have lost within the past two years. The funeral was held Sunday at the home of the grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Stille and the little body laid to rest beside his brothers in the Klemme Cemetery. The Rev. Ralston of the M. E. Church had charge of the services.

Violets, Even In October

Last week Saturday, Mrs. Paul Grange picked a bouquet of fragrant violets and brought them to The Times Office and gave them to Mrs. Jorgenson. When you look at the calendar and note the date as being October 14th, you will say that it is certainly late to pick flowers in Northern Iowa.

AUTO LICENSE DUE JAN. 2, NEW RULE

OLD AUTO LICENSES TO LAST MONTH LONGER NEXT YEAR

Old automobile licenses will wear a month longer than usual in Iowa.

Supt. Lew Wallace of the State Motor Vehicle department announced that 1934 automobile license plates wil go on sale Jan. 2 and that car owners who do not obtain them will not become delinquent until Feb. 1.

This is an extension of a month on the usual legal life of a license plate, licenses having gone on sale Dec. 1 in previous years and delinquency began Jan. 1. The change is due to a law passed by the last general assembly.

DO YOU KNOW?

That the transportation of rabbits for purpose of sale is prohibited

That all persons regardless of sex or age must have a license to hunt.

That no person shall shoot, kill or trap in any one day to exceed the number specifically provided and published by action of the Fish and Game Commission each year.

That you may not have more than two days legal bag in your posession and at not time over 30 of any one species even though a two days bag would be over 30.

That blinds must be built of natural materials only, such as rushes and willows.

That blinds may not be built on or in or surrounded by open water.

PHEASANT SEASON MAY BE OPENED ON SIX HALF-DAYS

Census Will Show Area Where Shooting Is To Take Place

Pheasant census reports received so far indicate the advisability of barrin.. the shooting of hens during the approaching open season on pheasants, members of the state fish and game commission said.

A scarcity of hens is apparent, it was announced, as compared with the previous years and with the normal satisfactory ratio. Shooting of cocks only this seson was favored at a meeting held by the commission in Fort Dodge.

The commission recently announced that it is considering a season of six half-days this year, the suggested dates being Nov. 11 and 12, 17 and 19 and 26 and 27. The open territory will be determined after the completion of the pheasant census.

Plan Saves Partridge

The plan of half-day periods for shooting, from noon to 5 p. m., was said by commission members to be finding additional favor both from the standpoint of pheasant hunting and for the protection of the Hungarian partridge.

William Schuenke, assistant state game warden, pointed out that the Hungarian partridge, although out in the fields in the morning, will not flush in the afternoon and consequently is less likely to fall victim to the guns of pheasant hunters under the afternoon shooting plan.

Many Reports In

Many of the 50 counties in which the pheasant census was started recently already have submitted their reports and others will do so within the next two weeks, Schuenke said.

A good seed stock of quail also is indicated in the northern counties this year by the reports.

Farmers and hunters are cooperating in the census. From the reports of the census groups the per acre pheasant count will be figured by the commission.

Farmer's Eye Injured Wednesday

A rather peculiar accident occurred at the Ben Ridder home Wednesday morning. While driving a spike in a board the head broke off striking Ben in the eye. He was taken at once to the local physician and from there to Mason City. It was thought at first that sight was destroyed as the eyeball was severely injured. He remained at the hospital until Thursday afternoon when another examination was made to determine the extent of the injury and it was found that he could see faintly. Ben reports that it is gradually getting better.

BELMOND MAN HURT WHEN STRUCK BY TRAIN

Truck Demolished; Hosick Suffers Cuts And Bruises

BELMOND: Otto Hosick was injured when the truck he was driving was hit by the M. and St. L. combined freight and passenger train on the crossing in southwest Belmond on highway 15 late Wednesday afternoon. Hosick was driving a truck loaded with beets to the local sugar beet factory's dump when he was struck.

The truck was completely demolished and sugar beets scattered for several hundred feet.

Mr. Hosick's right ear was badly cut and he received severe body bruises.

PAUL IN ASIA MINOR

LESSON TEXT—Acts 13:1-5, 13-15; 14:19-23.

GOLDEN TEXT—And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature. Mark 16:15.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Far Away Friends Hear About Jesus.

JUNIOR TOPIC—A Ship Sets Sail.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Why Send Missionaries Abroad?

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Missionary Obligation.

I. The Beginning of Foreign Missions (vv. 1-12).

This marks the beginning of foreign missions as the deliberately planned enterprise of the church.

1. The gifts of the church at Antioch (v. 1). Young as was Antioch, the new religious center, she had prophets and teachers. When Christ ascended on high, he gave gifts to men for the purpose of perfecting the saints unto the work of the ministry (Eph. 4:8-12). The church does not exist for itself, but for service to others.

2. First missionaries sent forth (vv. 2, 3). Barnabas and Saul were the first foreign missionaries. They went forth by the hands of the church at the command of the Spirit. The work of evangelizing the world was laid so heavily upon these men that they refrained from eating in order to seek the will of God in prayer. They were directed to send forth those whom the Spirit called, teaching us that the real call for service comes from the Spirit. The Spirit called and the very best men were sent from the church at Antioch. Before sending forth the missionaries, there was a second season of prayer before laying hands upon them, indicating that ordination has its proper place in sending forth missionaries.

3. Preaching the Word of God in Cyprus (vv. 4, 5). Because the gospel is "good news," it is natural for the missionary to go among his acquaintances. Christ commanded the one out of whom a demon had been cast to go to his own house and tell what great things the Lord had done for him (Luke 8:39).

4. Withstood by Elymas, the sorcerer (vv. 6-12). Elymas, under the influence of Satan, sought to turn the mind of Sergius Paulus from the Word of God, and to hinder the gospel as it entered upon its career of conversion of the heathen. Paul denounced him as full of guile and villainy.

II. Paul and Barnabas at Antioch in Pisidia (vv. 13-16).

From Cyprus Paul and Barnabas, with John Mark, went northward to Perga. Here, for some reason, Mark parted company with the missionaries, and returned home. We are not told as to why he went back, but it is a pleasure to know that he later redeemed himself. Before Paul's death, he spoke favorably of Mark, declaring that he had found him profitable unto the ministry (II Tim. 4:11). Reaching Antioch in Pisidia they entered a synagogue on the Sabbath day. Though Paul was now a missionary to the Gentiles, he did not depart from his custom—to go to the Jew first.

III. Paul and Barnabas Preaching the Gospel in Lystra (Acts 14:1-28).

1. At Iconium (vv. 1-7). Their experience here was much the same as at Antioch. They preached in the synagogue, causing a multitude of Jews and Gentiles to believe. The unbelieving Jews stirred up the Gentiles to the most bitter persecution.

2. The attempt to worship Paul and Barnabas as gods (vv. 8-18). To escape the united assault of the Jews and Gentiles, they fled to Lystra and Derbe, where they preached the gospel. The healing of the lame man occasioned new difficulty. This man was a confirmed cripple, having never walked. On hearing Paul preach, faith was born in his heart (Rom. 10:17). When Paul perceived that he trusted Christ, he called with a loud voice so that all could hear for the man to stand upright. The cure was instantaneous for he leaped and walked. This miracle was so notable that the very thing which should have been a help now became a hindrance. The people sought to worship the missionaries.

3. The stoning of Paul (vv. 19, 20). Wicked Jews from Antioch and Iconium pursued Paul with such relentless hate that they stirred up the people at this place, who had been willing to worship the missionaries, to stone them. This shows that satanic worship can soon be transformed into satanic hate. They not only stoned Paul, but dragged him out of the city for dead. God raised him up, and with undaunted courage Paul pressed on with his duties as a missionary bearing the good news to the lost.

That Is What I Would Do

WHEN Thomas Arden brought home the notorious Minnie Dupont as bride to the square stone house he had occupied as a bachelor, he must have done so with his eyes fully open to possible consequences.

The consequences were of course that nobody called. Within three months after the marriage, the area of silence and isolation around the Thomas Ardens was like a vast park affording them more privacy than they knew what to do with.

Minnie was not accepted. The circles in which Tom had moved as a popular bachelor might have vanished in thin air so far as his further participation in them was concerned. Not that they had actually vanished. The prosperous town in which Tom had prospered simply turned a cold shoulder upon the advent of Minnie into Tom's life, and resented what was regarded as outrage.

Minnie had what is known as an unsavory reputation.

Eligible Tom Arden's marriage to her came as the proverbial clap of thunder. The community gasped, gossiped, turned its back. The playful, good-humored, good-natured, absolutely dauntless qualities which had first attracted Tom to Minnie, now stood their test. Minnie saw to it that, one way or another, Tom's home was a source of constant delight to him. Her laughter rang in it, her deft handiwork transformed it, her skillful cookery made its table an epicurean's delight, and her bold effulgent beauty thrived in it.

If, in the long watches of the day, there descended upon Minnie, whose spirits loved to soar, long fits of irreconcilable depression, Tom was not to know it. The woman whose life had been filled with activities and gayeties from one day to the other accepted this strange new lot without reference to it, without whimper, without complaint.

Sometimes blatant things happened that brought color to her face and caused her avalanches of secret tears. The Ravenels, who lived next door, a family of social prestige and no wealth, had ever since the arrival of the bride consistently kept the blinds of all the windows which faced the Arden house drawn to their limits.

Before his marriage it had been Tom's habit to shout across the lawn to the Ravenels from his own side windows. Minnie knew that, because time and time again Tom used to describe to her his habit of waving good-night to the four-year-old Dotty Ravenel, who was his pet.

Not once, since their arrival from the honeymoon, had Minnie so much as clapped eyes upon Dot. The Ravenels, along with the rest of the community, turned a cold shoulder, but in the case of the next-door neighbors the shoulder was most obvious.

The skill with which Minnie dominated the difficult situation was extraordinary. There came a time when Tom began to make references with anger to their behavior. Not on his own account. As a matter of fact, Tom was happier than he had ever dreamed he could be. But his heart hurt angrily for Minnie. "Your little finger is worth more than the whole gang of them," was his frequent way of summing up the situation. "I'll take my business away from every man in this town whose wife snubs us."

"I wouldn't do that, dear. What does it matter? Now, this is what I would do: I'd go my way and not harbor resentment. Life is short and hard enough at best. Forgive."

What could you do about a woman like that! Couldn't sour her. Couldn't get her to admit a heart-hurt or a snub.

"Next time I see Lucy Ravenel on the street, I'm going to walk up to her and tell her where she gets off—"

"I wouldn't do that. This is what I would do. I'd ignore it and see if in time she doesn't sort of come around to realisation of how petty it all is. . . ."

Bless her. Didn't need a brick house to fall on Tom, as he put it to himself, to make him understand that inside she was hurting and aching and bluer than her beautiful eyes. Minnie, who had been born and reared in a notorious environment, was accustomed to attention.

Minnie cried, sometimes a great deal. Alone. But then there was always the redeeming miracle of Tom. The miracle of the man who had suddenly brought into her life quiet, new, and lasting significance.

One cheerfully endured loneliness for that, and secret heartache and wounded pride and lacerating humiliation.

Children were what she missed most. In her own city, there had always been youngsters about. Spoiled, undisciplined darlings, who flocked naturally around her. The precocious and beautiful children of the theater. The gay, innocent children of women who were gay and far from innocent.

Their absence in her life made the house seem stilly in a way that was terrifying. The voice of a youngster would have helped. When, as time went on, it seemed discouragingly obvious that Minnie was to have none of her own, there was talk of adopting a child. Tom was all for it, eager to introduce into the home of this woman he adored any possible streak of light and sweetness. Strangely, after much consideration, it was Minnie who decided against it. Tom understood. One did not draw a child into the shadow of a cloud.

It was ironic beyond the telling and something that was to take years for him to be able to bear up under that Minnie, returning from a solitary walk into town, should have been killed outright by an automobile, as she darted in front of it to snatch back little Dotty Ravenel who had leaped in front of it after a puppy.

Like a candle snuffed, the lonely, gallant personality of Minnie went out, as it were, in a flash, dashing Tom into darkness; dashing life into darkness.

What a funeral! For years it was one of the talked of occasions of the town. Six carriages laden with flowers followed Minnie's hearse. Crowds stood upon the lawn and along the sidewalks as the solitary bitter figure of Tom Arden followed the white hearse to its grave.

In a bitterness which he was later to regret, he gave orders that no one, save himself and two servants, should follow her to her last resting place. The crowd stood by respectfully, and a little cowed. The house next door, had every blind lowered, and every flower in its luxurious gardens plucked to make up a blanket for Minnie's grave.

It was a grim, tragic picture of a solitary man following a woman who in death seemed no more solitary than she had been in life.

In a way, the subsequent behavior of Lucy Ravenel was pathetic. It might actually be said that she scratched for admission into that silent stone house, like a dog biding his time. Apparently awed neither by the bitter black anger of Tom, nor his forbidding servants, she called daily, the little Dotty at her side, offerings of food and flowers in her hands.

For six months that door remained steadfastly closed to her. One day she encountered Tom on his steps. She was a narrow, nervous-lipped woman and the weeks following Minnie's death had played havoc with her.

"Tom," she said, "aren't you going to let us atone—aren't you going to give us the chance to make her memory a monument in this town? If you can deny me, Tom, Dotty asks you—Dotty asks you to let her help you."

Standing there looking down into the clear eyes of the child whom Minnie had snatched from premature death, it was as if what Minnie would have said came floating to his ears and his consciousness.

"Take little Dotty into your heart—that is what I would do, Tom—"

That is what Tom did.

Buffalo Herds in East in Eighteenth Century

The American bison or buffalo was at one time nearly as abundant east of the Mississippi as on the western plains.

Remains of bisons have been found in southern Michigan, more adapted to their grazing habits than the pine-covered areas of the north, and in Wisconsin. In the latter state a pair of these animals, killed by Sioux in 1832, are believed to have been the last of the species east of the great river.

In the early history of New York, bison made so many trails to the salt springs about Onondaga that settlers used them for roads. The city of Buffalo was named after them, likewise several towns and a mountain in Pennsylvania. The last Pennsylvania bison was killed in 1790 near Lewisburg.

Early in the Eighteenth century, according to writings of Jesuits and explorers, bison were plentiful along the Sandusky river and in the territory south of Lake Erie. In 1718 they were reported as abundant near Defiance, Ohio. In the latter part of the century, however, when permanent settlements were being made, they had dwindled to a handful.

A few of these animals were found in Indiana as late as 1810. The Indiana geological survey, as quoted by Edwin Lincoln Moseley in "Our Wild Animals," tells of a migration from the prairies of the West across the state to salt licks and blue grass meadows of Kentucky. Buffalo were seen near Vincennes in 1808.

Had the bison been more intelligent and better able to cope with the settlers, they might have survived the Middle West. They were very slow in comprehending danger, and often witnessed the slaughter of their companions with wonder and curiosity. While they were extinct this side of the Mississippi, herds 25 miles across were being hunted in the West.—Detroit News.

Extolled Virtues of Tea

In the British museum there is an old advertisement which recited the merits of tea and then delicately suggested that it could be bought at Garway's coffee house for from 15 to 50 shillings a pound. Mr. Garway told his prospective customers that there was nothing like tea for the health. "It maketh the body active and lusty, helpeth the headache, removeth obstructions from the spleen. It is good against stone and gravel. It taketh away difficulty of breathing." He goes on to say that tea is good against "lippitude distillations," which means that the cup that cheers but not inebriates will clear up bleary eyes. Moreover, says Mr. Garway, "it cleanseth and purifyeth a hot liver."

Lost Property

TOM REYNOLDS was asking Mildred for the umteenth time when she would be likely to make up her mind to marry him and Mildred was smiling very charmingly into Tom's anxious eyes when she suddenly leaned forward and stared at the umbrella in the hands of the man in the seat ahead of them.

She and Tom were sitting on top the Fifth avenue bus enjoying the lovely Riverside Drive trip.

"Tom," whispered Mildred, "that man has an umbrella that looks exactly like Brother Fred's—in fact," she added, craning her neck a bit, "I am absolutely certain it is Fred's umbrella—the one I had the misfortune to lose when I was in London two years ago. Tom," and Mildred became fearfully coaxing, "do you mind asking that young man where he got that umbrella?"

"Mildred! Have you gone nutty? There are, no doubt, a thousand umbrellas like Fred's."

Mildred shook her head. No—I know that is it for the ear of the ivory elephant on the handle was broken just like that, and Fred did so prize that umbrella. He only lent it to me that day in London because I had on my new Paris suit and he didn't want me to spoil it first thing. I left it on the train and didn't have time to go back and inquire as we sailed the next day for home. Please, Tom, ask him."

But Tom steadfastly refused.

"All right!" Before Tom could stop her she had leaned forward and in the most heavenly voice in the world was asking the perfectly strange man to excuse her being rude but would he mind telling her where he got that umbrella.

The stranger turned round, looked only once into Mildred's eyes, and Tom had a beastly feeling that the game was up.

"Why no," Jim Weldon answered with a ready smile, "as a matter of fact, I got it in London at a small lost property office on the Strand. I rather fancied this ivory elephant."

Mildred laughed. "Well, it's really quite funny," she said, "to see that umbrella again for I lost it on a train in London. My brother lent it to me and I simply felt dreadful when I lost it. We visited England two years ago and—that was when I lost it."

"And I've had it with me constantly for some eighteen months," he laughed.

"You know," confided Mildred, and Tom was beginning to feel quite out of the picture and a bit gloomy, "my brother would give a lot to get that back. His girl, who is now his wife, gave it to him for an engagement present and she has always sort of felt that it was very careless of me to lose it."

Tom felt that the conversation had gone quite far enough now and he didn't like the new and interested expression in Mildred's eyes nor the admiring glances the strange man was giving Mildred.

"Well, he put in a trifle roughly, "what are you going to do about it?"

"Give it back to its rightful owner," said the young man rather curtly.

Mildred, too, was a bit snappy. She felt annoyed that Tom could be so petty about nothing at all.

"In fact," continued the strange young man calmly, "if you will give me your brother's name and address I will take pleasure in taking the umbrella to him myself. I'm sure we could enjoy a chat about London, too."

Mildred choked back a desire to laugh. Tom's brow was like a thundercloud.

"No need to take all that trouble," he said with an effort to seem genial. "Miss Caldwell can give it to him."

"Tom! Don't be absurd," flashed Mildred with a laugh. "Don't you see that this gentleman could easily think us a couple of crooks. How does he know I have a brother—if he doesn't meet him? I think he is perfectly right in wanting to put it in the right hands." And in order to hide the expression of her eyes, Mildred bent over her vanity bag and extracted therefrom a card on which she wrote the address of her brother. She handed this to the young man.

"Thanks," he said, "and—is there any particular time, Miss Caldwell, when I would be most likely to find your brother?"

Mildred bit her lips hard. She simply dared not show her dimples and her appreciation of the subtle manner in which the young man was asking just when she was likely to be visiting her brother.

"Brother is always in on Wednesday evening," she said.

And Jim Welden got off the bus, nor did he look back for there were those Wednesday evenings to look forward to.

"Lost property isn't the word," growled Tom.

Cautious Courage

The king of a large African tribe "shows off" his courage every morning by dashing into his crowded court yard, where he mounts his horse and calls for his army to attack a nearby kingdom. Assistants then persuade him to wait until tomorrow. Feigning anger, he dismounts and goes to breakfast.—Collier's Weekly.

The following article entitled "Scuttling Ten Million Investors" appeared in the October 4, 1933 issue of Financial World.

"I state to you categorically that as a broad general rule the development of utilities should remain, with certain exceptions, a function for private initiative and private capital." Franklin D. Roosevelt at Portland, Oregon, on September 21, 1932.

Although investors in public utility securities received ample assurances, prior to last November, that the integrity of their investments would not be impaired by a change of administration, events of the past few months would seem to indicate otherwise; in the interest of a group which numbers ten million, the time appears to have come for a further appeal for confidence.

If a new course has been charted in respect to the Government's power policy, the investing public is entitled to know that too. . . .

OFFICIAL APPROVAL? Whether this program has the approval of those high in authority or is publicized to appease the liberal element in Congress is difficult to determine, but it has already assumed a virulent form and demands immediate recognition or repudiation.

Under the leadership of the Federal Government, the nation has been called upon for concerted action in fighting the economic depression. . . . One after another, industries have knocked at the Treasury's door and departed appeased.

The vast credit resources of the Federal Government have been made available to private industry for the protection of capital and labor alike. A distressed railroad industry has received three hundred eighty-one million dollars of R. F. C. funds to date; hundreds of millions of dollars have been allotted for new construction projects. . . .

Strong groups have been granted freer rein while the weaker industries have been sustained by government subsidy. In short, an attempt is being made to combat the depression by rejuvenating existing economic machinery.

How has the utility industry fared under this program of reconstruction? This business must be affected by such revolutionary changes, as it occupies a firmly entrenched position in our economic structure. Utility properties in this country, exclusive of the steam railroads, have a value of no less than twenty-eight billion dollars. Securities of these companies are owned by upwards of ten million citizens. Close to ten per cent of total assets of our life insurance companies represent public utility securities.

IN TRUST FUNDS. In addition, stocks and bonds of companies in this field are held in substantial amounts by hospitals, colleges and in endowment and trust funds. Approximately one million people are employed by this industry and its annual payroll exceeds one billion two hundred million dollars. It is a business which directly or indirectly affects the interest of us all. What has been done by Federal agencies to accelerate recovery in this field?

The current period bids fair to go down in history as a dark interval for the public utility industry. Contrary to popular belief, the industry has suffered severely at the hands of the depression and has enjoyed no respite from the exacting regulatory bodies. Financial resources, credit standing and present earning power of the utilities are at low ebb and their general status would appear to justify their presence before the dispensers of Federal favors.

But instead of basking in the light of Federal paternalism, this group appears to have been singled out as a recalcitrant in the economic family and has been made the target for legislative abuse which appears purely punitive in character.

Early in the year Congress passed a bankruptcy act which extended aid to the railroads, farmers and individuals but deftly passed the utilities by. In framing the act which created the R. F C., no provision was made for financial aid to the utilities. . . . Instead the three per cent tax on the sale of electricly was shifted from consumer to producer on September 1—while municipally owned and operated plants were specifically exempt!

What has this discriminating policy, if it is a policy, meant to the utility industry? Public utility securities listed on the New York Stock Exchange had an aggregate value at the beginning of this year of approximately six billion two hundred million dollars. Today their aggregate value is slightly less than five billion dollars, a decline of nearly twenty per cent. During this period the total value of all other securities has increased, some eighty per cent. Behind this lies an appalling record of utility defaults, receiverships, dividend reductions and omissions and the trend in this direction appears to have gained momentum in recent weeks. With utility credit at a low ebb, we can well view the coming year with apprehension with more than a quarter of a billion dollars in public utility bonds falling due in that period.

Thus there is spread before us the great American paradox of a Government spending billions of dollars for the rehabilitation of the economic structure while attacking with tong and hammer a supporting pillar of that edifice. The deliberate character of both policies makes the paradox no easier to understand. Whether the motivating forces behind this program be punitive or sincere conviction that private control must go, the results are the same. The policy is a direct threat to private capital invested in the utility business. Demand for utility services is on the mend. The time may not be far distant when additional facilities will be required to care for the increased load.

In 1930, the electric power and light industry alone spent nine hundred sixty million dollars for additions and extensions. If the industry's credit is to be destroyed, how will additions and extensions of the future be financed? If the government's ultimate goal is public ownership of this business, and present policies are continued until this objective is reached, what safeguards are to be erected in the interests of consumers during the interim? Though it is doubtful that the great mass of citizens desire that their government should venture into commercial enterprise on so vast a scale, no alternative will remain if the present course is followed to the end.

President Roosevelt has stated in unequivocal terms that development of this business should remain in the hands of private interests. Regardless of recent developments we do not believe he has veered from his original course, but the situation needs to be cleared up and public interest can best be served at present by a frank reassertion of fundamental policies.

Note: An article will appear in an early issue of The Financial World dealing with another very important phase of the public utility situation. A copy will be sent free on request as soon as published. Address The Financial World, 53 Park Place, New York.

MUSKRAT SEASON ANNOUNCED

The Fish and Game Commission at their meeting October 3rd adopted the following regulation governing the taking of musgrats for the coming season:

"Subject to the approval of the Executive Council, the trapping of muskrats for the coming season will be permitted in all counties of the state except those lying North of the North line of Harrison, Shelby, Carroll, Greene, Boone, Story, Marshall, Tama, Benton, Linn, Cedar and Clinton. In the closed area all water sets for the trapping of all wild animals will be prohibited. Trapping is allowed in the Mississippi river only to the high water mark."

The regulation is the result of a long study of the conditions in the State. The drouth of the past few seasons has reduced the number of marsh areas in the State to such an extent that the population of these fur-bearers is at dangerous stage in numerous counties. Some counties where there are numerous creeks and steams the poplation of muskrats warrant an open season, but the Commission in their action feel that the future of the fur industry should be protected

ORANGE CITY: Ther's a bit of Holland tucked away in this northwest Iowa county seat town,—where many citizens wear wooden shoes in their fields and gardens, a newspaper is published in the Hollander tongue and a Netherlander operates one of the countries few wooden shoe factories.

Just on the edge of farm disorders in Plymouth and O'Brien counties last spring, Orange county had its own rebellion back in 1870 over the location of the courthouse.

The county seat in that year was at Calliope. In 1872 the board of supervisors refused to seat two newly elected members.

Irate citizens stormed into Calliope, loaded the books and records of the courthouse offices, cut away the wall so the the treasurer's safe could be lowered on to a sled and hiked back to Orange City at midnight in a blizzard. Although a few days later the records were returned by the sheriff, the court house was moved to Orange City by vote of the county the following year.

Jacob Van Hoff, the Netherlander shoe manufacturer, cuts all of his product by hand and retails them for little more than a dollar. The shoes, ranging in size from "gunboat 24's to souvenir nut cups" are shipped all over the United States.

The corn will yield around 70 hels to the acre and is of the ver King variety. Entries from ncock county include John Frank Britt, Ben M. Hall and Harvey l of Garner and Victor A. Bing- n of Bingham township.

This is the first contest to be d in Hancock county. One thous- or more persons are expected attend if weather conditions per- . Judges have not been announ- . The contest will begin at 10:30 lock.

PPLEMENT CORN FED HOGS

Hogging down corn is economical. st farmers agree on that—but ey frequently forget that their blems of supplementing corn are ctically the same when the corn hogged down as they are when is fed in drylot or when the ne are on pasture

Prof. A. L Anderson, of the Ani l Husbandry Departme of Iowa te College reminds farmers that nding corn must be supplemented best feeding results

Here are four methods which he gests for supplementing this corn ion.

First—a high protein feed like beans may have been grown with corn.

Second—green feed such as rape y have been seeded with the corn an adjoining field of succulent urage such as alfalfa may be d to supply the deficiency.

Third—a high protein concentrate h as tankage may be fed.

Fourth—alfalfa hay may be fed he hogs. This is not as success- as the use of tankage for a sup- ment, but it is an improvement corn alone.

The farmer should not forget e mineral requirements of his either, just because they are ging down corn. When soybeans other high protein feeds are wn in the corn, tbe necessity for ineral mixture is increased. kage usually produces the best s with pigs that are hogging n corn.

gs from 80 to 150 pounds make best showing on standing corn. ll pigs are not suited for this of feeding, unless larger pigs included to knock down the . Growing gilts for the breed- erd should not be put in the ging down lot for any length of e as they may become overly fat. here is nothing to be gained by ing the pigs in the field long the corn is fairly well depleted better to send them to market most of the corn is eaten, turn he breeding gilts or the sow to clean up what is left.

PLAN CORN-HOG CAMPAIGN

County Agents, Township Leaders To Bring Information to Farmers

With the official announcement of the corn-hog program, Iowa farmers, who are among the nation's leading producers of corn and hogs are preparing to take a major part in the federal administrations efforts to restore the lost purchasing power of farm products.

Temporary county and township leaders are being selected to help in bringing information concerning the program to every farmer in the state. County agents will work with these leaders.

R. K. Bliss, director of the Extension Service at Iowa State College, last week received word that extension workers would be expected to do the educational and organization work ecessary in starting the program. As in the wheat campaign, the administration expects to hold down expenses by using established agencies of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Extension workers will explain the plan to county agents, who in turn will call meetings of corn and hog producers in every township.

After the plan has been explained farmers who sign applications will meet to organize their county corn-hog production control association and elect officers. This group will be in charge of approving applications and contracts, publishing allotments and production figures in the local newspapers as required by the farm adjustment act and other executive details. Membership in the county association will consist entirely of corn and hog producers. Like the wheat program the new venture will be "farmer controlled".

Director Bliss explained that the corn hog program proposes to increase the corn-hog income, and return to the farmer a purchasing power equal to that of 1910-14 or "parity price". Parity price will be secured by planning production to meet domestic demands and by government purchase of surplus stocks if such is deemed necessary.

The first step in planning production, as provided for in the new plan is the reduction—by farmers who sign contracts—of pigs produced or marketed by 25 percent and reduction of corn acreage 20 percent for 1934.

Farmers who agree to reduce production will receive a benefit payment which will reimburse them for the reduced production and help increase purchasing power immediately. Eventually the planning of production to meet only domestic demand will bring prices upward.

The benefit payment on hogs will be, $5 a head on 75 percent of the average number of hogs produced during the past two years. Corn land will be rented and taken from production for a payment equivalent to 30 cents a bushel on the average production during the past 3 years. The money for these payments will be secured from a processing tax on corn and hogs and from certain funds available to the administration.

AMERICAN LEGION BENEFIT

On Saturday, Nov. 11th (Armistice Day the American Legion will sponsor a benefit at the Avery Theatre for the Garner Drum Corps. VERNON TURGASEN SPENT WEEK END IN KLEMME

Vernon Turgasen, of Louisville, Kentucky, gave his mother and brother, Mrs. Sadie Turgasen and son, Donald, and his grandmother, Mrs. G. W. Kluckhohn, a pleas nt surprise Saturday when he came unexpectedly for a week end visit with home folks. Vernon, who is employed as head chemist of the bacteriological department of the Armour Creameries at Louisville, has traveled over most of the United States in the past two years and is seldom able to get home for a visit. Vernon left Sunday afternoon for Des Moines from where he left for Springfield, Missouri.

DISTRICT COURT OF HONOR AT GARNER, NOVEMBER 15TH

The District Court of Honor for Boy Scout troops of Garner, Crystal Lake, Corwith, Klemme and Kanawha is scheduled to be held at Garner on November 15th.

This Court is being held at this time as part of the 1933 "Forward Steps" Cmpaign being conducted among the Troops of the North Iowa Area Council. The detailed program for the Court has not been completed, but the dates are announced so that Troops may be getting ready for what advancement they have.

All phases f advancement will be given at this Court with the exception of the Eagle Badge.

In preparation for this Court of Honor, Troops are asked to have their Board of Review reports in the Local Council Scout Office at least three days before the date of the Court. This will give the office a chance to clear the records and get everything in readiness.

Scoutmasters and other Troop Leaders will receive full instructions from the Council Office.

FARMERS MUST SUBMIT CORN ACREAGE FOR PAST 3 YEARS

With the announcement of the program to be adopted in an effort to reduce corn acreage in 1934 and 1935, the plan as announced will require each participating farmer to submit the acreage and production of corn during the past three years.

During the period of signing the wheat applications many farmers called at the office of Chas. D. Reed Director of Iowa Weather and Crop Bureau, personally and by letter, to supply them with the assessor's reports on their farms. Inasmuch as there are not so very many wheat raisers in Iowa, they were able to render this service, but in the corn program they are not going to be able to supply this information on individual farms. To do so would require the office to hire a large staff of clerks, and the 45th General Assembly did not provide any money for such purpose.

Farmers are urged not to apply to the Director of the Iowa Weather and Crop Bureau for this information as any such letters or personal calls will simply have to be refused.

These reports will probably be sent to the Farm Bureau office soon

This week Thursday a truck will arrive from Plymouth, Wisconsin and will gather up the canned stuff in this community and at Ell Town and Garner and several other places along the way. The Reform churches have the privilege of canning surplus vegetables, etc., for their church school. No doubt. such an act of kindness will be very much appreciated.

PECULIAR ACCIDENT INJURES FARMER'S EYE SERIOUSLY

Edwin Josten Taken to Hospital at Mason City Thursday

Edwin Josten suffered a serious accident Thursday afternoon when he was making some repairs on an elevator on his farm south of Klemme. Mr. Josten was endeavoring to uncouple the links on the chain and was using a couple pairs of pliers with which to force the links apart. In some manner the chain snapped suddenly and a piece of the steel chain struck him in the eye cutting the eyeball. He was taken to the hospital at Mason City where he was placed under the care of a specialist.

Lesson for October 29

WORLD'S TEMPERANCE SUNDAY

LESSON TEXT—Romans 13:11-14; 14:7-9, 15-21.

GOLDEN TEXT—Love worketh no ill to his neighbor: therefore love is the fulfilling of the law. Romans 13:10.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Why Laws Are Made.

JUNIOR TOPIC—How to Be a Good Citizen.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Why Obey the Law?

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Christian Use of Personal Liberty.

I. Supreme Motive Governing the Life of a Christian.

The attitude of a Christian is that of eager expectancy. The time of salvation is drawing near. The salvation here mentioned is not that which we obtain in justification and sanctification, but is that which we get when our redemption is completed in glorification at the second coming of Christ. The reasons for this attitude of expectancy are that the night of Christ's absence is far spent and the day of his glorious appearing is at hand. The proper conduct in view of this is—

1. To put off the works of darkness (v. 12). These are reveling, drunkenness, chambering, wantonness, strife, and jealousy.

2. Put on the armor of light (v. 12). The figure here is of the Roman soldier who arose from sleep and cast aside his slumber robes and put on his gleaming armor.

3. Walk honestly as in the day (v. 13). The Christian, therefore, will so order his life that his conduct will conform to his high calling.

4. Put on the Lord Jesus Christ (v. 14). This means to enthrone Jesus Christ as the Lord of the life, to bring the life under his control. No provision is to be made for the flesh; no forethought is to be given to that which the carnal nature desires.

II. No Man Liveth unto Himself (Rom. 14:7-9).

The supreme purpose of Christ's death and resurrection was that he might be the Christian's Lord in life and in death. By virtue of Christ becoming one with the race, there can be no indifference of attitude toward him.

1. All must stand before the judgment seat of Christ. It is not to be a class judgment, but individual.

2. Account must be rendered unto God. Nothing can be concealed from him. Nothing can escape his judgment, for he is omniscient.

III. A Stumbling Block Should Not Be Placed in the Way of Another (Rom. 14:15-21).

A properly enlightened Christian may have perfect liberty concerning a matter so far as he himself is concerned, but this very liberty may become an occasion of stumbling to others. Two urgent reasons are set forth for the abridgment of our liberties in such cases—

1. We may destroy the weak brother for whom Christ died (v. 15). If it was worth while for Christ to die for a man, surely it is worth while that we should deny ourselves some privileges for his sake. Nor should this be deemed a hardship. Self-denial and cross-bearing attest the sincerity of the believer (Luke 9:23), who thus follows his Master.

2. We should not allow our good to be evil spoken of (v. 16). Liberty in Christ is a precious thing, which only love knows how to use. The proof that one is in the Kingdom of God and therefore ruled by the Holy Spirit is not by eating and drinking, but by living daily the love-life which is characterized as follows—

a. Righteousness (v. 17). This means honesty and integrity in all things.

b. Peace (v. 17). This means living at peace with each other. Peace among Christians is a powerful testimony for Christ that his Holy Spirit is in them.

c. Joy in the Holy Ghost (v. 17). Saved men will manifest this joy, for "He that in these things serveth Christ is acceptable to God and approved of men" (v. 18).

3. We should follow after things that make for peace, and edify one another (v. 19). He that causeth a weak brother to stumble, through exercise of his liberty, thns destroys the work of God.

4. We should abstain from meats and wines which offend the weak brother (vv. 21, 22). This is made possible by the exercise of faith in God.

IV. The Christian Should Please His Neighbor and Not Himself (Rom. 15:1-13).

This is not merely a privilege, but a solemn obligation, because,

Of Christ's example (vv. 1-3).

2. Of Scripture testimony (vv. 4-13).

GIVE NEEDS FOR STORING OF VEGETABLES

Proper Moisture, Fresh Air, Temperature, Sound Product Essential

Proper storage of vegetables will enable Iowans this winter to approximate both in taste and appearance the vegetables as they came from the garden.

Proper moisture, temperature and Fresh Air combined with good, sound vegetables to begin with, are essential in storage, according to E. S. Haber, professor of vegetable crops, and C. V. Holsinger, extension horticulturist, at Iowa State College.

Storage of most vegetables should be in a vegetable cave or cellar where a temperature of slightly above freezing may be maintained through the winter. A basement room which contains a furnace is a poor place to store anything except perhaps sweet potatoes, pumpkins and squash. These three vegetables should be kept at 80 to 85 degrees F. for a few weeks and then, after this "curing period" kept at about 55 degrees.

Irish potatoes are best stored in a moist, cool cellar or cave. They keep best at from 40 to 45 degrees, and they should not be washed before storing.

Dry beans and onions need cold dry storage and can be placed in the attic or a spare room. The garage may be used until the weather becomes extremely cold.

Root crops such as beets, carrots parsnips, salsify, turnips and celery need a cool storage place, and they will stand a light freezing if the freezing and thawing is slow. Moisture is needed to prevent shriveling. A special storage room partitioned off in the basement where the temperature will remain low may be constructed by using fiber board for walls. Celery and cabbage keep best in moist, cool air, and therefore, may be stored in crates on the floor. Keeping the floor covered with moist dirt or sand will provide the necessary amount of humidity.

The root and leaf crops such as cabbage, carrots and turnips need a tempertore of from 32 to 38 degrees F. They may be kept in an outdoor pit, but this practice is not generally recommended because the contents of the pit are likely to freeze, rot or mold.

Only vegetables in firm condition with no cuts, bruises or rotten spots should be considered for storage. Provision should be made for ventilation and proper temperature. A thermometer in the storage room has often proved to be a good investment.

HARRY BUSS FAMILY MOVING TO COLUMBUS CITY

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Buss and children are this week moving to Columbus City in southeastern Iowa in Louisa county. Mr. Buss will preach at the U. B. Church at Columbus City, and will do evangelistic singing along with his regular work. At the present time an elderly minister has the U. B. charges at Columbus City and Columbus Junction, the two places being only a few miles apart. Mr. Buss is taking over apart of this work.

K lemme is sorry to lose this splendid family, but best wishes of all go with them to their new home and their new work.

R. N. A. CARD PARTY THIS WEEK THURSDAY EVENING

The first public card party of the season will be sponsored by the R. N. A. and will be held in the basement of the First National Bank on Thursday evening, Nov. 9. The public is invited and the charge is 35c per couple. Lunch will be served by the committee: Mrs. C. G. Waterman, Mrs. Martin Barz and Mrs. Levi Ridder.

FIRST SNOW OF THE SEASON

The first snow of the season fell here early Sunday morning and contiued to fall thruout the day, but melted as rapidly as it fell.

The "Indian Summer" which we have been enjoying the past week came to a sudden end with a cold snap followed by snow.

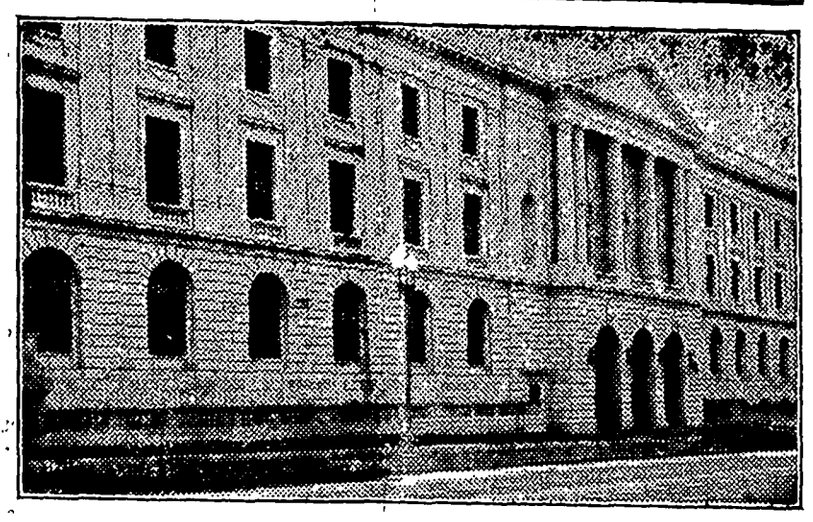
NASON-IRVING MARRIAGE

Miss Norma Irving, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clint Irving, who live north and east of Klemme, was married to Mr. Clarence Nason of Rockford, Illinois, October 12th, at Freeport, Illinois.

The bride is a graduate of the Garner high school and for some time has een embployed at Rockford. Mr. Nason is a photographer and has a good position in a studio at Rockford, which city they will make their home.

If any womon had all the clothes she wanted, the other women would have to go around in barrels.

New Offices for Senators



WASHINGTON'S sweltering weather will have no horrors for members of the Senate who are lucky enough to obtain offices in this new wing of the Senate office building which has just been completed. Built of white Vermont marble, it provides thirty office suites, all of them air-conditioned.

Not only will Senators in the new wing be kept comfortably cool in summer, but they will have three-room suites instead of two rooms. This will permit the older offices to be re-arranged in suites of three rooms so that all Senators will have larger accommodations for their office staffs.

When the three-story building, which occupies a city block, was erected it was in the form of a square with one side missing. The new addition, started as part of the Hoover Administration's construction program, makes the fourth side.

Interesting Items From Grade And High School

High School Notes

The seniors are proudly displaying thir new class rings. They have just cause to be proud of them as they are very beautifully designed. They are the yellow gold style with the crest in dull gold on an onyx base.

The sophomore boys entertained the girls in their class at a Hallowe'en party Tuesday evening at the county sandpit southwest of town. After playing games, they built a bonfire and roased wieners.

The juniors and seniors also took advatage of the "spring" weather and had a party and wiener roast at Stille's sandpit.

This week, November 6-12, is being observed all over the country as American Education Week. Our state superintendent of public instruction, Miss Samuelson, is urging that every school in the state have some fitting observation in keeping with the general idea of education and especially stressing it from the standpoint of school and home cooperation. Governor Herring has issued a proclamation designating the week as Amercan Education week in Iowa and urging citizens to visit school and acquaint themselves with educatonal institutions and their ideals. Our observance will be in the nature of a program of talks conducted by the public speaking class.

Grades 1 and 2

The first grade finished their 1st pre-primer and began a new one on Monday. They are making little books to correlate with this week.

Both grades have been making pictures to illustrate Mother Goose rhymes.

First grade had a vocabulary test Thursday. The results were quite satisfactory.

The second grade have new work books for number work this week.

All the children were weighed last week and their weights recorded on the chart.

Corrine Merkel, Julia Bell and Eunice Larsen had blue stars for spelling Friday.

Grades 3 and 4

We made new spelling booklets for November. It is in the shape of a turkey.

Billy Grosshuesch returned to school after several days vacation which he spent in Wisconsin.

Harlan Buss treated the room to candy Monday. It was his birthday.

There are several birthdays in our room during this month. We are planning a big party as soon as Miss Wilson returns.

Grades 5 and 6

Gertrude Grosshuesch was absent part of last week. She went on a trip with her parents.

Wanda Jean Kuck was absent from the fifth grade Monday afternoon.

The sixth grade have been studying newspapers. The Mason City Globe Gazette and the Des Moines register sent each child a copy for the purpose of study. Now we are making some newspaper notebooks of our own. Each child seem to have created a greater desire to read papers as a result of our study.

KLEMME PASTEURIZED BUTTER IS CORRECT NAME

In the advertisment last week of the Klemme Co-Operative Creamery the name "Clover Brand" was unintentionally used by the printer in setting up the ad. The above brand name has not been used by the Klemme Creamery for some time. "Klemme Pasteurized Butter is the correct name for the local product.

And the name "Klemme Pasteurized Butter" is every bit just what it says. This name gives the local creamery a distinctive brand. The word 'Klemme" announces to the world where the butter is made. Ths word 'Pasteurized" tells the world that Klemme butter is made only under the most approved and scientific processes of manufacture. And the combination of the two words cannot be improved on and is much better than some vague name which does not mean anything.

The Times is glad to correct the error, but it is no error when we tell you that Klemme Pasteurized Butter made by Paul Mueller and his crew down at the local plant, is as fine a prodcct as can be produced. Eat more Klemme Pasteurized Butter!

METHODIST LADIES AID PLAN BAZAAR AND SUPPER

The Methodist Ladies Aid will have the annual Bazaar and supper in the church basement next week Thursday, November 16. There will be aprons, some fancy work, grab bag, or fish pond, candy booth and a good chicken supper for only twenty five cents for adults and 15c for children. Supper will start at five o'clock until all are served.

The menu will be chicken pie, mashed potatoes, gravy, vegetable salad, bread and butter, jelly and pickles, pie and coffee. Come! Everyone in the community is extended a cordial welcome.

Parents-Teachers Meet Next Tuesday Evening

AUXILIARY PLANS HOUSE TO HOUSE CANVASS TUESDAY

Tuesday, November 14th the Klemme Auxiliary will sponsor a house to house canvass for discarded clothing or any canned stuff or food that any one wished to donate

This will all be used for the welfare work and a report of its disposal will be published in this paper at a later date. More calls for help are coming to the Auxiliary this year than ever before and any donations received will be much appreciated. Any jars will be returned.

Any one wishing to leave articles can do so at Wolfe's barber shop. Leave your name with the package and you will receive due credit.

WITT-MOOROW

Miss Mable Witt and Mr. Donald Morrow, both of Anoka, Minn., were married Sunday afternoon at the Bucholtz home north and east of Klemme. Rev. Grosshuesch performed the ceremony. Mrs. Witt, mother of the bride, was present. The young couple will make their home at the Bucholtz home for the present, where Mr. Morrow is working.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE HELD FOR MRS. JORGENSON

Sunday afternoon Mrs. R. A. Jorgenson was induced to go with her family to Ventura Heights where a surprise birthday supper in her honor was served at Woodhaven cottage. Those present were the C. G. Waterman family; W. C. Keraus and family; and Lyle Liebendorfer and family of Mason City. All had a good time and Mrs. Jorgenson admitted that the surprise was complete.

Teachers Entertained At Garner

Last week Monday evening the Misses Barz and Ford entertained at a six o'clock dinner at the Garner Cafe. Those present were the faculty of the Klemme schools, Mrs. Hunter, Mrs. Kingery, Miss Vola Goll and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Breitske the latter from Ventura. After the dinner all enjoyed playing Court Whist.

Former Klemme School Man Ill Three Weeks

WORLD'S FAIR TO GO ON NEXT YEAR

CHICAGO:— Officials of the World's Fair decided Friday to hold the exposition over for 1934.

The action was taken by members of the World's Fair association composed of original charter members of the oganization that made the exposition and the corporation to permit continuance next year. Officials said they expected little difficulty in obtaining a permit from the state legislature.

About $35,000,000 has been taken in at the gate and by concessions since the exposition opened five months ago. The closing date has been extended from Nov. 1 to the end of next week.

KENYON VERVECKMOSE WILL GIVE TALK ON CHEESE

Clear Lake Man Wholesales Over Fifty Varieties of Cheese

An interesting part of the next P. T. A. Meeting which will be held at the school house on Tuesday evening, November 14th will be a talk and demonstration by Mr. Kenyon Verveckmose, of Clear Lake. Mr. Verveckmose, who is the proprietor of Kenyon's Dairy Products retails and wholesales over fifty varieties of cheese. He specializes in the distribution of cheese from Grmany, France, Italy, Holland, Switzerland, Norway, Denmark Sweden, England as well as all kind of American Cheese. Mr. Verveckmose will have with him a large number of differen kinds of cheese, but it would be almost impossible for him to show all of the cheese he handles. His talk should be of interest to everyone. The program committee of the P T. A. feel that they are fortunate to get Mr. Verveckmose for this meeting.

Other Entertainment Planned

Miss Ford's school orcestra will appear on the program. The orchestra is always a welcome and entertaining attraction. Another musical feature will be the appearance of the Boys Glee Club on this program. The regular business meeting, lunch and games will all be enjoyed.

Old Pictures Wanted

As a special attraction the program committee is asking all who have old photographs or snap shots to bring them to this meeting and put them on display. Old pictures which might show some of our present fathers and mothers when they were kids would be interesting. Anything in the line of old pictures is wanted. A note attached to the picture explaining it will add to the fun. Bring your old pictures.

FARMER'S UNION PARTY WAS ATTENDED BY 350

About 350 people attended the meeting of the Avery Center local of the Farmer's Union in the opera house Friday evening. This was held in connection with the celebration of "Uncle Darnblazer's birthday". The meeting was called to order by Wm. Prellpp, chairman of the local. The welcome address was given by Mayor A. C. Carpenter and was very inspiring. Glen Miller of Des Moines was the main speaker Music was furnished by the Duncan band. Raymond Pals of Meservey sang several cowboy songs accompanied by a guitar. Martin Jensen of Klemme played several selctions on his accordion. A larg birthday cake beautifully decorated with 92 candles was presented to "Uncle Darn" and a free will offering was taken up and presented to him as a birthday gift. At the close of the meeting coffee and cookies, which were furnished by the Farmer's Union store in Des Moines, and sandwiches and cake were served.

LEGION AND AUXILIARY HELD SUPPER AND SOCIAL

About forty Auxiliary and Legion members met in the R. N. A. rooms for supper and social evening on Tuesday night. A most pleasant time was spent in games and cards.

The auxiliary held a short business session. They voted to send a sack of flour to a needy family. One member offered apples which will be taken out at the same time.

Two new members have been added. We now need only one more to complete the quota of 31 required

FARM ADJUSTMENT NEWS

A digest of current developents in the agricultural recovery program.

Pending the arrival of application blanks and corn-hog contracts from Washigton, many meetings will be held in Iowa during the next few weeks at which county agents, members of the extension staff and coununteer workers will explain the corn hog adjustment program.

The "planned production" which the corn-hog and other adjustment programs are meant to secure will not reduce the supply below what is needed for domestic consumption. fact, it plans to meet domestic needs with an adequate safety margin to prevent anyone from going hungry. By not having a surplus to market the farmer will secure a reasonable price for his products, he will be able to buy industrial products, unemployment will decrease and the general welfare of all classes will be improved.

* * *

Farmers should apply for loans directly to secretary-treasurers of national farm loan associations, authorized correspondents f Federal land banks or to the bank itself. A number of unofficial and unauthorized persons have sought to collect fees from farmers for so-called "service" in helping them obtain loans. Such service is not necessary.

BEGIN CULLING SOWS NOW

Price May Be Better Than After Corn-Hog Program Begins

Farmers who expect to join in the corn-hog adjustment program may begin work now by selecting the gilts and sows to be bred for spring farrowing, Rex Beresford, extension animol husbandmen at Iowa State College, suggested.

Although the details of the contracts are not yet known it has been definitely stated that they will call for a reduction of 25 per cent in the number of litters farrowed and in number of pigs marketed. Farmers who select their brood sows now and market the rest will save themselves the trouble of selling bred sows later.

With the corn-hog program being put into effect this winter, farmers will be in a position to profit more materially than ever by using efficient production methods. Gilts of good type from strong, large and vigorous litters should be selected. Tried sows which have proved themselves capable of producing large litters of strong, rapidly growing pigs will, of course, be the most profitable.

SHORT FEED CROP MAY CURB HOG MARKETINGS

Hog Production In Past Has Been Closely Related To Corn Production

A shortage in hog marketings during the next marketing year, Oct. 1 to Sept. 30 may very well be expected in addition to the reduction to be brought about by federal control measures, economists at Iowa State College point out.

Total production of feed grains in 1933 is even smaller than during the drouth year of 1930, according to government reports. The corn crop, although comparatively large in Iowa, is much smaller than normal for the corn belt as a whole.

A glance back at past years shows that corn and hog production are closely tied together. Heavy corn production has been reflected by heavy hog marketings and light corn crops have been followed by light hog marketings.

The short corn crop this year would probably have resulted in the marketing of 1933 spring pigs this fall and a depressing of the hog market if about 6,000,000 of these pigs had not been bought by the government at a premium and removed from the ordinary trade channels.

The economists point out that the short corn crop would have resulted in early marketing of these pigs, even if there had been no government buying program, and that the farmer benefited from the premium price paid for them. It is significant that most of the small pigs came from areas which had the shortest corn crop.

Over 7,000 pople were burned to death and property valued at $40,000,000 destroyed by fire last year.

Lesson for November 12

PAUL IN MACEDONIA

LESSON TEXT—Acts 16:9-15, 25-31.
GOLDEN TEXT—And they said, Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved, and thy house. Acts 16:31.
PRIMARY TOPIC—A Happy Preacher.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Ambassadors for the King.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Finding and Following God's Way.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Gospel and World Peace.

I. Forbidden to Preach in Asia (vv. 6-8).

The inclination of the missionaries was to tarry in Asia Minor, preaching the Word, but they were hurried along, contrary to this inclination—a fine example of divine guidance. The Holy Spirit is just as active and faithful in closing doors as in opening them. "The stops as well as the steps of a good man are ordered of the Lord."

II. The Call to Macedonia (vv. 9-12).

The time had now come for the gospel to begin its conquest of another continent. The crossing of the gospel from Asia to Europe determined the entire history of the church. Instead of being an oriental movement, it became mainly occidental.

2. The vision (v. 9). Paul being hemmed in on all sides, experienced a vision of a man of Macedonia pleading for help. This made clear the meaning of the closed doors about him.

2. The advance (vv. 10-12). As soon as the divine way was known they moved forward.

III. The First European Convert (vv. 13-15).

The Jewish element in Philippi was so small that they were unable to afford a synagogue. Therefore, the devout people were accustomed to worship by the river side. To this humble gathering Paul came and preached. Lydia, a business woman of Thyatira, believed his message and was baptized. The steps in her conversion were strikingly typical—

1. Attendance at the place of worship (v. 13). Usually those whom God is calling are found in the place of prayer.

2. Listening to the preaching of the Word of God (vv. 13, 14). The instrument used in the conversion of sinners is God's Word. "Faith cometh by hearing and hearing by the word of God" (Rom. 10:17).

3. Her heart was opened by the Lord (v. 14). When the gospel is preached the Spirit of God opens the sinner's heart for the reception of Christ.

4. She was baptized (v. 15). Confession of Christ in baptism is the natural desire of those whose hearts the Lord has opened.

5. Hospitality practiced (v.15). Those who experience God's saving grace are disposed to have part in his work by aiding his ministers.

IV. Paul and Silas in a Roman Prison (vv. 16-40).

1. The occasion (vv. 16-24). As the missionaries went to the place of prayer they were accosted by a young woman who possessed a spirit of divination. In the name of Jesus Christ, Paul commanded the evil spirit to come out of her. With the casting out of this evil spirit went the supernatural power which was a source of revenue to the syndicate of men who owned her. This so enraged her owners that they brought Paul and Silas before the magistrates on a false charge. Without opportunity to defend themselves Paul and Silas were stripped, beaten by the angry mob, remanded to jail, and were made fast by stocks in the inner prison.

2. Their behavior in jail (v. 25). They prayed and sang hymns to God. In spite of circumstances their hearts went up to God in joyful gratitude.

3. Their deliverance (v. 26). The Lord wrought deliverance by sending a great earthquake which opened the prison doors and removed the chains from off their hands.

4. The conversion of the jailer (vv. 27-34). What he heard of Paul's preaching and through his present experience, made the jailer a humble inquirer after salvation. Paul clearly pointed out the way of salvation.

5. The magistrates humbled (vv. 35-40).

a. The prisoners ordered released (vv. 35, 36). The earthquake produced fear in them, moving them to order the prisoners' release.

b. Paul's refusal to go (v. 3). The ground of his refusal was that their rights as Roman citizens had been violated.

c. Officially brought out of prison (vv. 38, 39). Because these were Roman citizens, the officers removed them with fear for what they had done.

Power

When a man receives the Lord Jesus Christ he is to realize that he also receives the power of God to pass through all his being, and to be exhibited in the world for the glory of God and for the salvation of others.

Never Mind How Many!

It is fatal to all courage and energy to begin with counting our foes, instead of realizing the strength of our ally. Greater is he that is for us than they that are against us.—Dr. Alexander Maclaren.

LOANS ON WAREHOUSED CORN

Loans on corn properly warehoused and sealed, on farms in sates where there is a farm warehouse act, as in Iowa, will be made by the Commodity Credit Corporation. Loans will be made on the basis of 50 cents per bushel for No. 2 December corn, Chicago, to farmers who sign agreements to cooperate in the corn-hog reduction program. The interest rate will be 4 percent.

Loans will not constitute a lien upon benefit payments to be made in connection with the corn-hog reduction program, but will provide farmers with working funds in advance of the time when benefit payments can be made. The amount of money which may be loaned on a certain number of bushels of corn at a given point will depend on the grade of corn, when warehoused, and upon the prevailing price differential between the local point and Chicago. Corn which grades lower than No. 2 will qualify for a loan per bushel in proportion to the difference in current value between No. 2 corn at Chicago and the lower grade. Note forms, loan agrements, and regulations governing the loans are being worked out by officials of the corporation and will be distributed as soon as possible through county agricultural agents and other agencies helping to handle the loans.

If necessary the Hancock County Warehouse board will meet and appoint a sealer for the county.

HONEY IS MUCH USED PRODUCT

Termed Invaluable as Sweetening for Pastries and Puddings

Although honey is not the sacred symbol of rituals and ceremonies as itwas centuries ago, modern housewives still hold it in very high regard as an ingredient in many recipes, according to F. B. Paddock, state apiarist in the Extension Service at Iowa State College.

Alhough honey as a spread for hot biscuits cannot be surpassed, it is invaluable as a sweetening agent and as a flavor for pastries, puddings and other products.

Honey pumpkin pie is a particularly seasonable dish. Honey cranberry conserve, various kinds of cake in which honey is used, honey is used, honey waffles, honey meringues, honey squash, honey pecan bread, rolls, various salads, desserts and drink are only a few of the products in which honey may be used.

The sugar in honey is in an easily digested, simple form, thus making the energy immedately available to the body.

Farmers Union Does Good Turn

TWENTY FIVE FARMERS HUSK THEIR NEIGHBORS CORN

Farmers Wives Brought and Served Big Dinner To Pickers

Monday morning twenty five members of the Liberty township Farmers Union went to the H. J. Stille farm, bringing with them teams, wagons and husking hooks to husk out the corn in a field three miles from the Stille homestead.

Sunday's wind and dust storm had laid the stalks flat and nearly half the ears had been broken off and scattered on the ground. In spite of this handicap the men brought in over 600 bushels of corn.

The ladies did their part by bringing with them the necessities for a big dinner which they served to the huskers.

The whole thing was staged as a surprise party on Mr. Stille, who has not been well. It was a good turn that was greatly appreciated and the huskers say they had a good time themselves.

Card Of Thanks

We give our most heartfelt thanks to the many friends and neighbors who so generously helped us pick corn and to their wives who brought and prepared the bounteous and excellent dinner. We are thankful, not only for the work that was done but we appreciate still more deeply the good will and kind spirit that was shown. We will never forget it. As we can not thank each one personally we take this means to thank you.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Stille

Farmer Fractures Collar Bone; Neighbors Finish Corn Picking

Last Wednesday Emil Blumer, Liberty township farmer, had the misfortune to fracture his collar bone. The accident happened when he was in the corn field riding on the wagon, when the bang board fell off and frightened his horses, and their sudden jump spilled Emil out backward.

Neighbors finished the corn picking job for Mr. Blumer and the last load was taken out of the field on Friday. Those who helped pick his corn were Emil Beier, Herman Gast, Walter and Ben Ridder, Curtis Waddingham, Walter Blumer, John Lemke and hired man and Ben Reimer. If there were others we have failed to get their names.

Memorial to War Nurses

THIS memorial to Jane Delano, relative of President Roosevelt and head of war nurses during the World War, has just been completed in the garden of the American Red Cross building in Washington. The bronze statue, representing the spirit of nursing, stands in an exedra of white Vermont marble to match the building in the background. The memorial, erected by the American Nurses' Association in memory of Miss Delano and the 296 nurses who died in the war, will be dedicated when the association meets in Washington next year.

SHAMROCKS MEET CRUCIAL TEST IN FRIDAY'S GAME

Triumphant over their victories wrested from the Ventura fives last Friday eve the Shamrock squad went into a session of hard practice this week in preparation for their battle with the Corwith basketeers on the local floor Friday eve. Although elated over the performance made in their initial start, the boys are not overconfident. They realize that when they meet the Corwith boys they will have one of their hardest games; one that will determine whether or not they will finish at the front of the conference race, as Corwith is one of the outstanding contenders for the Seven Eagles championship this year.

Coach Kingery stated that he was highly pleased with the showing made by the locals last Friday and said he believed that the Shamrocks will have a splendid chance to annex a victory over Corwith. The boys were pleased with the capacity crowd which greeted their initial appearance and expressed the hope that they would have as large a following to support them in the Corwith conetst. Fans who enjoy attending a game of fast high-class baskeball will be dissappointed if they miss the game on the local floor Friday night.

High School Notes

A program based on the general idea of education was given by members of the public speaking class last Thursday morning. The immediate purpose of the program was to observe National Education Week. Harold Jost spoke on the value of an education and told of the origin of Education week. Roy Arnold read Governor Herring's proclamation asking that the week be observed in Iowa. Bessie Larson told of the nature of education in colonial times and Lillian Brown traced the history of education in Iowa. Novella Bredbenner's topic was "History of Education in this Community" She illustrated her talk with many interesting pictures taken in earlier school-days in Klemme.

We appreciate the courtesy of the Klemme Times in printing the programs which were distributed at the game Friday night. The programs give the name, number, position and high school classification for each player on our team and the visiting team.

Pep Meeting Held

A good pep meeting was held in the assembly before dismissal Friday afternoon. Mr. Hunter opened the meeting with a talk for both players and "rooters". Mr. Kingery was called on then and told how the people on the side-lines could encourage the boys and gave an explanation of the game for those who have not seen many games. The captain, Alvin Keeper and LaVerne Drake gave talks after which Alvin called on the members of the team to say a few words. Bessie Larson led the yells and the meeting adjourned with the singing of the high school songs.

Novella Bredbenner accompanied Miss Adela Schroeder to Ames and Des Moines Saturday. She visited with two former students, Nellie Stromer and LaVohn Larsen in Ames and with Irma Sampson in Des Moines.

The juniors will start practice this week on their class play "Alabama Bound". The play will be given December 12th and 13th.

Shamrocks Won First Double Cage Encounter

SHAMROCKS TRIUMPH OVER VENTURA B. B. SQUAD

Amid the echoing sounds of yells and cheers of a capacity crowd in the local gym Friday night the Klemme High School Basketball fives triumphed over the Ventura High School squads 35-14 and 14-12 Perhaps the outstanding feature of the game in which the Shamrocks literally ran circles around the Ventura men, was the remarkable teamwork displayed by the Klemme basketeers who have been developing rapidly under the expert coaching of A. L Kingery, local athletic director. Unlike some teams of former years, the team does not depend upon any one man to star, but rather five men function with a machine-like precision. The Ventura teams seemed unable to penetrate the airtight defense of the local five while the Shamrocks scored almost at will. While there are still a few rough edges to be smoothed over, the local team seems to be well on the road to a successful season this year.

The Shamrock regulars took an early lead which they maintained throughout the game, the final score being 35 to 14. Drake and Keeper played a good game at the forward positions and both displayed a good eye for the basket. Jost, who has developed tremendously in the past year, fills the center position remarkably well, while Keraus and Brown in the guard berths play an exceptionally co-ordinated game.

With the Ventura Seconds leading 12-8 in the final period the Shamrock Reserves put on a whirlwind finish that brought the entire crowd to their feet, and won their game 14-12. There is plenty of promising material among the Reserves and regulars may be hard pressed to maintain their positions during the season.

Musical Program Sunday Evening

ALLEMAN CHOIR COMING HERE SUNDAY NIGHT

Will Give Program At The Klemme Reformed Church

The choir of the Reformed Church of Alleman, Iowa, will come to Klemme Sunday and will present a program at the Klemme Reformed Church beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

The Alleman Choir is a fine musical organization and present a varied program of vocal and instrumental numbers. They are coming here as a return compliment to the local choir, who gave a program at Alleman this year.

Information Given On Timely Topic

INFORMATION RELATIVE TO CORN LOANS

The county corn-hog committee will be designated by the state Department of Agriculture as the warehouse board and will be the only board recognized by the Federal government in making these loans.

Sealers will be recommended by this board and the Federal Government and will be appointed by the state Department of Agriculture as provided by the state law.

The amount of the loan will be approximately 45c per bushel with the interest at 4 per cent. Sealers will be paid out of the corn-hog funds with no expense to the applicant.

No insurance on corn will be required under the new set-up by the Commodity Credit Corporation but farmers may wish to carry insurance for their own protection.

Application and note blanks for loans may be had at local banks and County Farm Bureau offices as soon as they are distributed by the Commodity Credit Corporation.

Any individual, bank or other institution may buy these certificates with the assurance the Commodity Credit Corporation will take them up by June 30, 1934 and pay the 4 percent interest. The Commodity Credit Corporation must be notified when the loans are made and the amounts.

Loans will not be made on outside corn or corn in cribs not properly constructed for retaining, ventilating and protecting the grain from the weather.

Copies of the certificate must be filed with the County Recorder as usual.

Seals and warehouse certificates will be secured through the state Department of Agriculture as usual.

Sealers will be required to be bonded for at least $1,000. These may be personal or otherwise.

Farmers who do not wish to sign up for the corn-hog program, may continue to get loans on corn under the old plan, using the present sealers and boards, but they will not be able to get more than 22c per bushel at the present time with an interest rate of 6½ per cent.

Reading Fun In Store For Boys

World adventure thrills are in store for readers of THE AMERICAN BOY—YOUTH'S COMPANION according to word just received from the editor of youth's favorite magazine. From the Arctic to the jungles of Haiti, and from the plateau of Asia to the lion country of Africa, the editors have charted a course of excitement and fun in the 12 issues of 1934.

Several years ago, THE AMERICAN BOY introduced to its readers the popular, black-haired Jimmie Rhodes, Army aviator. Those who followed his adventures through Brooks and Kelly Field and with the 94th Pursuit on cross-country hops, target practice and formation flying, will be delighted to learn that Jimmie Rhodes has returned to the magazine. The new series takes him to Haiti where a revolution is impending.

THE AMERICAN BOY—YOUTH COMPANION, filled with the advenure every boy craves, with the information he needs, and the advice on hobbies and sports he is always seeking, is the ideal present for that son, cousin, nephew, and chum. It's the kind of present that renews itself every month when the mailman lays a copy on a doorstep. Approved by teachers and educators, and endorsed by high school America, the magazine can solve your shopping difficulties.

The subscrption price is $2.00 for one year. Until January 1, you may take out a three-year subscription for $3.00, a saving of $3.00 over the one-year rate for three years. After January 1, this three-year rate will be withdrawn. Mail your order direct to THE AMERICAN BOY—YOUTH'S COMPANION, 7430 Second Blvd., Detroit, Mich. Service on your subscription will start with the issue you specify.

HENRY WARD FOUND WHAT IS THOUGHT TO BE A METEOR

Henry Ward picked up a peculiar rock in his field recently and from all appearances the rock is as good specimen of a meteor which probably fell sometime during the summer The odd peice of rock weighs about 4½ pounds, is dull brown to black in color and resembles a mass of clinkers which had melted and run together again. Henry's meteor can be seen on display in Larsen's window.

A PROGRAM FOR

Enlarged Service..

To Make New Friends. To Renew Past Connections.

The employees of the local telephone exchange in conjunction with the employees of the other exchanges in northern Iowa and southern Minnesota met recently for the purpose of arranging a program for the balance of this year.

The program, as outlined, gives to each individual employee an opportunity to sell telephone service to new subscribers, and to encourage reconnection of former subscribers who are temporarily without service due to economic conditions.

OUR AIM: To make this a territory of homes brought into closer contact, one to another, by the arteries of modern telephone service.

PAUL IN ATHENS

LESSON TEXT—Acts 17:16-34.

GOLDEN TEXT—For in him we live, and move, and have our being; as certain also of your own poets have said, For we are also his offspring. Acts 17:28.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Worshiping God.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Preaching in a Famous City.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Why Do We Worship?

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Seeking and Finding God.

I. Athens Full of Idols (v. 16).

Athens was the intellectual metropolis of the world at that time, the home of the world's greatest eloquence and philosophy. In spite of this fact the city was given wholly to idolatry, which so stirred Paul's spirit that he was there moved to preach the gospel.

II. The Parties Concerned in the Controversy (vv. 17-21).

1. The Jews (v. 17). True to his usual custom, Paul went into the synagogue and entered into earnest argument with the Jews.

2. The devout persons (v. 17). This doubtless included proselytes to the Jewish faith.

3. The philosophers (v. 18). From the Jews and devout persons he turned to such as were found in the market place. Here he came into touch with Epicurean and Stoic philosophers. When these philosophers heard his preaching they desired to know what new doctrine he preached, so they invited him to the Areopagus where he might speak to them. They inquired as to what this "babbler" might say. The word "babbler" means literally "seed-picker." They conceived Paul as a globe-trotter who had gathered up seeds of truth or error here and there over the world and that he was somewhat like themselves, interested in talking about that which he had seen and heard.

III. Paul's Address on Mars' Hill (vv. 22-31).

1. The introduction (vv. 22, 23): He introduced his discourse in a courteous manner, stating that he perceived that they were very religious. He did not accuse them of superstition as the A. V. would make it, but as the A. R. V., "very religious." He declared that as he was viewing their city he beheld an altar with an inscription, "To the unknown God." He proceeded at once to connect it with the idea of the true God, implying that this altar had been erected to him.

2. The body of his discourse (vv. 24-31).

a. A declaration concerning God (vv. 24, 25).

(1) The true God created the material universe (v. 24). This was a direct blow at the philosophy of both the Epicureans and the Stoics.

(2) God's spirituality and immensity (vv. 24, 25). Being essentially spiritual he demands heart-service, and being transcendent above all he is not confined to earthly temples.

(3) His active providence (v. 25). He gives existence to all things. He bestows needed gifts upon all creatures, and as sovereign directs all things.

b. His declarations concerning man (vv. 26-31).

(1) His common origin (v. 26). This was a blow at the foolish Athenian pride which supposed that they were superior to all other people. This proposition he proved from their own literature (v. 28). He argued that if men are the offspring of God and bear his likeness, it is utter folly to make images such as the idols were.

(2) Nations have their place by the sovereign purpose of God (v. 26). He argued that the position and mission of each nation is of God's appointment.

(3) Men should seek God (v. 27). His goodness and grace in supplying all human needs, and His sovereign ordering of the affairs of nations should move men to see and seek God.

(4) Pressing obligations to repent (vv. 30, 31). This was his supreme message. Though God had formerly passed over the idolatrous practice of the nations, he now calls all men to repent in preparation for the coming day of judgment, the guarantee of which is the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead.

IV. The Results of Paul's Preaching (vv. 32-34).

1. Some mocked (v. 32). Men and women are today mocking the preacher who dares to preach the coming judgment.

2. Some procrastinated (v. 32). This is the common way of men. Many of them do not mock, but they hesitate to accept and act upon the urgency of the message.

3. Some believed (v. 34). Wherever the gospel is preached there are some who believe and are saved.

Commonplace Lives

The most commonplace lives have about them possibilities of romance, tragedy, and humor that discover themselves to the one who ministers to these lives with a brave and resolute heart.

Value of Prayer

Let us value prayer more. Let us use it more as a means. We can have the music of heaven falling down and filling our lives with the sweetest of melodies, of comfort and joy, if we will.

FARMERS MAY ORGANIZE COOPERATIVE

The opportunity to set up a gigantic cooperative association to plan the production of corn and hogs on the basis of domestic demand is offered Hancock County farmers by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration in the form of the corn-hog program, R. K. Bliss, director of the Extension Service of Iowa State College, said in an interview.

With this cooperative control association, farmers may do what a large manufacturer or any one man would do if he had control of the entire business of agriculture—that is the adjustment of production to demand. Only by gearing output down to the need of the market can the farmer secure the income which will restore his purchasing power.

The purpose of the corn-hog program, of course, is to enable farmers to obtain a price which will enable them to buy with 100 pounds of pork the same amount ofcommodities which they could buy with 100 pounds of pork before the war—in other words "parity price".

One of the faults of cooperative selling groups has been that as soon as it forced the market price up farmers abandoned it if they could get a better price from an outside buyer. They did this even though they realized their support of the association was needed if price was to be maintained.

This objection is answered in the proposed nation wide cooperative to raise corn-hog prices in that benefit payments are made only to the farmers who cooperate. The man who stays outside the plan "takes his own chances". Furthermore the men who participate sign a legal contract with "Uncle Sam".

Director Bliss emphasized the responsibility of the individual farmer. The government does not require farmers to sign the contract. It does provide the machinery making it possible for them to cooperate with the government. They will set up their own local control association to provide for local administration. The individual farmer therefore, must act in order to receive any benefit from the proposed plan.

The Extension Service and County Agents will help with the educational work and in setting up the organization. Extension workers, county agents and local leaders will explain the plan in numerous meetings held in every county.

This method saves the farmer money because the Extension Service and county agents are representatives of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. By making use of this force, Secretary Wallace and his co-workers save money for the individual farmer who must help pay the local expenses of his county control association. Every dollar saved in the local administration of the act means an additional dollar in the pocket of the man who produces corn and hogs.

THE GREAT AMERICAN GAME!

Interesting Items From Grade And High School

High School Notes

The high school and grade pupils enjoyed a moving picture of the "Century of Progress" last Friday morning.

Our orchestra made its initial appearance for this year at the P. T. A. meeting last Tuesday evening. The Boys Glee Club, a new organization this year, also sang several numbers.

Merriam and Virginia Stille, who now live in De Ridder, Louisana, visited school the first of the week.

This week is test week again.

Grades 7 and 8

The seventh grade is exchanging letter with other seventh grades in different parts of the United States. We want to find out what children in other schools are doing, as well as interesting facts about their climates, crops and industries.

Mr. Kingery has taken over boys' physical training in the seventh and eighth grades and is developing a basketball team.

Velma Kaduce, George Netland, and Eugene Kluckhohn were absent Friday.

Grades 5 and 6

We are practicing each day now on our grade operetta, "Santa's Air Line" which is to be given soon.

The fifth grade are beginning their work on fractions.

The following were absent in grades five and six the past week, Donald Lemke, Della Kaduce and Russell Wade.

In fifth grade geography we have completed our work on South America and now are beginning the material on Europe.

Grades 3 and 4

The third and fourth grades and Miss Wilson here express their appreciation to Mrs. Kingery for her assistance while Miss Wilson was sick.

We have 15 new books from the traveling library at Des Moines.

The third and fourth grades made graphs for their arithmetic grades.

We have a new poem chart.

Grades 1 and 2

Our room is busy getting ready for the grade operetta "Santa's Airline" to be given December 8th.

The 2nd grade is working out a Pilgrim sand table to illustrate the little lessons in history we have been learning.

The first grade started reading in their third pre-primer Monday. 2nd grade also began another new reader today.

Mavis Leitzinger, Barbara Johnson, Eunice Larsen, Julia Bell and Corrine Merkel all had blue stars for good spelling.

REDUCING FOOD SUPPLY IS 3,400-YEAR-OLD PLAN

Bible Makes Reference To Periodic Resting of Land

The plan for adjusting farm production to demand was first proposed 3,400 years ago, W. H. Stacy, extension rural sociologist at Iowa State College, told a Harvest Home Sunday gathering at the Buck Creek rural church in Cass County Sunday, Nov. 19.

Bible reference to a similar plan is found in the following command in Chapter 23 of Exodus: "And six years thou shalt sow the land and shall gather in the fruit thereof. At the seventh year thou shalt let it rest and lie still, that the poor of thy people maye eat, and what they leave the beast of the field shall eat'

Again in Leviticus, Chapter 25, the Lord asked Moses to tell the children of Israel: "When ye come into the land which I give you, then ye shall keep a Sabbath unto the Lord. That which groweth of its own accord of thy harvest thou shalt not reap, neither gather the grapes of thy vine undressed. For it is a year of rest unto the land. And the Sabbath of the land shall be meat for you, for thee and for thy servants."

Mr. Stacy said that with lack of planning in American competitive agriculture we have been forcing each other to go to the extreme in crop production. Land has been overworked in a constant effort to produce to the limit, even though that production indirectly caused suffering nd long breadlines. And through the new program, Mr. Stacy said, we hope that the farmers' purchasing power will be restored adusting production to demand. In adjusting production to demand part of the land will be kept out of food crops, being planted to soil-building or erosion-preventing crops.

Mr. Stacy also pointed out that during the period 400 to 500 B. C. Egyptian farmers commonly kept one-third of their land in legume crops.

Shamrocks Won First Conference Ball Game

SHAMROCKS HOPE TO AVENGE LAST YEAR'S DEFEATS FRIDAY

Schools Have Been Rivals In Sports For Years

A school rivalry that dates from "way back when", will be renewed in the local gym this Friday evening when the Goodell high school basketball team meets the local Shamrock quintet in a conference game. Goodell has practically the same lineup which handed the last year's Shamrock team two defeats during the season. Although the experts have picked the Klemme five to win, they did the same thing last year due to the fact that Klemme had defeated teams, which had won from Goodell. However, the Goode''-ians upset the dope both games; first in a double overtime period and trouncing the Shamrocks decisively in the second game. Just how much better than last years team the Shamrocks are, will be seen when they meet the same aggregation

Coach Kingery and his boys were quite elated over their win from Corwith and are practicing hard in order to maintain their role as the chief contender for the Seven Eagles championship.

Play Swaledale There Tuesday Evo

Tuesday evening the boys journey to Swaledale for a non-conference game with the high school there. This will be their first game of the season away from home.

MAKE YOUR OWN CRACKERS

Soda crackers are as old as the hills but if you go to your recipe book to find out how to make them you may look in vain.

The ingredients needed are: four cups sifted bread flour, two cups warm water, one-half cake yeast, 2 tablespoons of warm water, one teaspoon baking soda, one tablespoon salt, one-third cup melted lard and three more cups sifted bread flour.

First you sift the flour once and measure the four cups. Then soften the yeast in one-fourth cup of warm water, combine with the remaining water and add to the flour, beating well. Cover this mixture and let it stand in a warm place overnight.

In the morning add the baking soda and salt disolved in the two tablespoons of warm water. Add the lard and beat well. Then add the other three cups of flour graually, mixing until smooth after each addition. Cover and let rise again until double in volume. Then turn on to a lightly floured board and knead until dough is smooth and elastic, and is not sticky to the touch. Now divide into small portions and roll each out into a thin sheet. Cut with a cooky cutter and pick each one well with a fork. Bake in a hot oven (500 degrees) until a delicate brown

GAME FRIDAY NIGHT WAS HARD FOUGHT CONTEST

Displaying the best team work ever shown by a local high school team on the local floor the Shamrock quintet defeated the Corwith five Friday night 25-23, in a heart breaking, grueling contest that was anybody's game until the final gun. Score at the end of the first quarter was 5-4 for Corwith. Klemme led at the half 15-10 and the end of the third period found the count tied 20-20.

Good Team Work Displayed

Corwith has one of the strongest teams in the conference this year and they have a well-justified reputation. However, the Klemme team proved to be the better of the two, for while their playing was ragged at times they were still able to defeat the Corwith team. Much credit for the victory goes to the Shamrock guards, Keraus and Brown, for the splendid defensive performance they made, breaking up a large majority of the Corwith scoring attempts. Drake, Klemme forward, who left the game via the foul route in the fourth period, deserves special mention for the wonderful game he played, sinking a number of nice shots from mid-floor and playing a wonderful defensive game. Keeper forward and captain of the Klemme squad, gave his usual performance of taking the ball from the opposing guards and sinking a basket before they realize what it is all about. Jost holds down the center berth in fine shape and is developing into an extremely valuable man. Evert Barz who replaced Drake, filled his position nicely and proved himself a highly valuable reserve man to the Klemme Squad.

Reserves Win Hard Game

The Klemme Reserves eked out an 18-17 victory over the Corwith Seconds in the preliminary game, which was an able forecast of what the first team game would be.

What Would You Do ?

When Death Occurs At A Hospital

A boy from near Klemme, age 10 died at a Mason City Hospital following an operatiin for some abcess or other at the base of his brain. The grief-stricken family were shown into the reception room and in a few minutes were asked to get into a waiting auto. When they got out they were at a Mason City Funeral Home. "Well," said the father, "I suppose we had best phone Art." "Oh, my no," the M. C. undertaker said, "The boy is being prepared right now. He would not have kept until you could get your home man. The hospital called us because we were near and could do the work at once."

A farmer, age 74, from near Klemme, had for several weeks been a patient at a hospital. His condition seemed to improve. All of the family returned home except one son who remained in the city near his father. One morning at 5 a. m., the son received a phone call at the hotel asking him to come to the hospital at once "father was much worse." The boy ate a bite of breakfast and when he arrived at the hospital about 6 a. m. he learned that father had died and the body been sent to the City Funeral Home nearby. The boy then phoned his family and the family phoned Wellemeyer. "Go to the City, attend to everything, and bring father home," they said. This was done but the City man charged $41.00 for Embalming, nearly twice the fee of your local man.

Some years ago, in the rainy season of the spring time before our roads were paved, a young mother passed away at St. Lukes Hospital, the head nurse called Wellemeyer over the phone and explained that the husband had asked her to call, but she said "You can't get here, the roads are too bad." I asked her if I might talk to the husband, who then asked if we would come and take charge of everything "Yes," I said, "We will be there in just an hour and thirty minutes." And we were there.

Know This

If you have no choice as to who takes care of your dead, you may be sure most any hospital will quickly turn the body over to one of their City Undertakers. They work for each other in the City.

But, when death occurs at a hospital, and if you prefer your home man, see that you get Wellemeyer on the phone at once and don't let them talk you out of it, as the body will keep until Wellemeyer can attend to it.

PAUL IN CORINTH

LESSON TEXT—Acts 18:1-17; I Cor. 1:1-2:3.

GOLDEN TEXT—For I determined not to know anything among you, save Jesus Christ, and him crucified. I Cor. 2:2.

PRIMARY TOPIC—God's Care at Night.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Paul Gets Now Courage.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How to Work With Others.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Unity in Christ.

The establishment of the church at Corinth is an example of missionary endeavor for all ages. The method employed and the message delivered which resulted in success then will result in success now

I. The True Missionary Method (Acts 18:1-3).

Paul came to Corinth a stranger in a strange city. His method of gaining a foothold was,

1. Finding a home (v. 2). This he found with Aquila and Priscilla who had recently been expelled from Rome. Being of the same nationality, there was a natural affinity with them.

2. Toiling for daily bread (v. 3). Paul was of the same craft as his host. Every Jewish child was taught some trade by means of which he could gain his livelihood, should occasion require. Missionaries should not be above honest toil.

II. Preaching in the Synagogue at Corinth (Acts 18:4-8).

1. Compelled to toil for a living (v. 4). Though compelled to toil for a living, he did not lose sight of his main work. He reasoned in the synagogue every sabbath, persuading the Jews and the Greeks.

2. His activity increased through the coming of Silas and Timothy (v. 5). This was caused by, a. Favorable report from the church at Thessalonica. This report put new vigor into his labors.

b. They brought pecuniary gifts from the Macedonian church (Phil. 4:15; II Cor. 11:9). Being now free from the necessity of toiling for a living, he could devote more time and energy to preaching the gospel.

c. Silas and Timothy became helpers to Paul in the work.

3. Increased opposition (v. 6). Paul's increased activity met with increasing opposition.

4. Paul announces his purpose to turn to the Gentiles (v. 6). This was necessitated because of the opposition and blasphemy of the Jews.

5. Paul in the house of Justus (vv. 7, 8). He remained sufficiently near those whose hearts God had touched that they could easily find him. His success here was such that Crispus, the chief ruler of the synagogue, was converted. Paul departed from his usual custom and baptized Crispus.

III. Paul's Vision (Acts 18:9-11).

This vision was for the purpose of giving encouragement to Paul at this time. His experiences in Europe were most trying.

1. "Be not afraid" (v. 9). The one who is doing the will of the Lord need not be afraid.

2. "Speak, and hold not thy peace" (v. 9). The one who has heard the voice of God cannot refrain from speaking.

3. "I am with thee" (v. 10). All who faithfully carry out the divine commission can be assured of the divine presence.

4. "No man shall set on thee to hurt thee" (v. 10). No harm can come to the Lord's servant until his work is done.

5. "I have much people in this city" (v. 10). The one who goes forth with the divine message can be assured that his ministry cannot fail.

IV. Party Spirit in the Corinthian Church (I Cor. 1:10-18).

In this church rival factions were contending against each other. Some were for Paul, some for Apollos, some for Peter, and some for Christ. The cause of this threatened division was failure to see the true headship of the church. Christ is the one and only Head, and the members composing his body cannot be divided. Membership and interest all center in Christ. By one Spirit all were baptized into the one body (I Cor. 12:13). Sectarianism is an evil to be deplored. The factious spirit in the church mars its testimony and retards its growth. Those who understand the oneness in Christ will be joined together in the same mind.

V. The One Supreme Message of the True Preacher (I Cor. 2:1-8).

It is Jesus Christ and him crucified. Prejudice and human limitations prevent men from seeing eye to eye. Christian unity is possible only as the members of his body grow up into Christ.

Christ Uses All

It is amazing what use Jesus makes of frail mediums. None of the Twelve appears to have been a man of outstanding position until Jesus took them and made them men of might and vision. That is what is continually happening.

No Hanging Back

You must cast yourself on God's gospel with all your weight, without any doubt, without hanging back, without even the shadow of a suspicion that it will give.—Alexander Maclaren.

Sunday for dinner a group of friends and relatives gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gibbs to help Miss Minnie Lenz celebrate her birthday. Here's WHY BLUE BEACON COAL is better

All coal may look alike to you . . but there is a wide difference. BLUE BEACON Coal is better coal because scientific analysis shows that it contains more of the elements which produce heat . . . it has less ash, less soot, fewer impurities . burns evenly from the outside in. Users of BLUE BEACON Coal know the correctness of these tests.

Find out for yourself how much better BLUE BEACON Coal really is. A ton will tell.

GOODELL QUINTET DOWNS THE SHAMROCK FIRST STRING

Return Game Will Be Played On Neutral Court

The Klemme High School Shamrocks took their place among the defeated teams of the Seven Eagles conference Friday night when they were trimmed by the Goodell five 17-10. The team had a Jekyll-Hyde transformation from their splendid playing against the Corwith quintet. Gone was their passing attack; gone was their team work; even their fighting spirit was lacking. The team that took the floor Friday night seemed to be a group of butter-fingered beginners, who were rooted to one spot. They made only two field goals the entire game and the only thing they seemed able to do well was to walk around with a disgusted look on their faces. The strange part of the game was that even with the Klemme boys in this condition the Goodell boys were only able to make five field goals. Whether the let down after the Corwith game was too great or exactly what was the matter with the boys is not known, but the fact remains that if the Shamrocks had played the same brand of basketball as they are capable of, they would have given Goodell a big surprise.

Return Game On Neutral Floor

The boys in green and white have vowed that they will wipe out this defeat at the hands of Goodell when they next meet. This game will be played on a neutral floor. The date and place of the game will be announced later. Klemme fans, bitterly disappointed at the defeat of the home team, expressed their intentions of attending this game and giving the boys all the moral support and backing possible.

Reserves Remain Undefeated

The Klemme Reserves won their game from the Goodell seconds 13-9 to boost their record to three wins and no defeats.

Thanksgiving

A bustle in the kitchen
A smell of cakes and pies,
Children running everywhere
With bright and wandering eyes.

Rows and rows of good things
On the closet shelves,
A cunning little table
All to themselves.

Such a splendid dinner
Coming on at last,
Knives and forks a-clattering,
Tongues that go as fast.

Apples in the evening,
Lots of merry play—
All this fun at Grandma's
On Thanksgiving Day.

Interesting Items From Grade And High School

High School Notes

Tests over the second six weeks period were given last week and report cards will be issued Wednesday. It hardly seems possible that a third of our school year is gone.

NEW HELP AT KLEMME AUTO COMPANY

Monday Walter Lemke began work for Fred J. Arnold at the Klemme Auto Co. garage as book keeper. Mr. Lemke is an experienced man and will be a valuable addition to the garage staff. Walter, who is a son of R. R. Lemke needs no introduction to our readers as he was raised in this community. We are indeed glad to welcome him to Klemme.

On the same date Ernest Davis of Belmond also began work at the Klemme Auto Co., as mechanic, to take the place of Ed Hughes, who with his wife will spend the winter in California. Mr. Davis is well known in Klemme as he worked in the garage here this summer. 'Ernie' is a good mechanic and his friends will be glad to know he is back in Klemme again.

Deceased Taught School In Hancock County For Ten Years

Funeral services for Carl Wellemeyer, former Liberty Twp. farmer, who died suddenly at his home west of Colesburg, Iowa, were held Monday afternoon, Nov. 27th in the M. E. Church at Colesburg, with the Pastor Rev. Geo. Notedurft in charge. Rev. A. H. Meyer, former pastor at Klemme and long time friend of the family gave the funeral address Rev. F. C. Griewe, pastor of the Methodist Church at Masonville, Iowa, and former Klemme resident, conducted the service at the grave. A local soloist sang "Crossing the Bar" and "One Sweetly Solemn Thought". The Paul Bearers were men by the name of Klaus, cousins of the deceased, of which there are several families in that locality. Burial was made on the family lot, beside his daughter, Helen, in the Zion Cemetery west of Colesburg. The following obituary was read from the pulpit:

Obituary

Carl Wesley Wellemeyer was born May 12, 1877 at Sleepy Eye, Minnesota. He was the second of a family ofnine children born to his parents, Frank H. Wellemeyer and Mary M. (nee) Klaus.

His father being a minister, the family lived in several towns where his education was received in the grade schools of Freeport, Ill., Giard Iowa, Dubuque, Iowa, LeMars, Ia., Garner, Iowa and Decorah, Iowa, where he was graduated from the High School.

Mr. Wellemeyer attended Charles City college after which he taught school—two years in Garner, two years in Duncan and six years in Liberty township, making a total of ten years in the Hancock county schools.

His main business, however, was farming. He farmed seven years in Liberty twp., sold out and moved to Delaware county near Colesburg where he has lived for the past quarter of a century.

The departed was married, June 12, 1907, to Sarah Merten. From this union came two children, one son, Howard, who is working at home and one daughter, Helen, who preceded him in death.

Mr. Wellemeyer was of a quiet, kindly nature who never quarreled with his neighbor, always showing a tendency to meet the other fellow more than half way.

His wife and son feel that he has bequeathed to them the goodwill of everyone who knew him—a priceless legacy.

A brief characterization of Carl Wellemeyer s busy and useful life reveals many things of outstanding value. In his educational work he was always forwrd looking and progressive. In his church affiliations he was faithful to every trust but outstanding in his musical costribution. His singing for all manner of community functions was in general demand. Very particularly was this true in connection with funerals because of his sympathetic voice.

Few men are capable of serving a community as he did this, his home county. In fact, his service to his fellow men at times became a severe strain and in sacrifice of time can hardly be estimated.

Following is a partial list of organizations of which he was a member during the later years of his life: Colesburg Methodist church Farm Bureau, Deleware Co. Board of Education, Child Welfare committee and Farmers Telephone Co.

Mr. Wellemeyer was usually in good health. On Thursday afternoon Nov. 23rd, 1933, he suffered a heart attack while at work, from which he failed to recover. He had reached the age of 56 years, 6 months and 11 days. He leaves of his immediate family, beside his wife, one son, Howard, at home; two sisters, Ruth Mrs. C. L. Melcher of Charles City, Iowa, Hulda, Mrs. Robert Merten of Guthrie, Oklahoma; three brothers, Arthur of Klemme, Iowa, Ernest of Patterson, Calif., Fletcher of Kansas City, Kansas, and a host of other relatives and friends.

PERFECT ORGANIZATION TO HANDLE CORN LOANS

Application Blanks for Loans May Reach County Agents This Week

The state corn-hog committee for Iowa was officially announced last week and it has begun appointment of county corn warehousing boards, cooperating with the Iowa Department of Agriculture. This will en able Iowa farmers to secure loans of 45 cents a bushel on properly arehoused marketable corn as soon as the necessary application and loan blanks are received from Washington.

These blanks are expected to be received by county agents some time the week. The county agent will distribute them to banks and other agencies where farmers may obtain them

The committee will act in an advisory capacity to the Extension Service and to the corn-hog section of the adjustment administration. The announcement indicated that the committee will have no administrative power.

The committee met in Des Moines Thursday to select warehousing boards for each county. The warehousing boards will have charge of the sealers and details of storing and sealing corn on which farmers wish to obtain loans. These warehousing boards may or may not be the same as the county corn-hog committee. To secure a loan the farmer must agree to sign a corn-hog adjustment contract.

The county warehousing board met Monday morning and elected the following officers: Ben V. Greiman, chairman; John Chambers, Vice-president; Howard Barger, secretary and treasurer. Other members of the board are Paul Loth and Ray Baker.

The following sealers were recommended to the secretary of agriculture for approval: Ray Higdon, Britt Rudolph Beinert, Forest City, John Mullins, Corwith, Mr. Hautman, of Kanawha, F. N. Knutsen Kanawha.

University of Iowa Students Home For Thanksgiving

J. N. Day drove to Iowa City this Wednesday morning to bring home Klemme's students at the University Dorance Day, Byrnes Missman, Gracka Quandt and her room mate Hazel Klovstad, and Paul Hughes, a former Klemme boy. All will return to Iowa City again Sunday evening.

18 Ladies At Follow Up Meeting

This part of the township held a follow up meeting at the home of Mrs. C. J. Wille Friday afternoon. A very helpful and interesting lesson was presented by Mrs. W. L. Thada. The ladies received many ideas for Christmas gifts, apron patterns and cap and scarf pattern and patterns for making various animals.. After the lesson all enjoyed the social hour and a lovely lunch was served by the hostess.

Lesson for December 3

PAUL IN EPHESUS

LESSON TEXT—Acts 19:8-20.

GOLDEN TEXT—Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness' sake, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. Matthew 5:10.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Praising God With Our Gifts.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Asia Hears of Jesus.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How to Meet Opposition.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Facing Conflict for Christ.

I. Paul Preaching in Ephesus (vv. 8-10).

1. In the Jewish synagogue (v. 8). He was permitted to preach here for three months. His preaching was characterized,

(a) By boldness. He realized that God had sent him and that he was backed by divine authority.

(b) By reasoning. God's message is in accord with the highest reason.

(c) By persuasion. It is not enough to go boldly with a reasonable message, it must be accompanied by persuasion.

(d) By speaking "concerning the kingdom of God." He did not discourse on current events, philosophy, or literature, but upon the message of salvation through Christ.

2. In the school of Tyrannus (vv. 9, 10). The Jews were only hardened by Paul's earnest preaching. Paul separated the disciples from them and resorted to the school of Tyrannus.

II. God Works Miracles Through Paul (vv. 11, 12).

As Christ's messenger he needed credentials. If Paul's ministry was to be successful here, God must, in an extraordinary way, put his seal upon his work. So wonderfully did he manifest his power that even handkerchiefs and aprons which had been in contact with Paul's body healed the sick and cast out evil spirts from those who had been made wretched by them.

III. Paul's Work Imitated (vv. 13-16).

Seeing the marvelous power operating through Paul, certain Jews who went about the country practicing magical arts at the expense of their poor unfortunate fellow countrymen, undertook to use the name of Jesus in their deceptive work. Knowing that the connection with Jesus Christ was but pretense on the part of these Jews, the use of his name by them only enraged the evil spirits who sprang upon and overcame them.

IV. A Glorious Awakening at Ephesus (vv. 17-41).

1. Fear fell on all (v. 17). News of the casting out of these evil spirits created impressions favorable to Christianity.

2. It brought to the front those who professed faith in Christ while not living right lives (v. 18). They believed on Christ but had not broken from their sins.

3. They gave up the practice of black arts (v. 19). This means forms of jugglery by use of charms and magical words. No one can have fellowship with God while practicing these arts. They proved the genuineness of their actions by publicly burning their books.

4. The uproar of the silversmiths at Ephesus (vv. 23-41).

(a) The occasion (vv. 23, 24). This was the power of the gospel in destroying the infamous business of Demetrius and his fellows. They were not particularly interested in the matter from a religious standpoint, but because it was undermining the principal business of the city.

(b) The method (vv. 25-29). Demetrius, whose business was the mainstay of others of a similar nature, called a meeting and stated that much people had been turned from idolatry and that the market for their wares was materially weakened. He appealed to his fellows on the ground:

(1) Of business (v. 27). The world is willing to tolerate any kind of religion so long as it does not interfere with its business or manner of living.

(2) Of religious prejudice (v. 27). He became quite religious when his business was being interfered with.

(c) The issue (vv. 28-41). The speech of Demetrius gained his end. The crowd was enraged and cried in unison, "Great is Diana of the Ephesians!" (v. 28). This method of proving a point seems quite modern. The mob was quieted by the tact of the town clerk (v. 35).

First, he rebuked them for yelling for two hours to prove a point which everybody admitted (vv. 35, 36). Second, he showed that Paul and his companions were not guilty of any criminal act (vv. 37-39). Third, the people were in danger of being called to account for this riot should it come to the ears of Caesar (vv. 40, 41).

The Way of Life

It is wholly impossible to live according to divine order, and to make a proper application of heavenly principles, as long as the necessary duties which each day brings seem only like a burden grievous to be borne.

NO MONEY? THEN MAKE GIFTS

Resourceful Woman Can Remember Her Friends at Little Cost

Christmas budgets may be away below par this year—but even so good friends may be remembered by small gifts. With a bit of ingenuity, some scraps of colorful cotton materials and bias tape, a woman may make attractive and useful gifts with almost no expense.

Aprons, hot-pan holders, clothespin bags and shoe bags are gifts which are always appreciated and can be made from bits of material left from dresses or curtains. Holders which are round in shape instead of square are very handy since there are no corners to get into food. Cotton flannel or old peices of blanket may be used for the inside of the holders.

A new kind of holder which is very attractive can be knitted from wool yarn in gay colors.

In this day when a large majority of women are doing most of their household work aprons are extremely acceptable gifts. Attractive aprons are easily made when they are finished with bias tape. The binder attachment of the machine may be used and the aprons finished quickly In this day of the vogue for early American furnishings, hooked and braided rugs are gifts of real value. Yet they may be made from old materials, either as they are discarded or after they are dyed. Hooked mats for chairs and for table covers, if the design and color are well chosen, make extremely acceptable gifts. Old silk stockings and underwear when dyed make lovely mats of this kind.

For the most ambitious person of all, peice quilts might be the answer to the gift problem. Or a clever daughter might make a comforter for her mother by combining some old woolen blankets, tacking them firmly together, then covering them with a lovely piece of soft cotton or silk

I bought the coal that gave 20% More Heat

As one bargain hunter to another here's a tip . . . the best bargain in coal is the kind that has the least waste and gives the most heat for your money.

That is what many a BLUE BEACON user will tell you. BLUE BEACON Coal does give more heat than ordinary soft coal .. it's more economical to burn. Users find that 8 tons of BLUE BEACON will go as far as 10 tons of ordinary coal. Burns cleanly, evenly and leaves less ash.

Shouldn't you find out about this?

TELEPHONE CO. CONDUCTING SERVICE SURVEY

A service survey is being conducted by the local telephone company at this time. All subscribers in the city are being visited by local employees, who are inspecting the telephone equipment, reporting any repairs needed and receiving any complaints or suggestions for improvement of the service. Accurate reports will be made of each inspection and interview and the company expects to remedy any faults discovered.

Along with this survey they are conducting a campaign to gain new subscribers or other new service to present subscribers. Employees of the local exchange are competing with other Independent exchanges throughout the states of Iowa and Minnesota in this service and sales effort.

By regular advertising in the Klemme Times and special sales efforts, the telephone company hopes to win back a great many former subscribers and to improve their service to present subscribers.

Corn-Hog Program Now Under Way In Hancock

CORN-HOG MEETING ATTENDED BY THREE HUNDRED FARMERS

One of the largest crowds ever assembled here at a farmer's meeting attended the Corn-Hog meeting at the school house Friday evening. Approximately three hundred farmers of this community were present to hear the explanation of the corn-hog program.

County Agent Oberhauser first presented an explanation illustrated with graphic charts showing the reasons for the present surpluses. He gave an explanation of what is meant by "parity" and showed graphs where parity for the farmer existed before the war.

Mr. Oberhause presented the corn hog program and opened the meeting for qustions and discussions, at which time many good questions were brought up which helped clear up some of the details of the program.

He did not have the contract to present but stated that they would be available in a few days,

FEW CATTLE NOW ON FEED

Prospects for Feeders Are Better In Iowa Than Elsewhere

Iowa beef cattle feeders have better prospects for the next year than do feeders in most other states, in the opinion of Iowa State College agricultural economists.

Cattle numbers in the country as a whole have been increasing since 1928 and are expected to increase through 1934.

Beef cattle prices have failed to make any seasonal rise since July. This, coupled with the short feed crop, has curtailed fall feeding plans in most parts of the Corn-Belt. Fewer feeders have moved into this area from June to October. The spread between choice and the poorer grades of cattle has been narrow this year, but is expected to widen this winter due to reduced feeding in the corn belt.

If urban ncomes increase during the next year, beef demand will probably increase with some beneficial effect upon prices. It is expected that the market for the choice and good grades of beef will be fairly strong until about June because of the curtailed feeding in the Corn Belt area.

A substantial reduction in cow numbers seems necessary before the cattle industry as a whole is again upon a profitable basis.

Barz Families Met For Annual Thanksgiving Dinner

Henry Barz and family entertained the following to a goose dinner on Thanksgiving day: Fred Barz and family; Lester Hartbeck and family Will Barz and family; Albert Barz and family; Ethel Barz of Cedar Falls; Mrs. Lena Schroeder and Odela; Max Barz; Grandpa Barz; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Barz and baby; Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Barz and baby; and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Barz.

Surprise On Grandpa Barz

Mrs. Lena Schroeder planned a surprise on Grandpa Barz Tuesday, Dec. 5th in honor of his 83rd birthday. She invited in eight of his old time friends who did justice to the fine birthday dinner, as well as help Grandpa Barz recall many happy memories of the past. Those present were: Fred Greiman, Sr., Henry Katter, Sr., George Born, Henry Wille, Wm. Schmidt, Charles Kraus, Dr. Zinn and Rev. Grosshuesch. Grandpa Barz was real sick this past spring but he is feeling fine again and the Times joins with his many friends in wishing him many more years full of health.

POOL CHRISTMAS GIFT MONEY

One Gift for Whole Family May Be Practical This Year

This is not a year in which the majority of people will be able to spend money for inconsequential, useless Christmas gifts, according to Miss Joanne M. Hansen, head of the Aplied Art Department at Iowa State College.

But that does not mean that the very pleasantest, happiest Christmas of all years may not be spent by all who have the necessities of life.

If this year, instead of buying individual gifts for each member of the family, all the members would pool their Christmas and buy something that the family needs such as new china, a piece of furniture or even a kitchen stove, the money would be an investment that would bring satisfaction and comfort to the family for years to come.

In homes where the budget will be even more limited, Christmas need not go by unnoticed. A family can make it a "Fix up the Home for Christmas." Slip covers for davenports or chairs make the pieces seem like new. A coat of paint on a portion of the inside of the house so that it wil be ready for Christmas would be a satisfying gift for the whole family. New curtains or handmade rugs would be gifts that would be year-long satisfactions.

There are dozens of things clever sons or fathers might make for gifts footstools, closet shelves and homemade dressing tables. In addition they may refinish furniture. Books and magazines are inexpensive family gifts that will bring real pleasure to all.

VAGABONDS OPEN SEASON AT GARNER FRIDAY NIGHT

The Klemme Vagabonds, independent basketball aggregation will open their 1933-34 cage season at Garner Friday night when they meet the Garner Independents in the final game of the evening's program. Several newcomers are on the Klemme squad this year and should be a helpful addition to the Town Tramps. There are fifteen men on the squad this year and all are exceedingly capable players. Games with Rudd and Rockford are scheduled for next week.

SHEEP KILLED BY DOGS

Ewald Josten reports that during the past week he has lost fifteen head of sheep which were killed by dogs. Friday night the dogs got into the yards and killed four sheep. Ewald is out gunning for the dogs and has already shot a couple.

When dogs once get the habit of killing sheep they will travel for miles to raid sheep pens.

ANOTHER GAME EXPERIMENT TO BE TRIED IN HANCOCK

Twenty-three opposums were turned loose northwest of Garner last week. The latest variety of fur bearing animals were trucked to Hancock County by Deputy State Game Warden Geo. B. Coon and he was assisted by the local deputy R. G. Grobaty, in distributing the animals along a dredge ditch bank.

'Possums are natives of the south and just how they will take to this climate remains to be seen. We may have anoher added sport, that of "'posum huntin'" in north Iowa in a few years.

DEFEATED SWALEDALE LAST TUESDAY NIGHT

Friday night the Shamrocks journey to Ventura where they will attempt to annex another victory over the Ventura five. Earlier in the season on the local floor the boys in green and white defeated Ventura 35-14. However, last year after winning an easy victory on the Ventura floor, Coach Brietske's turned around and handed the Shamrocks a defeat on their own floor. So it may be that the Ventura boys may hand the Shamrocks another defeat this year.

The Klemme High Shamrocks journeyed to Swaledale last Tuesday evening and both the first string and the reserves showing themselves far superior to anything Swaledale had to offer. In fact the Klemme Reserves held the Swaledale first string easily in the part of the game they played. The Shamrocks came back to their original form after ther defeat by Goodell and played heads up basketball.

SOWER, SEED AND SEAL SALE

It was the great physician Sir William Osler who used the parable of the sower as a direct application of the manner in which tuberculosis is acquired by human beings. In the case of tuberculosis, the sower is the patient who through lack of knowledge or carelessness, scattters the seed (the disease germs), which takes root in the bodies of other persons, oftenest early in life. The seed later brings forth fruit in a harvest of tuberculosis individuals or patients. Years may elapse between planting and harvest but the result is as certain as with types of illness which develop within a week after exposure.

Of Tuberculoss it may be said that there have been from time to time, cures and rumors of cures Years ago there was an alleged remedy but expectations were nit realized. Recently it was announced that germs of tuberculosis could be destroyed by new method, but authorities on the subject have issued a prompt warning. The many who suffer from this disease and the millions of mankind, interested in the welfare of the tuberculosis, cannot now rely on any specific remedy leading to immediate recovery. We depend as much as ever upon the stimulating effect of the open air, the healing brought about by prolonged rest (often aided by operative procedure and the increased resistance which accompanies right diet, medical and nursing care. With these measures, thousands of patients have slowly but surely been restored to a large measure of health and lived abundantly to 'three score years and ten'.

"There is no cure to match prevention" insists the Iowa State Departmnt of Health, "and this applies paricularly to tuberculosis." Unfortunately this malady limits the activities of its victims during the most productive period of life. From the economical standpoint, no other disease places a heavier burden upon relatives and communities than does tuberculosis. National, State and County Tuberculosis associations have for more than a quarter of a century waged a successful struggle against the ravages of the disease. One of the most powerful offensive weapons has been and is today, the little Christmas seal. This year, as never before, local organizations must depend upon the seal sale to support local health agencies to discover active cases of tuberculosis, to arrange for the examination of children who have been exposed, to provide for X-ray examination of those infected and to protect such children from further exposure. In a very real sense the purchase of Christmas seals is vitally essential to prevent the seed from finding fruitful soil in our children.

NO P. T. A. PROGRAM FOR THIS MONTH

Because of the many school activities, including the grade operetta and Junior Play, the P. T. A. committee has decided to postpone the December meeting, so there will be no P. T. A. meeting until in January.

Last month we had five 100 spelling booklets and seven above 90.

We are beginning to decorate the room for Christmas.

Dorance Grange was absent from grade six on Wednesday afternoon.

The following were on the honor roll this six weeks: Keith Stille, Jacqueline Kudje, Shirley Johnson Dorance Grange, Cecil Leitzinger.

Come to the grade operetta, "Santa's Air Line" on Friday, Dec. 8th at 8:00 p. m., high school gym. Admission 10c-25c.

Lesson for December 10

PAUL IN CESAREA

LESSON TEXT—Acts 24:10-23.
GOLDEN TEXT—And herein do I exercise myself, to have always a conscience void of offense toward God, and toward men Acts 24.16
PRIMARY TOPIC—A Returned Missionary.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Prisoner Before a King.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How to Have a Good Conscience.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Christ's Way of Life.

I. Paul Tarrying in Philip's House (Acts 21:8-14). He was bound for Jerusalem. On his journey thither he took up his abode with Philip who had so successfully wrought as an evangelist in the early days of the church. While entertained in this home, Agabus, by symbolic act using Paul's girdle, portrayed the binding of Paul at Jerusalem. The meaning of the words of the disciples at Tyre is to be understood in the light of the Spirit's revelation through Agabus. To the Tyrian disciples the Spirit made known the fact that suffering awaited Paul. To Agabus the Spirit made known what kind of suffering. The same Spirit made known to Paul what awaited him at Jerusalem and sent him forward into it.

II. Paul before Felix (Acts 24:1-27).

1. Paul arrested in Jerusalem (Acts 21:18-40). Paul, at the advice of the elders of the church of Jerusalem, took a Jewish vow in order to conciliate the Jews. Even if it did conciliate the Jewish brethren, it greatly enraged the unbelieving Jews, inciting them to mob Paul. On the basis of supposition these maddened Jews dragged him from the temple and beat him unmercifully, intending to put him to death.

2. Paul accused (Acts 24:1-9). Paul is now in the hands of Felix who determined to hear his case after his accusers had come from Jerusalem. The case against him was formally presented by Tertullus, a Roman lawyer. The charge contained four counts:

(a) A pestilent fellow (v. 5). This would indicate a fellow utterly base and corrupt—a plague.

(b) An inciter of rebellion (v. 5). This they hoped would bring him into conflict with the Roman power.

(c) The ringleader of a sect (5). The aim in this charge was to throw contempt and suspicion upon the Christians, thereby bringing Paul into deeper trouble.

(d) Profanity of the temple (v. 6). In this charge they wilfully suppressed facts.

3. Paul defends himself (vv. 10-21). This defense is a superb example of the strength and dignity of a man whose life is actuated by a noble purpose. Observe:

(a) Paul's frankness and courtesy (v. 10). He freely recognized the fact that Felix had been ruler long enough to be able to form a just judgment, and assumed that Felix would render a decision on the basis of facts.

(b) Charge of sedition denied (vv. 11, 12). He showed the utter falsity of the charge on the ground of the shortness of time, and also on the ground of his conduct while in the temple, even challenging proof of their accusation.

(c) Charge of heresy (vv. 14-16). This he met by a concession and a denial. He admitted that he was of this "way" which they called heresy, but denied that Christians were heretics. He showed that his actions were in keeping with the Hebrew religion, worshiping the same God, believing in the same Scriptures and had the same hope of a coming resurrection of the dead.

4. Felix trembles before Paul (vv. 22-27). Wicked as was Felix, Paul's manner won his favor though it did not secure the apostle's release.

III. Paul before Agrippa (Acts 26:26).

The occasion of his appearing before Agrippa was the visit of Agrippa and Bernice to Festus. More than two years had elapsed since the trial before Felix. During this time the Jewish hatred for him had not abated. Upon the arrival of these guests they expressed a desire to hear Paul. Before these distinguished personages Paul boldly witnessed. The gospel should be preached to all, regardless of wealth or station in life. As a result of Paul's defense Agrippa was almost persuaded.

Ideals

As we advance into life, out of larger experience of the world and of ourselves, are unfolded the ideals of what will be possible to us if we make the best use of the world and of ourselves taken as we are.

Greatest of Mistakes

The greatest mistake which Christians have ever made is in thinking that charity is the beginning and the middle and the end of all religion. It is the end, as peace is the end of war. It is not the beginning.

AGRICULTURE IS BEHIND INDUSTRY IN RECOVERY

Economists Begin New Series Of Discussions of Recovery Plans

The initial spurt of recovery from the doldrums of 1929-32 sems to have run its course—industry seems to be materially better off than it was a year ago—the condition of agriculture has not been much improved.

Thus Geoffrey Shepard, Iowa State College agricultural economist sumarizes the economic position of the United States today in a bulletin entitled, "The Economic Situation, 1933,' soon to be published. The bulletin is the first in a series named "Prospects for Agricultural Recovery," which is to be published by the Agricultural Economics Department of Iowa State College thru the winter months.

In other words, the bulletin says, the country has struggled part way up the slope of recovery to the ledge or plateau; industry is in the lead and agriculture is some distance behind.

Whether we are to climb further and whether agriculture will catch up with industry are questions the answer to which will be partly determined by the recovery program of the government.

In picturing the steps that have been made toward recovery from depression so far, Professor Shepard says that the psychological atmosphere of the country changed last spring—that the attitude became cautiously optimistic, instead of pessimistic. Buying started because people expected prices to rise. Some people believe that the recovery swing was started by natural recuperative forces. Others believe that the emergency legislation started the ball rolling. At any rate, it started.

Agricultural prices, especially those of speculative commodities, rose rapidly, then receded in July. It was expected that agricultural prices, which had fallen furthest, would rise the most. This was only partly true. Agricultural prices are only slightly more improved from their February, 1933, position than are general commodity prices.

Agricultural purchasing power is now only slightly better than last February. This isn't quite a true picture of the situation , however. Cotton farmers have benefited immensely from reduction contract payments and wheat and hog farmers have received some benefits. Hog farmers received premium payments on pigs that were marketed under the emergency buying program of the government.

Profesor Shepard points out that the improvement in farm prices has been uneven. Some products have risen considerably, such as corn, wheat and oats. Others, such as eggs, meat animals and hay, have not improved as much.

Empty stomachs are dangerous things.

FINDING MONEY--

A family near Klemme purchased a nice new Parlor Furnace and put the old heater away in a closet, where it remained hidden for ten years. One day Wellemeyer was delivering a Bed Outfit to this home and he spied the old heater and asked to take it to town and sell it for them. This heater brought $6.00 when it was sold. "Well, well," said the lady, when we settled with her, "It's just like finding money."

Every home has some extra piece of furniture which is not needed. In good times you can't sell such truck, but now, thanks to the depression, people are looking for such things providing they can get them cheap.

Your old furniture won't sell if it stays hidden away in your attic, or all covered with dust in the hay loft. But, it will sell at Wellemeyer's Store after it is repaired.

Look around and see what you can spare. We can tell you exactly what your old Furniture will bring at quick Cash Sale. Ask Us!

Corn-Hog Program Contract Is Further Explained

CONTRACT DESIGNED TO BE BRIEF AND EQUITABLE

Corn-Hog Agreement Provides For Reduction and Benefit Payments

Editor's Note: This is the fourth of a series of articles on the corn-hog program prepared by S. J. Oberhauser, county agent, and the Extension Service of Iowa State college to give readers of this paper a concise summary of the fundamental facts back of the program, what it is and what it proposes to do.

The corn-hog reduction contract announced by Secretary Wallace last week is designed to be as fair as possible to all farmers to secure a real adjustment in production and to provide the individual with a fair payment in return for his reduction.

The form is relatively simple, both the application and contract being included in four printed pages.

The contract calls for a reduction in corn acreage of 0 percent below the average acreage plnted to corn for 1932-33. The producer may, howver, retire from corn production as many aces in excess of 20 percent as he desires, but the genefit payment will be made only on an amount up to 30 per cent unless otherwise authorized by the Secretary of Agriculture

The signer of the contract als agrees to reduce in 1934 the number of hog litters farrowed on his farm and farowed by hogs owned by him not located on his farm, 25 percent below the annual average number of litters in 1932 and 1933. He also agrees to reduce the number of hogs marketed from such 1934 litters 25 per cent below the annual average number of hogs marketed in 1932-33.

The producer also agrees not to increase the following in 1934: the total acreage of crops planted for harvest plus contracted acres; th acreage planted to each crop designated as a basic commodity in the Agricultural Adjustment Act; the total acreage of feed crops of any kind; or the number of any kind of livestock designated as a basic commodity in the Agricultural Adjustment Act. A farmer signing the contract must not increase any of these items above the 1932 or 1933 amount, whichever is larger. The producer also agrees not to increase the number of feeder pigs bought in 1934 above the average number in 1932 and 1933.

The basic agricultural commodities named include wheat, cotton, field corn, hogs, rice, tobacco and milk and its products.

Signers of the contracts also agree not to increase in 1934 the total corn acreage on land owned operated or controlled by them which is not covered by the corn-hog reduction contract.

The contracted, or rented, acres may be used only as prescribed by administrative rulings. Unless authorized, the farmer shall not use the contracted acres except for planting additional permanent pasture, for soil improving nd erosion preventing crops, not to be harvested, for fallowing, for weed eradication or for planting farm woodlots.

The farmer agrees that any authorized agent of the corn-hog control associations or of the Secretary of Agriculture may have free access to his farm or to any records regardless of where located pertaining to the production or sle of any of the basic farm commodities.

The conbract specifies that the signer cannot sell or assign, in whole or in part, the contract or his claim to benefit papments under the contract. The contract also requires that the signer operate the farm throughout 1934, except as exempted by Administrative ruling. This means that the contract is drawn up for the farm on which the tenant will live next year.

In return for the performance of the producer, the Secretary of Agriculture on behalf of the United States, agrees to make a corn enefit payment or each contracted acre equal to 30 cents per bushel of the average yield of corn on that land minus the prorata share of the Administrative expenses of the county corn-hog control association. Fifteen cents per bushel will be paid as soon as possible after the contract is accepted and 15 cents per bushel on or after Nov. 15th, 1934.

The hog benefit payments will amount to $5 a head on the hogs the farmer is allowed to raise in 1934 under the contract. This payment also is subject to a deduction of the pro-rata share of the administrative expenses of the county corn-hog control associations. As soon after the contract is accepted as practical, $2 per head will be paid, $1 per head on or about Nov. 15, 1934 and $2 per head on or about February 1, 1935.

If the number of hogs in 1934 keting January 1, 1935, is in excess of the number to which the producer is entitled, $20 per head on each of the excess hogs will be deducted from the benefit payment. Or the secretary may require such excess to be disposed of as he directs. For failure to comply with the contract the Secretary may also declare it null and void.

Further details of the contract will be given next week.

At the close of the meeting a delicious lunch was served.

AUGUST BARZ HONORED WITH FAMILY REUNION AT 83

A reunion of the Barz families was held Sunday at the home of Mrs. Lena Schroeder in honor of August Barz 83rd birthday anniversary. At the noon hour forty-seven persons were served to a bounteous goose dinner. Nearly all of Mr. Barz children and their families were present as well as other relatives and friends.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lau and Milton and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Baack of Tracy, Minn.; W. Barz family of Garner; Lucille Gerk of Waterloo and the following from Klemme and vicinity: Henry Barz and family. Albert Barz and family; Mrs. Lena Schroeder and daughter, Adela; Emil Barz and son. Max; Mr. and Mrs. Martin Barz; Harvey Barz and family; Marvin Barz and family; Walter Rosendahl and family; Lester Hartbeck and family; Clarence Brouwer Fred Barz and family and Ernest Davis.

After the dinner all enjoyed visiting and talking over old times and having a general good time.

SHAMROCKS DEFEAT VENTURA IN OVERTIME ENCOUNTER

The Klemme High School Shamrocks chalked up another win on their side of the ledger Friday night when they journeyed to Ventura and defeated Coach Bill Breitske's boys 19-17 in a game that was forced into two overtime periods. The contest was nip and tuck all the way through, Ventura leading the first quarter 2-0. Klemme forged ahead at the half 7-6, the third period found Ventura again in the lead 12-11, the game ending in a 16-16 tie. During the first overtime session both teams chalked up a free throw and in the second overtime period Klemme looped the field goal that brought them victory.

The Klemme Reserves added another win to their long list of victories when they defeated the Ventura Seconds 13-10 in a hard fought battle. During the last three years the Shamrock reserve teams have cot up a remarkable record. Playing som thirty-odd games they have lost but three contests; one each to Corwith, Ventura and Kanawha. These three defeats were made last year, the 1931-32 team having an perfect season and the team this year has, so far, an unmarred record of 5 wins and no defeats.

Kanawha recently defeated the Goodell team, which is the only five that has been able to defeat the Klemme quintet this year.

Grades Take Freshness Out Of Freshmen Basketeers

One of the most thrilling games of basketball played on the local floor this season was played between the boys of Miss Ford's room and the High School Freshmen.

Shoafstall, Schuldt, Paul, Jorgenson, Grosshuesch and Ralston played for the grades. Simon, Keeper, Kaduce, M. Barz, Bachman and Schubert represented the freshmen.

The freshmen, who had the larger and more experienced team took an early lead and held it during the first half. The graders came back the second half with a fighting spirit and better teamwork. The freshmen seemed to be tired and their team work was poorer. Keeper fouled four times and left the game at the end of the third quarter. The grads finally won the game 22 to 21.

The results of this game show that the grades should have as good a team as other years.

High School Notes

Speakers Choose Readings

Those who are going to participate in declamatory work this year will choose their readings before the holidays. Our home contest is scheduled for the first of February. We also expect to have one division of the county contest here this year.

Coach Kingery Was Ill

Mr. Kingery was forced to be out of school last week on account of illness. Mrs. Kingery taught his classes during his absence.

We are enjoying our new magazines. Among them are the Literary Digest, the Readers Digest and Popular Science. A magazine to supplement home economics work has also been ordered.

Raymond Drake visited school Monday.

Harold Jost and Asa Gibbs constructed a water pump to be used in the experiment on linear expansion in physics. The boys used part of a pencil sharpener, a model T Ford, telephone, rubber hose and what not. The pump worked and is a useful peice of apparatus. Jost, Gibbs, Larsan, Keraus, Black, Baack, Drake in fact all the Senior boys have been doin many experiments in addition to the required ones.

Grades 1 and 2

Both grades are having Christmas stories and poems this week.

We are making plans for our decorations for the Christmas tree and for our room.

2nd grade are helping with the sand table project.

1st grade dramatized the story of "Little Red Riding Hood."

Julia Bell, Eugene Larsen, Corrine Merkel and Wesley Lau had 100 in spelling Friday.

Grades 3 and 4

The third and fourth grades are learning a Christmas poem "A Visit from St. Nicholas" for language.

We have decided to postpone our birthday party until the Christmas party a week from Friday.

The fourth grade have finished Unit One in History. They are making booklets containing stories about early discoveries.

Grades 5 and 6

Della Kaduce is back with us again after being absent for a week

Donald Lemke was absent from grade six last week.

Friday the fifth and sixth grades drew names for their Christmas party.

Last week Thursday Gertrude Grosshuesch had a birthday and treated all the members of grades five and six to candy and peanuts in honor of the event.

Grades 7 and 8

The seventh grade is beginning the study of Europe in Geography. We have some new work books to use.

We have two new magazins on our reading table. They are "The American Girl" and "The American Boy."

Chester Ward, Avis Barz, George Netland and Eugene Kluckhohn were absent Monday.

We expect to have a Christmas tree in our room sometime this week.

Mrs. J. L. Ralston entertained the W. F. M. S. members and many friends last Thursday afternoon. A fine meeting was enjoyed and a delicious lunch was served. At the supper hour Rev. and Mrs. Ralston entertained the following friends and neighbors: J. C. Thomas and family, R. A. Waterman and family, Erick Jorgenson and family and Josten.

Process Tax Applies To Farmer Who Is A Seller

PROCESSING TAX ON SALE OF PORK OR LARD

Farmers who sell dressed pork or lard must pay the processing tax. Any one who wilfully attempts to evade this tax is subject to imprisonment or a fine of $10,000 or both. The Bereau of Internal Revenue is to enforce the law. Farmers who are selling pork or lard should get and fill out the proper forms and pay the tax when it is due.

The provisions of the law are rather simple. The tax is charged on the live weight of the hogs and the live weight is considered the weight at the time of slaughter. In the event a farmer buys a few hogs from someone else for slaughter and sale of dressed pork, he can compute the tax on the purchase weight if the hogs are butchered within three days.

The object of the processing tax is to increase farm prices so it is only fair that this tax be paid by farmer butchers just as it is paid by the packers. The amount of the tax is as follows: Nov. 5 to 30 inclusive, 50 cents per hundredwight; Dec. 1 to 31, one dollar per hdw.; January 1 to 31, $1.50 per hdw.; after Feruary 1st two dollars per hundredweight.

Under the law the tax is due at the end of each of these periods and after February at the end of each month. The government allows thirty days for payment.

In order to comply with the law farmer butchers must write to their nearest collector of internal revenue and secure form C-4. Complete directions for filling out the form will be provided. The form must be signed before a Notary Public and mailed to the collector with the payment due.

In the event a farmer butchers a have to pay the tax on the part that is sold. If this is half a hog the problem of figuring the tax is very simple. In the event that he sells only certain parts, hams for instance, he has to pay according to a definite rate covering such sale.

Failure to make and file a return within the thirty day limit provided by law will subject the offender to an additional tax of 25 per cent In case a fradulent return is made there can be added 50 percent to the returns. A person who wilfully attempts to evade the tax is subject to imprisonment or to a fine of $10,000 or both.

Farmers do not have to pay any tax on hogs raised and butchered for their own family or for the help on the arm. A farmer cannot butcher a hog for other people without paying the tax. This would not stop an exchange of wrk in butchering which is a common factor. It is illegal, however, for a person to go out and buy a hog and hire someone to butcher it for him just to evade the tax. Even if he buys a hog and butchers it himself for his own use he is still liable for the tax.

Farmers who sell pork or lard should be sure to keep careful records of all hogs butchered and products sold to show the government inspector if he should want to check up.

MERLIN BUSS PASSED AWAY AT IOWA CITY HOSPITAL

Merlin, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Buss, recent residents of Klemme and who now reside at Columbus City, passed quietly way at an Iowa City hospital where he had been a patient for the past several weeks.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 1:30 at the Mrs. Eelko Buss home and at the Methodist church at 2 p m. Interment will be made in the Klemme Cemetery.

VAGABONDS LOSE INITIAL GAME OF SEASON TO GARNER

The Klemme Vagabonds dropped their initial game of the season to the Garner Independents on the Garner floor Friday night 40-21. Next Monday evening the Vagabonds will open their home schedule when they meet the fast Britt Independents on the local floor. This promises to be a fast game with plenty of action. On Tuesday, Dec. 19, the locals will play the strong Renwick Independents at Renwick.

YOUNG KLEMME MAN HAS FINE POSITION AT IOWA CITY

Another young Klemme man who is making good is Raymond Schuldt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wes Schuldt. Raymond for some time has been clerk in one of the largest hotels in Iowa City. His work keeps him quite busy, but occasionally he can find time for a few days visit at home and so on his recent trip to Klemme he spent Thanksgiving and a few days visiting with his parents and friends.

Raymond has been working in hotels now for several years and after his studies in high school he went to Mason City where he started on his career. He likes his work and applied himself and learned all he could about the business and is now reaping his reward by holding down a responsible otel position.

PAUL IN ROME

LESSON TEXT- Acts 28:11-31.

GOLDEN TEXT—I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus. Philippians 3 14

PRIMARY TOPIC- Paul Has Guests.

JUNIOR TOPIC--Paul's Journey to Rome.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Goals to be Reached

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Finding and Fulfilling God's Purpose.

Rome was the center of the world's power and influence. Paul expressed a longing to see Rome (Romans 1:11). His object so far as the Roman church was concerned was twofold.

First, that he might impart to them some spiritual gift, to the end that they might be established.

Second, that he might be comforted by their fellowship.

His vision no doubt extended beyond the Roman church. His hope was that from that metropolis the gospel might find its way to all parts of the world.

I. Paul's Voyage to Rome (Acts 27).

1. The ship (vv. 1-6). It was a vessel of Alexandria sailing from Myra to Italy.

2. The company (vv. 1, 2). Two of Paul's friends, Aristarchus and Luke, were permitted to go with him. Besides these three there were two hundred and seventy-three in the ship (v. 37).

3. Overtaken by a storm (vv. 7-20). Paul had advised that they spend the winter in Fair Havens, (vv. 8-12) but his advice was not heeded. The gentle south wind deceived them so they loosed from Crete, only to be overtaken by the tempestuous wind called Euroclydon. They did everything possible to save the ship.

4. Paul's serene faith (vv.21-26).

(a) His rebuke for failure to heed his advice (v. 21). This was more than a taunt, it was a reminder of the wisdom of his former advice urging them to give to him a respectful hearing.

(b) Bids them to be of good cheer (v. 22).

(c) Promises them safety (v. 22). He assured them that though the ship would go to pieces, every man's life would be saved.

(d) The source of his information (vv. 23 24). It was revealed unto him by the angel of God.

(e) The reason for Paul's faith (v. 23). The consciousness of having been chosen by God and being engaged in his service enabled him in the midst of the most violent storm to rest in God.

5. The ship's crew all safe on land (Acts 27:27-8:10). This was exactly as the Lord had promised.

(a) The hospitable reception by the natives (v. 2). They built a fire and made the shipwrecked people as comfortable as possible in the cold and rain.

(b) Paul gathering sticks for the fire (v. 3). In this he was like his Master, ministering rather than being ministered unto.

(c) Paul bitten by a poisonous serpent (v. 3). Among the sticks gathered there was a serpent. When warmed by the fire this serpent darted at Paul and fixed its fangs upon his hand. At first the natives thought he was an escaped murderer and that retributive justice was being meted out to him. When they saw he was not harmed they concluded he was a god.

(d) Paul heals Publius' father (vv. 7-10). He now reciprocated the kindness of these people. Others came also for healing.

II. Paul's Arrival at Rome (28: 11-16).

1. Tarrying with the brethren at Puteoli (vv. 11-14).

2. Met by brethren from Rome. (v. 15). They came some forty miles to meet him. This greatly encouraged him and moved him to give thanks to God.

3. Living in his own hired house (v. 16). He was treated with great leniency, being allowed to live apart in his own hired house even though he was constantly under guard.

III. Paul's Ministry in Rome (17-31).

1. His conference with the leading Jews (17-22). He did not wait for the Sabbath day to speak to the Jews, but after a three days' rest he called the chief Jews together in order to have a fair understanding with them.

2. Paul expounding the kingdom of God and persuading concerning Jesus (23-31). He pointed out a real kingdom with the historic Jesus as King. To Paul the kingdom meant a definite reign of a definite person, not merely an improved state of society.

A Fine Food

Butter is everybody's food. It is food for the deicate, or for the robust child—for the man who weilds the sledge or produces brain work—for the sick and well, and for the rich and poor alike.

Butter is concentrated energy. The body needs it and the stomach absorbs 98 percent of all butter eaten. It contains life giving substances not present in any other food. These substances are called vitamins and are necessary for growth.

Remember that butter is more than a fat. It is a life-promoting and health-producing food.

CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE IN FULL SWAY IN HANCOCK COUNTY

Mrs. C. E. Barnes, county chairman of the Christmas Seal Sale has stated that the first of rural teachers to bring returns from school was Miss Henrietta Nelson from Ell No. 3. All of her families bought some seals and her returns averaged 38 cents per family. She also had her health progamme the day before Thanksgiving. We thank Miss Nelson and congratulate her for her interest in health. She will receive a prize for her school. The other teachers to return their money within the first week and who had a hundred percent in families buying seals were: Geneva Hannan, Garfield 6; Selma Michelson, Amsterdam 7; Elma Zwald, Garfield 1; Alice Morrissey, Madison 5; Herman Naefke, Orthel 3; Maybelle Steen, Erin 5; Bertha Johnson, Ell 8; Dora Swanson, Ell 7.

The money from the seal sale returns in the towns are very satisfactory. The money will help defray the T. B Survey held recently in Hancock Co. and the Tuberculin test given to the ones who were found to have had a contact. The Dental Plan is also to be cnried out in the schools the same as it has been the past four years. We are to put across the idea to the children to keep their mouths clean and healthy by visiting the dentist twice a year and other good health habits. The dentists of the county are cooperating with the movement the same as usual.

Not every boy can become a Ford, an Edison, or a Rockefeller, but everyone who is not afraid or ashamed to work can make an honorable and useful place for himself and he doesn't have to begin in a "white-collar" job either.

The beautiful service sponsored by the W. F. M. S. and the Standard Bearer girls was an inspiring meeting. The Missionary spirit in the church is the spirit that keeps our religious life at the best. When we lose concern for the moral and spiritual welfare of others our spiritual life is of little value. Methodism has grown because it has had in mind what its founder, John Wesley, said, "The World is my Parish. Today our church has mission work in forty-two countries. The Missionary spirit is carryng the cross to non-christian lands.

Lesson for December 24

A VISION OF WORLD PEACE

LESSON TEXT—Isaiah 11:1-9.

GOLDEN TEXT—They shall not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountain; for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea Isa ah 11:9.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Peace on Earth.

JUNIOR TOPIC—The Prince of Peace.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—What Does Christmas Mean.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—A Christian Christmas.

Isaiah does not set forth merely an ideal for a world at strife. The fact is revealed that Jesus Christ shall come back to the earth and establish a kingdom, and remove from men's hearts the cause of strife. Instead of a vision of "World Peace" a better statement of the subject would be "The Universal Reign of Jesus Christ."

I. Who Is This King? (v. 1).

1. He is the Son of Man. "A child is born" (Isa. 9:6). The one who shall reign over all the world as king is a real human being. The eternal Son of God, incorporated with the human race in order to be its Saviour and Lord, shall come of David's line.

2. He is the Son of God. "A son is given" (Isa 9:6). As the eternal Son of God he was not "born" but "given." This son "given" is the "Mighty God," the "Everlasting Father." Being such he will take the "government upon his shoulders," that is, he will assume all authority. He is "Wonderful." The world will marvel at him He is the all-wise "Counsellor." Therefore there will be no mistake made in his conduct of the affairs of the kingdom. He is the "Prince of Peace."

II. The King's Qualification (v. 2).

The king which the world needs and for which it longs must have superhuman wisdom and power. There shall rest upon him:

1. "The spirit of the Lord."

2. "The spirit of wisdom," giving insight into all things, human and divine.

3. "The spirit of understanding," giving him the ability to use that which is highest and best.

4. "The spirit of counsel," enabling him intelligently to plan and administer the affairs of the kingdom.

5. "The spirit of might"—ability to execute his plans.

6. "The spirit of knowledge," enabling him to perceive the will of God in all things.

7. "The fear of the Lord," causing him to be reverential and obedient.

III. The Character of the King's Reign (vv 3-5).

1. "He shall not judge at the sight of his eyes." His knowledge is perfect. None can deceive him.

2. "Not reprove after the hearing of the ear." The word "reproof" means decide. His decisions, therefore will be on the basis of fact, not of heresay.

3. "With righteousness shall he judge the poor" When Christ reigns as king the poor shall get justice.

4. "Shall smite the earth with the rod of his might." By the "earth" is meant the wicked inhabitants.

5. "He shall be girded with righteousness and faithfulness." He is absolutely righteous and will faithfully carry out all his words.

IV. The Issue of the King's Reign (vv 6-10)

Here is a picture of the glorious golden age of which poets have sung and for which the great and wise men of all the ages have longed and looked There will then be peace both between men and animals.

1. "The wolf shall dwell with the lamb" (v. 6). The word "dwell" suggets intimacy as if the lamb should receive the wolf into its home.

2. "The leopard shall lie down with the kid" (v. 6).

3. "The calf and the young lion and the fatling together" (v. 6). They are so gentle and kind that a little child shall lead them.

4. "The cow and the bear shall feed" (v. 7).

5. "The lion shall eat straw" (v. 7). The lion shall no longer prey upon other animals for food.

6. "The suckling child shall play on the hole of the asp" (v. 8).

7. "The earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord" (v. 9). The issue of this glorious reign shall be the attraction of the Gentile nations (vv. 10-12). This is the real purpose of the coming kingdom.

Piety Comes First

No student can afford to say, as some unfortunately do, "I will secure my education first and my religion afterward." Religion is a value so important that it cannot safely be postponed or side-tracked in favor of any lesser concern.

How Sweet Is Rest!

Rest! How sweet the sound! It is melody to my ears! It lies as a reviving cordial at my heart, and from thence sends forth lively spirits which beat through all the pulses of my soul!

Stromer Funeral Services Held Sunday Afternoon

HENRY STROMER DIED LAST WEEK THURSDAY MORNING

Had Been Resident of Liberty Twp. And Klemme For 55 Years

Funeral services for Mr. Henry Stromer were held at the Klemme Reformed Church Sunday afternoon December 17, 1933. Rev. Calvin Grosshuesch, pastor, delivered the funeral oration. He used for his text Psalm 90-12: "So teach us to number our days that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom." The text which he used in the German part of the sermon was Psalm 17-15: "Ich aber will schlanen dein Antlitz. Ich will satt werden wenn ich erwache."

A mixed quartette composed of Edwin Thieman, Harvey Barz, Miss Mabel Schuldt and Mrs. Floyd Hackley sang three numbers. Miss Viola Thieman accompanied at the piano.

The pall bearers were John Terhufen, Herman J Stille, John Bock, Herman Priebe, Wm C. Schmidt, and Aug. C. Schuldt. Interment was made at the Klemme Cemetery.

Obituary

Henry Stromer was born on the 11th day of September, in the year of our Lord 1869, at Chicago, Ill. He was baptized in the Lutheran Church and during his childhood days attended the Luheran Parochial school for several years. At the age of 9 years he came to Hancock County, Iowa, with his parents, who made their home on a farm 2½ miles west of Klemme. Here he lived until 2½ years ago when he movd to Klemme with his family, and his son, Paul, took charge of the farm.

He attended the confirmation class of the Ell Town Reformed Church during his boyhood days, being confirmed there by Rev. Mosebach, May 6th, 1883. On the 29th of June, 1897, he was united in marriage to Miss Elizabeth Ax. Rev. John Gaterman performed the ceremony. Three daughters and one son were born to this union. Mr. Stromer was an active and faithful member of the Klemme Reformed Church. He served his congregation as deason from 1900-1904, as Sunday School Supt. 1908-1915 and from 1917-1920 and as an elder 1922-1926. Mr. Stromer was a lover of music, he was a faithful member of the choir and at various times he served as director of the Mixed and Men's choirs. During the last years he was often called upon to teach the Young People's Sunday School Class. He took special delight in this work and spent many hours in diligent study of God's Word.

In Liberty township he was elected to various township offices. Mr. Stromer loved his home and with Mrs. Stromer took a great interest in the welfare of the children. The children will ever regard the influence of this Christian home as a most valuable possession. On Thanksgiving Day Mr. Stromer became ill very suddenly. His condition improved and there was hope that he might recover. However God called him from this earth on Thursday morning, Dec. 14th, at the age of 64 years, 3 months and 3 days.

Surviving him and mourning his untimely death are: his wife; three daughters, Mrs. Victor Hueneman, Dalia and Norma; one son, Paul; a sister, Mrs. Julius Priebe; four grandchildren and many other relatives and friends.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our thanks for the many acts of kindness and deep expressions of sorrow shown during our recent sorrow by our friends and neighbors. Also for the beautiful floral offerings.

Mrs. Henry Stromer
Mrs. Victor Hueneman
Dalia, Norma and Paul Stromer

Teachers Held Christmas Party For Board Members

The Klemme teachers are surely a fine group. They are always on the alert to do their part. Tuesday evening they entertained he school board members and their wives and the janitor and his wife. The evening was much enjoyed, playing Christmas games and visiting. A fine lunch consisting of ice cream, cake and coffee. They also had Christmas gifts for each of their guests.

MASONIC AND EASTERN STAR OFFICERS ELECTED FOR 1934

New offices for both the Masonic and Eastern Star Chapter were chosen at the last regular meetng of those organizations.

Eastern Star Elect

Last Friday evening was a busy session for the Eastern Star Chapter at Garner, as in addition to the regular meeting and election of officers for the coming year, the Chapter also put on degree work.

The following officers were elected to serve for the coming year: Worthy Matron, Mrs. Chas. Grau; Worthy Patron, Chas. Grau; A. M, Mrs. G. A. Bemis; A P., Chas Bethke; Conductress, Mrs. J. R. Mounce A. C., Mrs Chas Bethke; Sec, Mrs M. N. Zeiger; Treasurer, Mrs E. F. Wetterling.

At the close of the meeting the Past Worthy Matron, Mrs. R A. Jorgenson, and the Past Worthy Patron, R. A. Jorgenson, presented all of the officers with a little gift of appreciation for the fine co-operation given during the past year.

MARJORIE ANDERSON AND ROY WADDINGHAM WERE MARRIED MONDAY AFTERNOON

Roy Waddingham, son of Wm Waddingham, and Miss Marjorie Anderson, daughter of Chris Anderson were united in marriage Monday afternoon, December 18th, 1933 at 2:00 o'clock at the Klemme Reformed Parsonage, with the Rev. Calvin Grosshuesch officiating.

The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Tony Tebbens. The bride wore a violet flat crepe dress and the groom was attired in a brown suit.

For the present this young couple will make their home with her father and in the spring they will go to house keeping on a farm located south and east of Klemme.

A reception will be given for the happy couple at the Garner Opera House on Friday evening of this week.

The Times joins their many friends in extending congratulations and best wishes.

COUNTY FARM BUREAUS TO CONTINUE AAA SUPPORT

Hancock County Group Hears A. B. Myhr Speak

Garner, Dec. 19—Approval of the administration program for improving agriculture and the work accomplished in federal financing of farm mortgages and home owners' loans, which it urged be continued, was voiced by the Hancock county Farm Bureau at its thirteenth the annual meeting yesterday in the I. O. O. F. hall when two hundred were in attendance.

Co-operation with Secretary Henry Wallace was pledged and continued work to aid the Farm Bureau. The resolution committee consisted of Fred Arnold of Klemme, Verne Grau of Garner and O. N. Johnston of Garner.

A. B. Myhr, Thompson, second district committeeman for the Farm Bureau, in an address said the united effort of the Farm Bureau had been of great assistance to the entire administration in making possible the constructive suggestions by leaders who were posted on agricultural conditions.

Mr. Myhr brought out in detail important phases of the American National Farm Bureau meeting he'd in Chicago last week. He pleaded for the support of President Roosevelt and Henry Wallace, secretary of Agriculture. He said the best can only continue through organized effort of the farmers.

Annual reports were given by chairmen of the various organizations. Farm Bureau officers elected included V. A. Cook, Goodell, president; Ben V. Greiman, Garner, vice president; Earl Ruka, Goodell, secretary, and Herman Gelner, Forest City, treasurer.

Mrs. Louis Weaver, Garner, was re-elected county home project chaiman and Mrs. Herman Gelner, Forest City, county 4-H girls' club chairman. Ben V. Greiman, Garner, was elected chairman for boys' work. Directors approved Fred Meinecke, Ellington twp; Walter Woiwood, Concord; Wille, Ell; Harry Oserburg, John Rust, Twin Lake; Bredlow, Liberty; Ernest Madison; and Lyle Fox, Ot End the old bug-bear of climbing basement stairs a dozen times a day . . just to attend the furnace. It isn't necessary. Use BLUE BEACON Coal. It holds fire longer . . . needs less attention. That is one of its many advantages. BLUE BEACON gives more heat than ordinary coals, too; leaves less ash, less soot. It's more economical to burn.

LOCAL FARMER GETS QUICK ACTION ON CORN LOAN

Received Check Six Days After Crib Was Sealed

Herman Stromer says he is well pleased with the way the corn loan is handled. Mr. Stromer's crib was sealed on December 13th whn 1300 bushels were turned in for a loan. On Dcember 19, just six days after Mr. Stromer's crib had been sealed he walked into the First National Bank here and received his check for $585. Herman is wearing a big smile these days and is enthusiastic and is strong for the corn-hog program.

August Kropp, another Klemme farmer, has also received his check for the corn he has sealed.

NORMAL CONSUMPTION WON'T SOLVE SURPLUS

Pork Consumption per Capita Less in Good Year of 1926 than in 1932

The statement frequently heard that "a return to normal pork consumption in the United States" is the solution to the present crisis in the corn-hog industry is shown to be incorrect by a comparison of supply and demand in 1926 with that of 1932.

Pork consumption per capita actually was larger in 1932 than in 1926, according to figures from the United States Department of Agriculture. The total consumption of all meat and lard, however, dropped about the same amount that pork consumption increased. When pork prices reach a higher level and the economic situation is adjusted, the public may consume less pork and more other meat as the price relationship changes.

In 1926 the people of the United States consumed the equivalent of 33, 392,000 head of hogs. In 1932, 45,245,000 head of hogs were processed under federal inspection. If this amount were reduced by 20 percent the supply world still total more than 36,196,000 head—three million more than were consumed in the United States in 1926.

During the marketing year, Oct. 1 1932, to Sept. 30, 1933, more than 47 million head of pigs were slaughtered, not including those bought and slaughtered for government account

In 1926, about 7 and a quarter million head of hogs were exported. The estimated number of head exported in 1933 will total 3 million head. Decreased export trade leaves an increasing amount of pork for the people of the United States to consume.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD HERE FOR MERLIN BUSS

Funeral services for Merlin, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Buss, were held at the Methodist Church last Thursday afternoon, with Rev. J. L. Ralston giving the sermon.

Merlin's former teacher, Miss Wilson and twenty three of her third and fourth grade pupils, attended the services in a body. Upon entering the church they passed by the beir and each pupil deposited a sprig of evergreen in a basket as a tribute to their departed classmate. As they reached the section reserved for them they sang the following:

"Saviour like a shepherd lead us,
Much we need thy tender care.
In the pleasant pasture feed us,
For Thy glory us prepare.
Blessed Jesus, Blessed Jesus,
Thou hast bought us thine we are"

Nora Wellemeyer and Doris Ludeke sang Merlin's favorite song, "In the Garden." A quartette composed of Emil Patet[illegible], C. A. Arnold, Glenna Gruetz[illegible]r and Ralph Ludeke sang "[illegible]n the Arms of Jesus" and "Pre[illegible]s Jewel".

The pall bearers were Milton Paul Lorraine Stille, Wayne Shoafstall, Ruben Grosshuesch, Chester Ward, and Wayne Buseman. Interment was made in the Klemme Cemetery.

Obituary

Merlin Dean Buss, was born February 25th, 1924, in Goodell, Iowa, the eldest of three children born to his parents Harry E. Buss and Lurley (nee) Wilson.

Merlin had reached the fourth grade in the Klemme Schools and was in Miss Wilson's room. He was a favorite among the younger school children and had won a place in the hearts of all by his pleasant and courteous disposition.

On Easter Sunday, in April 1924, he was baptized at the Methodist Church by Rev. Cauger. He was a regular attendant at Sunday School and had just completed the work in Mrs. P. W. Johnson's class.

A few weeks ago he moved with his parents to Columbus City, Iowa where his father has taken up the District Chorus work and other religious duties for the U. B. Church.

Shortly after the family arrived at Columbus City the boy became ill with what seemed to be a form of Brain Fever. Treatment at the Iowa City hospital could not stay the Grim Reaper and he passed away on Monday afternoon, Dec. 11th, 1933. He reached the age of 9 years 9 months and 16 days.

He leaves of his immediate family, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Buss, Columbus City, Iowa; one brother, Harlan; one sister, Harriet one grandmother, Mrs. Eelko Buss, Klemme, Iowa; one grandfather, George Wilson, Columbus, Indiana; and a host of other relatives and friends who sincerely mourn his passing.

WRIGHT COUNTY JAIL EMPTY FOR FIRST TIME IN 9 YEARS

For the first time since December 1924, nine years ago, the Wright county jail is now empty. No turkey or mince pie was served on Thanksgiving day, as no one was there to eat it. Earl Walrod of Eagle Grove and Evert Jones of Clarion were the last inmates, both being released the week before. Whether or not it will be necessary to prepare a Christmas dinner for one or more inmates remains to be seen.—Monitor.

REDUCTION PLAN LIKELY TO HELP HOG MAN MOST

Corn-Hog Plan Benefits Probably Will Vary Widely Among Farms

The farmer whose main enterprise consists of raising and feeding hogs stands to gain the greatest benefit from the corn-hog program of the AAA, according to Dr. John Hopkins of the Iowa State College Agricultural Economics Department.

In a short bulletin to be published soon on adjusing the individual farm to the corn-hog plan Dr. Hopkins states that the net benefits from the corn-hog program will differ widely among different types of farms and even among individual farms of the same type. The bulletin is one of a series that is being published by Iowa State College on prospects for agricultural recovery in Iowa.

Dr. Hopkins' bulletin does not touch upon the broad social question of the advantage or disadvantage of the plan, although he states that it must be recognized that some such plan is necessary. The bulletin is directed to the individual farmer to give him a method of determining the value of the program to him under different price conditions.

Dr. Hopkins examines in the bulletin the plan as it applies to several representative farms in Iowa. These farms are of different types for which records were available at the college.

The bulletin points out that the benefit to the individual farmer is not equal to the whole amount of the benefit payments. When balanced against decreased receipts from curtailed production, the total advantage to the individual farmer varies according to prices that are obtained. As prices for hogs and corn go up, the net benefit decreases. In the case of hog arms, the advantage is not lost until prices are considerably higher than the present level. In the case of dairy and beef cattle farms, however, where hog feeding is only minor, the advantage is more quickly lost when prices rise.

Dr. Hopkins emphasizes the fact that advantagest from 45-cent corn loan and possible soil improvement cannot be put down in black and white and that these are highly important factors which must be considered.

Mark Twain condemned polygamy on the ground that "no man can serve two masters".

Crystal Lake Performs On Local Court Thursday Eve

CONFERENCE LEADERS MEET SHAMROCKS HERE THURSDAY

Thursday night o this week the Crystal Lake Fishermen, last year's Champions and at present leading the Seven Eagles Conference race come to Klemme where they will play the Shamrocks in what promiss to be one of the best games on the local court this season Although the local team is rated the under-dog, they are as yet a team of undetermined quality Both team were able to nose out the Corwith five by the slim margin of a lone basket on their own floors. The local boys will have the advantage of playing on their home court on Thursday eve and there may be a decided upset At any rate the Crystal Lake boys will have to put their best foot forward if they expect to continue their undefeated record.

Jost Develops Blood Poison

The Shamrocks will be forced to play Thursday night without the services of Jost, regular center, who developed a case of blood poison as the result of an infection in his hand, which spread throughout his arm. Drake will be moved to center and Evert Barz will undoubtedly fill the vacant spot in the lineup. Barz is a dependable substitute who makes up for his lack of height with a good eye for the basket and a fighting heart

Probable lineups for the game will be:

Klemme	Vs.	Crystal Lake
Keeper	RF	I. Scanlan
E Barz	LF	Sorenson
Drake	C	Willis
Brown	RG	K. Scanlan
Keraus	LG	Rogeness

Start CWS Work

Shamrocks Lost To Kanawha Quintets

The Klemme High School basketeers journeyed to Kanawha Friday night and returned home with the short end of the score in both the first and second team games The Klemme boys seemed unable to work the ball down to the basket. nearly all their scoring attempts ended by their passing the ball into the hands of some Kanawha player This handicap was evened, however by the apparent inability of the Kanawha boys to put the ball through the basket, which they bombarded with long shots and short shots, from all sides and all angles, but missing, by far, the greatest majority of their attempts. So the two teams battled on even terms for three quarters. Kanawha led at the end of the first period 8-7 At the half the score was tied 11-11 and the third quarter ended 14-14. In the final period Kanawha started to find the hoop and sank three field goals and a gift shot, meanwhile holding the Shamrocks to 2 free throws and the game ended 21-16 in favor of the Kanawha Bulldogs.

Keraus played a whale of a defensive game for the Shamrocks, breaking up a majority of Kanawha offensive plays and holding his man without a field goal. And after his running mate, Brown had accumulated three fouls in the first quarter he managed to keep an eye on the other forward and between the two of them they managed to hold Cooper, speedy Kanawha forward, to only two field goals during the game. That the Klemme guards played a clean game is attested by the fact that Keraus had only one foul called on him during the entire game, while Brown, playing under the handicap of three fouls called on him in the first quarter, finished the game without being charged with the fourth foul. Keeper, Shamrock forward, failed to come through with his usual number of baskets and missed a number of nice shots. Drake played a good game at the other forward berth while Jost, was unable to shake his opponent long enough to connect from the field.

In the game between the Reserve teams Kanawha again defeated the Klemme teams 21-13., The Barz cousins were the whole show for Klemme on offensive plays, while Arnold did himself proud with his splendid defensive work. However the Kanawha boys proved too much for them and they bowed their heads in defeat for the first time this season.

Vagabonds Win Double-Header From Speedy Renwick Indies

The Klemme Vagabonds journeyed to Renwick Tuesday evening and emerged the victors in a double-header 24-21 and 21-11. In the first team game the Klemme boys started off with a bang, counting two baskets in the first 13 seconds of play and leading at the end of the first quarter 10-0. The second period the Renwick team got hot and the half ended with Klemme ahead 12-10. From then on the score went back and forth with Klemme finally winning 24-21.

The Vagabond Reserves prove too much for the Renwick Seconds. The got off to an early start and led at the half 16-2. The last half was played on evener terms, with the Klemme Reserves winning 21-11

VAGABONDS TO PLAY ANNUAL GAME WITH DIAMOND BREAD

Special Attraction Promised For Preliminary Game

The Klemme Vagabonds will play their annual tilt with the Diamond Bread five of Mason City on the local floor Friday evening. Klemme won the game last year by a margin of only a few points and this year's game promises to be a real battle.

The Diamond Bread team is bolstered this year by the addition of Connelly, Isaacson, Cookman, and Tompkins, former Dennison Tile players who defeated the locals twice last year. These men with Lennan, the other member of the quintet, all stand six feet high.

A question that has worried a number of local basketball fans to distraction will be settled Friday night. "Did we have a better high school team last year?" Why not come and find out? These two teams will meet in combat in the evening's preliminary game. The great Smid, the incomparable Kluckhohn, the speedy Bridges, the awesome Drake, and the towering Day, all stars of yesteryear will be pitted against this years team, composed of Drake, Keeper, Keraus, Brown and Barz or Jost, in the battle of the ages—a fitting opener for the feature game of the evening, the Vagabonds vs the Diamond Bread five.

VAGABONDS WIN CLOSE GAMES FROM KENYON'S ALL-STARS

The Klemme Vagabonds won a doubleheader from the Kenyon All Stars of Clear Lake on the local court Tuesday evening. Both games were real contests with the score in both being exceptionally close and tied up with but three minutes left to play. In each case the Klemme boys came through with two field goals to put the game on ice. The Vagabond reserves led at the half 11-8 and at the end of the third quarter were ahead 19-11. Clear Lake started to run in their first string men and tied the score at 19-all. Smid and C. Lemke came through with a goal apiece to put Klemme ahead.

In the feature game the score at the end of the first quarter was 8-6 with all points made by the centers, Gibbs and Anderson. Kenyon's led at the half 18-15. In the middle of the fourth quarter the count was tied at 26-26 and in this game Kingery and W. Lemke connected for the necessary points.

KLEMME EXCHANGE WINS TELEPHONE CAMPAIGN

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Anderson Win In Field Of Twenty Exchanges

The Iowa Union Telephone Co. have been staging a campaign for new telephone users during the past month among the twenty exchanges in this territory.

With each exchange allotted a quota of new telephones to be installed and that quota representing 100 per cent, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Anderson of the Klemme exchange brought their percentage up to 257 which won them first place and a trophy shield. Second place was won by Chariton with 188 per cent and third by St. Ansgar with 160 per cent.

Klemme is one of the smaller exchanges in the system, but despite this fact, there were only two other exchanges, Cahriton and Cresco, that installed more new telephones than did Klemme. Chariton installed 47, Cresco 30 and Klemme 18.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson received word this morning that they also won another campaign put on over 13 exchanges in Iowa. They have added 25 new telephones to the local exchange.

ELL TWP. FARM BUREAU GAVE PROGRAM

The December meeting of the Ell Township Farm Bureau was held in Dist. 4, Dec. 14. The program was opened by singing Christmas songs. The men gave a play entitled "Hiram and the Peddler."

After the program Santa Claus presented each one with a little present and pop-corn balls, peanuts and candy.

Refreshments were served by the men to a large crowd and all reported a fine time.

MR. AND MRS. HENRY WILLE HAD OPEN HOUSE XMAS DAY

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wille have again had a wonderful Christmas at their house. They entertained all the children and their families. All brought well filled baskets and a bounteous duck dinner was served to the following: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wille; Wm. Schlawin and family, Verner Schlawin and family, John Bock and family; Fred Greiman and family; Fred Bell and family; Carl Wille and family; C. J. Wille and family; Lester Hartbeck and family; Fred Barz and family; Albert Barz and family and Miss Ethel of Cedar Falls; Walter Rosendahl and family; Harvey Barz and family; Marvin Barz and family and Rev. Groeshuesch and family. The younger children sang their Christmas songs for Grandpa and Grandma Wille in the afternoon and were pleasantly surprised when their grandparents presented each of them with a sack of goodies.

SHAMROCKS LOSE TO CRYSTAL LACK IN REAL BATTLE

The Klemme Shamrocks were outpointed in the closing minutes of Thursday night's game by Crystal Lake to lose 27-22. The Klemme boys were full of fight and worked their opponents to the limit. The score was exceptionally close all the way thru. The Shamrocks did not seem visibly weakened by the loss of Jost, regular center. Evert Barz, who replaced him, played a splendid game and was a big barrier in the path of Crystal Lake's offensive attacks. Drake played perhaps the best game of his career and his performance was favorably commented upon by all. Keeper held down the famed Pat Scanlan in fine shape matching him basket for basket and getting but one less free throw than his opponent. Keraus, who had been absent from school the entire day due to illness was able to appear in uniform and together with his running mate Brown, again showed fans the real caliber of Klemme guards.

The Klemme Seconds also lost their game to the Crystal Lake Reserves 20-15. This was their second defeat in as many weeks. Haugland of Crystal Lake was high with 5 field goals and a free throw.

Although Klemme fans were disappointed to lose the game they expressed their satisfaction as to the fine game played by the local boys. Coach A. L. Kingery has cerainly built up a re-juvenated team. It would really be too much to expect that in two short months a coach could build a team that would be able to beat a team he had coached for three years, yet that is what Coach Kingery came within an ace of doing Thursday night.

MISS VERNA MAE ALFORD AND MR. VERNER STROMER WED AT BLAIRSBURG

The marriage of Miss Verna Mae Alford, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Alford of Blairsburg, to Mr. Verner A. Stromer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Stromer, of Klemme, was solemnized last Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents in Blairsburg by the Rev. H. T. Halbert, pastor of the Congregational church at Ionia.

They were attended by Elsie Eden of Rowan, as bridesmaid and Harold Stromer, brother of the bridegroom, as best man. Preceding the ceremony, Dorothy and Virginia Manion sang, "I Love You Truly," and "O Promise Me."

While the strains of "Lohengrin's Wedding March" were being played by Miss Loraine Streveler, the bridal party took their places before an improvised arch, banked with pink and white carnations and ferns, in the same location and exactly the same motif carried out in the decortions used by the bride's parents at their wedding.

Invocation was given by the Rev. C. C. Hobson and the impressive single ring service was read by the Rev. Halbert.

Mrs. Stromer spent her early life in Blairsburg, later moving to Alexander, where she was graduated by the Alexander Consolidated high school in 1931. She attended Iowa State Teachers college at Cedar Falls and taught two years in the rural schools, north of Alexander.

She was prominent in the social life of the high school, taking active part in the high school glee club and orchestra, all during the four years. In the senior year, she won the citizenship honorary medal given by the school.

Mr. Stromer was graduated from the rural schools of Hancock county, attended the Klemme High school and later was graduated from the Hamilton Business college at Mason City. After finishing school he took up farming, which profession he has followed.

The young couple will make their new home on a newly improved farm north of Klemme.

Bride in Black and White

The bride wore a gown of black and white satin with accessories to match and carried a bouquet of white carnations, baby breath and ferns.

After the ceremony the company went to the dining room of the Congregational church, where they enjoyed a delicious wedding dinner, prepared and served by friends of the bride. The same color scheme of pink and white was carried out in the dining room, nut cups and place cards were unique in design.

The guests from this vicinity included: Mr. and Mrs. Herman Stromer and son, Harold, and daughter Nellie of Ames; Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Stromer and family; Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Stromer and Ray Veldhouse.

During the dinner Thurber Curan sang, "A Perfect Day" and Dorothy and Virginia Manion sang, "I'll Be Faithful."

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our many friends for the sympathy and kindness shown us in our bereavement; and for the many floral offerings contributed in memory of our loving son and brother.

Harry Buss and family.

Mr. and Mrs. John Josten and son, Earl, of Estherville, were Christmas day guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Larson.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Grange and Dorance left Saturday evening for Estherville, where they spent the Christmas holidays with Fred J. White and family.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Jorgenson and Junior enjoyed a fine turkey dinner Christmas Day at the Liebendorfer home at Mason City.

Lesson for December 31

THE LIFE OF PAUL

LESSON TEXT—Philippians 3:1-14.

GOLDEN TEXT—I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith. II Timothy 4:7.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Stories of Paul.

JUNIOR TOPIC—In Sight of the Goal.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Aiming High.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Our Debt to Paul.

In order to grasp the meaning of this lesson it is necessary to understand the entire letter to the Philippians. The occasion for writing to the Philippians was the receipt of a much needed contribution from the hand of Epaphroditus for Paul's support while in prison (Phil. 4:10-18). The church was perhaps small and certainly poor (II Cor. 8:1-3), yet it repeatedly sent gifts to him (II Cor. 11:8, 9). It is therefore a letter of a grateful missionary to the church which sent means for his support.

I. The True Israelite. (vv. 1-3).

Certain Judaistic teachers had persistently dogged the steps of Paul. Against such he issues the warning; "Beware of dogs"; "beware of evil workers"; "beware of the concision." The true Israelite is the one who worships God in the spirit, rejoicing in Christ Jesus, having no confidence in the flesh.

II. Paul's Ground of Confidence. (vv. 4-6).

Paul had everything in which a true Jew might glory.

1. "Circumcised the eighth day" (v. 5). This was the literal requirement of the law for those born under the Abrahamic covenant. His being circumcised showed his true upbringing.

2. "Of the stock of Israel" (v. 5). He was of the chosen nation by blood and birth.

3. "Of the tribe of Benjamin" (v. 5). The first king of Israel, whose name he bore, was a Benjaminite. The tribe of Benjamin, though small, had remained loyal to national customs.

4. "A Hebrew of the Hebrews" (v. 5). This showed he was of Hebrew parentage and not a proselyte.

5. "Touching the law, a Pharisee" (v. 5). The Pharisees were of the sect most zealous for the rites and ceremonies of Judaism.

6. "Concerning zeal, persecuting the church" (v. 6). He proved his zeal by his positive effort to stamp out that which was threatening Judaism.

7. "Touching the righteousness which is in the law, blameless" (v. 6). So exactly had he conformed to this requirement of the law that he was consciously blameless.

III. Paul's Estimate of Himself (vv. 7-9).

If any man had a right to confidence on the ground of inheritance and accomplishment, Paul had. The vision of Christ and his merits gave him the true perspective of values. In this light he saw the utter worthlessness of the things he prized most. He counted all things but loss for Christ, even regarding them as refuse in comparison with what he had gained.

IV. Paul's Transcendent Aim (vv. 10, 11).

1. "That I may know him" (v. 10). Personal acquaintance with the Lord Jesus Christ was his supreme desire.

2. "The power of his resurrection" (v. 10). This is an advance over personal acquaintance with the Lord. It is the expression of the life of Christ through the apostle.

3. "The fellowship of his sufferings" (v. 10). It is suffering for righteousness' sake, the common experience of all who will follow the Lord.

4. "Attain unto the resurrection of the dead" (v. 11). It is not only to be resurrected but to have part in the first resurrection, that is, the resurrection from among the dead, when the Lord Jesus Christ comes back to the earth (I Thess. 4:16, 17).

V. Paul Presses Toward the Goal (vv. 12-14).

Paul clearly grasped the meaning of his perfection in Christ, yet he was keenly conscious of his personal limitation. Herein is expressed the true law of progress in the spiritual life.

1. Conscious limitations (v. 12). "Not as though I had already attained, either were already perfect."

2. Conscious of a transcendent goal (v. 13). The Christian life is an upward calling. One must know of heights before he will make any effort to attain unto them.

3. A resolute determination to reach the goal (v. 14). He declares "This one thing I do." The primary concern of life is not the stage of progress made, but the effort to attain thereto.

Planning the Future

We are always wanting to be doing, to be giving, to be planning for the future, to be mapping out all our life; instead of resting and receiving day by day, leaving the morrow to our God, and rejoicing in Jesus Christ amidst all our falls and failures.

The Live Reality

The profoundest fact of human life is that, for everyone, the real, the only true life is lived in the realm of the spirit.

Safe Driving Hint

By Iowa Motor Vehicle Dept.

Inattention

IF THERE is any place in the world where silence is really golden, it is in the driver's seat. When the tongue wags, the mind lags.

Driving a car is a full-time job. It cannot safely be combined with sociability, "necking," sight-seeing, window-shopping or day-dreaming.

Just remember that if you are traveling at even 30 miles an hour you will go 44 feet in that single second that your head is turned or that your mind lapses. If another car is approaching yours at the same speed your speed is automatically doubled as far as your relative position with that other car is concerned.

Keep your eyes on the road and your mind on your driving

RELIEF WORK

The Federal Government is spending millions of dollars to give work and are asking that all whose duty it is, to cooperate.

Work has been given to the unemployed; families that were receiving aid have been put to work and are earning a living just as it should be.

Thru the CWA it was possible for us to get two ladies on projects one for the school and one to do repair work on clothing and the making of new clothes for the little kiddies that are in need. On investigation and information from other sources, we find that many of the kiddies of the community are greatly in need of underwear, overalls, stockings, shoes, overshoes and other things.

Now then, what we need is old clothing, peices of old overalls, shirts, underwear and anything you are about ready to discard. Please go through your old clothing, spare what you can get along without and we will see that it is taken care of and made up into wearable peices and given to the worthy families.

Mrs. Carl Wolfe, president of the Legion Auxiliary and Miss Viola Freie, chairman of the Red Cross, are cooperating on this project. The Legion Auxiliary had already tho't of these kind deeds and had gathered some clothes and what they had left turned over for repair. One worthy family has been practically equipped with clothing for the little ones already.

Lets not figure just because some of these men are on the CWA or have other work that the little ones are clothed warm enough for this kind of weather. With the cold snap and Christmas vacation nearly over some of these children will not be able to go back to school, in fact our attention was called to several cases where the children were staying out on this account. This is the time of the year we should all give, most of us have the things to give, now let's give for those little ones that need.

We assure you that we will do the utmost to see that all clothes turned in are remade, fixed up and given to those who need. In case you have any information or can help us out in any way, get in touch with Mrs. Wolfe, Miss Viola Freie or Paul Grange. If you have clothes and can't get it to town, 'et us know and we will get it. You may leave your clothes with any of the above mentioned, also at the Lumger Yard or with Alvina Griffen.

Again, please don't overlook the fact that we are very gadly in need of clothing.

May Plant 10 Million Trees

Sylvan T. Runkel, superintendent of the CCC camp at Albia, Iowa, for the past 6 months and before that extension forester at Iowa State College, has accepted a position as state technician in charge of forestry work in the Iowa Conservation camps.

Runkel will supervise the tree-planting work in the emergency conservation work program, which, he estimates, will require almost 10 million trees. He said an extensive tree-planting program is anticipated in connection with the gully erosion control work done the past summer, especially in southern Iowa.

SPECIAL CONTRACT "RIDER" ALLOWS FARMERS TO GET CORN-HOG MONEY EARLIER

Farmers who take part in the corn-hog plan offered by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration may obtain a comparatively early payment of their first benefits under this plan, by signing a waiver or "rider" attached to the corn-hog contract, according to word received here by S. J. Oberhauser, county agent.

The waiver authorizes county allotment committee to make necessary adjustments in its figures for corn and hog production on farm concerned as given in the contract by the farmers, and pledges the signer to accept such adjustments. This "rider" which becomes part of the contract was worked out by the corn-hog section of the AAA in order to speed up the cash payments to producers as much as possible.

Each grower will give in his corn-hog contract detailed information on various crops, particularly the acreage and yield of corn and the number of hogs farrowed and marketed on the average during the last two years, Dec. 1, 1931 to Dec. 1, 1933. This information provides the basis for reduction payments. The figures supplied will be checked by the various community committees and when approved, with or without adjustment, will be passed on to be checked by the county allotment committee. If the contracts then are found by the county committee to be correct and on about the same basis as the average of the county, they will be tentatively approved and sent and once to Washington for preliminary acceptance by the Secretary of Agriculture.

If the waiver has not been signed and if adjustment are found necessary by the committee, the contract will have to go back to the signer for his acceptance of the adjustments, before it can be forwarded to Washington for acceptance.

The first reduction payment will be made on the basis of these preliminary acceptances. Further adjustments found necessary later in the final check up by the county committee in order to bring the aggregate figures for the county in line with government statistics on corn acreage and hog production will be distributed pro rata among all individual producers' contracts. Any final adjustments that will have to be made will alter the final payments, either up or down, depending on the figures tentatively accepted the first time.

It is especially important for all growers to determine their production figures as accurately as possible particularly if they desire to obtain payments through use of the contract "rider". Correct figures in all contracts will speed up the work of the community and county committees and thereby hasten the final approval of all contracts which will be sent to Washington for payment.

SALT IS GOOD SOOT REMOVER

Throw Cupful on Hot Furnace Fire, Engineer Suggests

Common salt will remove soot from furnace pipes and chimneys as effectively as various chemical mixtures sold for that purpose or for increasing the heating value of coal.

These chemical mixtures according to Dr. L. K. Arnold, associate engineer of the Iowa Engineering Experiment Station have little value Samples recently received here for analysis are composed almost entirely of common salt colored with iron ore.

Common salt, states Dr. Arnold, will remove soot if it is applied to a very hot fire, and is probably the most economical article to use. A cupful is enough. No mixture is known which is practical for increasing the heating effect of the coal or which will decrease the amount of ashes produced.

CORN LOANS IN HANCOCK MOUNT TO $134,828 TOTAL

Harvey Goll, farmer two and one-half miles southeast of Garner, had the second highest corn loan in Hancock county. The loan was for $4,725 and was made Friday. Mr. Goll had approximately 150 acres of corn this year. He plans to sign the corn-hog program and decrease his acreage next year. Totals loans in Hancock county Friday amounted to $134,828.65, with 153 farmers given loans. Loans to 20 farmers yesterday totaled $21,550.96.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Day and Dorance and Mrs. Smith joined a happy throng of relatives at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Ross at Garner for Christmas dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Bert Mathews of Clear Lake were also guests.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Patet and Milo and Irma and Bud Sampson drove to Forest City and were Christmas day guests at the Meyer home with many other relatives.

CORN- HOG PLAN HAS MANY ADVANTAGES

Payments Are First But Not Only Important Benefit Received

Editor's Note: This is the sixth of a series of articles on the corn-hog program prepared by S. J. Obehauser, county agent, and the Extension Service at Iowa State College to give readers of this paper a concise summary of the fundamental facts back of the program, what it is and what it proposes to do. This story takes up the principal benefits of the pla,n.

The most obvious and most immediate benefit of the corn-hog plan to Iowa is the potential 75 million dollars which will be pumped into the state in a little more than a year in corn and hog benefit payments. This flow of benefit payments will have the same effect that a blood transfusion has on a dying man—it will give Iowa agriculture enough strength to weather the crisis.

Another of the immediate benefits is the opportunity farmers who agree to sign the corn-hog contract have of borrowing 45 cents a bushel on their corn from the government. The corn loans already are circulating millions of dollars in the state, enabling farmers to pay off some of their overdue debts, buy some much needed clothing, machinery—and Christmas presents.

Coupled with the cash benefits is the insurance feature of the corn-hog plan. The farmer who signs a corn-hog contract knows that he will receive some income from the land he takes out of production. in addition to a guaranteed income of $5 per head n the hogs he produces under the contract, plus the market price.

The benefit payments will, of course, vary between different farms. Just for example, however, a man who has been producing 80 hogs a year, will grow 60 under the adjustment program. He will receive $300 in benefit payments and can sell the 60 pigs when and to whom he pleases. If he has been growing 80 acres of corn, the farmer can rent from 16 to 24 acres to the government. Assuming that the average yield of the land he rents is 50 bushels an acre, he would receive $21 an acre, or from $182 to $288 for the rented acres.

Anothr insurance feature is found in the fact that the farmer receives his benefit payments regardless of whether he saves the alloted number of pigs from his litters and regardless of how many die from disease. The corn rental or benefit payment is made regardless of whether or not the crop on the surrounding land is a failure and regardless of the average yield for 1934.

Odinarily when a man rents a piece of land to somebody, that person takes the land and harvests a crop from it. Under the adjustment plan, however, the farmer not only gets the rental for the land, but is given the opportunity to grow soil building or erosion preventing crops not for harvest. This is a distinct advantage of the corn-hog adjustment plan which cannot be measured in dollars and cents.

Many farmers have been forced against their better judgment to "mine" the soil for all it was worth in a futile attempt to make increased total production offset lower farm prices. The adjustment program will provide a chance to rebuild or maintain soil productivity through better rotation systems.

These are the financial benefits of the plan and though money is of untmost importance when we don't have enough for the necessities and comforts of life, there are other advantages which we should not overlook.

It is a trite but true statement that we are living in a changed economic and social world and that to bring back normal prosperity we must adjust to that changed condition. In agriculture we find export markets practically gone, huge surpluses resulting from failure to adjust production and to increasing demand following the war and as a result depressed incomes.

According to Sekretary Wallace and many other agricultural leaders both national and state, one of the greatest benefits of the corn-hog adjustment is the program of planned agriculture which may develop in the future using the present plan as the beginning. Any movement which will put agriculture on a more stable basis is well worth the support of all farmers.

In other words, the adjustment program gives us a chance to cooperate as a group to do what we cannot do as individuals—apply the same principle to farming that the auto industry, steel or other so-called "big business" has used for years. That principle is adjustment of production to profitable demand. When the demand is strong produce a little more but when demand falls off, produce less. This plan results in a profit on what we do produce and does not pile up surpluses that reduce the price of farm products. The experience in large scale cooperation may lead to more effective organization among the farmers.

Another value which will come from the adjustment is more leisure time for farmers. The value of this depends on the individual. The old idea that a man is lazy if he does not work 12 to 14 hours a day has fallen into disrepute. Such labor is no longer needed. With more leisure time the individual can read listen to the radio, go to the movies, spend more time with his family and his friends, take part in community social life and the activities of various organization—in short he can do any of the things he wants to do which will make life more enjoyable and which contribute just as much as money to a higher standard of living.

CORN- HOG PLAN SEEKS FARM PARITY PRICE

"Parity Price" of farm products —or farm purchasing power eqcal to that of the pre-war period, 1910-14 is one of the goals of the corn-hog program of production control which will bring millions of dollars into Iowa this winter, S. J. Oberhauser, county agent, says.

Parity price for farm products, Mr. Oberhauser explains, will make one unit of farm products buy as much as it did before the war. The government has declared the period 1910-14 as the base period from which to calculate the price index and has designated as 100 percent the average purchasing power of farm products during that period.

During the war period all prices increased. Prices received by farmers, however, increased more rapidly, so that farm purchasing power went higher than 100. In 1920 there was a general price decline but farm prices dropped more rapidly and have remained below parity for the last 13 years.

Parity price, however, does not necessarily mean that the parity price of corn and hogs would be equal to the price of corn and hogs before the war, according to Mr. Oberhauser. He explains that if the prices of goods the farmer buys are higher than they were during the pre-war period, the parity price of corn and hogs would also be higher.

The AAA, through its corn-hog production control program, aims at parity prices for corn and hog production. In other words, the government through benefit payments to the farmer for reducing production, is attempting to raise the purchasing power of corn and hogs so that they will buy more nearly as many overshoes, mittens and other things the farmer needs per bushel of corn and pound of hog as they did during the 1910-14 period.

TO OUR DEPOSITORS

A Message Of Appreciation

We wish to share with our depositors whatever credit may be, for the way this bank met the test of a year that was difficult for every business, every bank, and every government in the world.....Far more important, we believe, than all the courage and good judgement which our officers and directors were able to exercise, was the fine spirit of teamwork shown by our depositors.

To tell you how much we appreciate this loyalty and confidence is quite impossible. But, at least, we wish to say "Thank You!" Conditions next year should show marked improvement and we hope you and your friends may enjoy the best of whatever benefits 1934 may bring.
